RASH OF ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND REPORTED BY OPP

A rash of minor accidents were investigated by the Lindsay Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police over the week end, with four investigations Saturday, two on Sunday, and one Monday morning.

On Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. a late model car driven by Arthur Corley Stone, of 881 Park Ave., Oshawa was involved in an accident with a panel truck driven by James William Lee of 301 Jenefer Place. The accident occurred one and a half miles north of Cameron on Highway 35. Damage to the entire rear end of the car was estimated at $800 by Provincial Constable D. L. McDonnell who investigated. Damage to the right front corner and radiator of the truck was estimated at $200. Charges are pending in connection with this accident, police said.

Damages estimated to total $175.00 resulted from an accident that occurred in the village of Oakwood on Saturday afternoon about 5:17 p.m. A car driven by William Jewell, aged 62 of 78 St. Paul Street, Lindsay and a second car driven by Sherwood Townsend, 27, of 1010 Dundas street east, Whitby were involved. Damage to the left rear of the Jewell vehicle was estimated by Provincial Constable Saunders to be $70.00 while the Townsend car sustained damages estimated at $105.00 to the right front fender and radiator.

"We will not consign any lagoon in Ontario to the museum of sanitation history", G. M. Galimbert, assistant General Manager of the Ontario Water Resources Commission told "The Post" in connection with an article that ran in the Lindsay Daily Post on December 1st, 1964, entitled "Lagoons attacked as Danger to Health".

"You were referring in your newspaper report to statements that appeared in an article prepared by Dr. James McAnulty of Kelowna, B.C., which were condensed and published in the Financial Post", commented Mr. Galimbert. "In the article the doctor indicated that lagooning of raw human wastes constituted a health hazard and violated one of the concepts of modern waste treatment. He infers the transfer of viral diseases by poorly maintained lagoons by mosquitoes with particular reference to western encephalitis".

Mr. Galimbert said waste oxidation lagoons have received wide acceptance both in Canada and the United States. Installations in Ontario have lagged far behind the Prairie Provinces and the Western United States with only fifty in operation, he said. "The OWRC carried out a survey of waste stabilization ponds in Ontario in 1964 and found that some lagoons worked well not only when new but continuously, if they were maintained properly. In our survey we had no reports of adverse conditions caused by mosquitoes. It was obvious that the main essential is that the lagoons be maintained in good condition. On that point we are in full agreement with the article that has appeared".

Lagoons Cheaper

Mr. Galimbert said there is no doubt that lagoon installations are cheaper and that their operation should be less expensive than other forms of sewage treatment. "They provide a high degree of bacterial reduction and an effluent that compares favourably with secondary treatment. A lagoon is superior in efficiency to a primary sewage plant as you formerly had at Lindsay", he said. "It therefore would not be desirable to expend $25,000 to improve the former plant as the degree of treatment achieved by such a plant would likely be in the order of 40-50 per cent. The estimate that you have provided of $25,000 appears to be low to me, but I presume that you have some previous information on that point. As I recall the Lindsay primary plant, it was in need of rather extensive alterations", he said.

The Assistant General Manager indicated that the maintenance of lagoons is essential. "You indicate," that at the time the Lindsay lagoon was installed there was a good deal of discussion and the big advantage claimed over the regular method of sewage purification was that there was practically no expense in operation." "The Post" pointed out the banks are now beginning to wash away and that it would be very expensive to put stone work along the entire shoreline of the large lagoons to prevent disintegration of the banks. "You are quite right in your evaluation that it would be too expensive to rip-rap the entire 23,000 ft. of shoreline. In the design period of a large lagoon it is difficult to forecast where erosion will take place. It is quite possible, today that it was decided that it was desirable to watch the lagoons in operation to determine the points where such protection would be required. If originally the decision had been made to rip-rap the entire shore line it would have been better to proceed with the installation of a secondary treatment plant.", continued Mr. Galimbert.

Study of Erosion.

The assistant General Manager of the OWRC said the Divisions of Construction and Research of the organization are at present proceeding with a study of methods to prevent this erosion. This includes, he said, the installation of jute matting, the use of structure of one part cement to ten parts sand at certain locations and the provision of a wind break of common poplar and cedar trees. Results, he said, it has been reported that the grass cover will be available next summer. The control of weeds in the lagoon, which is essential to minimize mosquitoes will also be the responsibility of the Operation Division, who will have guidance for OWRC biologists. "It can, therefore, be expected that these lagoons will be maintained," he said.

Transfer of Disease

The study of a possibility of the transfer of viral disease from waste oxidation lagoons by mosquitoes, is one that requires careful research and study. "As an example", he said, "The State of Utah has been studying this problem since 1958 in co-operation with the U.S. Public Health Service, the State Agricultural Department, the United States Weather Bureau and their own State records of mosquito populations. It is stated in their evaluation 'The factors evaluated to predict outbreaks of western encephalitis were weather conditions and larval and adult populations of C. tarsalis (mosquito that is carrier of disease). The surveillance programme has not yet been adequately tested, but it is the best possible with present knowledge and conditions. A variety of testing will be necessary for complete confidence in the surveillance procedures. To date, the programme has indicated accurately that outbreaks would not occur. In the event that surveillance indicated the probability of an encephalitis outbreak, control efforts of C. tarsalis would be intensified."

Mr. Galimbert claimed that the writer of the original article, Dr. McAnulty rushed into print quickly with limited research and with inferences that definitely could be in error. "You will perceive the ease with which the Utah authorities exercised on this problem, and their major conclusions to this date. One can agree that mosquitoes such as C. tarsalis can be found in poorly maintained lagoons but the proof that disease can be transferred to man from such sources has in no way been proven. It would appear desirable to accept the evaluations of recognized research projects in as complex a field

Driver strikes parked vehicle

Approximately $650 damage resulted from a two car collision on Lindsay Street South Saturday evening about 8:00 p.m. Lindsay police report a car owned and driven by Paul Richard O'Connell was proceeding south on Lindsay St. South, following another car.

The first car is reported to have swerved around a parked car at 69 Lindsay Street South and Paul Richard O'Connell told police he did not see the parked car in time to avoid striking it. The parked vehicle belonged to Harry Milton Barber of 69 Lindsay Street South.

Two cars collided at the intersection of Kent Street west and Cambridge street south Saturday about 12:45 p.m.

Police report, a car owned and driven by Hudson F. Pillsworth of 58 Cambridge street north, Lindsay was proceeding west on Kent street and was making a left turn into Cambridge street south. Enthusiasm

For five years we have attended the Minden Winter Carnival, and each year we are impressed by the enthusiasm the whole town shows for the Carnival. For three days each January, Minden bursts with visitors and the village of 800 becomes a bustling city of 4,000.

Everyone helps. The bank manager and his wife can be found running the information bureau, the postmaster organizes snowmobile races, the milkman's wife has been knitting toques for weeks, and an artist has been busy silk-screening carnival badges. The school principal is occupied judging the snowmen, and a motel operator judges the snow sculpture.

Fish secured in the ice fishing derby are weighed in at stores in the town and the OPP look after a giant bonfire of Christmas trees. Other businessmen are organizing skiing, sleigh and cutter rides, turkey shoots, curling bonspiels, broomball, jam-can curling, minor hockey, skating, dances and moccasin dances.

The way the citizens of Minden work together to promote their town is a sight to behold. It is not just the businessmen and service club members that are helping. Just about everybody pitches in. Minden has a good carnival and the town obtains, and deserves a lot of good publicity.

The little northern town that bustles in the summer and normally slumbers through the winter is determined to make itself a busy place, all year round.

Bombers significant?

The presence of a bombing plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force over Lindsay during the past few days has caused considerable speculation, citizens appear to believe it may have something to do with the possibility of Lindsay being chosen as an airport site by the Department of Transport.

Bruce McNevin, when asked if he could explain the presence of the plane said that he could not say for certain just what their purpose. "As you know, the survey for the air field has been completed," he said. Mr. McNevin said the planes might possibly be air officials passing from one point to another on official duties. Another possibility is that the planes are from Trenton on regular training flights.

Nearly drowns

A local citizen, Mr. Neil MacArthur of Oak Street, Fenelon Falls, narrowly escaped drowning while trying to open an intake pipe at the north end of the Trent Canal, in Fenelon Falls.

It would appear the man was standing on the ice chopping away the ice, when without warning the ice broke away from shore, and let him into about seven feet of water.

Prompt aid averted what would certainly have been a drowning accident.

U-21 miss local shipment

After the sinking of five British merchants vessels by the Germans on Saturday and Sunday, the Allan Line steamer Scandinavian, from St. John N.B., Jan. 22, for Liverpool, with 500 passengers on board learned of the raid of the U-21 and put into Queenstown. After remaining in Queenstown for a short time, the steamer proceeded for Liverpool.

This vessel had as part of its cargo a shipment of produce from Flavelles Limited, Lindsay, valued at $10,000.

Reported killed

A report was current on the street today that Capt. B. A. Pearson, formerly of Lindsay, son of Mr. John Pearson of Haliburton, was among the slain near Labasse, France, on January 26. This rumor gained currency as a result of a despatch in this morning's Toronto papers which stated that "Lieut. Price, of the Canadians was killed while leading his company into a trench, and another officer named Pearson, is reported to have been killed."

Recruiting slow

In the Third Divisional area, about one-half the number required for the third contingent is enlisted, the total to date being 1,551. In eastern Ontario enlistment is slow, however, only 423 having volunteered for the 38th Battalion, which will mobilize at Belleville, the enlistment so far is 772 and for the 8th Mounted Rifles, Ottawa, 868 have enlisted. The 45th Regt. Lindsay, has done remarkably well.

Make investigation

Kingston Collegiate Institute and Port Hope juniors were scheduled to play this week, but the game has been held up pending investigation of complaints against Robert L. Hills, of Port Hope.

Foreign News Commentary

(UPI) — The London stock market's first reaction to Labour's loss of a supposedly safe election district in grimy East London was an abrupt rise in the price of steel shares.

It was a reflection of the market's belief that the loss which cut Labour's already slim majority in the House of Commons to three, also meant that Labour's promises to re-nationalize the steel industry had been put off indefinitely and might never come to pass.

East London's Leyton district had been especially selected for the candidacy of Patrick Gordon Walker, Foreign Minister in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government, because it was beliedved impossible for a Labour candidate to lose there.

For Wilson it was a double blow. It not only cut his strength in commons, it also cost him his Foreign Minister since members of the government also must be elected to the House of Commons.

In his American-style campaign Wilson had promised British voters a first 100 days of "dynamic action."

As the anniversary passed, there seemed agreement that new government had not been able to live up to its promises.

In fact, with the passing of the first bloom, there were predictions that Wilson, now at the mercy of factions within his own party, would have to call national elections soon. The results in Leyton were not hopeful.

But while it was agreed that the Wilson government had not lived up to its billing, it also was agreed that many of its difficulties were inherited ones. The most important of these was the crisis generated by the deficit in Britain's balance of trade.

To overcome it the government had imposed a 15 per cent surcharge on imports and raised the bank rate. Led by the United States, a $3 billion cushion had been created to protect the British pound.

The government also had sought agreement from labour and management to keep prices and wages in line with productivity.

But British dockers refused to work on weekends and the powerful aircraft industry, backed by its workers, was opposing with apparent success a government plan to halt production on the expensive TSR-2 warplane.

The government had managed to carry out some of its campaign promises, most of them expensive. It raised pensions and eliminated charges for health service prescriptions.

It also granted a 9.5 per cent increase to railway workers.

Prices have started rising.

On issues which would have less influence on the British voter, Wilson had been more successful.

He had established good working relations with the United States and was working with the United States to prevent West Germany from falling wholly into the French orbit of President Charles De Gaulle. He sad shown great firmness in resisting Indonesia's attempt to crush Malaysia.

And he had engineered something of a coup in obtaining agreement from Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin to visit Britain in the Spring.

But in tactic recognition of fleeting opportunites, Labor Minister Ray Gunter has warned British workers that there will be "no manna from Heaven" and that they would have to get over their "selfishness."

MY WINDOW

As I cleared my frosty window,
I perceived the ice-clad trees;
Their drooping boughs, like crystal clear
No hands could decorate these.

The fence a glittering lattice,
Supporting the old grape-vine;
And the fields a boundless play-ground
Tho' a narrow view is mine.

But here inside my window-pane;
Where patience is now my lot;
Behold! a golden daffodil
Burst forth in humble pot.

"Fresh courage take," it said to me,
"I've been shut in, hour on hour;
But only that long seclusion —
Made me a golden flower."

So never grudge the time that's spent,
In studies longest hour;
The reward will crown the effort;
Just like the golden flower.

TIMELY TIPS

by Macdonald Institute

Guelph

Include a surprise in your family's box lunches. Small covered jars of fruit-filled vanilla pudding or baked custard make nutritious appetizing desserts.

Serve hearty bacon sandwiches for a quick lunch or snack on these cold winter days. Spread toasted whole wheat bread generously with peanut butter and top with slices of hot grilled bacon.

Cheese flavored scalloped potatoes are a welcome treat. Place thin slices of Ontario cheddar cheese between layers of potatoes as you are preparing scalloped potatoes. Bake casserole as usual.

Careful shopping at the meat counter will save pennies which soon add up to dollars. Steaks and chops are often less expensive during the winter months when barbecuing is not so popular.

Stain Removal

Liquid detergents will remove many greasy and non-greasy stains from fabrics. For surface stains, rub a detergent lightly into the dampened spot, then rinse the stained area or wash as usual. For deeply imbedded stains, work the detergeant thoroughly into the fabric. Hold the fabric with both hands and work the stained area back and forth between your thumbs. Bend the yarns sharply so the individual fibres rub against each other. Go over the entire area this way, then rinse thoroughly.

Homemade Putty

To make your own putty, mix linseed oil with sifted whiting to the proper consistency.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean oil paintings?

A. If you really value the paintings, your best bet is professional treatment. However, if you really want to try the job yourself, clean them by washing with lukewarm mild suds, one small portion at a time. Then, when the entire surface has been gone over, follow by going over lightly with a flannel moistend with the best grade of linseed oil.

Q. Please suggest a good leather beautifier.

A. Luggage, belts, chairs, and plain kid-leather shoes can be kept new-looking and clean by rubbing with egg white beaten to stiffness.

Q. How can I improvise my own smelling salts

A. By breaking an ounce of rock volatile into small pieces, covering with eau de cologne, and allowing to stand for few days before using.

Bed shortage still acute at the RMH

"The bed situation throughout the hospital remains quite acute," Eric Freeborn, hospital administrator told a meeting of the RMH board Thursday.

In a report to the board, Mr. Freeborn said the percentage occupancy in relation to the hospital's rated capacity ran at an average of 97 per cent during December. The bed situation in the Medical and Surgical areas, he said, still remains critical and on several occasions in December the hospital had to cancel elective admissions for surgery in order to admit patients requiring emergency treatment.

He said the occupancy of the maternity floor, for maternity cases, was 40 percent but when cases with other diagnoses on that floor were taken into account, the average was brought up to 56 per cent.

County council make grants to north townships

Several years ago Victoria County Council adopted the idea of making special grants to the northern townships of Carden, Bexley, Laxton, Dalton and Somerville because these townships paid many dollars into the treasurery from which they derive no direct benefit.

Reeve E. J. Murphy of Carden, dean of the county council, has been one of the prime advocates of the plan. He said, as did clerk Frank Weldon that the townships get no direct benefit from such institutions as the Lindsay Central Exhibition, the Ross Memorial Hospital, the county Library, the highways, possibly the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association and other grants.

Warden Robert Cammack of Laxton, Reeve Edward Murphy of Carden, Reeve Everett Cameron of Bexley spoke to the motion setting forth their claim for continued grants and it was decided to make equal grants of $350 in each case.

ASTHMA IS A CHRONIC ILLNESS

Its victims have breathing difficulties. Attacks are usually mild. Fortunately it is not contagious. But, if neglected, asthma increases in severity and endangers health. It may be caused by an allergy, infection or even nervous tension.

If you think you have asthma, don't attempt self treatment. It is almost impossible for anyone but a physician to diagnose the cause. With proper medical treatment asthma can be kept under control and often cured.

Retirement pay for Superintendent to be further studied by committee

Victoria Council's finance committee is to further study a recommendation that road superintendent Harold Wilford receive a special allowance of $2,000 a year after 1970 and $1,200 a year until his death, after he retires in June.

Council were told by Emily deputy-reeve Edward Lowes that Mr. Wilford had been a county employee for 35 years. He said the superintendent reaches the retirement age of 65 in May, and is unable to continue after that date because of ill health.

Members of the Road Board pointed out that Mr. Wilford served the county for 17 years before the county pension scheme came into effect. It was also stated that Engineer Wilford will be looked on as a Consultant Engineer at no extra cost.

Reeve Hilliard Murphy said that council would be setting a dangerous precedent if they agreed with the recommendation.

Ops township deputy reeve Barney Rogers said the superintendent had been steadily employed since joining the county staff and said Mr. Wilford should have been preparing for his retirement. He said he disagreed with retaining the engineer as a consultant, because "when we undertake any major projects we always have to hire consultants."

"DALEKS" HAVE LANDED

London (UPI) — The British Broadcasting Corp., (BBC) has banned a record called "Landing of the Daleks" by a Birmingham beat group known as "The earthlings." The reason is because part of the disc contains a morse code message spelling out SOS — SOS — Daleks have landed."

A BBC official said shins' radio operators might think the message is genuine.

Why should welfare recipients drive cars, asks Bexley reeve

Victoria county council voted to defer the matter of a County Welfare Unit until the March session, after lengthy discussion, at county council on Friday.

Reeve Everett Cameron of Bexley sparked the discussion and was steadfast in his argument that the municipalities in the county could handle the local situations better than the Department in Toronto. "There are far too many people sitting in offices in Toronto telling elected people what to do", he said.

The reeve asked why welfare recipients are allowed to own cars and make purchases at the liquor stores. "Why should people who are working for a living have to pay for someone elses' pleasures", he asked.

Reeve Wilfred Jackett told the councillors that he knew of one man on welfare who still drives a car and a truck and draws $200 a month welfare.

G. B. Anderson, acting director of welfare assistance for the province appeared before council and the official said that three county councils in Ontario have adopted the programme.

Mr. Anderson said a higher standard of service could be obtained by the county establishing such a programme. He said one full time administrator and part-time secretarial assistance would be all that the county required.

PEIRCE DESCRIBES AS "NONSENSE" DEPUTY-REEVE'S REMARK RE CARS

Leslie Neil, Lindsay deputy-reeve is reported to have told Victoria County Council on Friday that the town's welfare administrator has lifted the plates of people who are on welfare in the town.

"This is nonsense", Welfare Administrator Harry Peice told "The Post" today. "I have never touched a licence plate, do not intend to, and in fact, have no authority to", said the Administrator.

"I believe in the old days, Administrators used to bluff welfare recipients over the use of their cars, but during my time as Administrator I have never demanded a welfare recipient hand over his plates. Plates are a matter for the Department of Transport, not the Welfare Department," he said.

Academy grant rejected by county council

A year ago the Victoria County Council gave a grant of $2,500 to the Academy Theatre Foundation, this year a request for a grant of $1,000 was turned down.

Deputy Reeve Edward Lowes stated this was the only legitimate theatre between Peterboro, Lindsay and Toronto and supported the request.

Ops Township Reeve Milburn Hutchinson suggested council give the request very careful study. He questioned the right of county council to make such a grant. He disagreed with Deputy-Reeve Edward Lowes of Emily that the Academy offered no competition to other places of entertainment and he said there are two other theatres operating in the area.

Ops Deputy-Reeve Barney Rogers proprietor of the Drive-In Theatre suggested some shows were not "legitimate theatre" as had been said. He said, "last year the show known as Country Holiday with Tommy Hunter was vaudeville, not legitimate theatre and the company had a revenue of over $1,600".

Deputy-Reeve Barney Rogers said he did not know why the Academy Theatre Foundation was in the red unless it was due to poor management or that they had underestimated the renovation costs.

Wide Acceptance

Mr. Galimbert said the waste oxidation lagoon type of treatment has received wide acceptance in North America. It is cheaper in original cost and maintenance, he said, than a sewage treatment plant. It provides a much higher degree of efficiency than a plant such as Lindsay had previously — a primary treatment plant — but it is not as efficient as a secondary treatment plant. It achieves a material reduction in bacteria and in the phosphate constituent of the sewage. "There has been little research carried out on the viral reduction of sewage passing through. It is recognized that the reduction will not be as great as in a secondary treatment plant", said Mr. Galimbert, "on the other hand there is no reason to believe that the extensive research carried out by the State of Utah since 1958 indicated accurately that outbreaks will not occur. More faith should be placed in determinations made by recognized research programmes than in an article that was not only sensational but reached a definite and drastic conclusion. 'It is time for the medical profession to take a stand and place this absurd and stupid method of waste treatment where it really belongs — in the museum of sanitation history', without the extensive research that would be necessary to reach such a conclusion", he said.

"We do not recognize the hazard in view of the results of the State of Utah research. Secondly, we will try to maintain the lagoons through the efforts of our Research, Construction and Operations divisions. Thirdly", concluded OWRC assistant General Manager G. M. Galimbert, "we will form our opinions on the continued efforts of the State of Utah, the U.S. Public Health Service and other research groups including our own in this field. Fourthly, we will not consign any lagoon in Ontario to the museum of sanitation history".

TORONTO TEAMS DEFEAT LINDSAY AT PORT HURON

Lindsay Kinsmen Pee Wee All Stars and Rotary Bantam All Stars fell by the wayside at the hand of Toronto teams at Port Huron Saturday. The teams, who entered the Silver Stick Tournament at Port Huron, Michigan Saturday gave good account of themselves in tournament play, only losing to teams from larger centres.

In the first game Saturday Lindsay Kinsment Pee Wees tied Toronto M S A 1 - 1 in regulation time but lost in the ten minute sudden death overtime session by shots on goal.

The Rotary Bantams met Oakridge Acres in their first game and tied the London Ontario team 2-2 in regulation time. In the sudden death overtime session, the Lindsay lads outshot the Oakridges 13-1 to win their first round. The Rotary Bantams were then pitted against the eventual Bantam winners of the tournament, the smooth Toronto Marlboro Bantams, and were unable to match their precision passing attack. The final score in this game 10-1 for the Marlies.

Lindsay goalscorers were Ron McLean for the Pee Wees, and Jeff Stewart and Jim Willis for the Bantams against Oakridges, and Willis again against the Marlies. Reports indicate the boys were given a good time and returned home Sunday night.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

PRES. JOHNSON BUOYS HOPES OF HEART DISEASE PATIENTS

Ask anyone what is the number one killer? Even the young schoolboy will answer: heart disease. Is there any wonder that fear of this ubiquitous enemy is universal?

Yet nature sets up its own defenses against such fear of annihilation. Otherwise, the world of men would stop spinning, as each sits with his head in his hands, waiting for his heart to fail.

Its greatest antidote to crippling fear about heart disease is nature's way of holding up, for all to see, some universally known great man who has met heart disease head-on and vanquished it.

In a newspaper report I read today, I was happy to hear that "President Lyndon Johnson's health is better today than it has been in years".

I believe that the U.S. President (one of the most active in history) has brought more faith and comfort to coronary heart patients than any living individual. Whether he realizes it or not, this great contribution as a man may equal any he makes, however great, as a President.

People tend to accept reassuring pats on the back by their physician as tinctured with a little bit of hokum. "What do you expect him to say?" one patient told me. "That you are going to die? Naturally he tries to have you See the bright side, so he cheers you up a bit".

FEARLESSNESS CHEERS OTHERS

However, when a great layman—with no professional axe to grind— reveals complete fearlessness of heart disease, it is bound to cheer the hopeless bring courage to the frightened, and renew faith in disbelievers (who think they are but one step from shuffling off permanently).

In 1955, President Johnson suffered and overcame a serious coronary heart attack of coronary thrombosis. As I understand it, his was a critical illness. History tells us what he has accomplished in spite of it.

Think of the years of activity (requiring untold limits of energy expenditure) as a leader in the Senate. Think of the long plane trips and world-wide jaunts as Vice President. Think-and you won't have to thing too hard-of the merciless beating he gave his body, physically and emotionally, in the rigorous Presidential campaign recently over.

Or, as a test of what a heart can take-sick or well-think back to the sudden jolt ie withstood on the fateful day of Nov. 22 when he "took over", in the smoothest transition any government of the people at any time in tempestuous history ever witnessed. What might have been a catastrophe in maelstorm, he quietly converted into a change of seats in a small boat on a calm sea.

In spite of his coronary attack, President Johnson is all heart. He does not surrender to the fear of heart disease.

And hundreds of thousands of coronary sufferers who might have surrendered years ago (as I saw many do) now meet each day with renewed hope and faith. For this they can thank Lyndon Johnson, as man faced with the polio problem, thank (and will forever thank) their idol Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Great or small, it is what we are and not what we seek, which at last gives us our fit place in history.

GIRLS' SPORTS

POST SCHEDULES

Schedules for basketball games were placed on the Sports Board last Friday. The lists for both grade 7 and 8 were left up until Wednesday, January 27. Over the weekend Mrs. Tamlin made up the teams from the lists. It appeared that the oncoming exams made a few of the would-be stars timid hesitant in putting their names on the lists.

We all look forward to our new sports season and hope it will be enjoyable.

CHOIR ACTIVE
By Carol Ellis

Some members of our Choir will be having the opportunity to sing at the annual Red Cross meeting which is to be held at St. Mary's School Auditorium, Tuesday at 7 p.m. Twenty girls and all the boys in the Choir will be in attendance. The twenty girls are the ones who sang "Holy Night" at Christmas time; the boys are needed to sing the lower parts in the selections.

The members of the choir have been attending noon-hour practises each day this past week and are coming along fine. We hope the choir will continue its good work and sing well at the meeting.

SEE FILM ON HOWE
By Lea Woodward

Most of the students were bewildered because the periods were all moved ahead, leaving the last period of the day for an assembly. At the assembly a film about Joseph Howe, who won an important law case that was marked down in history was shown. This film interested both grades 7 and 8 but since the grade 8 students are studying this important act in history class it appealed more to them. We all hope more films of this type will be shown at future assemblies.

SNOWY SPECTRE OF THE NORTH
By Barbara Johnston

"You know", my father remarked, backing the car to a halt before the fence line on the country road, "that object is certainly very white". We all agreed that it was rather a bright, unmistakable whitish colour, and fixed our eyes on the perplexing shape of unknown identity, crowning the naked elm tree in the snow-drifted field. "And", he continued, "this is the season for Snowy Owls".

"So", we all chorused in unison, "it's probably an owl". Since my hazy idea of an owl was something that ate rodents and could turn his head in a complete circle, we decided to take a closer look. But that Arctic bird, because of his keen eye-sight and keener hearing, is difficult to approach. For this reason we decided to walk up to the fence, in view of the bird only when he looked into the sun.

Despite our precautions, though, as soon we were barely able to distinguish a splatter-pinged array of dark flecks on the two-foot, sentinal-straight bird, he blinked his feline, fierce eyes and rose. With a gentle flap of his wings he was off, soaring fairly high and then dipping low. Graceful, arrow-straight, he was a majestic, breath-taking sight, and then, to add drama to the regal scene, a rabbit, the owl's chief prey, dashed from behind some bushes and bounded through the snow. Whether he had been waiting in his haven till the bird flew and had then safely sped to freedom, or been scared by us, we'll never know; but we prefer to believe the former.

We searched in the vicinity of the owl's perch and found a quantity of bones and animal debris, a few mice tracks, and several other signs of the Snowy Owl's carnivorous habits. What feasts he must have enjoyed!

Not content to let him out of our sight, we returned to the car and drove in the general direction to which he had flown. Sure enough, a mile away a ghostly wraith, from a long-vantage point, governed the vacant fields. Although we wanted to observe further, a waning sunset reminded us of a chicken waiting in our oven at home

That is not the complete story, for the following Sunday when we were out driving, lo and behold, we saw another owl, which later proved to be the same one, perched in the area it had been the week before. Apparently its flight length is quite short. In fact, if a trigger-happy marksman does not sight it first, you may spot it in the vicinity of Highway 36 and the Downeyville Road. They are exceedingly plentiful this year; a friend in Bruce County is reported to have seen 19 different Snowy Owls in the space of two hours.

Someday, when you are driving in the wintry country, you may see a gleaming bird, which does not penetrate below the middle states staring at you from the trees. Surely the snow is not moving, but yes, winter incarnate is doing in the tree. Stop and observe this amazing apparition, a miracle of nature with the Eskimo name of "Oopickjak".

But remember, keep the trigger on your gun sedentary.

Lindsay parking not like Tokyo, Mayor quips

"Our parking problems are not too bad yet" quipped Mayor Joseph Holtom as he referred to an article in the "Municipal World" which stated in part:

Beginning in May 1964, residents of Tokyo and five other Japanese cities will not be allowed to own a car unless they also have space to park it. After a period of grace, anyone found with a car parked anywhere as a garage will be liable to a sentence of one month in prison with hard labour, or a fine equavalent to $85 (U.S.)

According to a 1962 report of the Metropolitan Division of the Metropolitan Government, Tokyo is the first city in the world to exceed ten million population. Gross density is 38,000 persons per square mile, and living space is sixty-eight feet per person. The entire capital region of Tokyo (which is not an administrative area) has a population of more than twenty million.

World news today

Ottawa — A lone wreath rests at the base of a pillar today in the main entrance to parliament buildings in Ottawa. A card with the simple inscription, reads:

"Sir Winston Churchill, with the gratitude of the Canadian people."

The wreath was placed there Saturday by his excellency the governor-general, Georges Vanier following a 90-gun salute that echoed across the nation's capital. A salvo for each year of Sir Winston's life.

Ottawa — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has returned to Ottawa from London to face an unhappy cabinet. Growing unrest among Liberal ranks will almost surely bring about some major changes of the several cabinet members already involved in unparliamentary activities. rumours indicate that at least another two will be focused before the scandal spotlight.

Pearson's firing last week, without explanation, of Minister without portfolio, Yvon Dupuis was the first reaction he was shown.

A meeting of the Quebec caucus has been called and scheduled for Qubec city next week.

Bladon, England — Pilgrims by the thousands filed past the flower-covered grave of Sir Winston Churchill near Blenheim where he was born 90-years ago. Just a day after his burial, Churchill's grave at the Bladon parish church of St. Martin's is already a national shrine.

Moscow — The communist party newspaper Pravda reported that the Soviet Union favours a summit meeting between the Kremlin leaders and President Lyndon Johnson. "Such contacts between statesmen of the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.," Pravda said, "can provide an opportunity for an exchange of opinions on the key problems of our time."

Saigon, Viet Nam — The government of South Viet Nam suspended its 1 a.m. curfew for the four day celebration of the Lunar New Year which begins officially on Tuesday. The communist rebel army proclaimed a week-long cease fire during the celebration known as "Tet."

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia — Malaysian military spokesman reported fierce fighting between a British Gurkha patrol and Indonesian troops on Malaysia's mountainous border with Borneo. Reports indicated several Indonesians and Gurkhas killed in the fighting, the first outbreak in the area in more than a week.

Cairo, U.A.R. — Official sources here reported that the United Arab Republic has ordered the Congolese embassy closed in Cairo and instructed its three man staff to return home as soon as possible.

The agitation could lead to a break with Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe and recognition of rebel leader Christophe Gbenye who is in Cairo for talks with U.A.R. president Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Moscow — Western observers were taken by surprise by Soviet Premier Kosygin's proposed visit by Communist North Viet Nam. One group said it felt the visit could mean Russia plans to get more deeply involved in Vietnamese affairs. Another speculated the visit could mean a Soviet attempt to grab some of the ideological influence of the Communist Chinese in Viet Nam.

Jakarta — Red China would not join the United Nations now even if its admission was approved. Communist Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-Lai has told the Indonesian news agency Antara.

Indonesia's withdrawal from the U.N. was the reason for the new stand Chou told Antara in an interview "How can the peoples republic of China possibly join." Chou was quoted as saying. "We grew up outside the world organization and lived well."

Although Antara did not say when it conducted the interview with Chou, it was believed to have been granted during Indonesian foreign Minister Subandrio's 10-day visit to Red China recently. Indonesian journalists accompanied him.

Peterborough, Ont. — Geoffrey J. Feeley, 49, an alderman was charged Saturday with counselling another man to set fire to his $4,000 cottage.

Police said the man, a Peterborough businessman, told them he had been asked Jan. 10 to burn the Alderman's cottage but had refused.

Feeley was relased on $5,000 bail when appeared before a justice of the peace.

Toronto, — The Commons committee on privileges and elections may propose the appointment of a Canadian ombudsman.

Maurice Moreau, (Lib. York-Scarboro) said during the weekend the committee was impressed by the statements of Sir Guy Powles, the New Zealand Ombudsman.

Moreau, committee chairman, did not expand on the statement in speaking to members of his riding association.

On another matter, Moreau said he intends to give his support in the Liberal Caucus to the movement to admit China to the United Nations.

He said external affairs Minister Paul Martin had been "making noises" to the effect that Canada may recommend such a policy.

TIGERS TRIP UP MERCHANTS 2-1 LEAD ROUND ROBIN SERIES 2-0

Aurora Tigers goalie Harry Goodmakers turned in what has to be the best game of his career at the Kiwanis Arena Friday night when he shut out the Lindsay Merchants for 59 minutes and 32 seconds while his mates managed two second period goals to defeat the Merchants 2 - 1 in the best game of the season.

Lindsay Merchants opened the scoring in the first minute of play, and fantastic goal tending by the nimble Goodmakers was all that prevented a fistful of goals by the Merchants even in the first period. Aurora in the meantime made their bid in the second period to tie the score at 7:50 and score what proved to be the winning goal forty seconds later.

Again in the third period Lindsay Merchants took command and showered Goodmakers from every angle without success. Rick Purdy did manage to turn on the goal light at 13.35 of the last period but referee George Bruce ruled no goal.

Aurora now leads the round robin series with two wins. Lindsay Merchants own a win and a loss and Newmarket has two losses to date. The Merchants resume action Tuesday night when they meet the Tigers in Aurora. Ray McCabe scored Lindsay's only goal assisted by George Babcock. The Tiger goals came from John Foran and Bruce Graham. Goodmaker's Friday night performance was all the more unbelievable since the Merchants put 13 goals past him in his first game of the season against Lindsay, and added eighteen in three games since.

Scoring Summary

2nd Period

COUNCIL AGREE TO THE WIDENING OF COLBORNE STREET TO 35 FEET

The Punxsutawney groundhog, known at Punxsutawney PA., as the "seer of seers" when it comes to weather forecasting, today predicted six more weeks of miserable wintery weather. The faithful gathered atop Gobblers' Knob and reported the groundhog rounded out his burrow precisely at 7:27 a.m., EST., saw his shadow, and quickly scurried back in his hole. But before he disappeared below ground again, his actions indicated to members of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club that the nation could expect a mixture of everything miserable until March 16—Snow, sleet, rain, strong winds and extreme cold. It was bitter cold, and snowing, and still fairly dark when the groundhog made his appearance. Nevertheless, groundhog club members said he threw a distinct shadow. No shadow would have meant an early Spring.—(UPI).

Fluoridated water for Lindsay, bylaw passed without comment

Lindsay's water supply will be fluoridated, Lindsay council decided Monday evening when a bylaw to fluoridate the town's drinking water passed three readings in town council without discussion.

Last year council asked the water board to submit recommendations on the cost of fluoridation and at that time Councillor Dr. Peter Gill recommended that fluoridation be carried out.

Last June the Hall Royal Commission of Health Services came out in favour of fluoridation of the drinking waters of communities across Canada. The report ignored mixed public and medical reaction to fluoridation, and said that evidence now gathered over 30 years proved that proper fluoridation was effective, inexpensive and safe.

"Wherever it has been adopted the savings in dental costs have been impressive and the reduction of human suffering equally great", claimed the report.

Councillor Dr. Peter Gill first made a plea for Lindsay to consider the fluoridation of its public water supplies in June last year.

Mayor Joseph Holtom told "The Post" today that the fluoridation would probably commence in the fall when the new plant was constructed. This plant would include the necessary equipment.

ENGINEER'S DEPT. RESPONSIBLE FOR TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Town Engineer Eric Booth asked the Advisory Committee of the Board of Works to notify his department specifically as to their responsibilities in connection with traffic lights, traffic controls, etc.

Members were of the opinion that the Engineering Department should be directly responsible for the erection of traffic signals, traffic control recommendations, traffic surveys and parking lot layouts, and the bylaw officers should continue erecting of traffic signs.

It was felt that further terms of reference were not necessary at the present time.

It was agreed that the Engineering Department be directly responsible for the maintenance of traffic lights in the town of Lindsay and it was recommended that the clerk forward a copy of the resolution to the Chief of Police for his information.

PARKING TAGS UP TO 75c

Parking tags in Lindsay were increased from 50 cents to 75 cents when town council adopted a subcommittee report recommending the change. The increased price is not expected to increase the parking tag revenue, but rather should act as a deterrent to parking meter violations Councillor Carl Brown told the council.

Mayor Joseph Holtom said this is the only town in Ontario with a 50-cent parking ticket. He said the purpose of the increase is to cut down the number of violations. There were over 1,000 violations last week, he added.

The possibility of a Bailey Bridge over the Scugog River at Colborne Street during the time the Wellington St. bridge was being re-built was discussed by the Advisory Committee of the Board of Works. Members of the Committee thought there may be some objection by the Trent Canal System authorities to the required clearance by the use of that type of bridge. The matter was left in abeyance for further consideration.

LINDSAY SUPPORT FOR DAYLINER AT PETERBORO LIKELY

Lindsay may support the City of Peterboro's bid to keep the CPR dayliner service between Peterboro and Toronto. At a meeting of town council Monday night council approved a motion by Councillor John Eakins to refer the matter to the Industrial Commission, the Chamber of Commerce, the Hon. L. M. Frost and any other interested people for study. They are to report their findings back to council at a later date.

Councillor Les Neil said it was a "rather handy service" because the train goes through Pontypool which is only 18 miles from Lindsay.

Commenting on the dayliner service, which the CPR is trying to drop, N. S. McIntosh of the Lindsay Telecommunications office said Peterboro should be supported in its move to retain the service which runs three trains return between Peterboro and Toronto. Mr. McIntosh queried, "Why would anyone drive to Toronto when this service is at hand?"

Owner given 30 days to demolish store

A bylaw was passed by Lindsay town council last night notifying the owner of 43-47 Kent Street west to demolish or otherwise repair the structure which was gutted by fire in 1963. This bylaw was passed under section 31 of the Planning Act as there is no regulation in the Ontario Municipal Act which covers such a situation

The owner, Phil Albert, a Lindsay businessman was given thirty days in which to carry out the necessary work and if not done, the work will be carried out on authorization of town council and the cost regained through taxes.

TOO MANY GOOD WISHES

Zaandam, Holland, (UPI) — To many visitors climbed a board his houseboad to wish H. B. Pranger a happy 24th birthday yesterday. The overloaded vessel sank 15 minutes after the party began.

Weather Outlook

Variable cloudiness today. Sunny with a few cloudy intervals, Wednesday. Cold winds north west 15 - 20 miles an hour today becoming light tonight. High and low tonight, 10 - 0 degrees.

Town council last night voted five to one in favour of widening Colborne Street to a width of thirty-five feet to include the proposed completion on the south side of the street. The council made no decision as to the location of a new bridge.

After giving a complete report of his finding in a study of the situation, Councillor David Logan said someone will be disrupted whether the street was widened to 32 feet or 35 feet. He said a 32 foot roadway would entail taking off a piece of property from both the north and south sides. A certain number of trees would have to be removed, the sidewalk would have to be moved back, and one foot of boulevard on the south side of the street would have to be removed.

If the roadway were widened to the 35-foot width, it it would require taking all the boulevard off the south side and grading to put the crown of the road in the right place, Mr. Logan said. He added further widening would require only work on the north side.

Councillor Logan warned council that if they did go ahead with the widening to 35 feet, it would disrupt property the people have become used to, even though it is town property. He urged council to consider the matter in all its manifestations, thinking of the present and future needs.

By completing the south side now, Councillor Logan told the council, it would be ready for widening to arterial width saving $13,000 to $15,000. He said it was too early yet to decide a location for a bridge.

Mayor Joseph Holtom said 32 feet is the preference of the Advisory Committee of the Board of Works. "Present widening is for present traffic," the mayor remarked. "The present widening was not for a new bridge," he added.

Deputy-Reeve Les Neil, who voted against the widening, cautioned council to be very careful when considering the removal of any sidewalks. "I don't think there is a man in this room who thinks a bridge at Colborne Street is in sight right now," he said.

Dr. Peter Gill said a 32-foot widening does not add a full lane but permits widening with the least amount of disruption of anyone's property. "Should we do this now and have to disrupt both sides in five to five years, or do the south side completely now and not have to disturb it in the future?" he asked.

During the discussion Councillor Carl Brown asked if there would be a slight jog in Colborne Street to conserve trees as there is on Lindsay Street South at Glenela.

Councillor Logan replied a jog from Cambridge Street to William Street has not been considered.

Project Hospitality

Today a programme aimed at improving hospitable relations with visitors to Ontario gets its start in Peterboro, the first of a series of seminars to be held in ten Ontario centres.

The Ontario Department of Tourism and Information and the Canadian Tourist Association have joined forces to emphasize the theme and the Ontario programme will be conducted in three stages with day-long seminars. Members of the Kawartha Lakes Travel Association, the Lake Ontario Development Association, the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce and many other organizations will be represented.

The first seminar will deal with the importance of the tourist industry to a community and how to set up a staff training plan. Stage II is designed to help owners, operators and managers of all types of businesses catering to the travelling public and Stage III will be the setting up of clinics at the local level to instruct employees in the art of hospitality.

In Quebec the slogan "Hospitalité spoken here" has been used for some time and the new programme is designed to make Ontario realize they must all be hospitable.

Many citizens think only motels, restaurants, gas stations and the like, benefit from the tourist dollar. Actually every person in town benefits indirectly from the tourist dollars spent in their home towns.

Groundhog

Today is February 2nd, Groundhog Day and legend has it that Mr. Groundhog, alias marmota monax, alias woodchuck; alias whistlepig, alias the Eastern marmot will pop out of his nest underground and look around. If he sees his shadow on a sunny day, he will crawl back down his hole and nap again for six weeks. This means six more weeks of bitter winter. If however, he does not see his shadow, he will stay out for winter is almost over.

Whether he sees his shadow or not, our friend the groundhog will probably see the mounds of snow on Lindsay's roads and retire to his hole, shadow or not until the snow crews manage to get a bit more of the snow hugged away, or until old Sol comes out and melts it, thereby saving the Works Department a little money.

As one old timer said to us when he dropped in our office a few days ago. "The town did better clearing snow when they used horses and carts!"

The casket of Sir Winston Churchill rests atop catafalque in Westminster Hall as a London woman constable stands at attention. An honor guard of officers, with bowed heads, stands at each corner, and nearby are four constables.

Time of the Serpent

(UPI)—Be wary during the year 4663. For it is the time of the serpent who has many more twists than the common Garden of Eden variety.

This serpent stretches far back into Chinese antiquity and is a reptile to reckon with, Chinatown's elders agree. It has a reputation for great wisdom and for cunning; for guarding wealth and for tale carrying and boot licking, is also associated with feminine charm.

And perhaps to sum up, the serpent is also associated with feminine charm.

But no matter what, in the various Chinatown's preparations are underway for the traditional Chinese New Year's welcome for the serpent's year. It is a time for family get-togethers, renewal of friendships, spotless houses, settling of debts and a huge community celebration.

Chinese New Year' s starts Tuesday (Feb. 2), with the serpent crawling in on the heels of old 4662—the year of the dragon—who is revered as one of the most sacred and benevolent of Chinese mythological beasts.

The outlook for 4663? According to the elders, the omens are various and the prophesy-seekers numerous in neighbourhood temples.

Because even if the serpent is not to be trusted, it still must be revered for its close kinship to the beneficent dragon, and because it also has powers of heading and renewing life.

The Chinese lunar calendar is based on its symbolic cycle of 12 creatures—the tiger, hare, dragon, serpent, horse, ram, monkey, rooster, dog, boar, rat and ox.

When the serpent hasn't a year to call its own, it is working to guard a family's treasure. And even when called by the lowly name snake, it is unlucky to kill it when it enters the house.

The first four days of the customary nine-day New Year's celebration are devoted to private family celebrations.

On Feb. 6, in San Francisco the lid blows off the largest Chinese community outside the Orient. There are fantastic showers of fireworks. Swirling street carnivals, and Chinese opera, as well as parties and open houses between families and clans.

The celebration is capped Feb. 13 with the traditional dragon parade, an event that every year jams Grant Avenue, Chinatown's main street, with hundreds of thousands of visitors.

Under flashing neon ideographs and pagoda roof lines decorated with paper lanterns and streamers march dozens of bands and children dressed as mythological characters. Woven into the parade are huge replicas of legendary fish, birds and beasts, along with floats topped with hundreds of beautiful girls.

At the tail end of the parade is the golden dragon, a swaying twisting creature over 200 feet long that takes 60 men to operate. As it curls its way up the street, it drives away evil and insures good luck for 4663.

If it's done right, it may please the dragon's cousin, the serpent.

And above the din of exploding firecrackers, band music, cheering and laughter, the cries of Caucasian tourists can be heard wishing everyone "gung hay fat choy."

The Chinese usually prefer to say "Happy New Year."

Virtue

There is but one pursuit in life which it is within the power of all to follow, and of all to attain. It is subject to no disappointments; since he that perseveres, makes every difficulty an advancement; and every contest a victory; and this is the pursuit of virtue.

Truck sinks

While driving across Eagle Lake, Fred Reynolds, of Blairhampton, with a heavy load of logs, heard the cracking of ice and jumped off his truck in time to escape being thrown into the icy water before his truck sank. The ice was quite thick, but Mr. Reynolds had an extra heavy load on and the truck slowly sank, all except the cab.

Help arrived quickly and a heavy timber was braced through the cab windows to keep it from singing to the bottom of the lake.

Mr. Reynolds had just recently purchased the truck and it is believed as Mr. B. Curry came down the lake ahead of the Reynolds truck with an extra load on, it caused the ice to crack. It took several hours by the help of several men to raise the truck.

No injuries

No one was injured but considerable damage was done to the milk truck driven by Lloyd McMullen when it collided with Junkins Transport, driven by Ray Lockwood about 10 a.m. today.

The milk truck was following the transport west on Kent Street and as the latter veered to the right to go around a group of men chopping ice on the road, the two trucks collided. The lighter milk truck suffered most from from the accident.

Violent Red attack

Armoured sledges pushed by tanks led a violent Red army onslaught on Finland's Karelian Isthmus defences today, apparently timed with a general Russian offensive.

Construct Sewer

The Board of Works was given authority, at a meeting of town council last night, to proceed with the work on the storm sewer from Melbourne to Durham Streets. This is an extension of the Lindsay Street Drain and the work will be undertaken as a local improvement on the estimate as given by the Town Commissioner.

Remove boathouses

His Worship Mayor Beal brought up the McDonnell Park question last night at the council meeting. Spring was coming, and there were several boathouses to remove which could easily be accomplished on the ice. Then there was a strip of land to be secured from the McDonnell Property to widen the narrow hill. The estate promised to grant this for a small consideration.

Street paving

His Worship Mayor Beal brought up the question of street paving. If the council decided to do some paving, they should consider the purchase of a grader. The town paid last year nearly $100 for the rental of a mixer. A new mixer would cost $1500.

Ald. McLean—It would not pay us unless we did considerable paving.

Dep.-Reeve Smale—We can't think seriously of these matters this year.

Franchise for women

The Canadian Suffrage Association sent into the council a form of petition to be presented to the Ontario Legislature re the franchise for married women.

HONEY TREAT FOR WINTER

Bees make honey from nectar, a "sweet water", which they gather from flowers and take back to their hive. Most everyone knows this! but did you know that in gathering enough nectar from one pound of honey, the little workers make about 37,000 round trips to the flowers and travel at least 50,000 miles? No wonder they are called busy bees! and live only a few weeks! Their tiny wings soon wear out from all their travelling, as well as from the work they must do inside the hive — evaporating the water from the nectar and sealing the honey in the wax comb.

The results of their efforts are most worthwhile, however, and we are fortunate in being able to benefit from them. Honey is an excellent sweetener, especially with fruit. Try it soon in this recipe.

HONEY-ORANGE BUTTER

½ cup honey, ½ cup soft butter or margarine (not melted), 1 teaspoon grated orange rind.

Beat together until light and fluffy. Chill before serving on puddings, gingerbread or graham crackers. Also very good with hot vegetables such as beets, squash, sweet potatoes and onions.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Attractive Fishbowl

You can make your fishbowl much more attractive and natural-looking if you'll use split-shot sinkers as anchors for the aquatic plants in the bowl and to prevent them from floating to the top of the water. Merely slip one or two small sinkers over each plant stem and crimp them shut.

Painting Flowerpots

The painting of flowerpots is made much easier if you rest them upside down on suitable-sized tin cans. The cans permit rotating the pots without touching them, and provide a good support to hold the pots while they're drying.

New Shoes

Your new shoes will feel more comfortable when worn for the first time if you'll pretreat them by sprinkling talcum powder literally into them.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove perspiration stains from fabrics?

A. On unwashables, sometimes only dry-cleaning is the answer. But first try sprinkling water-moistened cornstarch in the area, brushing off when it has dried. On washables, if ordinary laundering fails, sponge the spots with vinegar.

Q. How can I prevent freshly-sliced apples from turning brown?

A. By placing in a bowl of cold water immediately after paring. They can be kept this way for some time, until ready for use, just by changing the water every 24 hours.

Q. How can I quickly improvise a shoe horn when putting on a close-fitting slipper?

A. Lay one corner of a handkerchief into the shoe, gripping the remaining portion of the handkerchief firmly, and using the same as a real shoe horn.

Creamed Cod On Waffles For Lent

Here's a brand-new, tasty menu idea for a lunch or light supper dish during Lent. Crisp waffles topped with a luscious hot sauce of creamed cod flavored with tart-sweet fresh Florida grapefruit juice. (This could be an unusual brunch or buffet specialty, too.)

Make the waffles from your own favorite recipe or buy them frozen. The sauce is a cinch to prepare; flaked frozen cod and zesty grapefruit juice are added to a simple white sauce flavored with onion and chervil.

This season, Florida grapefruit are somewhat smaller than usual, making them easy to handle for juicing. The juice not only adds bright flavor to this recipe, but you'll find it deliciously refreshing as a breakfast beverage, too.

Creamed Cod On Waffles

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup flour
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon chervil
1 package (12 ounces) frozen cod (about 2 cups flaked cod)
¾ cup Florida grapefruit juice
½ cup light cream
8 waffles

Melt butter with onion in heavy saucepan over low heat. Cook about 5 minutes. Slowly add flour; stirring until smooth. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Sprinkle in salt and chervil. Add cod; stirring, to a simmer. Do not boil. Add cod and grapefruit juice cooking until cod is heated thoroughly. Remove from heat; stir in cream and serve immediately over waffles.

YIELD: 4 to 6 servings (4 cups creamed cod).

"No trouble in FAME if directors had been united" - director

FAME director Merlyn Baker of Stouffville, said most of the co-operative's troubles "could be found at the very heart of FAME. There'd be no trouble today if the directors had been united, if they'd stopped politicking and kept away from power groups — we can't blame farmers, farm groups and the government for our own troubles."

The comment was made at the special general meeting of FAME (Farmers Auto Meat Enterprises Co-operative Ltd) in Brampton recently, and appears in the "Rural Co-operator".

The special general meeting records the "Rural Co-operator" was to discuss the situation and to chart a course for the future.

Commenting on a resolution asking the Ontario government to make a study of FAME's operation over recent years and its relations with other farm organizations, A. R. Service, second vice-president said in all probability "a government investigation would find we've not always spent money wisely; that we've paid through the nose for some professional services; but it could not find any misappropriation of money."

At the meeting the delegates and shareholders agreed that the organization should go ahead with the programme to build farmer-owned packing plants. There were however no specific recommendations how this was to be done. One suggestion from the floor was that farmers should raise $2,000,000 in the next two months in an effort to retrieve the Fearman packing plant. FAME lost their downpayment on the plant when they were unable to meet other contract purchase arrangements.

NEW WINTER SPORTS VEHICLE ARRIVES AT WILSON WELDING

The first Snow Cruiser, Outboard Marine Corporation's new winter sports vehicle has arrived at Wilson Welding and Marine, Wellington Street in Lindsay, Al Wilson said today.

Snowmobiles will be used extensively in Canada this winter, said Mr. Wilson, mostly for recreation. Snow cruising clubs are springing up everywhere. A handbook on the new winter sport may be obtained free of charge, from Wilson Welding and Marine.

The product of three years of research, the Snow Cruiser has a variable speed transmission, a thumb controlled push throttle and hand operated brakes. It has a heavy-duty steel chassis, glass fiber cab and shatterproof windshield. An upholstered seat mounted over the drive track, will accommodate two to three passengers.

Designed primarily for recreation, the rear drive track, similar to miniature tank treads grips any terry surface. Skilike front runners provide maneuverability as the Snow Cruiser races across ice and snow at speeds up to 30 miles an hour.

The vehicle is powered by a 14 h.p., two cycle, air-cooled engine which provides ample power for snow cruising, ski and toboggan towing, ice fishing and hunting. Special "cleats" mounted in the reinforced neoprene drive track, give solid traction on ice, hard-packed snow or sloping terrain.

The Snow Cruiser has several commercial applications, added Al Wilson. Farmers, utility companies and winter service companies will find the vehicle the answer to those "hard to get at" problems.

Pearson "living on borrowed time" - McCutcheon

Toronto (UPI) — Conservative Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon last night accused Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of "squandering" his mandate from the Canadian electorate and said he was "living on borrowed time" before facing judgement from the voters.

In a scathing attack on Pearson to the North York Progressive Conservative Association, McCutcheon said the Prime Minister "faces a disillusioned and embittered country; an angry parliament; a cabinet in disarray; and a liberal party and — caucus that has genuinely, if regretfully lost confidence in his capacity to lead.

"Having lost the real confidence of the people, it is unlikely he can regain it."

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood (UPI) — Ralph Edwards played "This is your life" in a surprise visit to fellow emcee Art Linkletter the other day and was overwhelmed by an urge to get back in the video saddle.

Linkletter's astonishment at Edwards' visit for the 20th anniversary of Link's "House Party" show triggered a thousand memories.

"I reacted like an old fire horse to a bell," Edwards said.

With the hokey situation comedies and blood and thunder adventure shows cluttering the air, Edwards believes the cycle soon will swing back to game programmes and audience participation shows.

"That goes for stunt shows and those that encompass the humanities such as this is your life," Edwards said from his Penthouse office overlooking Hollywood. "The general category missing today is 'People shows' with human interest."

Edwards owns the daily "Truth or Consequences" show but does not appear on it. Now he's anxious to get back in front of the camera.

Feelers from all three networks have come Ralph's way. Sponsors have been sounding him out, too.

"We're ready," he grinned. "If they call me at 7 a.m. asking for a show we can have it on the air that night. And that goes for a renewal of This Is Your Life.

"There are hundreds of persons doing important things, making news, accomplishing wonders who would be perfect subjects for it."

Edwards is particularly attached to the show that ran nine years, taking scores of individuals by surprise with people, places and things from their pasts.

He's also had phenomenal success with Truth or Consequences. It is now in its 25th year on radio-TV. The Edwards touch kept many a game show on the air: "Place the face" (4 years), "Funny Bones" (2), "It could be You" (7).

"I have a new idea for a human interest show titled 'Portrait of an American,' a series on contemporary men and women and their achievements in various professions and fields.

I think it's a natural for television, and a relief from the kind of programming that dominates the networks right now."

For the past two years Edwards has been national crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society, travelling across the country raising funds. Wherever he goes people persist in asking him when he will return to the air.

"Soon, I hope," he answers.

"Human nature is an unending source of humor, frustration and triumph. Audiences still like to see the story of the unsung hero and viewers still like to be part of a stunt.

"It's like being in on a surprise party or a snipe hunt. There's a feeling of self-identification and unsophisticated fun.

"I'd like to get back on the air because I enjoy it, and I think the television audience enjoys the kind of shows I do."

PATTERSON OUT-BOXES CHUVALO

(UPI) — The boxing world has a new contender for the heavyweight crown.

He is Floyd Patterson, whose victory over Canadian champ George Chuvalo last night put him in the running for the crown he has held twice in the past. Patterson is the only man in the history of boxing to have won and lost the title twice

In his victory over the Canadian champ — Patterson outboxed and out-punched Chuvalo for a unanimous 12-round decision.

The fight was the richest non-title fight in boxing history, netting some 760 thousand dollars in paid admissions and television rights.

Burnt River (PNS) — The progressive euchre party sponsored by the Young People's Guild was held in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening with a fair attendance despite the inclement weather.

Ladies first prize was won by Mrs. Henry Armstrong, and Gentleman's first was won by Mr. Douglas Godwin.

Consolation prizes went to Mr. Joe Rettie and Reg Shechey.

Lunch was served by the members of the Guild.

The Grand Old Lady of Government Street

Without her, Victoria would never be quite the same . . .

Victoria (UPI) — Canada's last bastion of the empire, the "Tea and Crumpets" empress hotel is in danger of becoming a page in history.

Victoria's ivy-clad Empress, where retired English colonels and their ladies still take tea in the afternoon in a staid, Edwardian lobby, is more like a state-of-mind than a hotel.

It epitomizes the characteristics of the city itself, which accepts the label "Little bit of old England," and in fact strives to enhance the image.

But Les Parkinson, Englishborn manager of the Empress has warned that the 57-year-old hotel, owned by the Canadian Pacific railway, may not last another five years. It has lost hundreds of thousands of dollars in recent years.

Parkinson said it could be restored to youthful health by a $4 million transfusion.

Because of the cost involved, however, the CPR might consider selling the Neo-gothic empress or tearing it down and building a new complex.

Parkinson said unless something is done soon, the 570-room sentinel may "turn into a nice old museum."

The Empress, which sprawls over 10 acres along Government Street and peers over the inner harbour, has been the site of elaborate balls and conventions. It has played host to the Rich, the famous and to royalty.

Such a phenomenon as the Empress probably could never have occurred anywhere in Canada except Victoria.

Balmy, pleasant Victoria, whose temperatures during the winter are usually several degrees warmer than Vancouver's traditionally has been the final haven for the retired, most of whom — especially before World War Two — came from Britain.

They brought with them, in addition to their pension cheques and gratuities, the 19th century concepts of fastidiousness, puritanism and placidity.

Their well-tended gardens are a major tourist attraction, and have helped make the city among the most beautiful in Canada.

Victoria civic officials and businessmen, with an eye on the tourist dollar, have planted flowers in lamp post troughs, named drug stores "Chemist Shops," and opened dozens of tea shops and fish and chip emporiums, giving some sections of the city the appearance of a sea-side community in Sussex or Hampshire.

These quiet attractions draw hundreds of thousands of harried tourists from other parts of Canada and the United States each year.

Victoria long has been the source of jokes, emanating mainly from across Georgia Strait in bold, brassy Vancouver, which competes with the British Columbia capital for tourists.

For instance: "We went over to Victoria last weekend for a visit, but it was closed."

Or "the Victorian checks the obituary column of the newspaper each morning over his tea. If his name isn't listed, he goes back to bed."

But a growing number of modern, high-rise apartment houses and office buildings are beginning to dwarf the tudor-style mansions and sedate chinaware import houses in the city center area, while illuminated super markets and hamburger drive-ins dazzle the more proper roast-beef-and-yorkshire-pudding specialty restaurants in the suburbs.

Actually Victoria is — some say always has been — typical North American.

To many observers, the quaint English atmosphere that is maintained becomes more strained and artificial with each passing year.

But one thing is sure, Victoria would never be quite the same without the "grand old lady of government street."

SWEEP

Scugog River, a name which is knit into the historic warp and woof of the town of Lindsay, was the name on the lips of hundreds of curlers on Saturday. Fifty-four rinks from many parts of curlingdom swarmed into the Peel street club Saturday for the third annual Scugog river Special. They could not be classed as "pot hunters" for they came too for relaxation, recreation and fun.

The event was an unqualified success and orchids should go to Chum Gillespie, chairman of the event, and to members of his committee as many hours were put into planning the draw as well as providing hospitality.

Top awards in the first draw went to a rink skipped by Elmer Kennedy with three wins and high score. He was assisted by Myrtle Kennedy, Dean Tompkins and Jean Tompkins.

The second draw awards for three wins went to the rink of Mr. and Mrs. George Aitken and Mr and Mrs. Don Boyce. In all eighteen rinks were presented with prizes.

There are several reasons for the success of the bonspiel including excellent ice in rinks at Lindsay, Oakwood, and Fenelon Falls, the transporting of curlers by chartered busses, the calibre of competition, the fact that it brought back to the old home town many former residents, the sumptious meals served by the ladies, the colourful decorations, the fine entertainment provided by Joe Brown's dance band, the courtesy of officials and the very fine brand of hospitality.

It was a great success and many curlers have already signed on the dotted line to return next year.

Following is a list of winning rinks in draw no. one: First, E. Kennedy, Lindsay, 3 wins, 47 points; second, James Anderson, Avonlea, 3 win, 44 points; third, Jack Mosley, Peterboro, 3 wins, 42 points; fourth, Art Elsden, Lindsay, 2 wins, 34 points; fifth, Wes Ellis, Lindsay, 2 wins, 34 points; sixth, Ike Eberts, Lindsay, 2 wins, 34 points, seventh, Grant Clark, Peterborough, 2 wins, 34 points; eighth, Vic Brown, Peterborough, 1 win, 25 points; ninth, B. Bellamy, Thornhill, 1 win, 24 points.

Winners in draw no 2: George Aitken, Lindsay, 3 wins, 47 points; second, William Shea, Bobcaygeon, 3 wins, 46 points; third Bill Bales, Newmarket, 3 wins, 43½ points; fourth, George Wright, Toronto, 2 wins, 34 points; fifth, Paul Ashmore, Lindsay, 2 wins 34 points; sixth Bill Moore, Lindsay, 2 wins, 33½ points; eighth, Jim Waddell, Lindsay, 1 win, 23½ points; ninth Dave Smith, Uxbridge, 1 win, 22 points.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

STOMACH TROUBLE POSES MANY POSSIBLE PROBLEMS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Both my husband and I suffer from indigestion and am sending for a booklet on stomach trouble. I hope it explains the causes of indigestion and what to do for it.—Mrs. Q.

Comment: Don't be disappointed if the booklet doesn't make the diagnosis for you and your husband. That is your doctor's job. However, I think you will find quite a bit of information which will give you an idea of the problems tied in with proper diagnosis and treatment. You will better understand what your doctor needs to do and what you can do to help.

For example, you mention indigestion. After reading the booklet you will realize that this indefinite term covers many possible problems. Indigestion may indicate the presence of one or more of the following: heartburn, belching, acid taste, constipation, biliousness, pain in the abdomen, nausea, vomiting, etc.

But you must remember that though your husband and you have similar symptoms you may suffer from entirely different conditions.

For instance, his belching and heartburn may be due to nervousness; yours may be due to gall bladder trouble. Or, his symptoms may be due to gastritis from too many highballs or overeating; yours may be due to an unrecognized hiatal hernia.

Making a correct diagnosis as early as possible is essential for effective treatment.

YOGURT HER PROBLEM

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a woman of 82. I eat yogurt two times a day. Some women tell me it will make me gain weight. I am very short and my doctor told me not to gain. I weigh 120 and I don't want to put any more on. I love yogurt. I'd hate to give it up. I don't smoke or drink or stay late or drink coffee. You can see I have no other bad habits. Must I really give up my yogurt?—Mrs. B.

Comment: Don't you dare. Don't give it up. I mean. Don't let them take away all your fun.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have two granddaughters aged 7 and 10. They are both in school. They are allowed to stay up and watch TV very late. Is that bad?—Mrs. U.

Comment: It isn't good. A good guess is that their parents put in quite a few hours in front of the set, too. Youngsters' bad habits are often due to similar bad habits of parents. Better tell your son or daughter to take things in hand: sleep is essential for youngsters who need to get up early for school.

Speaking of tensions a few years ago Dr. Harry J. Johnson made some pertinent points: David Harum (fictional character) said 'that a reasonable number of fleas is good for a dog—keeps him from broodin' over being a dog.' Tensions in our lives are something like a dog's fleas. A reasonable number are a spur to ambition, achievement and happiness."

Merchants out to maul Tigers again

Lindsay Merchants will be smarting when they meet the Aurora Tigers on Yonge Street tonight. The Merchants, after mauling the Tigers all season were suddenly stopped in their tracks Friday night by one Harry Goodmakers. The Merchants owned the first and third periods by a wide margin territorially but their best shots were unable to beat Goodmakers. Tonight the Merchants hope to change all that right in Aurora. Game time up there is 8:15 p.m.

MINDEN POLICE REPORT RASH OF ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

Minden Provincial Police on Monday reported a fairly busy week end with several minor accidents throughout the area. Slippery road conditions are thought to have been a contributing factor.

Damages estimated by Provincial Constable Allan Brooks of the Minden Detachment at $375 resulted from a two car collision on highway 35, north of Carnarvon about 8:30 Saturday morning. A car driven by Muriel Brown, of Stanhope Township, R. R. No 2 Minden, is reported to have been entering highway 35 from her driveway when her car came in collison with a second car driven by Douglas Bouckley, of Oshawa. The two cars skidded into each other causing an estimated $150 to the Brown car, and $225 to the Bouckley car. There were no injuries.

At about 12:15 p.m. Saturday a vehicle driven by Jack Mattson of Scarboro, Ontario was entering Highway 35 from Peterson Road in Carnarvon when it came in contact with a vehicle driven by John Fennell of RR2 Minden. Damage to the Mattson car was estimated by Constable Brooks to be $125.00 and to the Fennell car $50.00.

Another $175.00 accident occurred in Minden on Friday January 28th. about 1:30 p.m. A car being driven by Isobella Mason of Minden and a second car driven by Raymond Hewitt of Minden collided at the intersection of Anson and Pick streets. The Hewitt vehicle is said to have struck a rut and slid into the Mason vehicle. Damage to the Mason car was estimated at $150.00 and $25.00 to the Hewitt car according to Provincial Constable Allan Brooks who investigated the accident.

Two teachers locked bumpers on highway 121, three-quarters of a mile east of Tory Hill Monday morning. Constable Allan Brooks reported that a car being driven by A. K. Peters of Newmarket, a teacher at Tory Hill, and a second car driven by Faye Bierworth of Bancroft, also a teacher at Tory Hill were involved. The constable said the Peters car was eastbound, about to turn into a private driveway when he noticed the other vehicle. In trying to avoid a collision both vehicles slid into the opposite lanes and locked rear bumpers as they passed. Damage was estimated to be about $60.00 to each vehicle.

Importance of tourist industry stressed by 'hospitality' speaker

Techniques for better service discussed at Tourist Conference

Leaders of the tourist industry in this area held a daylong conference in Peterborough Tuesday to discuss techniques for better service preparatory to next summer's tourist season.

Trailer fee set in Ops township

Ops township council agreed to ask the township solicitor to draft a bylaw to authorize the licencing of trailers in the township at $10 a month.

Councillor Norman Nugent had suggested a fee of $20 a month but other councillors suggested this was "too steep".

"We don't want trailers in the township", commented Councillor Maurice Yacoob, "and setting a higher fee would probably discourage some trailer-owners from settling here."

Council will discuss at their next meeting a proposal that a zoning bylaw be drafted for the township.

Weather Outlook

Variable cloudiness with a few snow flurries today and Thursday. Locally heavier snowfall along the lakeshore, continuing high winds westerly 15 - 25 mph. High today and low tonight, 10 above and 10 degrees below.

Session first of three-stage programme to boost tourism

"It may be trite, but it is true, that hospitality is merely the extension of the golden rule, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you' commented Robert W. Kelly, general manager of Allied Boating of Canada, and National secretary-treasurer of "Outdoor Writers of Canada" during his luncheon address at the hospitality conference in Peterborough Tuesday.

"You have probably heard more times than enough how big the tourist industry is, how very fortunate it is to both the economic and social well being of our country and our every community, but I am going to pass over this ground once again" were the opening remarks of Mr. Kelly's address. He provided the following statistics.

He said in 1963, for the first time since 1950, Canada's export value from the tourist industry exceded the import value. More money was taken in from visitors to Canada than Canadians spent visiting other countries. The actual figures he quoted for 1963 showed an income of $602 million against $589 million of outgo, or a surplus of $13 million. While final figures for 1964 were not yet available the speaker said, it would appear that Canada might earn a record breaking $650 million in foreign currency, although it appears Canadians spent an unprecedented $700 million on travel outside Canada's borders which could mean a deficit of $50 million.

Canadians, he said, have the statistical distinction of spending more money per capita on international travel than the citizens of any other country. About one in five Canadians who take an annual vacation away from home go outside of Canada. "No one wants to put barriers in the way of Canadians who want to travel," he said, "but so many Canadians consistently want to travel outside of Canada without having seen their own country, we have an economic and a social problem."

"If" he continued "as the Canadian Gallup Poll indicates, about 43% of adult Canadians have never lived or visited in any province other than the one in which they now reside, how can Canadians who travel abroad perform a useful function in communications when they have not seen their own country?"

"Tourism is not a product that is sold in bulk", he stated, "our sales are individual tickets, tanks of gas, meals and gifts, multiplied many times over. It is estimated that the world market for international tourism is some 30 million people spending approximately $8,400 million, which works out to $280 per head, and this represents many individual sales".

CANADIAN FIGURES

On the Canadian scene he quoted the following figures. Of the $2,400 million spent annually in Canada by foreign and Canadian tourists, $600 million goes to the food and beverage industry, $360 million for product purchases, $100 million for services such as laundry and telephone, $240 million to the entertainment industry, $500 million to the accommodation industry, and $600 million to the transportation industry.

To make another comparison, he said the present volume of tourist business in Canada is roughly two-thirds of the total cash receipts from all crops, livestock, and other agricultural products. Also the amount spent by tourists in Canada in 1963 amounted to almost twice the retail value of automobiles manufactured in Canada.

Speaking on the potential of the tourist industry, Mr. Kelly pointed out that 90% of Canada's foreign travel dollars come from the U.S., 52% of U.S. adults, some 60 millions, have never taken a trip of 200 miles or more away from their home, 75% have never been in an teroplane, 60% have never spent a night in an hotel and actually only 35% of the population took a vacation trip in 1962.

U.S. citizens are currently spending somewhere between 50 and 50 billion dollars annually on travel within their own borders and beyond. That means Canadians are now getting only 1 or 2% of the entire U.S. travel market, he said.

The tourist industry is a big employer and could be much bigger. Somewhere between 5% and 10% of Canada's labour force now working full time in tourism. The investment needed to provide one job in tourism is far less than needed to provide one job in manufacturing, Mr. Kelly noted.

Hits rear-end of parked car

Total damage of $450 resulted when a car driven by Algis Ankudacius of 9 Mary Street East crashed into the rear end of a car owned by Francis Smith of 71 Lindsay Street South, which was parked on the West side of Lindsay Street South, at 8 p.m. last night. Mr. Ankudacius told police he was blinded by lights.

Lindsay Police Constable Douglas Thompson investigated.

Over $1,100 collected by mothers' blitz

Lindsay Marching Mothers collected just over $1100 during their one hour Lindsay March of Dimes blitz on Monday, February 2nd, 1965, said Chamber of Commerce Manager Harry MacDonald today.

Mr. MacDonald said he was more than satisfied with the results of the canvass and said the Ontario March of Dimes organization was indeed grateful to those ladies who as team captains and canvassers so willingly gave of their time to make the canvass a success.

Anyone who may have been missed by a Marching Mother on Monday last and who wishes to contribute to the March of Dimes can arrange to have it picked up by calling 324-2393 or mailing the donation to Lindsay March of Dimes, Box 268, Lindsay.

Fluoridation

On Monday evening a bylaw went through three readings with little comment in the council chamber, and it was agreed that Lindsay water should be fluoridated.

Now we are satisfied that the addition of fluorides to drinking water as a deterrent against tooth decay has a sound scientific foundation, but we are not satisfied by the manner in which this bylaw was suddenly "whipped through".

Members of council are well enough aware of opposition to the introduction of fluorides to the water supply. Admittedly a public vote on such a question may not be necessary, but we feel the third reading of the bylaw should have been deferred a week after the first two readings in order that any objections to the proposal could be heard by council.

In a civic plebiscite in Ottawa recently 55,324 voted in favour of fluoridation and 36,079, voted against. A substantial number against, indicating the controversy that still surrounds the introduction of fluorides to the drinking supply.

We suspect council pulled a fast one in introducing the bylaw with little advance publicity or discussion, and then carrying out the three readings in one evening.

Perhaps future generations will benefit from fluoridation and perhaps they won't. The point is, the voice of dissent was muzzled by council's quick actions.

To chase or not to chase

An incredibly smashed-up car was illustrated in Monday evening's Toronto "Telegram" together with a collection of little pictures showing some of the parts of the vehicle that had been strewn in thirteen different spots near an overpass at distances up to 120 feet from the point of impact.

The car which contained two young men was travelling at speeds faster than 110 miles an hour when it smashed into a bridge abutment on the Queen Elizabeth way and disintegrated. The two men were critically injured. At the time, the car was being chased by an OPP cruiser.

We do not know the apparently pressing need for persuit but cannot however conceive of any ordinary offence or crime that could have been committed that made it necessary for an OPP constable to race his cruiser at 110 miles an hour in order to stop the speeding car at the risk of his own life, and the lives of other innocent drivers on the roadway.

Of course we do not suggest offenders be allowed to get away if they speed excessively. But at those speeds the police car could not have stopped the other car safely by approaching from the rear. Surely with radio-equipped police vehicles the thing to have done would have been to have radioed ahead for a car to stop the speeding vehicle ahead with a road block. All too often these high-speed car chases end in tragedy, and all too often the offence committed was relatively unimportant.

Three arrested

Following several weeks of investigation in Victoria, Haliburton and Peterboro Counties, Provincial Constables Cecil Taylor and William McBrien working in conjunction with Detectives Meagher and Piercy of the Peterboro police force, arrested three youths on Friday whom they believe were responsible for a series of robberies which were committed in the village of Omemee during the month of December.

The arrested men are Jack Woodcock, 23, of Peterboro, Jim Woodcock, 18, a brother, of Peterboro and J. Wesley Zinston, 20, of Peterboro.

Three robberies were also perpetrated in the city of Peterboro around Christmas and police believe that with the arrest of these men these crimes will be solved. Stores broken into in Omemee includes Nurse's Garage, Earl's store and Kingsboro's Garage.

Police also report that they have recovered some of the stolen articles.

A very successful school dance was held in the gymnasium of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute, Friday night and was well attended by numbers of graduates as well as undergraduate students.

Train service restored

The big storm which prevailed Monday and Tuesday has spent itself and the demoralization prevailing on the railroads has been practically overcome. The public highways are, however, badly blocked and will remain so for some time yet.

Lindsay isolated

Lindsay was practically isolated on Tuesday, insofar as the railway service was concerned, and remained in that condition until late at night when the trains that were snowbound nosed their way into town.

CPR restored

The service on the CPR has again been restored. A snowplough came in via Bethany last night before nine o'clock and then departed for Burketon about 11 o'clock. This morning everything is in apple pie order.

GTR running

This morning trains were running satisfactorily on the Grand Trunk even though they were a few minutes behind time. Tuesday was a busy day for snowploughs and crews as they had to battle against conditions that are rarely met with in these parts. It was reported that seven of the company's moguls fared badly in coping with the mountains of snow encountered on the line.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Half-Billion Dollar Gamble

Marco Island, Fla. (UPI)— There are two sides to Florida away from the billboard that shows a bathing beauty from the rear, but Florida's Gulf Coast has never blossomed with resort areas like Miami Beach, Fort Lauderdale or Palm Beach.

The Tampa-Clearwater-St. Petersburg area is popular with some tourists but never has the west coast of the peninsula had the pull of the Atlantic side.

Now a combination of builders and businessmen have made a $12 million down payment on a multi-million gamble that they can turn the trick.

Their lure is an island that looks like something out of the south seas. This week Frank, Elliott and Robert Mackie who are real estate developers, opened the first resort hotel on Marco Island.

If they can kep their parlay going for about 10 years, the total investment will top $500 million and Florida's southwest coast will have a resort town of more than 35,000 residents. That will just about double the present population of Collier County.

"They can't miss," observed one Miami real estate expert. That's saying a lot because the future has just about dropped out of the home market in such urban areas as Miami, Tampa-St. Petersburg, Orlando and Jacksonville.

Marco Island, the pearl of Florida's ten thousand islands, was chosen for the gamble. Connected to the mainland by a causeway, it lies on the Gulf of Mexico at the southwestern corner of the peninsula, 104 miles west of Miami and 28 miles southeast of Naples.

When the Mackles and Associates purchased it last spring from Barron Collier Jr., they formed with Collier a corporation that has had to take on irate mosquitoes, sports fishermen, shell hunters, bird watchers and beach lovers from around the world.

For Marco Island has, in its unspoiled state, a wide and four-mile long crescent of dazzling white and fluffy beach. The warm gulf inlets around it are the nursery waters of many of Florida's finest sports fishes. When the wind kicks up waves the gulf throws a myriad variety of colourful shells onto the sands.

Marco has attracted thousands of working Floridians, even those with a publicized beach almost at their doorstep, from hundreds of miles. Dad would fish in the surf while the kids romped up and down the beach and the family would top it all off with a bonfire picnic among the dunes, unmolested by beach lovers or officials. There's hardly any place like that left in mushrooming Florida today.

The extinct Calusa Indians liked Marco more than 2,000 years ago. The seminole Indians fought the white man for it. Fleeing criminals at the turn of the century and later a handful of unsappy city dwellers found hermitage on the island.

But Marco had more than a beach when the development company moved in its earth movers. There were mangrove swamps that sent black clouds of mosquitoes searching for blood in summer and thick tangles of Florida jungle growth. Even a hill more than 50 feet high, a rarity in these flat lands.

Before the first pile of clam shells—left behind by a defunct cannery —was spread to form a road base, the development company devised a plan for a complete resort city that will keep most factions reasonably happy. Detailing every inch of 10,100 acres, the planners consulted the Audubon Society on bird sanctuaries, fish and game and wildlife authorities and the officials of Collier County.

The planners have tried to incorporate the best features of Florida leisure and vacation living and come up with a sort of South Sea Island that is completely modernized.

They've already made a good start. An $800,000 hotel blends into the Sabal palm background just off the beach; a $150,000 yacht club is just about complete; the first nine holes of the golf course have been seeded; an $85,000 administration building is finished and work is nearly complete on a servce station, grocery and utility plant.

Ontario apples and turnips make an appetizing casserole

Ontario produces most of Canada's turnips both for export and for Domestic use. Although there are several varieties of table turnips on the market, the Laurentian with its golden yellow body and deep purple covering is the most popular in Ontario. When buying turnips choose firm smooth well-shaped vegetables Today most turnips are waxed to preserve their freshness and vitamin content. One pound of turnip when diced and cooked will give 2 to 2½ cups or 2 to 3 servings.

Turnips can be served with many other vegetables for exciting taste treats. Sticks of turnips, carrots and celery either raw or cooked diced turnips, peas and mushrooms are only two of the possible dishes. For an attractive, taste tempting casserole to perk up winter meals, combine turnips and Ontario apples suggest food specialists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

APPLE AND TURNIP CASSEROLE

3 cups turnip slices, about ¼-inch thick, 2 medium cooking apples cored and thinly sliced, 2 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons brown sugar, salt.

Cook turnip slices in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain. Place one-half the turnip slices in a greased 1-quart casserole; add half the apple slices. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle with 3 tablespoons brown sugar and a little salt. Repeat with a second layer alternating apple and turnip slices in a circle a round the dish. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and brown sugar. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Wax Applicators

Most wax applicators are made of lamb's wool, and should be washed in lukewarm water and suds and rinsed thoroughly after each using. Squeeze out the excess water, and shake to restore fluffiness. It is also a good idea to shake out the lamb's wool several times during the drying process.

Paint Mixing

Good painters always "box" their paint, as well as stir it—that is, they pour it from one container into another, and back again—which speeds mixing and insures the pigment's blending completely with the oil.

Handy Cleanser

A toothbrush makes a handy tool for cleaning the egg beater or mixer blades. It gets into spots that are otherwise difficult to penetrate. Also, it's good for food graters, choppers, and the like.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. Is there an easy "dry-cleaning" method I can use on my gloves at home?

A. Try mixing fuller's earth and powdered alum, then applying this with a brush all over your gloves, then wiping off. Then cover the gloves with dry cereal, such as oatmeal, and brush off.

Q. How should dark rooms be papered?

A. "The darker the room, the lighter the paper" is a good rule to follow. If only one wall is dark, use a lighter paper on that wall and a darker shade on the other three—this making that part of the room appear lighter.

Q. How should knitted garments be hung after they've been laundered?

A. They should NOT be hung! Let them dry flat, and they'll stay in much better shape.

And with all suffering o'er,
Say not, I am dead when Jesus calls me,
To live for evermore.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Roy and family. (1956)

HARRISON — In loving memory of our dear sister Jessie who passed Jan. 29th, 1963.

To us she has not gone away,
Nor has she travelled far,
Just entered God's eternal home.

Sadly missed by sisters and brothers. (2027)

Merchants down Aurora 6-2 Goodmakers ill since Friday

Lindsay Merchants tied up the round robin series last night when they defeated the Aurora Tigers 6 - 2 in Aurora, before some three hundred fans.

The game was a chippy affair with 24 penalties called by referee Jack Shropshire. The score was tied at 1 - 1 at the end of the first period which saw most of the play in the Aurora end of the ice. While the merchants had almost all of the scoring chances, their best efforts dinged the goal posts with regularity but only one goal beat Dwight Lyons in the Aurora net. Aurora players claimed Harry Goodmakers has been ill since the bombardment he received here Friday night.

Lindsay Merchants fired four unanswered goals in the middle frame to establish their lead and added one in the third period, matched by the Tigers in the last minute of play. Eleven penalties also went into the records in the final frame including the second pair of majors in the game.

George Babcock, voted the teams most valuable player by his mates last Friday, proved his worth again last night with three goals. Single goals were scored by Bob Taylor, Gary Heffernan, and Ron Pillsworth.

The first period was half gone and the Aurora goal posts were still ringing when Gary Heffernan finally beat Lyons for the first time. Gary Lyood drew the goalie out of position with his shot and Heffernan had half the net for a target, at 11:51. Weir was chased for high sticking at 12:01. Pat Flannagan followed with ten at 13:40. Horton came in for holding at 15:17, got back on the ice for half a minute, only to return for interference at 17:49. This penalty was ended in twenty-three seconds when Wayne Hill slapped the puck off Randy Reid's stick and into the mesh to tie the score at 18:12. Bray and Yearwood came off for high sticking and roughing at 18:26..

Lindsay Merchants got tough in the second period when they flexed their muscles with four goals. George Babcock flipped the first one into the Aurora cage at 1:01 after Ray McCabe's close-in shot. Bob Taylor completed a three way criscross at 3:39 with Purdy and Yearwood setting up the screen. At 6:29 Babcock knocked down a high Aurora pass near their crease and slipped the disc under the goalie all in one motion. He fired his third goal of the period at 14:55 on an unmolested break from the Aurora blue-line, again taking the close-in slider as the scoring weapon.

The period ended with Jack Foran, Aurora Captain, and rookie George Graham of the Merchants both doing five minutes for fighting. The 'rassle' took place near the Lindsay net with only two spectators, but one was the referee.

The third period penalty parade filled the Aurora box to capacity with three Tigers and four Merchants strung along the long bench. Before Graham and Foran got out, Bray came in for elbowing. Morasse and Wray came in for tripping and charging at 2:37. Foran came back for interference and Graham for elbowing at 4:05. Horton was chased for holding at 4:28, on a delayed penalty that should have started at 4:37. Ray McCabe got two for interference at 4:41, a penalty which should have started at 6:05, but Aurora Officials kept the boys from catching cold by disregarding the delay situation.

Ron Pillsworth cashed the final goal for the Merchants at 10:45, after shots from Babcock and McCabe had rocked Lyons. The teams then settled down until the final minute when another fight and Aurora's final goal were recorded at 19:25, and 19:47 respectively.

Round Robin action continues Thursday evening when the Aurora Tigers travel to Newmarket to meet the Redmen. Friday night brings the Redmen to Lindsay to meet the Merchants at 9:00 p.m.

In the first game of the Junior "D" play-offs last night, the Stouffville Clippers downed Uxbridge Chicks 12 - 0. The "A" series best of seven starts at Bobcaygeon Friday night with Cannington Sutton Twins as the opposition.

Car Owners

Do you know that you may be doing harm to your car.

The car manufacturers are now placing a crankcase vent on the above years mainly to stop air pollution by eliminating blow-by gas from the crankcase.

This is good for your car also. But if this positive crankcase ventilation is not replaced every . . . 4000 - 6000 miles, an inoperative or clogged valve can cause:

- ROUGH ENGINE IDLE
- HIGHER OIL CONSUMPTION
- RAPID WEAR ON ENGINE PARTS DUE TO SLUDGE DEPOSITS
- STRONG OIL ODOUR

And in some cases Wiper Motor Failure – all of which contribute to poor engine performance and short engine life.

ON THE MAIN STREET

Out of the hundreds of ratepayers who are fortunate enough to become members of the county council of Victoria only a comparatively few are honoured with the distinction of becoming Warden.

After the first year in office the desire beats in every heart to reach the high office of Warden. This honour in the present year belongs to Robert George Cammack, Reeve of the Municipality of Laxton, Digby and Longford, who was elevated to the office at the January session.

Honour also belongs to the people of the northern townships for the municipality has had three citizens in the office of Warden, John Bastet, Raymond Goslin and the present incumbent Robert Cammack.

The new Warden, a man of medium height and slight build, is a mild-tempered man interested in people and a man of quiet determination. Although a comparatively unknown citizen of the county, yet in seven short years he has become known to many friends, and the fact that he was elected to the position of Warden on the first ballot speaks for his popularity and his recognized worth.

Warden Cammack was born near Pickering and was educated at Audley and Pickering Ontario. In 1943 he was married to Miss Ruth Thompson and they have two children, Robert Edward and John Thomas.

This tenure of office in the township council includes acclamations as Reeve from 1961 to 1965 and the culmination of a fine record in public service with his elected as Warden.

Warden Cammack served with the Canadian Army in World War Two. He joined the Scottish Regiment and served in England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany and after this lengthy service returned to Canada in October, 1945.

Besides being busy with farm and agricultural matters and the business of council, Warden Cammack has developed an interesting and educational hobby. He has a fine collection of pioneer farm implements, antiques, utensils and antique furniture articles.

Robert Cammack's municipal record includes a term as school trustee from 1955 to 1957. In 1948 and 1959 he was a member of the township council and he has served as Reeve since the year 1959. He and has served on the board since that date. He served two years as a member of the Board of Governors of the Ross Memorial Hospital. In other county activities he served as chairman of the Board of Management of the County Home.

County councillors have found Warden Cammack can be a persistant man with the faculty for digging in and getting the right answers. In a comparatively short time he has been able to gain the trust and confidence of many people.

Warden Robert Cammack

$10,000 ART COLLECTION TO BE SHOWN AT LINDSAY

The Lindsay Art Guild in conjunction with the Art Institute of Ontario is sponsoring a programme of art appreciation the evening of Wednesday, 17th, February at the Lindsay Collegiate.

Mr. Paul Bennett, B.A., B.S.W., M.Ed., Director of the Art Institute is visiting Lindsay! He will bring with him a collection of about ten original Canadian works of art. These painting will range from landscapes painted by Arthur Lismer and J. E. H. MacDonald, members of the Group of Seven, to an abstract painted by Harold Town.

This collection has been obtained from public galleries such as the Art Gallery of Toronto, private collections such as the Charles S. Band Collection and industries such is Imperial Oil. The value of the collection will exceed ten thousand dollars.

Mr. Bennet will lecture on these paintings and illustrate his points by means of slides of other works of art by the same artists. He has requested that local artists bring their own paintings to the meeting and he will be pleased to meet with this group after the public lecture and give a criticism of these works.

The Art Institute of Ontario has a programme of travelling exhibitions. This tour is a result of grants being obtained from the Province of Ontario Council for the Arts and the Canada Council. The meeting is open to all members of the public interested in art. It is hoped that High School students will be able to attend.

So often reproductions of paintings loose a great deal of the colour, tone, and technique of the original work of art, comments The Art Institute of Ontario. Here is a chance for the public to see good original paintings, to examine them in detail and fully understand the artist's original meaning in painting the picture. This collection will represent various styles from the most realistic to the most abstract or non-representational. There are bound to be arguments around such remarks as "Is that a painting?" However, as Mr. Bennett points out, controversy and discussion proves that art is alive and vital and has meaning for people.

Minden

Congratulations to the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Everett McPhail (nee Carolyn Crawford) whose wedding was Saturday.

Miss Joan Hewitt was the recipient of a wedding shower Friday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Newman.

All the families in the village had visitors and the reservations committee have done a fine job in providing accommodation for visitors.

If your family is too big for the beetle, and too shy for the bus, you've just given yourself the best reasons for looking into the Volkswagen 1500.

Some families outgrow our beetle. Nature.

And some people will never get used to the idea of being seen in our Station Bus. Human nature.

So it was second nature for us to bring out the Volkswagen 1500.

We made the 1500 to seat five people. Or an almost infinite number of small, dirty faces.

And to get everyone where they want to go at a clip that's almost undignified for us to mention.

(Our T5 engine zips from a standing start to 50 mph in 12 seconds!)

But we didn't get carried away completely.

We got a good grip on ourselves. And left the 1500's engine in the rear over the drive wheels.

And we cool it with air instead of that well known wet stuff. And you still don't have to buy anti-freeze because we still don't have any radiator.

So don't let a beetle or a bus owner say you're not driving a VW when you pull up in a 1500.

You might have a little more family.

And you might have a little less bravado.

But you've got as much Volkswagen.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

COCCYGEAL (TAIL BONE) PAIN HAS OTHER CAUSES THAN INJURY

The coccyx (pronounced cox-ix) is commonly known as the tailbone. It is of no use, being a vestigial member of our bone structure. I won't go into the question of whether or not our forefathers had tails; but I do know we would not wag them in glee if our coccyx bone gave us a pain in the backside every time we sat down. When the little coccyx bone makes its presence felt in this way we call it coccygodynia.

You see a person standing in line waiting to get into a movie house, clutching a soft pillow or a rubber (doughnut) support, you can safely guess his coccyx is kicking up. He wants to see the movie but couldn't possibly sit for hours on a hard seat suffering pain in the tail bone.

Mrs. T. of Kansas City writes: "I've had severe pain in the bottom of my spine for months. My doctor says it's due to trouble in my coccyx. Yet, how can that be? I'm sure I didn't fall on it causing injury."

I told Mrs. T. that although injury is the common cause of painful coccyx, there are other causes. For example, there may be arthritis, sprain, infection, or in rare cases, some kind of growth. "Therefore, it's important for the doctor to take X-rays and do a rectal examination to determine where the pain and tenderness are most marked.

Usually, pain in the coccyx is aggravated by sitting. Often straining at stool and coughing makes it worse. Any action which moves the inflamed coccyx causes discomfort.

SIT ERECT

Keep remembering that all cases of coccygodynia are not simple. The pain does not always disappear within a few days or weeks. Try to keep full weight off the coccyx. Sit erect, do not slough. Choose a chair that does not give too much, otherwise the coccyx will be carrying the full impact of the weight rather than the buttocks. Some say they find relief after hot rectal douches. Others find it in sitz baths or hot packs.

Doctors often give relief by injecting hydrocortisone solution into the joint. However, if relief does not come within a few weeks, try to be patient. Even the obstinate cases are overcome if the patient will give them "just a few more weeks". I stress this for a reason: too many want to go to a surgeon and have the coccyx removed. This may be necessary if the pain is persistent because of diseased bone or a tumor. But don't rush into surgery, unless there are definite indications for it.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: Can one take too much mineral oil? My father takes it every night since he had rectal surgery two years ago.—Mrs. G.

Comment: In some patients nightly intake of mineral oil may interfere with the proper absorption of vitamins. Why not call the doctor who performed the operation? It may be long past the time he needed to take it for lubrication. Some patients prolong a treatment needlessly.

"Disgruntled and exasperated" - over church hall garment racks

Dear Editor,

I have a "beef" and I am supported in my contention by many people. It is high time that officials of churches and other places where people congregate in large numbers provided more accommodation for the hanging of coats, shelves, for hats and room for rubbers.

It so happens the writer has been at a number of church gatherings lately where coats, hats and scarves have been squeezed in, packed and crammed into very small racks. Many times people in attendance have found their garments on the floor with the rubbers and their hats turned into "cocked hats".

There should be ample room provided for garments and rubbers. After a service what has been your experience in trying to find your outer garments. No doubt exasperating!

New Training Building For EMO To Be Constructed At Arnprior

The first phase of a new dual-purpose building for the Canadian Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ontario will be started this year.

When presenting Emergency Measures Organization estimates in November, 1964, Mr. Drury advised the House of Commons that the government had approved he construction of a new single college structure to replace the existing complex of temporary buildings erected in 1941 under the Commonwealth Air Training plan.

Construction of the new building for the Emergency Measures Organization is to be carried out in two phases. The first phase includes planning of the entire structure and start of construction of the fallout protected basement in 1965. The second phase will provide two additional stories above ground for offices and living quarters.

The basement structure will provide peacetime instruction accommodation for the Canadian Civil Defence College and fallout protected space for emergency government personnel in the event of war. It will be one of several emergency relocation sites in the Ottawa area for essential government personnel.

During 1964, special courses in English and French at the Canadian Civil Defence College trained about 2,049 federal, provincial, municipal emergency planning officers. Over 34,000 officials have taken courses since the college was established in 1953.

Existing frame buildings now on the Arnprior site will be torn down as new construction makes them redundant. Centralization of operations and reduced building maintenance costs will result in substantial annual savings and at the same time provide for more functional efficient training facilities.

In announcing the new construction, Mr. Drury stated that building plans and specifications are now being prepared by the Department of Public Works in consultation with college officials and the Emergency Measures Organization. It is anticipated that construction tenders will be called within a few months.

Gathering held for family

A family gathering of much interest took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Found of Lindsay when they and their family entertained his brothers and sisters and their families, there being about sixty present.

Started five years ago this party is looked forward to by old and young alike. A buffet, turkey and salad dinner was served at one o'clock to all; after which a pleasant afternoon was spent when letters were read from Mrs. W. Fenton of Waterloo, Iowa, a cousin and Mrs. A. Mollon of New Westminster, B.C. an aunt. Following this Mr. Morton Found of Winona brought greetings from Jim Found, of Cameron Falls, Northern Ontario, who had visited him recently; and the Found Brothers of Rexdale, whom he had visited at their aeroplane plant three weeks previously. Mr. Wm. J. Found telephoned to say he and his family of Ancaster were unable to come because of the hazardous driving conditions, Stormy weather kept several other families from coming also.

Following this, a hilarious time was had when a mock wedding was presented by Charlie Gorrill as minister, Stewart Found as best-man, Doris Chidley as bridesmaid, Elva Gorrill as flower girl, Larry Wright as father of the bride, Ron Davis as the objector, Marion Davis as the bride, and Ronald Found as the reluctant groom. Then the recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lee, formerly Helen Bowen, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Found, formerly Elsie Coolidge, were presented with gifts from their many aunts, uncles and cousins. Each replied in a suitable manner and much happiness was wished them.

Many returned home then; but others remained for an evening of visiting and reminiscing. Those present were from Little Britain, Oakwood, Cresswell, Cambray, Cannington, Peterborough, Oshawa, Winona and Lindsay.

Woodmen hold Installation

On Wednesday, January 20, The Woodmen of the World held their monthly meeting which was well attended. Members of the Oshawa drill team installed the new officers for 1965 which are Con. Com. Velma Stevens, Advisory Lieut. Ed Nichols, Clerk Ray Stokes, Banker Isobel Allan, Managers, Ben Stevens, Fred Palmer, Del Allan, Watchman Ron Taylor, Sentry Mrs. Britton, Degree Captain Ben Stevens, Rec. Secretary, Del Allan, Escort, Allan Stokes, Morley Becksted of Oshawa and Del Allan of Lindsay presented the officers with their badge and impressed upon them their duties for the coming year. Allan Stokes as escort placed each in their chair of office.

Past Con. Com Francis Stokes thanked the members for their help through the year and wished the incoming members success.

Morley Becksted and Del Allan each spoke on the work of the Lodge and the impressive way the installation was put on, a vote of thanks was tendered to the Oshawa Lodge for their untiring efforts.

Allan Stokes also spoke on fraternalism which he feels in this fast growing world we should render fraternalism where ever possible.

The new officers took over the business part of the meeting and it was decided to have a euchre on February 17th, and a meeting after. At the close of the meeting a lunch was served by the ladies and a social time was had by all.

NEWS FROM F.F.D.H.S.

by "The Post" Fenelon Falls Collegiate reporter Ron Beall

SCHOOL SPIRIT

This week we have a new item, which is a report from the School Spirit Committee. The School Spirit Committee is a newly formed organization and little is known about it by the student body, but they did a tremendous job of publicizing the football games and getting hundreds of spectators out. They are putting the same effort into the basketball games as witnessed by the turnout at the games and dance last Friday.

GIRLS' SPORTS
By Kay Weaver

In the exhibition basketball games on January 25, both our Seniors and Juniors defeated the Lindsay Training School. The high scorers for the Seniors were Donna Jubb and Francie Byrne; and for the Juniors they were Kay Weaver and Maureen Byrne. These first two games are an auspicious start for the coming basketball season.

BOY'S SPORTS
By Ron McInnis

Last Friday evening, January 22, the first two league games of the season were played in Fenelon. The score was 54-26 for the Fenelon Juniors over Bancroft and the Seniors trounced the Bancroft Seniors 97 - 39. High scorers for our Juniors were Blair Johnston and Jim Webster with 22 points each. Senior high scorers were Ron McInnis with 34 points, Doug Lawrence with 27 points and Allan Junkin with 25 points.

The next league game is in Haliburton on January 27.

STUDENT COUNCIL
By Ron Beall

The record hop after the basketball game on Friday, January 22, was a great success. If future dances show a good profit, it may not be necessary to hold a fund-raising campaign this year. The Student Council is against having a campaign if possible, to show the appreciation of the student body as a whole for the generosity shown by the people of the area who have supported the campaign in previous years.

SCHOOL SPIRIT
By Mike Barkwell

One of the newly formed committees this year is the spirit Committee. As the name implies, we work with School Spirit, a commodity that can only lead to the betterment of our school days. The Committee has, so far, assisted in the advertising for the football and basketball games, as well as the school dances through posters and P.A. announcements. Being a newly formed group, we are eager to assist the school spirit in any way possible.

Fathers vs. Sons in hockey tourney

Sunderland (PNS) — There was a fair attendance at the skating arena on Saturday evening to enjoy an evening of fun when the Midget and Bantam hockey team played a 3 period game against their fathers. Some of the daddies didn't quite make the whole game, but though beaten by a score of 8:5 by their sons, they put up a pretty fair effort.

Goal scorers were: Ralph Prentice, 4; Gary Bagshaw, 3; Doug Parks, 1 for the boys; Ralph Prentice 3; Bruce Power 1 and Clare Thompson 1, for the fathers.

Dr. Woodman was goalie for the 1st period for the fathers and the 2nd and 3rd for the boys. Verne Haight was goalie the 1st period for the boys and the 2nd and 3rd period for the men. Don Brooks was referee.

Weather permitting, it is hoped to have a return match on Saturday.

Hostess for "Welcome Wagon" is appointed in Lindsay

Mrs. Christena McElroy of Lindsay has returned from Toronto where she completed a course of training preparing her for the position of Welcome Wagon Hostess which she now holds in this community.

Mrs. McElroy resides at 115 Durham St. W. and is one of Welcome Wagon's approximately 5,000 Hostesses who are making approximately a million calls annually on families of Canada, the Yukon, United Kingdom, Trinidad, U.S.A. and Puerta Rica, embracing more than 2,000 cities.

These calls on behalf of Welcome Wagon's approximately 80,000 Sponsors are made on many important family occasions and when new families arrive in the community. Welcome Wagon is now in its 37th year.

Often referred to as a service which is "in the business of building friendships", Welcome Wagon's basic policy includes co-operation with all Religious Faiths, with worthwhile Civic and Social Service groups, also participation in these activities which keep communities good places in which to live. It is significant that Welcome Wagon has been cited for its volunteer service and achievement in community and nation by such organizations as the Canadian Red Cross, Canadian Heart Association, Post Office Department and other such groups.

Welcome Wagon service is one not only of public relations but, more important, it meets a present day need in the field of human relations.

Mrs. McElroy, on behalf of her Sponsors here in Lindsay, will take Religious and Civil and Social Service information to the families on whom she calls. With her baskets of gifts, Mrs. McElroy will extend for those Sponsors to the people of this community the old-fashioned hospitality for which Welcome Wagon is so well known.

Mrs. McElroy knows this community. She is interested in its welfare and in its progress, including the well-being of its citizens.

Police recover stolen car and chainsaws at Lindsay

The Canadian Players' Foundation will be presenting Les Jeunes Comediens, a troupe of young French-Canadian actors in a French presentation of Moliere's comedy-ballet "L'Amour Medecin", (Love is the best doctor), sponsored by the LCVI at the Academy on February 9. Pictured above is a scene from the play which has received rave reviews in three Toronto newspapers.

Lindsay Police recovered a car at noon today which was reported to have been stolen from the parking lot at the rear of Claxton's department store last night, and in the vehicle police found four chainsaws which are believed to be part of the goods taken in a robbery at Black's Shell Service last night.

Police have estimated the value of the five chainsaws taken in the break-in at the Lindsay Street garage at nearly $1,000. Ten dollars in silver was also taken from the cash register.

The break-in was reported to Lindsay police at 7:50 this morning. Lindsay Police Sergeant Gordon Eberts, who is investigating, said entry was gained through a window on the north side of the building.

Police said the stolen car, which was connected with the robbery at the service station, was found during the noon-hour today at the parking lot of John Deyell Limited on Lindsay Street South.

Police said one of the chainsaws taken is still missing. A number of leads are being followed up by police. "The Post" was told.

Lindsay police said they have not been able to connect this incident with the rash of break-ins which has occurred in the Lindsay area recently.

Woman loses suit against company, jury dismissed, judge takes over

Damages in a $50,000 law suit against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company could not be awarded to an elderly Glenarm woman, Mrs. Hubert Smith, 65, because the evidence was very circumstantial, Mr. Justice Thompson said at the conclusion of a two-day Supreme Court trial which ended in Lindsay Wednesday afternoon.

"It's tragic that an active woman like this should suffer permanent disability but after consideration of the evidence it 's with some regret that I cannot find for the plaintiff," Mr. Justice Thompson remarked.

Although Mrs. Smith had launched a $50,000 suit, her damages were assessed at $20,339.45 in the event she appealed the case.

Mr. Justice Thompson dismissed the jury before counsels made their summations to the court because of what he called "a very dangerous situation". He said it was "most dangerous to permit the jury to draw an inference" when the plaintiff's expert witness, a chemical analyst,was unable to express an opinion as to the condition of the floor.

The suit arose from a hip injury, which required surgery when the woman allegedly slipped and fell on the floor of the A & P store on Kent Street in May of 1963. The case was remanded by Mr. Justice Leo Landerville in November, 1964, when he upheld the defendant's objection that the plaintiff had had scrapings taken from the floor of the store without permission.

In December of 1964 the plaintiff secured a court-order from Judge H. E. Richardson permitting removal of part of the floor for analysis.

James McQuarrie QC, acting for the plaintiff, began to introduce some evidence which the judge said could have had a very important effect on the credibility of the chief witness for the defence, but withdrew the evidence when counsel for the defence, Basil Sullivan of Toronto raised an objection.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Smith, said after she fell she saw something shiny on the floor, which she described as "wetspots" in "blotches". Mrs. Smith said, "I don't know why I fell, unless there was something to cause the fall."

Dr. Joseph Crammer of Woodville said because of the woman's age, her condition would probably not improve, but added she will probably be able to do some light housework using a cane. During cross-examination the doctor said he was not qualified to say whether the woman's condition would improve because he never had a patient with this condition before.

The manager of the A & P store, Ronald Knapp, said the floor was swept daily with a sweeping compound. He said he assisted Mrs. Smith when she fell. "She gave no reason for falling and made no complaint about the floor at the time" Mr. Knapp told the court.

A chemistry investigator, Everson Wood who gave evidence for the defence, said he tried simple objective tests and found it "exceedingly difficult to make even a little slide or slip." He said when he made a chemical analysis of the wood he found it contained 7.1 percent of an oil but he said the oil he found would become neither slippery nor tacky.

The plaintiff had alleged there was an oil or some other liquid on the floor which caused her to slip.

The case was dismissed with costs on demand.

MAN RUSHED TO RMH WITH FROZEN FEET

A 50-year-old Minden man may have to have his badly frozen feet amputated if was learned today. Everett Stamp, 50 of Minden was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, yesterday after he had walked into Dr. F. E. A. Griffiths office in Minden for treatment for his feet.

Dr. Griffith said the man had told him his feet had been frozen some days earlier near his home. The doctor sent him immediately to Lindsay Hospital by the Minden ambulance.

The Ross Memorial Hospital authorities had no report on the man's condition at press time.

HIGH NOTES

London (UPI) — Singer Harry Secombe offered to replace a clock whose glass face was shattered the moment he hit a high note while singing "If I Ruled The World" on a television show from the Palladium.

The clock face shattered in Barnstaple, Devon, 200 miles away.

Theatre group from Montreal to put on French play at LCVI

A theatre group from Montreal, "Les Jeunes Comediens", which according to reviews in Toronto newspapers were the "best thing that has struck Toronto in a very long time", will put on a play at the LCVI entitled "L'Armour Medecin".

Miss N. King of the LCVI French Department, who is instrumental in having the production come to Lindsay said it is not necessary to understand French to enjoy the production because it features a great deal of singing, dancing and pantomine. She added their diction is superlative. Miss King told "The Post", "This should further an understanding between the French and English of Canada".

The group, which has received tremendous critical acclaim, is sponsored by the Canada Council, the Ministry of Cultural affairs of the Province of Quebec and the Ontario Government Council for the Arts. The production is open to the public and tickets are selling for one dollar each.

CAR COLLISION CORRECTION

A report of a two-car collision, carried in Monday's "Post", involving vehicles driven by Hudson F. Pillsworth, 58 Cambridge Street North, Lindsay and Carman John Thurston of Dunsford indicated that the Thurston car struck the Pillsworth vehicle. It has since been confirmed by the Lindsay Police Department that the Pillsworth car struck the door of the Thurston vehicle.

"The Post" regrets any embarrasment caused Mr. Thurston.

Christmas Mail

A letter from the Deputy Postmaster-General at Ottawa recently arrived at our office and thanked us for our co-operation during the peak mailing period of the Christmas season. "Granted, mail volumes of such magnitude may be a newsworthy item in themselves, but for organizations, such as yours, to provide service beyond what normally would be expected, is certainly commendable and appreciated. By spreading the word of early mailing and by encouraging correct addressing and bundling of mail, you have rendered a service of inestimable value to our postal operation", the letter read.

We are glad we helped for we feel a glow of pride at such profuse thanks. But while we feel very proud of our Post Office service we cannot help remembering the comment of a friend of ours who apparently was involved in every post office mix-up that ever happened. He said, "The mail must go through, but what it goes through sometimes is unimaginable."

The appeals are worthy of everyone's support, but can't a few more of them combine with the United Appeal?

Workman injured

Injured when thrown from a ladder in the mill of the Standard Handle Company of Fenelon Falls, Clifford Truax was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital yesterday where examination revealed that he was suffering from a broken hip.

Truax was working from the top of a ladder, ten feet above the floor and was engaged in repairing a belt pulley belt. In some manner the belt broke, hurling Truax through the air to the floor. Dr. G. C. Graham was summoned and ordered the injured man removed to the Ross Memorial Hospital.

Latest reports indicate that Truax is recovering as satisfactorily as can be expected but will be confined to hospital for several weeks.

Man follows frightened girl

A Lindsay girl returning home last night about 10:30 was walking down Glenelg Street when she met a man on the street. When she turned out to go around him he is said to have struck her about the hips. She hurried on and happened to look over her shoulder to find the man following right behind her. She ran into a nearby house badly frightened.

About 3:30 this afternoon the home of Mr. James of Haliburton was found to be on fire. Mr. and Mrs. James were out at the time. The house and contents were all destroyed—nothing saved. The sympathy of the village is extended to Mr. James.

Rob liquor store

When John O'Reilly entered his liquor store this morning and opened the front door, he was surprised to find the centre door of the apartment ajar and the back doors open. It took him only a few seconds to make up his mind that nocturnal prowlers had given him a call during the night and on going to the rear of the shop he found substantial evidence to prove that burglers had given him a call.

The thieves sampled out the best liquors kept by Mr. O'Reilly and helped themselves. The cash register, which was open, contained one dollar in fivecent pieces and this was gathered in.

The total loss amounted to about $30.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

The last survivor — Charles De Gaulle

With the death of Sir Winston Churchill, President Charles De Gaulle of France is the last survivor among the "Big Four" who led Britain, the United States, Russia and France in World War II. This United Press International dispatch is written by Joseph W. Grigg who covered De Gaulle for 20 years.

Paris (UPI)—"And then there was one."

So President Charles De Gaulle of France may have mused as he paid a last silent homage in London's St. Paul's Cathedral to Sir Winston Churchill, "my wartime companion and my friend."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who once wrote off De Gaulle impatiently as "the Prima Donna," was dead.

So was Joseph Stalin, whom De Gaulle branded in his memoirs as "a man possed of a lust for power."

No Winston Churchill, hailed by De Gaulle in death as "the greatest" of the World War II allied leads, was dead too.

Of all the towering figures of that era there is now only De Gaulle—symbol and first leader of the Free France that never yielded to Hitler.

In his 75th year, seemingly tireless and indestructible, De Gaulle is an aloof, aging man . . . and the most powerful and controversial leader in present-day Western Europe.

He is a man ruled by a blazing ambition to go down in history as the unbending Frenchman who restored to France her ancient "grandeur."

"All my life I have thought of France in a certain way," he set down as the opening words of his memoirs. "To my mind, France cannot be France without greatness."

Four years of wartime dealing with De Gaulle's prickly nationalism prodded Churchill into recalling sadly "of all the crosses I had to bear the heaviest was the cross of Lorraine."

"He had to be rude to the British to prove to French eyes that he was not a British puppet," Churchill added.

Twenty-five years later, DeGaulle is older, grayer, paunchier, but basically unchanged.

He lives in the grand manner as a man with a rendevous with history. And in the grand manner he has accepted the threat of sudden death as his daily companion.

De Gaulle probably has had more brushes with death than any living statesman.

On Sept. 8, 1961, terrorists tried to kill him by exploding a bomb alongside the car in which he was speeding from Paris to his country home at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises.

The paint work of the car was seared but De Gaulle was unharmed. His first reaction was to tell the driver "step on it." His only comment later was "that was stupid."

On Aug. 22, 1962, another gang of terrorists opened machine gun fire on his car while he and Madame De Gaulle drove from the Elysee Palace to Villacoublay Airfield.

The De Gaulles missed death by inches. "Bad shooting," the old soldier grunted afterwards.

In 10 known or reported plots against his life just about every form of sudden death has been planned against De Gaulle, including plots to kill him by bombing from the air, by Sabotaging of rail lines, by posting of sharpshooters with rifles on rooftops and by a booby-trapped flower pot.

The record is grim. De Gaulle is accompanied everywhere in public by six bodyguards. All are crack shots.

But De Gaulle, who saw combat in two world wars, takes the soldier's fatalistic view that "if it has my number on it, it will get me—not otherwise."

He has accepted, though reluctantly, the minimum security measures insisted on by his staff. But he refuses to abandon his habits of riding slowly in an open car. Like Lyndon B. Johnson he insists on walking into crowds to shake hands on his periodic meet-the-people tours of France.

For a man his age De Gaulle's health is good. He has trouble with his eyesight since a cataract operation some years ago and does not recognize people without his glasses, which he is vain enough to dislike wearing in public.

As a result, he often fails to recognize his bodyguards and pumps their hands too when he walks into crowds.

Last April 17 De Gaulle underwent prostate surgery shortly after returning from a state visit to Mexico and the French West Indies. Many Frenchmen were ready to write him off then.

He surprised his aides and doctors by leaving hospital within 12 days and by taking only a token time out to convalesce. A few months later he plunged into a bone-crushing 26-day 25,000 mile grand tour of 10 South American countries.

Recent visitors agree De Gaulle seems in robust good health. True, his waistline has expanded, though he eats more sparingly. He conserves his energies. At this year's New Year diplomatic reception he shook hands with only a few of the 2,500 guests. The remainder were sidetracked discreetly around the receiving line.

His seven-year term as president ends in December, and he has evaded every attempt to get him to say whether he will run for a second term. By the end of a second term De Gaulle would be 82. He is said to have a deep dread of clinging to office while knowing his physical and mental powers were being sapped by the march of time.

Madame De Gaulle is said to have urged the general to quit while he still can hope to enjoy a few years of retirement at their country home.

Some of De Gaulle's coyness about second term plans may, of course, be just plain old-fashioned politics. But aides say he also wants to wait until the very last moment—maybe even as late as November—before deciding finally whether he is physically and mentally fit to carry on for another seven years.

Just as De Gaulle keeps everyone guessing about his intentions, so he also is keeping the nation on tenterhooks about the man to whom he would tip the nod as his successor if he steps down.

During the first half of last year he seemed to have plumped for Premier Georges Pompidou. He encouraged Pompidou to build himself up by telling him "go out into the country, Pompidou, and let the people see you."

Pompidou did just that and then De Gaulle's favor seemed to switch abruptly to former Premier Michel Debre.

Now insiders are uncertain who has the presidential nod, although Pompidou, as the Prime Minister of the moment, would seem to have the better chance.

But barring accidents or sudden physical or mental decline, most Frenchmen are convinced De Gaulle's successor will be—Charles De Gaulle himself.

"Whoever De Gaulle decides to make his 'Crown Prince' is going to have to wait around a long time," remarked one knowledgeable French official recently.

The "De Gaulle Era" looks, in fact, set for a long run yet.

EGGS, NATURE'S CONVENIENCE FOOD

Nothing could be more convenient than egg, an appetizing main course item already proportioned and packaged. You can even cook it in the shell to save time and dishes. Because they are so convenient, home economists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, suggest serving eggs often if you are cooking for one or two. Remember that eggs are economical. For about five cents a serving, eggs provide high quality protein, iron, vitamin A and the B vitamins.

Country-style eggs make a delicious last minute luncheon or supper dish. Just add a winter garden salad and your favorite dessert for a nourishing tasty meal.

EGG . . . COUNTRY-STYLE

2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, ½ cup diced, cold cooked potatoes, 3 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, dash pepper, 1 tablespoon snipped parsley, ½ pound fresh mushrooms, 1 teaspoon butter, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in skillet; saute onions and potatoes until golden. With fork beat eggs, milk, salt, pepper and parsley until well-blended. Pour over potatoes and onions. Cook over medium heat gently scraping mixture from bottom as it cooks. Cook until set, but still moist.

Meanwhile wash mushrooms; remove and slice stems. Leave caps whole or slice as desired. Add mushrooms to melted butter in another skillet. Season with salt and pepper. Stir and cook 5 minutes. Add one third cup of boiling water. Cook another 5 minutes. Sprinkle lightly with lemon juice. Serve at once with eggs. Garnish with a sprig of fresh parsley. Two servings.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning the hard-finish type of furniture upholstery?

A. After first giving the upholstery a good brushing and vacuuming, mix up pure castile soapsuds in lukewarm water and scrub the upholstery with a brush, using only the suds. Take one workable area at a time, and remove the suds with a rough cloth dipped in clear water to which a little powdered alum has been added.

Q. How can I remove the old wax that has accumulated on my linoleum and has made it dull and streaky-looking?

A. Scrub it with a solution of three parts water and one part alcohol.

Old Paint Removal

The quickest way to remove old paint is to make a cooked starch in the usual way of about the consistency of thick cream. For each quart of starch, all one tablespoon of concentrated lye. Apply with an old paint brush, just as you would paint. As the paint softens, wipe it off with an old cloth. Recoat the stubborn places, or scraps with an old knife. When using this on wooden articles, have vinegar handy to apply to the soft part if the lye happens to eat.

Lipstick Stains

For lipstick stains on either washable or unwashable fabrics, sponge with carbon tetrachloride–and in the case of washable, follow with a warm suds washing.

Promote with pictures - meeting told

Promotion through the camera carrying tourist presented by public relations officer Thomas McKay received much favourable comment at Tuesday's hospitality conference in Peterborough.

Suggestions that resulted from discussion included pointing up by signs or maps the photo-genic locations in an operator's area, promoting efficient film developing service, and the use of coloured postcards showing scenes from the area.

The speaker stressed the importance of the tourist who took home pictures of the operator's area to show to his friends who might well decide to come this way next year, and he quoted figures to indicate that the picture-taking tourist is more apt to return to the same area. The main feature in favour of this promotion as pointed out was the no-cost to the operator feature.

Mrs. Hugh DeGeer re-elected third term as president

Bethany (PNS) — At the annual meeting of the Manvers Township Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society on Monday night, Mrs. Hugh DeGeer was re-elected for her third term as President.

Other officers for 1965 are Mrs. Roy Casey, first vice-president; Mrs. Allan Cochrane, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Richardson, third vice-president; Mrs. Douglas Sneit, secretary; Mrs. Noel Wood, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neals and Arthur Wright in charge of loan cupboard; Miss Laura Morton, convener of Blood Donors Services; Mrs. Elsie Argue, Arthur Wright and Henry Jakeman, Welfare committee; Mrs. Hugh DeGeer and Mrs. Roy Strong, Senior Citizens committee; Mrs. Douglas Sneit and Bob Ryley, First Aid committee; Mrs. Allan Beer will be chairman of the Campaign committee and will arrange for her assistants.

George Smith chaired the elections.

Mrs. Noel Wood gave the financial report including mention of the net results of last year's campaign being $295.35. The sum of $57.00 had been spent on Health work which included cod liver oil capsules distributed to all the public school pupils in Manvers Township. $45.26 had provided emergency help in cases of fire. A new chrome wheel chair had been purchased for the loan cupboard and $200.00 sent to headquarters.

There was some discussion about the needs of senior citizens and it was felt that a suitable club room should be arranged for a meeting place. George Smith was appointed to enquire further about this matter.

The Poster Contest was judged and four young artists received a trip to Toronto and free tickets to the Ice Follies. They were in order of merit, Carol Horner, Ruth Bradley, Bonnie Gates and Peter Beer.

Mrs. Betty Stanley of Toronto, who is a representative of the Public Relations Department and formerly with the Toronto Blood Donor Clinic was the guest speaker and talked on the value of the Blood Donor Services and Blood Banks. Mrs. Stanley also said that Canada has the largest blood bank in the world yet out of 35 per cent eligible donors only 4 per cent give blood. Mrs. Stanley urged that more people be prepared to give blood regularly.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. DeGeer.

The ladies served lunch.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

ARE SLEEPING PILLS BAD? NOT AS PRESCRIBED

BY M.D.

I continue to receive many letters from people who take sleeping pills on their doctor's suggestion, yet still feel conscience-stricken that they are doing wrong. Somehow, they can't seem to differentiate this medication from "taking dope."

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is it dangerous to take sleeping pills over a period of weeks and months? Both my husband and I are in our 60's. Our doctor has prescribed these pills for each of us to take two or three time a week. They give us a wonderful night's sleep and set us up for the following day. But I'm wondering if they're not dope. Mrs. D.

Comment: Would you refuse a crutch for a sprained or fractured ankle. It's meant to be worn and then thrown away. I consider sleeping pills crutches to get people over rough spots. One person may need them only a few nights; but others with more severe "mental sprains" need to take them for months.

Of course, there's potential danger in taking them just as there is for any medication. I keep warning people not to take sleeping pills on their own. Not to bootleg them without their doctor's knowledge. If taken under his care and advice, there's little to fear about habituation.

As for the danger of the patient taking an overdose, we can't forbid the use of pills for the many because of the irrational actions of the few. First thing you know we'd be forbidding all automobiles because they can kill and all uranium because of the danger of atomic warfare.

Be thankful for your sleeping pills, Mrs. D. My guess is that you won't get into trouble because you are taking them under your doctor's direction. I know many patients who have confused to take them. They consider it a sign of weakness; or, like yourself, wonder if they're taking dope.

Where medicine is concerned, whether it's taking alcohol, sleeping pills or anything else, lets not allow false moral dogmas to mix us all up.

DESERVES A REST

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Two months ago I gave birth to premature twins who lived only nine hours. I've been advised to have another baby as soon as possible, mostly for my mental state. Would you advise undertaking another pregnancy so soon? Mrs. R.

Comment: You've just finished running a rough race and losing. More than ever you deserve a rest before trying again. There's no reason for undue hurry.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 70. On every weekend, not in between, I drink from eight to 10 cans of beer, 150 calories to the can. My tavern associates tell me that beer won't fatten me. They say most of these calories go out with the beer, leaving about 10 calories to store away as fat. What do you say, Mr. H.

Comment: Your tavern associates are probably the same well-meaning souls who give back-fence advice to their neighbours on how to treat cancer, heart disease and shingles. I wonder where people pick up all these medical ideas without benefit of a medical diploma. I guess they'll always be around, as long as they find any kind of listening audience.

Lindsay sister to nurse in Brazilian hospital

The country of Brazil has built a hospital called "Cunhafeld" which this country it self is unable to staff. Sister Mary Teresa (formerly Mary Curtin) of Lindsay, four Sisters from Peterborough and one Sister from Ottawa will leave the middle of February for Belem where they will study the language and culture of the people for four months. Following this they travel by plane and boat one thousand miles up the Amazon River to Itacoatiara to the hospital. The closest town is 100 miles away called Manaus, a rubber industrial city.

Sister Mary Teresa received her education at St. Joseph's Academy in Lindsay and studied nursing at St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough. Since her graduation she has nursed at Parry Sound and has just returned from Eestevan, Saskatchewan to prepare for this mission.

While at "Cunhafeld" in Brazil, Sister Mary Teresa will be working with Canadian Priests from the Scarborough Foreign Missionaries, who are doctors. There will be one doctor to ever 70,000 people in this area.

Sister Mary Teresa is the daughter of Mr. L. Curtin of 5 Melbourne St. E., in Lindsay. She has one brother, Leo, who is of the Scarborough Foreign Mission stationed in Victoria B.C. who is home on vacation, before his sister leaves for Brazil.

Brazilian theme at U.C.W. meet

Little Britain, (PNS) — The January meeting of group B, Little Britain U.C.W. was held on Wednesday January 13. in the church basement, with the new leader Miss Elva Gorrill in the chair.

It was decided to invite the members of Valentia, Pleasant Point and Zion U.C.W. groups to join on March 5 for World Day of Prayer.

It was decided that Group A put flowers in the church for half the year and Group B the other half.

It was announced that the General meeting would be held on February 3, at 2:30 p.m. with Group B responsible for worship. The members were divided into groups for the year.

Reports were given by the different Secretaries. Business closed and group 5 took over the meeting.

The programme was opened by Mrs. H. Mason followed by Hymn. Mrs. Mason read the Scriptures and Mrs. Novashowska gave a reading. Offering was received and dedicated followed by a hymn. Mrs. Mason offered prayer and a poem by Mrs. M. Griggs and then a very interesting introduction to the new Study Book on Brazil. The meeting closed with a folk song from Brazil.

A Brazilian lunch was served by the group and a social time spent.

Naturalists hear talk on "Small Mammels"

"Small Mammals" was the subject of a talk by Club President, Grant MacArthur, to the Victoria County Naturalists Club at the February 1st meeting held in Lindsay Collegiate Vocational Institute Library.

Illustrating his topic with slides, courtesy of the National Museum of Canada, Mr. MacArthur stated "Mice constitute one-quarter of the world's animal kingdom".

During his talk, Mr. MacArthur revealed these facts on the Pigmy Shrew—the tiniest and fiercest animal, weighing less than a dime, eats twice its weight, and is quite capable of consuming a snake. Speaking on the Lemming he said it is usually 5"-6" long and 2" high grey, black or brown (white in winter) a mouse inhabitant of the Arctic and Rocky Mountains. It is not a rat he said. Some Eskimos believe it to come down from the sky with the snow, and its tiny pelt is used for Eskimo doll clothes. While dining on licorice root, the Lemming is unaware he himself is a tasty dish for the wolf, fox, weasel, bear, artic owl, gull or reindeer. The Lemming follows its own piper migratory instinct, often to its ocean swimming doom, he said.

The bat, the insect eater with dog-like teeth, is the only mammal that can actually fly. The Big Brown Bat is the one which hibernates in attics.

The mole contrary to being considered a type of adhesive bandage, Mole Skin is an expensive soft fur, he said.

The Possum, the size of a cat, is the only marsupial found in North America he said. At birth, 13 babies could nestle in a tablespoon. The prehensile tail is fitted for grasping.

Other animals mentioned were rabbits, hares, pika or cony, the guinea pig type that lives above the timber line.

Mr. McArthur recommended the book "Mammals of North America" published by MacMillan.

Following his talk, Mr. MacArthur was thanked by Miss Ellen O'Keefe. A vote of thanks was also given by Mr. Cory to Michael O'Keefe, pro jectionist for the evening.

CENTENNIAL PROJECT IS AUTHORIZED

A bylaw authorizing Lindsay's centennial project was passed by council at Monday evening's meeting. The Centennial grants will apply to the exterior renovations of the Academy Theatre and the development of a park on Kent Street, East.

Approximately $24,000 will be spent on the theatre restoration and the balance of the $36,000 will be used to develop the park.

NES can help with tourist help—speaker

Summer resort operators were given a pertinent tip at the Hospitality Conference in Peterborough yesterday by J. B. Howey, of the Peterborough office of the National Employment Service. During discussion period on camp personnel, Mr. Howey stressed the importance of stating clearly the desired qualifications needed for summer time help by resort operators. He said the National Employment Service maintains a trained staff to interview persons interested in the various trades, and contacts are made at the high schools and vocational schools to ascertain the qualifications of students interested in seeking employment.

C. S. Kirkness of the Lindsay office told "The Post" today that they also have a list of those interested in summer time employment, along with their qualifications, and he said his office is especially interested in assisting the tourist operator in securing well qualified help.

Suggested MOH rejected by Ops

A suggestion that Dr. Jules Sobrian of Omemee be asked to take on the duties of Ops Township Medical Officer of Health was rejected by Ops Township Council on Monday.

Councillor Mossom James suggested the doctor be approached to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Dr. L. V. Shier.

"I would hesitate to ask Dr. Sobrian", said Deputy-Reeve Barney Rogers.

Workers walk-out in protest of cameras at Peterboro plant

Peterborough, Ont., (UPI) — Workers at the Canadian Electric Co. Ltd. plant here staged their second walkout in three days yesterday in protest against company efforts to photograph them at work.

Nearly 2,000 hourly rated employees were suspended yesterday. Monday 300 workers went out when a movie camera was set up in the shop to help in an investigation by a union grievance that the time allowed for a drilling operation had been cut unreasonably.

Employees participaing in both walkouts were suspended until Friday while those only involved in yesterday's were suspended until this morning.

The membership of the United electrical, radio and machine workers of America voted yesterday to have their executive tell the company that union members would "walk out again and again" as long as cameras were used.

Car Owners

Do you know that you may be doing harm to your car.

The car manufacturers are now placing a crankcase vent on the above years mainly to stop air pollution by eliminating blow-by gas from the crankcase.

This is good for your car also, But if this positive crankcase ventilation is not replaced every . . . 4000 - 6000 miles, an inoperative or clogged valve can cause:

- ROUGH ENGINE IDLE
- HIGHER OIL CONSUMPTION
- RAPID WEAR ON ENGINE PARTS DUE TO SLUDGE DEPOSITS
- STRONG OIL ODOUR

And in some cases Wiper Motor Failure – all of which contribute to poor engine performance and short engine life.

POLICE ISSUE STORM WARNINGS, MANY ACCIDENTS, ONE MAN DEAD

On Wednesday evening the Lindsay group of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association held their regular monthly meeting at the Union Carbide Canada Limited plant in Lindsay. The brief business meeting was chaired by Harry Boelhower and those present took guided tours of the plant. During the tour members were asked to record any unsafe condition or act they saw throughout the plant.

Driving conditions dangerous, 6" to 8" more snow expected

Numerous accidents today in the Lindsay area, a traffic death at Fowler's corners and a blinding snow-storm caused Lindsay OPP and the Ontario Department of Highways to issue storm warnings and ask motorists not to use the highways unless absolutely necessary today.

The Ontario Department of Highways reported visibility to be very poor and driving conditions were hazardous. DHO officials at Lindsay said all available equipment was on the roads. They said 14 snowplows and five sanders were out in an effort to keep the roads open. Six to eight inches more snow is expected, weather offices said today.

Minden OPP said driving conditions in Haliburton County were dangerous because of falling and drifting snow. No accidents were reported at press time in the Minden OPP area.

A man believed to be from New Brunswick was killed at Fowler's Corners when his car crashed into a parked 10-ton truck, driving it into a parked car early this morning. Peterboro OPP said the car had been east bound on Highway 7, nead the Central Smith Creamery, when it failed to negotiate a curve, went off the road and struck a 10 ton truck owned by the creamery, driving it into a car parked at the creamery. Police said the 1963 model car that crashed was a total wreck and extensive damage was caused to the truck and parked car.

Police did not release the name of the dead man because no positive identification had been made and next of kin had not been notified.

Lindsay OPP were all out investigating accidents at press time today. It is not known how many mishaps were caused by the adverse weather conditions.

Lindsay Police reported only one minor accident in the town this morning.

NEW FEATURE AT EMBASSY

A new innovation at The Embassy Club on Highway 36 is the Band of the Month and starting this evening Tommy Shields and the Jaguars will be playing during February.

These new dances on Fridays are "Dress-up" dances, said Embassy owner Peter Bakogeorge. Boys must wear tie and jacket and girls skirts. No jeans or slacks will be permitted Tommy Shields and the Jaguars have performed on television on a number of occasions.

Do-nut van rolls over

Damage of $150 resulted when a van owned by Wall's Donuts rolled over on Highway 519 south of Lochlin Thursday afternoon. Lindsay OPP said the van, driven by John Currie of 56 Queen St., went into the right-hand ditch after the driver lost control, rolled over and came to rest back on its wheels.

Lindsay OPP said no injuries resulted.

PETITION OPPOSING FLUORIDATION BEING PREPARED FOR LINDSAY VOTERS

A Lindsay citizen is preparing a petition opposing fluoridation of the towns water supply and intends presenting it to council shortly, "The Post" was informed today.

"I am convinced that fluoridation is not a good thing for the town and not economic either", a citizen said, "and anyone wanting to use fluoride can get all they want by purchasing fluoridated toothpaste".

Mayor Joseph Holtom said that he had had a few calls opposing the fluoridation of the towns water. Told of the petition, his worship said, "Council should reconsider their position if 10% or so of the voters sign the petition.

Council passed the three readings of the fluoridation bylaw at town council at the regular meeting last Monday evening. The matter had earlier been raised at council in June 1964 by Councillor Dr. Peter Gill and by the Water Board.

The Hall Royal Commission of Health Services came out on Friday in favour of fluoridation of the drinking water of communities across Canada.

Reaction to the fluoridation proposals in various communities has been mixed both in public and medical circles. The Hall Commission report claimed that the evidence now gathered over 30 years proved that proper fluoridation was effective, inexpensive and safe.

"Wherever it has been adopted, the savings in dental costs have been impressive and the reduction of human suffering equally great", said the report.

Fluorine and Health

Interest in drinking water containing fluorine was aroused about 1908 with the discovery that some people's teeth were discoloured and mottled apparent due to some substance in the water. Later it was discovered the substance was fluorine and it seemed to prevent tooth decay among children who drank the water while their permanent teeth were coming through.

Long afterwards articles in medical journals were expressing alarm about the number of people showing symptoms of fluorosis that to too much fluorine in their systems resulting in various distressing symptoms.

It is pointed out by opponents of the addition of fluorine to the water supply that the main causes of tooth decay are candy, soft drinks and refined foods. They state that fluorine is a deadly poison and ask what harmful effects might shows in years to come from the accumulation of fluorine in the human body. They also attack the addition of fluorine to water as "mass medication".

Supporters

Supporters of fluoridation object to the term medication and insist fluoridation does not come in this category at all. Medicine is given to prevent or cure disease; fluoridation is for the purpose of preventing of alleviating dental disease and supporters of fluoridation claim to call this mass medication is to attempt to confuse the issue.

In many towns and villages, votes of councils for fluoridation have been changed by citizens who have opposed fluoridation and in towns where public votes have been held the decision has gone both ways.

Many foods are high in fluorine and it is claimed an adequate amount of fluorine in a safe form can be obtained by eating these foods.

Lindsay comments

"The Post" polled a number of people downtown today and most were in favour of fluoridation. "I think it would be a good idea and I think it will be good for our children, I have four", said one lady who didn't want her name published. Mrs. Grozelle of Princess Elizabeth Crescent said "I don't think town council would have put it through if they didn't think it necessary. I think it will purify the water".

"I think it is all right", said Frank Speers of Lindsay, "They are using it in Toronto although I don't know enough about it to express an opinion" "I think it is all right", agreed Gord Tompkins of Wellington street.

"I think it is an excellent thing and very wise for the various municipalities in the past to investigate it thoroughly. There is no medical evidence that it can be harmful so I think we should use it", said Don Scott of Lindsay.

"It won't help us older fellows", commented George Weightman of RR6, Lindsay, "but we must look to the future, if it helps our children it is O.K."

FIRE AT REGAL STATIONERY IN OMEMEE UNDER CONTROL

A fire which broke out in the south-west part of the Regal Stationery plant at Omemee just after noon today, was nearly under control at press time today. Omemee Fire Chief Charles Evans said there would be extensive smoke damage but no estimate of the damage was available.

A "Post" reporter at the scene of the blaze said the fire started in an area where quantities of paper were stored. He said pumpers from Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Omemee Fire Departments were pouring streams of water on the fire, and men were trying to pull out burning bales of paper with winches and cables to keep the fire from spreading through the factory. He said large quantities of smoke could be seen billowing from the plant but no flames were visible.

RMH report Minden man in Fair condition

Lindsay hospital authorities reported Everett Stamp, 50, of Minden, who was rushed to the RMH with frozen feet on Wednesday is in fair condition. They said no surgery had been performed as yet.

On Thursday, Dr. F. E. A. Griffiths of Minden said Mr. Stamp might have to have his feet amputated. The doctor said Mr. Stamp had walked into his office and said he had had his feet frozen some days earlier.

Weather Outlook

Cloudy with heavy snow today with a few snow flurries Saturday. Winds southerly. High today and low today 18 and 15 degrees.

P. C. Caucus

We note some of the Quebec Conservative M.P.'s intend to boycott the caucus called by Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker, and by so doing they tarnish themselves in the eyes of the public.

Mr. Diefenbaker is leader of the Conservative party and has a right to call a caucus at any time he chooses. Furthermore he has a right to expect the Progressive Conservative members to answer the summons.

Mr. Diefenbaker's position in the party has been challenged, yet he is perfectly willing to enter the fray and face his opponents. The least his critics can do is to be present to state their cases for a change of leadership face to face.

The way these M.P.'s from Quebec are acting is unbecoming to a Member of Parliament.

Chinese Honesty

Tough bargainers, but absolutely honest—that was the opinion of the Chinese expressed by Mr. Ian Trafford, who organized the exhibition of the recent British Trade Fair in Peking, when John Morgan, first BBC television reporter to enter China since the setting up of the Communist People's Republic, interviewed him in Peking for the BBC programme 'Panorama'. Mr. Trafford said that it was a stimulating intellectual exercise to do business with the Chinese, although he confessed that the long hard hours of discussion which were the accepted pattern involved a certain physical strain. But once any action had been agreed, it was carried out. "They are honest in every possible way," he said. "If they say they are going to do something they will do it. Once a price has been agreed it will be paid. I may say that if you are going to lose your wallet in any country in the world, this is the place to lose it. It will be returned to you, for absolute certainty."

Soda Water Works Gutted

Damage estimated at several thousands of dollars was done by an early morning blaze yesterday which swept the plant of the Lindsay Soda Water Works. The building, a two-storey frame structure was badly gutted by the flames and considerable damage was done by smoke and water. Extensive damage was also done to the equipment and stock.

Awakened by the smell of smoke, Wilbert Nicholls, owner of the bottling works, rushed from his apartment above the plant to be met by clouds of dense smoke when he opened the door leading to the bottling department. He managed to make his way to the telephone, and having called the fire department was nearly overcome before he reached the door leading outside.

The blaze started from a small stove in the office of the building and from there spread through the entire building. Firemen worked for more than three hours before the blaze was brought under control. Their work was made more difficult by the piles of cases which lined the walls of the building.

Killed by car

John Spence, well-known Woodville farmer, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by a car driven by Maurice Sullivan of Arnprior, while shovelling his laneway. The 60-year-old farmer died in the Ross Memorial Hospital on Sunday from the injuries.

Kills family then self

Alvin H. Schlegel, 52, former president of the Ontario Hockey Association and well known to many Lindsay hockey enthusiasts, murdered his wife, son and daughter and then committed suicide following a dinner party at his Preston home last night.

Wm. Robinson dies

At 11.30 o'clock Wednesday night, William Robinson of Lindsay, an employee of the Peterboro Lock Works Company passed away after being assisted into the Knights of Columbus Hall on Simcoe Street in Peterboro. The cause of death was heart failure.

Wrong motive

A Victoria County school teacher recently gave his pupils a lecture on patriotism. He pointed out the high motives which prompted volunteers to leave their homes and fight for their country. The teacher noticed that one boy did not pay attention to the instruction and as a question he asked him, "What motives took the volunteers to the war?"

The boy was puzzled for a moment, then remembering the public send-off to the local regiment at the railway station he replied, "Locomotives, sir."

Increased butcher's license?

At last night's council meeting Ald. Simms introduced a motion to raise the license fee for market butchers to $50. Ald. Chambers pointed out that this would necessitate changing the bylaw and before this could be undertaken, a notice of motion would have to be given.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

U.N. group praises fire fighting techniques

Ontario's forest fire fighting methods, techniques and equipment and, in particular, its system of aerial attack and water dropping are warmly commended in a report by 35 forestry officials from 30 countries. They spent a week in Ontario last August as Guests of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests and were part of a group representing 47 countries involved in studies sponsored jointly by the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations and the Canadian, Ontario and Quebec Governments.

Water dropping "appeared very attractive to 11 members", the report states. "In Ontario, it can be carried out at relatively low cost with dual purpose planes (float planes) and without the use of costly additives because of the regular availability of water in the form of lakes throughout the area. This regular availability of water also made made practical the use of helicopters for the same purpose. In the United States, lakes are numerous only in the northern Lake States Region. Elsewhere the technique necessarily involves the use of costly additives to obtain the best possible result from each gallon dropped."

Commenting on "the use of pumps and long lines of linen hose to convey water from available supplies to the fire" the report states: "In the use of this technique it would appear that Ontario is the most expert in the field. This is the perfect illustration of the development of a technique and equipment to make best use of available resources."

Noting that "early detection is vital to rapid first attack which is sometimes the only chance of keeping forest fire damage to a minimum", the report states: "Where detection can be combined with initial attack as in Ontario, a marked advantage obtains."

"It is customary for the patrolling aircraft to carry a small suppression crew so that, if a small fire is sighted, the men may be landed at the nearest lake and commence initial attack. Floatplanes and larkes are necessary for this, and the idea appears to warrant considerable merit.

To assist in fire detection in Ontario, the visiting officials also noted that infra-red scanner is under current study though not yet in operational use here. This scanner would make it possible to locate fire through smoke, forest or other cover.

From observations in the field during their stay at the Forest Ranger School at Dorset, the international group also commented on suitability of hand and heavy equipment; tractors range from 24 to 50 h.p.

The group also observed:

"In Ontario, binoculars were fitted with in-built haze filters, and it is considered that these devices might well have merit. It is known from experience that tan-to-amber Polaroid screens are capable of accentuating smokes under hazy conditions and these might be incorporated in the binoculars. Binoculars generally were of size 7 x 50 or 8 x 30.

Winter Reverie

The weary feet of winter tread
God's gift of glistening snow
Still resting there, all nature waits,
Life's message still to know.

The frozen lakes deserted lie,
Bare trees border the shores,
His perfect plan is now complete,
Forgotten, "flashing oars".

LAMB BRINGS TOUCH OF SPRING

After the giddy whirl of holiday parties, you may want to reciprocate by entertaining your many hostesses with a change-of-pace dinner party.

Give your guests a refreshing change from turkey, ham and roast beef and serve them a traditionally spring dish with a new look-marinated lamb. For a leg of lamb, you don't need to be too concerned about tenderizing the meat but your marinade can add a subtle blend of flavours with a combination of vinegar, spices and aromatic herbs. Your marinade should complement and enhance the flavour of the meat but not overwhelm it.

The following recipe combines dried mint leaves and whole cloves with a quality vinegar and was developed so that the leg of lamb may be roasted on a rotisserie spit or done in the oven with equal success.

MARINATED LEG OF LAMB

3 cups Heinz Apple Cider Vinegar; ¼ cup crushed dried mint leaves, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, (about 30 cloves), 5 to 5½ pounds boned leg of lamb, Salt.

In large mixing bowl, combine vinegar with mint leaves and cloves. Hrim excess fat from lamb; season meat with salt. Place lamb in spiced vinegar; cover. Chill in refrigerator 12 to 24 hours, turning occasionally. Remove from marinade. Tie meat securely; place on spit of rotisserie, following the manufacturer's directions. Consult instruction book for heat control setting and time.

OVEN METHOD:

Heat oven to 300° F. Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast, uncovered, 2½ to 3 hours for medium or an additional ½ hour for well-done. Pan drippings may be thickened for gravy, if desired.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. What can I do about grayish bloom that has developed on furniture?

A. This will usually yield to wiping with a soft cloth wrung out of warm water containing vinegar (about a tablespoon to a quart of water). Rub the finish dry with a soft cloth. On a waxed finish, a good rub with liquid wax will often remove the bloom.

Q. How can I induce a more lustrous shine on my shoes?

A. Lemon juice works wonders. Spread a few drops on black or smooth, tan-leather shoes, then rub briskly with a soft cloth. Gives an elegant sheen.

Q. How can I make wood screws turn more easily in tight-fitting holes?

A. If you'll rub the threads of these screws with a slightly-wet bar of soap, your "twisting" will be much easier.

Cleaning Cut Glass

To give cut glass a high polish, wash it in hot water and then dip in cold water in which has been dissolved a handful of starch. Let dry partially by itself, and then polish. A solution of one teaspoonful of turpentine to one quart of water is also effectvie.

Scorched Linen

If the scorched areas on your linen are not too badly burned through, sometimes you can cope with them by rubbing with the flat side of a cut raw onion, then soaking the linen in cold water for several hours.

LONG-HAIRED

Westgate, England (UPI) — Tony Smith, an 18-year-old railway worker, had to pay a guinea ($2.94) for a hair-cut yesterday. Barber Ron Rudkin, who usually charges 3 shillings and 6-pence (49 cents), put the price up because it took him an hour to cut Smith's hair, which was a foot long.

K of C excell at Young Canada Night

Upwards of eight hundred people were on hand at the Kiwanis Arena last night to watch an action packed program arranged by the Knights of Columbus and the Lindsay Minor Hockey Association. Right from the opening welcome by chairman Peter Kirley to the finish of an exciting hockey game about ten p.m. there was seldom a dull moment. Packed into this space were two simultaneous hockey games, an even dozen school races for boys and girls from six to sixteen and all this claxed by another guest appearance by the boys from the Kenora School for the Deaf at Belleville who extended the Lindsay Legion Midgets in a fast, clean contest.

Following the playing of The Queen and O'Canada, the ice area filled to capacity for the grand march. This was followed by a pair of hockey games. While the Red Indian Atoms were blanking the White Stars 2-0 at one end of the ice, Black Knight Squirts came from behind to edge the Red Indians 2-1, at the other end. Terry Gainer opened the scoring for the Redskins, but goals by Red Porter and Gordon Sloane gave the Knights the win.

The twelve school races were run off in less than an hour with all the contestants schooled bottling for the most wins. The following are the results:

Alexander School won all three positions in the girls eight and under race with Jane Price, Cindy Barrett, and Sue Ellen Hannonvan finishing in that order.

The future attaraction of the evening was the hockey game between Lindsay Legion Midgets and the Ontario School for the Deaf Juveniles from Belleville.

Department tells how to grow better Christmas trees

Kinmount (PNS) — The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, (Lindsay District), held a meeting in the Lions Hall on January 27, 1965, to instruct the woodland owners how to grow better Christmas trees from their young Balsams, and increase their yearly income. The meeting was quite educational to all present.

Former Oakwood man retires after 50 years Hydro service

A well-known Oakwood man, Mr. Albert (Scotty) Hamilton, is scheduled to retire at the end of June, 1965 after more than fifty years service with the Ontario and Forest Hill Hydro Electric systems.

Albert (Scotty) Hamilton joined the Ontario Hydro in August 1914 and worked in all parts of Ontario in line construction. He worked with Ontario Hydro for some 23 yeas until he resigned, as construction superintendant June 14. 1937 to become superintendant of the Forest Hill Hydro Electric System. His retirement from that branch of the hydro service is scheduled to take place June 30th.

Albert Hamilton was born in Glasgow December 31st, 1894. He received the equivalent of an Ontario senior matriculation at Glasgow schools before coming to Canada in 1911. Three years later he joined the Ontario Hydro staff in Toronto and began his career.

The rural section of Ontario were also familiar to Scotty Hamilton, who worked in all parts of the province building lines to Ontario farms, including the first hydro line in Little Britain.

As superintendant at Forest Hills, he has directed the field operations for that municipal system for the past 28 years.

Truck slides into ditch

Slippery road surfaces continue to plague traffic in the Lindsay area Provincial police reported an estimated $10.00 damage was caused to a truck driven by Robert De-Jong. 38, of RR1 Nestleton, when the driver lost control of the vehicle on an icy patch of road on Angeline street south of the Home for the Aged at 11.20 a.m. Wednesday.

The truck carrying a load of pigs is reported to have slid into the well ditch and rolled over. No injuries were reported to the porkers.

Hydro

Forest Hill hydro load has increased from 7,000 k.w. in 1937 to the present 20,000 k.w. and Forest Hill H.E.S. today is a modern municipal distribution system, a monument to its veteran superintendant Albert (Scotty) Hamilton.

During his years with the Ontario Hydro, Scotty Hamilton is reported to have worked with Lindsay's hydro electric manager Jack Lightbody.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

WOMAN 39, WORRIED ABOUT A LATE BABY

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am almost out of my mind with worry about being pregnant at the age of 39. Imagine having another baby when you already have three children, two of them high school graduates.

I love children but it seems to me that it will almost be impossible for me to cope with the "raising" problem again at my age. My husband says, "take it easy, everything will be all right". That's easy for a man to say. Have you any reactions from readers on the subject?–Mrs. U.

Comment: Perhaps you only recently joined the class. Otherwise, I'm sure you would have read occasional letters on the subject of late babies. For example, here is one that came in the mail this week. I think it will give you courage, and perhaps even a spirit of thankfulness for your good luck.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I also had my family fairly well-grown. My youngest was 15½. The oldest boy was in the Air Force Service and the younger boy was going into the Navy.

When I discovered I was pregnant, I'll admit it wasn't planned. But we have been so thankful for this little girl. She was a seven-months baby and in the incubator for over a month. It really cost us a lot of money. If it hadn't been for our oldest boy, who helped we couldn't have paid all the bills.

She is now a young woman with one baby two years old and expecting another. And you know who spoils her most. Her daddy! He adores her. Because by the time she came along we appreciated her more because of our age. God gave us the prettiest and most talented young woman.

So an old lady of 41 learned a lot about having a baby later in life. Now I'm over 60. I'm learning to enjoy 15 grandchildren. My husband and I have never regretted having a baby at 41. We thank God for her.–Mrs. S.

SALT PROBLEM

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I would like to know if salt eaten plain, in amounts of about one quarter teaspoonful, is bad for a person. My mother keeps telling me it's not good. I think it's ridiculous, don't you?–

Comment: I'd have to know much more. How old are you? How are your kidneys functioning– is your heart all right? What is your blood pressure range? Are you overweight?

If you are young and healthy and take no more than a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt a day, I don't see how that will harm you. But do you know that you are in excellent health? Besides, there have been some studies made lately which seem to tie in excessive salt intake with high blood pressure and even arteriosclerosis. I know quite a few doctors who believe excess salt in the diet is harmful. They never sprinkle salt on their food. If you want a specific reply, my suggestion would be, get out of the habit of taking salt "straight". Save it for lightly seasoning your food.

Sales Tale 'o Two Cities

OUR competitor in another city sold all of those dollar ties by marking them down, and he had nearly a hundred!" "We should do the same. For how much did he sell each?" "I do not know, but I heard that he received $59.17 for all that he had left." Can you determine how many ties he sold and at what price?

Think this over a bit. There isn't very much information with which to proceed.

Answers: Eighty ties sold for $0.74 each. Twenty ties sold for $0.37 each.

Never Ending Letter

IT HAS been claimed that there is no word in the English language ending in the letter "Q." That is incorrect, for there is one letter in the alphabet that is not the ending of any common English word. What is it?

A SQUARE containing three rows of three boxes each is provided above. You are asked to arrange nine different numbers in these squares—the largest, 50; the smallest, 1—so that the product of multiplication of each column, row and diagonal is exactly 1,000.

As a starter, three numbers are already in place. How quickly can you add the remaining six?

Remember, the largest number to be inserted is 100; smallest, 1.

Answer: Fifty in upper left box; ten in middle box; two in lower right box. Other numbers: 4, 5, 20, 25, 100, 1.

Handsome Amount

IT HAD as many again, half as many again and two and a half. I would have 70 coins in my hand. How many coins have I in my hand?

If you don't know, guess.

Answer: Four coins. Half of four is two; half of two is one; two and a half times four is ten; ten and a half times four is forty-two.

Wiggle Ears??

ANYONE can wiggle his ears via a secret method. It's an amusing stunt to pull — literally.

Have ready two lengths of stout thread and two small squares of adhesive tape. Fasten an end of each thread behind each ear and run the thread through the coat collar down the back and to a trouser pocket, so that you have an end in each pocket.

Now, with gentle pulls on the threads, you can wiggle your ears, beginning upon command.

NEWMARKET YOUTH FINED $20, COSTS AT LINDSAY COURT

William E. Morton, of Newmarket, Ontario was fined $20.00 and costs in police court at Lindsay Thursday when found guilty of careless driving by Magistrate Ian Munro.

The charge followed an accident on Highway 36 at the Kennedy Bay turn on Friday Dec 18th. He was a member of the Newmarket Junior "C" team, and was proceeding toward Bobcaygeon for a game when he lost control of his vehicle.

Provincial Police Constable D. Mackay told the court he measured tire marks indicating the vehicle travelled along the shoulder 195 feet before it knocked down a highway stop sign. It skidded sidewise across a side road a further 50 feet. At this point it struck a telephone pole, and travelled a further 31 feet coming to rest in an eight foot ditch against some trees.

The accused was removed to the Ross Memorial Hospital for treatment of a leg injury, being released the following day. Three passengers in the car were not injured.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Rankin Thurston in the loss of a dear husband.

Friends will be sorry to hear Mr. William Wakelin of Dunsford is a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital, a speedy recovery is wished him.

Court satisfied that Bruno is Deno — fined $50, costs

Deno Olaf Straume, 46 Mill Street, Lindsay, pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to provide proof of insurance in connection with a vehicle he was in charge of on January 16th in Ops Township. Straume told the court that he pleaded not guilty because the summons was in the name of Bruno Olaf Straume.

Provincial Constable George Scott told the court of finding the accused parked on the river road extension. During investigation the Con. said the accused denied having insurance on the car, having recently purchased the vehicle, and had not paid the unsatisfied judgement fee. The charge was laid five days later when the accused had failed to provide proof of insurance to police.

Magistrate Ian Munro told the accused he had been identified as the driver of the car involved and he (the magistrate) was satisfied Deno Straume and Bruno Straume was one and the same person.

The magistrate said if Straume had secured counsel, he would probably have been advised not to appear in court and a new summons would have been issued. The accused was fined $50.00 and costs or fifteen days in default of payment. Time to pay was refused by court.

NEWS FROM THE LCVI

by "The Post" Collegiate reporter Richard Bruce

ASSEMBL.

On Friday, January 29, the assembly committee presented their first assembly. This committee is composed of several of the teachers. They all put forward a good effort and the result was a very enjoyable assembly.

The president of the Student Council, Rick Chataway, was the master of ceremonies. Mr. Staples read the morning scripture lesson and then the school choir, under the direction of Mrs. Simms sang "The Lord's Prayer". This was followed by a tribute to the late Sir Winston Churchill. The choir then led the students in the singing of the school hymn. The guest speaker was Mr. Pitts, who spoke about new and old industries in Lindsay and what they had done for the town. Mr. Pitts was thanked by Mr. Staples for his very interesting and informative talk. A short skit was then presented. It seemed to delight the students as there was never a dull moment. The assembly was completed with the playing of "The Queen" and the singing of "O'Canada".

SPECIAL CREST PERFORMANCE AT LCVI

On Monday, February 1, the Crest Hour Company made a special appearance at LCVI. They have been appearing in towns and cities throughout Ontario recently. The English Department should be thanked for bringing this fine group of actors and actresses to our collegiate. They were certainly very well received by the grade 12 and 13 students, who were the only students to see the performance.

They recited several poems for an introduction and then presented a scene from Shakespeare's "King Lear" which proved most interesting to the students because it is being taught this year in the two senior grades. Their next presentation was a comedy skit by George Bernard Shaw. This was followed by the reciting of several short poems. They were very pleasing to the students and they showed this in their applause.

THREE LOSSES

The three boys' basketball teams went down to defeat at the hands of the Kenner teams on Friday January 29. The LCVI seniors were defeated 44 to 31 by the Kenner seniors while the LCVI juniors lost by a score of 60 to 31. The LCVI bantam team also went down to defeat at the hands of the Kenner club; the final score was 41 to 33.

The Lindsay seniors started off very strong and as a result they led 13 to 2 at the end of the first quarter but the complexion of the game changed completely in the second quarter when Kenner outscored LCVI 16 to 3. At the half Kenner led 18 to 16. In the third quarter Kenner again outscored the Lindsay team as they netted 15 points to Lindsay's three. Lindsay came back strong in the fourth quarter but could make only 12 points to Kenner's 11. High scorers for Lindsay were Wylie who hooped 10 points and Lee who scored six points. Kenner's high scorers were Foster with 16 points and Crowley with 14 points.

The junior game appeared as if it were going to be a very good, third and fourth quarters Kenner led 12 to 10 at the end of the first quarter but they outscored Lindsay 12 to 6, 16 to 5 and 20 to 10 in the second, third and fourth quarters respectively. High scorers for Lindsay were Colven with eight and Street with five. High scorers for Kenner were Watkin with 33 points and Jones with six points.

The bantam game was the most exciting of the three because one team never had a big edge. At the end of the first quarter Lindsay led 10 to 7 but Kenner came back in the second quarter to outscore Lindsay 9 to 6 and tie the game 16 to 16 at half time. In the third quarter Kenner outscored LCVI 15 to 12 with Murney scoring 10 of the 15 points. In the final quarter Kenner again outscored the Lindsay team 10 to 5 and won the game 41 to 33. High scorers for Lindsay were Georgas with 16 points and Lucas with 8 points. High scorers for Peterboro were Murney who scored 16 points and Thompson who netted 13 points.

FRENCH CLUB

The LCVI French Club is sponsoring a play at the Academy Theatre on Tuesday, February 9 at 8:15 p.m. The 17th century play by Moliare is titled "L'Armour Medecin" or in English "Love of the Best Doctors". It is to be acted by Les Jeunes Comedians. The play is a musical comedy and for this reason, it is not imperative that one understands French to enjoy the play. Tickets may be purchased from teachers of French and also many students. The French Club asks for the whole-hearted support of the students and emphasizes that parents are also welcome.

DRAMA NIGHT

This is just a little reminder to purchase your tickets early for the upcoming Drama Night. This year the Drama Club is expanding and they need your support more than ever. Be sure to attend Drama Night, February 18 and 19. Tickets are only $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for students. Support your Drama Club because they are worthy of your support.

World news today

Toronto — Prime Minsiter Lester B. Pearson has called on the country to take note of the positive steps his government has taken and not to be swayed by the recent scandals which have rocked his administration.

Pearson, speaking in Toronto last night, said he was proud of the record of his government and suggested its accomplishments should be better known.

Among the positive steps outlined by the Prime Minister were:

Re-organization of the defense department, renewal of confidence in monetary and business conditions, better foreign relations and intrduction of new lending programme to encourage expansions.

Ottawa — Two days of decision begin today for Progressive Conservative party leader oJhn Diefenbaker. Today–there will be a caucus of his members in parliament. Tomorrow–there will be a meeting of the party's executive committee.

Today's caucus meeting is considered by most parliamentary observers to be one of the wildest moves yet staged by a politician noted for his gifts in the often deadly game of politics.

Diefenbaker's strategy apparently aimed at getting such overwhelming display of support from Conservatives in parliament that the executive would be unable to buck it tomorrow.

Today's caucus was originally called for next week, but was moved up by Diefenbaker to strengthen his position with the executive.

Tomorrow's meeting there will be a direct confrontation between the party leader and Quebec rebel Leon Balcer who wants a leadership convention.

Balcer will not attend today's caucus but said he would send–quote-my ambassador–unquote–otherwise known as Paul Martineau, of Pontiac Temiskamingue.

Washington — The United States will stand firm on its commitment to the dollar. That is the reaction in Washington to French President De Gaulle's call for a return to the gold standard–which was abandoned in the 1930s. The Treasury Department said acceptance of the gold standard would be a return to a system that proved incapable of financing world trade. Washington is taking a dim view of De-Gaulle's suggestion that Red China be given a voice in reforming the U-N. Washington officials say this is another attempt by De Gaulle to undercut the U-S position in Asia.

Red China — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin arrived in Red China today for a stopover expected to last 24 hours.

The Soviet government leader is on his way to North Viet Nam.

He was met at the airport in the Chinese capital by Prime Minister Chou En-Lai and other Chinese officials.

A Red Chinese broadcast heard in Tokyo described the Kosygin arrival.

Kosygin is travelling at the head of a high level delegation expected to offer more Russian military and economics aid to the North Vietnamese.

Britain — The opposition Conservatives in Britain have taken two out of three seats in byelections held yesterday. The results in the third riding are not known. Former Tory Health Minister Anthony Barber won the seat at Altrincham and Sale while Michael Hamilton won the Salisbury seat. The third seat at East Grinstead is also expected to go Tory.

United Nations — The small nations at the U.N. . . . who are in the majority . . . are reported pushing a campaign to get the big powers to come to terms on their financial dispute.

The smaller countries will reportedly settle for a temporary solution.

Fined $10 in absentia

Neil E. Wasson, of Nassau Street, Lakefield, was fined in absentia in Lindsay Police Police told the court the accused proceeded past a red flashing stop sign at the intersection of Highway 36 and Highway 7 about 11:55 p.m. January 21st.

Police said the vehicle proceeded east on Highway 7 at speeds up to 70 miles per hour before stopped. Magistrate Ian Munro levied a fine of $10.00 and costs.

Car Owners

Do you know that you may be doing harm to your car.

The car manufacturers are now placing a crankcase vent on the above years mainly to stop air pollution by eliminating blow-by gas from the crankcase.

This is good for your car also, But if this positive crankcase ventilation is not replaced every . . . 4000 - 6000 miles, an inoperative or clogged valve can cause:

- ROUGH ENGINE IDLE
- HIGHER OIL CONSUMPTION
- RAPID WEAR ON ENGINE PARTS DUE TO SLUDGE DEPOSITS
- STRONG OIL ODOUR

And in some cases Wiper Motor Failure – all of which contribute to poor engine performance and short engine life.

REPLACE METERING VALUES NOW AT MOTORCADE STORES

First stop over the border into Scotland for enterprising runaway couples from England used to be Gretna Green, Dufries-shire, Scotland. Until 1940, under Scottish law all that was needed to constitute a legal marriage was proof of fifteen days' residence in the country and a declaration of willingness before two witnesses. But, before 1856 it was not necessary to be resident in the country and the blacksmith at Gretna Green would, for a consideration, perform the rough and ready formalities as soon as the couples arrived.

Signs of Spring?

Last Sunday a flock of twelve to fifteen robins visited a local farm, report the Lindsay district, Department of Lands and Forests and enjoyed a repast of bread crumbs and rolled oats. Then as if to show their appreciation, the report continues, two of the birds retired to a nearby pear tree and began singing; not the unmusical chirp-chirp usually emitted by this species on those infrequent occasions when it visits these latitudes during the winter months, but the lyrical song most frequently heard following a warm spring rain or in the cool of the evening.

And eight Eastern Garter Snakes were recently recovered from a watery hole over which ice had formed. They were observed swimming under the ice, albeit lethargically, by a group of boys playing on an adjacent creek, who removed them and took them home. The resuscitative warmth of the house soon dispelled their cold induced lethargy and they became quite active.

Garter snakes usually hibernate during the winter months, but it appears the hole, in the bank of a creek, that these fellows chose for their winter quarters became flooded following the recent rains and thaw. A sudden drop in temperature then produced the transparent cover of ice through which their plight was observed.

Although garter snakes in Canada are largely terrestrial they can when necessary become aquatic and swim with great agility and speed.

It is unlikely, however, that they would have survived their situation in this instance.

$200 damage

Total damages estimated at $200 resulted when two cars collided on Highway 7 near Omemee Friday afternoon. Lindsay OPP said a car eastbound on Highway 7 driven by Clifford Richards of 72 Benson Avenue, Peterboro, was following a snowplow when it came into collision with a westbound van driven by Fred Baglole of 71 Emerald Street, N., Hamilton.

Police attributed the accident to poor visibility caused by a snowstorm.

Tractor-trailer blocks road police divert all traffic

Traffic had to be re-routed when a tractor-trailer loaded with lumber broke down blocking Highway 35 about six miles north of the Victoria-Haliburton boundary about 2 p.m. The highway was blocked for several hours. Northbound traffic was routed through Kinmount from Norland and southbound traffic through Kinmount from Minden.

Minden OPP reported the driving conditions were bad, visibility not good and the roads were snow-covered and very slippery.

Haliburton OPP said driving conditions in their area were "treacherous".

Kinsmen meet with Senior Citizens

Members of the temporary committee of the Senior Citizens Club of Lindsay were guests of the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay on Thursday evening when the guest speaker was W. E. Dutton, Supervisor of Community Services Branch (Senior Citizens) of the Ontario Department of Education.

Mr. Dutton spoke on organizing a Senior Citizen's Club and the many Clubs at present in operation.

The Kinsmen Club of Lindsay have been considering the formation of Senior Citizen's Club in Lindsay.

Representing the Lindsay Recreation Centre at the meeting was Arena Manager Harry Johnson and Councillor Dr. James Fawcett.

Another joint meeting will be held shortly.

Police identify death crash man

The man who was killed when his car crashed into a parked 10-ton milk truck after failing to negotiate a curve at Fowler's Corners early Friday morning was Leonard Joseph Pellerin, 22, of Peterboro. Mr. Pellerin, who it is believed used to live in Lindsay, was originally from New Brunswick.

Police said they believe he serviced machines and worked in Peterboro and Lindsay and was travelling from Lindsay to Peterboro when the accident occurred.

A BARK-TAX

Lyons, France (UPI) — Dogs that bark at night will cost their masters money from now on.

A court ruled yesterday that if a dog barks for 15 minutes consecutively at night, the owned will have to pay a fine of $10. In the daytime, 30 consecutive minutes of barking will cost the dog's owner the same amount.

Fire damage confined to paper stock

A spokesman for the Regal Stationery Company Ltd., told "The Post" late yesterday that an estimate of the fire and smoke damage will be unknown until all smoke has been removed from the building. He said the plant has been quite busy, and further production will likely be held up until early next week. The damage he said, was mostly confined to stocks on hand, some of which was new and some scrap. While the smoke did little damage if any to manufacturing equipment, considerable damage could be expected to paper stocks.

Police chief James Whetham, at the scene of the Omemee fire said smoke from the fire caused a visibility hazard to traffic on highway no. 7 for a time Friday afternoon. He said there was no traffic tie-ups, but the flow had to be guided through at low speed.

Chief Watson told "The Post" at the scene that the Omemee brigade had the fire well in hand when the Lindsay Department arrived. To assure ample water supply to meet any further outbreak, the Lindsay fire truck was stationed near the creek and pumped water to the Omemee and Bobcaygeon trucks at the scene.

Men from all three departments worked liked trojans to haul the heavy, water soaked bales of paper out of the building and prevent possibility of a later outbreak. A farm tractor was finally brought to the scene to assist in the task.

How much weight will ice hold?

It's wise—and could save your life—to know just how much certain thicknesses and types of ice can hold—before you trust your weight upon it.

Slush ice, for example, is only half as strong as clear blue ice. Clear river ice is 15% weaker than clear lake ice.

A sudden application of brakes on a fast-moving vehicle will increase its weight pressure on the ice in proportion to the rate of decrease in speed of travel. Continuous travel over the same area of ice will weaken it, much like metal in springs, so that it gradually loses its original strength.

Following are ice strength figures tabulated by the Lumbermen's Safety Association showing what maximum weights various thicknesses of ice should be able to carry:

Inches of Ice	Safe Load
2	1 person on foot
3	Group in single file
7½	Car (2-ton gross)
8	2½-ton truck (gross)
10	3½-ton truck (gross)
12	8-ton truck (gross)
15	10-ton
20	25-ton
25	45-ton
30	70-ton
36	110-ton

ROM Record

Toronto, Ont. — In a period which saw many threatre closings due to dwindling audiences the Royal Ontario Museum last year drew its greatest number of visitors ever.

With a total approaching the half million mark, general admissions were over half as many again as in 1963 with daily, weekly, monthly and annual records being shattered — a refreshing indication of public interest and thirst for knowledge.

In addition to general admissions another quarter million persons used the facilities of the museum during 1964. These consisted of school classes, university students attendance at special lectures and extension courses.

Responsible in part for this record attendance rise was the spectacular Tutankhamun Treasures exhibit. King "Tut", however, vied for visitors' attention with the museum's many other varied displays from past and present.

The value placed on the Royal Ontario Museum as an aid to education is reflected in the fact that 1964 saw nearly 100,000 children from as far away as Wawa visit it as part of their school curriculum.

Should investigate House of Refuge

A repeated charge that conditions at the House of Refuge were such that an investigation should be carried out was made by James Healy at the meeting of council last night. Before he had a chance to make any specific charge he was silenced by Acting Mayor L. W. Jordan who told him the House of Refuge was a county institution.

"Conditions at the House of Refuge should be investigated by a committee from the county," Healy said.

"We consider that a county matter," the acting mayor said.

"Well, I got a legal ruling on this matter," Mr. Healy said.

"Our ruling is that it is a county matter," he was told.

"Well, then, I'll talk about the market." The council should take more interest in the market. Put in a refrigerator for the perishable goods and arouse interest," Healy said.

MOH seeks increase

Dr. H. J. Gleeson, Lindsay's Medical Officer of Health, addressed the council last evening and gave an outline of the work required of the MOH, which he said had greatly increased since the time he first accepted the position. Dr. Gleeson asked the council to consider an increase in salary in view of the greatly increased duties and the greater demand on his time.

The Bamboo Bomb

(UPI)—Although no one really believed the Indonesian claim that it would have an atomic bomb ready for testing next October, even the thought of such a weapon in the hands of Indonesian President Sukarno was shattering.

What an irresponsible leader could do with an atomic bomb long has been obvious, and has been a key factor in the search for international agreement to prevent their spread.

In the United Nations, the Indonesian announcement contributed to a nervous recognition that so far in the current session of the General Assembly not a single step has been taken toward a disarmament agreement of any sort.

The U.N. Disarmament Commission consisting of all the U.N.'s 114 members has not even met since 1960.

U. S. officials quickly ridiculed the Indonesian claim as "puffery" which the dictionary says is to seek publicity through boastful or impudent talk, and placed it in the same category as Indonesian claims of the past.

As a matter of fact it was not the first time this same claim had been made for Indonesia and it came from the same source.

Last November an Indonesian-built rocket plopped into the Java Sea after a flight of 21 miles. Indonesian generals boasted that in no time at all, they would have intercontinental ballistic missiles.

It was than that Brig. Gen. Hartono, Chief of the Indonesian Army's supply department, added the boast that "We plan to explode an atom bomb next year."

If it was meant to impress the Malaysians, Sukarno's current chief target, it failed of its purpose. The Malaysians promptly labelled it Sukarno's "Bamboo Bomb".

It was this same Hartono who this week referated the claim, attaining wider publicity for it because it was distributed by the Nation's official news agency.

Earlier in the month, on Jan. 5, Indonesia's Deputy for Air Force Logistics, Rear Air Marshal Budihartojo, also had gotten into the act. He announced that Indonesia expected to be able to orbit its first astronaut in 1968.

Indonesia does, in fact, have two atomic reactors.

Under the Atoms for Peace program they received a small, 250 kilowatt reactor from the United States in June, 1960. It became operational in October, 1964. They also have been given a small research reactor by the Russians.

The State Department has described the U. S. reactor as being "designed for research only" and "incapable" of generating power commercially or supplying material for atomic weapons.

Since Sukarno appears patently unable to manufacture his own bomb, his next source would be Red China. Despite outward signs of increasingly close relations between the two, it seems equally unlikely the Chinese would share their recently acquired atomic know-how with their chief rival for influence in southeast Asia.

Washington sources speculating over the reasons for this sudnuze of scientific oratory, believe the cause lay closer to home. The $2 billion Indonesian budget is up for discussion and the armed forces want at least half of it.

Is She Anastasia?

Hamburg, Germany, ((UPI) — The Hamburg State Court of Appeals Thursday gives ailing 62-year-old Anna Anderson what may be her last chance to prove she is the Grand Duchess Anastasia of Russia.

She could inherit a reported $58 to $112 million if she wins, although the existence of the vast fortune never has been established.

The Hamburg court, latest arena in a legal battle almost three decades old, reconvenes Thursday after a six month adjournment.

It is to hear new evidence on Miss Anderson's claim she survived the Bolshevik massacre of the Romanoff Royal family at Ekaterinaburg July 17, 1917.

Also, medical experts are to testify whether scars on Miss Anderson's feet were inflicted by Bolshevik bayonets, as she maintains.

Her foes in the legal battle, the Romanoff-related German House of Hesse, insist Miss Aanderson was really born a Polish Peasant girl named Franziska Schanzkowski.

They say her legs are scared from an explosion in a World War I munitions factory where the peasant girl worked.

Miss Anderson, who lives the life of a recluse guarded by high fences and fierce dogs in a Black Forest villa, is seeking royal recognition by claiming the modest $1,125 residue of a Czarist bank account.

A Berlin magistrate in 1937 awarded the money to the House of Hesse as the Czar's closest relatives. The Czarina — also slain at Ekaterinaburg — was the former Princess Alix of Hesse.

Miss Anderson — a pseudonym she adopted in a 1928 visit to America — said in a 1938 affidavit, "father (the Czar) told me and my sister he had placed five million gold rubles for each of his daughters in the Bank of England in 1914."

Miss Anderson and her lawyer say she is not concerned with the reputed fortune but with her royal recognition.

The Hamburg court, which began hearings last April, is Miss Anderson's last chance to present evidence. If the court rules in favor of Grand Dunchess Barbara of Mecklenburg, representing the House of Hesse as claimant to the $1,125, Miss Anderson could appeal to the West German Supreme Court, but only on grounds of legal error.

Anthropologists, historians and handwriting experts testified for both sides before the court adjourned.

Prof. Otto Reche, 84-year-old Dean of German Anthropologists, said Miss Anderson was Anastasia without a doubt. Prof. Carl-Wilhelm Clauberg, another renowned anthropologist, said just as firmly all the evidence showed she was not.

Talking It Out

Retiring from the staff of the BBC after forty years service, commentator John Snagge recalled his worst moment—or rather, moments—on the air. That was when broadcasting on the Coronation of King George VI in 1937. He was ot give ten minutes of commentary between the time of arrival of the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace and their appearance on the balcony. But ten minutes passed without sign of them, then twenty. Snagge kept on talking. Forty-two minres after their return to the Palace, the Royal Family appeared on the balcony. "I was told later" said Snagge, "that the King was listening to the radio."

WINTER CLEAN-UP

Take advantage of this lull in activities just after the festive season and tactfully get the members of your family started on some of the jobs that need attention. Cases in point are the basement and the garage. They need to be cleaned up and reorganized before it's time to store storm windows and take out screens and summer furniture.

Anything that qualifies as clutter — such as old toys, furniture, luggage etc. should be given to friends, relatives or the Salvation Army if still useable, burned if beyond salvage. Stacks of old newspapers and dirty rags, which are fodder for fire if one should ever start, must be burned. Any rags that are particularly good polishers and which you can't bear to part with can be reclaimed if soaked overnight in a hot solution of sal soda concentrated. This will remove all traces of oil and grease which make them doubly inflammable.

If husband is feeling ambitious, let him scrub the garage floor — basement floor too, unless it's been fancied up with tile or linoleum, in which case it's part of your cleaning domain. An initial vacuuming takes up all the loose dirt. Then it's ready to be scrubbed down with a strong solution of sal soda concentrated — about a cup of the sal to the bucket of hot water. Stains, such as those left by oil in the garage or around the water pump in the basement, can surprisingly enough be erased if the area is dampened and sprinkled with dry sal which is left to work overnight. Next morning a scrubbing with a sal solution finishes the job.

Before returning articles to their respective niches, make sure that they're in the best possible spot. Paints, brushes, etc., for example, should be kept in a metal cabinet well away from furnace and hot water heater for the sake of safety from fire. Trunks, cartons and the like should not be stored directly on the floor as dampness can seep in. Slatted shelves are best as they let air circulate which helps prevent mildew. Likewise, garden tools will weather the winter better if kept off the floor since they'll be less apt to rust. One way to do this is then high and dry, instead a strip of wood the length of the garage or basement, at eye level height. Attach hooks at intervals screwed in the strip at intervals, hoes, rakes, pruners, spades and the like can be neatly hung in a row

Before they are needed for the next busy schedule they should have any existing rust spots removed. Minor rusting can be erased by rubbing with a damp cloth sprinkled with dry sal. Heavy rusting needs sandpaper treatment. When the tools are dry, a light coating of petroleum jelly is a further precaution against rust recurrence that's wise to take.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. How can I clean playing cards?

A. The plastic type of cards need only, of course, a wiping with a damp cloth. To clean the paper variety of cards, wipe them carefully with a bit of cotton moistened with spirits of ammonia, then dry with another piece of dry cotton.

Q. Is there a good way to clean and polish silverware without using a commercial polish?

A. Try this: Boil a handful of rhubarb in a quart of water, put the silver into this for five minutes, then rinse in clear hot water, and wipe the silver dry.

Q. What is a good way to remove inkstains from fingers?

A. Try moistening the stains with water, then rubbing with the sulpher end of a match, and wiping with a dry cloth.

Strong—Galloway wedding

Cannington (PNS) — On Saturday afternoon, January 23rd 1965, the Orillia Presbyterian Church was the scene of a beautiful inter wedding when Dorothy Diane, elder daughter of Dr. Charles A. Galloway and Mrs. Galloway, formerly of Cannington, became the bride of Russell William Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton J. Strong of Midland.

Before an altar decorated with standards of white gladioli and brilliant red carnations, the double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Eric A. Beggs The wedding music was supplied by the church organist, Mr. David Brown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of pure silk faille, designed in classic lines with scoop neckline and long lily point sleeves and featuring lace inserts. The long Watteau train was edged with clipped Chantilly lace. The short bouffant veil was held in place with a becoming arrangement of petals and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red carnations interspersed with white hyacinth florets.

Attending the bride, Mrs. Robert Ricci, of Toronto, as matron of honour, Mrs. Gary Strong, sister-in-law of the groom, as bridesmaid and Miss Charlene Galloway, sister of the bride. The attendants were gowned alike in floor-length creations of cherry red velvet designed on similar lines to those of the bride. On their heads they wore tailored bows of the velvet and they carried white fur muffs adorned with corsages of red carnations, white florets and red velvet leaves.

Mr. Gary Strong of Toronto acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Robert Ricci of Toronto and Mr. John Strong of Midland, another brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony the guests were entertained at a reception at the Brichmere. Mrs. Galloway received the guests wearing a floor-length gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace in a champagne shade. Her draped turban was of the organza and the accessories were in the same shade. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose a gown of silk brocade in mink brown with beige accessories. Both ladies wore corsages of roses in harmonizing shades.

When the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon to be spent at Muskoka Sands, the bride was wearing a dress of blue white wool, a winter white coat trimmed with black Norwegian fox, black pill box hat and accessories and a corsage of red roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Strong will be living at the Elmcourt Apartments, Canice Street in Orillia.

EMO REPORT

Procedures being followed in Emergency Planning

by EMO Co-ordinator for Victoria—Haliburton JAMES HALL

When the emergency roles have been assigned to departments at each level of government, there are certain rather prosaic procedures which must be followed to develop an operational capability. These procedures are common to all levels of government. They are time-consuming to the emergency planner, but they are vital to the development of the emergency operational capacity of the department concerned. A brief summary of the more important of these procedures is as follows:

(1) The designation of the key officials, officers and employees who will be responsible for the direction of the departments' operations during the emergency. As well, departments are responsible for establishing lines of succession of authority of key officials and officers in order that authority be preserved within the department.

(2) The selection of the essential records of the department. Of the many records which are in existence within a department, a select few, which would be vital to the operation of the department during an emergency, should be sorted in a safe location, probably in emergency government centres.

(3) The preparation of whatever emergency orders, regulations and legislation may be required by a department.

(4) The determination of the emergency functions that would be the responsibility of the department.

(5) The selection of a place from which emergency government can operate during the period of an emergency. Such locations must provide those occupying them with protection against fallout.

(6) The development of manning plans. Such plans inform each key official, officer or employee on how, and when, he is to report to his place of emergency duty.

(7) The development of an informational programme for the benefit of all employees of the department, whether they have been assigned emergency tasks or not. Such programmes in addition to providing employees with basic survival information, would outline for the benefit of the employee what specific actions he should take in the event of a National Alert being sounded while he is at his place of normal work.

(8) The conduct of a resources survey. Each department is responsible for the tabulation of the resources which are normally available to it for carrying out its emergency tasks. The tabulation, depending on the type of resources being asssesed, should be in simple graphic form which can be put to use immediately a disaster takes place.

(9) The preparation of a departmental plan for emergency operations. The plan which is developed will be based on the information derived from the first eight procedures mentioned above. Such departmental plans, in their development, will have to be assessed in relation to the plans of other departments or agencies so as to ensure government operation. This task of co-ordination is, or should be, one of the prime responsibilities of the Emergency Measures Organization at each level of government.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

HEART SKIPS NOT ALWAYS SERIOUS

Sometimes when reassurance comes from a fellow sufferer it helps more than when the doctor pats you on the back and says, "It's nothing to worry about."

For example, consider heart skips. Over the years I've tried to convince thousands of persons with harmless heart skips that they did not actually have heart disease. Some believed and went on their merry way. Too many remained unconvinced. They lived in fear for the rest of their lives. However, an occasional letter I've reprinted here from patients with skips has brought comfort too many. For example, consider this one:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Please allow me to reassure Mrs. F. regarding her heart skips I've had them since 17. Yet, twice yearly health examinations find me in excellent health: heart, lungs, blood, pressure, kidneys, etc. Now, past 65, I consider myself very lucky not even to suffer headaches or common colds. My doctor says I'm disgustingly healthy.

Yet. I still have occasional skips! But over the years I have learned to say, "to heck with these skips." I get busy with my work and keep my mind otherwise occupied.

Comment: I am not saying that those of you who have heart skips should shrug them off as inconsequential: There are all kinds of heart irregularities. However, if your doctor gives you a "not guilty" verdict; if he says your heart is normal and the skips will not shorten your life, then it makes common sense to take him at his word. Don't borrow trouble. The worst kind to borrow is heart trouble.

ENEMAS AS LAST RESORT

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My daughter has been bothered by constipation off and on the last few months. She is 15 now and had the same trouble when she was younger. Laxatives do not help. So I have been giving her daily warm enemas which sometimes have to be repeated. Am I doing wrong? Mrs. F.

Comment: I've heard some doctors say enemas are not harmful. That they are better than laxatives. I disagree. I advise enemas only as a last resort (for example, in impacted feces — where the lower bowel is clogged). The patient who takes enemas day after day soon has a lazy lower bowel which will not respond to normal stimuli. Unless you stop this easy way out, your daughter is a candidate for chronic constipation for the rest of her life.

Have you tried the usual home remedies like figs., prunes, dates. And raw vegetables for bulk. And perhaps this is more important than anything: the habit of regular attendance in the bathroom. The young child — as many adults — is prone to be distracted by anyone call or some other interruption, and the habit is broken easily.

What's even more important in getting away from these frequent enemas is taking your daughter to the family doctor. He will set up some schedule and outline proper medical treatment. The time to treat constipation is early. And age 15 is early enough.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 36 years old (an old married woman) and still perturbed by the deep pocks in my skin caused by severe acne when I was a young girl. Am I too old to have a "skin-planing" operation. I'd love to have a smooth face. Mrs. S

Comment: Not too late for the operation known as "dermabrasion." Consult a good skin specialist, plastic surgeon — or both.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: WITH WHAT THIN LINE DID THIS DOODLER START?

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — The doctor wants to know more than the stethescope tells his ears. He orders an x-ray.

The dentist needs to see what his eyes can't show him. So he orders an x-ray.

Such medical uses of x-ray, now a standard diagnostic tool, are only one use aimed at helping to make life better by showing the unknown.

The bridges you ride over also get subjected to x-ray viewing for your safety's sake. The x-rayed joints of bridges show flaws before they get to the point where the bridge falls down.

Planes you ride in, at periodic maintenance check time, get the x-ray once over in a search for broken or stress-weary parts that might interfere with perfect performance in flight.

Even the boxed chocolates or candy bars you eat are examined by x-ray for flaws before going to market. Mostly the candy makers search the filmy way for hairpins, bobby pins and what else women along the assembly line might accidentally shed into the sweet mixture.

Philip D. Johnston, Executive Secretary of the Society for Nondestructive Testing Evanston, Ill., told the nonmedical uses of x-ray during an interview.

Non-destructive testing, he explained means testing a product or process without taking it apart. This is done by x-ray.

The post office, for example, regularly pits parcels for the White House to the nondestructive testing search before they are delivered to the White House.

Johnston said detectives use x-ray to tract the path of a bullet in a wall or furniture. It spares them the trouble of ripping apart a chair or wall.

In breweries the x-ray equipment is used to monitor the amount of brew in each bottle -tattling on bottles not full enough or too full.

Johnson said one of the earliest uses of x-rays industrially took place 30 years ago at the Watertown Arsenal in Watertown, Mass. The army used it to check for flaws in construction of guns.

"In the last 10 years", Johnson said "there's been a thousand per cent increases in the use of x-ray on the non-medical front".

The insurance company responsible for the famed Pieta, for example, ordered an x-ray of the artwork before it was shipped to the World's Fair.

Flaws unknown before the x-ray study were detected. At one time, it showed up a part of the hand of the artwork had been reconstructed.

Major museums nationwide use x-ray equipment periodically to check out paintings.

The x-ray equipment is put to work also in the inspection of nuclear subs, telling whether a weld is good or poor. Johnson said official reports showed that one trouble with the ill-fated Thresher was not enough nondestructive-x-ray-testing.

"Reports showed", he said, "that of 145 pipe joints checked 14 per cent were not perfect. Some 2,855 other pipe joints were not checked".

In Milwaukee, recently, special arrangements had to be made to give an ailing gorilla an x-ray.

Over a period spanning two weeks, the gorilla's cage was made smaller and smaller. Each day the x-ray equipment was wheeled closer to the cage. When the time came that the gorilla wasn't upset by the equipment, the x-ray was taken.

Every day, in ways you don't suspect, the industrial x-ray use helps to make life smooth, Johnson said. For example it is used in inspection of piling and telephone poles at or below ground level for rot.

Other uses:

— To check wiring diagrams on printed circuits, such as those used in many transistorized radios.

— To check infestation of grains of weevils infestation.

— Checking levels and bond of heat sinks for nose cone reentry vehicles.

— In the military and space programs there are x-ray checks of the solid missile motor cases, a search aimed at turning up evidence of a lack of bond between the solid propellant and the case.

Franklin Paskins

Franklin J. Paskins who passed away in Toronto General Hospital last Tuesday night is mourned in Lindsay by a number of friends of long standing. Some thirty years ago the deceased gentleman arrived in Hamilton where he lived for a time before coming to Lindsay. For some time he was employed with the Canada Crayon Company on Lindsay Street, North, and later entered the employment of the Canadian National Railway as a shedman at the freight sheds on Victoria Avenue. He was transferred to Cobourg and later to Trenton from which position he retired two years ago. Six months ago he returned to Lindsay, the place he called home, and where he has a number of good friends.

The late Mr. Paskins was born in Ireland where he joined the Masonic Order of the United Service Lodge. In 1942 he affiliated with Faithful Brethren Lodge No. 88 A.F. and A.M. in Lindsay.

Always manifesting an interest and loyalty in the Empire it came as no surprise when he joined the Canadian Navy early in World War Two and served for some time in the service. He was quite proud of his membership in the Royal Canadian Legion. He was well known to many Legionaires in Lindsay and Trenton braches.

The deceased was a member of St. Pauls Anglican Church. He is survived by two sisters and two brothers living in Ireland.

The funeral service from the Mackey Chapel was held under Masonic auspices with Masonic service on Thursday night and interment service on Friday afternoon.

Mary Thurston

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Deep sadness was cast over the village of Fenelon Falls when it was learned that one of the citizens had died suddenly at her home on Sunday, January 17th. She was in her 53rd year.

Mary Eleanor Warren, Thurston, only daughter of the late Fred and Ethel Warren, and late proprietress of Warren's Variety Store, was known to everyone throughout the community in her business capacity, and to a very wide circle of close friends. She had an unusually even and friendly disposition, and will be greatly missed by her many business and personal friends.

Left to mourn the loss of a sister are two brothers, Dr. Douglas R. Warren of Sarnia, and Dr. Donald Warren of Oshawa.

Mrs. Thurston was educated in the local High chool and later at Toronto University. She had the distinction of being the youngest student ever to enter either school. She was a devoted member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fenelon Falls.

In October, 1962, she was married to Carmen Thurston who survives her.

The funeral service was held from the Platten Funeral Home on Tuesday, January 19th, conducted by her minister, the Rev. E. G. MacDonald. In lieu of flowers donations were accepted to the Heart Fund, but many floral tributes expressed esteem and love for the deceased.

Interment was in Fenelon Falls Cemetery vault, and the pallbearers were: Messrs Gerald Palmer, Eric Mackey, Angus Ferguson, Mark Fell, Arthur Pogue and Larry Vickers.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — This three bedroom bungalow by architect B. L. Peterson of Victoria is designed to take advantage of a sloping site so that a proposed playroom with a fireplace, a washroom, as well as utility and storage facilities can be used to greatest advantage in the basement.

An access directly from the outside adds to the convenience of the lower floor level arrangement. The arrangement of carport and covered walks adds greatly to the exterior appearance of the house. Within there is excellent separation of the living, working and bedroom areas. The living room faces to the rear of the lot and a balcony is situated next to the kitchen and combination dining-family room. For best sitting this house should face east.

The floor area is 1,235 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 46 feet four inches by 47 feet four inches. Working drawings for this house known as Design 2324, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — A telephone buzzed in the executive suite of a big company.

The condition was "Red" — so the caller got through, saying:

"Hey, boss. There's something wrong with the product. It doesn't smell."

The executive-type receiving the call, John Talbott, is almost as precious among teenagers as the Beatles. He gets credit for inventing flavoured lipsticks. Strawberry, grape yum yum and such.

The caller was talking about Talbott's latest gift to women — nail polish that scents you and all within sniffing distance.

"Now, what's the temperature where you are and have been?" Talbott cooly asked.

He knew from experience the smelly nail polish worked — except under certain conditions, one being frigid temperatures.

The caller said — "Yes, the product had been in a cold, cold place for a while. And the smell — er, scent — disappeared."

"Put it on the nearest radiator," Talbott ordered, knowing full well that a little warmth would bring back the fragrance in the new product, pleasantly smelling — perfumed, in fact — nail polish.

The caller did the and the frozen scent — locked in by cold — came back, once warmed.

Talbott, an intelligence officer during the recent war, knew that his smelly product couldn't go wrong.

"We tested it for a good part of a million dollars," he said in an interview. "And we know, as a matter of fact, that it has more staying power than ordinary perfume — when it isn't too cold."

Talbott, an official of Chesebrough Ponds Inc., is a valiant sort who has been in cosmetics since the war. His first gift to women was flavoured lipstick — introduced last July 4 and running up nearly $9 million in sales since then.

There are eight flavours and one of the most popular is pineapple, a flavour said to signify hospitality.

Perfumed nail polish, he thought, is the next step. And soon, thanks to the chemists, the dames fashion nationwide will be painting it on their nails.

First, the chemists had to labour over their test tubes. Then the folks who work for the firm had to help test the product and that included Talbott.

"My wife understood," he said, "when my train pulled into the station at Stamford, Conn., and I was full of flowery and subtle smells. I had my nails painted with clear versions of each scent.

"That was nothing like the time I was testing different colours — and was seen reading the Wall St. Journal, clutching the pages with fingers painted red, purple, green and orange."

The smelly polish lasts longer than perfume put on the pulse points — more than 24 hours, according to 90 per cent of those who tested it, men and women.

But the cold locks the fragrances and saves it. Once it is warmed up, it comes glowing to the nose.

Talbott wants to bring back hand-kissing, a lost art, in connection with the perfumed nail polish.

"American men can learn that it is as easy as touch football — and twice as much fun — to kiss a lady's hand, once they've mastered the few do's and don'ts and required of all swashbuckling fingertip kisses," he said.

Actor Vassili Lambrinos, hand kissing consultant for Cutex, feels that the most important thing is for men to learn the basics early and then to spend the rest of their life enjoying the lost art.

Here are some basic tips from Lambrinos, delivered on the occasion of the introduction of scented nail polish:

— A man doesn't kiss a lady's hand if he is meeting for the first time. He just nodds, mines the action, taking her hand lightly in his and bowing over it.

— Later, the important thing is for a man to be natural and relaxed. The best times are indoors and after high noon.

— A woman who expects her hand to be kissed should extend it about six inches below chin height: her elbow at a 45-degree angle — and the palm should be down, fingers together. Gloves are taboo.

P.S. — No big rings on the right hand, the kissable one. If a the man who is puckering up might end up with a scratched proboscis while attempting to plant his symbol of affection on the pinkie.

Local art club meets in Fenelon

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — At the January meeting of the Adult Art Group of Fenelon Falls, held at the home of Mrs. Helen Phillips, Mr. David Jones and Mrs. Bernice Perrin were unanimously re-elected as president and secretary-treasurer.

The group got together to discuss the art Show which will be held in the High School on February 18th. At this show there will be an exhibition of 10 original works of art by Mr. Paul Bennett B.A., B.S.W.M., M.Ed. These 10 paintings are valued at $10,000.

Interest was shown in a display of pottery which was held in Lindsay in January. David Jones suggested that some might be interested in clay modelling, and said that he had some clay on hand. It is hoped that sketching and painting trips may be arranged for the summer months.

Three films were shown by one of the members. These were "Canadian Landscapes" by A. G. Jackson; a film entitled "Vacley" and one on non-objective art.

Fees for the Victoria County Art Group are set at 50c per member per year. Mrs. Hebel mentioned that the fees for the East Central Art Institute are $2.00 per year. This fee must be paid now in order to exhibit pictures at their exhibition. Plans were made to commence art classes in the High School.

Refreshments were served. Pictures which had been on display at the local library were taken home by their respective owners.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — If you've been to the movie recently, you've probably noticed the comeback of an old theatre standby, the animated cartoon.

With the increasing disappearance of double features, Theater owners are filling out the bill with animated hijinks.

Movie-goers will be seeing more of Woody Woodpecker, Bugs Bunny and the ubiquitous Tom and Jerry. They will also be entertained by a skinny and Malevolent character named Pinky Panther.

The panther made his debut when the credits flashed on the screen more than a year ago for the feature film thriller-comedy, "The Pink Panther," starring Peter Sellers. Audiences enjoyed his razzadallo adventures almost as much as the phenomenally successful film Director Blake Edwards, along with David Depatie and Friz (CQ) Freleng (who created the animated prologue), saw gold in the pink panther and forthwith turned him into a star in his own right.

Depatie-Freleng enterprises have been contracted by United Artists to turn out 13 pink panther short subjects a year.

Thus far they've produced three, all with the theme music from the Pink Panther movie, all without dialogue of any kind.

"We think of the panther as an adult cartoon character, but geared for children, too," said Denatie at his cartoon headquarters near Warner Bros. Studio. "But our dilemma is whether to give him a voice or keep him the way he is."

His partner, Freleng, added, "we were as surprised as everyone else with the panther's popularity.

"He captured public imagination because here was a character fussing around with the credits of a movie which are supposed to be a serious under-

ECHOES EDGE TELSTARS IN OPENING GAME

On Tuesday, February 2, the 1965 basketball season opened. An exciting game was played between the Echoes and Telstars.

The two teams battled for most of the game with each side taking turns in getting their points. Spectators acclaimed Wendy Peters of the Echoes the most outstanding player in the game.

Both teams played very well and at the end of the game the score was 40 to 38 for the Echoes. If this game was any sign of the trend of future games, we would have an exciting basketball season.

SUGGESTION BOXES
By Lea Woodward

At the first of the year, when the students elected the president of the Student Council, one contestant mentioned placing suggestion boxes in every classroom so that any student could express his ideas or suggestions by simply dropping them into the box. What ever happened to the idea? It was never acted upon. I am sure the students would appreciate having suggestion boxes placed in every room.

BARBER SHOPPERS AIM FOR CHARTER NEXT WEDNESDAY

2B or not 2B is the big question for the Lindsay Barber Shoppers (singing type) next Wednesday night, to be or not to be Chartered on that date. The Lindsay group need 35 members to secure their charter by next Wednesday, February 10th, and become charter members of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

The District Champion Chorus of the East York Chapter from Toronto will be the special guests next Wednesday night, having recently toured the British Isles. This special program will take place at St. Mary's School Auditorium and any male person interested in becoming a barber shopper is invited to attend.

The local harmonizers hope to make it 35 with $19.75 in 1965, next Wednesday night. There has been much interest locally with sufficient numbers attending, and all that is required is for all to sign up by next Wednesday night, according to local officials.

The Oshawa Chapter were guests at the February 3rd. meeting when over forty local singers attended.

BOY SCOUTS
DISTRICT NEWS

LITTLE ACTIVITY

Not a great deal has happened in scouting in Victoria County this week. Most of the groups are making final preparations for Boy Scout Week, which starts February 20.

Next Thursday the Victoria Scout Council will meet at the Cambridge Street United Church hall.

BROWNIE PACK

This may be a little out of place, since Brownies and Girl Guides are not a direct part of the Scouting movement; however guides are usually identified with scouting. For the benefit of District Staff readers and others, this statement can be qualified by the fact that Guides and Brownies take part in the Boy Scout Rallies in town annually.

The 3rd Lindsay Brownie pack had ten new recruits recently. They were Kathy Benson, Jane Churcher, Laurie McNeilly, Jo-Anne Humphries, Bonnie Griffis, Merillee Ridell, Carol Kennedy, Kim Henderson, Karen Tamlin, and Elizabeth Stillman.

Seven of the second year girls received their golden bar, which is a service award. The recipients were Pat and Carol Loveland, Kathy Grace, Margaret Twohey, Jane Deyell, Elain Cockerton and Christine McIntyre.

Lindsay Drug Store broken into police recover $1,500 in laneway

Lindsay police recovered $1,500 apparently dropped by thieves making their getaway following a break, enter and theft at Gregory's Drug Store last night. Police Chief John Hunter said the money was found by Constable Jack Henley in the laneway behind the drug store.

The Kent Street store was entered some time last night by forcing a rear door, police said. The proprietor W. Neil Gregory, discovered the theft shortly after midnight when he happened to go into the store. Police said it is not known whether this was all the money that was taken or not. No drugs or other articles appeared to have been taken, police said.

Police Chief John Hunter said the police patrolman had checked the door earlier in the evening and found everything secure.

The Lindsay Police Department is also investigating three other breakins which occurred during the weekend.

Thieves netted about three dollars in cash when they entered Chris' Fish and Chip Shop on Lindsay Street South Friday night. Police said entry was gained by breaking a south window and unlocking the door. The money was taken from the kitchen.

The Canadian Pacific Railway express office on Caroline Street and the Baker Fuel Company office on Lindsay St. North were also entered but nothing was reported taken.

Police said an attempted break-in occurred at the Master Feeds plant on Kent Street East.

$500 DAMAGE

Damage estimated at $500 resulted when a car driven by Donna Francis Smith of 1 Sabrina Street, Bowmanville, crashed on Concession Road 6 of Ops Township at 8:35 p.m. Saturday.

Lindsay OPP said no other details of the accident were available.

Lindsay OPP Constable Lyle Welton investigated.

Sunday when he went to the temple before the morning service. He said there appeared to be no damage caused by the explosion itself.

Trio found guilty of thefts from Lindsay service station

Howard House, 19, of RR2, Thornton, James Gauthier, 20, of Timmins and Edward Rod Harford of Lindsay were found guilty in Lindsay Police Court Monday morning of the theft of four chainsaws, two cartons of cigarettes and $10 in cash from Howard Black's service station on Lindsay Street South, and the theft of a car owned by Howard Smith of Lindsay, which had been parked in the municipal parking lot adjacent to the garage. They were remanded to February 15 for sentencing.

Five chainsaws, valued at nearly $1,000 were reported stolen from the service station early Thursday morning but the trio admitted only to the theft of four.

Lindsay Police Sergeant Gordon Eberts told the court the three had entered by smashing a large window on the north side of the garage. The following day at 12:50 p.m. Lindsay police recovered the car and chainsaws at the parking lot of the John Deyell Company on Lindsay Street South, eight blocks from the service station.

Police said the youths said they had intended to sell the saws but the car broke down so they pushed it into the parking lot where they abandoned it.

Harford pleaded guilty to a second charge of breaking and entering and was subsequently found guilty to the theft of $100 cash and an electric drill and other tools from the Canadian Pyjama and Shirt Company on James Street on December 24.

The accused told police he threw the tools in a nearby field because he didn't think they were of any value. The drill was valued at $35 by police.

Cattle saved, 125 hens lost in fire at Little Britain

A poultry barn on the farm of Lawrence Tamblyn, two miles west of Little Britain, was destroyed by fire Friday evening, but the main barn, twenty feet distant was saved from damage by prompt action by the Little Britain and Oakwood fire departments.

Little Britain Fire Chief James McDonnell told "The Post" the alarm was received about 6:20 p.m. Friday evening. He said when the Little Britain department arrived at the scene the inside of the building was enveloped in flames but it had not broken out on the north side towards the main barn. He said his department concentrated their limited water supply on knocking down the fire, and the Oakwood brigade arrived in time to add a further 800 gallons to the supply.

Chief McDonnell used three high pressure lines to quell the blaze, and wet down the endangered barn. He said a tractor was then used to pull down the burning building and tow it away from other buildings. He said three head of cattle had been rescued from the building but about 125 hens were destroyed. No estimate of damage has been made available. It is understood that Mr. Tamblyn was absent when the fire occurred.

Salvation Army citadel damaged by furnace blast

Members of the Lindsay Salvation Army attended services at the chapel of Mackey's Funeral Home after smoke forced them out of their temple Sunday morning.

Captain Carl Bowes said a small explosion in the oil furnace which heats the Salvation Army Temple caused smoke which filled the whole building. He said Mackey's had offered the use of the chapel to the Army during their recent renovations and left the invitation open for anytime it was needed by the Army.

Captain Bowes said no fire resulted, but there will be considerable cleaning-up to do. No estimate of the damage caused by the smoke was available. He said the Lindsay Fire Department helped by using smoke ejection equipment to clear the smoke from the temple.

The smoke was discovered by the Captain about 9:30 a.m.

Lindsay woman fined $25 on careless driving charge

A two car motor vehicle accident which occurred on William Street North last Christmas Day was dealt with in police court Monday. Convicted of careless driving was Mrs. Margaret Hawkins, of 59 Portinger Street in Lindsay, who was fined $25 and costs.

Sgt. Gordon Eberts told the court Monday of investigating the accident which occurred approximately 7:30 p.m. December 25, 1964. He said a car which had been proceeding north on William Street, was in collision with a parked car some 150 feet north of the intersection of Colborne Street. He estimated damages to the car driven by the accused at $700 and $600 damage to the parked car.

He said Mrs. Margaret Hawkins admitted driving the north-bound car, before being removed for medical attention. He said she was later treated for a broken arm.

Mrs. Hawkins told the court she was blinded by the lights of a south-bound vehicle and did not see the parked car. Ivan Stewart, driver of the south-bound car told of seeing the accident as he was proceeding south on William St. near the intersection of Kent Street. He said distinctly that his lights were on low beam.

In finding Mrs. Hawkins guilty of careless driving, Magistrate Ian Munro told Mrs. Hawkins he would have to accept the evidence of Mr. Stewart. "He said you swerved out and back into the parked car, you were not in the driving lane", Magistrate Ian Munro stated.

Mrs. Hawkins was fined $25.00 and costs upon conviction. The magistrate did not make any order regarding her driving license.

Lindsay police apprehend two with stolen car

A Lindsay man and an Oshawa man were each charged with auto theft by Peterboro OPP after they were picked up by Lindsay Police and a car reported stolen from the Peterboro area was recovered.

Peterboro OPP said Garfield Sproule, 56, of Angeline Street North and Allan Grant Gilmore, 47, of Drew Sareet, Oshawa, were both charged late Sunday night after Lindsay police turned the pair over to the Provincial Police.

The stolen car was owned by Michael Hickey of RR1, Innesmore.

Witnesses fail to appear—case withdrawn

Failure of crown witnesses to appear in police court today resulted in a charge of keeping liquor for sale, laid against Lionel Tracey of Lindsay, being withdrawn by the crown.

Five adjournments had already been granted in connection with the case and bench warrants had been issued by Magistrate Ian Munro on two occasions. Police Chief John Hunter told the court that one witness had been placed under arrest ,but other witnesses could not be located.

"I believe there is a definite attempt to avoid giving evidence" observed Chief Hunter. "I have no guarantee what the witnesses will say when forced to appear and would ask for a further adjournment or the charge be withdrawn" the Police Chief concluded.

Defense counsel M. J. Cunningham suggested to the court that the delays were no fault of the accused. "He (the accused) has been here and the defence witnesses have been here" defense counsel pointed out. "I suggest the charge be dismissed if we cannot proceed today" said the defense counseller, remarking that he understood that one of the crown witnesses might change his story In reply Magistrate Ian Munro reminded court that "we have ways of dealing with people who tell two stories, we have a little gadget called perjury".

Chief Hunter told the court he would rather have the charge withdrawn than dismissed.

Canada to issue Churchill stamp

Ottawa (UPI) — Postmaster General John R. Nicholson today announced that Sir Winston Churchill will be honoured on a new Canadian postage stamp to be issued late this summer.

This will be the first time in the history of the Canadian postal service that a stamp has been produced to honour a person who was neither a member of the Royal Family nor a Canadian.

August 8 has been chosen as the date of issue. It was on that day in 1941 that Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Atlantic Charter on a warship off the Newfoundland Coast in Placentia Bay. The date also coincides with the first Quebec conference since the 1943 Sir Winston met with President Franklin R. Roosevelt and Canadian leaders to plan war operations.

$160 damage

Total damage of $160 resulted when a car driven by Donald Gordon Cameron of 215 Kitchener Avenue collided with the rear of a parked vehicle owned by Roy Mark of 107 Durham St. West at 10:35 a.m. Saturday on Lindsay Street South. Lindsay Police said the MacArthur vehicle was proceeding south on Lindsay Street when the collision occurred.

Lindsay Police Constable Douglas Thompson investigated.

Trading stamps

New York (UPI)—The people who manufacture trading stamps have a sticky problem of getting rid of the bulging books of stamps after they've been redeemed for coffee urns, lampshades or even jaguars.

The stamps have to be disposed lest they be stolen and turned in a second time. Stamp counterfeiting is another problem.

Trading stamp collecting, a booming near-billion dollar industry, has had many troubles of its own to lick.

—A trading stamp company in Detroit went bankrupt several years ago when its stamps were not destroyed and were redeemed twice.

—In 1963, the Sperry & Hutchinson Co., the oldest and largest trading stamp company, went to the New York State Supreme Court to stop a Utica, N. Y. stamp swapper whose "National Stamp Bank" was trading, buying or selling S and H Green Stamps.

—And some fancy trading stamps, in a post office problem, even carried Yuletide letters through the mail. In Newark, N. J. last seaosn, some stamps got by the post office's mechanized cancelling machine.

Ever since the day Messrs. Sperry and Hutchinson first got the idea for green stamps back in 1896, unscrupulous gents have been trying to cash in. In at least one state, Wisconsin, the collector must have cash for his stamps and in all of the 49 states where trading stamps are legal (In Kansas they are banned by State law) they are theoretically redeemable for cash — even though the stamp collector might have to write to the company's home office to collect.

Trading stamps have been stolen from stores and supermarkets by the thousands and today all of the 20 to 50 major trading stamp companies — there are about 400 of them altogether —have top notch security staffs.

They don't like to talk about it, but one of their problems is counterfeiting. Police have uncovered counterfeit rings dealing exclusively in trading stamps and an official of one stamp printing company says it is now looking into complaints by at least three large companies that its stamps have been counterfeited.

To make it tough for would-be counterfeiteds, most of whom place the bogus stamps with small gas stations and unwary store owners, the trading stamp companies use high-grade safety paper that's almost impossible to duplicate. They also put serial numbers on the stamps.

Most bookfulls of stamps are put through a perforator and destroyed right in the redemption center.

At the Metuchen, N. J. Warehouse of S & H, a giant incinerator is used to burn some $300,000 worth of the stamps in 100,000 books each work day. At its Los Angeles distribution center, the company had to stop this method of disposing of the books when the city said it contributed to the smog problem. Now, the stamp books go through a machine that turns them into pulp.

Fire destroys home

Fire destroyed the frame home of H. Matthews, George Street, at noon today. The fire department was summoned but on arrival was unable to do anything to save the building. The blaze had advanced to such a degree.

It is not known whether the building was insured.

The blaze was of unknown origin and spread quickly through the frame house. It is also believed that a considerable quantity of furniture was destroyed in the fire.

Addresses Kiwanis

Lawson Blakely of Cambridge Street South addressed the Kiwanis Club Tuesday and told of his experiences while engaged as a radio wireless operator for the Marconi Company of London, England and incidentally mentioned the fact that he was one of the last to leave the ill-fated steamer Pensilva, which was torpedoed by the Germans as it neared the English coast. Strange to relate six merchant steamers on which he was a radio officer, four have sunk during the war.

Eight GTR cars derailed

Eight cars were ditched Friday night on the Grand Trunk Peterboro-Belleville line, when there was a smash-up on a freight which left here about 7 p.m. for Belleville.

A loose wheel presumably caused the run off near Downer's Corners. The passengers from the evening train from Belleville had to be transferred to a train sent out for that purpose.

The auxiliary was sent out and had the track clear for the morning train but the cars are not all replaced on the track yet.

The accident occurred at a crossing and all vehicular traffic was blocked until this morning. A couple of farmers who were on their way home were forced to turn back and spend the night in Peterboro.

Two arrests were made by the police Saturday night in connection with the burglary at John O'Reilly's liquor store on the night of February 3.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Why "Pep Pills" are dangerous

Chicago, (UPI)—An exhausted driver has 200 miles more to go. He pops a couple of "Pep Pills" into his mouth. He stays awake. But the stream of thought running through his mind goes into high speed.

He sees an approaching car. Before he has time ot react to it, his mind has leaped on to something else. There is an accident.

A school dropout has become used to taking pep pills. He doesn't have money to keep getting them. So he shoplifts a $30 or $40 item, sells it for $3 or $4 and buys enough pills to give him a lift for a few days.

"Christmas Trees", "Yellow Jackets" "Bennies" or whatever name "Pep Pills" go by, medical authorities and law enforcement officials agree that they are treacherous.

Not because they are physiologically habit-forming, like the more serious drugs of Morphine and Heroin, but because "Pep Pills" are a temptation to young people and because they put a drag on the human body that eventually will take its toll.

Billions are sold every year — on street corners, through phony prescriptions.

The American Medical Association (AMA) says Pep Pills are deceptive.

"You don't have more energy—you just think you do," an AMA spokesman said. "Keep taking them and you can burn yourself out."

Dr. William Kitto, Associate Director of the AMA's Department of Drugs, said Pep Pills cause the small blood vessels to constrict. The pills tend to speed up the heart rate and to cause hyperactivity of the nervous system.

This, Kitto said, is what keeps one awake and speeds the flow of thoughts. The total effect, he said, is what the juveniles may call "a thrill."

John Guill, Chicago District Director of the Federal Drug Administration, said there are two main classes of Pep Pills—The Amphetamines, which stimulate, and the Barbiturates, which are sedatives.

They come in a variety of shapes and sizes.Often they look like aspirin tablets. Or perhaps they are bullet-shaped capsules with powder inside.

Guill said an estimated 654,000 pounds of barbiturates and 102,000 pounds of amphetamines were sold last year. He said that was enough for 4.5 billion tablets of each kind.

Chicago Narcotics Court Judge Kenneth Wendt, who as a state legislator was in part responsible for establishment of the old Illinois Narcotics and Dangerous Drug Investigating Commission, said the number of persons under 21 appearing in his court increased 33 per cent in 1963, and similarly last year.

"How are they getting it?" he asked. "It looks like there is a leak someplace."

Wendt proposed that druggists and pharmaceutical houses police themselves more closely. He also wants the legislature to establish a commission of lawmakers and representatives of police, druggists, doctors and welfare workers to study the problem and make recommendations by April or May.

Supt. Joseph Healy of the Illinois Narcotics Bureau said he will propose a six months jail sentence and up to a $1,000 fine for first offenders and one to three year prison sentence for second offenders. This would be for possession of pep pills.

Healy said he also will propose a legislation making it illegal to obtain drugs by misrepresentation. He said many persons obtain pep pills by making a phony prescription to give to a druggist.

Pep pills sell on the street for between 50 cents and $3 to $4. "For a couple dollars someone can get a good fix," he said.

Kitto said one of the problems in cutting off pep pills is that no one knows exactly how many people are taking them. He said it is apparent more people are taking pep pills than, say, four or five years ago.

"Pep pills are fundamentally a moral problem," Kitto said. "The problem is one of an over all problem of a culture that exists under constant pressure.

Icy Dignity

A vivid memory of the 1963/64 winter in Canada was recalled by the BBC's Canadian representative, Pat Smithers, in a despatch from Ottawa broadcast recently in the BBC Home Service. Careful preparations for the long hard winter are always made well ahead, but an ice storm in Ottawa resulted in some unexpected scenes. "There had been a sudden rise in our temperature and rain fell for about fifteen minutes," Smithers explained. "As soon as it came down, it froze, glazing trees, buildings, roads and pavements. The only way to get about, till the salt-spreaders came was on hands and knees, and this is what we did. Just try raising a fur hat as you crawl past an Embassy and see His Excellency about to go on all four himself to go to his club."

Equal Combat

"A young person can be conceited, ill-mannered, presumptuous or fatuous, but I don't turn for protection to clichés about respect for elders. I accept that we are equals—and I'll argue with him, as an equal, if I think he's wrong. But I had better be good at it . . . The fact is that in our time the older people have failed in what has been the duty of seniors, which is to give the young something to rebel against. We are all gentleness and psychology and understanding. This is not at all what the young need—at any rate, not all the time. They must long sometimes for us to show that we have some principles and are prepared to stand up for them." —Pelden Hughes, a retired headmaster.

In Laughter—The Truth

"I believe that laughter is an important thing and that serious people tend to be superficial. They are superficial and a little ridiculous because they get fixed ideas and mental habits, whereas, from time to time, one should burst out laughing, and so burst the crust, the screen which gets between oneself and the virgin vision of things and the world." —Playwright Eugene Ionesco.

Elephant Tail Test

"One fast-selling souvenir line in East Africa is hair from an elphant's tail curled into an adjustable bracelet. This has many variations—you can buy it covered in gold or at cut price counterfeited in plastic. Incidentally, to tell the difference between a plastic elephant's hair and a real one — the genuine article is thicker at one end than the other, and it isn't round, its flat." —David Willey speaking on the BBC.

Valentine Rainbow Cake

Celebrate Valentine's Day this year with a special pink and white dessert made with angel food cake, sherbet, and peppermint whipped cream. If you are planning a party, this Rainbow Cake can be prepared 2 or 3 days in advance and frozen. But food specialists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, point out that the dessert tastes better and is more easily served if prepared shortly before eating.

Rainbow Cake

1 large angel food cake, 1 pint raspberry sherbet, 1 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, ¼ to ½ cup crushed peppermint candy.

Let sherbet soften at room temperature to spreading consistency. Meanwhile slice angel cake horizontally in three equal layers. Spread half the sherbet evenly over cut surface of the first layer. Place second layer on top and cover cut surface of it with remaining sherbet. Top with third layer.

Fold peppermint candy into sweetened whipped cream until desired flavor is reached. Completely cover sides and top of cake with swirls of peppermint whipped cream. Decorate with red cinnamon hearts. Freeze in freezer until serving time. Serves 10 to 12.

For variety drained fruits may be mixed with the sherbet or different flavors of sherbet may be used for each layer. This dessert is delicious, refreshing, and not too filling.

HOW CAN I

Q. How can I launder small lace items without the danger of tearing the delicate threads?

A. Put collars, cuffs, and other small pieces of fine lace in a jar containing lukewarm suds, shake them around in the jar, then empty it and refill with clear water. Shake this again for a rinse job, and repeat this process until the water is clear. Remove the articles, and roll the the lace in a turkish towel until almost dry. Then press gently with a warm (not hot) iron.

Q. How can I remedy a pair of slippery new shoes?

A. You can reduce the sliding quality of that pair of new shoes by sandpapering the soles. Or, by rubbing a little linseed oil on the soles.

Q. What is a good formula for furniture polish?

A. One excellent one consists of two parts vinegar to one part of olive oil. Put a small amount of this on a soft cloth and rub it into the wood. Brings up a nice, fresh-looking polish.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Ironing Made Easy

For easier ironing, clean your electric iron, using fine steel wood with powdered whiting or pumice. These polish the surface without scratching or scoring it. Avoid ironing twice over pieces of clothing by following these rules: First, iron parts that hang off the board (cuffs, sleeves, belts, etc.). Then iron the body of the garment . . . When ironing, try to arrange to sit part of the time. An investment in a light weight, sturdy stool is a wise one.

The Garbage Can

Heat the bottom of a new or cleaned metal garbage can with a hot iron, and drop in a piece of paraffin or candle. The wax will melt and coat the bottom of the container so it will not rust out and can be easily cleaned.

Puffed Sleeves

To iron puffed sleeves on a dress, turn them wrong side out, slip a folded towel under the puffs, and then quickly press with a warm iron.

Murray—Owens Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. David Murray

White chrysanthemums, ferns and candlebra, with candles and holly in the windows were the background for the wedding in Woodville United Church on December 26, 1964, when Ruth Anne Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Owens, Woodville, became the bride of David Alfred Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Murray of Woodville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Martineau, pastor of the church, with 100 guests present. The organist, Miss Shirley Myers, cousin of the bride accompanied the soloist, Mr. Gordon Murray, brother of the groom. He sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chiffon velvet with a wedding ring neckline, elbow-length sleeves, slim skirt and a chapel-length train. The neckline and the sleeves were outlined with pearls. The dress was made by the bride. Her headdress was a central rose with a shoulder length layered veil of net. She carried a white Bible adorned with red sweetheart roses and ribbon streamers.

The matron of honour was Violet Murray, sister of the bride. Her three bridesmaids, were Marjorie Owens, sister of the bride, Phyllis Tamlin, cousin of the bride and Linda Murray, niece of the groom. They were identically gowned in poinsettia red velvet designed with a rounded neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Their bell-like skirts of unpressed pleats were enhanced at the back with two hand-rolled roses. They all carried pearl-white fur muffs adorned with poinsettia red carnations and white sweetheart roses. They wore headdresses matching their muffs. The train bearer, Linda Hoard, cousin of the bride, wore a matching short dress designed with fur around the neck and sleeves. The dress was made by her mother.

The best man was George Murray, brother of the groom. The ushers were John Owens cousin of the bride, Ron Tolmie and Bruce Benson, cousins of the groom.

For the reception at Woodville Church, the bride's mother received wearing a Christmas green velvet suit, with a pearl-white satin blouse. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white mums and red sweetheart roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing a sapphire crepe dress with lace and sequin trim. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

For travelling to the Adirondacks the bride wore a crepe turquoise dress accented with a lace jacket. She wore turquoise accessories and a corsage of red roses.

On their return, they will reside in Peterborough where they are both engaged in the teaching profession. Out-of-town guests attended from Cambray, Oshawa, Stirling, Peterborough, Eden, Lindsay, Brampton, Alliston, Clarkson and Halifax.

Prior to her marriage the bride was presented with two miscellaneous showers. One was at Peterborough at the home of Mrs. G. H. Hutchinson. The second was in the basement of the church in Woodville.

A trousseau tea was held prior to the wedding. The bride met the guests at the door assisted by her mother and the groom's mother. The trousseau was in charge of Mrs. Gordon Murray, Marjorie Owens, Shirley Myers, Phyllis Tamlin and Margaret Tolmie. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. Tolmie, Mrs. C. Myers, Mrs. O. Walling and Mrs. K. Meek. Tea was served by Misses Linda Dukelow, Ann Irvine, Dianne Irvine and Marjorie Winterbottom. Mrs. B. Tamlin, Mrs. H. Dixon, Mrs. C. Tamlin and Mrs. Verna Winterbottom were in charge of the kitchen.

Yelverton

Those attending the Durham County Beef Producers Meeting in Orono were favoured with hearing a guest speaker, Mr. Ross Beattie of Stayner, who spoke on one of the most factual addresses dealing with beef feeding business. He provided a wealth of information on almost every phase of the business, buying, selling, management, and feeding in a manner that all might inter pret based on his own practical experience garnered as a partner of Beattie Bros who operate a 800 acre farm near Stayner with a feedlot enterprise ranging between 1,000 and 1,300 head.

Yelverton United Church's annual congregational meeting was held on Friday night in the form of a pot luck supper followed by a business session.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMullen of this community have sold their farm. The new tenants are expected to take over in April baring unforseen complications. The McMullen's have become valued members of the community and the prospect of their leaving is viewed with genuine regret by local friends and neighbours.

A quartet from this community participated in the Massey Harris Curloramа held in Lindsay on Sat., and enjoyed two close games but losing both in the last ends play. Those enjoying the outing were Messrs Floyd Stinson, Jim Gray, Norm Wilson and Harvey Malcolm.

Speedy convalescence to the little granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glesbergen (daughter Mar and Mrs. Peter Glasbergen) in Sick Children's Hospital. Also to Mr. Dale Stinson in Bowmanville Hospital.

BEWARE OF CHOKING ACCIDENTS

Be especially cautious to keep objects small enough to be swallowed away from infants and children. For they do not expectorate, but attempt to swallow and inhale them into the lungs. Teach them to spit anything out.

Do not stimulate a child to laugh or cry while food is in his mouth. Physicians advise it is not wise to reach into an infant's mouth to remove an impacted foreign object. Place the victim face down across a bed or chair and call a physician. For choking is the leading cause of accidental death in the home to children under fire.

ON THE MAIN STREET

If Lindsay and district could boast of having any Octogenarians as citizens today it is not likely they could remember the day when Kent Street from lower Ridout Street taking the north side of the main street from Lindsay to William was laid low in a great conflagation.

It was a major disaster to the town but as it very often the case, the fire was also a blessing in disguise. From the rubble of cinders, ashes and bits of steel and tin, was built the Kent Street of today, recognized as one of the widest thoroughfares to be found in the province.

Another chapter in the history of Main street is being enacted today with the remodelling and revamping of the business store known for many years as the Beall block, home in year's past of the Beall's jewellery store.

In the dim, distant past, in the year 1863, the late Thomas Beall settled in Lindsay ,after having lived in Whitby and Oakwood. His first small store was located in part of the block now occupied by Eaton's department store. When he built the Beall store further west on Kent St. he felt justifiable pride that the store was at that time one of the finest in the district, to be found east of Toronto.

Here the old and reliable jewellery business was launched on a solid foundation of determination to succeed, integrity and the motto of fair play in all transactions.

Thomas Beall carried on the business until 1877 when he handed over the reins of business to his son George W. Beall. The latter was equally successful and as a man, numbie but astute business man the store and business and popularity continued to thrive. George W. Beall handed over the business to his son George G. Beall, at present living in the old family residence at 9 Albert Street South. Under this keen business management and careful customer service the store continued to grow and enjoy patronage from a large area.

The store was enlarged by taking a cigar store operated by the late J. A. Carrol and the enlarged store with its modern front was one of the most modern and well equipped jewellery stores in Ontario.

George Beall took time out to engage in worthwhile organizations, particularly curling where he was for years a skip and President and Patron of the Curling Club.

A few years ago the Beall store passed into the hands of William Walker the owner today and at the present time the old Beall store is under the process of being entirely rebuilt by a new tenant, the Agnew Surpass Shoe Store firm.

THIS MODERN AGE

Peterborough, England (UPI) Thirty-two fish-fryers will study modern fish-and-chips shop techniques in a seven-week course at a local technical college. One of the things they will be told: "Teach the customer that fish-and-chips do not taste better out of newspapers. Plain wrapping is more efficient and hygienic".

Contractors are making fast progress on the new store front and interior improvements.

Walker's Jewellery store will open up in a new stand, the store occupied at present by Agnew Surpass Shoes.

Seven actors will play eighteen roles in comedy at Academy Theatre

Seven French-Canadian actors from Montreal will play a total of 18 characters when they present Moliere's comedy "L'Armour Medecin" at the Academy Theatre on February 9. The presentation is sponsored by the Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

The production, of which a large portion is devoted to dancing and pantomine, has just finished a successful run at the Central Library Theatre in Toronto.

The play is a comedy-ballet, one of the earliest examples of a style in which comedy, music, songs, dance and pantomine are mixed for the greater enjoyment of the audience. It was from this type of "divertissement" that Moliere developed his later masterpieces: Monsieur de Pourceaugnac, Le Bougeois-Gentilhomme and La Malade Imaginaire.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

THE MAKING OF A DOCTOR IS WORTHWHILE CHALLENGE

Recently, on a T.V. programme I interviewed four challenging and provocative people. Two were already physicians and the other two, aspiring MDs. I wanted viewers to see and hear them so they might have some insight regarding the making of a physician.

The guests, in order of seniority, were Hayden G. Nicholson, M.D., Dean of the University of Miami Medical School, graduate of the University of Michigan; Jon Braunstein, M.D., Chief Resident in Medicine at Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, from Ohio State University before he came to Miami for his medical degree; Mrs. Linda Barnes, a senior at the University of Miami Medical, who came up from the University of Miami, and John Clarkson, freshman in the University of Miami Medical School, a graduate of Princeton.

So you see, from all over the country came these human beings with the driving purposes of teaching and learning the art and science of medicine. Someday, somewhere, other human beings would be the beneficiaries of their ministrations.

As I looked upon the freshman, dressed in whites, an invisible lump came into my throat. In this youngster I saw myself, seemingly eons ago, starry-eyed and anxious to get on with learning to be a doctor.

LONG HOURS NECESSARY

I asked him if medical school work was difficult. "We work from eight to five", he said. "Then study from four to five hours every night. But it's wonderful. I can't get over how wonderful the human body is. There's no end to learning about its functions, what makes it tick and the dangers it must overcome". Enthusiasm surrounded him like an aura. I looked at the senior. She was gazing upon the freshman with bemusement and understanding. Not too long ago she had felt this wonderment. Farther advanced in learning, she looked upon him as a benevolent older sister might.

As for the chief resident in medicine, he was showing signs of the imperturbable composure recommended by the great Dr. William Osler under the tag: equanimity. An M.D. not only a few years, he was already exhibiting the marks of responsibility which the practice of medicine demands. (Somehow, the M.D. separates the men from the boys.)

The dean, like a proud parent, looked fondly upon all three.

The dean was asked "Don't you experience deep fulfillment in taking these young lives in hand and fashioning them into competent doctors, so they can go out into the world and care for suffering human beings?"

"True", he said. "But the challenge is worthwhile accepting. We teach them the science of medicine, and the art of medicine, which, in combining bring forth a composion and understanding of their fellow man. Whether they make fine physicians or not will depend in part on what they were before they came here, on their heredity and environment".

Looking at the youngsters I know that here were at least a handful of potentially fine physicians. Over 60 similar students would graduate this year. It was hard for me to realize that the University of Miami Medical School is only 13 years old.

I told Dean Nicholson that I equated it in teaching power with the staffs of the finest and oldest medical schools in the country. You could see that he was proud of his school, because he believed it, too. Readers can be thankful for top-notch medical schools, nurturing enthusiasm-filled students, who will be the doctors of tomorrow to take care of you and me.

GIRDLE PROBLEM

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have read your column on girdles for men and am anxious to get one. Will you please give me the address of a firm where I can get fitted? Or, at least, the names of any brands you may recommend.—Mr. T.

Comment: You can readily understand why I draw the line at recommending any commercial products whatever. First thing you know, you'll be exposed to my favorite brand of liquor, the people who manufacture my favorite rocking chair, and the manufacturers of my favorite typewriter.

But seriously, I suggest that you consult your own physician for specific recommendations. He will know the names of reputable firms in your vicinity which specializes in posture garments.

I hope this note will also be helpful to the many who have written queries regarding girdles for men.

Northumberland, most northerly county of England, is the most sparsely populated. Owing to its proximity to the Scots, the county is rich in medieval fortifications of which Alnwick Castle is one. It is the home of the Duke of Northumberland, the principal seat of the Percys, and though much restored, it is perhaps the finest example of a medieval castle in England.

MERCHANTS REWARD FANS FOR HOUR LONG WAIT DEFEAT NEWMARKET 7-3 IN TWO PERIODS

Lindsay Merchants established a four goal lead in the first period Friday and coasted to a 7-3 win over Newmarket Redmen at the Kiwanis Arena.

The game itself was almost an hour late in starting due to travel difficulties by the visiting club, when the vehicle carrying their equipment was ditched near Sunderland. As a result it was past the midnight hour when the contest concluded.

Ray McCabe and Ron Pillsworth led the Merchants Friday night with two goals each while singles came from George Babcock, George Graham and Rick Purdy. Ivan St. John scored two for the Redmen and William Mortson completed their effort.

Lindsay Merchants led 6-2 at the end of the first period and the teams matched single second period goals. Once again the Merchants scored in the first minutes of play, Ray McCabe pulling goalie McGowan out of position before depositing Ron Pillsworth's pass in the mesh. A goal mouth scramble tied the game less than five minutes later and big Bill Mortson gave Doug Broad no chance on his screened shot. George Graham banged Rob Taylor's rebound home at 8:10, and McCabe from Pillsworth repeated at 11:09 to put the Merchants two goals up.

Ivan St. John closed the gap somewhat at 14:11 when he cashed Bellamy's rebound, but two quick goals by Ron Pillsworth in less than a minute followed by Rick Purdy's counter thirty seconds later effectively squelched the Redmen.

Ivan St. John's second goal came at 5:54 of the second period, assisted by Burrows, and this was equalled by George Babcock's blue line bullet that McGowan did not appear to be aware of until the net almost left the framework. This completed the scoring as rookie referee Alex Proctor took great pains not to miss a single infraction, and he caught them all. Twenty seven penalties in all went into the records, with two clusters of four men at one stop in play. The third period in fact was all penalties with fifteen infractions being called, after four in the first period and eight in the second. Gary Toporoski got most mileage out of one infraction with two minutes for fighting and a game misconduct. In the same deal Ron Pillsworth was tagged with a major for fighting.

The Junior "C" round robin series commences its second round this week with Lindsay at Newmarket Thursday night, and Auora at Lindsay Friday night. Newmarket goes to Aurora Tuesday night to start the second round. At present Lindsay and Aurora are tied with three wins and one loss each Newmarket has lost four. The two top teams from this series will play a best of seven series for the group championship and the right to enter provincial play-downs.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

BRIDAL LOVELINESS. What girl does not dream of looking perfection on her wedding day? The reality is certain to surpass the dream if, bride-to-be, you follow a wide-awake beauty program. Like this one:

1. At least a month before your wedding, step up your skin care routine. For the purpose, a gentle complexion brush and a firm body brush are needed. Also wanted are complexion soap, after-bath lotion, and night cream or lotion — all selected to pamper your individual skin type. Application is a daily affair.

Hair beauty comes from brushing, night and morning; from shampooing before the need is apparent; from a shampoo that caters to conditioning and sparkle. Remembering the ring ceremony, prepare your hands by keeping the cuticles oiled; by doubling up on manicures and lotion massages.

2. Three weeks before Your Day, decide on a hairstyle — one that complements both you and your wedding headdress. Then have your tresses shaped accordingly and permanently waved if necessary.

3. At the two-week mark, "rehearse" your cosmetics with your gown. This gives you the chance to replace a garish lipstick or a floury powder. Ideally, your cosmetics should produce the look of natural radiance.

4. Have your wedding set and manicure the day beforehand. That way you avoid stiff locks and flurry. 'Tis a vision you'll be!

"The best of them all" say Oakwood officials

'The best of them all" seemed to sum up the thoughts of those who attended the Oakwood Skating Carnival last week, when hundreds of people turned out to applaud a sparkling programme.

If costumes make a carnival, Oakwood carnival has to be the best, judging by the vast number that were decked in gay array for this event. Miss E. Mailer and J. L. Staples of Lindsay, and reeve Roy Morrison who judged the costume events had a busy and difficult evening and came up with popular decisions in all classes.

Janey and Cameron Jankins of Toronto won the nod in the fairy tale impersonation category as Handy Anne and Handy Andy. Also cleverly depicting their characterization were Frosty, the Snowman, the Dairy Princess, the Valentine Queens, Mr. and Mrs. Oakwood 1893 plus numerous clowns, an old fossil, Jim Dandy, Uncle Sam, and the Hawaian. Rea Gorril, Bobbie West, Leslie Davidson, Harvey Rischmeyer and Mary Squires were among the winners. Other winners were from Lindsay, Port Perry, Oshawa, Woodville, and Little Britain.

Darryl Graham, Norman Staples, and Ronnie Rich won racing events along with Janie Manley, Susanne Webster, and Anne Glassford in the girls events.

Mrs. Noble Hicks skated off with the prize for the most senior citizen on skates, and folks from Toronto travelled the longest distance.

Gordon Easson of Lindsay, was the major winner of the evening bringing home an automatic clothes dryer. Keith West of Toronto won a coffee perc, and Ron Sewell of Oakwook copped the electric frying pan. Arena manager Murray Squires, along with the Community Centre Chairman Lloyd Graham were kingpins in the successful event along with board members William Morton, Hugh Davidson, Leonard Webster, Marsel Webster, and Roy Tremeer.

NATIONAL ELECTRIC WEEK

Electricity has become one of the most important miracles of this modern world. Not only is it literally the "slave of the lamp" but also the source of light and heat, and the motive power of the industrial world. But it can also be a destroyer. Worn or broken cords improperly installed equipment or over taxed capacity may cause serious fires.

The week this month which is dedicated to electricity could be an excellent time for thorough inspection of all electrical furnishings of the kitchen and the home in general. A qualified. electrician's advice might possibly prevent the home from going up in flames.

World news today

Ottawa — Progressive Conservative Party Leader John Diefenbaker has come out of the weekend meetings of the National party executive and a caucus of Conservative MP's with his leadership intact.

The intrigues began Friday with the caucus at which Diefenbaker was given an almost solid vote of confidence.

He didn't fare so well at the executive committee meeting, but still carried majorities on all major questions including three which were answered secretly by the committee members following the actual session.

The margins were reported small-fewer than five votes-but still enough to keep Diefenbaker's control of the party firm.

Meanwhile, Leon Balcer, the Quebec Conservative whose demands led to the executive committee session says he is satisfied.

Balcer has, however, challenged the executive to make public the results of the voting on the secret questionaire. The three questions asked question were: Should Diefenbaker attend the flag-raising ceremonies on Parliament Hill February 15th? — Should there be a meeting to discuss the leadership? — And what did the executive think of Diefenbaker's plans to create two new party bodies—one to deal with the national policy and the other to keep touch with grass roots organization.

Sudan — Queen Elizabeth II flew to Khartoum, Sudan today from Ethiopia for a state visit despite "A possible danger to her life" from unrest anl political strike in this largest African nation. The Queen, her husband Prince Philip and the rest of the Royal party left Asmara, Ethiopia this morning.

Missouri — A gunman in Brazito, Missouri, picked the wrong car to use as a getaway car following a grocery store robbery.

Not only did the car fail to start . . . but the car belonged to an off-duty prison guard, who promptly captured Barr.

Tokyo — Communist China's initial reaction to the U.S. retaliatory raid on North Viet Nam today was relatively mild.

The New China News Agency official voice of the Peking Government, reported the incident in detail, quoting both Western accounts and those from the North Vietnamese.

The Peking reports echoed North Vietnamese charges that attacks were "An extremely serious provocation by U.S. Imperialism".

The news agency said the Communist attacks on Pleiku in South Viet Nam were "a spectacular victory".

But so far, Communist China has issued no official statement on the latest developments in Viet Nam.

Tokyo — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin pledged Russian military assistance to North Viet Nam in the event of a U.S. attack. Kosygin's promise was made in a speech delivered several hours before the American air strike against North Viet Nam. He demanded that the United Sates withdraw "All U.S. military personnel" from South Viet Nam.

Moscow — Russia said the U.S. air raid against North Viet Nam was an "aggressive" action leading to "extremely serious consequences". Western observers said the U.S. attack put the Kremlin on the spot because it was made shortly after Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin promised military aid to the Hanoi Government in the event if a U.S. attack.

Pleiku, South Viet Nam — An estimated 44 Vietnamese security guards, half the available force, were on duty when Viet Cong guerillas attacked the airfield and barracks at Pleiku in South Viet Nam. The attack left eight Americans dead and 109 wounded, the highest U.S. casualty toll in a single battle in the Viet Nam War.

London — Russia's recent underground nuclear explosion was related to the possible development of a new Soviet weapons system. Sources in London said the post-Khrushchev leadership is anxious to catch up to the United States in the nuclear weapons field.

Vietiane, Laos — Diplomatic sources said the family of ousted Laotian Vice Premier Phoumi Nosavan was being held hostage to prevent the rebel leader from attempting another coup against the government of Premier Souvanna Phouma. Phoumi, accused of masterminding the bloody coup attempt by rightwing military leaders, fled Laos last week and applied for political asylum in neighborring Thailand.

WHO PAYS

if you fail to keep your automobile liability insurance in force and you are responsible for an automobile accident resulting in a claim?

You do!

Here are the reasons why you should always carry automobile liability insurance:

1. If your automobile insurance lapses, you become liable to a fine of up to $500 unless you immediately renew your insurance or pay a $20 uninsured motor vehicle fee at a motor vehicle licence agency office.
2. Payment of the $20 fee gives no protection whatever against a subsequent judgment against you. Some judgments may be in excess of $25,000—a serious blow to the future of any young man and to his family as well.
3. If there is a claim against you as an uninsured motor vehicle owner and you are liable, the claim will be paid by the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, but you must repay the fund. You will not be allowed to own or operate a motor vehicle until you make arrangements to repay the fund.

When you apply for your 1965 Ontario licence plates be sure you have an automobile liability insurance policy in force and avoid payment of the extra $20 fee. Be a safe, responsible driver and protect your future.

Mrs. Helen MacIntosh of Bobcaygeon spent the weekend at the homes of her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brandon and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Clerk and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross White of Toronto were week end guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Russell Webber and sister Fay.

W.A. to hold kitchen clean-up

Cannington (PNS) — The Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Church had a busy week commencing with an Induction Service of the W.A. executive officers by Rev R. Davidson on January 10th followed by their regular monthly meeting when plans for work and activities for 1965 were put in hand. A small committee was appointed to decide on special projects for the 1965 bazaar and in view of the success of the sale of embroidered pillow cases this would be continued and orders taken.

The name of a prayer Partner had not yet been received but Mrs. Sherman was appointed as Prayer Partner Secretary.

The Sunday School Christmas party in the capable hands of Mrs. Davidson had been a huge success and attendances were still good. Mrs. F. Graper read letters of appreciation to Little Helpers by Mrs. Len Woods. It was unanimously agreed that a token gift be given Dawn Parliament for the wonderful work she had done in selling Christmas and greeting cards for the church.

An all-day quilting bee was arranged for February 4th with a pot luck lunch and anyone not wishing to sew could help clean kitchen cupboards. A Valentine supper at All Saints on Feb. 10th commencing at 6 p.m. for the ladies of the congregations of the Anglican Churches in Sunderland, Beaverton, and Cannington with a surprise programme to follow and it was hoped all would make an effort to attend.

Mrs. C. Durance gave her first talk on the 1965 study book, 'This is my Calling' and dealt with personal reflections of Michael Barclay, journalist and layman who feels many churches spend far too much time on social activities and fund raising projects rather than concerning themselves with the problems and needs of those out-side the church.

The meeting closed in prayer and the hostesses Mrs. A. Samis and Mrs. L. Parliament, provided the lunch.

County Welfare Unit both logical and inevitable, says Administrator

The answer to the problems of welfare administration is for smaller areas and municipalities to consolidate welfare services under a central authority or county council, Lindsay Welfare Administrator Harry Peirce told Lindsay Rotarians yesterday during a talk on County Welfare Units.

"A larger unit of administration in any field with more modern methods is simply plain good business", he said, and leads to more efficiency and equal treatment of recipients of the many welfare programmes".

Mr. Peirce told the Rotarians that in the past few years much study and discussion has been given the question of larger administration units for welfare purposes. "Legislation is and has been available under the General Welfare Assistance Act to permit local municipalities to transfer or consolidate their welfare responsibilities", he said.

The administrator said it was conceded that the smaller municipalities have difficulty in giving the necessary breadth of service to their cases and said the acceptable approach today is that of assuring proper and fair standards of assistance, and the carrying out of rehabilitation and the more important restorative measures.

The prominent difficulties and conditions involving persons who may be eligible for assistance include Unemployment, including victims of automation; old age; ill health, including acute and chronic illness of a physical or mental nature or both; widowhood; desertion; separation; divorce, alcoholism; easy-credit; lack of adequate housing; teen-age marriage; children born out of wedlock; chronic destitution and parental delinquency.

"These are the more important causes of the troubles affecting some of our citizens" said Mr. Peirce.

The administrator said it is doubtful with the increase of automation and the inclusion of automation and computors that there will be any decrease in the difficulties facing these individuals and families so the public commitments needed.

County Welfare

Mr. Peirce said larger unit control of the welfare programmes seemed inevitable. Sever. "In fact", he said, "I believe an inevitable step".

"The county therefore becomes the Municipality charged with the welfare of its citizens", continued Mr. Peirce, "larger units of administration would have enough cases from the area of municipalities to make it worth while employing full time staff, with the knowledge and training to bring the proper attention and skill to the individual human problems that make up a welfare case load."

Welfare Administrator Peirce said the municipalities could go further than the mere doling out of monies month by month as the only form of assistance. "Restoration to independence through re-training, rehabilitation re-employment or the reconciliation of families should be the aim" he said.

Complete Range

With a Central Welfare Authority a complete range of programmes can be implemented said the speaker, including in General Welfare, nursing home arrangements, visiting nurses and homemakers, low rental housing, re-training and employment services. "But, above all", he said, "fair and equalized treatment for those in distressed circumstances."

"Need and distress know no boundaries, they affect urban and rural areas alike", said Mr. Peirce.

"Having been in politics and a member of county council for some years", added the administrator, "I know how hard it may be to promote new horizons, however I am convinced the time has arrived for all public spirited persons regardless of former affiliations or past thinking to explore and promote more efficient systems and the handling of public monies to meet the needs of an expanding population."

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION MEMBER FOR C OF C

The Chamber of Commerce will ask the town council to select a member of the Industrial Commission to sit on the directorate of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce.

In a motion which carried at the annual meeting Monday Chamber members indicated they preferred that the immediate past chairman of the commission receive the appointment.

The Chamber also decided to re-institute a former practice of inviting the president of the Lindsay Business and Professional Women's Association as an ex officio member of the board of directors.

LITTLE DAMAGE IN VISKING "FLASH FIRE"

A flash fire, believed to have been caused by a spark from a ventilating fan motor, occurred in a ventilating duct at the Union Carbide Visking plant in Lindsay before noon Tuesday.

Visking Divison Services manager, J.J. Becke told "The Post" at noon that little damage occurred. Lindsay Fire Department responded to the automatic alarm and assisted in smoke and fume removal. He said there might be a slight delay in resuming operation in the area until the ventilating fan is repaired.

Fire Chief Arnold Watson said town equipment attended the scene and assisted in clearing the area of fumes. The Chief said the Visking Division plant brigade were on the job and had contained the flames. The Lindsay department returned to the fire hall approximately 90 minutes after the call was received.

LOCAL ARTISTS VARIETY SHOW AT ACADEMY

The newly formed Women's Guild of the Academy Theatre Foundation will hold a Variety night entitled "Among My Souvenirs" on Saturday, March 20th using local artists. The programme will be directed by well-known former radio personality Gloria Barrett.

The purpose of the night, said director Gloria Barrett, is to raise money for the Guild project of furnishing the upstairs reception room in the theatre, to promote local talent and give an opportunity to perform, and a further reason is to interest the surrounding districts by using people from the surrounding area for the show. This may be the beginning of a series of such shows said Gloria Barrett.

Appearing in the programme will be Beverley Richardson, John Moore, Robert Tompkins, Peggy McMullen, Eric and Joyce Freeborn, Al Kirk, Pat Gordon, Malcolm Bradt (a western feature), Lionel Gervais (old time violin) and Carlson Bowes (classic violin) and Brenda Junkin (tap dancing). Members of Mrs. Muir's School of Dancing will present one ballet and a Scottish number. Other artists include Linda Jones, Bob Kettle (accordionist), Paul Skipworth, Jane Norris and Don Macarthur with his six-piece brass band from the LCVI.

The accompanist for the evening will be Kay Cook.

The Women's Guild committee putting on the show consists of Elizabeth McMullen, Hattie Bate and Kay Pugh with Gloria Barrett as director. The stage manager is Lloyd McMullen.

Chamber to meet Tuesday mornings

Chamber of Commerce meetings will be held on Tuesday morning at 8:15 a.m. rather than Monday. A motion passed at the annual meeting of the Chamber Monday changed the meeting day from the first Monday of the month to the first Tuesday of the month because some of the members felt there was more to do in their businesses Monday morning after the weekends.

Record number of calls for town ambulance

The ambulance report for the month of January presented by Dr. Gill showed 39 calls answered during the month. Dr. Gill said this was the most calls handled in any month since the inception of the service, "this is the first month we have handled over thirty calls".

Mayor Holtom suggested a possible average of 1 call per day would hardly warrant the purchase of a second ambulance.

Councillor Russell Taylar explained that the need was for a larger unit rather than a second one. He indicated that the converted station wagon now in use, while in good condition and well equipped, did not provide sufficient head room for the treatment of patients in transit. "To maintain the best of service we need a larger vehicle" said Mr. Taylor. Dr. Gill told council members that the purchase of a new ambulance would upgrade the service. He said a trade-in value could be put on the old unit, but it would be so low that it might be wise to keep the vehicle for stand-by purposes.

Following further discussion regarding rates, Mayor Holtom explained that the ambulance service from the fire hall was set up to provide service to the public at cost but he said it was possibly time to re-consider the present rates that have remained constant with the thought of possibly raising the rates to meet current expenditures. Council members were told the present service could pay its way if no charge was made for the services of the firemen who attend on calls.

Council or Commission?

At Lindsay council meeting Monday evening Councillor Russell Taylor suggested that the Lindsay Hydro Commission should be responsible for town lighting as well as supplying hydro services. Mr. Taylor suggested that the hydro would be a more suitable body to supervise the lighting of the town than council.

In the village of Port Stanley in Elgin County a move was made by the local council to abolish the local public utilities commission and have the work of the hydro department and water board carried out by the village council. The ratepayers turned down the proposition six to one. In another southern Ontario village the Council decided to abolish the Commission and in the by-law providing for annual elections no provision was made for the election of commissioners. So strongly did the ratepayers feel about this situation that the council reversed its decision and the commission was saved.

These incidents are of interest because some members of the Ontario Legislature have suggested that local municipal commissions be made the responsibility of council. The Bracebridge Herald-Gazette commenting on this subject recently said "It is sufficient to say, probably that operation of utilities is a business matter in which tax money is not involved, and it is a good principle to separate business operations from government. Another consideration which may have escaped those who say municipal councils could handle the work of commissioners is that in very many cases the 350 or more commissions in Ontario have been established with the consent of the electors. It would appear to be an arbitrary act for the Province to set aside such local voted approvals and it is improbable that such action will be taken."

There is no suggestion in Lindsay that council "take over" the hydro commission. Quite the reverse. Councillor Taylor by suggesting the hydro commission look after the street lighting programme is suggesting they tax hydro consumers to pay their tax bills to pay for the installation of the lights. This should be discouraged, for Lindsay lights in many places are very poor and it behooves Council to do something about it, not making the matter off on a commission that is doing a highly satisfactory job of providing hydro for the residents of the town.

Snow Removal

At Monday evening's council meeting works crews were praised for the fast removal of snow in town following last week's storm. We in the downtown area agree the snow was cleared fast and efficiently and this made life much more pleasant, however do snowplows ever visit roads like Ardmore or Glenelg?

The sidewalk snowplow seems most inadequate for its task and the condition of Lindsay sidewalks is such that people are forced to "live dangerously" and walk on the roads.

Work crews can only clear roads and sidewalks where they are sent and can only do these properly with efficient equipment. The snow clearing operations appear to have deteriorated since the time Lloyd Pound was the chairman of the Board of Works.

Serve as doctors

About 120 doctors from Ontario have offered their services to their country for such service as may be necessary. Among those who have qualified as officers and who will go with the third contingent is an old Lindsay boy, Dr. H. H. Eyres, a son of J. G. Eyres. Dr. Eyres was born and brought up in Lindsay and attended the Collegiate Institute here. For the past three years Dr. Eyres has been practicing in Toronto.

Another Lindsay boy who has offered to serve is Dr. S. J. N. Magwood, who also has many friends in Lindsay.

Dr. I. D. Hayes of Minden is still another Victoria County man to offer his services.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Precious Books

The date of many of the old volumes in Oxford University's famous library—the Bodleian—can be assessed from the position of the holes in their covers. As May Hankey explained in a recent BBC talk, it was the custom up to the end of the eighteenth century to chain all books belonging to the libraries. Holes were punched in the covers and a staple attached to secure the chain. As the position of these holes varied through the centuries, it is possible to assess the date from the marks.

The Bodleian was founded in 1598 by Sir Thomas Bodley, who after a distinguished academic career, and ten years' service on diplomatic missions for Queen Elizabeth I, devoted the rest of his life to the founding of a library for his beloved university. With infinite care he restored the vast and ancient room, called Duke Humfrey's room after Humfrey, Duke of Gloucester, which forms the centre of the present Bodleian. Judging from an extract quoted by May Hankey, Sir Thomas sometimes found the presence of a host of craftsmen as trying as 'having the workmen in' is to people today. "Within this fortnight," he wrote one Christmas Eve. "I trust I shall have ended with my carpenters, joyners, carvers, glasiers, and all that idle rabble; and then I go in hand with making up my bars, locks, hasps, grates, chains and gimmloes of iron, belonging to the fastening and riveting of the books."

It's Different in Jersey

Lower taxation, milder climate, beautiful coasts and a distinctive character are attractions that draw many people, particularly retired people, to live in the Channel Islands which, though British, differ in many aspects of government and custom from the mainland of Britain.

John Woodman, one-time Chief Justice of the Seychelles, who has also spent many years practicing Law in France, spoke about some of these differences in a BBC 'Woman's Hour' broadcast from Jersey, largest of the Cannel Islands, where he now lives.

He pointed out that Jersey had its own parliament, called 'The States', and enjoyed a very considerable degree of legislative autonomy. "English law has never been applied as a body to Jersey. Laws passed by the British parliament do not apply to Jersey unless Jersey is specially mentioned in them and, then, they are presented to the States for registration. The basis of Jersey law is not English law but the ancient customary law of Normandy." This was because the Channel Islands had originally been part of the Duchy of Normandy and had come under the British Crown only by reason of William of Normandy's conquest of Britain in 1066.

Among interesting survivals of feudalism on the island, where a percentage of the population—though a diminishing one—speaks a patois deriving from the old Norman French. Mr. Woodman mentioned the medieval procedure known as the 'Clameur de Haro'. "Anyone whose rights are being infringed can shout in the presence of witnesses: Haro! Haro! Haro! A l'aide mon Prince. On me fait tort.' (Come to my aid, my Prince, I am being wronged). This has the same effect as an interim injunction, to hold up proceedings until the matter has been investigated by the Court.

Another difference is that Jersey police are honorary, that is, unpaid. And a fine point, "If a man steals your car he is charged with 'borrowing' it. After all the Island is so small (45 square miles) it is not usually very difficult to find the stolen car again."

Lonely Calling

"It is a curious fact that if you paint, people will look at your pictures however bad. They will admire your needlework, your handicrafts, your knitting at all stages. They will listen to your music. Writing is the one creative activity that no-one has time for until it is in print. I have found that even my nearest and dearest will think up any excuse for not reading in manuscript something I have written." — Celia Cross.

The most modern railway research centre in Canada has been opened at Montreal by Canadian National Railways. Engineers, chemists, physicists, metallurgists and technicians devote their skills to applied research, technical control and quality control of materials in the new centre, (above).

Large savings are realized through the development and application of new or better materials and devices for railway use such as textiles, plastics, sanitary chemicals, cleaning materials, lubricants, metals and rail, highway and marine equipment.

One of the specialized machines in the centre is the Fadometer, left, which tests the resistance to fading in fabrics.

A leader in railway research and development, CN has a number of unique discoveries to its credit, one of the most recent being an electronic scale which weighs cars in motion, and believed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Pork Makes a Tasty Main Dish

Pork chop suey, a favorite Chinese dish, combines cubes of pork, crisp celery and bean sprouts in a spicy sauce. Ontario pork is a good buy this time of year remind specialists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, and your family will certainly welcome a hearty, steaming stew some cold evening. This recipe is particularly convenient for last minute meals, because the meat is cooked earlier and then refrigerated. About 20 minutes before serving time the veget ables are added and cooked. Leftover roast pork may be cut in cubes and used to replace fresh pork.

Pork Chop Suey

½ pound boneless pork shoulder, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 2 tablespoons cooking oil, ¼ cup coarsely chopped onion, ¼ cup coarsely chopped green peppers, 1 cup celery cut in half lengthwise and then cut in 1-inch diagonal strips, 20-ounce can of bean sprouts, 3 tablespoons warm water, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon soy sauce.

Early in the day or the night before, sprinkle meat with salt and pepper; add to hot oil in skillet and cook about 10 minutes, browning only very lightly. Add onion and cook 5 minutes, until meat is fork tender. Refrigerate.

About 20 minutes before the meal, add green pepper & celery to meat mixture. Cover and bring to boil; cook 5 minutes. Add bean sprouts. Return to boiling cornstarch, soy sauce, and warm water. Stir into hot mixture and cook until thickened. More soy sauce may be added if desired.

Serve on fluffy hot rice and top with a few heated chow mein noodles. Four servings.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remedy the appearance of a felt hat that has been soaked in the rain?

. After letting it dry partially, press out the creases in the crown. Then turn down the brim and place the hat in a cool place away from any heat, and let it dry thoroughly. Then reshape the crown, and brush the hat gently. If you perform all this carefully, your hat should be restored to "like-new" condition.

Q. How can I make the slicing of butter or margarine into neat squares much easier?

A. Fold the paper in which the butter comes over the blade of your knife and cut with this. It will make a smooth slice, and the butter will not cling or stick to your knife.

Q. What can I do when a fabric is too delicate for the use of ordinary starch?

A. Try adding a little granulated sugar to boiling water, and adding this to your rinse water.

plow has been over the sidewalk.

Councillor Carl Brown suggested on behalf of several downtown business men that the sidewalk plow be kept off certain downtown sidewalks. He said it only packed the snow in such a manner that men hired to shovel the walks had to use an axe to remove the snow.

Works board chairman Dave Logan was heard to remark before council opened that the new equipment was not working properly, and town engineer Eric Booth indicated that it was not the intention to remove the snow down to the sidewalk with the new equipment. The board of works crew were praised for their fast handling of the street snow removal in last week's storm.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — Doris Day abhors the title Queen of the Movies, but that is precisely what she is.

The top boxoffice draw for four consecutive years and a steady member of the top ten for more than a decade, the blonde and freckled star refuses to analyze her success.

"I don't even think about being at the top of the popularity polls" she said. "But its lovely to have people like my work and accept me".

Miss Day was perched on a divan in her trailer dressing room outside stage 14 at 20th-Century-Fox where she is starring in "Do Not Disturb". The title is apt. Few persons on or off the lot have the temerity to disturb the reigning Queen of Hollywood.

To say she gets the kid glove treatment is understatement. Interviewers are screened more carefully than a guy with bulging pockets at Checkpoint Charlie.

Her trailer is beautifully appointed in light blue and white. It is here she retires between scenes to nibble on pretzels and hard candy. Publicists, assistant directors and other functionaries hang around outside as if awaiting an audience.

But it doesn't match up. Once in the presence, Miss Day's natural friendliness evaporates expectations of regality.

At 40 she is remarkably youthful. Her face is cherubic and untinted. Her blue eyes hint mischief. Her figure inspires whistles.

Still, she is somewhat defensive. About what, you she knows. She has been rapped in the press, frequently unfairly, for many years and therefore is typewriter-shy. Her answers to questions are guarded.

Asked if she could explain why people say, "Let's go see the new Doris Day picture" long after they've quit saying such things about other movie stars, she shrugged.

"I imagine the important thing is identification with the character on the screen", she said. "An actress can be so beautiful that she becomes remote and women cannot identify with her. But I have the image of the girl next door.

"They see and say, 'If she can be in pictures, so can I'."

This, of course, is nonsense. If every girl next door looked like Doris Day, every man in his right mind would be knocking on the door next door.

Miss Day has a fresh, whole-some beauty that is rare enough in the glamour queen next door, much less the stenographer, student, housewife or pretzel bender down the street.

Told that she was mistaken, Miss Day bristled. She is not accustomed to that sort of thing.

"Maybe it's because I am able to make contact with people from the screen, as I do off-screen", she suggested. "That could be it".

Maybe. But most moviegoers would agree that men admire her sex appeal, and women would like to copy it.

It could be that simple.

PS board holds monthly meeting

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — The January meeting of the Fenelon Falls Public School Board was held in the school with all members present.

The chairman, Miss M. De-Mill called for the minutes of the December meeting which were read and adopted on motion of Messrs Elliott and Graham.

Bills payable in the amount of $598.01 were ordered to be paid on motion of Mr. G. Wood seconded by Mr. M. Elliott and carried.

About the Composite Insurance policy, it was moved by Mr. G. Wood, seconded by Mr. K. Sangster that the premium on the composite policy be paid on a yearly basis. Carried.

Mr. G. B. Dalby, the principal presented his report for the month. The first matter he spoke of was a complaint about the number of dogs running at large, congregating at the school and bothering the children. one of whom had been bitten, though not very severely The secretary was instructed to notify the council regarding this matter.

The next question was the matter of when the new flag should be flown. This was left to Mr. Dalby's own judgement, but it was suggested that it would be advisable to wait until the official date, to be decided by the Federal government.

Mr. Dalby said that the finals in the Public Speaking contest will be held during the month of February.

On motion of Mr. K. Sangster the meeting adjourned at 9-15.

Cambridge St. travellers go "at own risk"

Mayor Joseph Holtom told members of council Monday night that extra money will have to be spent on Cambridge street south as necessary, to keep the street safe for travel.

The Town engineer, Eric Booth told council members that any gravel put in the pot holes will only be thrown out by the traffic and wasted. He said it was impossible to achieve any benefit by grading while the ground is frozen, and some council members suggested closing sections of the street rather than waste money on more gravel.

The intersection of Russell and Cambridge was pin-pointed as a troublesome area and Councillor Neil said his car scraped on bottom when he left the pavement on Russell to cross the intersection.

Mayor Holtom moved that additional gravel be applied to fill the pot-holes as deemed necessary by the engineer, and signs be put up warning public that they travel the area at their own risk.

VARIETY NIGHT

Preparations are really starting to come alive for the Variety Night to be presented on the 26th and 27th of February. Two plays are being rehearsed and the gymnastic team has been practising for two weeks under the direction of Mr. Skitch. Other presentations, such as the fasion show, the choir and various skits are getting into full swing. Here's hoping that this year's show will be an even greater success than the past years' efforts.

The Juniors were also victorious winning 27-14. The top junior point getters were J. Webster and B. Johnston. STUDENT COUNCIL

By Ron Beall

At the last Student Council meeting, it was decided to cancel the Valentine Dance in favour of having two Basketball dances, one on Friday, Feb. 8 and the other on Friday February 19. On the night scheduled for the Valentine Dance, the Basketbal teams and a number of spectators will be away, so it would be difficult to attract a large crowd to a dance. The money from these two dances will be used to make "Moonlight Aloha", our Spring Prom, the most lavish Formal that F.F.D.H.S. has ever seen. The extra money will be used to provide a better orchestra and a banquet of authentic Hawaiian food.

Failed to yield, no proof of insurance — man fined

Kenneth Leonard Deck, 33, presently living at 27 St. Paul street in Lindsay, and formerly of Nova Scotia, pleaded guilty to charges of failing to yield the right of way, and failing to produce proof of insurance on nis car in Police court Monday. The charges arose from a two car collision at the intersection of Simcoe and Ridout streets about 8:00 p.m. January 21st.

Sgt. Gordon Eberts, who investigated the accident, told court that marks measured at the scene indicated that the accused's car skidded a distance of 100 feet into the intersection of Ridout street as he proceeded north-bound on Simcoe street, past a yield sign. He said the car of the accused was struck just before it cleared the intersection by a car that was westbound on Ridout street. The sergeant estimated damage to the accused's car at $50 to $100 and the damage to the westbound car which belonged to Earl Robert Mohr of 35 Maryknoll Avenue, at $300. He said the accused admitted that his Nova Scotia insurance policy had lapsed.

Magistrate Ian Munro fined Kenneth Deck $10.00 and costs for failing to yield, and the minimum $50.00 and costs for failing to provide proof of insurance.

World news today

New York City — Eighty-four persons were killed last night when an Eastern Airline DC-7 crashed in a huge ball of fire in the Atlantic off New York City.

The prop-driven plane plummeted into the ocean just five minutes after taking off from Kennedy International Airport in New York City. The aircraft was enroute to Atlanta, via several southern cities.

Vessels are scouring the Atlantic, in search of bodies. Three bodies were picked up by midnight and helicopters were dropping flares over the area through the night to help the search.

The Coast Guard had earlier reported that personel at a station near the crash scene saw the plane explode before hitting the water. However, incoming crewmen on two planes who saw most of the crash could not confirm that the four-engine aircraft exploded before impact.

Preliminary investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board also reported that no evidence of sabotage could be detected.

Pasengers aboard the ill-fated plane included business executives, two opera singers, and a beauty queen.

Viet Nam — The Kremlin is saying there is not "a single grain of truth" in the American position that U-S and South Vietnamese raids on North Vietnam were reprisals for Viet Cong raids on American military installations in South Viet Nam.

The Kremlin calls the American position a dodge.

In a statement on the Vietnamese crisis reported by Tass — Moscow says it will be forced to take "further measures" to protect North Vietnamese security following the allled bombing raids.

In advance of the Russian government statement — Premier Kosygin visiting the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi, demanded "an end to armed provocations." The Russian leader also demanded that U-S troops get out of South Viet Nam.

The Tass statement said no one should doubt the Soviet Union would fulfill its International duty to its brother Communist State of North Viet Nam. The Russian statement also warned the raids could nulify recent progress in Soviet-American relations.

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — News item: "A Northport, N.Y. housewife used a bobbypin to pick the locks on handcuffs robbers used to shackle her family and a friend to a pole in the basement."

So, once again, the noble bobbypin comes to the rescue.

It's done it before. Created originally to hold a woman's hair in place or to create pin curls, the bobbypin turns out to have as many uses as the safety pin, to be as versatile as a pair of pliers.

It probably saved many a life in World War II. In once figured in the investigation of a sensational murder case. And even the giants of industry use this tiny piece of metal in a most practical manner.

That Northport housewife was Mrs Milton Potter wife of a horse dealer Mrs. Potter, her husband, their 11-year-old daughter Carolyn, and Charles Lupton, 17, a family friend, were handcuffed together around a basement pole by two bandits who escaped with $5,000 in jewelry and $600 in cash.

Police tried to pick the lock with the bobbypin. It didn't work for them. But a detective said of Mrs. Potter, "she took her bobbypin and spent an hour getting one handcuff picked." The rest was easy.

Checking around on assorted uses for the bobbypin, I located a man at the American Iron and Steel Institute who remembered it was standard equipment for him during the war when he was a private fighting in the European theatre.

"I used it to unjam my rifle," he explained. During combat when time lost might mean death, the pin was used to work loose any cartridge that jammed in the breech of the automatic firing weapon.

"Don't use my name," he pleaded. "Once I wrote an item about this and was unjustly dealt with mail from other veterans. They'd carried bobbypins for the same purpose all through the war."

Police even checked out bobbypins found on a wash stand after the strangling, Jan. 27, 1955, of the famous financier, woman fancier, Serge Rubinstein, in his apartment on fifth avenue.

Horace Soloman, vice-president of Solo Products Corp., recalled that the police asked his aid.

Solomon could identify the pins. that was all, he said. Rubinstein's murderer never has been found.

Solomon's company, which calls itself the world's largest manufacturer of bobby pins, rollers, hair nets, and such, numbers among its customers Alcoa and A T & T.

He said they use bobbypins to hold teletype communications tapes.

On smaller scale, the bobbypin has been used in emergency to hold up a hem, to resecure a button, as a tie clasp, to repair auto carburetors, as cotter pins, paper clips, book marks, pipe cleaners, to blend face powder, and to aid in construction of children's modeling kits.

Undoubtedly, it's figured as the silent corespondent in divorce action when the wife, a brunette, finds blonde bobbypins in hubby's pocket or car, or when blonde wife finds brunette bobbypins.

If you think the bobbypin went into a decline when the big hair rollers fastened with clips came in, you're wrong. Iron and steel institute said that 10,000 tons of bobby and hair pin wire are shipped each year.

When Solomon heard of the Northport housewife's ingenuity with picking a lock with the bobbypin, he commented, "sounds as if we're in the burglary tool business, doesn't it?"

"The truth is," he said, "a hairpin is better."

Maple leaf flag ordered

An item included in the accounts of the town property committee passed at committee meeting of council to cover the purchase of a nylon flag was further commented on. Mayor Holtom said he presumed this was for the maple leaf flag, and in answer to a question, indicted he had not planned any particular ceremony for break ing out the new flag. "Perhaps" he suggested, "it would be more appropriate to wait until the province adopts a flag. Normally we fly the flag of Canada, and the Union Jack". The Mayor moved that the clerk be authorized to fly the new flag "Perhaps we should sing 'O Canada' in French", quipped the mayor.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

PHILOSOPHICAL JOURNEY: YOU LIVE BUT ONCE

As you can understand, I receive many letters of exhortation from readers of the column, tips on what to tell you is good for illness A all the way to illness Z. Occassionally I reecive a philosophy of life to transmit to you. This is from one we shall call Mr. X:

"Begin it! Begin it! Begin the darn thing. They won't listen, but tell them. Before you die, tell them. Tell them that some day they will be dead, too. The trouble is nobody thinks he'll ever be dead. Everybody thinks he is here forever.

"Tell the darn fools they throw their lives away in so believing. Tell them the only way to get anything out of life at all is to know. To be aware. That some day they'll be dead. Yes. Stretched out in a closed coffin. Not breathing. Not feeling. Not having any ambitions or regrets.

"Tell the darn fools they're worrying themselves sick over nothing. Ambitions? The devil with them. Tell them to do their best and leave the worrying for fools.

"Tell them they haven't got a permanent lease. They're only here on a weekend vacation. Where did they get the idea that the property is theirs forever?

"Tell them they've been invited to spend a little time here. And to make the most of it. For what do they do? They waste in it wondering and worrying about tomorrow. To morrow? How about today? Who knows about tomorrow? Yesterday's regrets? Plow them under!

BE TIME MISERS

"Tell them to be time misers. To collect their days one by one. To count them in glee. To live them one at a time.

"Tell them that any other way of life is a fool's way.

"Tell them some day they'll be dead; and perhaps they'll wake up in time to enjoy what they've got now."

Comment: Strong medicine? Taste bitter? Well, this is how some people take it and proper on it. Thought you'd like to share this with me.

Of course, it has been stated in similar vein by countless philosophers. For example, Epictetus said: "Let death and exile, and all other things which appear terrible, be daily before your eyes, but death chiefly; and you will never entertain any abject thought nor too eagerly covet anything".

And how ironic these words of John Fitzgerald Kennedy: "For in the final analysis, our most basic common link is that we all inhibit this small planet. We all breathe the same air. We all cherish our children's future. And we are all mortal."

Two more quotes and we'll call it a day for what must have been strong medicine for many readers:

Samuel Johnson wrote: "The disturbers of our happiness in this world are our desires, our griefs, and our fears, and to all these the consideration of mortality is a sure remedy".

And Anton Chekov said: "We live our life only once, and if you have not lived in the days that were given you, then count them as lost. Yes, lost, lost!"

End of today's philosophical journey. (Sleep well).

PHOTOGRAPHING YOUR HOBBY

Gardening, model railroading, stamp collecting, fishing — whatever your leisure time activity — photography can make it more interesting, more productive and more rewarding.

Pictures serve as records, momentos, publicity material, teaching devices and make excellent showpieces for the home or office desk.

Let's look at some picture-taking hints for hobbies. Although we'll concentrate on two specific activities, gardening and model railroading, keep in mind that the same principles can readily be adapted to any hobby — your hobby.

If your interest happens to be raising flowers, you've a goldmine of photographic material.

If you want soft lighting on a flower when shooting on a bright sunny day, hold a sheet over the flower forming a canopy. This will diffuse the light and produce an interesting effective glow.

To obtain a "dewy" effect, sprinkle a few drops of water on the bloom. To photograph a single bloom that is among massed flowers or against a distracting background, put skyblue cardboard behind the flower to set it apart from its neighbours.

You can get bigger-than-life close-ups of blooms with a simple snapshot camera by using an inexpensive close-up attachment and adapter ring. See your camera dealer, he'll be happy to discuss your camera and close-up photography.

Take a lesson from flower photography; whatever your hobby, show your material at its finest, eliminate distracting backgrounds, and get close to your subject matter.

Model railroads, or any table-top construction, come to life with pictures taken at a realistic perspective.

When photographing your lay-out for example, place your camera so that it will record what you would see if you were "in" the scene. Low camera position, therefore, is all-important for realistic perspective.

Lighting is difficult in tight, close-up quarters. If you don't care to use floodlight lamps, you can use one of the high-speed films and shoot under the light ordinarily available in the room.

If you're willing to experiment, try protographing the "night run" or night activity in the station, bracketing your exposure with a number of different "f" stops.

Remember, in photographing hobbies, the three vital points to control are perspective, lighting and focusing.

Paddle-wheelers will carry visitors across the pond. On the right is the terminal of the transport system. To the left of the marina will be located the Paris-Montreal Tower, a 1065-foot structure to commemorate the founding of Montreal by an expedition from Paris in 1642.

IODE to celebrate 65th birthday on February 13th

The I.O.D.E. (Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire) will celebrate its 65th Birthday on February 13th.

The impact of the work of the Order's 976 Chapters is felt in Canada as well as in countries throughout the world and, at Founder's Day meetings from coast to coast, the members will reflect with pride on the achievements of the Order which has grown from a small group of Canadian women, to a large National voluntary organization, raising over $1,000,000. a year for education, emergency welfare and other community services.

Accomplishments in the educational field where more than $350,000. is spent annually, continue to expand.

63 schools and 10 hostels in the Yukon and Northwest Territories have been adopted by the chapters. 36 schools in Northern and Southern Labrador, and 39 remote and isolated schools in Newfoundland have also been assigned.

Apart from the schools in Canada, the I.O.D.E. has adopted secondary schools in The West Indies and British Honduras. School adoption involves gifts of new libraries, prize books, records, pianos, geographic slides, projectors, and varied visual aids.

Then I.O.D.E. in every province continues to support Canadian Arts. Recently the National Chapter of Canada award ed a second bursary, amounting to $300.00 to the bicultural National Theatre School of Canada.

This year is the fortieth anniversary of the I.O.D.E. calendar project. The 1965 edition has a new format which includes original designs by two Micmac Indian artists from New Brunswick.

The work of the Commonwealth Relations department is done mainly in education. This year, three undergraduate students are studying medicine — two in India and one in Nigeria. Students from Jamaica, British Guiana and Ghana are taking post-graduate courses in Canada.

$56,000. was awarded from I.O.D.E. First and Second War Memorial Funds for 11 Post-graduate Scholarships (Overseas), valued at $2,000. each, and 21 bursaries at $1600. each, in Canadian universities for children of Canadian War veterans.

On welfare services, $400,000.00 is spent in Canada, and $100,000.00 for supplies to the needy in Europe, The Middle East, The West Indies, Hong Kong, India and Korea.

Eleven years ago X-ray equipment was provided for the T.B. Clinic in Korea. The I.O.D.E. is currently sending the fortieth shipment of X-Ray developer, film and parts necessary for the maintenance of the unit — the cost amounting to $3,600.00 annually.

Members continue the knitting and sewing of thousands of articles for distribution, and give countless hours of service to institutions such as cerebral palsy, retarded, blood donors, blind and Canadian Friendship Centres.

At Christmas a large supply of handmade toys was packed and shipped for the Eskimo and Indian children in the Far North, for distribution at Community Centres, hospitals and schools.

The I.O.D.E. is raising a minimum of $50,000. for the National Fund, known as the "I.O.D.E. Canadian Centenary Fund". A special educational project undertaken within each province, will commemorate Canada's Centennial Year. A share of the money will be allocated to the chapters in the Yukon Territory and the remainder of the Fund will be equally divided among the ten provinces.

"All About Us" welcomed in Lindsay by full house

A full house of seven hundred people greeted the Canadian Players' production of "All About Us" brought to the Academy Theatre by the Rotary Club of Lindsay, and to judge from the comment of members of the audience the programme was thoroughly enjoyed by most.

It was an enthusiastic audience. The first half of the show was almost strickly satirical in its nature. In fact to many in the audience it was satire with a sting. While the majority laughed with enthusiasm, it was noted many did not appland. This was particularly noticed when the performers dealt with portrayals or impressions regarding some of Canada's recognized statesmen of past and present years. As one audience member remarked "It was not in the best of taste to poke fun at Major General the Honourable Sir Sam Hughes in his home town — this Canadian statesman had many very fine qualifications and did an immense job for Canada."

Other past "greats" satirically treated included Sir William McKenzie and Donald Mann, for years well known in Victoria county, especially in Eldon township. Sir William was knighted for his work in Canada.

Other outstanding Canadians portrayed were Sir John A. Macdonald, the father of Confederation and the Hon. John Diefenbaker, leader of the Opposition.

The production was well balanced and the actors a very talented group.

The second half of the performance brought out the best in the performers. The drama reached its zenity in the dramatic story concerning the far flung fields of Western Canada's ethnic population and the thrilling but tragic story of Louis Riel, which terminated in an equally tense and dramatic court scene.

Throughout the entire performance the sound effects were realistic and good, voice production in many difficult scenes and situations was well done and many of the parts were handled in a masterly manner.

The cover design of the "All About Us" programme was unique and smart being a figure of the Statue of Liberty created from British, American and French flags, holding up a wilted "Pearson pennant" of three maple leaves.

Rotary president Sid Money and fellow Rotarians are to be commended for bringing this show to Lindsay.

Society president begins new year

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mrs. Sherman Minthorn was elected as president of the Fenelon Falls Horticultural Society at their annual meeting which was held in the Cameo Tea Room.

Other officers for the coming year are: 1st vice-president, Mr. A. Bell; 2nd vice president, Mr. Wilfred Jackett; Secretary treasurer Mrs. J. MacLannan; Ten directors were appointed. Auditors, Mrs. Spicer and Mrs. Bigley. Programme, parks and membership committees were appointed also a Jr. executive committee which will be in charge of Mr. A. Bell.

Mr. Harry Moore and Mr. Mark Fell showed pictures with interesting commentary on their trip to Europe which were greatly enjoyed by all those present.

Colour slide contest winners

The four top colour slides in a contest "Cultivated flowers and gardens" at the Lindsay Colour Club meeting in the LCVI library were submitted by Jack Lightbody, Miss Marjorie Corley, Dr. W. V. Ferguson and Mrs. Lawrence Lillico.

Members also watched a set of slides from the Kodak film company entitled "Adventures in Indoor Colour Slides", and these demonstrated the results of correct and incorrect lighting when taking pictures indoors.

The contest for the next meeting will be slides of "Our town". The club meets on the second Wednesday of the month at the LCVI.

WHITE CANE WEEK

There are many ways in which the sighted person can help someone who is blind, in addition to making financial contributions to Canadian National Institute of the Blind. If you see a sightless person making his way along the street, ask if you can help him across the road. Your services in reading to blind people might be acceptable, as might the offer of car rides. Taking care of your own eyes by avoiding injury either at work or home, wearing glasses when necessary and having efficient lighting for close work, will help you to preserve your precious sight.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

SMALL, MEDIUM OR LARGE? A lovely writer: Weight charts seem to base ideal weight on the size of one's frame, as well as one's height. My problem is that I am not certain whether my frame is small or medium. How is the point determined accurately?

The Answer: For the purpose of computing ideal weight, the bony structure is divided into three categories — small, medium and large. You come to a clear understanding of your own structure by taking these steps:

Using an unstretched tape measure, carefully measure your wrist. Place the tape so as to ring the wrist bones, drawing it firmly but not tight.

Next refer to the chart below. Under your height you will see three wrist measurements. Find yours and note its category. The overall bony structure of your frame is categorized in the same terms — small wrist, small bony structure.

Height — 5' to 5'3": Medium measurement, 5½"; Small, under 5¼"; Large, over 5¾".

Height — 5'3" to 5'6": Medium, 5¾"; Small, under 5½"; Large, over 5¾".

Height — over 5'6": Medium, 6" to 7"; Small, under 6"; Large, over 7".

Be accurate about these steps. The attractive weight for two women of the same height but different structures could vary more than twenty pounds. For reducers, awareness of this factor is essential to success.

Sweep!

Thirty-four years ago E. D. Fee of Fee Motors donated a silver trophy to the Lindsay Curling Club for annual competition. The annual match took place at the Peel Street rink last Saturday, entries including a number of very good rinks from the district. Spectators agreed that a number of the games were quite close and were decided on the last end with the last rock. In the same elimination process some of the best rinks went down to early defeat.

First place, the cup and prizes went to a rink skipped by Ross Naylor of Oakwood and second place to the young rink of Bill Thurston of Dunsford. High rink for two wins was the McCrae four of Lindsay with Murray Woods of Lindsay also in for prizes for two wins. A Simpson of the local club was the winner of the one game and high score.

Lady curlers have been much on the broom during the last few days. Regular game results: Reynolds 9 Eberts 3; Thurston 7, Whyte 6; McGahey 9, Gassien 6; Heels 10, Mackey 5; Rodnay 10, Cook 8; Sutton 2, Brown 8; Walker 11, Laidley 3; Woollard 12, Vincent 5; Hickson 9, Woodrow 5; Woods 7, Kay 5; Reynolds 12, Gassien 6; McGahey 8, Heels 6; Brown 7, Thurston 4; Vincent 8, Whyte 5; Sutton 9, Cook 8; Eberts 8, Rodman 5.

Dale McLeish leads Central League goal scoring

The Central Ontario Junior Hockey League scoring has been revised and brought up to date since last week's issue of a final standing. League Convenor Cliffe Phillips states by letter that last week's final standings were issued with the assumption that "Dale McLeish could not pick up 11 points to tie John Nicholls with one game left to play. As it turned out this was a poor assumption, as he picked up 9 goals and 4 assists while Cann-Sutton beat Uxbridge 15-5! The corrected statistics follow: —

	G	A	Pts.
D. McLeish Cann-Sutton	54	31	85
J. Nicholls Bobcaygeon	44	39	83
D. Junkin Bobcaygeon	24	37	61
B. McLean Stouffville	22	37	59
R. Kelson Stouffville	29	28	57
R. Josephson Cann-Sutton	25	31	56

Games this week:

Junior "C" Round Robin

Feb. 9 - Newmarket at Aurora; Feb. 11 - Lindsay at Newmarket; Feb. 12 - Aurora at Lindsay.

Junior "D" playoffs

Feb. 8 - Stouffville at Uxbridge; Feb. 9 - Uxbridge at Stouffville; Feb. 11 - Bobcaygeon at Cannington; Feb. 12 - Cannington at Bobcaygeon.

The return games will be played in Bowmanville Arena Saturday afternoon.

Theft not clever or smart, Magistrate tells two youths

"You seem to think this is amusing", Magistrate Ian Munro told a Lindsay youth, Leonard Lyte, 16, of Kent Street West as he fined the boy $100 and costs or three months for stealing a bottle of liquor from a car parked at the Royal Canadian Legion Saturday afternoon. "Do this one more time and it won't be funny", the Magistrate added.

The second youth, Brian Keehn, 17, of RR5, Lindsay, who was also charged in connection with the offence was fined $50 and costs or 30 days.

The Magistrate told the pair they were not clever or smart.

Little Britain Intermediates enter O.H.A. "C" play-downs

Little Britain hockey scouts believe in keeping the pot boiling as far as local hockey action is concerned. Following elimination of the Little Britain Aces in the Central Ontario Junior league, an intermediate team has been entered in the Ontario Hockey Association play-downs.

Little Britain executive member Fred Field (Bud) Neal" Monday that the Intermediate "C" Little Britain team will meet Port Perry in a best of seven series in the first round of the O.H.A. play-offs. The first game of the series is slated to take place in the Port Perry Arena tonight, with the second game at the Little Britain Community Centre Thursday night.

Further games as necessary will be alternated between Port Perry on Tuesday night and Little Britain the following Thursday.

Tri-County Hockey starts play-downs

The Tri-County Hockey Association schedule was completed last week with Little Britain in first place, Oakwood Flyers copped second spot with Cambray third and Burnt River in fourth place.

A best of five series semi-final round will start this week to declare a league champion. In "A" series Little Britain will host Burnt River Friday night, while "B" series is slated to start with Cambray at Oakwood to-morrow night.

Grouse hunters bag more birds in the Lindsay area this year

A total of 113 grouse hunters last fall bagged 0.62 birds per hunter reports the Lindsay District, Department of Lands and Forests park naturalist W. Wyett. This is an increase over the hunt of the previous year when only 0.47 birds were shot per hunter.

All of the birds reported to the Department were shot north of the Kawartha Lakes with the hunting being heaviest in the county of Haliburton. As is usually the case, point out the Lands and Forests, most of the grouse were taken shortly after the leaves had fallen during the first two weeks of October. Invariably, leaf-fall proves an advantage to the hunter who can keep his flying quarry in sight for a longer period of time than is possible before the leaves have fallen.

Illegally purchased liquor - man fined

Harold McDonald of 24 Peel Street, Lindsay, was fined $10 and costs in Lindsay Police Court today for illegally purchasing liquor. He was given the option of 10 days in jail. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Constable William Bowes, who arrested McDonald on a bench-warrant yesterday, said the charge followed a complaint from a local man that McDonald had purchased a bottle of liquor from him and had not paid for it.

Two bench-warrants were issued for McDonald's arrest when he failed to appear on charges illegally selling liquor and illegally purchasing liquor and for failing to appear as a Crown witness in a case against Lionel Tracey of 23 Kent Street whose charges were withdrawn by the Crown Monday when witnesses failed to appear.

The charge of illegally selling liquor against McDonald was withdrawn by Lindsay Police today.

In an attempt to acquire an overall picture of the grouse population for the Lindsay district, Department Conservation officers collected a number of wings and tail-feathers from co-operative hunters and forwarded the specimens to District Biologists to be aged and sexed. Results of the study, which has been carried out for a number of years, disclosed a relatively stable adult male to adult female ratio of almost 1:1, a ratio which is normal for a healthy population. A very high rate of juveniles per adult female (14:1) was obtained, but the figures based upon a small sample of 87 specimens, are not indicative of the composition of the population, report the Lands and Forests.

Training course students 'eager'

Mayor Joseph Holtom and Industrial Commissioner S. R. Pitts visited the Dominion Rubber Company's training course at the Arsenals property on Tuesday afternoon. The "twisting course" to instruct in the procedures for twisting nylon thread for tire cord manufacture is sponsored by the Dominion Rubber Company in co-operation with the LCVI, and the National Employment Service and is being attended by 26 persons.

The students who are enrolled through the National Employment Service start off with the basic theory behind the course and also receive practical demonstrations on twisting machines. Instructor Heeton of Dominion Rubber Company said the students are enthusiastic and eager in their work. Students attend the course for 4 hours during the day and an academic course at the LCVI for two hours in the evening. The course is for two months duration.

"Things were in bad shape with mass flooding and slush clogging the basins" Eric Booth the town engineer said today after the town was covered with a sheet of ice last night.

Roads and highways in the area were ice-covered and dangerous driving conditions prevailed, causing a number of minor accidents, but conditions had improved greatly by noon today. The northern telephone lines were out until about 10 a.m. but there were no major problems with either telephone or hydro in town, except for one power interruption on Angeline Street early this morning. Some rural children enjoyed a holiday from classes, when school busses were unable to travel the roads.

The town engineer's office reported all the town was flooded with water this morning. The cause was attributed to slush clogging the storm sewers. Eric Booth said all available Works Board men were out plus some borrowed from the Water Board and night men. Mr. Booth said there were not enough men available to handle the sudden problem. He said the sanders were out, but earlier this morning ice formed over the sand just after it was applied making it a wasted effort. He said the situation was bad and the Board of Works was doing all they could to remedy it.

MINOR ACCIDENTS

All the Department of Highway's equipment was on the roads this morning and the department reported road conditions were improving. Lindsay OPP advised people to stay off the roads this morning and numerous accidents made it difficult for the force to get details. All the accidents reported were of a minor nature.

At 6 a.m. cars driven by Mrs. Gordon Mocker of Lindsay and Mrs. Ronald Graham of Lindsay collided on Highway 35B near the 5th Concession Road of Ops Township. No estimate of damage was available.

A car driven by Aileen Neals, 42, of Lindsay sustained $25 damage at 8:30 a.m. when it went out of control on Angeline Street South, one-half mile north of Highway 7 and hit a hydro pole.

No details were available on a collision between a car and a Coca-Cola truck at Dunsford at 9:34 a.m. Police reported the total damage to be about $75.

Damage estimated to a Texaco truck loaded with gasoline which overturned on Highway 7 east of Omemee at 9:46 a.m. was available today from the OPP. Police said the truck, which had been driven by Harold McDonald, Port Hope was leaking gasoline. No damage resulted when a Shell gasoline truck went off the highway near Reaboro.

Bruce Symonds manager of the Bell Telephone Company said there were a lot of miscellaneous problems with ice and falling branches damaging lines leading into houses. He said the lines to Minden, Haliburton and Bobcaygeon were out until 10 a.m. today but most lines are all right now. He said the company hoped to have all the telephones in the area working before the day ended. "It looks as if we are in pretty good shape considering the storm we had", Mr. Symonds remarked.

The manager of the Lindsay Hydro Electric System, Jack Lightbody, said there was not a great deal of trouble from the ice storm. He said most of the damage was confined to lines leading into homes and no major breaks were reported in the lines. He said there was one power interruption on Angeline Street early this morning.

It was reported that the ice storm caused all the schools in Mariposa Township, the Janetville school and the Brock District High School to close.

The manager of Zeller's store, Richard Baker, arrived in the casting room at "The Post" unexpectedly at noon today. Mr. Baker was backing from a garage behind Zeller's when his car slid on the ice and crashed through a rear door of "The Post" building.

Taylor clarifies comments on street lighting costs

At a meeting of the Lindsay Hydro Commission last night, Councillor Russell Taylor, who was reported to have suggested at a recent meeting of the town council that the Lindsay Hydro Electric System might take over the responsibilities of street lighting from the town council, said he was suggesting the commission absorb in their revenue the cost of street lighting.

The commission pointed out that their revenues wouldn't permit it the present time. When the manager of the Lindsay Hydro Electric System, Jack Lightbody, was asked today if he could foresee Lindsay Hydro doing this in the future he replied, "I wouldn't say so". He said there are a lot of other areas where the commission's revenue could be put back into the system without absorbing council's expenses. He added, "The commission has an open mind, however, and is willing to listen to any request".

Fight City Hall

"You can't fight city hall" has been a saying for a long time and in Canada to a certain extent this is true. But it shouldn't be. The state is assuming more and more control over our lives all the time and most people are apathetic to the fact.

The federal Minister of Justice recently told a meeting of Toronto lawyers that the rights of Canadians are "gravely endangered" by the growing interference from the state and by the citizen's own inability to defend himself.

The civil liberties of the citizens are being threatened in many ways, some of which seem insignificant at the time, such as the numbering of citizens through the Social Insurance Number Scheme, which is to be extended until it eventually numbers everybody in the nation. What is the difference between such a card and an identity card? How long before a law is passed that cards must be carried at all times and produced on demand to a policeman?

This country needs an Ombudsman (Grievance Man) or some other appeal tribunal that can guard the public's interests against abuse by massive government intrusion.

The provision of an Ombudsman in Canada would make government agencies and government officials more careful in the exercise of their responsibilities.

Haunting Sound

"For me, the most typically haunting sound of the Middle East is that of the flute, whether played by a single entertainer in a village, or by a shepherd leading his flock ---- and here, by the way, the shepherds do lead their sheep; they don't drive them from behind as in Britain." —Peter Flinn, BBC Middle East correspondent.

Mad Hats

"Hats are for fun. Hats must make people laugh, hats must make people in the street turn round, stop the workers who are paving the street, or the painter who is doing the house. I wear only mad ones, and so I buy those very reasonable cheap hats, for a few shillings, wear them three or four times and discard them."—The French-born Duchess of Bedford.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

How does your driving sound?

We can usually spot an imature driver, whatever his age, by what we see him doing—going too fast, weaving, tail-gating, passing on a hill, or behaving in some other stupid way.

Sometimes, however, we can identify him without even looking — just by hearing the way he drives, according to the Ontario Safety League. Quoting from GM's booklet, "RIGHT Behind the Wheel", the OSL says that the reckless or discourteous driver tends to make certain harsh, distinctive noises that reveal his dangerous presence as clearly as the rattles, growls, hisses and buzzes of other menaces.

The favourite noise maker of the immature driver—like that of a child or a New Year's reveiller—is the horn.

While the horn is a valuable safety device, it is no substitute for caution. The immature driver, however, instead of using the horn to avoid trouble, uses it as a trouble maker. He blasts away as though the sound waves could miraculously disintegrate all obstacles in his path. For him, the horn is also a convenient and loud sustitute for angry yelling at pedestrians, or the driver ahead. And, of course, this type of driver considers the horn far superior to the old-fashioned doorbell when calling for a friend.

Next to a loud and generously used horn, the favourite way for infantile motorists to sound off is with a noisy exhaust. They love the thrill of power, and to them power means noise. With an unmuffled exhaust, normal driving is unthinkable. The engine must be revved up at stops. Starts must resemble a successful missile launching.

Excessive tire squeal is another familiar sound of the poor driver. The (costly and hazardous) screech of rubber against pavement is achieved by jack-rabbit starts, skidding stops, and side-slip on fast turns. Drivers addicted to such antics seem to think the noise testifies to their skill. Nobody else can figure out why.

Finally, there is the blaring auto radio, audible 10 cars away. It can have dangerous effects. It may drown out more important traffic noises, such as the siren of an approaching emergency vehicle. In heavy traffic it is an annoyance and distraction to nearby motorists.

Those who equate noise with ability are headed for that loudest and worst of all traffic sounds—the crash of metal against metal.

Comforting Illusion

"Psychologists have known for a long time that there is often little connection between being sure about something, and being right about it. This kind of thing is particularly true of childhood memories. It isn't so much the original incidents and people that are remembered. You are remembering remembering them. Since some of these memories may be important and comforting, perhaps it's a good thing that we can't check on most of them." Brian Foss, of the Department of Psychology at Birbeck College.

FRESH-FLAVOURED HONEY FRUIT JELLIES

Have you ever made your own sparkling, fresh fruit jellies for dessert? Using honey and fresh fruit juices you can make a rainbow assortment — pale-yellow lemon, deeper orange, bright-red cranberry, rich-purple grape and others. The jellies have the natural colour and full flavours of the fruits from which they are made, as well as nourishing food values provided by the fruits and honey.

LEMON JELLY

1 tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, ½ cup honey, ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind 1 cup boiling water, ¼ cup lemon juice.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add honey and lemon rind to boiling water and boil 3 to 3 minutes. Add softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Strain, pour into dessert dishes or moistened molds and chill until set, 6 servings.

ORANGE JELLY

1 tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, ½ cup boiling water. Add honey and lemon water, ½ cup honey, ¾ cup orange juice, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Mix boiling water and honey, reheat. Add softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Finish as above

OTHER FRUIT JELLIES

Follow the recipe for Orange Jelly, substituting unsweetened cranberry, grape, pineapple or other fruit juice for the orange juice. (Sweetened juices may be used; adjust the quantities of water, juice, honey and lemon juice according to your own taste, but keep the total volume the same).

Note: These nourishing fresh fruit jellies are sweetened with honey.

Savory Salad Dressing

Peanut oil makes a delicious salad dressing. Use about a quarter-cup of the oil to a tablespoon of vinegar, and mix well with a half-teaspoon of salt, a little freshly-ground pepper, and a tiny bit of crushed garlic. This dressing tastes especially good on salad greens.

Sink Moldings

To prevent the bright bands of metal on kitchen sink tops and counters from staining your dress or apron black, touch them with colorless fingernail polish or lacquer.

Parchment Lampshades

Parchment lampshades can be cleaned with a cloth dampened with soapy water. Another method is to wipe them with a cloth dipped into milk.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean stained wallpaper?

A. Fingermarks can sometimes be removed by rubbing over them with a piece of bread. A fresh grease spot will often come off if you hold a piece of white blotting paper over it with a warm iron. Also, many marks can be obliterated by careful use of a soft art gum eraser.

W.I. hears of trip through pictures

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Dr. Wm. Graham was the guest speaker at the January meeting of the Fenelon Falls Women's Institute which was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Cunningham. Dr. and Mrs. Graham were among the 140 Rotarians and Rotary Anns who enjoyed a trip by air to England, Scotland, Wales and parts of Europe in 1964. Dr. Graham's pictures of the trip were outstanding, depicting interesting old bridges, cathedrals, the changing of the Guards, at Buckingham Palace. The beautiful hills of Wales and Mount Snowdon, the highest peak in the British Isles. Dr. Graham said he was fascinated by the architecture of the old world buildings and intrigued by the careful manner in which the British motorist drives, also their friendliness. It was a delightful experience for the ladies of the Institute to share a few of Dr. Graham's travels with him.

The topic of the meeting was "Education and Citizenship" and this theme was certainly enriched by Dr. Graham's talk and pictures.

He was capably introduced by Mrs. A. W. McGee and following his talk Mrs. J. B. Mackay voiced the thanks of all to him for taking time in his busy life to share his experiences with the Women of the Institute.

Following the usual opening exercises and the reading of the minutes, a short business period was held. The good cheer convenor reported that 16 get well and sympathy cards were sent during the past month. It was decided not to enter an exhibit at Lindsay Fair this year. The souvenir spoons with the Ontario Crest are selling beyond expectations. Tickets on a pair of hand embroidered pillowcases donated by one of the women were given out. There was a discussion regarding the trash cans on the main street. Judging from the litter on the street these are not fulfilling their designed purpose. Several questionaires regarding Institute policy were dealt with. The answers contained some constructive criticism and several challenging suggestions toward better Institute meetings.

Mrs. Thomson thanked Mrs. Cuningham for her hospitality, and the Institute Grace was repeated before the refreshments were served.

"Faith" theme of U.C.W. service

Cambray (PNS) — The Evening Unit of the United Church Women held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Meredith Wood with an attendance of 11 members and two new members namely Mrs. Norman Lee and Mrs. Barry Moore.

The worship period was conducted by Mrs. Jack Loudon and Mrs. Linden Sinclair. The theme of the service was "Faith". A reading "The Saviour Goeth Before You" was followed with a hymn and the scripture was taken from 1st Corinthians, Chapter 13. Offering was received followed by a reading "Faith For The New Year", which expressed different meanings of faith. Each member wrote memos of what faith meant to them personally and were read as part of the worship service which closed with a Bible quiz, designed to help know the books of the Bible and in this case each verse to be found had something in common with the word faith.

The meeting was turned over for the general business, minutes were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs Bernard Gates, followed by the roll call. Homes for 1965 meetings were offered and for worship services and lunch.

The U.C.W. parent president, Mrs. Maurice Tompkins asked for approval to purchase coat racks for use in the church basement, which was readily given. Next months roll call is to be answered with suggestions for work projects. On motion of Mrs. Meredith Wood and Mrs. Jack Louden the treasurer was advised to purchase 10 yards of flannelette and some knitting wool to make an extra layette for the bale. Work to begin at the February meeting.

Mrs. Clare Patton is the leader for this year with Mrs. Meredith Wood as assistant and Mrs. Bernard Gates as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Patton closed the meeting with prayer and all enjoyed a social time with lunch.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

WHAT IS GOOD FOR INSOMNIA?

Thousands of patients ask doctors this question daily: "What's good for insomnia? Lately I haven't been sleeping a wink". There are as many answers as there are questions, but the solutions are not easy.

Patient: I can't understand why I haven't been sleeping well lately. I used to sleep like a top.

Doctor: Can you think of any likely reasons? For example, have you been worried about anything lately? Finances, your job, your children? How do you and your wife get along?

Patient: No worries like that. Just call me lucky. Yet, I don't sleep well. I go to sleep all right, but I begin tossing around two in the morning and am wide awake by five o'clock. I don't average four hours of sleep.

Doctor: What's your guess? Often the patient is the one to give his doctor the reason without recognizing it. What do you think causes your insomnia?

Patient: One thing I have noticed. I've switched from tea to coffee. I take two cups at dinner. But I never take it right before going to bed. Could that cause it? I have a friend who can take from three to four cups right before going to bed and yet he sleeps like a baby.

Doctor: And I have a friend who is so sensitive to the stimulating effects of coffee that he can't sleep well if he has one cup of coffee at lunch. Each one of us reacts differently. Never go by what your neighbour says. You and he are different. The caffeine in coffee is a strong drug and some people are sensitive to it than others.

Patient: Are you saying that I ought to stop drinking it?

Doctor: Not entirely. Just have it for breakfast. The effect of caffeine doesn't usually last so many hours. Switch back to tea for lunch. Although this contains caffeine also, most people aren't so affected by it at night.

CURE NOT EASY

Comment: This patient was soon sleeping soundly again. The doctor gave similar advice to another patient that same day. Result? He is still an insomniac.

The cure for insomnia isn't easy. We tell one patient not to eat before going to bed and he sleeps better. We tell another, and he stays awake. Some people sleep better on a snack taken before bedtime. One swears by warm milk; another by two or three cups of steaming coffee. I tell patients to keep experimenting and hoping. In many cases insomnia can be cured more easily by the patient than by the doctor.

I think the most important point I can give you is this: don't worry over loss of sleep. Worrying about insomnia is the surest way to prolong it. reference to insomnia, if you can say and mean it. "Not sleeping well won't make me sick or hurt me" — then you've got it practically licked.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My husband and I are currently engaged in a minor clash. All my life I've been bathing every morning before work. Suddenly he has asked me to bathe no more than twice a week. He tells me I would be younger looking and have better skin if I bathed less. The ironical note is he is 61 and looks it; and I am 51 and don't. Has he flipped his cork or shall I listen to him. May I remain anonymous for obvious reasons?—Mrs. X.

Comment: Flipped his cork? Perhaps. Don't listen to him. At least one of you will smell sweet. Relying only on Saturday night ablutions is not conducive to cleanliness. Besides in spite of what your husband says, human skin thrives on soap and water.

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — Lucky is the woman with the perfect figure and no size problem. She's also a rarity, which is the reason for a new guide to dress aimed primarily for the woman who, let's face it, weighs a few pounds too many.

Go on a diet, yes, if the doctor advises it and you have the will-power. In the meantime make an asset out of an ample figure by illusion. The slim look can be achieved in great degree by following certain guiding principles — anything tight accentuates the positive; vertical lines usually are more slenderizing than horizontal ones; shoes of a neutral shade elongate the leg and divert attention from heaviness at ankle or calf; hemlines vary according to figure proportions, but should cover the knees.

These are some of the tips included in "Fashion secrets to look slimmer", published by a national chain of some 100 stores (Lane Bryant, Inc.).

Put together by the stores' fashion director, Mary Blake, the booklet is a" No" and "Yes" guide on what to wear.

On fabrics for instance, "No" to very shiny textures, heavy tweeds, heavy mohairs and wools, "Yes" to chiffon velvet, jersey, knit, silk, lace, fine wools crepe corduroy, or any other soft and supple fabric.

"No", says the booklet, to bold vertical stripes very bright prints, extra-large prints, minute prints, tiny polka dots and "Yes" to muted stripes or prints, medium-sized prints, vertical muted colour panels.

In colours, the expert advised "no" to separates of contrasting brights, such as red and yellow, and "yes" to any dark colour, muted shades of any colour, simple silhouettes in bright shades, such as Royal, Cranberry or Emerald.

"No", it advised to tight bodices, short waist-high jackets, narrow double-breasted boleros, and "yes" to surplice bodices, some blousons, and diagonal lines across the bosom.

Below the waist, "no" to wide pleating, dirndl, or tight-ly clinging, and "yes" to the a-line silhouette and straight hanging skirts.

The guide turned thumbs down on wide or beaded and fancy belts, gave an okay to the no-belt silhouette, to narrow belts of the same colour skirts and fabric as the dress, and to tucks instead of a belt to indicate a waistline.

In sleeves, it said "no" to the sleeveless, to the puff, to the set-in, and "yes" to long sleeves, three-quarter, cap, tapered short, and some raglan.

"No", it decreed to large patch pockets located at bust or hip, "yes" to hidden or slanted pockets. Negative also on adding ornamentation at "trouble spots" on the figure, such as a wide ruffle around the low neckline of an already plump front, or high round turtle necks; "yes", for oval V-shaped, and jewel necklines. Don't wear large, horizonal bows at the chin-line; instead use small bows below the collar.

"No", it said, to tight foundations, and "yes" to one piece garments, a well-fitted girdle.

The guide rejected chokers, large round earrings, or bulky pieces of jewelleyy of any kind at the neck or wrist. It favored longish necklaces, drop or contour earrings, and delicate strands of pearls.

It recommended shaped, medium-height heels over spokes, unornamented footwear, and medium, flesh-toned or dark hose over patterned or very pale shades.

As fo sports clothes, out with tight slacks, short shorts, bulky sweaters, large sunglasses, and man-tailored shirts worn outside the slacks or skirts. Instead, select play dresses, skirts, flat knit sweaters, and culottes.

Guest speaker heard at U.C.W.

Dessert and coffee was served to the U.C.W. on Thursday, January 21, 1965 to mark the opening of the annual meeting, at Cambridge United Church. Reports were heard from all comittees and units, showing a busy and financially successful year. The outstanding report was from Mrs. Stewart Peel Showing that more time, work and money was spent on supply and social assistance.

The guest speaker for the evening was Joseph Chen from Taiwan, whose further education at Cornell university is being partially looked after by Cambridge Street United Church. Mr. Chen left Lindsay for Cornell University on January 27.

Not Wisely But Too Well

Sugar Pine, Calif. (UPI) — It was a case of a crime done not wisely but too well. Police reported that a thief dragged an acetylene torch rig into a phone booth and cut through the metal coin box.

Once he had cut all the way through he discovered the heat of the torch had fused the coins together in a mass of molten metal.

Council briefs

At a meeting of the advisory and finance committee held last week, a proposed plumbing by-law for Lindsay was discussed. It was pointed out that the Department of Labour will be bringing out regulations concerning the plumbing trade and members decided to wait these provincial regulations.

The committee briefly reviewed the by-law to authorize the pulling down of a building but no further action was taken as this had been considered by council.

A proposed by-law to regulate and license mobile canteens in Lindsay will be recommended to council for adoption subject to certain deletions and definitions, and an additional recommendation that all vehicles operated as mobile canteens be inspected by the health officers once a month.

The committee decided that the necessary procedure be commenced for approval to annex the airport site, and the water pollution control lagoon site, presently owned by the Town of Lindsay, such application to cover only these sites.

Correspondence from the Department of Tourism and Publicity for the Ontario Centennial planning informed council members that a 'Confederation Train' or a 'Confederation Caravan' will visit every district of Ontario during the Centennial observance, and reminded council members that only twenty-four months remained to consolidate plans.

Mayor Joseph Holtom suggested consideration be given to doing the Colborne street development in two sections due to the length of the street and he wondered if 2 separate contracts should be called for. The Mayor also urged expediting of the preparation for tenders on the Wellington street bridge project. Engineer Eric Booth indicated the project could involve the closure to traffic for a three month period. Council members expressed the opinion that the Lindsay and Kent street intersection should be widened if possible before the old bridge is closed to traffic.

The January Fire Department report showed thirteen calls answered including three house fires and three mutual aid calls. Damage was involved only in the house fires which amounted to a total of $10,150. No damage was reported in five miscellaneous fires, one flooded space heater, and one chimney fire.

Mission Circle holds meeting

The February meeting of the Elizabeth Ryley Mission Circle of Cambridge Street Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. (Rev.) P. C. Reed Wellington Street on Tuesday afternoon.

Vice-President, Mrs. F. A. Reeds in the chair conducted the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. A. Bates, and were approved. The treasurer's report was also given by Mrs. M. Irvine. An invitation to attend a missionary meeting in Murray Street Church Peterboro on March 2nd to be addressed by Mrs. Peter Bruce, President of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of Ontario and Quebec was discussed and accepted.

The Roll Call was responded to by the Scripture texts. The unique devotional by Mrs. Reed took the form of a record of one of the late Peter Marshall's sermons. This sermon by the Rev. Peter Marshall, chaplain of the United States Senate was based on "The crowing of the cock", Luke 22 verse 61.

Mrs. (Rev.) Boadway's presentation of her subject was very interesting and instructive. She spoke of the Baptist missionaries who have left Angola beacuse of restrictions and are serving or have been serving in the Congo. These 10 men and women were nearly all born in the Maritimes and all accepted Christ between the ages of 7 and 17; were all with two exceptions from Christian homes, all received the call to missionary work under varying circumstances, some while in university or at a Summer Camp or while reading the Bible in private devotions. All are well-educated as nurses, doctors or teachers.

A film was then shown depicting the life of a young Christian man in the Congo.

After the benediction by Rev. P. C. Reed a pleasant half-hour was spent over lunch served by the hostess.

W.I. host to "Kapable Kids"

Reaboro (PNS) — The "Kapable Kids", members of the Reaboro 4H Homemaking Club and their leaders, Mrs. David Milling and Mrs. Victor Sloan were guests of honour of the Reaboro Women's Institute at a dinner held at the Bon Fire Restaurant on Friday night.

There are nine members in the 4H Club namely, President, Karen McRobbie, Press Girl, Shirley Norton, Telephone Girl, Kathryn Aldous, other members, Christy Harper, Joyce Parks, Linda Norton, Susan McGahey, Fay Ireland and Judy Trotter. The girls have just completed a course "A Club Girl Stands on Guard" having participated with 10 other Clubs, 96 girls in an Achievement Day held at the Government building on Jan. 16.

The President of the Institute, Mrs. Lloyd McGahey gave the girls and members a hearty welcome to the dinner, congratulating the leaders and girls on there showing at Achievement Day. Through this course the girls had been taught the rudiments of citizenship at meetings dealing with the four freedoms — speech, worship, vote, choice and Canada's natural resources and educational opportunities. First Aid was studied and each member assembled a First Aid Kit. Physical fitness and mental health were stressed as requisites to be a good citizen. The services of the various health units in this area were reviewed and listed and prevention was suggested for accidents in the home and other hazards which are incurred by accidents today. The girls were also taught how to administer artificial respiration.

Quiz on "Can you pass Ontario's Driver's test" and "Canadian Affairs" proved an interesting part of the course when they also studied the Drivers Handbook so that they will have some preparation when they wish to become drivers. A unique experience was when each girl sent a sample of drinking water to be tested and await its results.

Discussions were held regarding the use of leisure time and hobbies. Emphasis was placed on the hobby of reading, an entertaining and educational pastime. Interviews were made by the girls with teachers or librarians for suggestions for good reading material and books.

Miss Patricia Wray, Home Economist was in charge of the Achievement day when the girls from other clubs to exchange ideas and get acquainted. They were tested on the knowledge gained through the course and the clubs presented an exhibit demonstration or skit pertaining to some phase of the work. At the close of Achievement day the girls were each presented with a silver spoon bearing the 4H Club crest which are much appreciated by the girls.

The Reaboro Club had been asked to present their skit, "Safety in the Home" for the Institute members at the dinner. Following a hearty chicken dinner the club girls gave their presentation, the characters as follows: Karen McRobbie, Kathryn Aldous and Fay Ireland nortrayed "mothers" Shirley Norton, Christy Harper and Joyce Parks - teenage daughters and Susan McGahey Judy Trotter and Linda Norton, smaller sisters. The theme of the skit exemplified the many dangers that can be created for little ones in the home and accidents occur if proper safety measures are not taken.

Another highlight of the dinner was a presentation of a cup and saucer to Mrs. Harold Fleming. The presentation was made by Mrs. Victor Sloan. Mrs. Fleming has been a very valued member of the Reaboro Institute and is now living in Lindsay and will not be able to attend the meetings. She is a past president and was the first leader of the ten Girls Clubs which have been sponsored by the Institute in recent years. She was leader of the Garden Club with four members. Lois Fleming, Bonnie McGahey, Lynda Holmes and Mrs. Frank Moncriel (Marie McGregor). Mrs. Fleming has held various other offices in the branch but for several years has been faithfully in charge of the flower committee bringing cheer to the many who have been ill in the community with gay cards and baskets of fruit or a beautiful plant to brighten their convalescences.

Mrs. Fleming expressed her thanks to the Institute for their gift, explaining that she had been a member for 22 years and had always enjoyed the work very much.

The evening at the Bon Fire came to a close with the playing of Bingo when many of the girls won the prizes. Karen McRobbie, Club president expressed the thanks of the "Kapable Kids" to the Reaboro Women's Institute for the dinner and also for their gratitude to the women for sponsoring the Clubs which were of much benefit now and in future years.

Mrs. Milling and Mrs. Sloan will again instruct the girls in the new Club which will be starting soon, "The Milky Way". They will attend a training school for this club on Feb. 4 and 5 at the Government building. It is expected that there will be 14 girls taking part in the new unit. Mrs. Milling reports that the girls are very enthusiastic to get started on this new venture.

ON THE MAIN STREET

Information regarding two gentlemen who lived in Lindsay many years ago will be appreciated. The names: A. A. McSween and Samuel Webster. Information is wanted to help compile a historical manuscript which includes the movements of these gentlemen in connection with historical matters in New Mexico.

McSween is reported to have met death in the Lincoln County War, in Mexico. Both men have long ago passed on. They apparently had business connections with each other. Information may be sent to 'Main Street' c/o "The Post" or telephone 324-2548.

Several years ago George Langdon, butcher and grocer moved from the main street to a store in the Manley Motors building at Wellington and William Streets. Since the first of the New Year he has been whittling down and selling his grocery stock at the corner of Sussex and Glenelg Streets where he has been in active business for a large number of years.

The Langdon store was also located at one time in the north corner of the Academy Theatre block some years ago. Having given the best part of his life to the grocery and meat business Mr. Langdon has decided to retire and shortly the Langdons will take a trip to Florida to enjoy the sunshine and balmy breezes of the ocean. Geo. Langdon will be remembered by former baseball players and fans. He along with his brother Bill were a formidable asset to baseball in the days of the town league.

Among the first World War veterans who patronized the Rotary show at the Academy Theatre last Friday night were two who recalled vividly the fact that just 49 years ago to the day, a conflagation at Ottawa destroyed the greater part of the Parliament buildings.

It was one of the coldest nights of the winter, the winds howled and the big structure was soon a fiery furnace. Among the men of the old 77th Regiment who were on hand, some of whom helped stem the flood of fire were. Geof. Edwards, George Crawford, Dunc. Thoburn, W. S. Oahe, W. Staples, George Stroud, M. Lytle, Joe Bailey, W. Sharpe. Other Lindsay boys in Ottawa at the same time were Howard Williamson, Elwood Coombs and Frank Carew.

World news today

Saigon — One U.S. Army helicopter crewmen was killed and eight others were wounded in resumed heavy guerrilla warfare in South Viet Nam. The American helicopters hit were part of a mass fleet that lifted Vietnamese paratroopers into jungle clearings some 30 miles east of Saigon. The paratroopers ran into stiff Communist resistance, losing nine men killed and 38 wounded. Eighteen enemy dead were counted on the ground.

Tokyo — Communist China said its armed forces were in battle dress and waiting to repel and United States invasion of North Vietnam. Peking said attacks on the Communist country would be considered an attack on Red China. Other dispatches monitored in Tokyo said hundreds of thousands of Chinese marched through the streets in the second day of anti-American demonstrations.

Honolulu — The first American dependents ordered out of South Viet Nam by presidential directive set foot on U.S. soil in Hawaii after a flight from Saigon. For the most part, the wives and children of U.S. servicemen ordered to leave were philosophical about the emergency move it was estmiated it will take 10 days to evacuate the 1,819 dependents. One woman said: "I didn't want to leave without my husband—but that's the army".

Moscow — A mob of Russian and Asian students attacked the U.C. Embassy in Moscow to protest the U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam. U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler complained that Russian police protection was inadequate to control the mob, which threw rocks and loaded ink bottles at the 10-storey building. More than 200 windows were broken. No injuries were reported.

Leopoldville — Reports reaching Leopoldville said Congolese rebels are armed with Russian rifles, bazookas and flame-throwers. The report said the rebels used the Soviet-made arms in attacking government troops in the Northeast Congo. It was a far cry from the early days of the rebellion when the rebel troops attacked with spears, machetes and "magic" amulets.

United Nations — U.N. officials were reportedly considering a plan to have "Three Wise Men" to try to find a solution to the world body's financial crisis. Informed sources said the "Wise Men" would be chosen from the West, the Soviet bloc and the Latin American countries. Secretary General Thant said earlier he thought it best to adjourn the General Assembly until substantial agreement is reached on the U.N. debts.

London — British Prime Minister Harold Wilsons Labour Government defeated another Conservative bid to censure the government. Following a heated debate over Wilson's aviation policy, the Labour Government defeated a censure vote by 306 to 301. Labour's majority in the House of Commons is four votes.

Montreal — External Affairs Minister P. Martin says there can be little hope of the true International peace and stability as long as there is a division in the world of rich and poor areas.

Martin, speaking to an assembly last night at MacDonald College in Montreal, said he did not depend completely upon foreign aid being the answer to the problems of underdeveloped countries. But with the efforts of the countries themselves, aid could provide a sound basis for the beginning of an answer.

Quebec City — Quebec's Premier Jean Lesage made it quite clear to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson that his province refuses to acknowledge the existence of a federal inquiry into Air Canada, and its transfer to an overhaul base from Winnipeg to Montreal.

In a letter to the Prime Minister, Lesage added the province would not recognize the inquiry nor would it present briefs as invited. The Quebec Premier went on to say:

"I regret to have to tell you that this affair is an exceptionally grave one because, unhappily, it risks compromise of our efforts to maintain the unity of the country.

The inquiry was ordered by Ottawa to counter protests from Manitoba after two Independent consulting firms recommend Air Canada move to Montreal where it would save a reported $3-million dollars a year for the government.

CONTRASTS

These two contrasting paragraphs on the ageless problems of traffic are quoted by the Ontario Safety League from the Royal Bank Monthly letter for January:

"Hadrian, who was Roman Emperor from 117 to 138, boasted, 'I reduced the insolent crowd of carriages which cumber our streets, for this luxury of speed destroys it own aim; a pedestrian makes more headway than a hundred conveyances jammed end to end along the twists and turns of the Sacred Way'".

"When the Russian moon rocket circles its target one morning, stalled commuters were backed up as usual for half a mile at the intersections of highways 401 and 11 outside of Toronto. It was painfully evident that while the world was well into the Space Age, this six-year-old section of highway 401 at least had never caught up with the Automobile Age."

Shatrow—Woodcock Wedding

Gooderham (PNS) — The United Church at Bancroft was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, January 16, 1965, when Shirley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Woodcock was united in marriage to Carl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shatrow of Bancroft.

The bride was in a full length gown of white satin and lace. Her finger-length veil was held in place by a pretty headdress. She carried a bouquet of fern and pink carnations.

The bridesmaid Miss Beverly Shatrow of Bancroft chose blue chiffon over silk and carried pink carnations and lily-of-the valley.

Assisting the groom was Mr. Gerald Kellar of Oshawa.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mrs. Woodcock, the bride's mother received in a blue dress with corsage of white carnations.

Attending the wedding were the immediate families, relatives and friends.

The young couple have the best wishes of the community.

Ticket demand forces repeat performance young French-Canadian performers superb

Overflow crowds forced a repeat performance of "L'Amour Medicin" at the Academy Theatre last night. A-bout 1,000 attended the production, sponsored by the LCVI French Department which was skilfully performed by the talented actors and actresses of Les Jeunes Comediens of the National Theatre School of Canada.

In the play, performed with French dialogue, Moliere effectively demonstrated the destructive selfish love of a man for his daughter and satirically showed the incompetence he felt toward the doctors of his time.

The young company of French-Candians were superb in their portrayal of the characters invented by Jean Moliere in his effort to bring some of the contemporary social problems to light through this 17th century comedy.

The play, "Love is the Best Doctor" was a comedy ballet in three acts with each act preceded and followed by a mixture of dance, pantomine, acrobatics and song. The music was gained on the stage, with very simple settings, with the appearance of the dancers in grotesque costumes and the opening theme, a trio.

The actors moved quickly and professionally through the play making it one of the best performances in Lindsay in recent years. The play was simple so through the expert acting, one who did not speak French could follow the play.

About 70 percent of the audience were young people most of them from high schools from Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Haliburton, Bancroft, Peterboro and Oshawa.

Mr. Baker said the members of the club would be calling on merchants and groups asking for their support as in past years. Proceeds from the auction are used for Kinsmen welfare work.

In the recent past Kinsmen have provided assistance to the Kinsmen Boys' Band, the Handicapped Association, the Crippled Children's Association, Save the Children Fund, Children's Aid Society, Retarded Children's Association, Elmer the Safety Elephant, Pee Wee Hockey, Christmas Toys for the Needy, Muscular Dystrophy, Teen Town and the Kinsmen are presently looking into the formation of a Senior Citizen's Club for Lindsay and help for Cystic Fibrosis sufferers.

"Help the Kinsmen to help others by supporting the Kinsmen auction", chairman Richard Baker appeals.

Ops trustees meet with Lindsay board

Members of the Ops township Area School Board met with Lindsay Public School Board on Tuesday to see if Lindsay could accommodate approximately 40 Ops pupils for the coming year. This past year about 30 Ops students have been accommodated at the Leslie Frost School.

Ops school trustees Clifford Reeds Ben Stevens, Jack Callaghan and school secretary May Aldous attended the meeting, which was chaired by Lindsay Public School Board chairman George Imrie.

Lindsay school board secretary Ernest Crossley said the Board were unable to give Ops trustees an answer at this time, pending a survey of available accommodation in Lindsay schools.

Ops have been discussing for some time the desirability of providing a new centralized school for the township.

Mr. Crossley said the board are also in the process of preparing the school budget for the year and hope to have it completed within two weeks. Budgets must be available by March 1st for Lindsay council's consideration.

Court set-up for the VON?

Establishment of the Victorian Order of Nurses on a county-wide basis was forecast by Leola Brintnell, regional director at Tuesday's annual meeting of the VON.

Mrs. Brintnell, a graduate of Lindsay Collegiate Institute and Ross Memorial Hospital nursing school said health units are well established across the province and there is a trend towards county welfare set-ups. The next step, she said, would be the establishment of VON services on a county basis.

Members of the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay are busy planning their 10th annual "Anniversary" Radio Auction to be held on Monday, March 29th. Pictured above is committee chairman Richard Baker (seated centre) together with committee members (from the left), James Pilkington, William Schley, Don Lytle, David Logan and Bernie Murphy. Kinsmen will be asking for the support of area merchants and groups during the next two weeks.—

PRIME MINISTER SPEAKS ALSO ON THE U.N. AND N.A.T.O.

Ottawa (UPI) — Canada's world-famous diplomat - Prime Minister and Nobel Peace Prize winner, Lester B. Pearson, reentered the field he had reluctantly departed, to become Canadian leader to deliver a major foreign policy address yesterday to the Canadian Club.

In his first major international analysis since he became Canada's 15th Prime Minister in April, 1963, Pearson broke an official silence surrounding the Vietnam crisis to warn that continued fighting could escalate into a "full-scale far eastern Chinese-American war."

At the same time Pearson outlined the Canadian position on the financial crisis facing the United Nations and his view of the future of the Atlantic Alliance. In both cases Pearson hinted at some possible new initiatives in the future.

On Vietnam, Pearson said he supported an Indian government appeal for "an immediate suspension of all provocative action in South VietNam as well as North VietNam by all sides." Pearson added Canada would support a proposed Geneva-type conference to tackle the problems in the southeast Asian hot-spot once again.

"The Canadian government would be glad to take part," he said. Canada, along with Poland and India, forms the International Truce Supervisory Commission in Vietnam.

Pearson warned against hasty condemnation of the U.S. action in launching retaliatory air strikes against North Vietnam, noting that the North Vietnamese have violated the cease-fire agreements of 1954 "by continuous, Chinese-supported Guerilla warfare in the south."

"There has been continuous armed provocation," Pearson declared. "It's a confused and dangerous situation."

Referring to the current United Nations crisis, Pearson said the time has come to have a long, hard look at the organization." he cautioned such steps are taken to give the UN more authority and effectiveness in peace-keeping, the organization threatens to be world-famous diplomat - Prime Minister and Nobel Peace Prize winner, Lester B. Pearson, reentered the field he had reluctantly departed, to become Canadian leader to deliver a major foreign policy address yesterday to the Canadian Club

"It is more than a debating forum.

"It is becoming increasingly difficult for a limited group of middle powers, of which Canada has been in the forefront, to carry the burden of serving in peace-keeping forces while others of greater resources and powers not only refuse to share some of the cost but insist that the operation itself is illegal under the charter", Pearson declared.

"The time of decision is approaching".

"If we solve this particular financing problem (centering around the non-payment of peace-keeping assessments) without facing up to bigger issues the solution will not amount to much more than papering over the cracks".

Pearson said any committee set up to find a solution to the financial and constitutional crisis should also be asked to look into the "whole question of the organization of peace-keeping operations under the charter".

NATO

With reference to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), Pearson said Canada would have to embark upon a fundamental re-assessment of its alliance role to assure Canada was making "the best use of its resources in the defense of peace".

Pearson suggested, after dismissing a re-grouping under the terms of the old treaty because of the opposition of France under President Charles De Gaulle, new arrangements might have to be considered to meet the changed circumstances of the "New Europe".

"We may have to consider new arrangements by which Europe takes responsibility for the security of one side of the Atlantic, North America the other, with interlocking cooperative arrangements for mutual assistance against attack", the Prime Minister suggested.

It will be cautioned that he did not mean that such a development would take place in the next year or two.

"I merely state that the defense arrangements suitable for 1948 may not be appropriate for 1965, or possible, for long, after 1965. This was the reason, Pearson said, Canada would have to reconsider its position within NATO.

"It's not a matter of defaulting in our obligations to contribute to selective defense", he stressed. "It is merely a matter of how best we can continue to do it as conditions change".

Good manners

The use of ordinary common sense and courtesy will result in good manners on the ski hills according to the Ontario Safety League. It will also result in safer and much more enjoyable sport.

Here are some common sense rules that the Ontario Safety League advises everyone to use on the slopes:

Observe rules and signs of the resort where you are skiing.

The "down-hill" skier has the right-of-way, if you are going to pass, indicate on which side.

A "standing" skier has no right-of-way and should never take off into the path of oncoming skiers.

Try to avoid skiing close to anyone, and never use other skiers as a human slalom course.

Fill in and tramp down any holes or "sitz marks" you make when falling.

Avoid walking on hills and trails without skis where deep holes will result which could cause accidents.

The Ontario Safety League reminds all skiers of the basic safety rule—ski under control at all times. If you are constantly passing others and still skiing under control, you should find a better hill. If others are often passing you, find an easier hill.

If you want to enjoy your ski outings—use common sense and courtesy —the right approach to good skiing.

Education Not Wasted

"I think it is very good for women to reach a high standard of education, because if, after all, they are not going to work but stay at home, it's worth while being educated because children have very blank minds, and they cling more to their mothers than to their fathers. And so, if a mother is well educated, she'll be able to train up the children in a certain kind of way."—Mrs. Elvira Tanoh, a Ghanaian housewife living in

Car and truck crash

No one was injured when a car driven by Ernest Ray of Kirkfield was in collision with one of the Ross Golden transport trucks, driven by Gilbert McGinnis about 6.30 p.m. last night. The large tractor trailer was proceeding south towards Lindsay with a heavy load of veneer while the Ray car was going north. About a mile north of Lindsay on Highway 35, the car, in passing the truck, struck the rear of the trailer.

Much snow

This winter, as it passes into history will probably be recalled as the snowy winter, at least so far as this section of the country is concerned. It is quite a few years since such a large quantity of snow remained covering the terrain for such a long time without a thaw and it has brought joy to the hearts of ski enthusiasts and those who enjoy winter sports. Although the is snow is quite deep, the highways are all plowed and clear and transportation conditions are good. The only exceptions are to be found where side-roads are filled up.

Those engaged in keeping the snow from the streets of Lindsay have had considerable work. The streets of the business section have seen the effect of much shovelling and with the aid of the town plow the ruts have been eliminated. Travel on the streets of the town has greatly improved following the purchase of the plow.

Hughes defends record— puts efficiency first

OTTAWA — The first Government caucus of the session was held today. It lasted three hours, and was somewhat acrimonious affair. The storm centre was Major-General the Honourable Sam Hughes and the discussion of his administration of the Canadian end of the war occupied practically the whole of the three hours. It is understood that General Hughes vigorously and trenchantly defended everything that he had done in connection with the despatch of the troops, the awarding of contracts and the spending of money since the war began.

General Hughes, while a good party man, has apparently taken the ground that efficiency is the first consideration and he has offended many members of his party by refusing their requests for consideration in the matter of awarding contracts or making appointments. The overruling of General Hughes by his Cabinet colleagues in a number of instances of this kind has not appeased those whom he first offended.

Troops may not leave until May

There is a rumor that the second contingent will not leave Canada until next May. It is said that Salisbury Plains is not fit for the use of the next contingent until it has had a chance to dry out and preparations made to accomodate the men properly. As this means time and much labour, it is said around Ottawa that it will be May before the troops are sent away.

British capture important position

Despatches from Paris report the capture by the British of Violaines, an important position overlooking Labasse. In several attempts to recapture this position the Germans lost heavily.

Germans evacuate

Petrograd despatches confirm the report that the Germans have evacuated Lodz, Poland, and retreated to Calais.

Pacific higher than Atlantic

Washington, (UPI)—It is an odd fact of nature that the average sea level on the Pacific side of the Isthmus of Panama is higher than that on the Atlantic side.

It is a fact often ignored in public discussions about the need for a new, sea-level ship canal—to be dug with or without nuclear explosives — across Central America.

Engineers do not ignore it, however. They know that when and if such a canal is built, they will have to contend with ocean-to-ocean currents which could erode the channel and slow down traffic at times.

When the Panama Canal was started, engineers couldn't conceive of any feasible way of digging a cut deep enough to carry ships from one ocean to the other without a lock system to raise them over the continental divide.

The canal, opened Aug. 15, 1914 has carried a prodigious amount of shipping. But it no longer is good enough. The lock system is a built-in traffic stopper. It is costly to maintain and operate. Moreover, it is extremely vulnerable to bomber or missile attack.

So, as the United States House Merchant Marine Committee said in 1960, a sea-level canal is the "ultimate solution" to the problem posed by increasing traffic and decreasing security.

A sea-level canal with two-way traffic and no locks would have practically unlimited capacity. It would cost relatively little to run. It would be hard to knock out.

But such a ditch would have to be more than 1,000 feet deep in places.

To provide a sea level channel across the Isthmus. It would be expensive to build whether dug by conventional means or blasted with the cheap nuclear explosives being developed.

However when it was dug there still would be those contrary sea levels to contend with. The average water level on the Pacific side is three-fourths of a foot higher than on the Caribbean, or Atlantic side.

This doesn't mean that the Pacific as a whole is higher than the Atlantic as a whole. Both are connected at top and bottom, and everybody knows water seeks it own level.

It is a matter of different tidal effects on different sides of the Isthmus. The Caribbean is a relatively small basin, the Pacific is a monster. They respond individually to the gravitational forces of the sun and moon. Differences in prevailing winds and oceanic currents plus effects of the earth's rotation complicate the situation.

Though the average sea level difference is only three-fourths of a foot, the variation at any one moment may be much greater. The average range between high and low tide on the Pacific side is 12½ feet but only one foot on the Caribbean side.

On occasion it maybe high tide at the Pacific entrance and low tide at the Caribbean, and vice versa. Thus you could expect alternating currents through the canal, the direction depending on the tide tables.

The House Committee said these currents could amount to more than five miles an hour as a result of tidal differences alone. At times, when the canal was being fed by flooding tributary streams, the current might be more than eight miles an hour.

This might not stop traffic—most ocean vessels can make headway against such currents and keep steering control with them. But it might slow traffic considerably, and it might erode the channel, perhaps causing troublesome slides.

Engineers have had considerable experience with conflicting currents. They know how to reinforce channels with masonry (rip rap) to forestall erosion.

They have the example of the Cape Cod canal where the tide range is greater at the east end than at the west.

In the case of the Isthmian Canal, tidal locks at each end could provide current control. But construction of such locks would add to the cost while at the same time diminishing to considerable extent justification for a sea-level ditch. Locks are what the planners want to get away from.

Engineers believe the ocean-to-ocean currents can be tolerated without use of so-called "tidal structures."

"We've taken this problem into account," one of them told United Press International. "We believe we can lick it."

The Culprit

"People talk about being bored as though it were something that was happening to them, something they weren't responsible for. But, of course, it's you that's doing the boring. When you bet bored it means you have stopped responding to your circumstances. Life's just as interesting and varied as ever it was—it's you who've gone dull, you've stopped being a person really."—Journalist Robert Robinson.

FOOD FILLERS

"We were just passing by, so . . ." And here they are, the relatives, friends or acquantances who just happened to be passing by, so they thought they would pay you a brief visit. They sit and chat comfortably, afternoon wears into evening, and suddenly you realize that, if the laws of hospitality are to be observed, you must invite them to stay for supper. Supper? All you have in the refrigerator are eggs., bacon and a few tomatoes. Could you possibly offer your guests anything as uninspired as a very ordinary grill?

Don't despair. Here is the ideal recipe for just an emergency, and we suspect you will resort to it again and again, for a light lunch dish, television supper snack or brunch. Bacon Tomato Supper Dish is quickly made from a few very basic ingredients — bread, eggs, bacon, tomatoes and a small wedge of Cheddar cheese — and yet it is a dish with a difference, a dish that will establish you as an impromptu cook with flair!

This recipe makes sufficient for four people. Spread six slices of day-old bread with two tablespoons of soft butter. Cut the bread into small cubes and spread them on the bottom of a greased six-cup baking dish. Place in layers on top of the bread six bacon rashers and the slices from one medium-sized tomato. Season with half a teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Sprinkle on three-quarters of a cup of grated Cheddar cheese. Mix two slightly beaten eggs with one-and-a-quarter cups of milk and pour them over the cheese. Place in a slow oven preheated to 325 deg. F. and bake for thirty to thirty-five minutes — until set the custard sets. Serve piping hot.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

By Roberta Lee

When Basting

Try using strips of masking tape, instead of thread to baste two pieces of cloth together preparatory to stitching the seam. The strips are applied across the seam and as close together as required to keep the edges together. When sewing the seam, the tape strips are removed ahead of the sewing-machine needle, one at a time.

"Non-Jelling" Jelly

If some of your homemade jelly refuses to "jell", sometimes a slice of carrot in it will provide the necessary pectin and produce a clear, firm jelly . . . and without any trace of carrot flavour, either.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove tomato juice or catsup stains from materials?

A. Sponge thoroughly with cold water to dissolve the solid particles, then work glycerin into the stains, wash or sponge with soap and water, and finally rinse. If a vestige of stain still remains, sponge with hydrogen peroxide of sodium perborate solution, using four tablespoons or sedium perborate to a pint of water. Rinse or sponge with clear water. (Test colors first before using any bleach).

FOR VALENTINE'S DAY

Red Tulips Symbolize Love

Red tulips have been symbols of love for many centuries. According to ancient legend, a young Persian named Ferhad loved Shirin, a pretty maiden whom he courted with softly spoken verses and sweet songs—but, alas, she rejected him. Heartbroken, he wandered out into the desert to weep for his lost love, and each tear that fell onto the scorching sand turned into a beautiful red tulip. Since then, these fiery tear-head blossoms have been considered perfect symbols of a lover's devotion.

On this Valentine's Day tulips in every shade of red can carry messages of love. Luckily, modern day fairy-tales will have much happier endings as Valentine gifts of red tulips will bring "tears" of joy to the "special person".

The thoughtful custom of giving flowers on Valentine's Day has spread throughout the world, and men today send thoughts of love to their sweetheart, mother or wife in this fashion. Fresh, sentry red tulips, now available at local florist shops, can be sent as bouquets, corsages or beautiful arrangements. A gift such as this to favorite Valentines will continue to say "I love you" for days.

Future card parties were discussed and thanks was extended to Mrs. Ashmore for prizes she donated. Mrs. John Raham made a report of the plans already made for the 50th anniversary in May. Mrs. Chas. Smith reported on meeting with the Park Board on use of the "hall" for meetings. Mrs. L. Byers outlined some of the plans for the W.I. exhibit at the fall fair when Cartwright Fair will celebrate one hundred years operation.

Mrs Lorne Thompson Group Leader for Feburary meeting on 'Health' introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Moffat of Orono who is President of the United Counties Co-op. Mr. Moffat described his work. This was followed by a question and answer period. Mrs. Thompson extended thanks to the speaker and then called on Mrs. Krokenstool for current events.

The motto "Big troubles can latch from a little scratch" was ably responded to by Mrs. L. Thompson. Roll call "A suggestion for breaking household monotony" was well answered.

Following "The Queen" the group served lunch.

Along the Main Street

Spring Thaw is not here as such but the show by the same name to be presented by the Kiwanis Club for the second year will be at the Academy Theatre on February 25th and 26th. Reports from Tuesday's meeting of the club indicate that tickets are beginning to move.

One member has disposed of two "blocks" of tickets to out-of-town theatre-goers, some fifty tickets at a time. It is believed the success of the show a year ago will result in the same people buying tickets for this year's production.

Drop into any of the coffee shops on the main street these days and the wide variety of topics generally includes reference to the Diefenbaker leadership. The pros and cons are many. One observer suggested that the Federal leadership might be given to "Old Man Ontario", Leslie Frost, Lindsay parliamentary hero. "It would be a fitting climax to a long and loyal political career", he remarked. "And I think Leslie Frost could be elected Prime Minister of Canada".

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — It started as a Roman Festival. Then it acquired a religious overtone. Now it is a highly romantic and commercially profitable evident. Valentine Day, that is.

In Pagan times, Feb. 14 was the day young men selected their brides or drew lots to select a date for the day of festivity.

St. Valentine entered the scene much later. One legend says that while awaiting execution for refusing to worship Roman Gods he fell in love with the jailer's blind daughter.

He sent her a note and signed it — "From your Valentine." This was believed to be the first Valentine card.

The wilder aspects of Valentine Day lasted into the 17th Century. Samuel Pepys mentions the custom of drawing a girl's name to participate in the celebration.

The Christian Church did not approve of the holiday but was wise enough to add religious significance instead of banning it.

Even today, the lottery exists in an innocent form. Children often bring to school cards which are drawn by classmates who then become their Valentines.

Today, Valentine Day has mellowed, become moral, and turned into big business. Florists greet it with glee; candy-makers work overtime. The greeting card makers brace for one of the biggest volumes of business.

One firm, American Greetings, says only Christmas Card sales top Valentine sales. This year, the firm offers the ultimate — An elegant card that sells for $1.00.

Jewelers, too, find cause for rejoicing on Valentine Day. It means an upswing in engagement ring sales as well as other costly items.

Sales of charms are one of the most sensitive indicators. Marchal of Fifth Avenue reports that gold charms enjoy their second most popular season Valentine time. Christmas is the biggest.

The basic sale of gold hearts — with or without gems — is steady and traditional. Recently, the firm reports, there has been a trend to the more sophisticated.

For example, Feb. 14 brings many requests for a disc which says, in French, "I love you more today than yesterday, but less than tomorrow." That covers all the bases!

Another favourite is a split disc with an almost-severed heart and the inscription — "separated, but always together."

Diamond bracelets and pins also do well in this hearty season.

The day brings out a lot of foolishness and fun. Eastern Airline stewardesses report that more male passengers ask for dates on Valentine's Day than any other day of the year.

This year, the spring flower promotion committee wants Beaux to give bouquets of red tulips on Valentine's Day.

This, according to legend makes use of flowers that have been a love symbol for Centuries.

The legend: Ferhad, a young man in Persia, became enamored of a lovely maiden called Shirin. He courted her with verse and song, but was rejected.

Weeping, he wandered into the desert. Every tear that fell became a red tulip.

Sir John Chardin, in 1655, wrote that "when a young man presents a tulip to his mistress, he gives her to understand, by the colour of the flower, that he is on fire with her beauty; and by the black base of it, that his heart is burnt to a coal."

Naomi Mitchell

Naomi Mary Mitchell, of 18 Fair Avenue, Lindsay, entered into rest at her home on Wednesday, February 3rd. She was born at Hanover Ontario the daughter of the late Herman and Sarah Gruetzner, and was predeceased by her husband, the late Robert Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell came to Lindsay from Toronto in 1950.

Remaining to mourn her passing are two daughters, Lois (Mrs. Bruce Antliff) of Kingston, and Nancy (Mrs. Tom Morikawa) of Ohsweken Ontario, as well as a brother, Ed. Gruetzner, of Hanover, and a sister Miss. Meta Gruetzner of Toronto. Five grandchildren also survive.

Naomi Mitchel received her education at Hanover and at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, and she was a well known piano teacher in Lindsay. She was a member of Cambridge Street Baptist Church, a deaconess, and a member of the music committee. She was a member of the Registered Music Teachers' Association, the Women's Association, the Muriel Brothers Mission Circle at Cambridge Baptist, and a member of the Friendly Club in Lindsay.

The funeral service was held from the Mackey Funeral Home on Saturday, February 6th, at 3:00 p.m. The service was conducted by Rev. T. Boadway of Cambridge Street Baptist Church with interment at Riverside Cemetery.

Pall bearers were F. A. Reeds, Don Lytle, and Reg Crandell of Lindsay, Gordon Grant and Ty Yoshiki of Toronto, and E. M. Gruetzner of Port Credit.

NEWS FROM THE LCVI

by, "The Post" Collegiate reporter Richard Bruce

KEY CLUB CONVENTION

On Saturday, February 6th, a Key Club Convention was held for District 5 and 6 at Adam Scott Collegiate in Peterboro. Three boys from the LCVI attended, Mike Morrissey, Don McArthur and your reporter.

The three of us were not prepared for the problems that were to arise. Mike blew the heater out of his car and we had to use Don's car. Then in Lindsay we were involved in a minor accident. By this time Mike's car was repaired so we once again started off for Peterboro finally arriving at 2:30 p.m. having left Lindsay for the first time at 9:30 a.m.!

We visited the auditorium and then looked around for something interesting to do. We chose the ping-pong competition but none of us survived to the semi-finals. Bill Thomas from Cobourg was the eventual winner. We then watched the basketball playoffs. We were unable to enter with only three players. PCVS won the basketball title in the final against Belleville.

By this time it was 4 p.m. and time for the business meeting. Each club president gave a brief outline of their club's activities for the year. Most of the clubs seemed to be doing well and they all had good financial statements. It appeared all Key Clubs raised the bulk of their revenue sponsoring dances, but it was noted all the clubs were always willing to help charitable clubs or foundations.

The rest of the business meeting involved questions and ideas that are to be discussed fully at the convention in Ottawa during the Easter holidays. The meeting adjourned about 5:30 p.m.

Delegates then went to the Empress Hotel for dinner and were later entertained by two students from the PCVS. One of them, Tim Appleton, district treasurer gave a very interesting and informative talk on Canada as "the nation to be". He included in his talk a verbal tour of each province and pointed out the high points of Canada's wealth, importance and stability. He said it was up to us, the young people of today to pave the way to Canada's rise as a truly great nation.

A dance was held at Adam Scott in honour of the convention, at which the boys were happy to see more girls than boys present!. "See you in Ottawa" was the phrase most heard at the end of the evening and "Thank you Adam Scott" for the convention. It was a great success.

BASKETBALL GAMES POSTONED

On Friday, February 5th three basketball games between the LCVI Bantam, Juniors and Seniors and the Adam Scott teams of Peterboro were to be played. Due to the bad weather which made travel impossible, the games were postponed to a date to be announced later.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is it true that tuberculosis is no longer a threat to the health of Americans? I rarely hear of it any more. For example, scores of my friends and acquaintances are down with high blood pressure, ulcers, coronary disease, arthritis, and other conditions. Not one that I know of is down with TB. Mrs. O.

Comment: You have chosen the winners. They usually head the list of the sick. But there are many other also-rans in the race, and commonly overlooked. One of these is tuberculosis.

It may surprise you and others to learn that about 50,000 Americans break down with TB every year. That may seem like an insignificant figure when compared with the millions of arthritis or heart sufferers. But if you, or someone in your family, comes down with tuberculosis, I assure you that taking even one digit out of the 50,000 can be an awfully large ONE.

Here are some interesting facts about the disease: You don't inherit tuberculosis; you catch it from someone who has it.

There's no danger being associated with one who has completely recovered. He doesn't spread germs.

Although healthy people can catch TB, rundown folks are more susceptible.

You can't always tell one has tuberculosis by the way he looks and acts. It's necessary to use tuberculin tests, X rays and other examinations to make the diagnosis.

Tuberculosis is no respector of youth or age — one can come down with it at any age.

TWO YEARS TO LIVE

Dear. Dr. Steincrohn: I have a friend who has heart disease. He doesn't look too sick to me. Yet he tells me his doctor has told him he hasn't got more than two years to live. What do you think of that? Mrs. Y.

Comment: Not having seen or examined your friend, who am I to say yes or no? However, I have always been more or less allergic in my feelings about doctors who hand out such definite pronouncements. After all, the brightest and most experienced among us are far from being even little gods.

I have seen too many apparently hopeless patients live for many years. (I recall one of my own, a patient who didn't seem to be a one-in-a-million shot at lasting out the night of his attack, who lived for 20 years and died of another disease entirely. I recorded this unusual case in the Annals of Internal Medicine.) On the other hand, some who are apparently slightly ill, may take a sudden, unexpected turn and die. Throughout this country every day are living ghosts who go about their daily tasks as if nothing happened, yet were given up for dead years before.

I repeat, Mr. Y.: Your friend may be as critically ill as his doctor has said. But I would never put myself on the record with such a prognostication for at least two reason: 1. I would not want any human being living in daily fear because of such a death sentence. 2. Neither I, nor any other doctor, can look so confidentally into the future and make accurate predictions on life or death.

Mrs. N.: A hordeolum is another name for a sty. It is a small abscess or boil on the eyelid. Most often it will disappear after hot application. Only rarely does it require incision.

AID SONGBIRDS THROUGH WINTER

FOR MOST BIRDS, SUET IS A BASIC, HEAT-PROVIDING FOOD DURING COLD WEATHER. A BASKET, MADE FROM A 5"-SQUARE OF SCREEN AND NAILED TO A 6" x 12" BOARD, CAN BE HUNG IN A TREE, OR WIRED 5' ABOVE GROUND TO AN OLD PIPE DRIVEN IN EARTH (PREVENTS THEFT OF SUET BY CATS, SQUIRRELS).

LESS DESIRABLE, BUT SIMPLE, IS MERELY WIRING A CHUNK OF SUET TO A LIMB, OR HANGING IT WITH WIRE IN A TREE.

THE LIGHTER SIDE with Dick West

Washington (UPI) — Until a day or two ago, I had never been aware of the romantic side of the Drycleaning Business.

Then there fell into my hands a publication by the National Institute of Drycleaning that raised by eyebrows several notches above their normal elevation.

It appears that the Institute is encouraging its members to cater to the kiss-and-don't tell clientele.

In the winter edition of "Clothing Care News", the Institute offers drycleaning establishments an advertising layout strongly suggesting that a bit of hanky-panky may be going on among their customers.

I take the liberty of quoting for you some of the more juicy passages:

"Don't let a lipstick smudge embarrass you. In the cold light of day a lipstick stain is just a mixture of fats,oils, waxes and dyes. Don't touch this stain with water.

"Just get the smudge to us as quickly as you can. In most cases we can make it disappear. It may well be worth the trip".

Wowee! You surely don't have any trouble reading between those lines.

But just in case there is someone who doesn't get the picture. "Clothing Care News" includes another item that is even more explicit. It reads as follows:

"Drycleaners don't mind mistletoe. It's the lipstick that bothers them. Especially when a nervous husband attempts to remove some of the tell-tale evidence with a little water.

"The National Institute of Drycleaning advises that water will separate the dye in the lipstick from the fats, oils and waxes and leave Mr. Husband with one permanent memento.

"Take lipstick-stained garments to the drycleaners right away. If a lipstick stain is allowed to remain in the fabric for a long time it becomes difficult if not impossible to remove."

I wouldn't know about this from personal experience, but from hearsay I gather that the place Mr. Husband is most likely to get lipstick stained is his shirt collar.

Once the Institute's ad begins appearing across the country, the following little scene undoubtedly will unfold:

Mrs. Wife: "What have you got in that bundle?"

Mr. Husband: (nonchalantly): "Oh, just a couple of shirts that I'm taking to the drycleaners."

Mrs. Wife: "What are you some kind of nut?"

Gentlemen, you'll never get away with it.

109th Battalion anniversary list now being prepared

To The Editor:

The following is a list of the names and addresses of a few of the veterans of the 109th Canadian Infantry Battalion which it is fondly hoped will celebrate its 50th Anniversary some time this year. I am asking you to publish this list for the information of your readers and in hopes that all 109th veterans, who possibly can will send me their names and present addresses, the Company in which they served and their interest in a reunion.

In this I am not including those who held no rank, the reason being that I do not know in all cases and mainly because a soldier's worth is not always to be measured by the rank he attained nor the medals he won but by his willingness to go shoulder to shoulder with his unit into the very Valley of the shadow of death for his King, his Country and his Flag.

This is a list of those who did just that and are alive today to commemorate the 50th. Anniversary of our proud Battalion.

Of the two cathedrals of St. Patrick in Armagh, the Catholic one is the more recent. This unusual and graceful building is a fine example of the best early Victorian architecture. The interior is in perfect keeping with lavish taste for marble and mosaic of that period and the whole has been most beautifully executed.

Kennedy memorial at Runneymede

London (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth will inaugurate a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy on May 14 at Runneymede, site of the signing of the Magna Carta.

Completion of the memorial had been planned to coincide with the 750th anniversary of the signing of the Magna Carta in June, 1215.

The memorial consists of a memorial stone with an inscription, a paved terrance and two "contemplation" seats overlooking Runnymede. Prince Philip will accompany the Queen at the ceremonies, it was announced yesterday.

No ceremonies for new flag for Lindsay

Canada's new flag will be raised atop the Peace Tower in Ottawa to the accompaniment of a twenty-one gun salute and the pomp and circumstance that surrounds a very regal occasion.

Speeches by His Excellency the Governor General, George Vanier and Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson will be included in the programme that will feature singing by a children's choir, an orchestra, a military band and Guards of Honour.

Trumpet fanfares will sound as the Red Ensign is lowered for the last time.

In Lindsay no ceremonies are planned. A new flag will be raised at the federal building at 12 noon on Monday by the caretaker in accordance with instructions received from the Department of Public Works.

At the town hall the new flag will be raised "sometime" by the town clerk. Mayor Joseph Holtom said in council on Monday that no ceremonies would be held.

Legion Secretary Ewart Jones said the Red Ensign at the Royal Canadian Legion will continue to fly, at least for the present time. He pointed out no special directions have been received from Command and that the branch has not discussed the matter since the official date of the Maple Leaf flag was announced.

New Maple Leaf flags are on order for the public schools, School Board Chairman George Inrig said today. Mr. Inrig said he did not expect the flags would be available in time for Monday's official flag raising but would be distributed as soon as possible. Schools are to each arrange their own flag raising ceremonies, he said, including the ceremony of finally lowering the Canadian Red Ensign.

COST OF SUMMER THEATRE $20,000 KLTA TOLD

Kawartha Winter Carnival planned for 1967

The Special Events Committee of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association will attempt to meet with the Mayors and Reeves of the Kawartha Lakes district to gain municipal support for the Kawartha Winter Carnival proposed for 1967, John Bowes of the K.L.T.A. said Thursday.

Mr. Bowes said he hoped this "ambitious" project could become an annual event in the Kawarthas

It was decided that the project should be under the direct control of the KLTA. At the association meeting last month it was decided to form a separate entity to run the carnival, but Thursday, the KLTA said they would have the planning done in a committee and when the date of the event came closer a separate corporate body could be formed if it were necessary to limit liability.

"Summer theatre success to depend on the quality of the players," Douglas Vanderburg told a meeting of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association Thursday night. The KLTA formed a committee to put summer theatre in the Kawarthas this summer.

Mr. Vanderburg told the KLTA the Canadian Players seemed to provide the best suggestions for summer theatre in this area. He said an extended risk would be taken by obtaining a less reputable group.

Following research Mr. Vanderburg has been doing, he said the cost of a good summer theatre would be $20,000 plus the cost of promotion. He said it was suggested the theatre run four nights a week in Lindsay and two nights in Peterboro. Figured on one-third of the potential, he said, it would be necessary to sell 400 season tickets in Peterboro and 800 in Victoria County plus 72 75 extra seats at each performances. If over one-third of the potential number of seats available could be filled, the theatre would pay for itself and perhaps show a small profit.

He said, the backbone of summer theatre would be community spirit.

Mr. Vanderburg agreed with John Bowes who said, "Summer theatre would have more chances of success in Lindsay if it were held there six nights a week rather than four in Lindsay and two in Peterboro and some make-shift auditorium." Mr. Bowes said Lindsay has had the foresight to go ahead and equip a theatre properly for this type of thing.

PAY HALF, SOCCER, SOFTBALL TEAMS TOLD

KLTA committee continue to work on Summer Theatre for Lindsay

June 27 has been suggested by the Canadian Players as an opening date for summer theatre in Lindsay, Douglas Vanderburg told a meeting of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association Thursday.

The plan evolved from a meeting with representatives of the Players and he said there would be no commitment until May, and if it appeared to be a failure by the middle of May, the KLTA could pull out, and it would only have cost about $1,000. He said the cost for the whole season would be $20,000.

President of the KLTA, Donald Scott said even if the association lost $4,000 on the project it would be a good investment. He said summer theatre shouldn't be looked at as a one-term thing; it could lose some money the first year and gain it back the second.

A committee formed by the KLTA to work on the summer theatre project will try to get Little Theatre people interested in assisting

The meeting was informed that the Omemee Chamber of Commerce said they were against summer theatre in Lindsay. No reasons were given for their decision.

The Lindsay Men's Softball League and the Lindsay Soccer Association may have to lay the money on the line if they want lights in the George Street park next summer.

Recreation Commission chairman Herb Simpson said last night the commission was not going to lay it on a silver plate and ask town council to pay the shot. Softball and soccer will have to pay half. To this vice-chairman Robert Payne added "they may have to produce the money before we go ahead, we could possibly make that demand ourselves!

The commission decided a complete figure as to costs of a lighting system will be necessary in the immediate future, following a quotation for fixtures only of $8,000. Charles Ford, Lindsay contractor who is expected to quote on installation costs, was unavailable but is expected to return this weekend.

Commission members were told by 1964 President Walter Stewart that men's softball could raise upwards of $4,000 toward the project.

Recreation Commission asked to supervise school ice rinks

Supervision of public school ice rinks was tossed in the lap of the Lindsay Recreation Commission in a letter from the Lindsay Public School Board, read at a meeting of the Commission, last night.

Chairman Herb Simpson expressed the desire to be of assistance but felt the Commission did not have sufficient staff to handle the project. The need for supervision appears to be on week-ends, he said and a suggestion was made that school caretakers might be approached to provide supervision during skating hours on saturdays for an additional fee.

Robert Payne suggested posting all rinks showing a time schedule for hockey and skating on week ends, and it was thought supervision would be needed for skating sessions only.

Commission members were told that Peterboro's 52 outdoor rinks have no supervision. The ice is provided and the surface cleaned but the rinks are considered impossible to supervise there.

It was pointed out that the Lindsay Board of Education now pay caretakers for flooding and cleaning the ice surfaces and a suggestion that the home and school associations be approached on the rink supervision problem.

Former Lindsay OPP officer now Inspector

Vern C. Welsh, who was head of the Lindsay OPP detachment in 1963, was made Inspector of No. 5 District, Toronto, this week.

Inspector Walsh came to Lindsay from Renfrew as a Corporal in early February of 1962 and while he was in Lindsay he was promoted to Sergeant. He joined the force 19 years ago following a hitch in the army for four years. He had served overseas during the Second World War in England, France and Germany.

His promotion to Corporal was in 1954 aand in 1955 he was transferred to Prescott to assume the head of the local police. At that time Prescott had no local police department and the town was patrolled by OPP.

He came to the Lindsay detachment, with his wife Jeanette, and two sons Darryl, 15, and Dennis, 10, on February 5, 1962 and left in February, 1963.

ARENA BOARD COMMITTEE NAMED

Herb Simpson was returned as Chairman of the Lindsay Recreation Commission at their February meeting held at the Recreation Centre last night. Other appointments to office named Robert Payne as vice-chairman, and a new committee was also named.

Richard Brien was named chairman of the programme committee, with D. Melville and Dr. J. Fawcett as members of the committee. George Hillier was named chairman of the facilities committee with R. Payne and George Finney as members. A new committee to be known as the finance committee was also named with D. Melville as chairman, and committee chairman R. Brien and G. Hillier as members.

Of the eight man commission, only five men were in attendance with D. Melville, R. Brien and Dr. Fawcett being absent.

SKI-SCHOOL VERY POPULAR COMMISSION MEMBERS TOLD

Lindsay Recreation Commission's ski-school was among several going concerns on the commission programme again this winter. Hampered by weather conditions, the school has finally got under way and two locations are now in use to accommodate the large turnout.

Recreation Director Harry Johnson told commission members that last Saturday's crowd numbered over 100 with an afternoon bus load going to Devil's Elbow Ski Tow. This group, he said, paid their own way. They are older skiers who are capable of the steeper slopes, While the beginners work out at the lower levels of the Omemee Ski Tow.

Other popular projects at the Recreation Center included the women's millinery classes and the ceramics groups. A new kiln is expected to arrive shortly which will permit members of the ceramics group to complete their projects. At present two classes are being held with a waiting list as well.

After a 30-minute wait, passengers cheered as the blushing guard arrived—by taxi—and the train took off.

Viet Nam Crisis

Lester B. Pearson, a disappointing Prime Minister, showed evidence of his former stature when he delivered a major foreign policy address to the Canadian Club. In his first major international analysis since he became Canada's 15th Prime Minister in April, 1963, Pearson broke official silence surrounding the Viet Nam crisis to warn that continued fighting could escalate into a "full-scale Far Eastern Chinese-American war."

In his speech Mr. Pearson showed again his qualities as a Diplomat, and winner of a Nobel Peace Prize, a field he departed to become Canadian leader.

Recently suggestions have been made in the United Nations that Prime Minister Pearson become one of "five wise men" to help settle the UN problems including the peace-keeping cost assessments.

Speaking of the United Nations crisis, Pearson said the time has come "to have a long, hard look at the organization". He cautioned unless steps are taken to give the UN more authority and effectiveness in peace-keeping, the UN threatens to become little more than a debating forum.

"The time of decision is approaching," he said.

The time for decision is indeed approaching, not only in the United Nations, in Viet Nam, in NATO and elsewhere but also in parliament. It has become evident that an election is necessary and should not be delayed much longer. Parliament convenes next week and major cabinet changes are anticipated on Parliament Hill. We do not need cabinet changes at the present time quite as much as government changes!

King of Clocks

"The pride of Vienna's clock museum is a mammoth grandfather clock, some nine feet high, which was completed by a monk of the Augustine order in 1769. It runs for three months without winding, tells the date, phases of the moon, hours of sunrise and sunset, the position of the planets in relation to the earth, predicts eclipses, and effortlessly reminds you of leap years. It even tells you the time!"—BBC correspondent in Vienna, Ian McDougall.

World Battle Against Cancer

New York, (UPI)—Industrial civilization did not invent cancer, and that is for sure, although its incidents has increased with civilization. It existed before there was civilization. Probably it came upon the earth shortly after life did.

No variety of life, whether animal or vegetable, is known to be cancer exempt. Science hasn't measured every species for cancer susceptibility but cancer scientists believe they all are susceptible, in greater or lesser degree —certainly all which have more than one cell.

Cancers of birds and fish are as well identified as those of mammals. The gall diseases of trees and other vegetables are cancerous processes. Cancer has been identified in the honey bee, in the frog and in the oyster. The fossilized bone of a bear which lived a million or so years ago has marks like those cancer leaves.

Man's remotest ancestors were contemporaries of that bear, and of other fossilized cancer hints. When Homo Sapiens (that's us) made the first imprints in history some 30,000 years ago it is reasonable to believe he had been involved with cancer for a long time.

The first concrete evidence is in human bones some 3,000 years old. Egyptian Papyri written around 1500 B.C. and relics of the Indian and Persian cultures of about that time mention treatments for ulcerations which probably were cancerous.

By the time of Hippocrates, (460-370 B.C.,) the Greek physician who is revered as the Father of Medicine, cancer was being classified by sites and distinguished from benign tumors. By then it had a name, the Greek word for crab which when transliterated into the Latin alphabet is cancer.

Claudius Galen who died around 203 A.D. and who was the most notoriously wrong physician in all history, left a record of why it was called crab. "The veins which extend from the tumor make it represent a figure much like that of a crab," he wrote. Paulus of Aegina (625-690 A.D.) gave a more cogent-reason. Cancer, he said, "adheres with such obstinacy to the part it seizes that like the crab it cannot be separated from it without great difficulty."

Only some cancers even remotely remind of a crab which exposes the profound ignorance of the ancients. They couldn't have recognized many cancers, for instance blood cancers, the Leukemias. The elementary fact that the blood circulates was not discovered until 1616, by the English physician, William Harvey.

The disinterest by doctors in cancer continued right up to the beginning of this century. That seems inexplicable —unless you assume there was little cancer around, in relation to all the other life-threatening diseases which afflicted people. To be sure there were very few physicians and the multitudes were born lived and died without any medical attention. They could have died of cancer in large numbers without history noting it.

But archaeologists have ransacked many ancient graveyards and rarely do ancient bones indicate their owners died of cancer. Many cancers involve only soft tissues and all traces of such cancers would have disappeared over centuries. Yet thousands upon thousands of mummified ancient Egyptians have been examined. Not a word has been the mummified relics of cancer.

All this would support cancer being largely a disease of industrial civilization. There is another factor, however. People in those past ages didn't usually live very long. Many of those who weren't cut down by pestilence and malnutrition in childhood, were cut down by such death dealers as wars or starvation in their 20's or 30's.

Statistically it can be demonstrated that no matter to what extent cancer is a disease of industrial civilization, it is also a disease of the so-called riper years. The line of a graph is almost flat at the lowest incidence from birth to the mid-20's where it rises slightly. The angle of rise through the 20's is just a little steeper but between 40 and 80 it goes almost straight up.

Many cancer scientists will tell you we'll all die of cancer if we live long enough. Before the 20th century few lived long enough. The 19th century discovered the microbe killers of man and the health-giving values of public sanitation and private hygiene.

The 20th century went on to superlative plumbing and such chemical marvels as microbe-killing drugs and preventive vaccinations. The life expectancy of the human being at birth has been much more than just doubled. Year by year the proportion of the population of persons 50 years old and older gets higher and higher.

Another change over the past 50 years has been a vast improvement in medical attentions and reporting. In the industrially advanced nations there isn't too much chance of anyone dying of cancer without it having been diagnosed by a doctor and reported to keepers of vital statistics.

But many cancer scientists do not consider these factors enough to account for the startling rise in over-all cancer rates which have accompanied the rise of 20th century industrial civilization, (and they are NOT denying cancer also is a disease of aging.)

Between 1930 and 1959 the death rate in white males from lung cancer rose from less than 5 per 100,000 population to 36 per 100,000. It coincides with greatly increased cigarette smoking, both in smoking volume and in number of smokers, and with increasing atmospheric pollution. In the same period the death rate from the blood cancers more than doubled.

On the other hand, the death rate from uterine cancer has dropped from 28 to 13 per cent 100,000 population. Some of the drop can be attributed to improved treatment but not all. And there is no explaining a drop in the death rate from stomach cancer from 29 to 11 per 100,000.

That is astonishing when you consider that many of the suspected carcinogens in general circulation — such as those in food "additives," pesticide residues, and many of the sophisticated contaminants of water — have their first prolonged contacts with human body chemistry in stomachs.

That is not as conclusive as it sounds. The points of contacts of cancer-causing compounds with experimental animals aren't always the points where cancer develops. One of the many things which makes the cancer problem such a stumper is that it has hardly an aspect which isn't clouded with contradiction.

The Balanced Man

"In the coming age of automation, I suggest we shall find it impossible to consider anybody as adequately educated if he or she does not understand at least some science. Neither shall we be able to regard as an educated man a technician or a scientist, however distinguished, who has failed to develop a substantial interest in the humanities and the arts, or who shows no evidence of being aware of the significance of society and his part in it. We ought, in other words, to be making a determined effort to produce better balanced people."—Sir Leon Bagrit.

Mill gutted in $30,000 blaze

One of the most disastrous fires which has occurred locally in recent years completely demolished the Woods Milling Company early this morning. W. H. Woods, owner of the building estimated the damage at $30,000.

The fire was first noticed by Robert Parker about 6:20 a.m. as he was leaving on his milk route from Flavelle's Creamery. Firemen fought the blaze for several hours before it was brought under control and at noon today the ruins were still smouldering. Water from three strings of hose was forced onto the blaze at 130 pounds pressure, but the presence of tin which covered the outside of the building made it difficult for fire fighters to get at the seat of the blaze.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. Mr. Woods stated this morning that the boilers were out over night and he was at a loss to account for the blaze. The damage was only partly covered by insurance.

Raffles illegal

Warnings have been issued in regard to holding raffles or lotteries of any kind. It is a criminal offence to dispose of anything in this way and the County Crown Attorney has instructed constables to prosecute every offender. Anyone attending a raffle also leaves himself liable to a severe penalty. Any gathering where articles are won by throwing dice, or any other game of chance is classed as a raffle and the selling of tickets by which the holder of a certain number will win something is a lottery. The only exception is where tickets are sold by an institution for charitable purposes and the value of the article to be disposed of is less than $50.

Special war levies

Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, delivered his budget speech yesterday afternoon upon a formal motion that the House go into committee of ways and means and the budget debate was therefore adjourned for a week. The outstanding feature of the budget is the taxation of raw materials, heretofore free of duty and a general or "horizontal" increase of all existing tariff duties by an addition seven-and-a-half percent ad valorem.

The special war revenue tax as it will be known, will include a tax of one percent annually upon the note circulation of banks and one percent of the gross income of trust and loan companies and one percent on some insurances.

CHICKEN WITH A DIFFERENCE

Early statistics tell us that Christmas '64 was one of the most lavish in many seasons when you consider the money spent by the Canadian public. So like many other Canadians you may be striving to cut your food budget. After a lush and lavish menu over Christmas, this needs mean that your family survive on plain fare but you can purchase inexpensive meat and wax creative with it.

For a cold day, try serving chicken with a new flavour — Marinated Chicken with Peaches. This economical dish has the colour of autumn and the lush flavour of summer.

The marinade is composed of Heinz Vinegar, salad oil, and a bit of onion, salad oil. Strong enough to penetrate the meat with its piquant flavour, this marinade is still subtle enough not to over-powed the good chicken taste. The peaches are drained and heated jue before serving to add a touch of sweetness to the meat.

MARINATED CHICKEN WITH PEACHES

1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ⅓ cup of Heinz Vingear, ⅔ cup salad oil 1 small onion, grated, 1 clove garlic, sliced, 6 whole chicken legs (approximately 2½ pounds) 1 can (28 ounces) peach halves, drained.

Combine first 8 ingredients in jar; shake well. Place chicken in shallow baking dish; pour dressing over all. Refrigerate, covered, several hours or overnight, turning chicken occasionally. In large hot skillet, quickly brown chicken well on all sides. Reduce heat; cook uncovered 40-45 min. or until tender turning occasionally and brushing frequently with dressing. Place peaches in skillet with chicken; brush with remaining dressing. Cover: simmer about 5 minutes or until peaches are hot. Makes 6 servings.

BROILER METHOD: Arrange chicken in bottom of broiler pan lined with aluminum foil. Place broiler pan 7 to 9" from source of heat so chicken can broil slowly. Broil, turning often and brushing frequently with dressing for 45-60 minutes or until chicken is tender. Ten minutes before chicken is done, arrange peaches on broiler pan with chicken. Brush with remaining dressing on juices. Broil until golden and hot.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. How can I keep the flues and chimney of my fireplace clean?

A. Dried potato peelings, burned in your chimney, will do a good job of cleaning the flue and chimney. Incidentally, dried orange and grapefruit peels and rinds are a good source of fuel in your fireplace, and also give off a lovely aroma.

Q. How can I clean plastic-of-paris statuary?

A. Make a thick paste of starch and water spread this over all parts of the surface, covering it well. Then wait until the paste has dried completely, and brush it off.

Faster Winter Drying

You can speed up the drying of your laundry indoors during the winter months if you don't happen to have an electric dryer) by placing an electric fan at the end of your line where it will force the air to circulate through your hung-up clothes.

No fire, owner's basement flooded

A fire call Wednesday afternoon to the residence of J. R. Humphries of the Oakwood Road turned out to be a false alarm, Fire Chief Arnold Watson said.

The Chief said a furnace fire was reported but when firemen arrived water was gushing into the basement from the flooded fields around the house. He said the water was entering the basement faster than 300 gallons per minute which was too fast for the Fire Department's pumps.

In the past 24 hours the temperature reached a maximum of 34 and a minimum of 26 degrees.

— FEBRUARY —

Last evening's sky was broad, blue and high,
Its perfection was never excelled;
Not even a cloud, to mar the scene—
And the planes coming in, not repelled.

Folk watched the new moon, smug in the old—
Like a Kangaroo babe in its pouch;
The night was calm, not a snow-flake rolled—
Yes, for that we can very well vouch.

Early— A.M. the weather-vane changed—
Like the sail of a ship, out at sea;
Blue sky all gone, replaced by gray dawn—
And a blizzard, through which none could see.

No, not even east, west, south or north—
And above, not a pilot could soar;
The like we've not seen, days far between —
And we trust, we shall see it, no more.

Mr. Feb. gets wild, storms on, for days;
But then; he tames down and is normal,
Sometimes he fails, to hide the sun's rays—
From now, let us hope he'll go formal.

—Mac.

Cannington UCW hears United Church officials speak about New Curriculum

The third annual meeting of Lindsay Presbyterial United Church Women was held in Cannington United Church, recently with an attendance of approximately 300.

The President, Miss Vina Neal, opened the session with call to worship and asked the assembly to stand and bow heads in silent prayer for Sir-Winston Churchill.

The high light of the day was the address given by Nelson Abraham, M.A., B.D., who came to Canada in 1947 and at the present time is working on the New Curriculum at the Head office of the United Church. Mr. Abraham was a college graduate when he came to Canada and shortly after arriving he was asked by the United Church to come with them and work among young people. He also worked for two years in jails with delinquent boys. He attended Emmanual College from which he graduated with honours in theology and accepted a position in Saskatchewan where he was well received. While he was there he was flying to a Trustees Convention in Halifax and stopped off at the United Church head office; that was when he was first introduced to the New Curriculum and asked to work on it.

The New Curriculum is not just a new course of study, but much more. There is a need to try to give our children a fresh insight into the Bible. Where do we stand in the face to face encounter with God and people? We do not achieve salvation alone. The new curriculum is the tool to express this. The theme for the adult study is "God and His Purpose" by J. S. Thomson, and study groups become listening groups for an encounter with God. There will be a newness in us as long as we keep on listening to what God has to tell us. To belong to God is to give time, talents, and money.

The morning worship was led by Mrs. Walter Russell, Woodville, and Mrs. J. Alton, Hartley. The worship service concluded by a solo rendered by Mrs. G. Hoult, Little Britain.

Mrs. Stanley Murray, Woodville, lead a sing-song of well-known hymns and spirituals.

Miss Olive Geach, Treasurer, drew attention to her report which showed the allocation of $19,473; also $482. to "Over and Above Gifts" and $160. to Conference Bursury Fund.

Mrs. G. A. Beatty, chairman of Finance, presented her report.

Mrs. I. R. Richardson, Oshawa, Conference President, brought greetings from Conference U.C.W. She said "Let us think about the U.C.W. and the mission of our church. We closed a chapter in Dec. 1961, and opened a new one in Jan. 1962, and new chapter depends on the spirit in which we open it. Glance back with gratitude and garner lessons and stretch out your hands to days ahead. If this chapter is to be a better one we must first realize Gods presence with us. Women constitute a great influence as they develop spiritually and emotionally. One of the ways to grow old quickly is to quit learning anything new. Learning to live in God's way is to find God's wisdom. By learning and living more like the Master, we find true and lasting joy. Always remember ours is a christian group doing the Lord's work.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

NEVER TOO OLD FOR DOCTOR'S ATTENTION

Any doctor who happens to pick up this column today is likely to say, "There he goes shooting off again". I admit some things provoke me easily. What gets under my epidermis, dermis (oh, let's call it just plain skin) more easily than irritants is a physician's manifest attitude that there's no use fooling with an elderly patient.

If there is one area in which the doctor should show patience and concern and optimism, it is in treating the elderly. There's simply no excuse for tactless and heartless management of an older patient. For example:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I just read your column about pepole feeling old. I want to ask you this. If a person is told by his doctor every time he goes into his office, "Oh, what do you expect at 70? Remember your age. I can't make you feel like a 16-year-old". What then?

Some of us older, not-too-well people have lost interest in trying to live. We feel that if a doctor feels that way, we will not try hard to help us feel better or live a little longer. A person would be crazy to think any doctor could make him feel like 16 again. Yet, we want to live a little longer and not be sick all the time.

But we have lost all confidence in doctors helping us. We can't help but feel they are thinking: "Oh, go on and die. You are in the way. We are only interested in helping the young".

I hope you're not afraid to print this, Dr. Steincrohn, because a lot of doctors need to be made to realize it won't be long before they too will be 50 or 70 or 80 and will hate to be treated the way they treat us.—Mrs. P.

COMMENTS SLIPS OUT

Comment. Afraid? Bless you, Mrs. P., I'm not only thankful for your letter but happy to call attention to it. What's to be afraid about? I've discussed this personally with many physicians for many years and the general consensus is that they could bite their collective tongue every time they make such a statement. Somehow it slips out, and they realize that they have hurt an oldster's feelings.

You will find that most doctors like older patients and try to do as much for them as the younger group. Most doctors. But there are the exceptions who are abrupt and impatient and sometimes actually cruel. M.D. stands for medical doctor, but unfortunately tactfulness and innate kindness are not always integral parts of every doctor's nature. I hope that today's column will serve to prick their consciences and make them stand off and take a good impartial look at themselves.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I went to see my doctor in March 1963. At that time. I weighed 235 pounds. He put me on a diet and gave me pills. At the end of the month I had lost 25 pounds and was feeling much better. At the end of three months I had lost 75 pounds.

Now that I'm down to 160, my next goal is to get to 125. I'm only 5 feet 2 inches and am 26 years old. All I can say is to make up your mind and you can do it.—Mrs. R.

Canadian sources supply much of VW

Volkswagen Canada Limited announced that initial 1965 orders totalling $6,800,000 for magnesium alloys used in the production of VW engine blocks have been placed with two Canadian firms, Magnesium Company of Canada Limited of Montreal and Dominion Company Limited of Toronto.

Company officials said each VW engine contains about 50 pounds of magnesium. A unique casting technique, developed by Volkswagen research, is resulting in a growing application for magnesium alloys in various automotive components. The main advantages of magnesium in alloy form are its extremely light weight coupled with high tensile strength.

Last year, Volkswagen purchase in Canada of original equipment parts, components and materials set a new record high of $9,430,000, a 36 per cent increase over the previous year.

In addition to magnesium, Volkswagen is now using Canadian sources to supply its factories in Germany with sheet metal, tires, sealed beam lamps, spark plugs, plywood and nickel for electrolytic plating.

Herbert Woods

William Herbert Woods, for many years a well known Lindsay business man and the son of one of Lindsay's pioneer merchants passed away in Ross Memorial Hospital on Monday morning. Death was not unexpected as the deceased gentleman had been ailing for several months.

Following public and high school days Herb Woods was employed for a time as an office man with the Maunder Milling Company, located at the corner of Victoria Avenue, and Peel streets. In the years that followed he became a partner in the Finlay-Woods Milling Company and for a considerable length of time he operated the Woods Milling Company.

Mr. Woods disposed of the business to become associated with his brother-in-law in the drug store business in Toronto. He retired a few years ago from active business and has been residing at the family home on Francis Street and at the summer cottage at Pleasant Point.

The late Herb Woods was for many years keenly interested in sports particularly softball, golf and curling. He was a member of the Lindsay Curling Club rising from the ranks of a lead to that of skip, and because of his proficiency was called on to take part in many club events as well as 'spiels in Ontario. He was a member of Ontario Tankard rinks in the days of the late Frank Carew. He was a member of the Golf Club and when softball was first introduced in Lindsay, Herb. Woods was an active participant with town league teams in the days when the game was played in the Lindsay Armoury.

In fraternal circles the late Herb Woods was a member of Faithful Brethren Lodge No. 88 A.F. and A.M. and was a member of the Loyal Orange Lodge in Lindsay.

He was kind and friendly in disposition, enjoyed humour and was genial in the company of his friends. He is survived by three sisters Helen and Kathleen (Mrs. Gordon Copeland) of Lindsay and Marguerite (Mrs. Ivor Proverbs) of Toronto.

Private service was held in the Mackey Funeral Home, Peel street, Lindsay, on Wednesday afternoon. Interment Riverside Cemetery.

PUZZLES & PASTIMES

This Is One Sweet Trick

THIS trick takes "know-how."

Grasping a water glass, balance two sugar cubes on your index finger, as shown at right. Now, see if you can flip the cubes into the glass one at a time. It's easy to get the first cube into the glass with a quick upward motion.

But to transfer the second by the same method usually results in the first cube's flying out. The secret is to lower the hand quickly, and, as the cube descends, catch it below. Give it a try.

Where There's a Will There's a Way

YOUNG Will's no fool. Since he can't make up his mind which of five girls he likes best, he's delivering a valentine to each of them. Can you trace Will's route through the meandering paths at right? Begin and end in lower left hand corner, proceeding as directed by arrows. Our young friend's stops are in consecutive order: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. See how quickly you can follow in his footsteps via given paths.

Emma McKean

It's a Question of Money

WHEN the secretary who keeps the petty cash counted it in the morning, she found there were exactly twenty coins, all of them halves, quarters and dimes.

Realizing that she'd need some smaller coins, she had the office cashier change the dimes into pennies. Thinking about it later, she decided she'd also need some dimes. She changed her half-dollars into dimes. After this swap, the cashier reminded her she probably would need some half-dollars. So all her quarters were changed into half-dollars. She then had eighty-nine coins.

How many halves, how many quarters and how many dimes were in the cash box when the original number totalled twenty?

Answer: Eight halves, eight quarters, four dimes.

Goodby, Mr. Chaps

MR CHAPS, who has given up riding, wanted to sell his saddle, silver spurs and numbers. He placed an ad in a paper, offering to sell the three singly or in any combination.

How many ways is it possible to sell the three articles—or any three articles?

If you don't know, guess.

Answer: There are two possibilities: Saddle with spurs and numbers; saddle with numbers; saddle with spurs.

LONELY HEARTS SOLITAIRE

NATURALLY, on St. Valentine's Day, those who receive stacks of valentines are busy guessing who sent them, reading verses, thinking of ways to get even, and that sort of frivolous thing. Here is another kind of Valentine's Day frivolity that one and all can enjoy.

You will notice that 16 cards, four of each suit, surround a nest of squares. Four pips of each suit are arranged in such a manner that a heart, a club, a diamond and a spade occupies each vertical, horizontal, and diagonal row. Of the pips displayed, none but the lonely hearts (how's that for a line?) are numbered. The problem is this: How can the numerals 1 through 4 be inserted in respective pips so that a 1, 2, 3, and 4 appears in each suit in each vertical, horizontal and diagonal row, effecting a total of 10 in all directions?

What you are asked to achieve, of course, is an intricate 3-way magic square involving pips, numerals and sums. You may wish to work out the problem on the diagram itself, or set up a similar arrangement with playing cards. One possible answer is given below.

Answer: Top horizontal row, 1-4-2-3; second row, 3-2-4-1; third row, 4-1-3-2; bottom row, 2-3-1-4.

Day in, Day Out

CENTRAL City's railroad station has 37 entrances. Sam Barnabus, who commutes from Statesville, begins his janitor chores on the outside platform and passes through each entrance just once a day. When Sam's finished, does he stand inside the waiting room where there's heat or outside on the breezy platform?

Answer: It is outside the waiting room, because he is thirty-seventh door he passes outside.

Cutting Corners

YOU must proceed in a certain order to achieve an answer here. See if you can point it out successfully.

Take one of eight small buttons. Place it upon any one of the points of the diagram and push it across to an opposite corner. Repeat this until every point is covered as you place the eighth button on the last point. How quickly can you master the order?

No fair peeking at answer.

Answer: Start with button on point A, then B, C, D, E, F, G, H.

Romantic Letters

ALL the missing words below are spelled with the same six letters. Those missing from lines one and eight are two-word combinations comprising the same six letters.

The pretty art student was

..... by the sky

Not to ..... for her where no shelter was high.

She lingered to sketch, and ..... old church.

St. ..... by name, and was left in the lurch.

She tried a short cut through the park on the grass

But a cranky old ..... forbade her to pass.

Then, weeping and drenched, asked the surrewful maid

Till the boy she is soon to ... ... to her aid.

How quickly can you discover the missing words?

Answer: The pretty art student was painting by the sky. Not to stay for her where no shelter was high. She lingered to sketch, and found an old church. St. Ives by name, and was left in the lurch. She tried a short cut through the park on the grass. But a cranky old caretaker forbade her to pass. Then, weeping and drenched, asked the surrewful maid Till the boy she is soon to ... ... to her aid.

Man 'o Letters?

I AM a caller at every home
Where you may meet,
For daily I perambulate along each street.
Take one letter from me and still you will see
I'm the same as before, as I'll always be.
Take two letters from me, or three or four
I'm still be the same as I was before.
In fact, I can tell you that all my letters you may take,
Yet, of me nothing else can you make. Who am I?

Answer: Letter "T" is the answer.

Answer in 30 Seconds

Answer: Right. The top is the narrow end.

Listen, World!

PHRASES now in common speech testify how widely persons have listened to, and perhaps been influenced by certain men and women. Can you supply what's omitted here in a quotation from the past?

"Ye ..... because no winter, no, no! It is, and remains the sign of spring." —
Ludwig Tieck.

The missing word is appropriate on St. Valentine's Day. It consists of four letters.

Answer: "Ye lovers."

SORT the following 3-letter words out in pairs so that when linked with a central letter they form 7-letter words. For example, THY-SELF.

THY AIL

The Fates picked forty palm fronds to patch the thatches on front porch roof.

Fudge on Report?

THE fudgemaker can cut six pieces from a pan of fudge ten inches square, how many pieces of the same size can be cut from a pan twenty inches square?

See if you can work this out in your head.

No fair peeking below.

Answer: Six, as in the first case.

Twister

REPEAT the following rapidly, three times.

The Fates picked forty palm fronds to patch the thatches on front porch roof.

It's Your Turn to Win

EXIT Black in six moves in this checker contest. It's White's turn, moving up the board. Winning is a matter of making the right moves, of course.

White's strategy is to press a relentless attack, forcing Black to jump. In just six plays, Black's goose is cooked. What are the winning moves.

Kinsmen Pee Wees and Rotary Bantams go to Bowmanville Saturday

Lindsay Kinsmen Pee Wees have their work more than cut out for them when they tackle the Bowmanville Pee Wees Saturday afternoon at Bowmanville. Playing a home and home total goal series, the Linesmen lads sagged behind in their home game last Tuesday and have four goals to make up over the series.

Bowmanville's four goal man Tom Simpson wrecked the locals almost lone handed Tuesday night as he also assisted on one additional goal while his line mate Mike Donoghue scored once and assisted on three.

Doug Kingsboro, Mike Rabey and Don Brennie scored for the Kinsmen Tuesday night in a game that should have been more even on the scoresheet. Several Lindsay goals were missed for the lack of passing, but Paul Rodd's boys never gave up, and the series is far from over. Game time in Bowmanville Saturday is 4:00 p.m.

Lindsay Rotary Bantams have a 4 - 1 lead to take to Bowmanville with them Saturday as a result of a hat trick by Jeff Stewart in the Lindsay home game Tuesday night. Bob Hawes opened the scoring for the visitors in the first period, Jim Willis tied the score in the second period, and Jeff Stewart fired three unanswered goals in the third period to set up the lead.

Only two penalties were called by the referees in the home game Tuesday night, both against Bowmanville, as Gord Abercrombie's boys carried the play on frequent occasions. The Rotary Bantams still have another game to play in this round and it could be a very tough one. A three goal lead could soon disappear on the usually sticky Bowmanville ice, and the Lindsay lads will have to be skating hard to hold their lead.

The Tuesday night scores, both games the first of a home and home total goal series: Linesmen Pee Wees 3, Bowmanville Pee Wees 7; Rotary Bantams 4, Bowmanville Bantams 1.

Help Kinsmen Club to help with Senior Citizens Club

The Editor,
Dear Sir:

As we have read in the press, the Kinsmen of Lindsay are in full support of the formation of a Senior Citizen's club for Lindsay which they have added to their list of things to do, which are all good.

By giving your full support to their radio auction coming March 29th, including support from senior citizens, the auction can go over big and this will no doubt, help the Senior Citizen's Club.

John Thomas,
Lindsay.

KLTA TO HELP L & F 'SPIEL

The Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association decided to give financial support to a curling bonspiel to be held by the Lindsay District Department of Lands and Forests.

Harry McDonald of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce told the KLTA response to the proposed bonspiel was overwhelming. He said the Department of Lands and Forests had planned on using the Lindsay Curling Rink for the event because of the number of entries it will be necessary to use the rink at Omemee as well.

He said he expects money will be needed to hire a bus to transport some of the competitors to the Omemee rink. Because of the assistance the department has given the KLTA in the past the KLTA has passed a motion to provide up to $50 for the bonspiel.

LOSES EAR!

Rouen, France (UPI) — Mahmoud Sebti, 31, insisted on using the telephone in the bar despite the protests of bar-tender Eugene Seville, 50.

Then, as Sebati made his call Seveille tapped insistently on the door to the phone booth.

Seville bit Sebti's ear off.

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — Long hairs nationwide are stringing along with the newest — and oldest — strumming thing, the classical guitar.

It's old because it's classical. The new part has to do with the rebirth of interest in classical tunes made especially for non-rock 'n roll type playin' of the guitar.

Usually, if you see a guitar-packin' person, you assume you will hear something like "Go Tell It On The Mountain."

But you're dead wrong if the guitar carrier is a classical type.

What you'll hear from the strings, in such a case, will be long-hair music.

The American Music Conference reports, there is a run on the enormous amount of music written for the classic guitar —indicating a great demand for same.

Proof of this comes also from Thomas H. Mahoney, president of the Denver-based Guitar Society of Colorado — one of many classical guitar societies nationwide.

Dr. Mahoney explains the passion this way:

"Most people don't realize that some of the world's greatest musicians have created a repertoire of guitar music second in size only to that of the violin.

"A great portion of it has lain buried for years in archives and on tablature, only recently coming to life with the renewed interest in guitar music."

Like the more that 30 other classical guitar societies throughout the United States many of them newly organized, the Colorado group intends to get this music out of the mothballs, to see what more of it is published, and to help increase public interest and awareness of the classical guitar.

The Denver group, organized in 1959, offers its more than 50 members the opportunity to perform monthly before a major classical guitar musician, and to hear his professional work in return.

Some guitar societies have been formed by admirers of classical artists such as Andres Segovia and Carlos Montoya.

The older ones helped arouse Americans' interest in these performers and exposed audiences to such artists for the first time.

The American Guitar Society in Los Angeles was formed in 1923 by a group of teachers, pupils and enthusiastic listeners headed by Mrs. Vahdah Olcott-Bickford.

In playing the classical guitar, the fingers are used exclusively, and since each string is plucked individually, the guitarist can play many voices, just as on the violin.

In contrast, the folk guitar is played with a plectrum. The technique primarily involves strumming musical chords rather than picking out individual notes.

Newark, England (UPI) — Doped corn is to be fed to pigeons which have infested the centre of town. After the birds are knocked out, they will be collected and destroyed humanely.

Dalrymple

The Boy Scout Group Committee has met twice, at the home of Garnet Stewart and John McCaughey.

The Swiming Committee met at Sebright Church last week with the tentative plans for a swimming programme in 1965. It is hoped to work again in conjunction with the Y.M.C.A.

A quilt has been made and donated and it will be quilted and raffled. The quilting is planned for February 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCaughey, after which a Pot Luck Supper is to be served. It is hoped this event plus sale of tickets will be the one big fund raising effort of the year.

The Annual church meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Deverell with attendance of twenty eight. Mr. Moore opened the meeting with scripture and prayer. Minutes were read and taken by Mr. Russell Way. Reports of the various committees were read by the chairman, as follows.

Mrs. C. Thrasher is spending a few days with Mrs. H. McCaughey at Uphill.

Arena board discuss senior citizen's club

Accommodation for a senior citizen's club is still the number one project on the Recreation commission agenda according to the chairman Herbert Simpson. Commission members last night were told of several meetings which have already been held on the project and of two or three possible locations that have been investigated.

Recreation Director Harry Johnson reported on a meeting held with representatives of the senior citizens, the Kinsmen Club, and the recreation commission. At this meeting Dr. E. M. Dutton of the Community Programmes Branch explained the usual procedure in forming Senior Citizen's Clubs, and a tour of Clubs at Cobourg, Port Hope, and Peterboro was carried out.

The next step in the procedure is a meeting of all parties interested. Last night's meeting was told the Kinsmen are considering a senior citizen's club as a Kinsman project, and the Commission will lend its full support in this programme.

THREE YOUTHS FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Two 18-year old Pontypool youths, Donald Allan Armstrong and Dennis James Willis and a Lindsay youth, Glen Edward McKay, 20 of Sioux Street, were fined $20 and costs or 10 days each for consuming liquor while under the age of 21 when they appeared in Lindsay Police Court Thursday, and the Armstrong youth was fined an additional $20 and costs or 10 days for obtaining liquor while he was under age.

Lindsay OPP Constable D. MacDonnell told the court he checked a car at the local dancehall at 11:30 p.m. on December 19 and found three boys and a 16-year-old girl drinking. He said the youths admitted ownership of the liquor found in the vehicle.

Wrote cheques, no account, Orillia man fined at Lindsay

An Orillia man, Ronald Pierce, was convicted in Lindsay Police Court Thursday of two charges of passing worthless cheques and a charge of fraudulently obtaining lodging without paying for it and was remanded in custody for one week for sentencing.

Lindsay OPP Sergeant Gordon Eberts told the court the accused passed a worthless $20 cheque at Shorts Cities Service Station on January 16 and a worthless cheque for $30.50 at the Victoria Motel on Highway 7 for a week's lodging. Sergeant Eberts said he left the motel on January 19 without paying the additional $16 bill he had. He said the cheques, which were drawn on an Orilia bank were returned marked "cannot trace account".

The accused said he thought he could get back to Orillia and open an account before the cheque went to the bank.

"No manners" magistrate tells youth

"Young fellows don't seem to have any manners any more", Magistrate Ian Munro said when he fined Thomas Perdue, 18, of 16 Bertie Street $25 and costs in Lindsay Police Court Thursday for creating a disturbance, and $25 and costs for consuming liquor while under the age of 21. "They don't seem to know what manners are", the Magistrate added.

The youth was given the option of two consecutive 10-day jail terms.

Jessie Francis of Manilla testified Perdue and another man came to their store on Christmas Day and wanted to buy something. She said she told him the store was closed and he swore at her. She said the swearing didn't disturb her too much but she had a 12-year-old girl with her.

The accused said in his evidence he didn't remember using the foul language but during cross-examination by the Crown Attorney, Lorne Jordan, the accused said he did remember swearing. The accused also admitted drinking.

COST OF SUMMER THEATRE $20,000 KLTA TOLD

Kawartha Winter Carnival planned for 1967

The Special Events Committee of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association will attempt to meet with the Mayors and Reeves of the Kawartha Lakes district to gain municipal support for the Kawartha Winter Carnival proposed for 1967, John Bowes of the K.L.T.A. said Thursday.

Mr. Bowes said he hoped this "ambitious" project could become an annual event in the Kawarthas

It was decided that the project should be under the direction of the KLTA. At the association meeting last month it was decided to form a separate entity to run the carnival, but Thursday, the KLTA said they would take the planning done in a committee and when the date of the event came closer a separate corporate body could be formed if it were necessary to limit liability.

PAY HALF, SOCCER, SOFTBALL TEAMS TOLD

The Lindsay Men's Softball League and the Lindsay Soccer Association may have to lay the money on the line if they want lights in the George Street park next summer.

Recreation Commission chairman Herb Simpson said last night the commission was not going to lay it on a silver plate and ask town council to pay the shot. Softball and soccer will have to pay half. To this vice-chairman Robert Payne added "they may have to produce the money before we go ahead, we could possibly make that demand ourselves!

The commission decided a complete figure as to costs of a lighting system will be necessary in the immediate future, following a quotation for fixtures only of $8,000. Charles Ford, Lindsay contractor who is expected to quote on installation costs, was unavailable but is expected to return this weekend.

Commission members were told by 1964 President Walter Stewart that men's softball could raise upwards of $4,000 toward the project.

KLTA committee continue to work on Summer Theatre for Lindsay

June 27 has been suggested by the Canadian Players as an opening date for summer theatre in Lindsay, Douglas Vanderburg told a meeting of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association Thursday.

The plan evolved from a meeting with representatives of the Players and he said there would be no commitment until May, and if it appeared to be a failure by the middle of May, the KLTA could pull out, and it would only have cost about $1,000. He said the cost for the whole season would be $20,000.

President of the KLTA, Donald Scott said even if the association lost $4,000 on the project it would be a good investment. He said summer theatre shouldn't be looked at as a one-term thing, it could lose some money the first year and gain it back the second.

A committee formed by the KLTA to work on the summer theatre project will try to get Little Theare people inerested in assisting.

The meeting was informed that the Omemee Chamber of Commerce said they were against summer theatre in Lindsay. No reasons were given for their decision.

"Summer theatre success to depend on the quality of the players," Douglas Vanderburg told a meeting of the Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association Thursday night. The KLTA formed a committee to put summer theatre in the Kawarthas this summer.

Mr. Vanderburg told the KLTA the Canadian Players seemed to provide the best suggestions for summer theatre in this area. He said an extended risk would be taken by obtaining a less reputable group.

Following research Mr. Vanderburg has been doing, he said the cost of a good summer theatre would be $20,000 plus the cost of promotion. He said it was suggested the theatre run four nights a week in Lindsay and two nights in Peterboro. Figured on one-third of the potential, he said, it would be necessary to sell 400 season tickets in Peterboro and 800 in Victoria County plus 72 75 extra seats at each performance. If over one-third of the potential number of seats available could be filled, the theatre would pay for itself and perhaps show a small profit.

He said, the backbone of summer theatre would be community spirit.

Mr. Vanderburg agreed with John Bowes who said, "Summer theatre would have more chances of success in Lindsay if it were held there six nights a week rather than four in Lindsay and two in Peterboro in some make-shift auditorium." Mr. Bowes said Lindsay has had the foresight to go ahead and equip a theatre properly for this type of thing.

Recreation Commission asked to supervise school ice rinks

Supervision of public school ice rinks was tossed in the lap of the Lindsay Recreation Commission in a letter from the Lindsay Public School Board, read at a meeting of the Commission, last night.

Chairman Herb Simpson expressed the desire to be of assistance but felt the Commission did not have sufficient staff to handle the project. The need for supervision appears to be on week-ends, he said and a suggestion was made that school caretakers might be approached to provide supervision during skating hours on Saturdays for an additional fee.

Robert Payne suggested postponing all rinks showing a time schedule for hockey and skating on week ends, and it was thought supervision would be needed for skating sessions only.

Commission members were told that Peterboro's 52 outdoor rinks have no supervision. The ice is provided and the surface cleaned but the rinks are considered impossible to supervise there.

It was pointed out that the Lindsay Board of Education now pay caretakers for flooding and cleaning the ice surfaces and a suggestion that the home and school associations be approached on the rink supervision problem.

Former Lindsay OPP officer now Inspector

Vern C. Welsh, who was head of the Lindsay OPP detachment in 1963, was made Inspector of No. 5 District, Toronto, this week.

Inspector Walsh came to Lindsay from Renfrew as a Corporal in early February of 1962 and while he was in Lindsay he was promoted to Sergeant. He joined the force 19 years ago following a hitch in the army for four years. He had served overseas during the Second World War in England, France and Germany.

His promotion, to Corporal was in 1954 and in 1955 he was transferred to Prescott to assume the head of the local police. At that time Prescott had no local police department and the town was patrolled by OPP.

He came to the Lindsay detachment, with his wife Jeanette, and two sons Darryl, 15, and Dennis, 10, on February 5, 1962 and left in February, 1963.

SKI-SCHOOL VERY POPULAR COMMISSION MEMBERS TOLD

Lindsay Recreation Commission's ski-school was among several going concerns on the commission programme again this winter. Hampered by weather conditions, the school has finally got under way and two locations are now in use to accommodate the large turnout.

Recreation Director Harry Johnson told commission members that last Saturday's crowd numbered over 100 with an afternoon bus load going to Devil's Elbow Ski Tow. This group, he said, paid their own way. They are older skiers who are capable of the steeper slopes. While the beginners work out at the lower levels of the Omemee Ski Tow.

Other popular projects at the Recreation Center included the women's millinery classes and the ceramics groups. A new kiln is expected to arrive shortly which will permit members of the ceramics group to complete their projects. At present two classes are being held with a waiting list as well.

ARENA BOARD COMMITTEE NAMED

Herb Simpson was returned as Chairman of the Lindsay Recreation Commission at their February meeting held at the Recreation Centre last night. Other appointments to office named Robert Payne as vice-chairman, and a new committee was also named.

Richard Brien was named chairman of the programme committee, with D. Melville and Dr. J. Fawcett as members of the committee. George Hillier was named chairman of the facilities committee with R. Payne and George Finney as members. A new committee to be known as the finance committee was also named with D. Melville as chairman, and committee chairman R. Brien and G. Hillier as members.

Of the eight man commission, only five men were in attendance with D. Melville, R. Brien and Dr. Fawcett being absent.

After a 30-minute wait, passengers cheered as the blushing guard arrived—by taxi—and the train took off.

Viet Nam Crisis

Lester B. Pearson, a disappointing Prime Minister, showed evidence of his former stature when he delivered a major foreign policy address to the Canadian Club. In his first major international analysis since he became Canada's 15th Prime Minister in April, 1963, Pearson broke official silence surrounding the Viet Nam crisis to warn that continued fighting could esculate into a "full-scale Far Eastern Chinese-American war."

In his speech Mr. Pearson showed again his qualities as a Diplomat, and winner of a Nobel Peace Prize, a field he departed to become Canadian leader.

Recently suggestions have been made in the United Nations that Prime Minister Pearson become one of "five wise men" to help settle the UN problems including the peace-keeping cost assessments.

Speaking of the United Nations crisis, Pearson said the time has come "to have a long, hard look at the organization". He cautioned unless steps are taken to give the UN more authority and effectiveness in peace-keeping, the UN threatens to become little more than a debating forum.

"The time of decision is approaching," he said.

The time for decision is indeed approaching, not only in the United Nations, in Viet Nam, in NATO and elsewhere but also in parliament. It has become evident that an election is necessary and should not be delayed much longer. Parliament reconvenes next week and major cabinet changes are anticipated on Parliament Hill. We do not need cabinet changes at the present time quite as much as government changes!

King of Clocks

"The pride of Vienna's clock museum is a mammoth grandfather clock, some nine feet high, which was completed by a monk in the Benedictine order in 1769. It runs for three months without winding, tells the date, phases of the moon, hours of sunrise and sunset, the position of the planets in relation to the earth, predicts eclipses, and effortlessly reminds you of leap years. It even tells you the time!"—BBC correspondent in Vienna, Ian McDougall.

Mill gutted in $30,000 blaze

One of the most disastrous fires which has occurred locally in recent years completely demolished the Woods Milling Company early this morning. W. H. Woods, owner of the building estimated the damage at $30,000.

The fire was first noticed by Robert Parker about 6:30 a.m. as he was leaving on his milk route from Flavelle's Creamery. Firemen fought the blaze for several hours before it was brought under control and at noon today the ruins were still smouldering. Water from three strings of hose was forced onto the blaze at 120 pounds pressure, but the presence of tin which covered the outside of the building made it difficult for fire fighters to get at the seat of the blaze.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. Mr. Woods stated this morning that the boilers were out over night and he was at a loss to account for the blaze. The damage was only partly covered by insurance.

It is a criminal offence to dispose of anything in this way and the County Crown Attorney has instruced constables to prosecute every offender. Anyone attending a raffle also leaves himself liable to a severe penalty. Any gathering where articles are won by throwing dice, or any other game of chance is classed as a raffle and the selling of tickets by which the holder of a certain number will win something is a lottery. Special war levies

Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, delivered his budget speech yesterday afternoon upon a formal motion that the House go into committee of ways and means and the budget debate was therefore adjourned for a week. The outstanding feature of the budget is the taxation of raw materials, heretofore free of duty and a general or "horizontal" increase of all existing tariff duties by an addition seven-and-a-half percent ad valorem.

The special war revenue tax as it will be known, will include a tax of one percent annually upon the note circulation of banks and one percent of the gross income of trust and loan companies and one percent on some insurances.

World Battle Against Cancer

New York, (UPI)—Industrial civilization did not invent cancer, and that is for sure, although its incidents has increased with civilization. It existed before there was civilization. Probably it came upon the earth shortly after life did.

No variety of life, whether animal or vegetable, is known to be cancer exempt. Science hasn't measured every species for cancer susceptibility but cancer scientists believe they all are susceptible, in greater or lesser degree —certainly all which have more than one cell.

Cancers of birds and fish are as well identified as those of mammals. The gall diseases of trees and other vegetables are cancerous processes. Cancer has been identified in the honey bee, in the frog and in the oyster. The fossilized bone of a bear which lived a million or so years ago has marks like those cancer leaves.

Man's remotest ancestors were contemporaries of that bear, and of other fossilized cancer hints. When Homo Sapiens (that's us) made the first imprints in history some 30,000 years ago it is reasonable to believe he had been involved with cancer for a long time.

The first concrete evidence is in human bones some 3,000 years old. Egyptian Papyri written around 1500 B.C. and relics of the Indian and Persian cultures of about that time mention treatments for ulcerations which probably were cancerous.

By the time of Hippocrates, (460-370 B.C.,) the Greek physician who is revered as the Father of Medicine, cancer was being classified by sites and distinguished from benign tumors. By then it had a name, the Greek word for crab which when transliterated into the Latin alphabet is cancer.

Claudius Galenus, who died around 203 A.D. and who was the most notoriously wrong physician in all history, left a record of why it was called crab. "The veins which extend from the tumor make it represent a figure much like that of a crab," he wrote. Paulus of Aegina (625-690 A.D.) gave a more cogent-reason. Cancer, he said, "adheres with such obstinacy to the part it seizes that like the crab it cannot be separated from it without great difficulty."

Only some cancers even remotely remind of a crab which exposes the profound ignorance of the ancients. They couldn't have recognized many cancers, for instance blood cancers, the Leukemias. The elementary fact that the blood circulates was not discovered until 1616, by the English physician, William Harvey.

The disinterest by doctors in cancer continued right up to the beginning of this century. That seems inexplicable —unless you assume there was little cancer around, in relation to all the other life-threatening diseases which afflicted people. To be sure there were very few physicians and the multitudes were born lived and died without any medical attention. They could have died of cancer in large numbers without history noting it.

But archaeologists have ransacked many ancient graveyards and rarely do ancient bones indicate their owners died of cancer. Many cancers involve only soft tissues and all traces of such cancers would have disappeared over centuries. Yet thousands upon thousands of mummified ancient Egyptians have been examined. Few have been the mummified relics of cancer.

All this would support cancer being largely a disease of industrial civilization. There is another factor, however. People in these past ages didn't usually live very long. Many of those who weren't cut down by pestilence and malnutrition in childhood, were cut down by such death dealers as wars or starvation in their 20's or 30's.

Statistically it can be demonstrated that no matter to what extent cancer is a disease of industrial civilization, it is also a disease of the so-called riper years. The line of a graph is almost flat at the lowest incidence from birth to the mid-20's where it rises slightly. The angle of rise through the 30's is just a little steeper but between 40 and 80 it goes almost straight up.

Many cancer scientists will tell you we'll all die of cancer if we live long enough. Before the 20th century few lived long enough. The 19th century discovered the microbe killers of man and the health-giving values of public sanitation and private hygiene.

The 20th century went on to superlative plumbing and such chemical marvels as microbe-killing drugs and preventive vaccinations. The life expectancy of the human being at birth has been much more than just doubled. Year by year the proportion of the population of persons 50 years old and older gets higher and higher.

Another change over the past 50 years has been a vast improvement in medical attentions and reporting. In the industrially advanced nations there isn't too much chance of anyone dying of cancer without it having been diagnosed by a doctor and reported to keepers of vital statistics.

But many cancer scientists do not consider these factors enough to account for the startling rise in over-all cancer rates which have accompanied the rise of 20th century industrial civilization. (and they are NOT denying cancer also is a disease of aging.)

Between 1930 and 1959 the death rate in white males from lung cancer rose from less than 5 per 100,000 population to 36 per 100,000. It coincides with greatly increased cigarette smoking, both in smoking volume and in number of smokers, and with increasing atmospheric pollution. In the same period the death rate from the blood cancers more than doubled.

On the other hand, the death rate from uterine cancer has dropped from 28 to 13 per cent 100,000 population. Some of the drop can be attributed to improved treatment but not all. And there is no explaining a drop in the death rate from stomach cancer from 29 to 11 per 100,000.

That is astonishing when you consider that many of the suspected carcinogens in general circulation — such as those in food "additives," pesticide residues, and many of the sophisticated contaminants of water — have their first prolonged contacts with human body chemistry in stomachs.

That is not as conclusive as it sounds. The points of contacts of cancer-causing compounds with experimental animals aren't always the points where cancer develops. One of the many things which makes the cancer problem such a stumper is that it has hardly an aspect which isn't clouded with contradiction.

The Balanced Man

"In the coming age of automation, I suggest we shall find it impossible to consider anybody as adequately educated if he or she does not understand at least some science. Neither shall we be able to regard as an educated man a technician or a scientist, however distinguished, who has failed to develop a substantial interest in the humanities and the arts, or who shows no evidence of being aware of the significance of society and his part in it. We ought, in other words, to be making a determined effort to produce better balanced people."—Sir Leon Bagrit.

CHICKEN WITH A DIFFERENCE

Early statistics tell us that Christmas '64 was one of the most lavish in many seasons in when you consider the money spent by the Canadian public. So like many other Canadians you may be driving a new or your food budget. After a lush and lavish menu over Christmas, this needn't mean that your family survive on plain fare but you can purchase the expensive meat and wax creative with it.

For a cold day, try serving chicken with a new flavour — Marinated Chicken with Peaches. This economical dish has the colour of autumn and the lush flavour of summer.

The marinade is composed of Heinz Vinegar, salad oil, and a bit of onion, salad oil, Strong enough to penetrate the meat with its piquant flavour, this marinade is still subtle enough not to over-powed the good chicken taste. The peaches are drained and heated jue before serving to add a summer touch to the menu.

MARINATED CHICKEN WITH PEACHES

1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ⅔ cup Heinz Vinegar, ⅔ cup salad oil 1 small onion, grated, 1 clove garlic, sliced, 6 whole chicken legs (approximately 2½ pounds) 1 can (28 ounces) peach halves, drained.

Combine first 8 ingredients in jar; shake well. Place chicken in shallow baking dish; pour dressing over all. Refrigerate, covered, several hours or overnight, turning chicken occasionally. In large hot skillet, quickly brown chicken well on all sides. Reduce heat; cook uncovered 40-45 min. or until tender turning occasionally and brushing frequently with dressing. Place peaches in skillet with chicken; brush with remaining dressing. Cover: simmer about 5 minutes or until peaches are hot. Makes 6 servings.

BROILER METHOD: Arrange chicken in bottom of broiler pan lined with aluminum foil. Place broiler pan 7 to 9" from source of heat so chicken will broil slowly. Broil, turning often and brushing frequently with dressing for 45-60 minutes or until chicken is tender. Ten minutes before chicken is done, arrange peaches on broiler pan with chicken. Brush with remaining dressing or pan juices. Broil until golden and hot.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. How can I keep the flues and chimney of my fireplace clean?

A. Dried potato peelings, burned in your chimney, will do a good job of cleaning the flue and chimney. Incidentally, dried orange and grapefruit peels and rinds are a good source of fuel in your fireplace, and also give off a lovely aroma.

Q. How can I clean plaster-of-paris statuary?

A. Make a thick paste of starch and water, and put this over all parts of the surface, covering it well. Then wait until the paste has dried completely, and brush it off.

Faster Winter Drying

You can speed up the drying of your laundry indoors during the winter months (if you don't happen to have an electric dryer) by placing an electric fan at the end of your line where it will force the air to circulate through your hung-up clothes.

No fire, owner's basement flooded

A fire call Wednesday afternoon to the residence of J. R. Humphries of the Oakwood Road turned out to be a false alarm, Fire Chief Arnold Watson said.

The Chief said a furnace fire was reported but when firemen arrived water was gushing into the basement from the flooded fields around the house. He said the water was entering the basement faster than 300 gallons per minute which was too fast for the Fire Department's pumps.

In the past 24 hours the temperature reached a maximum of 34 and a minimum of 26 degrees.

Poet's Corner

— FEBRUARY —

Last evening's sky was broad, blue and high,
Its perfection was never excelled;
Not even a cloud, to mar the scene—
And the planes coming in, not repelled.

Folk watched the new moon, snug in the old—
Like a Kangaroo babe in the pouch;
The night was calm, not a snow-flake rolled—
Yes, for that we can very well vouch.

Early— A.M. the weather-vane changed—
Like the sail of a ship, out at sea;
Blue sky all gone, replaced by gray dawn—
And a blizzard, through which none could see.

No, not even east, west, south or north—
And above, not a pilot could soar;
The like we've not seen, days far between —
And we trust, we shall see it, no more.

Mr. Feb. gets wild, storms on, for days;
But then; he tames down and is normal,
Sometimes he falls, to hide the sun's rays—
From now, let us hope he'll go formal.

—Mac.

Cannington UCW hears United Church officials speak about New Curriculum

The third annual meeting of Lindsay Presbyterial United Church Women was held in Cannington United Church, recently with an attendance of approximately 300.

The President, Miss Vina Neal, opened the session with call to worship and asked the assembly to stand and bow heads in silent prayer for Sir Winston Churchill.

The high light of the day was the address given by Nelson Abraham, M.A., B.D., who came to Canada in 1947 and at the present time is working on the New Curriculum at the Head office of the United Church. Mr. Abraham was a college graduate when he came to Canada and shortly after arriving he was asked by the United Church to come with them and work among young people. He also worked for two years in jails with delinquent boys. He attended Emmanual College from which he graduated with honours in theology and accepted a position in Saskatchewan where he was well received. While he was there he was flying to a Trustees Convention in Halifax and stopped off at the United Church head office; that was when he was first introduced to the New Curriculum and asked to work on it.

The New Curriculum is not just a new course of study, but much more. There is a need to try to give our children a fresh insight into the Bible. Where do we stand in the face to face encounter with God and people? We do not achieve salvation alone. The new curriculum is the tool to express this. The theme for the adult study is "God and His Purposes" by J. S. Thomson, and study groups become listening groups for an encounter with God. There will be a newness in as as long as we keep on listening to what God has to tell us. To belong to God is to give time, talents, and money.

The morning worship was led by Mrs. Walter Russell, Woodville, and Mrs. J. Alton, Hartley. The worship service concluded by a solo rendered by Mrs. G. Hoult, Little Britain.

Mrs. Stanley Murray, Woodville, lead a sing-song of well-known hymns and spirituals.

Miss Olive Geach, Treasurer, drew attention to her report which showed the allocation of $19,473; also $482. to "Over and Above Gifts" and $160. to Conference Bursury Fund.

Mrs. G. A. Beatty, chairman of Finance, presented her report.

Mrs. I. R. Richardson, Oshawa, Conference President, brought greetings from Conference U.C.W. She said "Let us think about the U.C.W. and the mission of our church. We closed a chapter in Dec. 1961, and opened a new one in Jan. 1962, and new chapter depends on the spirit in which we open it. Glance back with gratitude and earnest lessons and stretch out your hands to days ahead. If this chapter is to be a better one we must first realize Gods presence with us. Women constitute a great influence as they develop spiritually and emotionally. One of the ways to grow old quickly is to quit learning anything new. Learning to live in God's way is to find God's wisdom. By learning and living more like the Master, we find true and lasting joy. Always remember ours is a christian group doing the Lord's work.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

NEVER TOO OLD FOR DOCTOR'S ATTENTION

Any doctor who happens to pick up this column today is likely to say, "There he goes shooting off again". I admit some things provoke me easily. What gets under my epidermis, dermis (oh, let's call it just plain skin) more easily than irritants is a physician's manifest attitude that there's no use fooling with an elderly patient.

If there is one area in which the doctor should show patience and concern and optimism, it is in treating the elderly. There's simply no excuse for tactless and heartless management of an older patient. For example:

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I just read your column about people feeling old. I want to ask you, this. If a person is told by his doctor every time he goes to his office, "Oh, what do you expect at 70? Remember your age. I can't make you feel like a 16-year-old". What then?

Some of us older, not-too-well people have lost interest in trying to live. We feel that if a doctor feels that way, he will not try hard to help us feel better or live a little longer. A person would be crazy to think any doctor could make him feel like 16 again. Yet, we want to live a little longer and not be sick all the time.

But we have lost all confidence in doctors helping us. We can't help but feel they are thinking: "Oh, go on and die. You are in the way. We are only interested in helping the young".

I hope you're not afraid to print this, Dr. Steinrohn, because a lot of doctors need to be made to realize it won't be long before they too will be 60 or 70 or 80 and will hate to be treated the way they treat us.—Mrs. P.

COMMENTS SLIPS OUT

Comment. Afraid? Bless you, Mrs. P. I'm not afraid for your letter but happy to call attention to it. What's to be afraid about? I've discussed this personally with many physicians for many years and the general conclusion is that they could bite their collective tongue every time they make such a statement. Somehow it slips out, and they realize that they have hurt an oldster's feelings.

You will find that most doctors like older patients and try to do as much for them as for the younger group. Most doctors. But there are the exceptions who are abrupt and impatient and sometimes actually cruel. M.D. stands for medical doctor, but unfortunately tactfulness and innate kindness are not always integral parts of every doctor's nature. I hope that today's column will serve to prick their consciences and make them stand off and take a good impartial look at themselves.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I went to see my doctor in March 1963. At that time I weighed 235 pounds. He put me on a diet and gave me pills. At the end of the month I had lost 34 pounds and was feeling much better. At the end of three months I had lost 75 pounds.

Now that I'm down to 160, my next goal is to get to 125. I'm only 5 feet 2 inches and am 26 years old. All I can say is to make up your mind and you can do it.—Mrs. R.

Baddow U.C.W. hold monthly meet

The February meeting of the Baddow United Church Women met on Wednesday, February 3rd, 1965 at the home of Mrs. R. Hopkins.

Mrs. H. Hopkins, President, opened the meeting with the reading of a poem, followed by the singing of the Theme Hymn.

The Devotional Period was given by Mrs. Cecil Watson. A Hymn opened the Devotional. The Scripture lesson was taken from St. Luke, Chapter 5. The topic was taken from the study book entitled "Christian Belief and Christian Practice." Prayer followed by a Hymn closed the Devotional Period.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Vice-President Mrs. C. Chambers in the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. O. Wells.

Roll Call was taken with 9 members present and 1 guest. The Treasurer's Report was given by Mrs. J. Wilson. The cheer convenor Mrs. R. Hopkins read thank you notes received by her. The Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. C. Watson read all the correspondence on hand. Mrs. H. Hopkins read a letter received by her from Mrs. Florence Beatty, Finance Chairman.

A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Roma Watson and Mrs. B. Hopkins who attended the Annual Meeting held at Cannington, Jan. 20, 1965. With no further business to discuss the meeting came to a close with prayer by Mrs. H. Hopkins, President. A social half hour was spent with the hostess and helpers serving lunch.

Canadian sources supply much of VW

Volkswagen Canada Limited announced that initial 1965 orders totalling $6,800,000 for magnesium alloys used in the production of VW engine blocks have been placed with two Canadian firms, Magnesium Company of Canada Limited of Montreal and Dominion Company Limited of Toronto.

Company officials said each VW engine contains about 50 pounds of magnesium. A unique casting technique, developed by Volkswagen research, is resulting in a growing application for magnesium alloys in various automotive components. The main advantages of magnesium in alloy form are its extremely light weight coupled with high tensile strength.

Last year, Volkswagen purchase in Canada of original equipment parts, components and materials set a new record high of $9,430,000, a 36 per cent increase over the previous year.

In addition to magnesium, Volkswagen is now using Canadian sources to supply its factories in Germany with sheet metal, tires, sealed beam lamps, spark plugs, plywood and nickel for electrolytic plating.

Herbert Woods

William Herbert Woods, for many years a well known Lindsay business man and the son of one of Lindsay's pioneer merchants passed away in Ross Memorial Hospital on Monday morning. Death was not unexpected as the deceased gentleman had been ailing for several months.

Following public and high school days Herb Woods was employed for a time as an office man with the Maunder Milling Company, located at the corner of Victeria Avenue, and Peel streets. In the years that followed he became a partner in the Finlay-Woods Milling Company and for a considerable length of time he operated the Woods Milling Company.

Mr. Woods disposed of the business to become associated with his brother-in-law in the drug store business in Toronto. He retired a few years ago from active business and has been residing at the family home on Francis Street and at the summer cottage at Pleasant Point.

The late Herb Woods was for many years keenly interested in sports particularly softball, golf and curling. He was a member of the Lindsay Curling Club rising from the ranks of a lead to that of skip, and because of his proficiency was called on to take part in many club events as well as 'spiels in Ontario. He was a member of Ontario Tankard rinks in the days of the late Frank Carew. He was a member of the Golf Club and when softball was first introduced in Lindsay, Herb. Woods was an active participant with town league teams in the days when the game was played in the Lindsay Armoury.

In fraternal circles the late Herb Woods was a member of Faithful Brethren Lodge No. 88 A.F. and A.M. and was a member of the Loyal Orange Lodge in Lindsay.

He was kind and friendly in disposition, enjoyed humour and was genial in the company of his friends. He is survived by three sisters Helen and Kathleen (Mrs. Gordon Copland) of Lindsay and Marguerite (Mrs. Ivor Proverbs) of Toronto.

Private service was held in the Mackey Funeral Home, Peel street, Lindsay, on Wednesday afternoon. Interment Riverside Cemetery.

This Is One Sweet Trick

THIS trick takes "know-how."

Grasping a water glass, balance two sugar cubes on your index finger, as shown at right. Now, see if you can flip the cubes into the glass one at a time. It's easy to get the first cube into the glass with a quick upward motion.

But to transfer the second by the same method usually results in the first cube's flying out. The secret is to lower the hand quickly, and, as the cube descends, catch it below. Give it a try.

Where There's a Will There's a Way

YOUNG Will's no fool. Since he can't make up his mind which of five girls he likes best, he's delivering a valentine to each of them. Can you trace Will's route through the meandering paths at right? Begin and in lower left hand corner, proceeding as directed by arrows. Your young friend's stops are in consecutive order: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. See how quickly you can follow in his footsteps via given paths.

It's a Question of Money

WHEN the secretary who keeps the petty cash counted it in the morning, she found there were exactly twenty coins, all of them halves, quarters and dimes.

Realizing that she'd need some smaller coins, she had the office cashier change the dimes into pennies. Thinking about it later, she decided she'd also need some dimes. She changed her half-dollars into dimes. After this swap, the cashier reminded her she probably would need some half-dollars. So all her quarters were changed into half-dollars. She then had eighty-nine coins.

How many halves, how many quarters and how many dimes were in the cash box when the original number totalled twenty?

Answer: Four halves, eight quarters, six dimes.

Goodby, Mr. Chaps

MR CHAPS, who has given up riding, wanted to sell his saddle, silver spurs and sombrero. He placed an ad in a paper, offering to sell the lot or singly or in any combination.

How many ways is it possible to sell the three articles—or any three articles?

If you don't know, guess.

Answer: There are four possibilities: Saddle with sombrero (spurs separately); saddle with spurs (sombrero separately); sombrero with spurs (saddle separately); saddle with sombrero with spurs (separately).

LONELY HEARTS SOLITAIRE

NATURALLY, on St. Valentine's Day, those who receive stacks of valentines are busy guessing who sent them, reading verses, thinking of ways to get even, and that sort of frivolous thing. Here is another kind of Valentine's Day frivolicity that one and all can enjoy.

You will notice that 16 cards, four of each suit, surround a nest of squares. Four pips of each suit are arranged in such a manner that a heart, a club, a diamond and a spade occupies each vertical, horizontal and diagonal row. Of the pips displayed, none but the lonely hearts (how's that for a line?) are numbered. The problem is this: How can the numerals 1 through 4 be inserted in respective pips so that a 1, 2, 3, and 4 appears in each suit in each vertical, horizontal and diagonal row, effecting a total of 10 in all directions?

What you are asked to achieve, of course, is an intricate 3-way magic square involving pips, numerals and sums. You may wish to work out the problem on the diagram itself, or set up a similar arrangement with playing cards. One possible answer is given below.

Day in, Day Out

CENTRAL City's railroad station has 37 entrances. Sam Barnabas, who commutes from Stateville, begins his janitor chores on the outside platform and passes through each entrance just once a day. When Sam's turned, does he stand inside the waiting room where there's heat or outside on the breezy platform?

Answer: It depends on which door Sam enters first. If it's the door he enters last, he stands outside. If it's any other door, he stands inside.

Romantic Letters

ALL the missing words below are spelled with the same six letters. Those missing from lines three and eight are two-word combinations comprising the same six letters.

The pretty art student was
..... by the sky
Not to ..... too far where no shelter was nigh.
She lingered to sketch, and the ..... old church
St. ..... by name, and was left in the lurch.
She tried a short cut through the park on the grass
But a cranky old ..... forbade her to pass.
Then, weeping and drenched, stood the sorrowful maid
Till the boy she is soon to ....
.... to her aid.
How quickly can you discover the missing words?

Answer: Under, Paul, Under, Under, Under, Under, Under, Under.

Cutting Corners

YOU must proceed in a certain order to achieve an answer here. See if you can puzzle it out successfully.

Take one of eight small buttons. Place it upon any one of the points of the diagram and push it across to an opposite corner. Repeat this until every point is covered as you place the eighth button on the last point. How quickly can you master the order?

No fair peeking at answer.

Answer: Place button on point A, then move button on H, then button on G, then button on F, then button on E, then button on D, then button on C, then button on B, then button on A.

Fudge on Report?

IF A fudgemaker sets six pieces from a pan of fudge ten inches square, how many pieces of the same size can be cut from a pan twenty inches square?

See if you can work this out in your head.

No fair peeking below.

Answer: Twenty-four. Place the fudge pieces as shown.

Man 'o Letters?

I AM a caller at every home
where you may meet,
For daily I perambulate along each street.
Take one letter from me and still you will see
I'm the same as before, as I'll always be.
Take two letters from me, or three or four
I'll still be the same as I was before.
In fact, I can tell you that all my letters you may take,
Yet of me nothing else can you make. Who am I?

Answer: Postman.

Answer in 30 Seconds

Answer: Wrong. The stream is equally thick all the way down.

Listen, World!

PHRASES now in common speech testify how widely persons have listened and perhaps been influenced by certain men and women. Can you supply what's omitted here in a quotation from the past?

"..... because no winter, no, no! It is, and remains the sign of spring."

Ludwig Tieck.

The missing word is appropriate on St. Valentine's Day. It consists of four letters.

Answer: Love.

Kinsmen Pee Wees and Rotary Bantams go to Bowmanville Saturday

Lindsay Kinsmen Pee Wees have their work more than cut out for them when they tackle the Bowmanville Pee Wees Saturday afternoon at Bowmanville. Playing a home and home total goal series, the Linesmen lads sagged behind in their home game last Tuesday and have four goals to make up over the series.

Bowmanville's four goal man Tom Simpson wrecked the locals almost lone handed Tuesday night as he also assisted on one additional goal while his teammate Mike Donoghue scored once and assisted on three.

Doug Kingsboro, Mike Rabey and Don Rennie scored for the Kinsmen Tuesday night in a game that should have been more even on the scoresheet. Several Lindsay goals were missed for the lack of passing, but Paul Rodd's boys never gave up, and the series is far from over. Game time in Bowmanville Saturday is 4:00 p.m.

Lindsay Rotary Bantams have a 4 - 1 lead to take to Bowmanville with them Saturday as a result of a hat trick by Jeff Stewart in the Lindsay home game Tuesday night. Bob Hawes opened the scoring for the visitors in the first period, Jim Willis tied the score in the second period, and Jeff Stewart fired three unanswered goals in the third period to set up the lead.

Only two penalties were called by the referees in the home game Tuesday night, both against Bowmanville, as Gord Abercrombie's boys carried the play on frequent occasions. The Rotary Bantams still have another game to play in this round and it could be a very tough one. A three goal lead could soon disappear on the usually sticky Bowmanville ice, and the Lindsay lads will have to be skating hard to hold their lead.

The Tuesday night scores, both games the first of a home and home total goal series: Linesmen Pee Wees 3, Bowmanville Pee Wees 7; Rotary Bantams 4, Bowmanville Bantams 1.

Help Kinsmen Club to help with Senior Citizens Club

The Editor,
Dear Sir:

As we have read in the press, the Kinsmen of Lindsay are in full support of the formation of a Senior Citizen's club for Lindsay which they have added to their list of things to do, which are all good.

By giving your full support to their radio auction coming March 29th, including support from senior citizens, the auction can go over big and this will no doubt, help the Senior Citizen's Club.

John Thomas,
Lindsay.

KLTA TO HELP L & F 'SPIEL

The Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association decided to give financial support to a curling bonspiel to be held by the Lindsay District Department of Lands and Forests.

Harry McDonald of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce told the KLTA response to the proposed bonspiel was overwhelming. He said the Department of Lands and Forests had planned on using the Lindsay Curling Rink for the event because of the number of entries it will be necessary to use the rink at Omemee as well.

He said he expects money will be needed to hire a bus to transport some of the competitors to the Omemee rink. Because of the assistance the department has given the KLTA in the past the KLTA has passed a motion to provide up to $50 for the bonspiel.

LOSES EAR!

Rouen, France (UPI) — Mahmoud Sebti, 31, insisted on using the telephone in the bar despite the protests of bar-tender Eugene Seville, 59.

Then, as Sebati made his call Seville tapped insistently on the door to the phone booth.

Sebti leaned out to hear better what he had to say.

Seville bit Sebti's ear off.

WOMAN TO WOMAN
PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — Long hairs nationwide are stringing along with the newest — and oldest — strumming thing, the classical guitar.

It's old because it's classical. The new part has to do with the rebirth of interest in classical tunes made especially for non-rock-'n-roll type playin' of the guitar.

Usually, if you see a guitar-pickin' person, you assume you will hear something like "Go Tell It On The Mountain."

But you're dead wrong if the guitar carrier is a classical type.

What you'll hear from the strings, in such a case, will be long-hair music.

The American Music Conference reports, there is a run on the enormous amount of music written for the classic guitar — indicating a great demand for same.

Proof of this comes also from Thomas H. Mahoney, president of the Denver-based Guitan Society of Colorado — one of many classical guitar societies nationwide.

Dr. Mahoney explains the passion this way:

"Most people don't realize that some of the world's greatest musicians have created a repertoire of guitar music second in size only to that of the violin.

"A great portion of it has lain buried for years in archives and on tablature, only recently coming to life with the renewed interest in guitar music."

Like the more that 30 other classical guitar societies throughout the United States many of them newly organized, the Colorado group intends to get this music out of the motliballs, to see what more of it is published, and to help increase public interest and awareness of the classical guitar.

The Denver group, organized in 1959, offers its more than 50 members the opportunity to perform monthly before a major classical guitar musician, and to hear his professional work in return.

Some guitar societies have been formed by admirers of classical artists such as Andres Segovia and Carlos Montoya.

The older ones helped arouse Americans' interest in these performers and exposed audiences to such artists for the first time.

The American Guitar Society in Los Angeles was formed in 1923 by a group of teachers, pupils and enthusiastic listeners headed by Mrs. Vahdah Olcott-Bickford.

In playing the classical guitar, the fingers are used exclusively, and since each string is plucked individually, the guitarist can play many voices, just as on the violin.

In contrast, the folk guitar is played with a plectrum. The technique primarily involves strumming musical chords rather than picking out individual notes.

The Boy Scout Group Committee has met twice, at the home of Garnet Stewart and John McCaughey.

The Swiming Committee met at Sebright Church last week with the tentative plans for a swimming programme in 1965. It is hoped to work again in conjunction with the Y.M.C.A.

A quilt has been made and donated and it will be quilted and raffled. The quilting is planned for February 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCaughey, after which a Pot Luck Supper is to be served. It is hoped this event plus sale of tickets will be the one big fund raising effort of the year.

The Annual church meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Deverell with attendance of twenty eight. Mr. Moore opened the meeting with scripture and prayer. Minutes were read and taken by Mr. Russell Way. Reports of the various committees were read by the chairman, as follows.

Meteor has inspired new spirit in its performance! This year, Meteor has the powerful new 240 cubic inch "Avenger" 50c, a smoother-running, quieter engine that squeezes extra miles out of every gallon. Meteor offers a smooth 3-speed dual range automatic transmission that you can pair with the "Avenger" Six or the sparkling 352 and 390 V-8's. The 3-speed and 4-speed manual transmissions are fully synchromesh in all forward gears. Arena board discuss senior citizen's club

Accommodation for a senior citizen's club is still the number one project on the Recreation commission agenda according to the chairman Herbert Simpson. Commission members last night were told of several meetings which have already been held on the project and of two or three possible locations that have been investigated.

Recreation Director Harry Johnson reported on a meeting held with representatives of the senior citizens, the Kinsmen Club, and the recreation commission. At this meeting Dr. E. M. Dutton of the Community Programmes Branch explained the usual procedure in forming Senior Citizen's Clubs, and a tour of Clubs at Cobourg, Port Hope, and Peterboro was carried out.

The next step in the procedure is a meeting of all parties interested. Last night's meeting was told the Kinsmen are considering a senior citizen's club as a Kinsman project, and the Commission will lend its full support in this programme.

Wrote cheques, no account, Orillia man fined at Lindsay

An Orillia man, Ronald Pierce was convicted in Lindsay Police Court Thursday of two charges of passing worthless cheques and a charge of fraudulently obtaining lodging without paying for it and was remanded in custody for one week for sentencing.

Lindsay OPP Sergeant Gordon Eberts told the court the accused passed a worthless $20 cheque at Shorts Cities Service Station on January 16 and a worthless cheque for $30.50 at the Victoria Motel on Highway 7 for a week's lodging. Sergeant Eberts said he left the motel on January 19 without paying the additional $16 bill he had. He said the cheques, which were drawn on an Orilia bank were returned marked "cannot trace account".

The accused said he thought he could get back to Orillia and open an account before the cheque went to the bank.

"No manners" magistrate tells youth

"Young fellows don't seem to have any manners any more", Magistrate Ian Munro said when he fined Thomas Perdue, 18, of 16 Bertie Street $25 and costs in Lindsay Police Court Thursday for creating a disturbance, and $25 and costs for consuming liquor while under the age of 21. "They don't seem to know what manners are", the Magistrate added.

The youth was given the option of two consecutive 10-day jail terms.

Jessie Francis of Manilla testified Perdue and another man came to their store on Christmas Day and wanted to buy something. She said she told him the store was closed and he swore at her. She said the swearing didn't disturb her too much but she had a 12-year-old girl with her.

The accused said in his evidence he didn't remember using the foul language but during cross-examination by the Crown Attorney, Lorne Jordan, the accused said he did remember swearing. The accused also admitted drinking.

AREA RESIDENTS INCLUDED IN WINNIPEG INDUSTRIALIST'S PORTRAIT OF A FAMILY

Six years ago, Kenneth B. Veale of Winnipeg, Manitoba, whose father was Storn at Nestleton, Ontario, decided to attempt a statistical and biographcial history of the Veale family. Within a short time the Mason family both of which families originated in Devon, England, and settled in Darlington Township, entered the picture, and the author decided to attempt the same history of the Mason family.

Kenneth B. Veale

Kenneth Veale told "The Post" during a recent visit that the history of the Veale family now dates back to 1604 from English records, but the complete statistical record starts in 1786, with John Veale of Devon, England, who migrated with his wife and seven children to New Zealand in 1841. His oldest son, Oliver Veale however migrated to Canada in 1851 with his family of six children and settled in Darlington Township, Durham County. Ten years later, Oliver, his wife, and four of his six children emigrated to Illinois.

John Veale, the oldest son of Oliver Veale, of Cartwright Township, married Emma Mason, daughter of Lawrence and Elizabeth Mason who had likewise migrated from Devon. Another daughter of Lawrence and Elizabeth Mason, Charlotte, married John L. Power, the parents of the late Mrs. William Jackson of Mount Horeb, the late Charles Fallis of Cadmus, Cartwright Township, and the late Andrew I. Power of Lindsay. Descendents of Charlotte and John L. Power now number 151 with the arrival of the newest great-great-grandson 2 weeks ago.

Similarily, Grace Mason, a sister of Lawrence Mason, married Christopher Curtis, of Curtis, Ontario. Following Kenneth Veale's visit to the Lindsay area tracing the Power family descendants, he headed south to round up the descendants of the Curtis family.

The history being prepared by Kenneth Veale is expected to include between 3000 and 4000 members of the Veale line of descent, which presently stands at 2800, and the Mason family descendants may number between 1200 and 1400 many of whom live in Victoria and Durham Counties.

Due to the many migrations of the family, descendants are now located in New Zealand, Australia, Tasmania, United States, South Africa, Samoa, the Figi Islands, Malta, England, Scotland, Ireland, Hawaii, and Canada. Mr. Veale said he had written over 7800 letters so far in his research and expected another two years will be required to complete the history.

This history, he said, will eventually be published in book form which he plans to entitle "Portrait of a Family". He said the whole endeavor has been very enjoyable, and closed by quoting his pet phrase "Pause a moment when you can, my brethren, and stroll down the corridors of the past. You will find it a most rewarding adventure".

Lochlin man injured as truck rolls

John Hill, 43, of Lochlin sustained undetermined back injuries when his half-ton truck rolled over into a small ravine near Lochlin at 10 a.m. Friday. Minden OPP said the truck was trying to climb a steep hill on the ice-covered road when the truck lost traction and began to slide backward down the hill. Police said the truck skidded sideways and rolled over landing on its wheels in the ravine.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $175.

Icy road conditions caused a sander to go into a ditch on Hwy. 121 and roll over onto its side at 7:30 a.m. Fri. Minden OPP said the Department of Highways vehicle driven by Clarence Saunders, 45, of Minden, sustained about $100 damage when it rolled north of Kinmount.

MY MODEST ABODE

Moscow (UPI) — Soviet violinist David Oistrakh invited American violinist Isaac Stern to his modest apartment in Moscow. As they approached a apartment house Oistrakhn said, "this is my home".

Stern, looking up at the huge building, replied, "don't apologize. They say Yehudu Menuhin has bought an island in the Pacific".

FROST FAVORS COMMUNITY COLLEGES

"There should be reasonable and respectable jumping-off places into life and employment which do not encompass the full university treatment," Leslie M. Frost told a meeting of the Empire Club in Toronto Thursday. Mr. Frost was speaking in favour of community colleges.

Mr. Frost said some young people are strong in potential but perhaps short on academic inclinations, and for these people the community college system now under study by the Department of Education could provide such jumping-off places. An intermediate degree or diploma could be granted which should be widely acceptable in business and industry. Mr. Frost told the meeting the plan for "higher education should be designed to utilize our manpower in the best way." He said he was opposed to pressing manpower through a form of education which causes drop-outs.

BALL HITS FIRE ALARM

Three fire trucks were sent racing to the Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute at 3 p.m. Friday after a basketball hit one of the manual alarms in the gymnasium. Lindsay Fire Chief Arnold Watson said evacuation of the school was handled very well when the alarm was sounded.

DWINDLED

London (UPI) — The post office isn't issuing special Valentine greeting telegrams this year because the day falls on a Sunday. A more realistic reason probably is the fact that the number sent has dwindled from a passionate 50,000 before World War II to a miserable 3,861 last year.

SPRING THAW

A Success Story From Sea To Sea

Marylyn Stuart and Barbara Hamilton are two of the cast of "Spring Thaw '65" which will be presented in Lindsay on two nights, Thursday and Friday 25th and 26th February. Marylyn Stuart is a newcomer to the show and Barbara Hamilton has been a member for about six years. The show is a "phenomenon" writes critic Nathan Cohen, "There is no success story to match it, either in the United States or Canada". Spring Thaw is being sponsored in Lindsay by the Kiwanis Club,

New Life-Saving Device

Fatal drowning accidents often occur when the victim is within mere yards of safety. A new rescue device, described by Peter Moss in a recent broadcast of the BBC General Overseas Service 'New Ideas' programme, should prove valuable equipment in swimming baths, dockyards and aboard ship. Made by the British firm of Ware Safety Appliances, it consists simply of a flexible alloy pole, up to 24 feet long, ending in a rubber-covered steel ring two feet in diameter. Two small buoyancy balls at the head of the pole make it light enough to float, and the 24-foot model weighs only nine pounds.

"The moment a swimmer gets into trouble or falls overboard," said Moss, "the nearest person can unhitch the pole and slide it across the surface of the water. It is easy to slip the ring over the head and shoulders of the person in difficulties no matter how much he is struggling. With his arms safely over the rim of the ring, it is quite simple to pull him to the side, as the design of the equipment ensures that the head and shoulders are always kept above water, even if the person is unconscious. The panic of drowning which so often endangers the life of a trained swimmer going to the rescue, is also avoided."

Worthy of Support

In Saint John, New Brunswick, there's a ten-year-old-boy named Harold Roberts who is learning how to play hockey. What makes it usual is the fact that Harold has an artificial leg—his own was lost in a train accident two years ago. Members of the Saint John Branch of War Amputations of Canada have adopted the boy and are helping him to adjust to his new leg. They are also teaching him how to play hockey on it. This is just one of the services you help to support when you buy War Amps Key Tags. By purchasing these key tags which arrive in the mail, you will not only protect your keys against loss, but you will help to support a worthy organization.

Will survey air field

Bruce McNevin MP, addressed the town council briefly last night and informed the town fathers that a spot survey of the proposed air field had been recommended by Mr. Foley, one of the officials in charge of this survey. This spot survey, Mr. McNevin said, is to determine drainage facilities.

Police will enforce law

Chief Constable R. H. Lawler issued a warning today that in future the law which forbids any motor vehicle from following closely behind a fire truck or driving over a fire hose will be strictly enforced.

"There are evidently a number of people who don't know that they are not supposed to run over a hose. The water is travelling through the hose at a great pressure and it doesn't take much to cause a break," Chief Lawler said. "There have been several warnings issued in this regard and in future those who persist in breaking this law will be summoned into court," he added.

Relief costs drop

Lindsay's relief picture for the month of January 1940 is anything but discouraging to the town council and more particularly to the gentlemen responsible for the operation of the town welfare board. In comparison to January, 1939, there is a decrease in expenditure for relief in January 1940 of 51.8 percent. The decrease in cost to the town for January 1940 is 37.7 percent.

Lindsay mourns Tweedsmuir

Many inventions offered to army

A large number of inventions, running into hundreds, have been offered to the Militia Department during the last few months, dealing with munitions of war, etc. A considerable number of these offers have been investigated by the department and a number which had possibilities in them have been submitted to the War Office, where facilities are greater for carrying out proper tests. One of the inventions, at least, is now being adopted in connection with Canadian troops; that is, the bulletproof intrenching implement with which Major-General Hughes is identified. Over 25,000 of these have already been delivered at $1.35 each, and more are on order. The implement was carefully tested at Valcartier and was found bullet-proof.

"School Days" at Academy

"School Days" was presented at the Academy last night before a small audience. The play was one long laugh from start to finish and was thoroughly enjoyed by the entire audience.

General Hughes at Belleville

Major-General Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, were in Belleville today, enroute to Madoc village where a new armoury was opened in the afternoon. While in Belleville Major-General Sam Hughes and Mr. Doherty inspected the volunteers of the 15th and 49th Regiments who have enlisted for the 3rd Contingent.

The different sections at the armouries are practicing steadily for the military manoeuvres at the Winter Carnival next week.

Foreign News Commentary

by Phil Newsom

(UPI)—From Cairo comes news of a bit of diplomatic hocus pocus which in future days is likely to require considerable explanation.

It is to the effect that West Germany has agreed to halt arms aid to Israel in return for "several goodwill gestures" toward Bonn by the United Arab Republic.

Officially there was no explanation of these "good will" gestures but informants said they included a pledge not to accord diplomatic recognition to East Germany.

A first reaction is that West Germany has bowed to pressures which in the past the Arab States have applied against private firms and individuals doing business with Israel.

This is the Arab League boycott which first of all bans all trade between the Arab State and Israel, and secondly attempts to place restrictions on trade between Israel and other nations.

These seek to prevent firms throughout the world from having factory or assembly plants in Israel, from maintaining agents there, from allowing Israeli firms to use patents and copyrights, from investing in Israeli companies and from giving them technical help.

The Egyptians back in 1950 closed the Suez Canal to Israeli shipping and later began boycotting shipping companies which use Israeli ports.

Ten of the Arab League States apply the boycott. Others do not.

Arab tactics in enforcing the boycott created a short-lived furor in Britain in late November, 1963, when the British Norwich Union Insurance Societies bowed to an Arab demand for the ouster of former British Minister without portfolio Lord Mancroft, a Jew, from its advisory board.

A British Foreign Office reprimand had no effect.

In July, 1964, the Arab League announced it had "blacklisted" the Chase Manhattan Bank, second largest bank in the United States.

In August, 1964, it extended the ban to the American Machine and Foundry Company for its assistance to Israel in the construction of a nuclear reactor.

Arab pressures also prevented Israel from entering a full customs union with the European Common Market whose member nations are heavily dependent upon mid-eastern States for their oil.

The West Germans, in association with other European nations, have been participating in a programme to deliver $50 million in modern armaments to Israel.

Already delivered are a number of tanks originally purchased by the Germans in the United States. The deal was said to have U. S. approval.

The Germans also had trained some Israeli military units.

How the new agreement will effect the Israeli armament programme cannot be immediately assessed. France long was Israeli's chief supplier and recently reiterated firm friendsh for Israel.

The United States, while generally refraining from supplying arms aid directly, has declared its intention to intervene immediately in event of an armed conflict in the Middle East.

In any event, the Cairo announcement seems to mark a sudden turnabout from what had been strenuous West German attempts to court Israeli good will.

Representation Reports

". . . Parliament now represents Canada as it was in the early 1940's. The 1961 Census showed a very large increase in the percentage of Canadians living in big towns and cities. This gain should be reflected in Commons membership. But if we vote in April, the odds are that until 1969 or even 1970 we will still have an obsolete parliament speaking for the mainly agricultural community of a generation ago, not the industrial nation of today.

"Democracy is a misnomer for this queer system, a system quite certain to distort election results.

"Maybe MP's cannot be expected to show enthusiasm for mapping new constituencies. Elected under the status quo, they would like it to stay put. But the indifference of urban voters is astonishing. Assembling public meetings to demand a new (or old) flag was a simple matter. But meetings to demand a truly representative parliament? Not a hope. Who cares?"

—The Financial Post.

Chatterbox

— By Millicent —

Italy — the very name spells magic. Think of Italy and a host of lovely things spring to mind: hot sunny days; dreamy gondolas; voices raised in song; bubbling red Chianti, the translucent elegance of Venetian glass; beautiful clothes. If you have vacationed in Italy, memories of tempting dishes, manicotti, lasagne, chicken cacciatore and zabaglione — still haunt you, but even if your footsteps have never strayed within a hundred miles of the eternal city, you are probably an ardent fan of that well-loved Italian dish - pizza.

This recipe for ham and cheese pizza is deliciously different from the usual tomato pie. Tangy swiss cheese complements ham and tomatoes to make a tasty, bright topping for a tender dough base. Easily prepared and quickly cooked, it is ideal for lunch or dinner, parties, buffets or snacks. Team it with a tossed green salad, or, for a really authentic touch antipast.

HAM N' CHEESE PIZZA
Yield — serves 4 to 6

1¾ cups once-sifted all-purpose flour; 4 teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup shortening; ⅔ cup milk; ¼ pound sliced ham, cut in strips; 2 slices swiss cheese, cut in strips; 2 medium tomatoes, sliced; 1 tablespoon chopped parsley; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ cup tomato sauce.

Preheat oven to 400 deg. F. (hot). Grease a large cookie sheet.

Sift together into a bowl the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening finely. Add milk all at once; mix lightly with a fork. Knead 10 seconds on a lightly floured board and roll out to a large circle about ⅛-inch thick.

Top crust with ham and cheese strips and sliced tomatoes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and salt. Pour tomato sauce over all.

Bake in preheated oven 20 to 25 minutes or until crust is golden brown. Cut in wedges and serve hot.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean plastic furniture?

A. This should be dusted regularly. A damp cloth is usually all that is needed. It can be washed with a mild soap or detergent. Rinse with a cloth wrung out of clear warm water, and wipe dry. Do not use any chemical aids, such as ammonia, on plastic furniture.

Q. How can I clean narrow-necked vases or bottles?

A. Drop crushed eggshells into the vessel, add a little water, and shake until the film and dust disappears from the glass. After rinsing, it will be crystal-clear.

Q. How can I brighten some of my dulled aluminum pans?

A. One quick and easy way is to boil apple parings in them.

Paint Removing

Before using varnish or paint remover on a horizontal surface from which it may flow, before its work has been accomplished, sprinkle a thin layer of sawdust over the surface. You'll find the fluid will not only remain in place, but that it will not evaporate so quickly and will therefore be more effective in loosening the paint or varnish.

Fluffier Omelets

Try adding a half teaspoon of baking powder to every four eggs when concocting your next omelet. Then, after beating this thoroughly, you should produce a lighter, fluffier, and tastier omelet.

Cleaning Fish

When scaling fish, one very quick easy, and safe method is to use a round steel pot cleaner, instead of the customary knife.

Yellowed Linens

Table linens that have become yellowed because of infrequent use should be washed in generous suds, given a thorough rinsing in clear water, a light bluing - - and presto, they should be restored to their original whiteness!

"A letter to Nancy" at Wm. St. Baptist

William Street Baptist Church, in keeping with their evangelical tradition, will present a heart-warming film entitled "A letter to Nancy" in the church auditorium next Tuesday evening.

"A letter to Nancy" is a modern story of Christianity in action, and tells how the plight of a child changes the lives of those who meet her. This motion picture will appeal to young and old alike, and all will be inspired by its tender message of Christian love. All will thrill to its exciting story of effective witnessing for Christ, a message of renewed dedication for everyone.

WORLD OF RELIGION

by Louis Cassels

(UPI) — There are phonies in every profession, and the best way to deal with them is to poke fun at them.

This service has been performed for the Clergy by the Rev. Charles Merrill Smith, Pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, in Bloomington, Ill. He has perpetrated a book entitled, "How To Become A Bishop Without Being Religious." It is the most devastating and delightful piece of religious satire since C. S. Lewis wrote his famous "Screwtape Letters."

With tongue in cheek, the Rev. Smith offers "practical suggestions" to ministers who are more concerned with promoting their own careers than with preaching the Gospel of Christ. Along the way, he also aims some deadly barbs at Laymen.

The first requisite for getting ahead in the ministry, he says, is to cultivate the right image. It is not necessary — in fact, it is a positive handicap — to be religious. A genuinely religious man has deep convictions about the importance of doing God's will, and "is likely to be uninterested in the kind of impression he makes on people, often involved in unpopular causes, and frequently intolerant of what he conceives to be injustice or evil."

What the successful preacher must be is pious. He must speak, even to his wife and children, in "a stained-glass voice." He must wear a black, oxford gray or navy blue suit which has been carefully tailored to look slightly out of style.

"It is essential to the achievement of the pious image to project a mild but distinct quality of aceticism," says the Rev. Mr. Smith. "The average protestant Church in America is made up of people who are only a few decades removed from their Puritan ancestors, and who have not yet succeeded in shaking themselves free from the conviction that a Christian is one who doesn't enjoy this world very much."

The most important decision an aspiring minister must make is selecting a wife. A mis-step here is fatal to his career. He cannot sidestep the problem of remaining a bachelor. "A Clergyman who remains unmarried for more than a year after graduation from seminary is suspected of being abnormal, immoral or chicken."

Clergyman's wife "must not be beautiful, stylish or sexy". Should she happen to posses these traits naturally, she must master the fine art of disguising them by the way she dresses and acts. Otherwise, the women in the congregation will never approve of her.

Instead of marrying for "some irrelevant reason" such as falling in love, the Rev. Mr. Smith sternly admonishes young ministers to pick a wife who can operate a mimeograph machine, play a piano, teach a Sunday School Class, sing in the choir, and perform other chores which congregations expect from them in their role as unsalaried assistant pastors.

In preparing his sermons, the ambitious minister must remember to avoid any reference to controversial social issues, such as segregation. It is perfectly safe to be liberal in Theology since the average congregation "is so theologically untutored it wouldn't be able to recognize a heretic."

"But it is quick to spot any slight leaning toward liberal social views in its pastor. Heresy today is social rather than Theological, and every congregation has its self-appointed torquemadas anxious to oil the rack or heat up the fires around the stake".

The safe course is to look upon preaching as "one of the entertainment arts". The wise young Clergyman will "begin early the habit of collecting funny stories" — making sure they are the type that will yield a "hearty giggle" rather than an uneseemly belly laugh.

Congregations also have "an insatiable appetite for sermons on how to improve themselves or solve their emotional problems — so long as the panacea you offer them does not require them to (a) quit doing anything they like to do, (b) spend any money, or (c) submit to any very religious or time-consuming spiritual discipline."

The warning against controversy does not apply to condemning sin and sinners in general. A minister may flail away at sin without offending anyone, the Rev. Mr. Smith says, because his congregation "will never connect the word with anything that middle class white Protestants do."

This book is good medicine for anyone, ministers or layman, who is suffering from a touch of spiritual complacency. And if anyone thinks he's entirely free of that ubiquitous disease — well, perhaps he needs the medicine most of all.

More heating warms arena hockey fans

The heating system for hockey fans at the Kiwanis Arena has been doubled in area. Thursday evening at 5:00 p.m. the installation of heating for patrons seated on the east side of the Arena ice surface was turned on, and was radiating warmth for all seated in that area throughout the evening.

The completion of the heating system was one of the final items on the 1964 programme set up by the Recreation and Arena Commission. At present, while an audited report is being awaited, the Commission appear to be within $457 of their $20,000 budget.

An increase in receipts from junior hockey play-offs in the spring of 1964 over budget figures were one of the items that could not be accurately forecast in their receipts of over $17,000.

At present an ice melting problem is undergoing experiment at the arena. With the new condenser now in use, supply of hot water that formerly melted the snow removed from the ice surface is no longer available. Cold water has proved unsatisfactory and uneconomical. Two or three methods are being tried out.

PIVOTS SHATTER TALES

Friday, February 5, a basketball game was batted between the Pivots and the Tales. Both teams were very evenly matched; the Pivots having strong and good shots and the Tales good guards. The teams fought for victory like soldiers in a war.

Many spectators showed up at the game and their encouragement helped push the teams on. Final score of the game was 28 to 6 for the Pivots.

The outstanding players were Kathy Flood and Patsy Bellamy, both of the Pivots.

LAY-UPS AND TROTTERS SPLIT GAME

Tuesday, February 9 the Lay-ups and Trotters battled in a game which was very exciting. A small group of spectators showed up, which was quite good since examinations were on.

The final score of the game was 21 to 21.

T.V. AND FILMS AFTER EXAMS
By Lea Woodward

After the students completed their first set of examinations on Friday, they assembled in the halls to watch a programme designed to help students to choose the course they will take in High School.

The students gathered together in the auditorium for a film about the South Pacific, in the afternoon. This film showed the people, beauty of country, industries and entertainment of this beautiful part of the world. Even though the students had two exams that day, I am sure they enjoyed themselves, because everyone missed one or two of their not so well liked subjects such as Mathematics. But had also learned quite a bit from the film and television programme!

DEAR VALENTINE
By Heather Kindness

There he was, little Billy leaning lazily against the card stand, looking indifferently at the card placed in his hands. No one knows the thoughts going on in his mind, but there he was, bully Billy, searching for a card suitable for his Mother for Valentine's Day. Intently, with eyebrows furrowed, he viewed the card. Dear Valentine, read the card, Roses are red. Violets are blue. Honey is sweet And so are you. No. that's not a good enough, Valentine, All year round I like you, But I must confess I like you least in February— Because in February there are the least days. Billy read it again. He had decided that he didn't want anything too mushy, and this one wasn't. What was the price? Only 20c the exact amount which jingled in his trouser pockets. Happy that his task of looking for the suitable card was over, Billy cautiously trod over to the counter to part with his life's savings.

MOTHER'S PROBLEM: A BEREAVED CHILD

For a young child, parting by a parent's death is more than sweet sorrow. It is the definition of tragedy. The youngster, fortified by reason or philosophy of the grownup, suffers to the marrow. Not able to comprehend the meaning of death, the child bereaved, is a doleful sight.

Readers of the column often write to tell me how much they enjoy the occasional light touches of humor they find here. I include today's letter to make you partner in one of the many which I receive in the minor key. I am the focal point of much sadness. I think you will willingly bear this burden with me.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I need advice in regards to my little girl. She was born, April 23, 1962. I am 45 years of age. My husband and I were married nine years. She was always crazy about Daddy. In April he was sent to the hospital. When he first entered, the baby became depressed, but came around after a while. In July he was operated on. It took 6½ hours. When it was over they said he had cancer and it was only a matter of months before he would die. He was never to know.

In August he returned home. He and the baby were wild about one another. Even though he was in constant, horrible agonizing pain, he tried to fool around with her some. At the same time, neighbors' children would come in our yard to play. She would go out, but before the kids would leave, she would come in the house to be with my husband.

The her daddy died. She has been grieving so the first three weeks I could not even get a bottle of milk in her. Gradually, she began to eat better.

CHILDREN STOP PLAYING

Now my problem is this. I hope you or your readers can advise me. The children no longer come in to play. Don't ask me why they stopped. She goes around saying, "Nobody loves me." She talks about her Daddy. I tried to prepare her ahead of time that her Daddy would not be with us always, he was going to the dear Lord's Heaven.

I want to go to work, in fact, have to. I have tried to get her in a nursery school. Some do not take children until they are three and others are crowded until next year.

A friend suggested I entertain during the day by taking her to the parks and shopping and bus ride. In other words, to entertain her as much as I can. Then I would take a night job and they would baby-sit for me.

I do not want this to leave a mark on her if I can help it. People can't get over how smart she is. Holds a regular conversation with you. I wish you could have heard her when she and her Daddy got together. Can you help? Mrs. X.

Comment: Readers, Can you?

Mrs. T.: Endometriosis is the presence of cells, which ordinarily line the uterus, in unusual places; such as the bladder or intestinal wall. This condition may produce irregular or painful menstruation, and sterility.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: This may come under the heading of 'silly worries' but it troubles me. Is there such a thing as a cancer house? The fact is I am now living in a house two former occupants of which have died of cancer. Now the lady next door has it. I have five children and don't want to expose them to anything cancerous. What do you think? Is it contagious? Mrs. G.

Comment: Not silly, nevertheless an unsubstantiated fear.

EMO REPORT

OUR ROLE AND WHAT WE ARE DOING ABOUT IT

by EMO Co-ordinator for Victoria—Haliburton JAMES HALL

Under the overall Provincial Government Emergency Plan, Victoria and Haliburton Counties have been designated as a non target reception area. We will become responsible for the sheltering, feeding and clothing of evacuees from target areas, and may expect up to 150,000 people to converge in our area in a disaster situation.

To this end we now have in our Counties the nucleus of an emergency communications network which could be activated very quickly. A radio-logical defence plan is drawn up and we will shortly begin training volunteers to man radiation detection stations. An Emergency Public Information service is being established under direction of Alan R. Capon of the Lindsay Post and Gordon Catt of station CKLY, Lindsay. We are continually working on plans for Welfare, Health and food supply. All of these plans will be communicated to the general public on completion.

All County Council members and heads of services attended an orientation course held in Lindsay under the auspices of the provincial body to familiarize them with their roles in an emergency.

Over 100 residents of the Counties have taken advantage of courses and training in different phases of our work and it is planned to step up these course in the near future and they will encompass first aid, home nursing, short wave radio operation, radiation monitoring and detection.

To enlighten the public about the work of the E.M.O. and our role in disaster 27 public information talks have been given by your Co-ordinator to various groups in the Counties, i.e., Service Clubs, Church Groups, P.T.A., etc., covering 1,445 persons.

Over 8,000 pieces of literature have been distributed to the public in the past year.

Though we may all hope and pray that our services are never needed, in the same vein we do not cancel our fire insurance because we do not have a fire over the years. Let us at least be prepared "just in case".

KNOW THE WARNINGS

The ALERT — A steady 3 minutes or more blast on the sirens means — an attack is probable or radioactive fallout from an attack elsewhere is expected. Listen to your radio for instructions.

DO NOT USE THE TELEPHONE.

Prepare to put your survival plan into operation.

TAKE COVER — A rising-falling note on sirens for 3 minutes or more means:

Danger of immediate attack in your area.

Take the best possible cover immediately — wherever you happen to be.

ALL CLEAR — Announced over the radio for areas expected to be free from direct attack for one hour or more, provided these areas are not in danger from fallout.

1965 PROCLAIMED YEAR OF ALPS IN SWITZERLAND

Switzerland offers skiing facilities for beginners, as well as for the advanced skiers. Numerous ski programmes are scheduled this year, which has been officially proclaimed as the Year of the Alps.

In Switzerland, 1965 has been officially declared the Year of the Alps to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the first successful conquest of the Matterhorn by the Englishman Edward Whymper and the centennials of St. Moritz and Davos as winter sports centers.

In July, 1865, Whymper became the first man to reach the peak of the Matterhorn. He was only 25 years old. The centenary celebration of the event will take place from July 13-17th in Zermatt. Celebrities from all over the world have been invited to reenact part of the Whymper climb.

In addition, Switzerland has scheduled many activities designed to attract people to the mountains. Among the special events which will be held are music festivals, folkloristic events, hiking and mountain climbing for more vigorous tourists. It is the aim of the Swiss to have visitors discover that the Swiss Alps offer a healthful and tranquil refuge from the pressures of every-day life.

The sound of music will echo in the mountains throughout the year. Many of the country's most important music festivals will take place in alpine settings such as the Engadine Valley, Lucerne, Braunwald, Engelberg, Meiringen, and Zermatt. Leading orchestras and soloists perform at these affairs.

A familiar sight in the Swiss Alps this year will be the large numbers of visitors who will participate in the scheduled hikes. In May mountain marches will be held from Andermatt to Chateau-d 'Oex as part of the Mountain School of Rosenlaui.

Another highlight of the Year of the Alps is the "Great World Theater", which is performed every five years in the town of Einsiedeln. Performances of the morality play, written by the Spanish author Don Pedro Calderon in 1675, will take place on the steps of balustrades of the Benedictine Monastery. The drama, which will be given every Wednesday and Saturday evening, at 9 p.m., lasts for two hours and is acted by a cast of over 600 residents of Einsiedeln.

Again this year, a group of 12 special itineraries, called the Unique World of Switzerland, are being offered. They cover almost any preference a visitor might have. Instead of wandering through the country seeing landmarks at random, the traveller can get the most of what he likes best by taking one of these suggested trips. Itineraries include "The Enchanting Alps", "Historic Inns and Castles", "Medieval and Ancient Shrines", "Gardens of Switzerland", "The Golden Pass", "The Heart of Switzerland", "Scenic Switzerland", "Switzerland—Off Beat", "Art and History", "Heidi's Fairyland", "Switzerland — Four languages, four cultures" and a trip "For Gourmets". The itineraries vary from 7 to 14 days.

There will be other events taking place throughout the year to commemorate the Year of the Alps in Switzerland.

In July, 1865, the Englishman Edward Whymper became the first man to reach the summit of Switzerland's most famous mountain, the Matterhorn. To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the climb, Switzerland has declared 1965 as the Year of the Alps. Many special events will take place for tourists.

Bet launches St. Moritz as Winter Resort 100 years ago

They laughed when Johannes Badrutt, owner of the Kulm Hotel St. Moritz, told his four English guests that the winter sun makes the resort less cold than London and comfortable enough for a person to walk around without a coat, hat and often even without a jacket.

To the Englishmen warming themselves at the autumn fire one last night before returning to their homeland for the cold weather season, the claim appeared to be the idle boast of a friendly hotelkeeper. The thought of spending winter with the unending whiteness of the Swiss snow made them chuckle at Budrutt. It just wasn't done.

The Swiss persisted: "Let's make a bet of it. If you will come to my hotel this winter to see that I am telling you the truth, you will be given free accommodations." The gracious offer moved the sporting Englishmen and they agreed to visit St. Moritz at Christmas for a trial holiday. If they wanted to leave afterwards, Badrutt promised to pay their fares to and from London. If they decided to remain they would be his guests until spring.

Although the Englishmen were in that rare position of engaging in a wager they could not lose, Badrutt was in reality gambling for higher stakes. If the Englishmen stayed for the winter, word would quickly spread throughout the Continent and St. Moritz would indeed become a year round resort center.

Just before Christmas four Englishmen, one of them a doctor and another a baronet in poor health, left for St. Moritz with their families. They all expected to be home shortly after the New Year. Since the era of comfortable transportation to anywhere in Switzerland was still to come, the party had to hire a special sleigh at Chur to take them over the Lenzerheide and the Julierpass to St. Moritz.

Instead of the gray, dark days of winter they had expected, the mountain passes were bathed in sunshine. They arrived in St. Moritz perspiring instead of freezing. The sunlight, intensified by the snow, was brilliant. Badrutt welcomed his guests in shirtsleeves. They stayed until Easter and returned as paying guests with dozens of friends the following winter. This is a bet which everybody won.

This year Switzerland proclaimed the Year of the Alps to celebrate this event and the first successful effort to climb to the sumit of the famous Matterhorn.

Early skiers at St. Moritz had to enjoy the sport in the streets of the town. There were no lifts and cablecars then. The resort is celebrating its 100th anniversary as a winter sports resort.

Switzerland Celebrates Centenary of Matterhorn Conquest by Whymper

To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the first successful ascent to the peak of the Matterhorn by Edward Whymper, an Englishman, 1965 has been proclaimed the Year of the Alps in Switzerland.

By 1865, every major mountain in Switzerland had been conquered. However, since 1857, 18 attempts to climb the Matterhorn had failed. The man who was to eventually succeed, first became interested in the mountain in 1860, when he was 20 years old. Whymper had been commissioned by a publishing house to tour the Alps and make sketches for a travel handbook. He made his first attempt to climb the mountain in 1861 reaching a height of 12,721 feet.

In the following years, Whymper made several attempts to reach the summit, but always failed. However, year after year the competition to conquer the Matterhorn grew more intense. Whymper persisted in his efforts to make it to the top, each time gaining new heights in his struggles.

By 1865 still more groups arrived in Switzerland to climb the mighty Matterhorn. The Italian Alpine Club in a determined effort to conquer the mountain for its native land, organized a team made up exclusively of guides. J. A. Carrel, a guide who had climbed frequently with Whymper, was to lead the Italian expedition.

Whymper realized that he must compete with the Italian climbers, or lose the opportunity to become the first man on the sumit of the Matterhorn, joined forces with a group of English climbers and Swiss guides, for the Victorious ascent. Under more leisurely conditions the climbing party would have been screened more carefully by Whymper. However, pressed for time he rallied this group for an assault on the mountain.

The group reached the top of the Matterhorn only one hour before J. A. Carrel and his party. Like all the other attempts to climb the mountain, so far this one too was without incident. However, on the way down, just 300 feet below the summit, a member of the group fell onto a guide pulling two other climbers with them to their deaths. The rope, the vital link between life and death, had broken.

An aroused Zermatt held Whymper responsible for the fatalities. However, it was later proved that the tragedy was entirely accidental.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — This two-storey house designed by architect Ralph Goldman of Toronto is ideally suited for the larger family. Children can enter the back door where there is a coat closet and washroom and go to the family room, the playroom in the basement, or upstairs to their bedrooms without crossing any of the principal rooms.

This particular design has four bedrooms. The master bedroom is a good size and has its own bathroom and dressing room. A doorway leads from the master bedroom to a balcony which extends along the front and one side of the house. The front of the house should face south.

The floor area totals 1,762 square feet, excluding the double car garage, and the exterior dimensions are 37 feet nine inches by 26 feet. The double car garage adds another 10 feet three inches to the overall width of the house. Working drawings for this dwelling, known as Design 615, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Cleaning Fireplace

A stone or brick fireplace can often be cleaned just with hot water, a strong soap and a stiff brush. If not, however, mix up paste of powdered pumice and concentrated ammonia, and cover the smoked areas with this, allowing to remain on for an hour or two before scrubbing off with hot water and soap.

Public Relations topic at W.I. meet

Woodville (PNS) — The February meeting of the Glen Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Carl Hill. The President Mrs. Orville Hill was in the chair and opened the meeting in the usual way. The Motto was: Where you will be tomorrow depends on the road you take today.

Roll call was accompanied by donations of quilt patches and yarn for the Home for the Aged. Several sick or shut-ins were remembered with boxes of fruit or cards. Mrs. Jonh Imrie attended a meeting on Consumer Buying, held in Lindsay. A donation of money is to be sent to the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario for a scholarship fund.

Lindsay Presbyterial hold two successful workshops in area

Two very successful workshops were held in Lindsay Presbyterial conducted by Miss Marion Thomson and Mrs. P. Chambers from the Board of Women of the United Church.

The theme of the Wokshop held at Omemee for the joint Lindsay and Peterborough Presbyterial executives was "Why Do We Want to Enlist All the Women of the Church". The Oemee U.C.W. served a lovely noon luncheon.

The Workshop held the following day at Woodville included the President, the Chairman of Christian Citizenship and Social Action and the Chairman of Co-operation in Christian Education and Missionary Education of each U.C.W. in the Presbyteria. The Woodville U.C.W. also provided luncheon for the women present.

Mrs. E. Spence, Cambray, Chairman of Leadership Development for Lindsay Presbyterial convened both the work shops, assisted by Mrs. E. Windrem, Ida, Chairman of Leadership Development for Peterborough Presbyterial at the Omemee Workshop.

Electric heating costs far less than you may think

$130.70 is all Mr. and Mrs. J. Reist, of Ayton, near Walkerton, Ontario paid last year to heat their three-bedroom home, including the basement. "If we were building another home," says Mr. Reist, "It would be electrically heated because of the low operating cost and the comfort."

$161.28 is all Mr. and Mrs. MacLellan of Hanmer, near Sudbury, Ontario paid last year to heat their six-room house. "Our cost is below our neighbours' who have an identical-size house with another kind of heating," says Mrs. MacLellan. "We'll never go back to any other system."

$117.56 is all Mr. and Mrs. S.R. Warnica paid last year to heat their 1200 sq. ft. home in Grimsby, Ontario. "It's even less than the estimate Hydro gave us," says Mrs. Warnica. "We like it because it's quiet, gentle heat. You never hear it."

$214.27 is all Mr. and Mrs. R. Moyer paid last year to heat their 2348 sq. ft. home in Woodstock, Ontario. "We're very happy with the cost," says Mrs. Moyer. "We would definitely put electric heating in if we built again," adds Mr. Moyer.

$125.23 is all Mr. and Mrs. G. Angus of Scarborough, Ontario paid last year to heat their six-room house. "I'd never go back to any other system now," says Mrs. Angus. "We are very comfortable and it's so economical it's just fantastic!"

$127.69 is all Mr. and Mrs. M. Pal paid last year to heat their home in Maitland, near Brockville, Ontario. "Hydro rates have dropped twice since we installed electric heating," says Mr. Pal. "The complete lack of maintenance saves us money, too," adds Mrs. Pal.

Electrically heated homes, insulated to Hydro standards, cost no more to heat than homes with other systems.

Flameless electric heating is dependable, safe, and completely clean, since there is no combustion to produce dust, dirt, film or soot. No wonder so many people are turning to electric heating for the comfort, cleanliness and economy they want in a heating system.

Electric heating is one of the many features of the famous Medallion all-electric homes. For full information, consult a qualified electric heating contractor, or your Hydro.

ELECTRIC HEATING FOR YOUR PRESENT HOME
If you are planning home extensions or if parts of your home are not now properly heated, you can install supplementary electric heating for less than it costs to extend your present heating system.

CANADA'S NEW FLAG IS RAISED, FEW ATTEND LINDSAY CEREMONY

This morning the Red Ensign flag flew for the last time over the Federal building on Cambridge Street South and was replaced at noon with the new Maple Leaf flag of Canada. At a ceremony at the town hall flag pole Mayor Joseph Holtom said "It is with a great deal of regret and sentiment that we see the Red Ensign hauled down from the flag staff for the last time today." The two photographs above were taken from the same angle and distance. The new flag is a smaller size than that normally flown. —"Post" staff photo.

The Maple Leaf flag became Canada's National Standard at noon today. Prime Minister Lester Pearson, Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker and other government officials joined Governor General Georges Vanier in a flag-raising ceremony on Parliament Hill.

The Parliament Hill ceremony was the last of many performed in embassies and consulates throughout the world. Time differences resulted in the Ottawa ceremony coming after most other ceremonies in embassies and on ships of Canadian registry.

A 21-gun salute boomed and trumpets blared as the flag was raised to replace the Red Ensign in front of the Parliament buildings. "There are many in this country who regret the replacement of the Red Ensign by the Red Maple Leaf", said Pearson, speaking to special guests in Parliament's Hall of Fame. "Their feelings should be respected", he said, "but all Canadians, as good patriots, will accept the decision and fly with pride our national flag".

The Inauguration of the new flag, he said ,"was not a break with history", but "a new stage in Canada's forward march".

The new flag, said Pearson in French, "will become a symbol of unity. The unity that encourages the equal partnership of two peoples on which this confederation was founded; the unity also that recognizes the contributions and cultures of many other races".

"People did not appear to show any interest at all at the federal building as the flag was changed at noon", said a spokesman. He said the people in the post office and unemployment office and walking on the streets at the time ignored the changing of the flag. No official ceremonies were carried out and the flag was changed by the building's caretaker.

LINDSAY CEREMONY

Mayor Joseph Holtom and members of town council assembled at the town hall flag pole at noon to raise the Maple Leaf flag. Police Chief John Hunter performed the ceremony of lowering the Red Ensign and raising the new flag.

"It is with a great deal of regret and sentiment that we see the Red Ensign hauled down from the flag staff for the last time today", he said.

"I know that a great number of our citizens hold, as I hold a deep affection and regard for this flag — this symbol of Canada's great traditions and accomplishments in times of war and peace. This has also been the symbol of our relationship with the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth over the past 100 years", said the mayor.

"However, Parliament, in its wisdom has chosen and made lawful, this new flag with the maple leaf design, as the new symbol of our country. The people of Canada will wish to honour and respect it".

Mayor Holtom said that the flag will become more significant, as the years go on to the young people.

"In the meantime, Prime Minister Robarts has announced that the Province of Ontario will shortly adopt the Red Ensign design as the Official Flag of Ontario, and this will give considerable satisfaction to the many people of this town; County of Victoria and province who will continue to regard the Ensign with a deep affection".

"At this time, on this historic occasion", concluded the mayor, "we pay honour and respect to Canada's new flag as we fly it for the first time in the town of Lindsay".

Present to witness the ceremony with the council members and Police Chief John Hunter were three citizens and seven members of the press.

A few school children passing by glanced at the proceedings but did not stop to watch.

Central School

At a 45-minute flag-raising ceremony at Central Senior School Monday morning the principal, Roy Neville, told the students that they were involved in a historic occasion which they would probably not see again in their life-times. He told the students that as Canadian citizens it was their duty to honour and protect the flag since it was passed as the national flag of Canada by the Canadian Parliament and given Royal assent.

The ceremony concluded with the hoisting of ahe flag by a boy scout. Howie Robinson and girl guide, Lea Woodward.

Failed to stop after accident, Omemee man fined $50 and costs

Thomas Patrick Carroll of RR4, Omemee, was fined $50 and costs in Lindsay Police Court Monday or 15 days for failing to stop after a motor-vehicle accident and failing to leave his name and address.

Donald Wayne Perrin of 12 Melbourne Street West told the court he was proceeding west on Queen Street at 8:30 p.m. on February 7, nearing the intersection of Lindsay Street, when the accused's car made a right turn onto Queen Street from Lindsay Street. Mr. Perrin said the defendant took the corner too wide and "clipped my front fender." He said the accused got out of his car and stated he didn't think there was very much damage. Mr. Carroll then instructed Mr. Perrin to pull off to the side of the road so the traffic wouldn't be blocked. Mr. Perrin said the accused got into his car and drove away.

Lindsay OPP Constable Lyle Welton said the accused claimed he was not in Lindsay when the accident occurred but later admitted being the driver and being involved in the accident which caused about $25 damage to Perrin's car. Constable Welton said the accused was on the boarder-line of being impaired.

Irondale man collapses, dies at trap line

A lifelong resident of Irondale, Francis (Don) Simmons, 21, collapsed and died while attending his trap-line in Glamorgan Township, Saturday afternoon.

Haliburton Provincial Police reported this morning that Mr. Simmons had collapsed in the vicinity of High Falls, a couple of miles north east of Irondale and had passed on before medical help could be obtained.

Reports indicate that Mr. Simmons was accompanied by two nephews, Gary and Dennis Simmons of Irondale. The boys came out to Irondale to call for help, and a toboggan was taken to the site to remove the body of the stricken man.

Francis Simmons for many years worked at and later operated the Irondale sawmill. He is reported to have suffered from heart trouble for a considerable time past. He is survived by his wife and several members of their family.

Planning Conference

Lindsay Planning Board Chairman Guy Mills and Secretary Don Toffemire are attending a Planning Conference at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Monday through Wednesday this week.

Mr. Mills told "The Post" that urban renewal and regional development will be among the main topics for discussion.

Lindsay girl may appear in "Ice Follies"

Prospects appear bright for a young member of the Lindsay Figure Skating Club to join the professional cicuit.

Miss Marlene Sharpe, only daughter Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sharpe, Henry Street, Lindsay has been offered a contract to appear in the "Ice Follies" next season.

Miss Sharpe is presently a member of both the Lindsay Figure Skating Club, and the Peterboro Figure Skating Club, and is working diligently in preparation to try for the top tests in figure skating. She has passed her sixth figure test and has passed one of her gold dances, and hopes by midsummer to complete her golds and achieve her seventh figure test.

Mrs. Sharpe told "The Post" today if contract negotiations are completed, her daughter will probably enter training with the Follies late in June, in preparation for their 1965 tour starting in September.

Training sessions will be held at San Francisco, California, with the show opening at Los Angeles in September. The tour will include 23 major cities in U.S. as well as Toronto and Montreal in Canada.

Down with the old . . .

At noon today the Red Ensign was hauled down from the official flagstaffs across this great nation and replaced by the new maple leaf flag. The flag argument is over, and yet a new dispute is arising before the old one is truly dead.

During the weekend the Toronto Young Liberals Association joined with other liberal organizations calling for the abolition of the monarchy. The Association passed a resolution to this effect and will forward it across the country for endorsing by other liberal groups.

Bruce West the popular Globe and Mail columnist makes some pointed comments in his column today. "The new flag, you may recall, was supposed to signalize a vast step toward national unity. Unity? Already the campaign to abolish the monarchy in Canada has begun."

"When the new campaign to abolish the monarchy reaches full hue and cry —as undoubtedly it will do in the near future—there will probably be those who will lift their hands in some consternation and exclaim: "Now, just a moment . . . I may not have opposed a change in our flag, but I don't intend we should go this far."

"The sad fact", comments Bruce West, "may be that this moment they ask for may have come and gone when they did not object more strenuously to the scrapping of the Red Ensign."

He concludes, "Make no mistake about it, there are many in this country who will not be content until the present Canadian structure has been brought down. With all of this structure's faults, I suggest that before we mutely stand aside for these eager wrecking crews, we should at least see and hear some clear description of what, if anything they propose to erect in its place."

Vatican City 35th Birthday

Vatican City—(UPI)—Vatican City, the "Baby" of European States, today celebrated its 35th birthday.

The Papacy according to Catholics dates back nearly 2,000 years to St. Peter. And the buildings in the Vatican note their birthdays in centuries.

But the 108-acre state, with the Pope as its supreme ruler, was born on Feb. 11, 1929, with the signing of the Lateran Pact.

Until 1870 the Popes had been the temporal rulers of what is now Central Italy. But in 1870 the troops of King Victor Emmanuel II stormed the walls of Rome, ending the temporal power of the Pope, and bring into its phase the unification of Italy.

As a result, the Popes became self-styled "prisoners of the Vatican." This continued until 1929 when then Vatican Secretary of State Pietro Cardinal Gasparri and the late Italian Fascist Dictator Benito Mussolini signed the Lateran Pacts, which in effect made the little Vatican City an Independent state in the middle of Rome.

The vatican has its own coinage, diplomatic corps, postage stamps and even passports. There are about 1,000 citizens of the Vatican City — many of whom live in Rome—with about another 1,000 who come to work here every day but are not citizens.

Naturally, thanks to the popularity of stamp collections, most people know about the Vatican postage system. But few people, including tourists who have been to Rome, know that the Vatican strikes its own coinage.

Actually its easy to overlook since to the hasty glance it closely resembles the Italian coinage. It also has the same value, namely five, 10, 50 and 100 lire—equal to about .8, 1.6, 8 and 16 U.S. cents. But instead of carrying the head of a woman, they carry the head of the current reigning Pope and instead of being inscribed, "Repubblica Italiana"—the Italian Republic—Read, "Citta Del Vaticano"—Vatican City.

During World War II the Vatican remained a neutral state with the late Pope Pius XII remaining inside the walls except when he paid a brief visit to a bombed area of Rome.

Just like any other nation, the Vatican also has its own railway station and radio system. Of course the railroad is only 800 yards long, leading from a small but modern train station, through huge doors in the walls of the Vatican City to hook up with the Italian railway system.

But it gets more use than one would suspect—almost entirely in freight. The last time there was a passenger was in 1962 when Pope John XXIII used the railway to start his trip to the Italian Shrines of Assisi and Loreto.

The Vatican radio is on a much larger scale and is one of the most modern radio operations in Europe. Although part of the station actually is in the Vatican City, its main transmitters — including huge antennas in the shape of crosses—are located just outside Rome. It beams transmissions around the world, including iron curtain nations, in a number of languages.

And although the "police force" may be one of the smallest, it perhaps is the most varied in Europe. There are Vatican Gendarmes, who deal with the day to day problems such as traffic and tourists, the much-photographed Swiss Guard who are charged with the protection of the Pope, the Pontifical Guard, the Noble Guard and the Palatine Guard—the latter three strictly ceremonial.

Tax increases causes "grave concern"

A group of representatives of limited liability companies in Lindsay met here on Tuesday to discuss the proposed amendment to the corporations tax act which would increase the income tax from two to five percent and make it retroactive to the 1939 fiscal year. Following considerable discussion of the matter a petition was signed which read in part.

"While fully appreciating the difficulties of securing adequate revenue and also the commendable effort you have made to balance the Provincial Budget, we however can only view with very grave concern the proposed amendment to the Corporations Tax Act increasing the Income Tax from two to five percent and making this increase retroactive to the 1939 fiscal year."

Pension boy in France

A few days ago Charles Kelly received from his son Stanley a souvenir that was presented to each member of the Canadian contingent on their arrival in France. The souvenir is a diminutive clasp knife, which when opened is only nine-sixteenths of an inch in length and when closed measures slightly more than half that length. Stanley is now in the third line of trenches in the battlefield in France.

Tax Increase

Computations made here by experts indicate from the figures given by the manufacturers and counting only articles which people will be sure to use and which are affected by the war tax. A man with a salary of $1,200 will find his expenses increased at the rate of about two to four cents, that is he will be giving of his salary $18 a year for the war budget directly with of course many coppers here and there in indirect ways.

RHUBARB RECIPES

Interest in Ontario winter-grown rhubarb is keeping pace with the supply of this tender delicately flavored, fresh dessert fruits.

Raised in the "growing sheds" of Southern Ontario the slender stalked, succulent, rosy pink fruit may be used in a number of ways to pep up winter-jaded meals and appetites.

COMPANY COMING?

Nothing could be much more economical or easier to make, or carry more appeal than a tender, smooth, creamy baked cup custard.

To turn these into real party fare, the Ontario Food Council suggests topping the custard with a generous serving of "frosted" raspberries or strawberries.

Maple Syrup drizzled over the custard or a sprinkling of thinly shaved maple sugar, topped with chopped nuts, is equally delicious and popular.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. What can I do about a cloudy or streaky mirror?

A. Add three tablespoons of ammonia to a bucket of water, dip a clean chamois into this, and swab the mirror. Then wring the chamois well out, and wipe off. Or mix cold water with starch and apply to the mirror. When this is perfectly dry, wipe the powdery starch off with a dry cloth. If the streaks show signs of stubbornness, you can sometimes remedy them with a little oil-type of furniture polish.

Q. Is there anything I can do about a marble surface that has become etched by acids from fruit or other sources?

A. Try smoothing with the finest sandpaper obtainable (a hobby shop can supply this), then polishing with putty powder or jeweler's rouge.

Q. How can I prevent yellowing in white nylon shirts, blouses, underthings, and the like?

A. By use of bluing when you launder them.

Homemade Furniture Polish

An old recipe for a furniture polish consists of raw linseed oil and turpentine in equal parts. Another mixture consists of equal parts of boiled or linseed oil, turpentine, and vinegar. The chief thing to remember when using any polish is to apply a very thin coating and then lots of elbow grease. Otherwise, you will acquire a gummy, dust-catching surface.

Tighter Handle

A loose handle on a push-broom can be corrected by wrapping the worn threads with heavy cord before re-inserting it into the broom head.

Yellowed Linen

Linen that has turned yellow while stored away can be bleached by letting it soak in buttermilk for two or three days.

Abolish Monarchy ask Toronto Young Liberal Association

Toronto (UPI) — The Toronto and district Young Liberal Association agreed Saturday the monarchy should be abolished and a republic form of government set up in Canada.

A motion to this effect was passed at a conference held here and will be forwarded across the country to other Liberal organizations, to MPPs and to MPs.

The Young Liberals earlier defeated a motion affirming the strengthening of the role of the monarch in Canada.

The group also approved abolition of the death penalty and lowering the voting age to 18 years.

A week ago the Canadian University Liberal Federation approved a resolution suggesting The Queen be replaced by the Governor-General as head of the state. On Monday, former Governor-General Vincent Massey defended the Monarchy in a speech to the Canadian Club of Toronto.

THREE YOUTHS CONVICTED OF THEFT AND BREAK-INS SENTENCED AT COURT

Edward Roy Harford, 16, of King Street, was sentenced to six months in the Ontario Reformatory and two of his associates, Howard House, 19, of RR2, Thornton, and James Gauthier, 20, of Timmins were each sentenced to three months in jail by Magistrate Ian Munro in Lindsay Police Court, Monday, in connection with the theft of an automobile, four chainsaws, two cartons of cigarettes and $10 cash on February 4. The trio were convicted last week and held in custody for sentencing Monday.

The three had been convicted of the theft of the chainsaws, cigarettes and cash from Howard Black's Service Station and an automobile from the parking lot to the rear of the garage. Harford was also convicted of the theft of $100 cash and a quantity of tools, including an electric drill from the Canadian Pyjama and Shirt Company on James St. on December 24.

Magistrate Munro told Harford, "As far as I can see you've been in perpetual trouble since you were 11 years of age". He told Harford he had been given breaks. Harford was handed three concurrent six-month sentences in the Ontario Reformatory. The court was told Harford had been a ward of the training school and the school requested he be treated like an adult and not be returned to the school.

Gauthier, who was convicted of the theft of an automobile in 1962, was sentenced to three months in jail for theft from the service station and an additional three-month sentence concurrently for the theft of the automobile. Magistrate Munro told Gauthier these charges were serious, and said he had already had one against him. He said if Gauthier wants it up he would end up in the penitentiary.

House, a first offender was given two concurrent three-month sentences in jail for car theft and theft from the garage.

NAT KING COLE DIES IN HOSPITAL

Hollywood (UPI) — Velvet-voiced Nat King Cole, who charmed a generation of fans as a recording and nightclub singer, died today after a two-month battle against lung cancer.

Cole, 45, entered St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica last December 8 and underwent surgery for removal of his left lung three weeks ago today. Cobalt and x-ray treatments were administered to shrink the tumor before surgery.

The singer's wife, Maria, had been at the hospital constantly and was at his bedside when he died at 5:30 a.m. PST. Cole had been kept under sedation and his wife reflected the fatigue and strain of the ordeal.

Cole appeared to be gaining Friday and talked with his wife and nurses but his condition worsened during the weekend.

Of her vigil she said, "this is the time every woman must be strong".

She interrupted her hospital visits only to spend time with her brood of five children, Carol, Natalie, Nat Kelly and twins Casey and Timolin.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

A TIP ON HOW TO OVERCOME ANXIETY

Of all the letters I receive from readers I think I can safely put "chronic anxiety" near the top of the list of problems which beset the modern human being. Since our caveman ancestors ran in fear from huge prehistoric monsters, anxiety has come down the ages into the real Age of Anxiety–the day of the Bomb.

Here, for example, is a letter with some tips on how to neutralize anxiety.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: In the past months I have seen several letters in your column from people who were suffering from anxiety and depression. I felt that perhaps I could help a little, and that is the reason for this letter.

I sympathize wholeheartedly because I too went through a period of anxiety, and I know there is nothing worse. But I thank God I am a happy woman again and have been for years.

Of course, there are variations in the anxities, but believe that basically they are caused by the following: too much negative thinking, too much introspective thinking, not having enough faith in God, not keeping occupied with something constructive, losing one's sense of humor.

ALL HAVE PROBLEMS

I suppose subconscious conflicts and fear of the atomic age are important, too. All of us have problems, but it is how to deal with them that makes the difference in our lives. To wring our hands and say, "This is terrible", will get us nowhere. It's important to say, "What can I do to straight things out?" Because there is a positive attitude and the right way. There is always something that can be done, if not physically, then at least change our thoughts and try to adjust.

Keep in close contact with God through prayer. Learn to trust Him. He won't let you down.

If you learn to occupy your mind with something constructive you will find that you feel all right as long as you keep doing so. You can't keep fearing afraid because your mind has been left no room to think fear thoughts. Don't let your mind bog down. The happiest people are those whose minds dart from one happy thought to another.

From personal experience with anxiety, I can say that the above advice is tried and true. It isn't easy to change mental habits, but it can be done. I know because I did, and pulled myself out of a severe anxiety and depression which had lasted for years.–Mrs. X.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I was interested in, and agreed with your recent column on animals for children with asthma. Why do so many doctors, in cases of asthma, say, "Get rid of the cat or dog or bird"? Why don't they first try some of the other things?

Some years ago, my cousin's little girl–an only child–was forbidden a dog, cat, bird. But her asthma persisted. The pets she loved were long gone. She was a broken-hearted, lonely child.

They took her to a new doctor. He had her tonsils out. He took away her chocolates, cookies and candy. In a few weeks she was all well. No more asthma. If allergies cause so much trouble, why do they always insist first: get rid of your pets.

I have many friends with asthma. Only one is allergic to fur–all the others to foods. So let's not always put the blame right off on the little dumb animals. So many of them cannot be replaced. Other things can.–Mrs. L.

World News

Ottawa — Election jitters are the order of the day as parliament reconvenes its lengthy 1964 session in Ottawa.

Government leaders are saying the session will be brief and without incident, but many observers feel if the session is brief, it will be because the opposition has sent the Pearson team out on the Hustings.

Most politicians in Ottawa are in a quandary. All have hopes of gaining in any quick election and yet all fear they will lose if they cause an election. Polls show the Liberals would win if one were called today, with the New Democrats picking up large gains.

Viet Nam — Words have temporarily replaced the clash of military conflict on the Viet Nam scene.

Sharp words came from Communist North Viet Nam. The Hanoi regime broadcast a warning that the U-S would be held "fully responsible" for air strikes against its military bases last week.

The broadcast also said any buildup of American forces in South Viet Nam would pose a threat to peace in Southeast Asia. This was followed by a formal protest filed with the International Commission in Viet Nam.

The protest centered on a North Vietnamese claim that the U-S plans to send a squadron of 24 skyraider bombers to Viet Nam . . . along with U-S marine force. The Communists said the move represented a "blatant violation" of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam.

Timmins — Two men who were out in 32-below zero temperatures near Timmins, Ontario staking mine claims froze to death.

Two men with them made it to safety. The victims are identified as 45-year-old Thomas Wilkinson of Scarborough, a Toronto suburb and 60-year-old Walter Biton of Toronto. Both men were mining executives.

Toronto — The leader of the New Democratic party in Ontario, Donald MacDonald has called on his party organizers to go after members from the trade unions.

MacDonald said the NDP had erred in the past by leaning over backwards to avoid the impression of being dominated by the unions.

Alabama — Negro leader Martin Luther King is due back in Selma, Alabama today to lead a voter registration march on the county courthouse.

The march is slated to mark the registration drive in which some 34-hundred negroes were arrested.

New York — Rescue workers have failed so far to recover the body of a trapped explorer in a cave.

Efforts to accomplish this were abandoned last night after authorities said 23-year-old James Mitchell was presumed to be dead. He was trapped Saturday in a cavern at Dolgeville, New York, about 30-miles east of Utica.

Rome — Anybody who has ever visited Rome knows that pedestrians are lucky to escape with their lives when a Roman driver takes to the wheel. A Roman driver, however, out did his fellow countrymen's driving reputations by plowing into a Jet liner yesterday. The drvier lost control of his car and smashed into an airplane ready to take off from the Rome airport. The driver was injured and the airplane was damaged.

W.I. donates to Heart Fund

The Lorneville - Argyle Branch of West Victoria Women's Institute held their monthly meeting on Thursday evening February 4th in the home of Mrs. Mary Campbell.

The president Mrs. Mary Steele was absent so the 1st Vice President, Mrs. Teressa Marshall took charge.

The theme for the February meeting was "No one gets eye strain from looking on the bright side of life". The meeting opened with the Opening Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect.

The Roll Call was "Bring your oldest coin and give its date". There were 21 members and visitors present.

During the business session Mrs. Mildred Goard read the minutes of the December meeting. Notes and thank-you cards were read.

It was decided to have a euchre party in Argyle School on April 21st, and a committee was appointed to take charge.

An invitation was read from Cambray Women's Institute inviting the members to their 60th anniversary.

February is Heart Month so the members decided to send $15.00 to the Heart Foundation.

The programme was on Historical Research. Mrs. Barbara McEachern was in charge with her helpers, Mrs. Catherine McEachern and Mrs. Elda Hargrave.

Mrs. Barbara McEachern opened the programme with a take of Flash Back the T.V. programme. She showed the members one clue which was the symbol of the 100th anniversary of the Fathers of Confederation. The members had to guess who she was referring to. Sir John A. Macdonald was the answer. She then preceeded with the help of Mrs. Ella Hargrave, Mrs. Catherine McEachern and Mrs. May McAlpine to tell the life history of this man and how much is owed him.

Bruce McArthur sang at the conclusion of the programme a lunch was served and a very enjoyable evening was ended with 'O'Canada'.

"Chevy-Vans are far superior" — Says W. M. Browne, Toronto Caretakers Co., Ltd

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Multi-stop city driving calls for CHEVROLET workpower

Says W. M. Browne, Toronto Caretakers, Toronto, Ontario. "We have used panel trucks of various makes for the past 15 years. Nine months ago we put six Chevy-Vans into service and, from our experience with these, we have purchased six more.

"Accurate comparative analysis of our vehicle operation proves Chevy-Vans to be most economical. The six-cylinder engine is really lively with plenty of power. Gas mileage is very good and has given us a substantial saving per unit.

"Manoeuvrability in city traffic is excellent, resulting in reduced time between calls. Mechanically, Chevy-Vans have proved to be first-class—we have had no failures.

"In summary, I would say that Chevy-Vans are far superior to any units we have previously operated."

Every operation can profit from Chevrolet Workpower—including yours! See your Chevrolet Truck Dealer today.

MERCHANTS DOWN AURORA 6-4 LEAD ROUND ROBIN IN 4TH WEEK

Lindsay Merchants, playing their second game in two nights, gained a 6 - 1 lead in the first two periods against Aurora Friday night, and held on in the third period to manage a 6 - 4 win. The win gave the Merchants the lead in the round robin series with five wins and one loss. Aurora Tigers now have won four and lost two, and Newmarket have lost six.

Bob Taylor produced what proved to be the winning margin with two goals in less than a minute late in the second period. Goals by George Graham, George Babcock, and Rick Purdy in the first period, and one by Ron Pillsworth in the second period set up the Lindsay win.

Team captain Jack Foran scored for the Tigers in the second period, and they rear ended back with three unanswered goals in the third period to give local fans a scare. Tiger goalie Harry Goodmakers had a very busy first period as the nervous ones eased off as the game progressed.

George Graham opened the scoring, beating Goodmakers with a close-in drive at 7:51 while the Merchants were two men short and the Tigers one. George Babcock tipped in a drive from Ray McCabe and George Graham at 16:08, and Gary Lywood dug a goal from behind the Tiger cage and passed it out to Rick Purdy to deposit at 18:08

Jack Foran spoiled Randy Reid's hopes for a shut-out early in the second period, when a four on one break with Horton off for elbowing, finally succeeded after their first attempt bounced out off the goal post. The tables were turned however less than five minutes later with Weir off for kneeing. The Merchants tallied a minute and ten seconds later when a Babcock to Taylor pass was extended to Pillsworth at the Aurora blueline, and Ron's 15-foot drive had Goodmakers beat all the way.

After defending four penalties to one to Aurora, the Merchants struck back in the final two minutes of the period. Bob Taylor scored two goals, both from close range on the short side. Paul Yearwood and Rick Purdy both tested Goodmakers before Taylor recovered behind the Aurora cage and flipped the rubber against the back of the goalies leg and into the net at 18:19. Fifty-nine seconds later Taylor scored from near the same location when he trapped Graham's rebound on a shot from the point, and this time Taylor passed the puck across the crease in front of the goalie, aiming it inside the far post.

The third period was all Aurora as far as scoring was concerned. A freak goal started their production when Mike Davis slapped at the puck near the Lindsay blue-line. The disc flipped high in the air, and Randy Reid for one was unable to locate the puck until it dropped at his feet and rolled into the net. This goal revived the Tigers, who held off the tiring Merchants till mid period, then struck with two quick goals to close the gap to two.

John Cooper slid the puck under the Merchant goalie at 11:53 after Barnsdale and Flannagan had tried in vain, then Barnsdale fired as he rounded the Lindsay defence beating Reid to the top corner at 12:29.

The Merchants return to Aurora Tuesday night and meet the Newmarket Redmen here Friday night to complete the round robin series.

Scoring Summary

1st Period

1. Lindsay, Graham unassisted 7:51; 2. Lindsay, Babcock from R. McCabe and Graham 16:08; 3. Lindsay, Purdy from Lywood, 18:08. Penalties: Frocking and Weir (high sticking and fighting) 3:45; Taylor (hooking) 6:23; Flannagan (charge) 11:22.

2nd Period

4. Aurora, Foran from Hill and Weir, 3:08; 5. Lindsay, Pillsworth from Babcock and Taylor 7:46; 6. Lindsay, Taylor from Purdy and Yearwood 18:19; 7. Lindsay, Taylor from Graham and Purdy 19:40. Penalties: Horton (elbow) 2:18, Weir (knee) 6:36; Morasse (elbow) 8:52; Frocking (trip) 9:11; Bray (high stick) 9:27; R. McCabe (high stick) delayed to 10:32, Graham (holding) 14:37.

3rd Period

8. Aurora, Davis unassisted 3:39; 9. Aurora, Cooper from Barnsdale and Flannagan 11:53; 10. Aurora, Barnsdale from Flannagan, 12:38. Penalties: Horton (trip) 7:31; Flannagan (charge) 9:15; R. McCabe (trip) 15:14; Cotey (holding) 18:05.

Lindsay Merchants' regular week end practise was suspended this past week-end to allow the local lads to recover from various minor injuries. Very few of the sixteen man squad can be rated injury free as the toll of the prolonged round robin series begins to count up.

In Junior "D" action last week end, Uxbridge managed a 2 - 1 over-time win over Stouffville. The Clippers now lead the best of seven series two games to one. Canning, ton-Sutton Twins gained a close 7 - 6 win at Bobcaygeon Friday night leaving the Ti-Cats leading the best of seven semi-final set two games to one.

Bodnar bats biscuit into basket Bantams beat Bowmanville by 1

A game ending goal by Greggo Bodnar after close-in attempts by Jim Willis and Allan Worsley at Bowmanville Saturday gave the Lindsay Rotary Bantams in the Ontario Minor Hockey play-downs. The game Saturday was won by Bowmanville 4-2 but Lindsay's 4-1 win at home last Tuesday gave the Rotary sponsored boys the round 6-5.

Two straight time periods saw the Rotary Bantams still holding a two goal lead on the round Saturday with the Bowmanville Bantams leading on the game 2-1. Two quick goals in the middle of the third period by the Greenshirts however tied the series and scared the white and red clad Lindsayites into action.

The first period Saturday was scoreless with three penalties to Lindsay and a double minor to Bowmanville. Bowmanville opened the scoring early in the second period on a break-away after Lindsay had set the pace most of the way. Pete Heatlie got that one back for Lindsay when he dug Clarke's rebound from behind the Bowmanville cage and banged it on the short side at 7:45. Bowmanville however regained a one goal lead on the game at 16:33.

A break-away goal by Webb from Hawes for the home team ended their action at 8:54 and they came right back on a lone man break-away at 10:18 to tie the score on the tiring Lindsay crew. During the remainder of the period both goalies were the heroes of the game with sensational saves keeping both teams in the hunt. A Bowmanville penalty at 10:48, and a Lindsay penalty at 12:40 gave the respective teams many anxious moments, while the Lindsay lads gradually regained a good share of the play.

What proved to be the winning goal finally came at 18:08 after a sustained gauging attack by the Rotary lads. Both Jim Willis and Allan Worsley banged the puck at the Bowmanville goalie who went to the ice to beat Worsley, when Greg Bodnar grabbed the loose disk and flipped it over the prostrate goalie and into the cage. Ron Wardlaw made the big save of the game in the final seconds when the home team iced six attackers with the goalie removed. While the home town rooters thought their boys had scored, Wardlaw sprawled the length of the cage to block the concerted attack.

It is understood the Rotary Bantams will meet Ajax Bantams in the first game of a best of three series at the Kiwanis Arena tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, with the return game at Bowmanville next night.

ON THE MAIN STREET

Main street, the north side, is undergoing a face lifting job. Stedman's store front added to the modern appearance of the street, as did the new Discount store. This week another modern store front has dawned on the horizon of the north side with the removal of the barricade in front of the former Walker Jewelry store soon to be opened by the Agnew Surpass.

It is worthy of note that a new front is to be installed at Brownies' Mens Wear store in the same block, a modern front which will be in keeping with modern merchandizing. It is also reported that the present Agnew Surpass store will be transformed into a modern store front for the Walkers Jewelry Store.

Glancing down the south side of the main street it is regrettable that there are two vacant Stores, and one fire-destroyed building, but it also of interest that very recently, outside contractors and architect have been noticed on Kent street, making a survey of the vacant premises, and it is understood that the owner of the vacant properties was in conference with the visiting business delegation.

It is also reported that the same group of business men are sizing up the possibility of transforming the Horn Woolen Mills into a modern apartment block. Lindsay is definitely on the march, and at the present time more new business are required for prospective newcomers in the business and industrial field.

LITTLE CRIME OF SERIOUS NATURE IN TOWN, POLICE REPORT SHOWS

Hydro will not supply Lindsay with street lights council told

Lindsay Hydro Commission will not be able to provide street lighting service for the town of Lindsay. This was made clear in a letter to council read Monday night.

Mayor Holton told council members that the Lindsay Hydro Commission was one of the very few who have no capital debt, but, he continued, the cost of expansion of a growing town, and other factors has at this point used up the Commission's reserves.

Councillor Russell Taylor told council members that Lindsay was 'behind the eight ball' when it came to purchasing power, due to transmission distance involved, line factor etc. He said it cost Lindsay approximately $50,000 more than it cost Oshawa for the same amount of power. As a result of this higher cost, the Lindsay Commission must budget very carefully, Russell Taylor stated. He said a recent attempt to pay of Hydro Commission debts by town debentures was turned down by the municipal board. In reply to questions as to rules governing the hydro commission, mayor Holton suggested council members consult the hydro procedure policy as laid down by the Ontario Hydro Commission, and kept on file in the clerk's office.

POSSIBLE TYPHOID CASES REPORTED IN LITTLE BRITAIN, NO DANGER — MOH

Medical authorities in Little Britain suspect a possible outbreak of typhoid in the village. Three adults have been isolated in Lindsay hospital and their house in Little Britain has been quarantined while tests are being conducted. Dr. G. Hall, the Medical Officer of Health for Mariposa Township said Tuesday.

Dr Hall said he suspects typhoid but test have not yet proven whether this is the disease that was contracted by the three.

Dr. Hall emphasized that everything was under control and the patients all doing well. A check of the water supply in Little Britain proved it was satisfactory.

He said further tests are being conducted in Toronto and Peterboro.

Council concurs in Taylor's suggestions on traffic control

A thirteen point police subcommittee report was presented to council Monday night by Police committee chairman Russell Taylor and the recommendations were accepted by council.

The most outstanding of the recommendations was to make Russell street west a through street from Lindsay street to Albert street. This will involve reversing stop signs at William Cambridge, and Sussex streets and the installation of traffic lights at the intersection of Russell and Lindsay streets.

The Russell street programme as proposed will be one of the initial steps in relieving traffic congestion on Kent street during the Wellington street bridge replacement. No parking will be permitted on Russell street according to the recommendation, and certain other streets will come in for widening.

It is proposed to install signs on Kent St. at Albert and on Lindsay street at Russell adjoining of alternate through routes. Albert street south will probably be widened from Kent to Russell street. Stop signs at William Cambridge, and Sussex streets will be moved from Russell street onto the intersecting streets.

In conjunction with the Russell Street programme, other recommendations were accepted. These included the widening of Lindsay Street North from Kent Street to the bridge, on both sides. No parking on the east side of Lindsay Street from Russell to Ridout. No stopping or standing on Lindsay Street on the east side from Ridout Street to Kent Street East. No parking on Lindsay Street North from Kent Street to the bridge, during the construction period. The setting up of loading to be done in this area.

Lindsay Police Chief John Hunter in his annual report to the town council Monday said although there was little crime over the past year of a serious nature in Lindsay he was concerned by the comparative youth of the offenders recently. "Despite their tender years", the Chief said, "many have repeatedly given indications of criminal tendencies". Chief Hunter said in his opinion more deliberation should be given by those in authority to juveniles or youths convicted of crime.

Rehabilitation of these persons should be the first consideration and every effort should be made to accomplish this end, but we should not lose sight of the fact that it is necessary to deal sternly enough with such offenders as to be a deterrent to them, the chief stated.

Chief Hunter said probation is relatively new in this country and he believed it would be a while before in many cases it would be more than just "allowing a dog a second bite". He said there is little use in trying to rehabilitate a young person by sending him back to an environment that was the primary cause of his delinquency.

Chief Hunter attributed the increased number of charges against juveniles—an increase of 19 charges in 1964 over the 1962-63 average — to "repeaters". He said the young people of the town are developing into fine citizens and said a very small percentage have a tendency to repeatedly get into trouble.

By-law regulates mobile canteens

Three by-laws received first reading by Lindsay council Monday night. Included was by-law No. 7-65 to authorize the issuing of debentures to pay for the road construction costs in connection with the completion of William street north from Bond to Colborne, and Colborne street west from William to Angeline streets, in the amount of $22,468.00, this being the town's share.

Traffic a problem Police Chief tells council in report

In his annual report to town council Monday night, Lindsay Police Chief John Hunter said his department is making every effort to cope with traffic control which he said continued to be a problem.

He attributed the problem to the number of vehicles using the streets and the width of some of the streets. Chief Hunter said, "Not only are there more motor vehicles, but these vehicles are being used more frequently on our streets and highways. Many streets are now too narrow to cope with the heavy flow of traffic", he added.

He said a street widening programme is now in process but there still remains much International Plowing Match here in 1970?

A delegation from the Victoria County Plowmen's Association approached Lindsay council Monday night to solicit the support of the town for the proposed holding of the International Plowing Match in the Lindsay area, possibly in 1970.

Arthur Tamblyn of the Victoria County Plowmen, and Alvin Mark, a member of the International Plowing Match executive, told council members an invitation will be extended by the County Association to the International body, and that 1970 would be the nearest date available. The delegation asked council to consider passing a resolution that the town of Lindsay would sponsor the International event to the extent of tendering a banquet on the Friday night of the match when it is held in this area.

A resolution supporting the invitation for the International event was moved by Councillor David Logan and seconded by Reeve George Finney.

Fluoridation

Over 100 Lindsay residents have already signed the petition against fluoridation of the town's water supply, and the organizers of the petition claim they have been inundated with calls from people who wish to sign. "Only bad weather has prevented the obtaining of many more signatures at this time," one said.

We still believe Lindsay council were hasty in the passing of the fluoridation bylaw, knowing full well it was a controversial subject. The Health League of Canada supports fluoridation. Many doctors and dentists support fluoridation, but also many prominent men oppose the practice.

One of those who opposes the addition of fluorine to the water supply is James J. Rae, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Chemistry, University of Toronto. In an address to The Chemical Institute of Canada, Toronto section given in October, 1962, Mr. Rae said, inter alia, "I am strongly opposed to adding sodium fluoride to public water supplies. My reasons for taking this stand are based upon my training as a chemist and biochemist, and my knowledge of the scientific literature on fluoridation."

He said the doctors and dentists have been remiss in not presenting the expert opinions of those who oppose fluoridation. There are pros and cons on the debatable question. Mr. Rae points out the question may be discussed from two different angles — the Scientific and Technical angle and the Political angle.

"The political aspect of the issue centres around the question of freedom of choice." When dealing with scientific and technical matters "Expert Opinion" is sought. "Fluoridation is a complex problem and in its scientific aspects involves such professions as water works engineers, doctors, dentists, chemists, biochemists, physiologists, pathologists, epidemiologists, phamacologists and statisticians. No one professional person can speak with authority in all these fields", he said.

Mr. Rae points out that Engineers do not agree that sodium fluoride can be added with safety and doctors do not agree that increasing the fluoridation intake of the population by 70% - 80% is a good thing. "Professional opinion is certainly not unanimous," he said.

Lindsay Realtor Stan Henry called "The Post" to tell us that he is highly allergic to the presence of sodium fluorine. I get a violent reaction to it," he said.

Fluorides are deadly poisons and the medical evidence of its value is not conclusive. It is undoubtedly doctoring without consent and when done against the considered opinions of eminent biochemists, physiologists, phamacologists and allergists, it is against common sense.

Norwich is the capital of Norfolk and one of Britain's most intriguing cities for there is neither a main street nor a central square. The city is dominated by its beautiful Norman Cathedral, the foundations of which were laid in the 11th century. Norwich contains some very fine examples of medieval domestic architecture as can be seen from the row of cottages in this picture.

The menace of Opium

Manila, (UPI)—Opium addiction remains today what it has been for years, a major menace to the health and welfare of hundreds of thousands in Southeast Asia.

A United Nations report, released by the Division of Narcotic drugs during the Narcotic Control Seminar in Manila, said Opium production and traffic in Southeast Asia exist on a "very large scale."

The report said that an Opium belt extends along the border of Burma, Mainland China, Laos and Thailand south and east over land routes hard to police.

The total Opium production in Southeast Asia in 1961 was estimated at 1,000 tons. "The disposal of such large quantities through illicit channels in the region and beyond requires large resources and organization and indicates how heavy the traffic is," the report said.

H. Jhabvala of the U.N. Narcotic Division, said it is difficult to determine whether the Chinese Communists were using Opium produced along its border areas as a weapon to subvert neighbouring nations.

"Your guess would be as good as mine," he said.

The U.N. report pointed up the extent of the Opium menace and the situation confronting law enforcement agencies by citing these narcotics figures for 1963:

In Burma there were 31,713 convictions following 14,735 raids on Opium dens; in Hong Kong, 19,208 offenses were reported involving 14,120 persons.

"Since reports by governments deal only with that part of the illicit traffic which is discovered by the enforcement authorities, the total traffic must be assumed to be on a large scale," the report said.

Col. Jose Lukban, chief of the Philippine National Bureau of investigation, said there has been a "tremendous increase" of dope addiction in the Philippines since World War II, including schoolchildren.

"Before the war, the addicts were mostly Chinese but now its different, he said.

Bond of Affection

"In the twenty years I spent in India I was struck again and again by the real affection Indians have for England. They hate what they call British imperialism. In our last year many of them were prepared to go to jail because they did not like being ruled by us. They often found particular Englishmen stuffy or rude or merely remote. But the personal relationships were always pleasant . . . The affection is not one sided: I have been astonished since I came back to England by the number of people who either have family connections with India or have spent some time there themselves. In my last job as sales director I always found that if I talked to my salesmen about India we were on good terms straight away."—Maurice Zinkin, formerly of the Indian Civic Service.

On Monday the box section near the eastern entrance as well as the general delivery section were moved out a few feet into the lobby to enable the men to install certain fittings. The rearrangement of the boxes, as well as the general delivery is only temporary and will cause no inconvenience to the public as they will only remain in this position today.

SURPRISE CHEESE SOUFFLE

Milk, eggs, and cheese combine for a light, fluffy soufflé, appetizing to look at and delicious to eat. Cheese soufflé is glamorous for a party and economical enough for everyday fare. Eggs, milk, and cheese, all produced here in Ontario, are excellent, inexpensive sources of high protein needed by young and old alike for body development and maintenance.

A soufflé is simple to prepare; just mix it, put in the oven and do not even open the door to peek for an hour. However, to truly enjoy a soufflé, serve it as soon as you take it from the oven. If a soufflé stands, point out food specialists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, it will lose some of its height.

SURPRISE CHEESE SOUFFLE

1½ cups milk; 6 eggs, separated; ¼ cup butter; ¼ cup flour; 1 teaspoon salt, dash cayenne pepper; ½ pound Ontario cheddar cheese; ¼ cup sautéed mushrooms (sliced).

Heat, but do not scald milk. In top of double boiler, melt butter; stir in flour, the heated milk, salt and cayenne. Cook, stirring until smooth and thick. Add finely sliced or grated cheese. Stir until cheese melts and sauce is smooth and velvety. Remove from heat.

With fork, beat egg yolks until well blended. Pour in a little cheese sauce. Slowly stir this into remaining sauce.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Carefully pour in cheese sauce, folding gently until no large clumps of egg white remain.

Pour half the mixture into an ungreased two-quart casserole. Sprinkle with sauteed mushrooms. Add remaining mixture. Place in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees F. for 1 to 1¼ hours. Soufflé is done when a knife inserted in centre comes out clean. Serve at once. Serves six.

Lid Holder-Upper

When you want to leave the lid on a cooking vessel partially open to emit steam, a spring-type clothespin and a nail will come in handy. Drive the nail partially into the side of the clothespin, clip the clothespin to the edge of the vessel, and the protruding nail will serve as a resting place for the upraised lid.

Burned Oven

If you should burn the inside of your oven with an exploded potato or something, soak a cloth in ammonia and let it stay on the burned places an hour or so, after which you can scrape the spots clean quite easily.

Smoother Sliding

To make those hard-to-budge drawers in your dressing table slide much easier, put some thumbtacks on their runners.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. Do you have any suggestions for making draperies or curtains hang in any position or fold desired?

A. Solid solder, in the form of wire, can be cut to the proper length and inserted into the bottom hems of your draperies or curtains. Since this soft solder wire bends and can be easily molded, it will hold your draperies or curtains in whatever fold or position you like best.

Q. How can I clean a spot off a felt hat?

A. Tackle this while fresh, letting the stain dry, then rubbing lightly over the mark with fine sandpaper on an emery board nail file. Usually works like magic.

Q. Is here any way I can renovate old, hardened glue?

A. Try placing a few drops of vinegar in the glue contained.

Sidewalk in poor condition "let us have fair play"

Dear Editor:

There is an old Bible quotation, "They who walk in slippery places will surely fall". In a round-about way the Board of Works apparently does not heed the warning. Many of the town's sidewalks have been in a very dangerous condition the past two or three weeks. This was unavoidable and it is quite true that the Works Department cannot have men on every block. But, on the other hand, two weeks have passed and many pedestrians have been forced to walk on the road, rather than sustain a possible fall on an icy walk and possibly break a limb.

However, why is it there is always a great rush to snow-plow and sand the roads for motorists and there is not the same attention given to the destruction of the also taxpayers and worthy of consideration. There are some people in Lindsay who do not drive a motor-car. There are some citizens who have attempted to walk to the hospital on different occasions during the last two weeks and they have been forced to return home because of the very dangerous condition of the walk uphill to the RMH. is it not fair to expect this walk to be cleared to be sanded for the sake of pedestrians? Are there not people on welfare, for instance, who might at least be employed sanding the sidewalks? Perhaps Council for Logan might give this matter some consideration.

Also, is it not fair to expect the Board of Works to clean a way snow at the intersections of streets rather than have slush and snow and ice piled up so high that pedestrians are unable to step over the dangerous mound? There are some roads where it has been too dangerous to venture walking on. Let us have a bit of fair play.

CITZEN.

Ray Grant Jr. of Unionville won the Ontario play downs of the O.C.A. at Cobourg Friday when he defeated Doug Rawson of Orillia in the last two ends. Grant won the right to represent Ontario in the Dominion championships at Saskatoon.

The Annual Hogg and Lytle bonspiel at the Little Britain Community Centre will take on extra gusto on Wednesday. It will be the first time competition for the Hogg and Lytle Trophy has been held on artificial ice. Four sheets of the new artificial ice surface will be used.

Little Britain devotees of the game are well pleased with their new home, and they are looking for a large turn out of curlers from the district. The event was postponed last week because of inclement weather and bad road conditions.

Can curling win back Canada's reputation in international winter sports competition?

The monthly Scotch Cup World Curling News thinks so and sets out to prove it in its current issue with an invitation to Russia to send a rink to Canada at the paper's expense to see how the roarin' game is played.

The Scotch Cup News contacted the Russian Embassy in Ottawa before tendering the invitation, and suggests that a Canadian tour could be a prelude to a Russian berth in the Scotch Cup World Curling championship, an event Canada has won for six consecutive years.

Started by the Scotch Whisky Association in 1959, the Scotch Cup now involves the champion curlers of Canada, Scotland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, and the U.S.

"Unlike hockey, where the best continually find ways to avoid the Russians, curling is eager and ready to give Russia's best a few pointers in the game", the paper says.

Curling results for the Lindsay Business Girls club: Puffer 2, Jamieson 0; Reynolds 9, Newton 1; Grills 6, Wood 3; Waddell 12, McCrae 5; Sanders 13, McGahey 3; Ford 9, Jones 2.

Double tie for 1st and 3rd thrills Omemee Hockey League

The Omemee and District Hockey League wound up their schedule with a double-header at the Ommeee Arena last night.

After each team had played their sixth game of the season last night, two teams tied for first place and two teams were tied for third place.

In last night's action, Dunsford upset the league leading Fowlers Corners crew 5-2, while Reaboro, winless to date downed Omemee 4-1. This created a tie for first between Fowlers Corners and Dunsford with five wins and a loss each, and Reaboro tied Omemee with one win and five losses each. Executive action solved the tangle however when final standings were sorted out on a goal for and against verage which put Dunsford on top, Fowlers Corners second, Omemee third and Reaboro fourth.

League play-offs will start Wednesday night with 1st. vs. 3rd. and 2nd. vs. 4th. each a two game total series ,with the finals to follow. This means Dunsford will meet Omemee and Reaboro will meet Fowlers Corners Wednesday night in the first of the two game semi-final series.

CARE FOR FEET

The wearing of snowboots during cold weather may cause the feet to perspire and remain damp and could perhaps for hours, unless the footwear is changed and the feet dried and given ventilation. Daily bathing will help tired feet, especially if they are alternately plunged into hot then cold water, massage with a skin cream and dried. A reliable foot powder will help to keep the feet healthy.

Lindsay's crime rate decreases 30% over past three years

The crime rate in Lindsay has decreased 30 per cent over the past three years, Lindsay Police Chief John Hunter told members of council in his annual report. He said of $9,000 worth of property stolen in 1964, 31 per cent was recovered. The figures in his report indicated a 13 per cent increase over the recovery of 18 per cent of goods valued at nearly $4,000 in 1962.

His report showed that the number of offences committed in 1964 were in most cases at a par with the figures for 1962 and 1963. The tabulation showed a general increase in breakins, thefts and attempts from 26 in 1962 to 74 in 1964. Slight increases occurred in charges of possession of stolen goods, assaults causing bodily harm, public mischief and arson damage. There were noticeable decreases in the number of major offences committed.

A number of driving offences, such as drunk driving and dangerous driving showed slight increases although impaired driving offences dropped by nearly 50 per cent from 1963. The figures showed a substantial decrease from 30 impaired driving offences in 1962 to eight in 1964.

The number of motor vehicle accidents increased from 167 in 1963 to 222 in 1964. Lindsay Police laid nearly twice as many charges in traffic cases in 1964 as in the previous year.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

SO YOU WANT TO PUT ON POUNDAGE

Let me make a random guess. I may be way off but it will give you an idea of how uncommon is the complaint: "I'm too thin, I know. But I can't gain an ounce no matter what I do".

I'd say that for every 100 patients who say they can't lose there is only one who can't gain. Now, please don't accept this outright guess as statistics. I'm only trying to make two points: 1. The problem of obesity is much greater than that of being too thin. 2. However, for some people knowing how to gain weight is a problem indeed. For example:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I'm 32 and thin as the proverbial rail. People tell me I'd be attractive if I could put on some weight. Perhaps that's the reason I'm not yet married. My doctor says I'm healthy so there's no question of illness being the cause. I've tried forcing sweets, but I can't seem to put on an ounce. Any suggestions? —Miss D.

Comment: You may be more fortunate than you realize. See the other side of the problem.

Although people like yourself who have a weight-gain problem (the have-nots) are in the minority. I've seen a number of obstinately thin persons put on poundage. As in trying to lose weight, putting it on is often only a matter of will power. It takes a lot of stick-tointiveness.

For example, as in your case it is important to know you are basically healthy. That out of the way, you can turn your attention to the matter of packing in the extra calories. Most people who are overly thin, complain of inability to put away a good, big meal. They say, "After a few mouthfuls my stomach seems filled to the top and I can't take another spoonful".

DON'T LIVE ON SNACKS ALONE

Here are some helpful points: Don't, as many thin people do, try to get the extra calories only from sweets. They load up on candy, cake, milk shakes, etc. At the end of they day, if they take inventory they will find they have been living on snacks and not on meals.

It's important that you take in the basic needs at your regular meals: proteins in the form of meat, fowl, eggs, fish. Your body requires this foundation to build on. Then, fats like fried foods, butter, cream, pastries. Between meals you can try to force the milk shakes, candies, pies, ice cream and all the other high calories foods.

Now, this seems too simple. I realize that the one roadblock is that a thin person can't seem to put so much food into his stomach. Here is a trick. If you feel surfeited after only a few mouthfuls, don't call it quits. Lie down for a few minutes and come back again for another try—and another.

Many thin persons have saggy abdomens (x-rays show their stomach is way down in the pelvic region). Sometimes they are helped by wearing an abdominal support to keep the stomach up where it belongs. Of course, vitamins and appetizers often help. I believe stubborn cases should not try to treat themselves. Sometimes a week or two in the hospital may resolve what seems to be a problem that is too stubborn to solve.

For those of you who have given up, who think you will never gain, I say take heart. As I look back I do not recall more than one or two "healthy" thin persons who were unable to gain once they really put their will and mind to it.

Mr. K.: I like it your way. Some people about to give up tobacco broadcast their resolution to all their friends. I agree with you that keeping it to yourself, quietly fighting it, is better.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: GROUND-HOG ADACIE STILL HAS ITS YEARLY GO-ROUND.

Try fast film for indoor shots

The sparkling green of the great outdoors is in scarce supply at this time of year, but don't let that stop you from picture-taking.

In recent years, with the development of new high-speed films and versatile cameras, the amateur photographer is not limited to out-door picture-taking only. In some instances you can even forget about flash and flood lights, and shoot black and white, or color indoors with natural light.

Mother leaning down to caress the baby, junior playing with his toys, grandfather caring for his treasured collection of pipes — those are just a few of the hundreds of photos it's possible to take indoors. And because you're subjects may not even notice you're taking their pictures until, after the shutter is snapped, you'll have honest, natural moods that would be difficult to achieve with flood or flash.

Natural light can take many forms. For example, it may be soft light from a nursery window, harsh glare from a living room fixture, or the glow of a single candle.

The intensity of natural light is sometimes tricky to judge. In some cases there is more light than you think and on other occasions there may be less. A light meter is particularly useful when shooting with natural light. It will give you a quick, accurate statement of light and a combination of settings at which to shoot the picture.

Many types of cameras can be used for this type of photography, but the 35 mm. camera, as, with their fast lens and speedy handling are especially suitable.

When picturing people, try to have them stand so that light from a window falls directly on them. Consider, also the color of the room; dark walls mean more exposure, light walls less.

Most natural light shots are made at low shutter speeds, where the slightest jiz would blur the picture. So squeeze don't punch, the shutter release. Keep a steady, firm grip on the camera. Better still, mount your camera on a tripod or hold it on a piece of solid furniture. Practice is the answer.

Be sure to take more than one exposure of each shot, varying the setting each time. That way, you'll have a margin of safety — and the certainty of getting the type of picture you want.

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — An old fashion cure for the common cold: drape a chain of onions and leeks around your neck for three days.

At the turn of the century, some folks declared they could chase a cold by wrapping the victim tightly in cold, wet sheets, over which blankets were folded, pinned and taped.

In the 1700's, patients put some of their hair between two slices of bread and fed it to a dog. Then the dog sneezed, too.

But don't laugh at the old-time remedies for the common cold. Plenty of misinformation still surrounds what it now known as "the executive cold" — named so since President Lyndon Johnson and others in official Washington sneezed and wheezed from pesky cold germs.

Dr. John A. Leer, a pediatrician and member of the clinical research staff of Schering Corp., cited the myths in an interview and then reported the fact on common colds.

"The comon cold with its complication is the largest single reason for school absenteeism," he said.

A recent public health service report noted that about two-thirds of the school days lost because of acute illness or injuries stem from respiratory illnesses — alias common cold.

Proper personal hygiene is one of the best defenses against the common cold, according to Dr. Leer. Regular health examinations, proper diet, sufficient sleep and correct dress are important, but no precaution will guarantee freedom from infection.

Children in the United States experience from five to 10 colds a year. Adults, two to three.

"Youngsters' fingers touch almost everything and are in and out of the mouth all day long," Dr. Leer said. "They roll on the floor; they don't turn away from friends when they sneeze — and vice versa. All of this makes for more colds."

Dr. Leer said people today are too knowledgeable to go in for hocus pocus cures such as the old Texas one with leeks and onions.

"While there is no real cure for the common cold," he said, "Our research has with an antihistamine-Aspirin such as coricidin has shown that the use of this type of drug combination is the best way of controlling symptoms and many times prevents further developments."

The pediatrician said a humidifier or vaporizor attached to the heating system or in each room would help prevent a lot of colds. Dry heat in homes and schools, you see is a major contributing cause of respiratory ailments.

An economical way to increase the humidity in a room is to tack a thin, loosely woven cloth to the top of the wall heating vent and let it hang down with the bottom dipping into a pan of water.

The water will seep up into the cloth and as the hot air blows through, it will carry moisture into the air.

For a radiator heating system, place water in pans on the floor.

Dr. Leer made these other points about the common cold:

—Vitamins do not prevent colds.

—A recent study with volunteers at the university of Illinois found that chilling does not activate laten viruses.

—Fatigue does not cause a significant increase in the frequency of colds. But once the virus is active, chilling and fatigue will contribute to the onset and severity of the illness.

—There is no scientific basis to the notion that drinking lots of liquids or eating a special diet will help a cold.

The common cold, by the way can't be traced to a single virus. Science reports that many different viruses cause the common colds and the cast of characters in the virus line-up many times changes from cold season to cold season.

Sweep!

A busy, bustling, bubbling bevy of curlers from many clubs in the area took part in the annual Champagne Festival bonspiel held at the Peel Street rink Saturday. It was the opener of a three-day event.

Of the total entry of 48 rinks, 24 took part Saturday with 12 winners being declared. Another 24 rinks mostly from a distance, will take part in the second day next Saturday when another 12 rinks will emerge and these rinks will enter the last day.

Ice conditions were excellent and competition was keen. There were a number of tied games and a number of games decided by the last stone on the last end. Hospitality as usual in the Lindsay Club was greatly enjoyed by all the participants.

The following winners were declared in the six events. 1st event, Shea of Bobcaylgeon and Woodrow of Lindsay; 2nd event, Gerolamy of Peterboro and Brown of Lindsay; 3rd event, Eberts and Kennedy of Lindsay; 4th event, Widdis of Lindsay; 6th event, (consolation) Alexander and Morrison of Avon Lee, Toronto.

AVOID HAZARDS

Where there is a senior citizen in the home, extra care should be taken to have good lighting on stairways and halls. Scatter rugs can cause serious falls unless they are made "non-skid" by treating the underside.

New bride given shower by friends

Gooderham (PNS) — A miscellaneous shower was held in the United Church dining hall in honour of Mrs. Ronald Mintz (nee Dorothy Reil) on Friday evening January 29, 1965.

The hall was attractively decorated and the bride received many useful gifts from her many friends for which she was most grateful.

The evening was spent in games and contests with Mrs. Carl Sisson in charge.

A delicious lunch was served by the bride's relatives and friends.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

FULLY AUTOMATIC DRY CLEANING MACHINE DOES THE WORK IN HALF THE TIME

A modern new dry cleaning machine is now operating in the plant of Lindsay Cleaners and Dyers and cleaning more effectively in half the time.

Ivan Rodd, proprietor of Lindsay Cleaners said the new Spencer Junior automatic Dry Cleaning machine with its attached Sanitone Synergisto programmer cleans a 40 lb load of clothing in half an hour cutting the usual time in half.

"This reduces the effect of mechanical action on the garments" he explained, "further a continuous filtration and distillation of the solvent ensures crystal clear solvents at all times".

Mr. Rodd said the new equipment meant his company could provide a one hour express service if required by customers. He said a new customer entrance at the back had also been arranged for customer convenience.

The new machine, the only one of its kind in the area is the most modern machine of its type available. The 4' x 8' x 8' machine weighs 6,000 lbs. The machine operated through all the dry cleaning cycles completely automatically.

"Whites have never been whiter or pastels as bright as this automatic cleaning", added Mr. Rodd, "the machine does not have to depend on the human element for perfect results".

The late Mr. Bowins was in his 72nd year. He was born at Cannington and in his early years with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ingoldby Bowins moved to Collingwood where he lived until 14 years ago, then he moved with his family to Markdale where he was attached to the Markdale Town Police Force.

Surviving are three sisters Ethel (Mrs W. Gilson), Collingwood, Mildred (Mrs. Will Quinn) Norland, Beatrice (Mrs. W. Lougheed) Clarksburg, 3 brothers Harold of Meaford, Fred of Collingwood, Maurice of Dundalk.

World News

Viet Nam — Soviet Premier Kosygin today demanded that the U.S withdraw all its troops from South Viet Nam.

The statement was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass. Kosygin made the comment in a message sent to a reparatory meeting of the Indo-Chinese Peoples' conference in the capital of Cambodia — Phnom Pehn.

The Soviet Premier demanded that all U-S troops and military equipment be removed from South Viet Nam. He also called for the cessation of — as he put it — "armed provocations against the democratic republic of Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia."

He also said that the U-S should stop any military interference in the internal affairs of Indo China. The Soviet Union and Britain are co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference which carved up Southeast Asia after the French-Indo-China war.

Moscow — In a statement earlier today, Moscow radio warned that American attacks against North Viet Nam could lead to a world war. The broadcast also said that the U-S would be responsible for the resulting consequences of such attacks."

Kosygin's message said the main obstacle to normalization of the South Vietnamese situation is what he called — the "reactionary policy" of the U.S.

The Soviet Premier also expressed hope that the upcoming Communist meeting in Cambodia will be a step toward rallying the peoples of Indo-China to — as he put it — "The defense of National Independence."

Yesterday, Communist-led demonstrators staged protests in four countries against U.S. air strike policy in North Viet Nam. Rallies and Anti-U.S. tirades were held in the capitals of Japan, Indonesia, Kenya and Bulgaria.

Ottawa — After an eight-week recess, the current session Canadians who are now reconvenes in Ottawa today.

One of the first items expected to come up on the order paper is the revised proposed Canada pension plan. The plan has been under study by a joint commons- senate pension committee during the recess.

A major recommendation of the committee is a boost in the current old age pension, now 75 dollars per month.

One of the major criticisms of the proposed plan is that it would not cover some one million Canadians who are now retired.

Another item of legislation M-P's will be asked to deal with is the new Canada Labour Code. The New Democrats are anxious to have this approved and have several amendments to make to the code.

Cape Kennedy — A Saturn-one rocket carried a space-searching satellite into orbit this morning from Cape Kennedy. The Saturn is America's mightiest rocket.

Launch time was 9:37 (EST). Radio and television covered the blast-off.

The rocket carried a bat-like satellite into space to measure what space dust hazards might be nosed to moonshots by the tiny meteoroids.

The launch was the opener in a two-part space spectacular which will be followed tomorrow by a ranger moonshot.

The Satellite was preached on Saturn's nose and had its 96-foot-wide wings folded like an accordion for the climb aloft. The Satellite — named Pegasus after the the winged horse of mythology — was expected to weigh 23-thousand pounds with the Saturn's second stage attached for stability.

A dummy apollo spacecraft which covered the Pegasus is to be sent into a separate orbit.

Hollywood — A Hollywood report this morning says that doctors knew as early as last Friday that singer Nat King Cole was a terminal cancer case.

The 45-year-old Cole died in his sleep yesterday morning.

The truth was kept from the world on orders of Cole's wife, Maria Ellington Cole, because her husband was able to watch television almost to the last and would have learned of any public announcement.

An autopsy has revealed the dread cancer had spread to all major organs of the singer's body.

Mrs. Cole was told of her husband's fatal condition as soon as the doctors were sure. He had [illegible]

NEED FOR BROTHERHOOD TODAY RABBI FEINBERG TELLS CLUBS

A joint meeting of the service clubs of Lindsay, hosted by the Kiwanis Club at the Presbyterian Church last night was told, "There is a need for brotherhood in this dangerous atomic age."

Speaking to the meeting on brotherhood, Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg said he did not propose that all men think and believe alike but rather preserve and enrich their differences. He said it was not his proposal to obliterate ritual and dogma and join in one universal religion. "No religion has all the truths but all religions have some truth," he said.

"A man who is essentially insecure and less sure about his belief is more noisy in trying to prove it is right," Rabbi Feinberg said, he becomes a "fanatic man with such a heavy chip on his shoulder, he loses his balance." He said the man combines piety with bigotry.

The greatest compliment that can be paid to a man, he said is that he believes in his own church, synagogue and creed and looks with tolerance, fellowship and grace toward others "You many Christians listening to me now, I do not plead with you to accept my theological doctrine. I ask you simply to realize that our disagreement is natural and legitimate. I urge you to be loyal to your own traditions as I am permitted in this free land to be loyal to mine," Rabbi Feinberg said.

Rabbi Feinberg said another fragility of people is they judge themselves by what they say and judge others by what they do. "Criticism begins at home", he said. Look into your own life." He said contrary to the belief that humility was the result of ignorance, he believed humility was the product of knowledge and "knowledge teaches us how little we know."

He emphasized the virtue of humility and said through humility "we can be kind to each other and humility gives us a sense of humour, one of the most civilized of all human qualities."

"Did you ever laugh at your image in the mirror when you realized you were taking yourself too seriously?", he asked. Humility, deep glance at the sky, if you are getting too wrapped up in your own ego- A sense of humour will come to you and that is a magnificent safeguard against self-inflation and scorn for "lower" classes and creeds and races. The absurd solemnity of an organization like the Ku Klux Klan, with its infantile nightshirts and nonsense, would burst like a pricked bubble, if its members looked up at the stars and remembered that a thousand years are but a moment in the sight of God". He added humorously that the Canadian counterparts to the Ku Klux Klan who he termed "hate mongers" didn't run around in night-shirts because it was too cold in Canada.

"Humility is the antidote to intolerance and the path to brotherhood", concluded the Rabbi. "Human conduct can be unified. We are all able to learn how men should act towards one another. To do justly, to love mercy, to walk humbly with God and love the stranger".

G. Arthur Welsh

Former Sunderland man served in cabinets of three Premiers

G. Arthur Welsh, Ontario cabinet minister in the government of George Drew, T. L. Kennedy and Leslie Frost died from a heart attack early yesterday in Hastings, Barbados. He was 68.

Arthur (Art) Welsh was widely known in Lindsay, Sunderland and district largely because of his keen interest and in matters partaining to the business, farming and sporting associations with people. He was not large in stature, but he was a veritable dynamo in local circles, especially in the games of baseball and hockey. "Bunny" Welsh as he was nicknamed was one of the the key players with the Sunderland ball team in the days when it won championships in a League, which was one of the best in Ontario. He pivoted in the shortstop area and directed many a winning play.

He was fast and effective in hockey and soon acquired the name "Tiger" Welsh, a name he carried with him through his days with the 45th Regiment in Lindsay and across the battlefields of Flanders and Germany.

Mr. Welsh was born in Sunderland and attend the LCI and later the University of Toronto. He played rugby at one time with the Hamilton Tigers.

During the second World War, Mr. Welsh a colonel commanded the 14th Battery. He was invalided home in 1944.

A year later he was elected Progressive Conservative member of the legislature for Muskoka-Ontario and we re-elected in 1948 and 1951.

He served as Minister of Travel and Publicity in 1945 and Minister of Planning and Development in 1948. He was provincial secretary and registrar in Leslie Frost's cabinet of 1949.

Mr. Welsh was for three years liquor commissioner for Ontario and at the time of his death was sheriff of Ontario county and local registrar of the Supreme Court. He lived in Whitby.

Mr. Welsh was a fighter pilot in World War One and was decorated by King Albert of the Belgians after he attacked three German planes strafing the King's chateau. He downed two planes and drove the third off.

Premier Leslie Frost hailed Mr. Welsh, when he departed from the cabinet as one of Ontario's most illustrious soldiers.

The late G. Arthur Welsh leaves his wife, the former Ruby Miller who was with him at the time of his death. He also leaves a son Thomas who teaches school in Bancroft and a daughter Mrs. Norman Wilson of Omemee. Mrs. Jack Beall of Lindsay is a relative of the late Col. Welsh.

FAILED TO SUBMIT UIC REPORTS—FINED $25, COSTS

Fred C. DeNure was fined the minimum $25.00 and costs in Lindsay Police Court. We dnesday for failing to make written reports to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

John Kennedy, an inspector for the Commission, told the court that the accused was notified by both regular and registered mail to make the reports, and proof of receipt of the registered mail was shown to the court. The inspector told the court that the required reports had not been received. The registered notificaton called for a reply by December 21st 1964.

Magistrate Ian Munro noted that the maximum fine for the offence was $500.00, but as a result of a plea of guilty, he levied the minimum $25.00 fine and costs of $3.00.

Not dignified to debate on TV with hate mongers—Feinberg

It would not be dignified to debate with the sick kid from Scarboro," Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg said at a joint meeting of the Lindsay service clubs at the Presbyterian Church last night. The dinner meeting was hosted by the Kiwanis Club of Lindsay.

This was Rabbi Feinberg's reason for not appearing on the television programme "This Hour Has Seven Days" with the man he referred to as "the David using the slingshot of hate literature" to slay the Jewish giant."

He said he was concerned about Canadian dignity. Canadians, are a very mature people who in their British tradition have developed a sense of fair play. He said the greatest thing about Canada is that it was born in agreement. Referring to the ability of the British and French to sit down and agree —live and let live—he said Canada has a great opportunity because it was born with the ability to co-exist. Rabbi Feinberg said he was not so concerned with the mongers of hate literature as he was concerned about the dignity of the Canadian people.

Registered Nurses' president reports on Collective Bargaining meeting

As a result of the resolution passed at the Annual Convention of the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario held in Toronto in 1964 an Ontario Committee was appointed to outline the proposed legislation for Collective Bargaining for the Nurses of Ontario.

In order that all R.N.A.O. members are kept informed, all chapter presidents were called to a meeting in Toronto on February 9, 1965.

The president of the recently-formed Victoria County Chapter, Miss Violet Cambliin, attended the discussions on this proposed legislation and reported to the chapter members at their regular meeting the same evening.

Miss Camblin also announced that the Semi-Annual meeting of District 6, R.N.A.O., which includes this chapter will be held in Peterborough, on April 7, 1965.

Who pays taxes and for what?

Finance Minister Gordon started it, with an analysis of how much the citizens of each province pay in taxes to Ottawa and how much Ottawa pays back to the provincial government and citizens in services, contracts and so on. This has been naturally countered by a similar study, made not in Ottawa but in Quebec. The results are startlingly different, the reason of course being that the two studies started from different bases of computation.

The moral of this is that, if you chose your base smartly enough, you can prove anything your way. If someone calls this an exercise in futility, raise no surprised eyebrow.

What does surprise us, however, is the lack of emphasis in either study of what seems to us to be a key point. The Canadian Pacific, for instance, has its head office in Montreal and therefore pays its corporation tax to the Montreal federal tax office. But money this paid is not earned in the province of Quebec, but all over Canada and from its shipping and airline subsidiaries overseas. The fact that the taxes paid here in Montreal is nothing but a historical accident. If the Canadian Pacific shifted its head office to another province, the Montreal tax office would get nothing.

Multiply this by several thousands, or scores of thousands, and the whole basis of these elaborate Ottawa--Quebec studies falls apart. Private citizens and corporations earn their incomes all over Canada — and many of them outside it, as for instance the big exporting pulp and paper companies of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. The location of their head offices is incidental. They are Canadians paying their taxes from the fruits of the Canadian economy as a whole.

The business of trying to build up a series of bilateral deals and judgments about benefits received and if it is worth anything. A federal tax is paid by a Canadian citizen, not by a person who happens to be resident in this province or in that.

The trouble with the Gordon-Morin studies is that they distort realities in order to make an often phoney case. The additional trouble is that a sentence or two lodges in the minds of man and women, who there and then, make up their minds that they are not getting their money's worth, or that they are being gyped. —The Montreal Star.

Mumps epidemic continues

The recent epidemic of mumps which has struck Lindsay has taken young and old alike, and while many cases have been reported to the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. H. J. Gleeson stated this morning that he had no idea of the number of Lindsayites who have been victim of the disease.

"There certainly has been a great number of cases but all of them mild and not of a serious nature,' Dr. Gleeson said.

Three members of the junior hockey team have been incapacitated and officials of the club, in the midst of playoffs see their hopes of a group title sinking with every new case of mumps that is reported.

At a recent meeting of the Town Council, the Medical Officer of Health reported that sometimes 12 cases a day are reported.

One-dog town

LESKARD — This little Durham County village, four miles north of Orono, is basking in the limelight these days as the only one-dog town in Ontario.

In the month that elapsed between the first week in December and the first week in January, Leskard's canine population was completely wiped out at the hands of a ruthless dog-poisoner who carried out his task with methodical relentlessness until the town was dogless. Why he did it, or who he is, nobody knows.

Fifty U-boats lost to date

An unofficial estimate placed the number of U-boats that have paid the price for their depredations on Allied and neutral shipping at 50.

Rural Mail for Pleasant Point

The residents of Pleasant Point are to receive rural mail at an early date, which is gratifying to all. Many of the patrons have their boxes ready, and are now waiting for the weather conditions to favour them. It is understood that James Agnew of Ops has secured the contract of carrying the mail, he having given the lowest tender to the authorities and everyone is confident that the matter will receive first class attention.

Slide lecture on mission work

A most enjoyable lantern slide lecture was held last evening at the Cambridge Street church under the auspices of the Young Ladies Mission Circle. Mrs. (Dr.) Irvine occupied the chair, and the lecture on "Mission Work Throughout Canada," was handled in a very able manner by Miss Staples.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moynes rendered a vocal duet in a very acceptable manner. Mrs. McCullough gave a delightful reading, while Messrs. W. Maunder and A. Allin contributed a well-rendered duet.

Foreign News Commentary

by Phil Newsom

(UPI)—Ever since Kemal Ataturk abolished the fez and separated church and state, Turkey has been torn by bitter conflicts between old and new.

These conflicts as represented in today's political parties were at the root of Premier Ismet Inonu's fall, but with new and equally divisive factors added.

One of these factors is a rising commercial class which demands free enterprise and an end to state controls.

Hoping to attract this class is the Justice party which is the link with the past and which primarily was responsible for Inonu's downfall.

Another new and powerful element is made up of the "young Turks" within the army. These officers feel that the revolution of May 27, 1960, has been betrayed and accuse Inonu of "immobilism." They ask an authoritarian Socialist government along the lines of that of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Some also favor closer ties with the Soviet union.

Of this group, the London Economist, a highly respected publication, remarked in March 1962:

"Turkey's future membership in the Western alliances cannot be taken for granted; it is by no means certain that the younger men, if they finally seized power, will think like the present governing class. They may feel, as Ataturk did, that Turkey has an affinity with the Soviet Union; the traditional Turkish hostility to Russia is by now a dying force. The Russians clearly nourish great hopes of Turkey's present ferment."

The remarks of "The Economist" in 1962 are even more applicable today it is particularly noteworthy, too, that partly because of the Cyprus dispute which generated anti-American demonstrations on Turkey, Soviet-Turkish relations in recent months constantly have improved.

The Turks have refused to participate in the U.S.-proposed Multilateral Nuclear Naval Force for NATO and also have refused to permit the U.S. atomic-powered merchant ship, the Savannah, to visit Istanbul.

It is noteworthy, too, that decline in the intensity of the Cyprus dispute, also has permitted these deep differences within Turkey to come to the surface.

The Justice party which now hopes for power, inherited most of the followers of the now-outlawed democratic party led by former Premier Adnan Menderes.

Menderes, executed after the 1960 coup, had the support of a considerable portion of the peasantry, businessmen and conservative elements of the army Under Menderes, no farmer paid taxes and the rich and feudal elements achieved great power. They retained it after the revolution.

They and the peasants who took more toward the Islamic East than the West remain the backbone of the Justice party today.

Turkey's economy remains deeply in the red despite years of help from the United States and some of the European powers.

But the five-year-plan instituted under the Inonu Government was good enough to win approval of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and support from the United States to the tune of about $200 million per year. Under it, tourism increased, business expanded, new highways were built. But higher taxes made it unpopular.

Army conservatives trusted Inonu but they deeply distrust the Justice party. Another army coup is not impossible.

STUFFED APPLE SALADS

Ontario apples are still plentiful and in top quality, thanks to the new controlled atmosphere storage. These "Sleeping Beauties" or "C.A." apples are as crisp and full of flavor as freshly picked apples. In order to enjoy the true goodness of apples, buy only as many as you can use easily at one time. Keep them in a cool, humid room or in plastic bags in the refrigerator.

Delicious and McIntosh are Ontario favorite eating apples although many prefer Northern Spy apples at this time of year. Stuffed Apple Salads, a recipe from the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, calls for red apples and any of these three are excellent choices.

STUFFED APPLE SALADS

6 large red apples; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 cup diced celery; ½ cup seedless raisins; 1 cup miniature marshmallows; 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing; ½ cup whipping cream, whipped; ¼ cup coarsely broken walnuts or peanuts.

To prepare apple cups: to one quart of cold water, add 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Pare each apple by peeling around in a thick, wide, continuous strip, making sure paring is unbroken. As you near base, cut across apple, leaving the bottom intact as a slice attached to the peel. At once drop coiled paring and base into water and lemon juice to keep color bright.

Core peeled apples and dice finely. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add celery, raisins, marshmallows, and mayonnaise. Fold in whipped cream and chill. Shortly before serving, add nuts.

With bottom slices as a base, curl peel into cup shape. Fill generously so that salad peeks through to give red and white stripes. Stuffed apples are delicious served as appetizers, with the main course, as a dessert or a snack.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I camouflage small nicks and chips in painted surfaces?

A. Try using wax crayons for a quick job. They come in an almost endless variety of colors and hues, and can be selected to match any paint color. Rub lightly over the marred area, and this will both fill in and color the damaged spot in the painted surfaces.

Q. How can I preserve the hard covers of books?

A. Many libraries insure longer life in their books with shellac. You can do the same thing with your books by spraying the shellac on with one of the ready-to-use spray cans on the market.

Q. How can I make "mock eggplant"?

A. Try dipping cucumber slices in beaten egg, then in fine bread crumbs, then fry them. They taste like eggplant, and add variety to any meal.

No-stick Ice Cube Trays

One way to prevent ice cube trays from sticking in the freezing compartment is by rubbing the bottoms with oil or grease. Or, you can keep a double thickness of waxed paper in the compartments under the trays.

Skipping Ballpoint

If a ballpoint pen begins to skip and seems to have run out of ink sooner than it should, try heating it by holding its point for a minute against a lighted electric light bulb. This often loosens clogged ink and prolongs the use of the pen.

Porcelain in the Kitchen

Use a good grade of furniture polish on porcelain kitchen appliances and cabinets. This protects them from scratches, fingermarks, and grease. Dust frequently with a dry cloth to keep them shining.

Amalgamation of three churches

Seagrave (PNS) — The congregations of Greenbank, Pinedale and Seagrave attended a joint meeting at Greenbank Church on Tuesday evening regarding the change in circuit boundaries. A fair representation from each church was present. Rev. Crawford of Omemee conducted the meeting with Mr. Geo. Heare as Secretary after much discussion as to share of salaries, place of residence of minister, hours of service, the following plans were suggested and passed. Percentage of salary and other expenses, Greenbank 64%, Seagrave 24% and Pinedale 12%. Place of residence of minister, Greenbank. For nine months of year the hours of service to be Seagrave 10 a.m., Greenbank 11:30 a.m. Pinedale 2:30 p.m. An extra supply to be secured for 2 or 3 summer months, whichever was found necessary, so that Pinedale could also have a 10 a.m. service.

A vote was then taken on these points with scrutineers from each church. The result an almost unanimous decision to amalgamate with the consent of Presbytery.

Rotary Bantams edge Ajax 3-2 to lead best of three series

Lindsay Rotary Bantams came from behind last night to edge Ajax Bantams 3-2 and own a one game lead in their best of three set. The second game of the series goes tonight at Bowmanville Arena at 8:00 p.m.

Ajax Bantams, a lighter but well coached team, managed a 2-1 lead by the end of the first period. Piotroski and McCosh scored for Ajax to give them a two goal lead in mid period. Chris Watson scored the lone tally for the Rotary boys near the end of the period.

Ron Wardlaw, in the Lindsay net had to come up with key saves to keep the visitors off the scoresheet in the last two periods, being called on to turn aside several threatening breakaways by the Ajax crew. Jim Willis banged in Allan Worsley's goal mouth pass to tie the score at 8:05 of the middle frame. Three penalties to Lindsay in the last half of the period kept them on the defensive, and the period ended on a two to two tie.

Greg Bodnar from Jones and Willis at 4:00 of the third period turned to be the deciding blow as the Rotary Bantams weathered 3 minor penalties. Ajax drew one penalty in the first period and one at the end of the middle frame.

The third game of the series, if necessary, will be played in Lindsay on Saturday at 4:45 p.m. The Rotary Bantams won the toss for the extra game, which if necessary will be played here instead of Port Perry.

Kinsmen Pee Wee Coach Paul Rodd capably filled in for the Rotary boys' faithful coach Gordon Abercrombie who was unable to attend because of illness.

Tigers maul Merchants 8-5 round robin set now tied

A battered and bruised Lindsay Merchant hockey team returned from Aurora last night more battered and bruised and on the short end of an 8-5 score. The Aurora wintie them and Lindsay Merchants with five wins and two losses each and each team has one game left to play with Newmarket Redmen.

Aurora Tigers took a four goal lead in the first period last night as referee Jack Shropshire called the offsides in the absence of linesman Ken Broughton. One penalty for interference against Lindsay was called in the first period.

With two officials on hand for the second period, referee Shropshire caught up on his penalties as he handed out a total of sixty-one minutes, twenty-nine minutes to Lindsay. The Merchants also faired the best on the scoreboard, firing four goals in the middle frame while the Tigers managed two. The Tigers however outscored the Merchants 2-1 in the two penalty third period to clinch the win.

Weekly contact with the same two teams over a six week period is catching up on the boys with injuries becoming more numerous every game. Personal grudges carry over from one game to the next when the same teams meet so often and there is little that local officials can do about it.

At the last league meeting when the round robin series was set up, Lindsay Merchant officials were given to understand, that in event of a tie for top spot after the round robin goals for and against averages would decide first place and the owner of the extra home game in the best of seven final at Lindsay. After last night's game, with the series tied at present, the Aurora officials claim this arrangement was changed to a sudden death game, and with the nearby Newmarket Redmen to back them up the Tigers may just get their own way again, the same as they did when they wanted the long double round robin series. Be that as it may, the semi-final set should wind up here Friday night when the Redmen come to town.

Bruce Graham opened the scoring at 2:50 of the first period beating Randy Reid after Foran and Hill missed from close range. Pat Flannagan fired a fifteen foot drive into the Lindsay cage at 5:27 and returned at 12:05 with another close-in drive. John Cooper scored their fourth marker, a six foot stab from in front at 18:29.

Jack Foran put the Tigers five goals ahead at 3:57 of the second period before the Merchants got back in the game with three in a row. Bob Taylor was the first to beat Goodmakers when he recovered the puck in the Aurora end and gave "the cat" no chance at 5:06 with Foran off for high sticking. Pillsworth and Bray had each been tagged with majors for fighting thirty seconds earlier.

The next stop in play rang up seventeen minutes in penalties with Horton getting five. Foran five, and Jones with seven minutes. Ray McCabe followed with two for tripping, Bob Taylor with ten for talking and Flannagan with two for interference before Lindsay bounced back with two more goals, Heffernan from Purdy and Graham, and Purdy from Graham and Heffernan at 13:14 and 13:35: Dave Cotey from Bray saint Davis at 14:25 and Purdy from Graham at 16:03 completed the scoring for the period. Barnsdale got two minors for charging at 15:46 and Frocking was given two minutes for charging at 19:19.

Mike Davis put the Tigers ahead 7-4 early in the third period on a slap shot from the blue-line, and Flannagan made it 8-4 at 9:04 assisted by Barnsdale and Wray. Rick Purdy unassisted completed the scoring at 18:35.

Auroro Tigers and Newmarket Redmen will tangle at Newmarket Thursday evening and from reports in that area this could be a rousing battle. The Redmen then return to Lindsay Friday night to complete the four week-semi-final.

The Aurora win last night, while it ties Lindsay on wins, it gives the Merchants a decided edge on goals for and against average. Both teams now have 24 goals against, but the Merchants have scored 44 compared to 33 by the Tigers.

Precise Products For Science and Industry

Canadian Optics Go World-Wide

Nancy Moreau of Midland, Ontario, checks and cleans six-inch condenser lens.

As Canadian research grows apace in government and private industry, as complex technology merges with rapidly-increasing manufacturing facilities to produce wide varieties of intricate equipment and products, a highly-skilled domestic source for special optical systems is of vital worth. In Canada, complex optical products, from the Leitz company's plant at Midland, Ontario, are exported to 80 countries around the world. With demands for fine lenses growing in the fields of commerce, industry and science, this vigorous factory has doubled in size several times over in the past dozen years to become one of North America's leading manufacturers of lenses and optical instruments. Among the lenses they have designed and developed in Canada are a world-famed, extremely-fast wide-angle lens and a high-speed, medium telephoto lens. Other special optical products include systems for microreproduction, infra-red, television, laser and data-processing equipment. Modern science combined with delicate artistry, fine senses of human creativity combined with extremes of engineering precision — these are the essentials in developing optical systems for today's sophisticated technology. For new Canadians who brought generations-old skills from Europe a decade ago, for many others who have joined them in their fascinating art, the Canadian production of precise lenses and optical equipment has become a rewarding science — for the nation's industrial progress, a vital and valuable tool.

Delicacy in assembling components follows strict engineering precision in manufacture of optical systems. Inge Klinck, above, works intently on sight units destined for export.

Production engineer, A. Dellori and tool designer H. Erb of the Leitz optical works discuss fixtures for turret lathe.

UNDER THE PEACE TOWER

Ottawa (NPI) — A film crew was working in the office of Health Minister Judy LaMarsh, the great crusader against cigarettes, on a movie aimed at pointing out the harmful effects of the weed to teenagers.

All was going well until the directors decided another teenager was needed and a hurriedly-called talent hunt quickly produced a lovely 19-year-old redhead, who works in the Minister's office.

The scene required her to smoke three cigarettes and the young girl tackled the role with gusto — too much in fact. Before the third cigarette was finished, the star became violently ill and passed out.

Avid non-smoker Judy LaMarsh who gave up cigarettes nearly a year ago to set an example in her campaign to prevent teenagers from getting the habit, still tastes the odd one.

She takes a puff — "It tastes awful" — and then throws it away saying to herself, 'that's one cigarette no one else will get".

Civil Servant Allan McAllister, 25, won $50 for designing the Federal Government's new long-service button — and has to work in the service for another 20 years before he gets to wear it.

Asked to comment on the recent leadership battle in the Conservative Party and the slim victory by his arch foe John Diefenbaker, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said: "The Commons wouldn't be the same without Mr. Diefenbaker."

Privy Council President, George McIlraith no longer hears the patter of feet overhead in his parliamentary office.

During the winter recess they remodelled the cafeteria floor above — and installed a sound-proof floor.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson says there are four kinds of politicians in the ring of political in-fighting.

"Those who hit hard or not so hard but above the belt;

"Those, who hit in the heat of debate or by accident, hit below the belt, genuinely regretting the low blow;

"Those who normally and cheerfully hit below the belt;

"And those who go around looking for belts below which to hit."

Little Britain

Friends of Mrs. George Varcoe of the Little Britain teaching staff are glad to hear that she is now able to be at her home again and recuperating nicely after being confined to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for several days.

Mrs. Lewis Lunney and sons who recently disposed of their farm and property on the 4th Concession of Mariposa are now having a dwelling erected at the east end of the village on a lot which they purchased some time ago from Mr. Fred Palmer and which is now well under way.

Owing to road and weather conditions the weekly group meeting of the Christian Education Committee and Session of Little Britain United Church and which consists of games of various kinds was postponed on Wednesday afternoon of last week but with weather permitting will be held and continued again on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Lou Kirley of RR1, Little Britain in the recen passing of her father, Mr. John J. Twohey who was in his 85th year and which occurred at his home in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bartley and family of Oshawa who have recently moved here are being welcomed as new residents to the village. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bartley and their family also of Oshawa, moved here recently and are residing in a dwelling which is owned by Mr. Robert Thornton of Little Britain.

Several members of the Little Britain U.C.W. groups met and gathered at the home of Mrs. John Connor in the village recently where they held a very successful Quilting Bee.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mollon are glad to hear that they are now able to be at their homes again and recuperating nicely after both being confined to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for several days.

Seven-year old Norman Ware, whose father is a toy dealer in Hampshire, England, registers a pleasantly surprised look on meeting "Frankie", one of the hits by Ontario manufacturers at this year's British Toy Fair in Brighton. Twenty-five Canadian firms showed their wares in the Ontario Government section of the toy fair. Ontario plans to show Canadian products in a number of international exhibits this year.

World news today

Moscow — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin demanded that the United States withdraw its troops and military equipment from South Viet Nam. His demand followed Soviet warnings that any new U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam could trigger World War III. Kosygin said the Soviet Union rejects any military interference "in the internal affairs of Indo-China."

Saigon — The Soviet Union reportedly has supplied Communist North Viet Nam with ground-to-air missiles in Washington, the State Department and defense departments said they had no information to confirm such a report.) The report of the Soviet arms shipment to the Hanoi regime was made by reliable sources who just arrived from the Communist capital.

Saigon — A United States military spokesman disclosed that U.S. army and marine corps helicopter gunners had killed 88 Communist Guerrillas in South Viet Nam in recent fighting The announcement was considered remarkable, inasmuch as it was a departure from long-standing American policy to play down the involvement of American troops in the embattled country. The U.S. usually refers to its troops in South Viet Nam as "advisers."

United Nations — Communist China's satellite Albania threw the United Nations General Assembly into a turmoil by calling for a vote that would have forced a showdown between Washington and Moscow. The world body has avoided taking a vote as the only way to avoid an east-west confrontation over the Soviet Union's voting rights. The U.S. contends the Soviet Union has lost its vote by refusing to pay U.N. peace keeping bills. The Albanian move was thwarted by assembly president Alex Quaison-Sackey, who adjourned the assembly until Thursday.

Caracas, Venezuela — The American Embassy and the offices of United Press International were attacked by a mob of terrorists protesting the United States policy in South Viet Nam. National guardsmen fired more than 100 shots into the air to disperse angry demonstrators who tried to invade the embassy building Bottles of ink were thrown at the U.S. property Six armed youths invaded the offices of UPI and smashed teletype machines with iron bars. There were no injuries.

British Columbia — A two-week strike of trainmen in British Columbia is over. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway signed a new contract with the striking trainsmen's union last night and crews returned to their jobs. The agreement gave the 185 trainmen 12 percent pay increases.

Ottawa — The Commons continues to study a proposed Canada labour code today. Labour Minister MacEachern announced last night that industries would be exempt from certain provisions in the bill — if they would tend to produce disastrous financial effects on the industries concerned. The bill regulates working conditions for federal government employees.

Other business before the Commons includes the Canada Pension Plan and legislation allowing provinces to opt-out of Federal-Provincial schemes.

Hollywood — The body of singer Nat King Cole will lie in a closed coffin today at the St. James Episcopal church in Hollywood. Cole died of cancer Monday. Entertainers Jack Benny and George Jessel will deliver eulogies for Cole at tomorrow's private funeral services in the same church.

Cape Kennedy — Space scientists at Cape Kennedy are hoping for a successful Ranger launch today on a picture taking mission to the moon. The scientists will be aiming for close-up pictures of dry lunar seas in effort to line up landing areas for U.S. moon craft set to make lunar journeys starting late this year.

Texas — A Texas State Legislator wants to make the Lone Star State's Alligators safe from Hunters. Representative Cameron Hightower of Liberty, Texas, wants fines up to 500 dollars levied against hunters who pursue alligators.

Retirement is not really retirement for Guy Mills

Retiring after thirty-eight years in the postal service does not mean hanging up the hoe to a well known and popular Lindsay native. Guy Mills, of 100 King street.

Guy Mills, who started in the Lindsay Post Office, July 21st, in 1927 as a postal helper, and retired as assistant postmaster on December 31st, 1964. Since his retirement from the postal service, Mr. Mills has been asked to take the agency for the Co-operative Insurance Association whose head office is in Peterboro.

Guy Mills was born in Lindsay, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William (Billy) Mills. He was among the first pupils to attend the then new Central School, and graduated from the Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

Starting in the post office as postal helper, Guy Mills served under three post-masters during his thirty-eight years. John (Peg) Murphy, Aubrey Warner, and the present postmaster Thomas Tyrer. Guy walked the rounds as a letter carrier for five years prior to joining the inside staff as postal clerk in 1934. He became assistant postmaster in 1961, following the retirement of Elwood Coombs.

Mr. Mills is presently a member of the Board of Directors of St. Mary's Credit Union. He is an active member of the nights of Columbus, a member of the Lindsay Chapter of Barber Shop Singers, a member of St. Mary's Choir, and Chairman of the Lindsay Area Planning Board.

Always active in community sport Guy played Junior Hockey in the days of Buster Martin, Charles Piercy, John Moran and Urban McClory. He was a member of the Arena Commission when Eddie Shore operated a Junior Hockey team from the Kiwanis Arena, and he recalls that Lou Marsh was one of the referees working the junior circuit when he played for Lindsay Juniors in the Lindsay street Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills have two sons, Joseph who is teaching school at St. John's Separate School at Burlington, and Charles with Woolco Stores in Hamilton.

Mr. Mills told "The Post" that he will be conducting his new business from his residence at 100 King street in Lindsay.

Three-year "creel census" for Haliburton Highlands

Ron Christie, District Biologist for Fish and Wildlife division of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, Lindsay explained to members of the Haliburton Highlands Property Owners Council at the Inn-On-The-Park Saturday, the purpose and method of a 3-year "creel census" to be initiated in the spring in the Haliburton Highlands. Due to the fact that most of these lakes are fed by rock-filtered water they are relatively infertile for the production of fish. Mr. Christie told the Council that the proposed survey will have an impact bearing on future fish production in the area.

Mr. Christie suggested that members of the Haliburton Highlands Property Owners Council, which includes delegates from Cottagers Associations who speak for approximately 5500 cottagers in the area, could help considerably by organizing groups of fishing volunteers to work with the department, in compiling of data of marked fish released by the department and caught in the area. He further asked for co-operation in restraining requests for individual fish surveys which might hinder the following out of the organized planning of the project in question.

Mr. R. Christie was accompanied by A. Gostein, Conservation Officer for Haliburton District, and R. Simpson, Fisheries Technician.

Canadians have no protection against hate "poison"-Feinberg

Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg told a joint service club meeting at the Presbyterian Church last night there was no protection for Canadians from the "obscene, false hodge-podge of pure poison" spread by hate mongers in this country. Rabbi Feinburg added. "I wouldn't contaminate Canadian courts by bringing in such scum."

He said he regretted there was nothing in the Criminal Code of Canada that would make court action against these people feasible and he said he hoped the Attorney General would go beyond the statement that there was no protection for Canadians from this menace and consider a change in the law. He said the law protects these radicals from irate citizens but there is nothing to protect the citizens from this "poison".

Answering a question from the floor as to why he was called the "Red Rabbi" he said he shouldn't be asked about the mentality of the people who made such charges. He said the first reason was that he was known. He said he was one Jew who could be identified by men almost anywhere in Canada and if these people could "pin this charge on me" it could cause people to surmise the same about other Jews.

He said the name was first applied to him by an American publication of the National States Rights Party. He said the purpose of the party is political power; it is the same people who spearheaded Barry Goldwater's thrust for power and the party who was responsible for his defeat. Rabbi Feinberg said these same people are now spreading hate literature in Canada.

He concluded this was part of a world-wide effort — part of the rightist revolution against democracy and humanity.

Cut copper wire from pole, men fined $50

Daniel Wayne Faiers, 20, of Buckhorn and Kenneth Stanley Martin, 22, of Peterboro, were each fined $50 and costs in Lindsay Magistrate's Court Wednesday after pleading guilty to the theft of copper wire in Cardiff Township on January 18th.

Provincial Police Constable Prior of Apsley detachment told the court of being called to the vicinity of an abandoned mine in Cardiff Township by Constable Earl Bush of the Minden detachment. He said the accused men had been observed throwing away a pair of cable cutters and some coils of scrap wire by the constable when they returned to their car parked at the road. Constable Prior said the accused men admitted cutting the wire from a pole, which was estimated to have a scrap value of $4.00.

Magistrate Ian Munro cautioned the pair that anything that is moved even a few inches constitutes theft, and warned them that theft is a serious offence under the code. On learning that the pair had no previous record, Magistrate Munro levied a fine of $50.00 each and costs or 30 days in lieu of payment. The two men were given two weeks to pay by the court.

Maple Leaf flag burned in Montreal

Montreal (UPI) — Four persons were to appear in police court today charged with disturbing the peace following a demonstration in front of a Montreal radio station last night during which the new Canadian Maple Leaf Flag was burned.

Some 100 placard-waving demonstrators marched on the French-language radio station CJMS to protest favourable comments the station had given on the new flag and Canadian unity.

At the height of the demonstration, 150 policemen moved in and dispersed the crowd. Seven persons were arrested and taken to headquarters but charges were laid against only four.

One of those arrested was well-known Montreal boxer Reggie Chartrand who was acquitted on a charge of disturbing the peace during the visit of Queen Elizabeth to Quebec City last summer. He was arrested after he yelled slogans such as "Quebec for the working man" over a loudspeaker.

The demonstrators called themselves "Chevaliers D'In dependence" or the Knights of Independence. They were demonstrating against radio moderator Claude Bruchesi, a nephew of Canadian ambassador to Spain Jean Bruchesi.

The moderator has spoken out on several occasions against separatism in Quebec.

The Sunday School receipts were $621.97 and expenses were $96.02 with balance of $225.95.

Mr. Glenn Wanamaker, Church treasurer then gave his statement on money matters with receipts of $8326.27 and expenses of $742.90, leaving a balance of $895.37 of which $100 is held in trust for a memorial for Mr. Silas Reynolds. Mr. Cliff Short seconded the motion of acceptance of this report.

On motion of Mrs. Clement and Mr. Wm. Keen, Mr. Wannamaker was asked to continue as treasurer.

Mr. Douglas McMillan was reinstated as M and M treasurer; Mrs. H. Eagleson as Envelope-Secretary Mrs. Tobin as organist; the present Board of Stewards with Mr. Jas. Fisley added; Mrs. G. Mr. Glenn Wanamaker, knowing that the parsonage was likely to be sold, had gone to Whitby and had the title searched. The deed to the land had been registered in 1876, as being for church purposes, and there was an outstanding mortgage of $400 which had never been paid.

Goldwater used by extremists Feinberg charges in Lindsay

Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg last night charged that Senator Barry Goldwater was chosen by extremists who wanted power in the United States and throughout the world. He told a joint meeting of the service clubs at the Presbyterian Church it was part of a world-wide effort and these very people were spreading hate in Canada.

He said the 27 million votes Goldwater received in the last U.S. election was a victory for these fanatics and added "they have not given up their dream."

He said Goldwater's campaign was spearheaded by the National States Rights Party and accused this same movement of spreading the hate campaign in Canada.

He said the movement, whose only purpose was political power, was following the greatest example of an exploiter of hate, Hitler, who by repeating a colossal lie and using the majority as a scape-goat turned people against each other and showed that hate could be manipulated to gain power. "That," he said, "is why there are groups all over the world that hope to achieve what they want by the distribution of hate literature."

He said he felt sorry for men who could state that the Jews were responsible for nearly every evil that confronts mankind today. "Isn't that absurd?" he asked. He said these people who talk about natural order are presenting a picture of the kind of totalitarianism that put the world into bloodshed.

TV Ratings Challenged By U.S. Trade Commission

WASHINGTON—Your favorite television program goes off the air, doomed by low ratings.

Just how accurate are these oracular reports, treasured by the television industry as if Moses brought them down each month from Mount Sinai?

Not very, according to the Federal Trade Commission, a U.S. government agency. Last week it catalogued a variety of faults with the ways the three biggest rating services include both the viewers they rather data and the way they announce their findings.

The services involved were the Pulse, Inc., C-E-I-R, Inc (parent company of American Research Bureau) and E. C. Nielsen Co.

The FTC said all three have agreed to stop misrepresenting the accuracy of their radio and television audience measurements and to stop using bad survey techniques. But the assessor noted that the accuracy of the power of their decimal findings is expected to continue. Lawrence Laurent, Washington Post television critic, said in this way:

"The television audience is like the weather. ... the real, and eve- ... used to get up games, nings charades, monopoly, anything to get their minds off the heat. Very informal; anyone ... friend. told her ... tiful woman. What is ... you?" Whatever it is, this plump, emotional and rather splendid housewife has it.

These were some of the procedures the FTC said lead to error or bias:

Both Nielsen and C-E-I-R fail to count the effect of people who refuse or fail to respond or co-operate. Neither or percentage of people who don't respond.

Both use data derived from diaries but some of the diaries contain hearsay reports or estimates. The FTC said in some cases, C-E-I-R's only subsequent contact with diarykeepers was to provide them with a new diary.

Nielsen considered the most influential television rating was found to be audience totals partly upon measurement and partly upon projection based on obsolete ballot surveys. The FTC also found that Nielsen publishes what radio audience purports to be com- although it does not measure portable and listening or tuning."

Pulse, said the FTC, adjusts "sign-in-use" figures upward by 20 per cent for morning programs and 40 per cent for evening programs without research to justify such adjustments." Other Pulse shortcomings included use of data from reports containing than general preference of a person, not what he actually saw.

The FTC also said that while all three services say they measure an accurate sample of the total audience this is not so. Since their rating techniques rely on use of accurate samples, the reliability of the final ratings cannot be determined.

The services will now have to qualify their reports and change some of the ways they get their data. This is unlikely to be much help to quality ... that diet- ... programs that ratings ...

"How can we attend ceremony if not invited?" reader asks

Dear Sir:

How can we see a ceremony of such great importance as "Raising a new flag", if we read on February 11, 1965, "No ceremonies for new flag in Lindsay". These words were spoken by the mayor of Lindsay. Other remarks in "The Post" of February 9 stated, "The mayor moved, that the clerk be authorized to fly the new flag . . . perhaps we should sing O'Canada in French" and on February 11 we read "At the town hall the new flag will be raised 'sometime' by the town clerk". Mayor Joseph Holtom said in council on Monday that no ceremonies would be held.

Is it true to say that, according to "The Post" the mayor is the only one to decide these things (what about the rest of council?), and what about our loyalty to our country?

The mayor said on February 15 "However parliament in its wisdom has chosen and made beautiful this new flag with the maple leaf design as the new symbol of our country. The people of Canada will wish to honour and respect it".

I believe that many people would have proven this statement true. If the mayor would have invited the citizens of Lindsay and surrounding district, instead of saying "No ceremonies for Lindsay". Instead we read on February 15 "People of Lindsay showed no interest".

Personally I said to my wife on the morning of the 15th, "I wish Lindsay would have a ceremony on such an important occasion in our history."

I believe there are many more people in and out of town, who believe the same, and would have been present, if they had known.

Ivan Halteren,
RR1, Lindsay.

STURDY SHELTERS

— Copenhagen, Denmark (UPI) — Copenhagen's civil defense officials admitted last night that plaster of paris had been used by builders to reinforce atomic air-raid shelters. It was learned that the shelters could collapse at the sound of a pistol shot and certainly would not withstand an atomic blast.

Bryce McGillivray

Sunderland (PNS) — The village was shocked to learn of the sudden passing on Saturday, January 30th., of one of its younger and most prominent citizens, Bryce McGillivray in his 39th year.

Bryce was known far and near for his expect knowledge of butchering. He managed Charters Meat Market for the past several years and always knew the exact needs of all his customers. He loved everyone and everyone loved him.

Bryce didn't know the meaning of 'slow down' and worked every minute of his short life and was always willing to take on the extra chores of organizations he belonged to. He was an active member of the Lions Club, the Volunteer Fire Service and the Couples Club of the United Church and never shirked his duties to any one of them.

The community is the poorer with his passing and all who had the privilege of knowing him are richer for the experience.

The huge crowd attending the funeral and the mass of floral tributes showed the high esteem in which he was held.

RIVETS

By George Sixta

HOLLYWOOD
(By United Press International)

Hollywood, (UPI) — Andy Griffith made a solemn decision recently — to go ahead with his successful television series without sidekick Don Knotts.

To many it will be Rod Abbott without Lou Costello or Hardy without Laurel.

Nobody realizes this more than the pleasant, soft voiced Griffith. It shakes him up emotionally.

"It's entirely impossible to replace Don," he said during a rehearsal break. "I really dread the day when we make our last show together. When they say, 'That's a wrap-up,' on the last show, you'll have to forget about me. I usually only cry when I laugh."

A strong bond exists between the two actors, stronger than the fictional camaraderie of the Sheriff of Mayberry and his dim-witted deputy, Barney Fife, the characters they've played for five years.

Knots is leaving the show for a new scontract at Universal Studios to star in movies and perhaps a television show of his own.

Andy didn't try to dissuade Knotts from leaving.

"I wish Don godspeed and good luck", he said. "It's time for him to go out on his own.

"We're looking for another man to try to fill in some of the gap. He's gotta be somebody who creates trouble. Old Barney always created trouble. If we find a new man I'm not even sure we'll try to work him into being a deputy."

Griffith himself is a vastly different man from the defensive, self-conscious southerner who came to Hollywood five years ago. He's sophisticated, polished, articulate and still possessed of Dixie charm.

"When came out here I'd been in show business six years, made three movies and two Broadway plays," he grimmed. "I knew nothing about television and I was frightened and nervous. Once you fail here in TV that is as far as you can go, and I'd already failed in movies.

"When I made the TV deal I wanted to be free to get out in three years if I didn't like it. I didn't know what course the show would take. Of course, if it hadn't been good I'd have been out in 24 weeks."

Now Andy is looking forward to his sixth year, and it's a success without Knotts, perhaps a seventh.

There is little evidence of the country boy left in Griffith. He owns a beautiful home in the San Fernando Valley and is likely to remain a Californian. He still visits friends in Carolina, but he's learned it's difficult to pick up the threads of the past.

The past five years have been the happiest of my life," he said, looking around at the familiar Desilu Studio.

"Maybe my values have changed. Maybe my outlook. But I remember what my professor of Greek said back in college: "If believe in what I believe today, and I belive in tomorrow what tomorrow brings?".

People who know Griffith hope the future brings him another Don Knotts.

Mrs. Charlie Duggan has been a patient in the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for the past week. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

The Northeast CORNER

Monday February 15th was a day of joy and sorrow for everyone across Canada. To the members of the teaching profession, Monday is generally called blue Monday. For this Monday the teachers had as it were to start all over again with their little charges, for after two or three holidays when in their young exuberance they seem to have forgotten where they left off on Friday and the teacher has to review some back lesson before the children settle down to ask some new lessons.

But with many of our older citizens, Monday was a black day of tragedy and mourning for the flag that they were taught to revere and respect was pulled down and a new one substituted in its place.

This is not an easy thing for older people to adjust to. This was the flag that has flown over the hills and plains of Canada since long before the provinces of Canada were all joined into one. It is the flag that the veterans of Canada followed in war when they followed it into battle and many of our brave sons gave their lives for what they believed that was represented in that old flag.

We must remember that there is a lot represented by our old flag that is not to be found in the new one. One single maple leaf is symbolic of Canada only. The old Ensign that Mr. Diefenbaker tried so hard to save is also symbolic of the parents of Canada and today many people are criticizing him very severely for the fight he put up to save the old flag. Surely we will not let him down on that score.

There are certain people in our Canadian parliament in order to cater to a small minority group, are prepared to use their authority to cut us entirely clear of anything that smacks of old England. This attitude may cost us dearly some day. The fight that Mr. Diefenbaker and his followers put up in the flag debate would probably be going on yet if the Government had not instituted "Closure" and of course that closed off all debate. To my mind "Closure" is a mean, miserable, contemptible piece of legislation. It is a childish piece of legislation and I would brand anyone who uses it as reprehensible coward.

Today the world seems to be against Mr. Diefenbaker but he is not the first one in Canadian history. If you will read the life story of Sir John A. Macdonald you will find that he also had his fair share of trouble but his solid followers stood loyally behind him and it is the verdict of history today that he was the best Prime Minister that Canada has ever had. And going back a very few years in English History, surely everyone remembers what happened to Winston Churchill. After leading us all through the last war to a victorious conclusion when the war was over and he called an election there was his own English people turn him out cold. I can't help but think that he got the same kind of treatment from the English people that John Diefenbaker is getting today from the Canadian people.

Two years ago I had the happy experience of a short visit to England, Scotland and Ireland and when we crossed from the mainland of Scotland across to the Island of Iona, where we got out of the boat I got down on my knees and kissed the ground, for it was from there over one hundred years ago that my father came as a young man to build a better home for himself in this land that we call Canada.

Today Canada can ill afford to break off all our ties with the old land.

I saw in Monday's Globe and Mail they suggested that the Government might give consideration to adopting O'Canada as the National Anthem in place of God Save The Queen. I respect O'Canada but we must remember that O'Canada is escular song while God Save The Queen is a prayer.

Owing to the severe ice storm and bad road conditions the Argyle Public School was closed on Wednesday and the bus to Fenelon Falls High School was unable to go. This resulted in a holiday for many students.

Mr. John R. MacEachern visited with his wife recently who is a patient in the Bon-Aire Nursing Home in Cannington. Her funeral was held from the Stoddart Funeral Home, Woodville, on Monday. Interment in the Presbyterian Vault, Woodville.

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS

Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology

An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic programmer to provide the most accurate selectivity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.

The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergizer which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete soil removing action, resulting in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like" freshness to garments.

The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning action and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heavyest woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.

The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17TH, 1965

"You certainly know how to make them laugh," said her Royal Highness Queen Elizabeth, "Even without saying any funny lines," added her husband Prince Philip at a Royal Variety Performance for the Royal Couple in Charlottetown, PEI. The object of their praise was Canadian comic Dave Broadfoot who will star in Mayor Moore's "Spring Thaw '65" which will be seen in Lindsay on the 25th and 26th February at the Academy Theatre. The show is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Lindsay.

Bonhomme Carnaval, the Frosty fellow who plays host to thousands of visitors attending the Quebec Carnival loves to have his picture taken. He's only one of the many reasons why everyone going to the carnival should take along a camera.

NEWS FROM THE LCVI

by "The Post" Collegiate reporter Richard Bruce

LCVI STUDENTS ENTHUSED OVER NEW FLAG

Although not many interested Canadians were present for the raising of Canada's new flag in Ottawa, or at our own government building in Lindsay this was not the case at LCVI. Just before noon, the flag was raised while musically inclined students of LCVI played "O'Canada". The ceremony was well attended by many students. All of them seemed enthused about the flag.

The Student Council should be thanked for purchasing our school its new flag.

FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR DRAMA NIGHT

This Thursday and Friday are the two big nights of the year for the Drama Club. They have been practicing for several months for these two evenings and they should receive the support of the students of LCVI. Last minute practices and plans are being made and everyone is striving to make this the best "Drama Night" so far. This is the first year the plays will be presented at the Academy Theatre which is a sign of progress.

Tickets are on sale — $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for students and may be purchased from any member of the Drama Club.

TATLER DANCE

The Tatler Executive are planning a dance for Friday, February 26. This is to help them pay for the expenses of printing the school year-book. So boys, take your favourite girl to the big Birthday Party Dance on February 26 and help the Tatler celebrate Mervin's birthday.

TWO WINS — ONE LOSS

On Friday February 12, the Lindsay basketball teams were hosts to the teams from Cobourg West. The Lindsay boys did very well as they won two out of three games. The Bantams and Juniors defeated Cobourg West 53 to 47 and 40 to 36 respectively. The Seniors led throughout most of the game but they finally bowed to the bigger Cobourg team, losing to the tune of 54 to 34.

In the first quarter of the Bantam game, it appeared as if the game would be a runaway for LCVI as they led 13 to 2 but the Cobourg team came right back in the second quarter and closed the gap 22 to 14. Cobourg outscored Lindsay 14 to 13 in the 3rd quarter and 19 to 18 in the 4th quarter making the game very interesting. The final score was 53 to 47 for Lindsay. High scorers for Lindsay were Campbell with 23 points and Georgas with 13 points. High scorers for Cobourg West were Ovens with 22 points and Code with 13 points.

The Junior game was in doubt until the final quarter as the game was tied at that point 28 to 28. In the first quarter Lindsay outscored Cobourg 12 to 8 but in the second quarter Cobourg outscored Lindsay 10 to 3 and led at half time by the score of 18 to 15. In the third quarter Lindsay outscored Cobourg West 13 to 10 and set the stage for the final quarter. Once again Lindsay outscored Cobourg 12 to 8 and won the game 40 to 36. High scorers for Lindsay were Steffler with 18 points and Lee with 14 points. High scorers for Cobourg West were Harvey with 11 points and Young with nine points.

The Senior game was very exciting and very close until the dying moments. Cobourg led 11 to 6 in the first quarter but Lindsay came back with 16 points in the second quarter and led 22 to 20 at the half. In the third quarter both teams scored 17 points and going into the third quarter the score was 33 to 31 for Lindsay. Cobourg West came out strong in the fourth quarter and outscored the Lindsay team 23 to 11. The final score was 54 to 44 for Cobourg West. High scorer for Lindsay was Bob Wylie, who scored 28 points. High scorers for Cobourg West were Anderson with 21 points and Rovensdale with 17 points.

The Lindsay team deserves a great deal of credit for controlling "Big Jeff". He is the league scoring leader but was held to only 17 points as the Lindsay team checked him constantly. Special mention should go to Dick Koolhaas and Case Glasbergen as they constantly out-jumped the six-foot, 8 inch player. Congratulations boys.

"Creative Cookery" course to be held

Bethany (PNS) — Mrs. Addison Sott was hostess for the meeting of the Bethany Women's Institute on Monday evening. As program convener for Citizenship and Education, she led a panel discussion on "Biculturalism". Assisting on the panel were Mrs. Gordon Chase and Mrs. Glenn Preston, representing two French and Canadian families. Mrs. William Phillips gave a reading and conducted a guessing contest which was won by Mrs. Clarence Rowan.

The roll call was responded to with "A French phrase". Mrs. Scott gave comments on the program motto "What we wish to do, we think we can do; but when we don't wish a thing, it becomes impossible".

Mrs. Harry Ryley chaired the business session, also reporting on the 4-H girls club work. She said a new group would be started in the Manvers Station area. Mrs. Ryley and Mrs. Noel Wood will attend a school for leaders at Orono next week.

Mrs. Thos. Jennings read the minutes and correspondence which included a letter from the Provincial president, Mrs. L. Trivers announcing plans for the current year. The financial report noted the success of the recent sale of home baking.

Plans were made to cater for the Anglican Church Deanery meeting, also to hold another sale of home baking next month.

A short course in "Creative Cookery" will be held in the United Church Sunday school hall at Bethany, February 24th from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Miss Mary Lou Gilland, home economist from the Extension Branch, Home Economics Service of the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture, will conduct the course. Quick tricks with familiar foods; a new look at seasonings and accompaniments; little ways of putting fun into food, will be presented. A cordial invitation to attend was extended to all women in the community.

Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Gordon Chase, Mrs. Wm. Phillips, Mrs. Glenn Preston. Mrs. Harry Ryley expressed the thanks of the members to Mrs. Scott and her group.

WASHED AWAY

Felixstowe, England (UPI) — A breakwater that was being built to protect dwellings along the shore was washed away by the raging sea only a few days before it was due to be completed.

None of the cathedrals now being erected in Britain has a more contemporary design than that of Coventry—and none, therefore, has aroused more controversy. To succeed the medieval cathedral which, except for its noble spire, was destroyed by fire in the war, Basil Spence has envisaged a building whose architectural roots are in our own century. The nave, lit by stained-glass windows stretching from floor to roof, may well prove one of the greatest artistic legacies of the 20th century. —BPA photo.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE PATIENT SENSITIVE

Beware of the low blood pressure patient. If you tell him statistics are on his side that he will probably live longer than his neighbour who has high or even normal blood pressure, he is likely to flail out at you, and call you a few names to boot. In some cases, he wears his low blood pressure as a badge of distinction.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Pardon me while I grind my teeth at you! Your recent column in which you made the statement, "Be glad your blood pressure is low" left me wondering whether to laugh or cry.

I am 34 and have suffered from chronic fatigue all my life. Two or three doctors have told me it's just low blood pressure, and advised vitamins and iron. And if I insisted that I've already tried these to no avail, they get this glazed eye bored expression, which says plainer than any words: they wish I'd quit bothering them with my complaints. I can't help wondering if I'm not considered some kind of a neurotic pest for wanting to live a full life.

As it is I drag through what is most essential in my child-rearing and housekeeping. It is indeed a rare day I have energy enough left over for anything extra, like sewing or baking, or anything I like to do. Naturally, boredom also wears its ugly head and adds to the problem. I can't ever look forward to anything because I simply don't have the energy to do it.

EMOTIONALLY WEARING

Also, it's emotionally very wearing to constantly have to force oneself to make every move without any let-up. When my disposition becomes abominable, I swear I'll quit taking things out on the kids, but it's not easy.

I've tried exercises, deep breathing, and all kinds of treatments, but they haven't done very much good. I've given up saying anything to my M.D. about it. I get so tired of these verbal placebos like "Most women have this trouble", or "There's nothing to worry about", or (like you said) "You'll live longer with low blood pressure" etc.

I'll have to live longer, about twice as long, to accomplish one-third as much. Low blood pressure may not kill me, but it's a safe guestimate to say it keeps me about 25 per cent dead all the time.

So Gr-r-r! to you and to the rest of the medical profession who have so smugly, complacently, callously shown your disinterest by simply ignoring those of us who have this problem of low blood pressure.

Please believe me, it is a problem. I'd throw something at you, except I must take the work away from the baby, and after using up all this energy to write a letter, I can't do both-or I guess you're still safe. Disgustedly yours, Mrs. T.

Comment: Please bear with me, Mrs. T., while I put on my suit of armour. I realize when I'm in danger, and might as well take precautions against that fork in your good right hand. But I'm a stubborn knight, even if a black knight. I may be the villain, but I still adhere to what I said: People with low blood pressure who feel like you do, should look elsewhere for the cause of their fatigue, nervousness (thyroid, anemia, other organic disease) rather than to the low blood pressure itself.

WHAMMO

Lindsay residents may be interested in hearing about a practical demonstration that raised some scientific eyebrows recently — though I hope it never happens here!

A group of professors at a major technical institute were holding a conference on "component reliability," a matter of considerable importance in these space-age days.

One engineering professor fidgeted while the discussion rambled on at length in profound scientific terms. Finally he jumped up, grabbed a nearby telephone, and slammed it against the wall.

As the dust settled, he asked one of his startled colleagues to pick up the phone and dial Operator. The operator answered immediately.

"Now that, gentlemen," he said triumphantly "is reliability."

AIM TO BE HEARD

If folks sometimes have difficulty hearing you over the telephone, it may require only a slight twist of the wrist to make your voice come in loud and clear. Seeing television performers talk or sing over microphones that may be located 18 inches from the mouth or suspended overhead out of sight may give us the impression that we can do the same with the telephone. We may carelessly talk with the telephone transmitter held anywhere from beneath the chin to above the nose.

But the telephone is not a broadcasting device. It is an instrument designed for personal—and private—conversation. It has been engineered to operate most efficiently when you speak directly into the mouthpiece—with your lips about an inch away.

You need speak only in normal tones to be heard clearly — if you hold the telephone directly in front of your mouth and speak into the transmitter.

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — You're doing nicely there, you manufacturers and you who deal directly with the consumer in goods and services.

Every day, in general, products and services get better and better, packaging is improved.

But lest the makers of products and those who serve the consumer directly sit back smugly, this column has saved up a new list of "why don't they?" suggestions where even more improvements can be made. Some are from personal experience and friends, some from readers, some from the National Family Opinion Inc., a consumer research firm of Toledo, Ohio.

For instance. Why not specify the amount of calories per portion on everything from soup to nuts, not just on dietetic foods? This method would eliminate all the guesswork for weight-watchers.

Why don't they specify the number of cups as well as the number of ounces on all canned goods? Come to think of it, how much extra would it cost the packager to put cup markings on cans for easy measuring right from the container instead of soiling measuring cups.

Why not package all lard in sticks, like margarine or butter with measurement markings for tablespoons or cup portions on the wrapper?

In packaging, why not attach the key to all cans which need to be key-opened? Ever see a market equipped with a plentiful supply, and who ever is able to find the separate key come can-opening time? Also, make the tab on the metal section to be attached to the key long enough for a good firm attachment.

Why don't they make sure a product is in the market general enough before those coupons for deductions show in newspapers or under the front door? I've held onto coupons for a couple of detergent brands for two months now — Supermarkets in the neighborhood still don't have them.

Why don't they make canning jars with wide mouths so that whole peaches, whole tomatoes, and the like can be slipped in easily?

Why don't they market deodorant soaps packed especially for the shower complete with attached cord?

In the markets, where vegetables and fruits are pre-packaged, why don't they play it completely honest with the customer and not hide a flaw or rotten spot by turning it toward the paper part of the container which, unlike the plastic covering can't be seen, or felt, through?

Why don't they make all paring knives stainless? Some are, and some rust even on peeling an apple. Price, I've noticed, is not a factor either.

Why not revive for those who prefer them the paper milk containers with the lift-up tab openings for pouring. To some die-hards, those make-them-yourself pouring spouts on the "modern" cartons are a nuisance.

Why don't they make sure the sizes on all sheets are easily seen? Some manufacturers do, but many a housewife complains she's tired of unfolding sheets back from the laundry all the way open to determine whether they're twin or full size, contour or half-contour.

Once and for all, why don't they make lining and pockets of the same material as the rest of washable fabrics? Cotton shorts with pockets and waistband made of synthetics mean that inevitably the synthetics melt under the higher heat required for ironing the cottons. How many homemakers will remember to watch for this and alter the iron's temperature?

Why don't they make all polishes for shoes or purses impervious to rain? The stains on one poplin raincoat show what I mean.

Why doesn't the dry-cleaning industry campaign to have all cleaners return garments without hems ripped out, snaps crushed, buttons misplaced, or sometimes melted?

Why don't supermarkets enforce the "five items or less" express lane rule? So they'd lose on customer, they'd gain five because of the certain convenience.

Main Street Comments

One of the oldest hotels on the main street is the Royal. For many years the proprietor was Thomas McConnel, an English born gentleman who had a flare for business and at the same time believed in the old saying "work without play makes Jack a dull boy". Consequently he was an ardent lover of sports of all kinds, especially boating and curling and thereby hangs an interesting tale.

Over sixty years ago when the Scugog River and Sturgeon Lake were literally alive with water craft of all shapes, styles and sizes, Thomas McConnell had the first gasoline propelled boat on this boat in "The Laura Mac" was converted to steam, and still later, returned to gas. The boat often carried as many as 20 people in its thirty foot length.

Interested in the out of doors, Thomas McConnell purchased an island in Sturgeon Lake, which in pioneer days was owned by a hermit named Jackson. It is located directly out in Sturgeon Lake from Ancona Point.

With an eye for beauty and being a lover of flowers, Thomas McConnell had one of the largest and most beautiful displays of flowers to be found anywhere east of Toronto. It was reported to have been magnificent in profusion, variety and beauty.

McConnell erected a large cottage with seven bedrooms, living room, kitchen, and game room. Many week-end parties were held at the island and a feature of the week-end holiday was the boat trip along the winding Scugog River, and across Sturgeon Lake.

Another distinct asset was the natural beauty of the island with a fringe of trees around the shore, and wide expanse of green sward, and myriads of flower beds in the centre. Birds of un-numbered species, colourful plumage, and sweet song, filled the island with natural music.

Fish, particularly maskinonge, surrounded the island in abundance. Meat and fish dinners were a specialty.

Later the ownership of the island passed into the hands of the late Joe McConnell, who followed in his father's footsteps as proprietor of the Royal Hotel, and in more recent years, the island passed into the hands of Prof. Cormick, a teacher at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute and for many years in Toronto.

One or two of the old gas light standards can still be seen on the island. When these gas lights were in use, McConnell's island presented a fairy-like park at night, and could be seen for miles around.

Many a racy story has been heard regarding the "Laura Mac". This was particularly so when the craft was always a challenge to the steam yacht as the "Retta", which was owned by Joseph Brown, grandfather of Hilton H. Brown. Many a time the "Laura Mac" skipper endeavored to overtake the "Retta" as the boats loaded with passengers, piled their way across the lake, entered the "cut" and then dodged the buoys along the Scugog River.

One of the few times the McConnell boat scored a big triumph was when it was turned into a gasoline propelled boat and was able to skim along the water and beat the Retta to Lindsay.

It is interesting to note that the Royal Hotel was the first place of habitation in Lindsay to instal a then modern flush toilet. Mr. McConnell saw one work when he was visiting New York, and he had one shipped to Lindsay. At the time small and large, one and two seater privies lined the back yards and lanes behind places of business on Kent street. Dr. McAlpine, who was medical health officer at the time, ordered McConnell to take the new fangled toilet out of the hotel, but later on was convinced that it was not unsanitary as at first claimed.

Thomas McConnell was a fine curler in the days when the Lindsay Club won the large red and gold Ontario Tankard banners. His son Norman McConnell is one of Lindsay's well known citizens, residing at 26 Mill street.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

LADY IN THE DARK. The frug, the nolly-gully, the chicken and the fish have brought about a new way of dressing after dark. It all started in those record-spinning night clubs of Paris, the discotheques.

Whether you go in for the frug or prefer to tread a more stately measure, you will find discotheque fashions in the swing of most any evening out. The look is a glamorous combination of black and glitter.

As you might guess, it begins with the shoe — a bare shell of a black shoe ablaze with brilliants or a jewelled buckle. The stockings are black and lacy. The dress is low at the neck, short and flared at the hem, black as night.

The rest is pure glimmer, the better to light your face across a dim and crowded room. There's the glimmer of metallic or velvet half-caps with a flirtatious jewel or feather that lies smack on the cheek. And there's the sparkle of beaded baby bonnets with a deceptively innocent chin tie.

The lighting effect is further heightened by luminescent make-up. This involves a gauzy veil of pale foundation, powder and rouge. Then the fireworks of smokey eye-shadow fleeched with silver or gold, of a thick fringe of lashes, and of a glimmered lipstick.

Never fear, the glow is subtle — just enough to illumine a lady in the dark.

Reverend M. C. Fisher conducted the funeral service from the Platten Funeral Home, on January 22, 1965. Pallbearers were three nephews, George Palmer, Jack Palmer, and Thomas Shane; Messrs. Ronald Sharman, Walter Gamble and John Coburn.

Many beautiful floral tributes, Gideon Memorial Bibles, Donations to the Heart Fund and to the United Church (of which she was a member) expressed the esteem with which Mrs. Manning was held.

Our Apologies...

For the inconvenience caused by our recent store re-modelling.

We are happy to say that the job is now complete and we are able to resume a more efficient service.

WHAT HAPPENED

The response to last weeks advertising of the all new FRIGIDAIRE automatic washer was overwhelming.

We are proud to offer to the public the only automatic washing machine with NO belts, NO pulleys, NO gears, NO oil. This patented mechanism was developed over a period of seven years by GENERAL MOTORS.

WHAT A WARRANTY! The entire washing mechanism is guaranteed for 5 years! The biggest surprise of all is the low price of this truly remarkable product.

So say a fond farewell to your old-style washer. Thank it for it's help. Forgive it for it's shortcomings. Then invest in a FRIGIDAIRE automate washer.

NEWS FROM F.F.D.H.S.

by "The Post" Fenelon Falls Collegiate reporter Ron Beall

The Public Speaking finals for the school were held in the auditorium on Thursday, February 4. First in the senior division was Judy Diamond, and Lois Philpis was runner up. First in the Junior contest was Carleen Watson with Laura Mae Cunniffe as runner up.

A terrific pep-rally was held in the gym at noon on Friday, February 5, with at least half the school in attendance. After the rally, a basketball game was played between the Girl's Senior team and the Fenelon "Sissies" who were the Boys' Senior team handicapped by long dresses and bonnets.

In last week's column there was a misprint which read that the Variety Night is to be presented on February 26 and 27. The dates should have read February 24 and 25.

BOY'S SPORTS
by Ron McInnis

On Friday, February 5th the Senior Boys Basketball team defeated the Lakefield Seniors 56-31. This game, by far, the most exciting of the year was very close until late in the third quarter when the Fenelon boys rallied with ten quick, unanswered baskets to win by over a twenty point margin. High scorers for Fenelon were; Allan Junkin, with 23 points, Doug Lawrence with 18 points, and Ron McInnis with 15 points. The Fenelon Junior team was not as fortunate, as they lost their game to Lakefield Juniors by a score of 38-31. The Bantams won their game.

New warm-up jackets for the boy's basketball teams have arrived and the Seniors will be wearing them this Friday evening in Bancroft. The students of F.F.D.H.S. wish the boys the best of luck in all future games.

GIRL'S SPORTS
by Kay Weaver

Our Junior and Senior teams were defeated by the L.C.V.I. girls in two very close games, which were played in Lindsay on February 4. The teams were fairly evenly matched but our girls were unable to net the needed points.

The Kawartha District Tournament for the Junior team will be held on Feb. 20 in Lakefield. In this tournament the girls will face competition with four other teams, Bancroft, Lakefield, Haliburton, and the Lindsay Girl's Training School.

STUDENT COUNCIL
by Ron Beall

Garnet Powell and his orchestra are the choice of the Student Council to provide the music at the Spring Prom on April 2. A poster contest is to be held for promotion of the Prom with two free passes to the dance as first prize. Advance ticket sales will be held with reduced prices, and a further reduction with a student card.

Howling mob terrorizes shoppers in busy New York Shopping Plaza

Victoria and Parkview Home and School Association held a joint meeting at the Parkview School Wednesday night to hear the two speakers pictured above, K. H. Liew of Malaysia (left) and Wills Jervier of Dominica, British West Indies. Mr. Jervier gave a general picture of life, education and culture in the British West Indies and went into detail as to why the federation tried in the West Indies in 1958 couldn't work because of great differences between the islands. Mr. Liew, who followed, gave a similar talk but used colour slides as a visual aid for his audience. At the end of his discussion Mr. Liew answered many questions on the political scene in Malaysia. The Home and School Associations waived the business portion of their meeting in favour of the speakers. —"Post" staff photo.

New York (UPI) — About 300 negro teen-agers protesting school segregation turned into a howling mob that swarmed through a crowded shopping center today, smashing store windows and terrorizing shoppers.

The screaming youngsters knocked police officers to the ground, hurled bricks and bottles through windows and jostled shoppers.

Then they headed for nearby St. John's University campus where negro demonstrators clashed with about 100 white students yesterday.

Police on horseback rushed ahead and turned back the mob.

The demonstrators then broke into packs of a dozen or less and headed toward the downtown section of Brooklyn.

About 50 patrolmen and six mounted police were on hand at the Brooklyn offices to maintain order and keep the crowd on the sidewalks.

The teen-agers, shouting such slogans as "Jim Crow Must Go" surged through the lines and scattered in the park.

A similar demonstration yesterday erupted into a free-for-all between the demonstrators and about 100 white college students from St. John's University, which is located nearby.

The crowd then broke into small groups which ran through the streets smashing windows in nearby business establishments. Sixty young negroes also attacked six white catholic seminary students on a subway train during the disturbance.

More than 100 policemen were called in to quell the disturbance yesterday.

New inventory system planned for County Home

A request that a new inventory system of all furnishings and equipment at the Home for the Aged be set up was dealt with at the Board of Management committee meeting in the County building Thursday.

The new system has been requested in order that the Home may qualify for grants. It entails reviewing all serial numbers assigned to the present equipment and furnishings excluding dishes and cutlery and similar utensils. Records of disposal and replacement are also required and records set up so that the government inspector may make an effective spot check at any time.

The Department suggested the new system might be instituted by a member of the staff under the supervision of the superintendent. Listing equipment and furnishings under the number of the room in which it is located was suggested as a starting point for setting up the system. Board of Management chairman Byron Rogers was delegated to contact a person considered suitable to carry out the project.

County committee review fire alarm at County Home

The Board of Management Committee for the Home for the Aged decided at their committee meeting Thursday to proceed with the installation of a renewed fire alarm system at the Home.

Correspondence from the Standard Electric Time Equipment Company was read by County Clerk Frank Weldon indicating the company would now recommend the installation of a sprinkler system but would assume no warranty responsibility except for the electrical wiring and connections.

The recommended installation will include a new fire alarm panel for the home at the fire hall and an auxiliary panel at the Home.

Members were reminded that county council recommended the installation of a sprinkler system in the remainder of the existing building be included with the installation when the new wing was added, but it was pointed out that alarm circuits with the fire hall would still be needed, and the fire hall portion would not need any alteration if the Standard Electric system is presently installed.

The estimated cost of the revised system was said to be in the $525 area.

THE "HEART STRINGS"

Bournemouth, England. (UPI) — June Moore, who plays first violin in the Bournemouth symphony orchestra, became engaged yesterday to another musician in the orchestra. Alun Francis, 21, after their wedding there will be seven married couples in the orchestra. This led concert manager David Blenkinsop to say: "we are thinking of renaming the orchestra the Heart Strings."

Back-log of work on county roads estimated at $5 million by engineer

The Victoria County Roads Study Committee yesterday approved the needs study as presented thus far, with the recommended additions.

Yesterday's consideration of the plan was financial in nature as consulting engineer Ted Sims, needs study coordinating engineer Ian Greene from the department of highways, and the district municipal engineer Bud Callaghan of Port Hope spelled out the estimated costs.

Consulting engineer Sims indicated a back-log of work in the county road system amounting to 5 million dollars, with a projected expenditure over the next ten years in the area of $7,300,000.

The district municipal engineer, Bud Callaghan, stressed that the cleaning up of the needs study is most imperative in order to allow the county road system to progress. He noted that three counties in Ontario have already passed their bylaws to implement a needs study.

Passing of approval of the plan thus far studied will permit more of the detailed estimates and details of design to be prepared while the next problem of the committee will be the timing of the assumption or deletion of certain sections of the county road system and the establishing of a mill rate.

It was generally agreed that any county roads designated to be returned to the townships will be put in good repair before the transfer takes place. Attending engineers indicated that the needs study will not likely be completed in time for any designations in 1965.

Confusing evidence - magistrate dismisses improper passing charge

After hearing what Magistrate Ian Munro called "very confusing evidence." a charge of improper passing against Murray McNevin of Scarboro was dismissed in Lindsay Police Court Thursday.

The accused told the court he was following a vehicle driven by a friend, Keith Wilson, on Highway 8 in Oakwood after midnight on December 27. He said he saw Wilson's brake-light go on and thought he was going to pull off onto the shoulder of the road. Mr. McNevin said he pulled into the left lane and was passing the Wilson car when it made a left turn and hit his vehicle. He said his vehicle veered to the left and crashed through a telephone booth demolishing it. McNevin claimed he did not see Wilson's signal lights.

Mr. Wilson said he had put on his signal lights about 120 feet before he reached the intersection. He named a witness, who was not in the courtroom, who he said told Wilson he had seen the signal.

Lindsay OPP Constable George Scott mentioned a 112-foot skid mark leading to the debris at the point of impact but none of the witnesses were able to tie the skid mark into the evidence.

Workers at MF resume work, walk-out ended

Toronto (UPI) — Some 6,000 employees at three Massey Ferguson plants in Ontario resumed work today, ending a 13-day walkout in which the United Automobile Workers of America claimed a major victory.

Some employees at plants in Toronto, Woodstock and Brantford, Ont., were back at work this morning with the remainder scheduled to start evening and midnight shifts. They begin work under a full pattern of wage and fringe benefits earlier granted workers in the Automobile industry.

Port Perry plans for sewage works

A report of an Ontario Water Resource Commission water pollution survey of the village of Port Perry, in the county of Ontario, recommends an immediate start on plans for a sewage works project to abate pollution entering Lake Scugog from the village.

The report based on a survey carried out during the summer of 1964, shows no improvement in conditions which had been investigated previously in 1958 and 1962. However, it was noted. local municipal officials had engaged the services of a consulting engineering firm for preparation of a preliminary report on sewage works for the village.

No insurance fined $50

Patrick Joseph Brown of Omemee was fined $50 and costs in Lindsay Police Court Thursday or 10 days for failing to produce proof of insurance after he was involved in a motor vehicle accident on January 22.

Evidence showed Mr. Brown was involved in a minor accident at 6:40 p.m on January 22 on County Road 11. Police said the accused admitted not having insurance

Magistrate Ian Munro, in passing sentence, called driving without insurance a "very foolish act."

What's a Billion

The federal budget of the United States, like that of Canada, is roughly equal to one-sixth of total annual value of goods and services produced (otherwise known as Gross National Product).

There is, of course, some small difference in the respective amounts. This, at nearly $100 billion (versus seven-and-a-half billion for Canada.) this year's U. S. budget will be approximately twice the size of the entire Canadian GNP! Even so, it is less than the increase in the U. S. GNP over the past four years $120 billion.)

Such is the staggering rate at which the U. S. is adding to its national wealth. Yet Canada, too, has lately been growing richer at a fast clip. The GNP of both countries, in fact, has shown a real gain of better than 20 percent since 1960, even after every allowance is made for price increases

With so much green stuff flying around it's not surprising that the average man should get a bit confused—"a million dollars, a billion dollars, what's the difference?" Well, the difference is pretty considerable. A former U. S. legislator, a man accustomed to astronomical figures, used to explain it this way:

"A man gave his wife a million dollars and told her to gout and spend $1,000 a day. She did—and came back in thre years to tell him the money was all gone and she wanted more. So he gave her a billion dollars with the same instructions—and she didn't come back for 3,000 years."

Which may strike the reader not only as a sure-fire (if expensive) way of getting rid of one's wife, but a most graphic illustration of how to distinguish between two similar-sounding — but very dissimilar — sums. — "Industry"

Speaker talks about future

A. T. Ross, Vice-President of the Bell Telephone Company was guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon held on Monday at the Hotel Benson. Mr. Ross is also a member of the Toronto Rotary Club and is being proposed as the next District Governor of Rotary.

This week Rotary is celebrating the 35th year of its existence and the speaker confined his remarks to words of advice to the members of the local club.

"It is essential that at this time we take stock of ourselves," he said.

"This is one war that we can't afford to lose," the speaker continued, "and we should prepare now for what we are going to do when the war is over. We can't afford to go through the orgy of inflation and then depression again. Let's see if we can't get prepared to face the problems which will arise at that time."

Mr. Ross also urged the members to take more interest in the monthly Rotary magazine. Speaking of the immigration of European refugees to Canada he expressed the opinion that Rotarians should take more interest in them and endeavour to make them truly Canadian citizens.

May pay full grants

While no official announcement has been made, it is understood that the Ontario Government may yet reconsider its announcement of cutting in half the Government grant to the Fall fairs associations of the province.

The deputation that waited upon Hon. James Duff some time ago received not a great deal of encouragement owing to the scarcity of funds in the Provincial Treasury but it is stated that since then the Government has been endeavouring to find a way of meeting the request of the farmers for the full grant or most of it. In this they will be supported by the rural members, a large number of whom will put up a strong fight for the payment of the full grant.

Quote of the Month

"Germany knew him as a great foe, but also as a great champion of reconciliation. He conducted the war with rigour, but he never let his gaze be distracted from the imperatives of peace." . . . West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, tribute to Sir Winston Churchill, January 25th, 1965.

A new luxury class Porsche has been introduced in Canada by Volkswagen Canada Ltd. Known as the "911", the completely redesigned six cylinder Porsche is the successor to the four cylinder Carrera 2000 GS. A company spokesman said the "911" is the first entirely new Porsche pleasure model in 16 years. It is expected to retail for about $7,900. The new, more powerful 130 hp. engine is the traditional air-cooled rear mounted powerplant, but with many important design changes.

Spaniards demand more

Madrid (UPI)—The winds of social unrest are blowing again in Spain, fanned by rising prices.

Inflation has left workers discontented with wage levels and caused employers to complain of impending bankruptcy.

The situation has arisen at a time when Spain is basically in a strong financial position. After 25 years of peace the treasury is overflowing with gold and dollar reserves and the economy appears to be on a sound footing.

Streets are noticeably jammed with cars and consumer goods are selling fast.

Yet long time observers of the Madrid scene say that people are more "nervous" than ever. The main source of discontent, the experts say, is that wages are falling behind prices.

The situation poses a difficult dilema for the government of 72-year-old Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spain's ruler.

The coming months are expected to show whether the economic unrest will spill over into the political field.

Franco already had warned in his New Year's message to the nation about the inflationary threat.

The question now is what is he going to do? How is he going to compromise between the forces of labor and management, plus the student, church and military bodies, and keep them all happy?

If the government bows to pressure to increase salaries it could endanger the success of its four year development plan, now in its second year.

On the other hand if it does not agree to pay hikes, labor unrest might spread.

Already agitators have begun to exploit small stoppages and the first shouts of "free unions" and "the right to strike" have been heard in the streets.

Spain's government-controlled trade unions went on record this month in favor of salaries which would be not less than the "minimum necessary" for a worker to take care of the needs "of a worthy and human existence." The union's declaration called for higher minimum wages and the establishment of pay rates by collective agreement between management and labor.

Late last month a strike at a big truck manufacturing plant near Madrid ended with a demonstration in the capital itself. It was one of the largest outbursts of its kind in the past 25 years.

The demonstrators who came to Madrid were demanding a minimum daily wage of 715 Pesetas ($2.91)). The present minimum is 60 Pesetas ($1) for the lowest unskilled laborers.

Few people are on this lowest rate, and the majority of the population lives on a salary of around $100 per month.

Spanish living standards have moved much closer to those of Western Europe since 1936 but they are still behind.

Spaniards complain that prices have skyrocketed in the past few months despite government assurances that they would be kept under constant surveillance.

According to one set of statistics the cost of living increased nine per cent in 1964 over 1963. The unions say it increased 11 per cent.

Housewives are vocal about food prices. They complain that meat has jumped by 33 to 50 cents per kilo (two pounds) to as much as $2.41 in recent months.

Milk has gone up from 10 cents to 16 cents per liter (about one quart). Eggs are up from 50 cents to 65 U.S. cents a dozen. Other staple foods have also risen sharply.

The lowest paid workers are clearly hard pressed to make ends meet. Agriculture is one particularly depressed sector of the economy with seasonal unemployment accentuating the problem.

For the answer to these problems the Spaniards continue to look to Franco, the head of state.

Theary and Practice

"I've wasted several thousand printed words on how to handle children by gentle persuasion, and wasted several thousand totally unprintable ones when my god-daughter proved it needed brute force. I've written pages of advice for other women on how to be correctly dressed for every situation, then last week found myself in a sweater and skirt without even a hat on the day of a top charity luncheon at the Dorchester." —Sally Cline, Woman's editor of the London Daily Sketch.

Home Is A Desk

"Home to me means, quite simply, a desk. A great big roomy desk with lots of drawer space and a leather covered top. I remember a desk just like that when I was a child of twelve, in the throes of writing my first novel to be published. It was in my grandfather's study at my home in India, and many were the hours I spent at that desk scribbling happily away." — Princess Indira of Kapurthala.

HOW CAN I ???

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove paint stains from clothing?

A. Turpentine, mineral spirits, kerosene, and ordinary cleaning fluid are all good solvents for these stains. None of these, however, is reliable if you have allowed the stains to become stale. For stale paint stains, try combining equal parts of turpentine or mineral spirits and fingernail polish remover and use this as you would cleaning fluid.

Q. How can I clean and beautify copper articles?

A. Rub the copper with salt and lemon juice, or with salt and vinegar, and you'll have it clean and sparkling richly in a jiffy.

Q. How can I avoid any unpleasant odors in my kitchen drain?

A. If you'll drop a handful of baking soda into the sink overnight, it will purify and clean that unfragrant drain.

During the business period at which the president, Mrs Carl Wray presided, plans were discussed for catering to several banquets and a wedding. Miss Sharp mentioned that the C.G.I.T. would be observing their 50th anniversary in May and it was decided that possibly the Mother and Daughter Banquet and the 50th anniversary could be observed jointly but no definite discussion was reached. Miss Sharp read a letter from Mrs. Beatty, Presbyterial Finance Chairman which presented the 1965 allocation. This was accepted.

Mrs. Wray thanked Unit Two for the splendid programme.

Bridges may revert to townships

County roads needs study committee members were told yesterday by Department of Highways engineers that township bridges taken over by the county for financial reasons may soon be turned back to the townships who may then secure aid from the provincial department.

District Municipal engineer R. J. Callaghan explained that many of the township bridges were taken over by the county in times past when the townships did not have the necessary finances to maintain them. Many of these county bridges are not on county roads, and eventually they may be turned back to the townships, he continued, and the townships may apply directly to the provincial government for assistance.

William A. Short

A long-time citizen of Seagrave passed away at his home in Port Perry, on Dec. 29th, 1964, in the person of Mr. Wm. Short. He was in his 71st year and had spent almost his entire life in the Short neighbourhood, east of the village, beyond the Nonguion.

"Bill" Short, as he was best known, was born there, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Short, and received his education in the local school.

He was of a quiet retiring nature, never seeking the limelight in public affairs. His chief interest centred around his home and in his farm, where he specialized in raising short horn cattle. When his eldest son took over the farm he retired to Port Perry.

Mr. Short was twice married. His first wife and mother of his four sons was Beulah Prise. She died in 1938 when their youngest son was only a few days old. Later he married Mrs. Margaret Brockie who survives him.

Left to mourn his passing besides his wife, are his sons Charles of Seagrave, Murray of Cresswell; James of Lindsay and Ross of Port Perry; also two step-daughters, Margaret (Mrs. Fawcett) of Toronto, and Ruth (Mrs. M. McMillan) of Port Perry. A sister Mrs. Milton Stone of Seagrave and a brother Lewis of Brooklin also survive.

The funeral service on Jan. 2nd, 1965, was conducted by Rev. E. McNeil. Pallbearers were: Grant Jeffrey, Port Perry, Heywood Short, Clifford Short, Thos. Harding, Wilbert Couch and Art Gordon, all of Seagrave. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Prince Albert.

"The Lord's Prayer" theme of WI meet

Nestleton (PNS) — Mrs. Charles Smith was hostess for the February meeting of Nestleton Ladies Aid. Mrs. Vernon Hudson, President, in the chair and a good representation was in attendance. Mrs. Smith dealt with the Devotional theme "The Lord's Prayer".

Arrangements were made for the Church Annual Meeting, also a farewell evening for Rev. Fred Swann and family who are leaving the charge at the end of the month. Mrs. Kenneth Gilbank kindly donated two quilt tops and batts, Mrs. McLaughlin a lining and quilting to be held as soon as possible.

Mrs. Harry McLaughlin gave a reading and Mrs. Charles Smith played a record of Boy's choir music. Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, an elderly relative of many Cartwright folk, has been training choirs in Nelson B.C., for a series of concerts to be held in the Okanagon Valley this spring. A half hour of these musical selections was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Howard Lee graciously thanked Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. McLaughlin for the lunch and the hostess for the pleasant afternoon.

Roads board discuss need for signals

An amendment was passed at the county roads needs study committee meeting Wednesday to be included in the proposed plan. The amendment was to recommend installation of automatic signals at the railway crossing on the Emily Park road just north of Highway No. 7.

Consulting engineer Ted Sims pointed out that the rules governing the study indicated an automatic signal should be installed at Mariposa station crossing as there were two tracks, a main line and a siding, and visibility was limited. This was discussed in view of the one train a day traffic pattern at this location, and reeve Edward Lowes pointed out the greater hazard at the Emily Park road where the angle of the crossing made visibility difficult, and summer time traffic especially on weekend was felt to warrant special consideration.

Means of Communication?

Who would think than an article of clothing could be called a means of communication? Yet, in the Red Cross, that's exactly what it is.

Someone has defined communication as the impelling of a particle or impulse of information from a source point, across a distance to a receiving point.

Through the Women's Work Committee of the Canadian Red Cross, over 30-thousand handmade articles of clothing and bedding are sent to people in need around the world every year. In each of these articles is a message from a devoted woman who gives freely of her time and talent to help someone in need. The message might be something like this, "I'm sorry you've had such misfortune and please accept this small token with the hope that it may help to relieve your suffering. I do care about you in your distress."

Who knows exactly what message goes into every single stitch of this handmade clothing? The important thing is that a message of good-will is conveyed in the warmth and protection that the clothing affords. It is appreciated by the recipient and gives him the hope necessary to carry on.

The Red Cross Women's Work Committee is not only a source of assistance for needy people throughout the world, but provides, for every Canadian woman, a means of communicating with people in other countries in a very constructive way. This kind of communication can help to further international understanding in our world, which, in turn, will help to further the cause of world peace.

March is Red Cross Month in Canada.

The Heart Fund- a unique appeal

It is important for everyone to realize that the Heart Fund, conducted here and throughout Canada during February is something more than 'just another heart drive'.

The Heart Fund is uniquely important. It is a combined appeal supporting the nation-wide fight against a great complex of diseases and disorders — heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects to mention only a few.

Diseases of the heart and circulation, which your Heart Fund dollars help to fight, are responsible for more than 72,000 deaths in Canada each year. That is more than the combined total, resulting from all other causes of death. In fact these cardiovascular diseases account for over 50 per cent of all deaths. The heart problem is no distant abstraction. Although national and international in scope it exists as a painful and costly reality right here.

If you have any doubts, examine the obituaries which appear in our daily newspapers. You will find that our local mortality experience closely parallels national figures; that on the average, about half our death notices will mention 'heart attack', 'stroke' or 'heart disease'. All too often these terms are applied to family breadwinners in the prime of life — men in the 45 to 65 year age bracket.

There is only one practical way to fight heart disease, namely by supporting your Heart Foundation's balanced programmes of research, education and information. You can do this by contributing Heart Fund dollars. Truly, the Heart Fund deserves a place at the very top of your 'giving' for health list. Send your contribution to the Canadian Heart Fund, 247 Davenport Road, Toronto 5.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

DIABETES OR NOT? TALK TO DOCTOR

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: On my last visit to my doctor I had a urine test as usual. And the nurse told me to watch my sweets. She said that I had sugar in the urine. After I came home I got to thinking about it and I've been worried since. My next appointment is not until next month. What shall I do? Mrs. H.

Comment: I often come away with the conviction, after reading similar letters, that some patients are afraid of their physicians. For some reason, which I can't understand, they are willing to pay their fee, and cooperate in many ways, yet when it comes to having a heart-to-heart talk with their own doctor, they fail.

For example, Mrs. H., you tell me that the "nurse told me." Now, no one appreciates more how much help nurses give us physicians; but doesn't it stand to reason that you should be getting your diagnosis "pronouncements" from your doctor and not his nurse? Did she call the doctor's attention to the positive test for sugar? Did the doctor call you back to discuss it?

I think waiting a month until your next appointment is unnecessarily long. Why not do this? Call his office and ask to speak to him personally. If he has been informed of the urine findings, ask him if you have diabetes. Probably he will not make the diagnosis on that alone. He will want repeat examinations of the urine, also special blood sugar determinations.

Meanwhile, it is silly to suffer. Wondering and worrying are what too many patients do unnecessarily because they haven't gone right to the proper source: their physician.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: We have recently moved to this large city. Our first experience with a physician was not too good. We called him on the recommendation of a friend. The doctor sent my father to a small hospital (which I later found out was not accredited by the American Medical Association) and, I learned later, was mistreated.

As I am interested in having a good family physician for future care, how does one go about getting a good one? Mrs. D.

Comment: When asking for recommendations, I usually tell people to check on the suggestions of their well-meaning neighbours. Sometimes all that friends base their claims on are that their doctor has a nice personality. It takes more than that to be a good doctor.

To get a physician who is well thought of by his medical brethren (who are the best judges in such matters) call the secretary of your local medical society for a list of general practitioners. Also check with the local hospitals to see if the physician you are considering has hospital privileges.

If a physician is a member of the American Medical Association, a member of the local and state medical societies, is considered good enough to practice in well-known local hospitals, chances are that you are getting a capable physician. Of course, nothing in life bears the stamp of certainty. Some doctors who, for reasons of their own, are not members of medical societies, will disagree that such membership is necessary as a proper designation of ability. In some cases that may be true.

However, let's say that as a general rule, physicians who have been accepted by other physicians are good ones.

Pictured above is the 1965 Canadian five-cent piece which bears a new effigy of Queen Elizabeth II. The Canadian "nickel" is minted of pure nickel, as has been the case (with the exception of emergency periods) since 1922. Since that time, the Royal Canadian Mint has struck 458,450,000 nickel "nickels." Their quality appearance, substantial feel, authoritative ring and prestige are among the reasons why 47 countries have issued pure nickel coins in 162 denominations since 1881. Another flag controversy may be brewing

(UPI) — There may be a second flag controversy in the making.

This one, however, won't be stagged in the House of Commons, which, on Monday, put the finish on its debate by officially making the red maple leaf flag Canada's standard.

The controversy may come within the ranks of the armed services. The issue appears to be: Should the military have a distinctive flag of its own or fly the new leaf flag all the civilians are using.

Both the Royal Canadian navy and air force had their own flags abolished when the new maple leaf was adopted although the army has never had a flag. For the time being, all three services — which will be unified in three to four years — will fly the maple leaf.

However, six officers in the already unified headquarters have been assigned the job of determining whether there is a requirement for a new flag for the service. Since then letters have been pouring in with opinions and designs.

The next meeting will be on Monday evening March 1 and each member is to contribute something toward the programme for the evening.

Some of the completed quilt blocks were handed in and others given out to be done.

Mrs. Moss Handley offered to make the tickets for sale on this quilt.

An excellent paper on Public Relations and report of money spent was given by the convenor Mrs. Robt. Handley.

The articles brought for roll call were sold by auction and brought in $2.60.

Happy birthday was sung in honour of members who were celebrating birthdays at this time, Mrs. Robt. Handley and Mrs. I. Reeds.

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS
Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology
An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic programmer to provide the most accurate selectivity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.
The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergist which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete soil removing action, resulting in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like" freshness to garments.
The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning action and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heaviest woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.
The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

WHAT HAPPENED

The response to last weeks advertising of the all new FRIGIDAIRE automatic washer was overwhelming.

We are proud to offer to the public the only automatic washing machine with NO belts, NO pulleys, NO gears, NO oil. This patented mechanism was developed over a period of seven years by GENERAL MOTORS.

WHAT A WARRANTY! The entire washing mechanism is guaranteed for 5 years! The biggest surprise of all is the low price of this truly remarkable product.

So say a fond farewell to your old-style washer. Thank it for it's help. Forgive it for it's shortcomings. Then invest in a FRIGIDAIRE automato washer.

World news today

Viet Nam — North Viet Nam has accused the U-S and South Viet Nam of shelling a North Vietnamese coastal installation.

In a radio Hanoi broadcast monitored in Tokyo, the Communists charged that four U-S and South Vietnamese warships opened fire on a North Vietnamese commune just north of the line of demarcation which divides North and South Viet Nam.

The Communist broadcast said the attack took place Wednesday morning.

United Nations — Observers at the United Nations say Communist Albania appears determined to bring about a showdown in the U-N financial crisis.

The General Assembly meets again this afternoon amidst reports of further maneuvers or moves for an indefinite recess. Albania tried to force a vote Tuesday on whether Russia and other dues-delinquent U-N members should lose their assembly votes.

The Assembly president blocked the vote move by adjourning.

External Affairs Minister Paul Martin wants the U-N to adjourn so that behind-the-scenes negotiations to end its financial crisis can continue.

Martin told a meeting in Montreal yesterday that any confrontation on the thorny issue should be avoided. Martin said the U-N was facing its "gravest crisis" . . . a crisis that might lead eventually to the break-up of the world body.

He warned that Russia and other countries who have not paid their assessments to the UN might quit the world body in the event of any confrontation.

Ottawa — John Diefenbaker again defended his leadership of the Conservative party last night.

Speaking on nationwide television, Diefenbaker said he would continue to be a servant of the people despite pressures from elements in the party that he resign.

Said Diefenbaker: "I don't intend to be pushed around by a clique or a clique". He pledged to remain as head of the party, in his words . . . "As long as God gives me strength".

Much of the pressure for Diefenbaker's resignation has come from Quebec Conservatives, who dispute his views on the province.

Diefenbaker re-interated last night that he could not accept the theory that Canada consists of two nations.

Cape Kennedy — The U-S Spacecraft Ranger 8 today executed an apparently successful maneuver to put it on a collision course with the moon.

A "go" signal for the vital maneuver was flashed from the Goldstone, California, tracking station early today to activate commands previously stored in Ranger's computer.

The spacecraft will photograph the moon's sea of tranquility—an arid area considered a likely spot for a landing by U-S astronauts.

Ottawa — Good news for old-age pensioners.

Prime Minister Lester Pearson announced yesterday that by 1970, all Canadians 65-years and over all will be eligible for the 75-dollars-a-month pension without a means test. Canadians now have to reach the age of 70 before they become eligible for the pension. The eligibility age will be lowered each year until it reaches 65 in 1970.

London — Beatles John Lennon and Paul McCartney became millionaries today 60 seconds after stock in their music firm went on sale.

That was all the time it took for brokers to announce that the public had bought 5-point-4 million dollars worth of stock in the company—called Northern Song Limited.

A spokesman said Beatle fans, ordinary investors and market gamblers had "substantially oversubscribed" the stock issue.

The books for applications in the Liverpool MP tops' stock company opened at 5 a.m. and closed one minute later, all sold out.

WELL-BEHAVED

London (UPI) — Judge Oswell MacLeay yesterday refused to allow a 4-year-old by the name of Linda to testify at the trial of Henry Corke, who was hauled into court by his neighbour after an argument. Linda is a chimpanzee and Corke said the neighbour claimed she was offensive and he wanted to prove to the court she was "quiet and well-behaved".

Women's View

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — One woman holding a job in the higher reaches of finance believes everyone should own at least one share of a stock.

"By following the progress of just one stock you get an idea of how the economy is going", said Stella DeLuca, an official in a Mutual Fund, that has a $35 million portfolio.

What happens to the national economy affects every individual, said Mrs. DeLuca. The effects are as basic as finding that the cost of food has gone up and that some trimming will have to be done on the weekly spending to feed the family, said the businesswoman-housewife whose husband Jerry, is in the automotive field.

Learning about our economic structure can start as early as grade school and junior high, Mrs. DeLuca feels. She mentioned having given a gift of a General Motors share to a niece now 14. At the time of the gift, the value was $70 a share, she said. Now, it's above $95 on the average.

"My niece wants to sell now" said Mrs. DeLuca. "I tell her to hold". What's happened, however, is that her niece has become a reader of financial pages, she said.

Mrs. DeLuca became a part of the Wall Street scene because the business school from which she graduated placed her with a brokerage house, The Ralph E. Samuel Co. The company, stock brokers, acts as investment advisor and distributor for the energy fund, a mutual fund, specializing in investments in the nuclear field, utilities, oils, combustion and the like.

Today, she is an officer of the fund, the assistant secretary sitting in on all meetings of the board and executive committees.

To anyone planning to invest in stocks, Mrs. DeLuca recommended a constant reading programme of financial pages of newspapers, of market letters and trade journals. She advised against "panic selling, when the stock market takes a dip. She also advised against trying to make a killing—"You'd have to find the right stock, it would have to take an awfully big jump, and you'd have to have big money invested in it", she said.

The president of Mrs. DeLuca's company, Donald C. Samuel, a partner in the Ralph E. Samuel Co., listed these items of advice further for the small investor.

Do not listen to rumours or tips. Do not look for quick profits, for the "successful investors are long-term investors."

If you can't afford to devote full time to investments, put them in the hands of experts. "Just as you wouldn't be your own doctor or lawyer", said Samuel.

Do keep a financial programme balanced between cash for emergencies, insurance and securities. Do make the habit of investing regularly to take advantage of dollar-cost averaging—that is, the average gained over a long haul because of a dip here, but an increase there.

Do avail yourself of "expertise and diversification" available through mutual funds. Samuel and others who urge use of the mutuals claim they represent the professional people putting your money to work for you and give a broader range of investments.

Do utilize the "No load" mutuals, which Samuel explained means that every penny invested goes to purchase shares, not part to commissions. And do select two or three mutual funds with differing investment objectives for further balance, diversification and investment strength.

Monthly W.I. meeting held at Mrs. A. Hanna's

Janetville (PNS) — The Janetville W.I. held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hanna. The President Mrs. Virtle Staples was in the chair. The meeting opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect followed by the Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered by 14 members. The minutes were read and approved. The scripture from Psalm 63 was read by Mrs. R. J. Burn.

Thank-you notes were read from Mrs. George Heastip and Mrs. Hilden Johnston. It was moved by Mrs. Arthur Hanna, seconded by Mrs. Frank Fry, that all bills be paid. It was decided to send $2.00 to the Mental Health Association.

The topic on Citizenship was given by Mrs. Frank Fry. Reading "The newspaper something for everyone" was given by Mrs. Bert McMullen. A contest led by Mrs. Frank Fry was won by Mrs. Rae Malcolm.

The meeting closed in the usual manner. A lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Bert McMullen and Mrs. Frank Fry. A vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. Harold Moxon to the hostesses and Mrs. Arthur Hanna for the use of her home.

AJAX BANTAMS TIE SERIES BY DEFEATING LINDSAY 1-0

Lindsay Rotary Bantams appeared to be making a one-handed effort last night at Bowmanville as the Ajax Bantams skated off with a one to nothing win to tie the best of three series at one game each.

Ajax scored the only goal of the game at 1:55 of the second period, while Lindsay collected nine penalties to four against Ajax.

The sticky Bownsanville ice took its toll on the Lindsay skaters again and they appeared to run out of steam at the visitors blue line. Definite offensive action in the Ajax end robbed the Rotary boys of several good scoring opportunities.

The third and deciding game of the set is slated for Saturday afternoon in the middle of the Pee Wee tournament. Game time for the Sturday game is 4:45 p.m. and local fans hope the Rotary boys assert their speed and fire power to defeat the little Ajax Bantams.

Dunsford and Fowlers lead in Omemee semi-final set

The Omemee and District hockey league staged the first round of their semi finals at the Omemee Arena Wednesday night. In the first games of the two game goal series, Dunsford gained a 5-1 edge over Omemee while Fowlers Corners shut out Reaboro 7-0.

The second round of the semi-final series will be played at the Omemee Arena next Monday evening. The winners of each round will meet in the league final play-off.

'So Dear To My Heart' Score Proves One Of Filmdom's Best

Sprinkled with songs which, in some cases, have made top reputations of their own, the musical score for Walt Disney's wonderful motion picture, "So Dear to My Heart", is probably one of the best to reach the big screen. It will be appearing this week at the Century Theatre in Lindsay.

Five thumes provide a perfect melodic balance. They are "So Dear to My Heart", "Lavender Blue"; "It's Whatcha Do With Whatcha Got", "Stick-to-itivity", and "County Fair".

This quintet of lyrics not only help create the spell of time and place for the comedy-drama, set in the early 1900's, but also have been shown to have a strong appeal for the 18-to30 age group.

In addition to these five are a number of older folk songs chanted by Burl Ives. All sturdily uphold the Disney reputation for steeping his product in existing and delightful music, always especially attuned to the nature of the picture.

Background music behind the dialogue and intermitten narration, and emphasizing the emotional scenes adds up to one of the finest scores ever, and will be so accounted by habitual moviegoers who have set high film music standards for their moviegoing.

Like all his previous features, "So Dear to My Heart" splendidly fulfills what Disney strives to get into his every production — entertainment.

"So Dear to My Heart", in color by Technicolor, stars Burl Ives, Bobby Driscoll, Beulah Bondi and Luana Patten. The screenplay was adapted from a story by Sterling North. Buena Vista releases.

Support Bobcaygeon bridge reeve asks county committee

Bobcaygeon reeve Hilliard Murphy put up a strong plea on behalf of his constituents at the County Roads needs study committee meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Murphy felt it unfair that the county should consider replacement of certain bridges in the northern townships where traffic is much lighter, and refuse to assist Bobcaygeon in the maintenance of the railway bridge they have purchased.

Consulting engineer Ted Sims pointed out that the abandoned railway bridge at Bobcaygeon, while it would likely serve many more people, was not wide enough to conform with the county regulations, and the construction of a new bridge would be required to meet county standards.

Township roads needs greater than they can supply—engineer

Department of Highways district municipal engineer R. J. (Bud) Callaghan stressed the transfer of road maintenance of township roads to County departments yesterday at a meeting of the county roads needs study at the County building.

"Township needs are becoming greater than the township can supply" remarked the engineer, pointing out that especially in winter time ,the county equipment is better geared to take care of the rush situation, which is experienced after every storm with school bus and milk truck routes to be cleared. He said most of the township foremen would be well qualified to act as county foreman and the County could afford the high speed equipment for present day demands.

"More people are using more vehicles more often", explained Mr. Callaghan in stressing the multiple needs placed on township roads.

REPEAL FLUORIDATION BYLAW, DEPUTATION TO ASK COUNCIL

Michael Clifford of Ajax, National Registrar of the Kinsmen Club (centre) presents a banner to Walt Stewart, president of the Lindsay club (right) and Ted Reed, president of the Peterboro club. The banner, given at a joint meting of the two clubs at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall Thursday to celebrate the 45th anniversary of Kin, was a momento of Mr. Clifford's visit.

The Citizens' Rights Association of Church Street, Toronto is concerned about the manner in which the by-law authorising fluoridation of Lindsay water was passed by Lindsay council recently and is planning a protest at a forthcoming council meeting, "The Post" was informed yesterday.

Mrs. Anne Burton, president of the Citizens' Rights Association in a statement to "The Post" said she would head a deputation of members of the association including Lindsay members of this organization, at council on Monday, March 8th to state the case against fluoridation, and ask for repeal of the bylaw. Mrs. Burton said it is a bylaw in this manner without giving the citizens a right to vote on the matter was an infringent of the rights of the individual.

Mrs. Burton said she hoped as many of Lindsay's voters as possible would attend this council meeting on this date to make their views known to their elected representatives.

A bylaw authorising the fluoridation of Lindsay's water supply went through three readings with little comment in the Lindsay council chamber on Monday, February 1st. The matter had earlier been raised in council in 1964 by Councillor Dr. Peter Gill.

A group of Lindsay citizens are preparing petitions opposing fluoridation of the town's water supply and it is understood nearly two hundred signatures have been obtained.

Mayor Joseph Holtom told "The Post" on February 5th that "Council should reconsider their position if 10% or so of the voters sign the petition".

Mrs. Anne Burton, President, Citizen's Rights Association.

One of the Lindsay citizens helping with the petitions realtor Stanley Henry said 'Nobody has refused me yet when I ask them to sign the petition". Mr Henry explains that he is highly allergic to fluorine in any form and asks what will the fluoridation of water do to him? "Council should not have put this matter through in this manner without first consulting with voters", said Mr. Henry.

Abandon County Home Farm Bexley reeve asks committee

A financial loss in the operation of the County Home farm twice in the past twenty or more years caused Bexley reeve Everett Cameron to "push the panic button" at Thursday's Home Management committee meeting.

Clerk treasurer Frank Weldon told committee members that the farm operation showed a financial deficit for the first time in many years in 1961. The 1964 report showed a loss of $837.96 on the overall operation. During discussion of the situation, reeve Everett Cameron moved that the committee recommend to the County Council at its March session that the livestock be sold and the farm offered for rent. Committee Chairman Byron Rodgers was unable to get a seconder for the motion.

Everett Cameron told members if the operation was losing the taxpayer's money it should be discontinued. The loss however was more than made up by the profit margins even since 1958.

Carden reeve Edward J. Murphy insisted that the farm has not been properly worked and the land was getting run out and could no longer produce profitable crops, stressing the need of summer-fallowing to build up the soil and destroy possible weeds.

Members were told that all major operations on the farm are now being contracted out and that considerable new equipment would be needed to operate the project by staff help. Clerk Frank Weldon reminded members that required amounts of fertilizer and all the manure was being returned to the land, suggesting that it was difficult to hire competant help capable of managing the farm under the supervision of the superintendant. He said it was difficult to get any one under 60 years of age who have had previous farming experience.

Mr. Weldon added that only about three County homes now operate their farms. He said, last year produce from the Victoria County farm realized just over $10,000 but costs amounted to $11,000.

Further decision on the farm operation will be sought in the next committee meeting Wednesday.

Gooderham hate literature distributed in North Bay

Hate literature was placed on the windshields of cars throughout the city of North Bay, by two men and a woman on Thursday. The three persons visited parking lots and most business-section streets with the pamphlets which denounced the Jewish race and claimed that Hitler was not slaughter 6,000,000 Jews during the second World War.

Some weeks ago similar pamphlets were placed on cars in Sudbury. Some of the pamphlets were printed in the United States and others bear a rubber-stamped address: "Canadian Publications, Gooderham, Ontario". Gooderham is the address of John Ross Taylor, 51, who acted as Canadian distributor of the Thunderbolt, a racist magazine published by the National Rights Party of Birmingham, Alabama. The magazine has been denied mailing privileges by the Canadian post office on the ground that the publication's contents are scurrilous.

John Ross Taylor and David Stanley, 21, of Scarboro, also have been reported as working on pamphlets attacking Jewish leaders in Canada.

Police in North Bay said they had received two complaints about the distribution of literature but said they were powerless to do anything. However, arrests would be made if the distributors of the literature were found littering city streets, they said.

No typhoid danger in Lindsay MOH tells Lindsay Health Board

Lindsay Board of Health accepted the resignation of Dr. W. V. Ferguson as school dentist and are to consider a successor for the doctor at a future meeting.

Dr. Norma Gill, recently appointed Medical Officer of Health for the town of Lindsay was present at the board meeting in the town hall.

Dr. Gill was questioned as to the danger of typhoid in the town, following reports of suspected cases at Little Britain. The M.O.H. said that a member of the Board of Health from Toronto had been in this area on Thursday, and she said any danger to the school children and population of Lindsay was now past.

Board members discussed requests for salary increases from the Health Inspector and the Public Health Nurse and a recommendation will be made to town council after further consideration.

Pearson prepared to become next Governor-General?

OTTAWA (UPI) — A Montreal French-language newspaper claimed today Prime Minister Lester Pearson is prepared to become Canada's next Governor-General should Quebec Premier Jean Lesage move into Pearson's post.

Serge Roy, the Editor-in-Chief of Le Journale De Montreal, said in an editorial such a position "would be ideal" for the Prime Minister.

The editorial said Lesage is the man who can keep Quebec together and still get enough seats elsewhere in Canada to keep the Liberals in power.

STEPS TO RELIEVE OVERCROWDING AT SMITH'S FALLS ANNOUNCED

Toronto, (UPI) — Ontario Health Minister Matthew Dymond, under fire because of overcrowding at hospitals for the mentally retarded, announced steps yesterday to relieve the problem.

Dymond told the Ontario Legislature that 80 bedridden patients at Smith's Falls Ontario Hospital School for the retarded will be moved to a sanitorium at Fort William.

Another 125 to 150 will be moved to a second hospital, he said.

The Smith's Falls institution was the centre of a controversy recently after a teenage male patient escaped from the school and was found dead of exposure.

The Health Minister sat quietly, rubbing his chin, yesterday when opposition members accused him of a do-nothing attitude until he was forced into it.

Liberal member James Trotter of Parkdale and NDP member Stephen Lewis of Scarboro west both said the Health Department acted only after a Public uproar over conditions in Ontario's Mental Institutions

A week ago, Dymond had taken the blame for such overcrowding. He said he had a soft heart and could not ignore the plea of patients who asked that their mentally retarded children be placed in an institution.

P.M Kenneth Bryden of Woodbine criticized the Smith's Falls institution for its size, 2,400 beds. He demanded that it be broken up into smaller units.

In London, Ont., Dr. D. ME. Zarfas, Superintendent of the Children's Psychiatric Research institution, at Cedar Springs in the Chatham area, was not overcrowded.

"Stretch our minds"

These are days when many challenges are being tossed at us. One which stands out is that directed to youth by the Queen in her Christmas message. She said in part: "You young people are needed; there is a great task ahead of you—the building of a new world. You have brains and courage, imagination and humanity; direct them to the things that have to be achieved in this century, if mankind is to live together in happiness and prosperity."

Closer to home this brings to mind an address which J. C. Clapinson, President, Champlain Oil Products Limited, gave last year to a meeting of Jaycees. Mr. Clapinson, who is a member of the Canadian Chamber's Executive Council, remarked that one of the tragedies of our time is that so few people put to effective use the great potential which is theirs.

We are all too inclined to take the easy way—to try to get away with minimum effort rather than to stretch our minds to their fullest extent", he said. "If ever the world needed individuals devoted to growth and progress through self development, it is now." Mr. Clapinson reminded his audience that "we are living in one of the most exciting periods in history, and for those on the North American continent one of the most challenging."

Ingratitude

We can be thankful to a friend for a few acres, or a little money; and yet for the freedom and command of the whole earth, and for the great benefits of our being, our life, health, and reason, we look upon ourseles as under no obligation.—Seneca.

There were 437 books discarded and there are now over 10,000 books on the shelves and 53 periodicals in the reading room.

A Light On Life

"One wants a novel to be in some way illuminating as well as pleasurable. I think this is even true of novels like Balzac's which create rather perfect worlds of their own. They also reflect back an understanding of our own world."—Professor A. J. Ayer,

Pipe Band at annual tea

Last evening the annual congregational tea was held at St. Andrew's church, and the function was attended by practically the whole congregation. A feature of the evening was the presence of the members of the Police Pipe Band of Toronto, who were nearly all adherents of Rev. Mr. Geikie's Church in the Queen city. They furnished several selections during the evening.

Boy escapes blast — eye injured.

MINDEN—One day last week a little son of Mr. and Mrs. Job narrowly escaped serious injury and probably the loss of an eye as a result of the explosion of a dynamite fuse cap carelessly left within his reach. It seems that, like other little boys, after finding the cap he began pounding it with a hammer on a piece of steel, causing it to explode, several of the fragments striking him in the face, while one piece pierced the corner of his eye. A doctor was called, but it was considered advisable to send the little fellow to a Peterborough hospital, where we understand he is progressing quite favourably and is not likely to lose the sight of his eye.

Municipal problems

HALIBURTON—The expected break in the municipal machinery came early this week, when notice was served on C. D. Kellett, protesting his election on his qualifications, or lack of them. As the principle cause has since been redied, and Mr. Kellett is now eligible for competition again, an election over the issue is a sheer waste of public money and this is a year when municipalities were asked to elect councils by acclamation to turn the usual expense into the National Patriotic Fund.

Torpedoed without warning

A despatch from Dieppe, France, says a German submarine this morning torpedoed without warning the French steamer Dinorah from Havre for Dunkirk.

World Without Winston

For many, it will take a bit of getting used to, this living on in a world without Winston. Poignant as were his final years—reminding us all of the mortality of even the greatest among us—there yet was a measure of comfort in the knowledge that the valiant heart still beat on.

"I know what it is like to be a log," he said, gazing into an open hearth toward the end, "reluctant to be consumed, yet yielding at last to persuasion." And so it was, and now, in the tenth decade of his marvelous life, the man who became a living legend has gone to take his illustrious place in history.

Yet even at the last his magnificent sense of timing was not lacking. One can almost hear him, in verbal battle with the ultimate adversary: "So be it. But if go I must, I will go on my own terms. The 70th anniversary of my father's death falls on January 24, 1965, a date which coincides with the week-long commemoration of the 700th anniversary of England's first Parliament. That, I think, will be as appropriate a time as any to write finis to my own earthly story." It was and he did.

It is easy to forget, now, in the afterglow of the superlative, that he was not always so well regarded by Englishmen, much less mankind. "Brilliant, but unstable and impossible," was the label affixed to him, as to his father, by lesser men early in his life, and it stuck through much of the first two-thirds of it, causing him time and again to be defeated, dismissed from office, ignored and reviled as a warmonger.

Not until he was in his 66th year did he get the chance to show his greatness as tyranny's scourge, galvanizing Britain and the free world by word and deed, and, most of all, by just being there—"in charge." It is perhaps as important that the small boys of the present and the future remember this as much as the fact that the hour eventually found the man.

Not without fault, nor error he was both the eternal imp and the epitome of grandeur, as magnanimous in peace as he was valiant in war. Individualist to the last, it was entirely characteristic of this noblest Briton, this uncommonest commoner, that he should scorn a dukedom, preferring to die as he was born, Winston Spencer Churchill, and that, by his own wish, he should lie not with the other great heroes of England's past in Westminster Abbey, but alongside his mother and father in a village churchyard in Oxfordshire.

Truly, this was no ordinary man. We are left with his imperishable contributions to world literature, his superb accounts of history in the making, the sight of him on film, the sound of his glorious voice on record and tape, and the ineradicable memory of his matchless service in the cause of human freedom and Christian civilization. Above all, we are left with the knowledge that it is no small thing to have lived in and been a part of, the Age of Churchill.

—"Industry."

SOUP'S ON

Many soups add valuable nutrition to your menus. They certainly add a sense of old-fashioned pleasure as well.

With so many canned and frozen soups and soup mixes on the market you can produce robust soups today with practically no work. However, if you have the time, nothing can beat a savoury homemade soup. Both kinds are offered and we hope you enjoy them.

VEGETABLE BARLEY SOUP
(Makes 8 servings)

2 lb soup bone (with at least ½ lb meat on it); 2 quarts water; 1½ tablespoons salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 2 tablespoons minced parsley; ½ cup long-cooking barley; 1 cup sliced carrots; ¼ cup chopped onion; 3 celery stalks, cut into 1-inch pieces; 2 cups cooked tomatoes.

Put soup bone, water, salt, pepper and parsley in soup kettle. Cover; simmer for 1 hour. Remove soup bone from broth. Remove meat from bone; cut in pieces. Add meat and vegetables to broth. Simmer for 45 minutes.

CREAMY CORN AND CHICKEN SOUP

1 package chicken noodle soup mix, 2 cups boiling water, ½ cup cream style corn, 2 cups milk, 1 tbsp. butter or margarine.

In saucepan, stir chicken noodle soup mix into boiling water. Simmer for 5 minutes. Add corn and simmer soup 2 more minutes. Stir in milk and butter, heat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

Auto Radiator Hose

When you have detected a break in your car's radiator hose, and no other facilities are at hand, a wad of soft chewing gum will serve as a good emergency repair. Just spread this gum over the break, tying it tightly in place with several layers of cloth wound around the hose. This will serve in good stead until you can get a new hose installed.

Shine On Clothing

You can often remove the shine from dark suits or skirts by rubbing lightly with very fine sandpaper. Dampen a shiny navy skirt or pair of trousers with bluing water, and press while still damp. Shiny suits may also be sponged with vinegar before pressing.

Prevent Splitting

When nailing near the edge or end of a board, bore holes first to prevent splitting — or else, blunt slightly the tips of your nails.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. Can you give me some tips on the care of painted wooden floors?

A. These look better and are much easier to keep in good condition if they are waxed. Wash with warm water and a mild soap. Use fine steel wool dipped in liquid or paste wax or a mild scouring powder to remove stubborn spots and marks made by rubber heels.

Q. What can I do when burned food is difficult to remove from casseroles?

A. Fill the casserole with warm water and add a teaspoonful of baking soda. The crusted matter will loosen quickly.

Q. What's an easy way to remove inkstains from the fingers?

A. After moistening the stains, rub over them with the sulpher end of a match, then wipe with a dry cloth.

An unusual, expressive and impressive ceremony took place in the Ladies club room at the Peel Street Curling rink on Thursday afternoon. A large and beautiful painting was presented to the club by Ford W. Moynes and his daughter Jacqueline in memory of the late Agnes E. Moynes, a charter member of the club. Neatly arranged along the lower edge of the frame were eighteen small plates bearing the names of past-Presidents and the year they served.

The delightful painting by Ottawa artist Jean Diems portrays two heavy horses pulling a sleigh, a sight seen by many in years gone by, and the sleigh is similar to the type used in the Lindsay area. A man muffled from the cold, sits high while the horses plod on homewards, their breath frosting in the cold crisp air.

Mrs. Elva Brown, president of the Ladies Club unveiled the painting and introduced the donor. Mrs. R. G. (Vine) Scott, Charter President of the Ladies club was called on for a few words as was S. R. Pitts, vice-President of the Lindsay Curling Club.

One of the greatest links in connection with the miracle of communication is associated with the tremendous progress, development and expansion of the Bell Telephone Company. This column is indebted to Mr. H. Debois, well known and popular member of the Lindsay post office staff for a copy of a Lindsay telephone directory issued in the year 1900 when the local manager was J. S. Martin.

It is reported however, that the Bell Telephone was launched in Lindsay as far back as the year 1882, but the location of the office and plant cannot be ascertained.

It is reported that several years ago when E. G. (Ted) Oke, owner of Edwards Hardware Store was exploring on the second and third storey of the hardware store, he came across a number of articles, with wall fixtures which would indicate that the Bell was at one time a tenant in the Edwards building. It is interesting to note the Bell system had 27 subscribers in 1883, while today the number of subscribers numbers over 6, 084 and the users number in the millions. Bruce Symonds, the present courteous and efficient manager has in his archives a local directory dating back to 1883, a lithograph copy of the original.

The H. Debois directory is interesting regarding contents. The cover of the directory bears the following quotation "Official telephone directory, December 1900, district of Eastern Ontario, head office in Bell Telephone Building, Notre Dame street, Montreal".

Cornell Brewery had No. 1 telephone while G. H. M. Baker residence at Russell and Lindsay Streets had No. 2.

The Bank of Montreal on William Street was phone No. 3 and William Steers, Barrister, was No. 4. The Benson Hotel was one of the original with No. 5 and John Wardrobe was the proprietor. No. 6 telephone was held by C. S. Blackwell and Company, grocers at the corner of Kent and Cambridge Streets, while No. 7 was James Boxall, Hardware, stoves and tinware on Kent treet. No 9 was Dr. P. Palmer Burrows and Arch Campbell, grocer was No. 10.

Among the A's on the list were Dr. Allen, Lindsay Street; Donald Anderson, Lawyer and Anderson and Nugent.

In the C column were: Canadian Post, printing office on Lindsay Street with No. 12; John Carew, CPR telegraph and others.

In the D column was the Daily House on Kent Street as well as Dundas and Flavelle, while in the E list were two names, J. G. Edwards and Company and J. G. Edwards, residence.

In the F column was the Fire Hall, No. 60 and the Flavelle telephones.

Grand Trunk railway was No. 8 and E. Gregory, Druggist No. 33. Barney Cummigle's livery stable was No. 34.

Among the H's was Horn Brothers as well as Sam Hughes and others.

George Ingle Planing Mill at Wellington and Cambridge Streets was the only number listed under "I".

The J list included Dr. Jeffers and A. Hewett and under K appeared two Knowisons and two Kennedys.

V. G. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Laurent Russell Street was the Roman Catholic incumbent. Other listed names included the Lindsay Tennis Club and Martin's Steam Laundry on Russell Street.

Included in the M's were McKennan's Hardware, McCrae Foundry as well as R. J. McLaughlin and Dr. McAlpine, Maunder's Mill, Mason the Florist, Phil Moran, druggist and Morton's Restaurant.

William Needler, residence was the only name under N.

J. R. O'Neill had a grocery store at St. David and King Street and the Ontario Bank was on Kent Street.

Sam Parkin ran a mill, A. M. Primeau was a grocer and also Dr. Poole was listed.

The lumbering industry was represented by Rathburns at King and Lindsay Streets and Rider and Kitchener on Durham Street, as well as W. M. Robson, grocer at Kent and Sussex Streets.

The "S" list included Shanon's Liquor Store, Dr. Leonard Shier Sr., Simpson House, Speaft and Killen grocers, Stewart and O'Connor, Barristers, Sylvester Mfg. Company and Sutcliffe Drygoods.

Fred Taylor, restaurant and A. B. Terry, confectioner and Robert Touchburn were listed.

Three names were listed under "V", namely Dr. Vrooman, Victoria Laundry and Victoria Savings.

The "W" listings included M. W. Webster was a machinist on William Street and W. G. Woods ran a stove and tinware store on Kent Street.

Icy roads was the main topic of conversation in this locality for a few days during the past week. Children were home from school and many cars were waiting on Seagrave corner for the sand-trucks to make it possible for them to proceed either to work at Oshawa or home to bed after the night shift.

STOMACH TROUBLE? CAUSE MAY BE OUTSIDE STOMACH

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What can you tell me about stomach trouble? What causes it?

Comment: If you want me to tell you what to do for you, specifically, I know you really don't want me to guess about your health and life from way back here. I don't know you. How old are you? How long have you been bothered? What are the symptoms? What kind of person are you: even-tempered, worrisome, resentful, given to temper tantrums? All such facts, and many more, are essential for a correct diagnosis and proper treatment.

Stomach trouble? Most often it's outside the stomach. For example, nausea and vomiting intimately connected with the stomach) may be due to gall bladder trouble pancreatitis, liver disease, hiatal hernia, ulcer, coronary disease high blood pressure, migraine, etc.

Do you see what I mean? Mine would be a hopeless and dangerous (to you) task. Leave it all up to your own doctor.

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS

Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology

An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic processor to provide the most accurate selectivity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.

The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergisto which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete soil removing action, resulting in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like freshness to garments.

The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning action and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heavy-best woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.

The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

W.I. reviews old year at meeting

Woodville (PNS) — The February meeting of Woodville Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Jackson, with 25 members present and the president Mrs. Joan Teel in the chair.

The meeting opened with the Ode and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Roll was called and answered by "Where I met my Husband". Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. The membership fees were to be sent to the District Treasurer and were again based on half by the member and half from Branch funds. There was also a motion that twenty dollars be sent to the Scholarship Fund. Offering was received and the attendance prize drawn for and won by Mrs. A. Canning.

Mrs. Teel made announcement of several meetings to be held in the Provincial Building in Lindsay during February under the Agriculture and Home Economics Depts. These include Consumer Buying, Family Budget or Management and the purchase of Household Appliances. Anyone is welcome to attend.

The annual conference is to be held in Guelph early in May and it is hoped that the Curator, Miss Joyce Westlake, will attend.

After discussion it was decided to hold a Euchre Party in the town-hall later in the month and arrangements were made for same. Posters will appear. It was also suggested that each member invite one or two couples to come. Mrs. Teel then turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. Veale, Convenor of Community Activities and Public Relations.

The motto for the meeting being — "Service is the rent we pay for the privilege of living on this earth".

Mrs. Veale used this as a basis for a tribute to the life and service of the late Sir Winston Churchill.

Mrs. Veale had a Valentine Reading appropriate to the Churchill's. Mrs. Stanley Murray sang and Mrs. Veale gave a reading to close this part of the programme and the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi.

Mrs. Veale then gave a full report of the Community Activities and Public Relations of the Woodville Branch for the past year.

Mrs. W. Hill then read an article by Miss Ethel Chapman on how we should treat and use New Canadians and new neighbours in our midst.

Mrs. Watson was a faithful member of the United Church, being organist for many years, a member of the W.A. and also of Nestleton Women's Institute.

Left to mourn the loss of a loving mother and grandmother are a daughter Irene (Mrs. E. Green) of Port Hope, sons Lorne of Winnipeg and Lewis of Port Hope and 9 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. Mrs. Joseph Forder (Ella) of Nestleton and Mrs. J. Robertson (Ella) of Unity, Sask., sisters and Mr. Edward Pollon of Winnipeg last remaining brother, survive. Mrs. Watson was predeceased by four brothers and a sister, Mrs. Willard Eaton (Florence) of St. Mary's, Elisha, Albert, Louis and John all of Western Canada.

The funeral was held on February from McDermott-Panabaker Funeral Home, Port Perry. Beautiful floral tributes spoke the esteem in which the deceased was held. Rev. P. Romeril was the officiating clergyman and pallbearers were five grandsons and a grandson-in-law; Leslie Watson, Bill Watson, Jimmy Watson, Darrell Watson, Gordon Watson and Bill Godfrey. Interment was in Nestleton Cemetery.

NO SPEECHES

London, (UPI) — The will of Bernard Sunley, the millionaire philanthropist who rose from a pony-and-cart business to head a huge civil engineering enterprise, stipulated that a banquet should be held for his employees, business friends and associates. But, Sunley demanded in his will, "I don't want any speeches concerning me."

Woodville

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fulton, Frazer and Robert of Streetsville visited Mr. Fulton's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gilson and Brian.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Taylor and family of Oshawa spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell and Debby.

DIG THAT DINOSAUR!

IT'S NO wonder the archeologist at right is at loose ends. You'd be, too, if you stood face to face with Dinosaurus Rex . . . or something! Our friend's dilemma is obscured at present by a jungle of twisted lines. To dispel this confusion, simply take aim with a pencil (or a sharp green crayon, if one is handy), and proceed as follows: Begin at one of the finger-like protuberance near the archeologist's magnifying glass. Follow along this line as far as it goes. Traced unerringly, your path should outline the figure of a prehistoric monster — in one continuous line. That's right, a line that leads back to its starting point. If you choose the wrong path or wander from the right one your efforts will come to naught. When you have outlined the hidden creature, color it with a green crayon, or shade it gray with a lead pencil. See how quickly you can dig that dinosaur!

ONE of these creatures had the head of a bull and the body of a man: minotaur, centaur, unicorn. Which one?

Answer: The minotaur.

Penny's Worth

YOU'VE probably got a penny in your pocket, but before you try this stunt, see if you can answer this question:

How many additional pennies will it take to form a ring around one cent placed on a flat surface? All the outside pennies are to touch the penny in the center.

Answer: Six pennies are needed.

Give New Babies a Weigh?

JOAN'S new baby, Emmaline, weighs six pounds, eleven ounces.

This is four more ounces than Bea's new baby, Bruce.

Chris's baby weighs less than Donna's.

Donna's baby weighs more than Bruce, but less than Emmaline.

Answer quickly, if you can, which new baby weighs the most?

Answer: Donna's baby. Emmaline weighs the most.

It's a Problem of Put and Take

Answer: Put 2 matches from square 1 to square 2. Take 2 matches from square 3 to square 4.

DOTOGRAPH TEST FOR JUNIORS

CUB is too young to baby-sit for real, so she's practising with her doll. What can you draw to complete the picture? To find out, simply draw a line from dot 1 to dot 2, to 3, 4, and so on, until you have touched at all of the numbered dots.

Where two numbers are beside one dot, use that dot for both. Afterwards, you may wish to color the scene appropriately with colored pencils or crayons.

Speaking of baby-sitting, do you know the best thing for a sitter to do if a baby swallows a pencil?

Give up!

Why, use a pen, of course.

Take Time to Sound Off

ELIMINATE the letters that will transform the following into words describing human sounds:

1. Single
2. easy
3. washout
4. stalk
5. callous
6. decry
7. stalk
8. invoice
9. decry
10. bumid

Answer: Single, easy, washout, stalk, callous, decry, stalk, invoice, decry, bumid.

NOTICE that the number of

NOTICE that the number of knuckles in the compartments on each of the four sides of the box above totals nine. It is possible to remove four of these marbles and rearrange those remaining so that the sum of those on each side remains nine.

What's more, four more agates may then be removed with a total of nine remaining.

How quickly can you figure out the new marble arrangements in each instance? An empty "work-box" is provided.

Answer: Remove marbles from the following squares: 1, 2, 3, 4. Remove marbles from the following squares: 1, 2, 3, 4.

Spring Let-Down?

HAVING a watch that doesn't work is annoying enough, but having one that works sporadically is even worse. Suppose your watch stops for five minutes every 15 minutes. How long will it take the minute hand to travel from 12 to 12?

Answer: It takes the minute hand 1 hour to travel from 12 to 12.

Tangerine Test

TWO men were selling tangerines. One sold 50 small ones at 3 for 10c, bringing in $1.60. The other sold 30 large ones at 5c each, bringing in $1.50.

One day the first man arranged to sell all 80 tangerines for the two of them. As he sold the small ones at three for a dime and the large ones at a nickel each, he decided he could dispose of his stock more quickly at 4 for 20c. At day's end, he had sold all the tangerines and had taken in $2.40. But 4s and $1.50 equal $2.50. Can you say where the other dime went?

Answer: The other dime was lost in the shuffle. The 4 tangerines sold for a dime and the 50 cents received for 20 tangerines sold for 5c each, bringing the total to $2.40. The 80 tangerines sold for $2.40.

Who's it?

HE was born in 1803, in Baden, Germany. Educated in Switzerland, he served in the French army, then followed other French officers into the fur trade in the American West. By 1848, he was the owner of a thriving trading post and other enterprises. But discovery of gold by his partner in a sawmill venture brought frenzied 'diers swarming over his lands. His died poor in 1880. Who?

Answer: John Sutter.

COLOR-BY-NUMBER FUN POSER

THERE'S an elephant-size problem in Color-by-Number Fun Land today and its solution is up to you. You can, if you wish, take a gray pencil and color the elephant's outline above. On the other hand, you can help remove this big lumbrous from the scene and focus attention where it rightly belongs—upon a newcomer in town. To follow the latter course, simply apply these colors to indicated segments in consecutive order: 1—Yellow. 2—Red. 3—Blue. 4—Orange. 5—Green. 6—Violet. 7—Black. 8—Brown. 9—Pink. If paint is not handy, use red lightly instead.

If more than one person is at hand, distribute colors and apply them in turn in 1, 2, 3, etc., order.

Puzzles & Pastimes

Fishing for Words

IF YOU are a fisherman this should be easy. If not, perhaps you can guess at missing words in this oft-quoted verse:

1. When the wind is in the East,
   Then the fishes ——
2. When the wind is in the West,
   Then the fishes ——
3. When the wind is in the North,
   Then the fishes ——
4. When the wind is in the South,
   Then the fishes ——

Answers: 1. Bite hard. 2. Bite lightly. 3. Do not bite. 4. Bite anyhow.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — Segregation and discrimination against homely men are rampant in Hollywood, if you would believe Karl Malden, a paragon of the unpretty male.

Malden longs for love scenes with Natalie Wood and Ann-Margaret but then who doesn't.

Malden's point, admittedly hazy, is that homely leading men have gone out of style. For a while the Bogarts, Cagneys and Brandos took the play away from the Tyrone Powers and Clark Gables.

But the old ball is bouncing in the other direction again.

Such pretty boys as James Garner, Robert Goulet and Rock Hudson are snagging the leading ladies, leaving the snaggle-toothed, lantern-jawed pot-bellied, broken-nosed, cauliflower-eared set to playing villains or worse.

"I came along too late to join the ugly leading men," Malden sighed. "It's not right. There are more of us in the world than there are pretty people. But we don't win out.

"Maybe we should organize with a slogan and a leader. We could get Rod Steiger or maybe Ernie Borgnine to state our case."

Malden, currently starring in MGM's "Cincinnati Kid" with Steve McQueen, comes up empty again. Tuesday Weld and Ann-Margaret also co-star.

But does Malden stand a chance with McQueen around? The odds are better for Jimmy Hoffa becoming a member of the Supreme Court.

Malden has a nose that mushrooms like a dyspeptic volcano. His jaw would intimidate Sonny Liston. His ears are not shell-like.

"So what," he says. "There are more men who look like me than like Tony Curtis. And what's more we all manage to get married sooner or later, too.

"One thing about looking like me, your wife doesn't have to worry about losing you. Once a woman gets us they have us for life.

"Sooner or later the profiles join our club anyhow. As a man matures he gets less pretty. Jimmy Stewart and Van Johnson are gradually coming over to our side but Gary Grant and Henry Fonda are still fighting it."

A faraway look passed over Malden's blue eyes as he recalled a moment of glory.

"It was in 'Gypsy', and I won the girl," he reflected. "It was Roz Russell. Of course she ain't no Natelie Wood, but then I'm no Troy Donahue."

Malden was spoofing of course. He might like an occasional leading man role. But he is a superb character actor who lands some of the juciest roles in movies today. Producers consider him boxoffice insurance for unproved leading men and or weak stories.

As for being pretty, when the big guy is up there on the screen performing, nothing could matter less than his profile. He gets his message across, and that is what he's paid for.

Tigers beat Redmen Merchants must win

Aurora Tigers keep the pressure on the Lindsay Merchants as they battle for the extra game in the best of seven final series. Last night in Newmarket, the Tigers came from behind to edge the Redmen 6 - 5 in overtime.

Newmarket Redmen will meet the Lindsay Merchants at the Kiwanis Arena tonight at nine, and the Merchants must win to regain a first place tie with Aurora.

The Merchants will still be hurting for this game, after injuries in the last two games. While the Redmen still have to win a game in the round robin series, they can be a lot of trouble, and local fans have been of the impression that both Aurora and Newmarket have been out to cripple the Merchants.

Team officials hope to have George Babcock back in action tonight, although it is not known if George Graham will be dressing after a wrist injury Tuesday night. Several other members of the Merchants are operating under difficulties but will be out there if at all possible.

"JEST A SECOND"

". . . Do you ever walk into a room and suddenly get the feeling you don't belong . . ."

SUMMONS

London, (UPI) — A pop group "summoned" to play at tonight's annual police ball is called "The Bandits." A police spokesman said: "We are charging them to provide us with a arresting beat entertainment."

"CAVALIER"

Ludwigshafen, Germany, (UPI) — A 22-year-old motorist was arrested yesterday on charges of stealing 40 automobiles. Only last month, the motorist — who was not identified — was given a "Cavalier of the Road" award by police for safe driving.

Mr. Eakin said the price increase—affecting overcoats, slacks and jackets—reflects a wage increase from an agreement signed last week with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CLC).

WOMAN TO WOMAN
PATRICIA McCORMACK

New York (UPI) — Eva Gabor's range of conversation topics goes like this — food, men, fashion, men, movies, men, travel, men, cosmetics, men.

So lately, it's no surprise, Miss Gabor speaks with authority about something close to the heart of thinking men: pipes, ranging from corncob to clay, with every other type in between.

"I like the smoke from a pipe when it comes my way", she says.

When she talks about pipe smoking, Miss Gabor reels off facts historical, hysterical and practical. She even has a survey to fall back on to make the lore about pipe smoking that much sounder.

An old Dutch custom about pipe smoking warms her ticker the most. It goes like this:

At courting time, a bashful beau twines garlands of flowers around their pipes to signify honorable intentions. Then he knocks on the sweetheart's door and asks for a light.

If tht girls lit them up once — twice — then they obviously had a fire going. But if they lit the pipes a third time, that was it. The girl grabbed the pipe, puffed a bit and the match was consummated.

"That was a wonderful custom", Miss Gabor said. "I want to know, darling, why can't we revive this custom insmuch as pipe smoking is back in favour both with men and women".

Research to come to the attention of Miss Gabor holds that Virginia Indians poured powdered tobacco on the waters when they wanted to appease angry gods or improve their catch of fish.

"Today's modern young executive appeases his ulcers, improves his business and otherwise makes peace with the angry forces of smoking.

Miss Gabor said she likes what W. M. Thackeray wrote about pipe smoking back in 1856. Here is what he said.

"The pipe draws wisdom from the lips of the philosophers and shuts up the mouth of the foolish; It generates a style of conversation, contemplative, thoughtful, benevolent and unaffected".

The actress has boned up on pipe smoking in connection with her participation in advertisements for masterpiece tobacco, a new one.

"People say it seems odd that I should be an expert on tobacco," she said. "But, darling, why should I have to know anything about it? I always say I don't know anything about the mining or cutting of diamonds but it doesn't stop me from recommending them. See?

"Besides, why shouldn't a woman be an authority in a man's field? If Jean Pierre Aumont told about a lipstick or a perfume that was attractive to him, wouldn't women listen?"

The survey Miss Gabor referred to frequently found that that pipe smokers are mostly doctors, lawyers, philosophers, writers.

"Fifty per cent of pipe smokers", she said, "are executives. The other 50 per cent are not. Aren't surveys wonderful, darling?"

The survey also showed:
— Most women think of a pipe smoker as a dependable man.

—Many pipes smokers have wavy grey hair and keen eyes.

— Most pipe smokers are talented.

Two ice storms last week resulted in many cars and school buses being in the ditch. One bus bringing students from an evening in Lindsay went of the road a mile from home and passengers journeyed to the village on foot in the rain.

The Valentine dance of the local high school was well attended and a good time was reported by all.

Mrs. Wilbert Archer spent Saturday and Sunday with the Elmer Archer family in Whitby.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Byers Bowmanville, visited the Carl Wrights a few days last week.

Post Office Theft

An undetermined amount of money was taken in a break-in at the Woodville post office Thursday at noon. Lindsay OPP Constables Ian Milner and John Mitchell, along with postal authorities, are investigating the theft.

Police said entry was gained through an inner door. No other details were available.

$1,300 damage two-car crash at junction

Total damage of $1,300 resulted in a two-car crash at the junction of Highways 7 and 35 at 3:53 p.m. Thursday. Lindsay OPP said a van driven by Leo Larry Byrne, 21, 38 St. Paul St. which had been proceeding north on Highway 35 sustained $800 damage when it collided with a car driven by 71-year-old Albert Hughes of Murray Street, Fenelon Falls. Police said the southbound Murray vehicle was making a left turn when the accident occurred. Damage to the Murray car was estimated at $500.

Lindsay OPP Constable Elmer Lidtke, who investigated, said charges are pending. No injuries were reported as a result of the accident.

Lost time accident rate high, Association to visit contractors

Some 4,000 contractors will be called upon by a member of the management counselling staff of the Construction Safety Associations of Ontario during the next four weeks. The province-wide campaign to visit, inform and advise those contractors who have had a higher than average lost time accident rate during recent years started on Wednesday, February 17th.

Because of an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act some of these contractors are liable for double assessment, others are under close scrutiny by the Workmen's Compensation Board. All contractors in the province have already received a letter from the Board telling them of the basic provisions of the act.

Concerned by the number of lost time injuries listed in a preliminary estimate for 1964, the Directors of the Associations decided that immediate and effective action was essential.

The aim of the campaign which is being heavily backed by advertising in the daily press and over the air is to reduce lost time injuries by at least 10% during 1965. The saving in compensation payments of some $1,800,000 will more than justify the cost. The reduction in human misery cannot be calculated.

A team of the Management Counselling group will be in Peterboro on February 24 to 26th to counsel in Northumberland, Peterboro and part of Haliburton counties.

Oakwood Flyers in key game tonight

Oakwood Flyers moved within one game of the Tri-County Hockey Association finals finals Wednesday night when they downed Cambray Comets 17-3 at Oakwood.

One of the largest crowds of the season were on hand for the game which saw every Oakwood player share in the scoreing including the Oakwood goalie, who picked up an assist.

Oakwood built up the route in the third period after Cambray's regular goalie John Riches retired after receiving a leg cut.

Jim Chambers and Wayne Daniels scored the Cambray goals, and the Comets will be rounding up all their forces in an attempt to keep the series alive when they meet the Flyers at Oakwood tonight.

Rotary Bantams meet Ajax in 3rd game Saturday

Lindsay Rotary Bantam coach Gordon Abercrombie told "The Post" he expects to have his boys up for the deciding game with Ajax Saturday at the Kiwanis Arena.

'Guffer' said he would rest his team tonight and turn on all cylinders come five p.m. Saturday when they meet Ajax in the third game of the set.

The winner of the Lindsay-Ajax round will probably meet the winner of a Trenton vs. Port Hope series which also winds up Saturday. It is understood Trenton won the first game of the total goal series by one goal last Tuesday.

World news today

Viet Nam — A military coup has apparently succeeded in ousting South Vietnamese strongman General Nguyen Khanh.

Reports from Saigon said marine and army leaders had pledged support for General Tran Thien Khiem, currently South Vietnamese Ambassador to the United States. Reached in Washington, Khiem described word of the coup as "unusual"... but refused to comment further.

Kheim also declined to say whether he supported the latest in a series of military over throws over the past two years.

In Saigon, military commanders said they acted because Khanh was "changing the government every two weeks" There was no reported bloodshed.

Troops surrounded Khanh's residence and that of Dr. Phan Huy Quat . . . the man Khanh installed three days ago as South Viet Nam's new premier.

Shortly afterward, naval vessels in the Saigon River began moving downstream and Vietnamese Air Force fighter-bombers buzzed low over the capital. The flight was apparently designed to express support for the military action.

Ottawa — A New Democratic party motion to hike the level of the federal minimum wage to a dollar-fifty an hour has been defeated 84-27 in the Commons.

Approvel was then given to the one-dollar-twenty-five cent level proposed by the government under the new Labor Standards bill.

Labor Minister Allan MacEachern said the one-twenty-five level was the most advanced and progressive and far reaching established on this continent.

He said provincial minimums were far lower and that a hike in the federal standard would have to wait for the provinces to catch up.

Ottawa — The Progressive Conservative party in parliament has announced plans to increase old age pension payment from their current level of 75 dollars to 100-dollars.

They said the payments should go to all persons 65 and over.

Alabama — New racial strike in Alabama has left one negro seriously wounded and at least 10 others injured.

The disturbance occurred when club-swinging local and state police clashed with negroes outside a church at Marion, Alabama. About 400 negroes were leaving the building to stage a protest voter registration march when the lawmen moved in.

Moscow — The Russian military has charged the United States "is preparing fresh, still bigger military operations" against Communist North Viet Nam and atomic objectives in Red China.

The charge was made in Red Star the newspaper of the Russian military.

Uganda — Troops from Uganda have driven seven miles into the Congo and seized a town. Congolese army sources said one Ugandan soldier was killed south of the village . . . but they acknowledged government forces retreated to another town 30-miles inside the Central African state.

London — Police in London are looking for an unidentified lover for the proper atmosphere.

Officers found a piano in good condition on lover's lane road.

Thievery "on the cuff"!

A few years ago, a 19-year-old kid got himself a credit card and went to town cashing bad checks, engaging plush hotel suites, putting away gourmet dinners, and buying, buying, buying.

The spree lasted more than a month.

Before he was nabbed, Joseph Miraglia of New York had run up $10,000 in bills, bilked such hotels as the Waldorf-Astoria, flown to Canada and Cuba and grayed the hairs of credit card company executives.

The rough part of it for the credit card firms was that Miraglia popularized the sport of cashing in fast with a stolen or counterfeit card. The boy from the bronx seemed to prove that it wasn't necessary to look rich or middle-aged to fool hotel clerks, airline personnel, store salesmen and head waiters into thinking there was real money behind a little two-by-three inch scrap of paper.

It seemed to take only nerve to shake the money tree.

Things aren't quite as free and easy anymore. The stores, auto rentals restaurants hotels and airlines that honor credit cards are more suspicious these days. And the credit card companies, notably the big three — American Express Diner's Club and Hilton Hotel's Carte Blanche — are deadly serious about discouraging joyriders.

Nevertheless, lumbermen's Mustual Casualty Co., which is in the business of selling insurance against card thefts, says 60,000 cards are stolen or misused each year. The insurance company estimates 70 million cards of all kinds are in circulation. It says 1.5 million cards are lost each year.

The credit card companies, certain that publicity only encourages theft, don't want to admit anything like lumbermen's figures.

Diners Club says it had only about 25 cases of stolen credit cards last year against a high of about 600 thefts a year back in the days when Miraglia was glamorizing the game. American Express, unwilling to give out any figures at all, contents itself by telling the public its losses are dropping.

The credit card theft game is played chiefly by a hard-core band of pros with the information and inclination to deliberately seek out cards for misuse.

Black market stolen cards come from three chief sources. Hoodlums mug likely looking victims, extracting the cards from their wallets, sometimes leaving the cash intact. And the pros have their friends among doormen, hotel maids and clerks, all people who are apt to stumble across a lost card and may be willing to pass it on to the black market for money.

Cards are also stolen from the mails, often by sharpies looking primarily for checks. As a sideline, they have grown adept at identifying credit card envelopes.

When a card works its way into the hands of a thief, some one is going to be set back an average $500. Court decisions tend to hold the owner of the card responsible for the debt, but most card companies interested in easing the fears of card holders, take financial responsibility for the debts—if the theft is reported to them.

Additionally card holders can take out inexpensive insurance to guard against having to pay the bills thieves run up.

The card companies have developed systems for catching the thieves. But they have no intention of giving out the details of their protection system. That gives the game away.

Basically, they all warn auto rental services, gas stations, restaurants, airlines and stores to check the signature on the credit card against the signature of the sales receipt. And they ask clients to take a second look at teen-agers brandishing cards.

Carte Blanche, which learned a lesson from Miraglia, like the other big firms, insists on a thorough check on an applicant's financial resources before its parts with a card. Carte Blanche verifies employment addresses, finksabi a ment addresses, professions, banks and credit backgrounds. In general, the big companies will issue cards only to those with a yearly income of over $7,500. The average card owner earns between $10,000 and $20,000.

"We feel we should not give Carte Blanche to persons who need credit per E", says Carte Blanche executive vice president William H. Cockrell.

When the card companies are told of a lost or stolen card, they make it their business to notify all clients who might honor the card. They list the card number on a bulletin mailed to business places. The bulletin can be checked by a suspicious clerk in about two minutes and the culprit can be held by subterfuge until the police move in.

Finally, when the card companies catch a thief, they get tough.

"We prosecute to the ultimate of our abilities once we catch a thief", American Express reports. "'One of our weapons is not to let a thief off the hook".

The credit card companies are inclined to shrug off the theft problem. If they thought they could eradicate the entire problem, they would use photographs on cards or take out insurance.

They don't.

One out of every 10,000 cards is illegaly used and the bulk of the country's card holders go along in like somewhat worried about losing their cards, but more worried about paying the bill they legally run up. —UPI.

100 high schools to compete in Ontario Drama Festivals

More than 100 high schools in 60 central, eastern and northern Ontario cities and towns will be competing in district and regional festivals this spring for the honour of entering the Simpsons-Sears Ontario Collegiate Drama Festival, it was announced by Ken Watts, festival director.

This is three times the number which competed last year at Hamilton and Peterboro when the Ontario Festival was first organized.

Four regional festivals have been scheduled for this spring, commencing with the two-day northern Ontario festival in Sudbury on March 26 and 27.

The other three regional festivals will be held in Burlington on April 9, in Waterloo on April 10 and Port Hope on May 1.

Winers of the regional festivals will be invited, along with the best play from the Ottawa-Ottawa Valley district festivals and the winner of Simpson's Toronto Collegiate Drama Festival, to enter their plays in the Ontario Finals to be held at Toronto on May 7 and 8 in Hart House Theatre.

World's Population

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — For years computers have been clocking the growing population around the world. The United Nations now proposes to use them as a potential weapon for birth control.

Only it doesn't like the word. It prefers to call it "moderation of fertility."

Whatever the name, the U.N. is setting up a four-year programme to forecast future problems and possibilities arising from the high rate of population growth in India.

Acting on the recommendations of a Swedish professor, using electronic computers from the University of Bombay and employing the know-how of the United States Public Health Service, the U.N. Demographic Center in Chembur, near Bombay, will try to come up with answers to the very pressing problem of staying the flood of population growth.

A hypothetical model of the Indian population will be assembled based on information of known or assumed age, sex, marital status, earning power and other characteristics of the individuals making up the whole. This model will be fed into the computers and there exposed to various public health conditions, economic and social changes which would have, in the words of a U.N. report, "predictable effects of mortality, fertility and other population tributes."

The result will be studied by the U.N. Demographic Center to determine which policies and measures are "most advantages to the country's economic and social development."

The United Nations has three such regional demographic centers. In addition to Bombay, which serves Asia and Far East, there is one in Cairo, serving Africa, and one in Santiago, Chile, for South America. Another is planned for West Africa.

The work of these centers, including the computer project, will be discussed by the Thirteenth Session of the U.N. Population Commission Meeting at U.N. headquarters March 23 through April 5.

The U.N. also is conducting research on population trends in North Africa and the Arabic speaking countries. A team of three regional demographic advisers is conducting a two-year "Expanded Demographic Programme" in Asia and the Far East in view of the region's "increasing need for assistance in programmes aimed at moderation of fertility."

The Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East is setting up a "clearing house" information service to help those governments in the region "that have adopted or are considering adoption of population policies."

Woman chased

Resident of the south ward are again worried about the repeated appearance of the individual who has a habit of chasing lone women at night and who has become increasingly bold as time passes. Police while maintaining a special vigilance in that section of the town have as yet been unable to apprehend anyone answering the description. One man was picked up by Constable John Nesbitt on St. Lawrence Street some nights ago but was released when he explained his movents satisfactorily.

Latest complaints come from that section of the south ward commonly known as Punkin Hollow. A young girl returning home alone a few evenings ago was chased by a man for more than a block and the man had the nerve to follow her right to her door. She was able to keep away from him but arrived home in a badly frightened state.

A woman living across the road from this girl was similarly chased a night later and again the man followed her to her door. Both of these people live on Georgian Street.

Will prosecute splashers

A warning was issued today by Chief Constable R. H. Lawler that motorists who cause damage to pedestrians by splashing them with water, will be held responsible for the damage and will be liable to prosecution in police court.

Jam streets for Winter Carnival

As was expected the second day of the Mid-Winter Carnival attracted a much larger crowd than the opening day and many of the merchants report a good day's business.

The weather was ideal for an outdoor attraction and this, together with the military features on the programme helped make the day an enjoyable one for all.

There was a great jam on Kent Street while the events were pulled off, while the windows in the apartments over the stores and even the roofs of the business blocks were utilized by many in order to view the contests to advantage.

That the soldiers were the great drawing card goes without saying and their work during the two days of the carnival is worthy of all praise. The men are all splendid specimens of manhood, trained to the minute and they performed the different evolutions and exercises in a well nigh perfect manner.

Public meeting called

His Worship Mayor Beal has called a public meeting for Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the council chamber to consider the Boving Company bylaw. It is understood that a representative of the Company will be present and will explain the proposition. A large attendance of citizens is requested.

Justice and Humanity

We think it the most natural thing in the world today that a man injured in the course of his work should be suitably compensated and cared for as a matter of right. It is hard to realize that it was not always so, that there were no laws covering the matter anywhere in Canada until Ontario brought in the first Workmen's Compensation Act in January, 1915.

Prior to then, it was an accepted condition of employment that a man assumed the risks that went with the job, not excluding accidents caused by the errors or carelessness of his fellow workers. Once injured, he and his family had to cope as best they could with the ensuing weeks or months of incapacity, dependent upon the help of his employer and the charity of others.

With the increasingly rapid growth of industrialization, the situation cried out for remedy and caused the Ontario government of the day to appoint the chief justice of the provincial court — Sir William Meredith—to study the various laws in force in other countries and make appropriate recommendations.

The resultant legislation, supported by employers and embodying many of the proposals of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association which had made its own studies, became recognized as a model of its kind and has since been emulated by every other province.

Free medical care, three quarters of wage or salary until well, and a lifetime pension where there is permanent disability—these are among the many benefits which the Ontario Act confers on injured persons covered by it. Over the past 50 years no fewer than six million people have shared a total of nine hundred million dollars.

It's worth nothing that this huge sum of money has come not, as most people might suppose, from government, but from employers. Their annual payment to the Workmen's Compensation Board makes possible the benefits and gives them in return both the assurance that an injured employee is properly looked after and freedom from any other liability.

Of course, the law in all provinces also requires employers to make adequate provision for the on-the-job safety of their employees. Since industrial accidents, no less than every other kind, can have tragic and costly consequences they obviously have the best of reasons for doing everything possible to see that they are kept at a minimum.

It is not something which employers can do alone, regulations or no regulations. Eye-shields and hard-hats are valueless if not worn; protective guards around potentially dangerous machinery are of little use if they are not securely in place; and so on.

Good as is our modern workmen's compensation legislation then, epitomizing as it does justice and humanity, it is better by far that we do not have to take advantage of it. —"Industry".

Foreign News Commentary

by Phil Newsom

(UPI) — India's 1961 census disclosed that in the huge sub-continent there are 845 different languages and major dialects.

Of this polyglot, Hindi and its dialects are used by something less than half of the population, mainly in the north. Among them all, the single unifying factor has been the English language, an inheritance of years of British Colonial rule. Particularly this applied to the civil service.

The great diversity of language made hopeless the task of unifying state and national administrations without a common denominator.

And so it was that the constitution of 1950 directed that English should be the official language for the first 15 years and on Jan. 26, 1965, should be replaced by Hindi.

In 1963 parliament passed a law saying that non-Hindi speaking states could, if they wished, retain English as an "associate language" for another 10 years. But it failed to appease the fears of millions of Indians who feared loss of their jobs to Hindi speakers or the resentment of those states proud of their own native tongue.

Rule by riot not being uncommon among the explosive Indian population, it was not too surprising that on Jan. 26, in the State of Madras in the south, mobs began taking to the streets.

Madras is a Tamil-speaking state, a language used by about 34 million.

The rioters attacked trains, burned stations and cut telephone lines in an attempt to halt communication.

The mobs seized two policemen and burned them alive.

Seven persons burned themselves to death in protest suicides.

The riots then spread to Mysore and Kerala states where students attacked trains and post offices and stoned Hindi teachers.

In Calcutta where Bengali is the principal tongue, student demonstrators smashed windows of bookstalls and burned Hindi books.

For mild-mannered Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri the language riots were just one of many burdens but they threatened to have widespread repercussions.

Neither the Indian President nor some members of Shastri's cabinet approved of his handling of the situation.

The rioting put new strains on the ruling Congress Party, already bursting at the seams as result of the loss of former Prime Minister Nehru.

In Kerala state elections are scheduled for next month, and the Communists who made political profit out of the food riots of last November seem likely to make further gains out of the language riots.

Kerala is the only Indian state where the Communists ever have held power. They were in office from 1957 to 1959.

It is a tragedy of India that Nehru left it with a heritage of 17 years of democracy but failed to solve any of its other major problems.

The greatest of these is a faltering economy unable to feed India's exploding population. Hand in hand are inflation and mounting unemployment.

With all of these facing him, Shastri seemed ready to compromise on the language issue.

LAMB

February is the month of hearts and flowers.

Also, its the month when a small furry friends wakes up, yawns, takes a good look at the weather and decides whether or not to sleep it out for another six weeks.

Whatever his decision, most Canadians can look forward to lots of wintry days ahead, plenty of hearty, cold-weather meals still to prepare.

Mid-winter menus need a lift, and fresh fruit is a welcome appetite tempter.

"Grapes — red or green — and oranges are available nearly everywhere, and are a wonderful complement to lamb", says Mrs. Norma Morris, home economist for the New Zealand Lamb Information Centre.

Here is a new recipe she has worked out, teaming grapes and oranges with this delicate flavoured meat.

CALIFORNIA LAMB CHOPS

4 shoulder lamp chops, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon dried mint flakes, ¾ cup orange juice, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 10 whole cloves, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 4 orange slices.

Slash fat around edges of chops in several places; rub hot pan with a little fat from chops; brown chops well on both sides over moderate high heat; drain any excess fat.

Combine ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, mint and ¼ cup orange juice; pour over chops; cover and cook in oven at 325° F for about 45 minutes or until chops are tender.

Meantime in a small saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch and ¼ teaspoon salt; add cinnamon, cloves, orange rind and ½ cup orange juice; stir and cook over medium heat until sauce is clear and smoothly thickened; remove cloves; serve sauce hot over chops with garnish of orange slices.

Makes 4 servings.

Decorating Tip

If one of your rooms has architectural eyesores, such as beams that jut out, paint the walls and woodwork (doors, windowframes, baseboards, moldings, etc.) all in one col. our. Or, if you use wallpaper, select one that has an all-over pattern, but is not striped. This will camouflage the structural faults in your room.

Paint Stains On Brick

To remove fresh paint stains from bricks, use paint-remover and follow with a washing with water. In the case of old paint, scrape as much as possible off with a putty knife, and steel wool, and then if necessary use paint-remover.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. Please suggest a good, quick, easy way to clean my silverware.

A. Lay a piece of aluminum foil in the bottom of a dishpan, add about two quarts of warm water and two tablespoons each of salt and baking soda. Place your silverware in the pan, touching each piece to the foil. The tarnish will disappear.

Q. The seal between our bathtub and the tile wall has broken and crumbled away. How can I deal with this problem?

A. You can make your own resealer out of white tile cement and water, mixing this until it has the consistency of paste, then applying.

Q. How can I prevent my iron kitchen pots and vessels from rusting?

A. After washing, wipe these thouroughly dry, then apply a little lard or other grease or shortening.

WORLD OF RELIGION

by Louis Cassels

The largest single body of Americans, in terms of religious orientation, consists of those who do not belong to any church.

Even with church membership at an all-time high, non-members constitute 36 per cent of the population, or nearly 70 million persons in the United States.

This figure is somewhat misleading, because many Protestant churches do not count children under 13 as members, even though they are attending Sunday School regularly.

But after full allowance is made for such technicalities in record-keeping, the "Unchurched" still outnumber the adherents of any particular denomination. America's largest religious body, the Roman Catholic Church, has 45 million members. The biggest Protestant denomination, the Southern Baptist Convention, has 10 million.

Who are the unchurched, and why do they choose not to affiliate with a religious body?

Some are militant atheists. They are convinced that God doesn't exist, and are openly hostile toward religion, which they call an outworn superstition.

Atheists may get a lot of publicity when they denounce religious institutions or file court suits to bar recognition of God in public life. But there are a relatively small minority. Surveys by the census bureau and several private opinion research organizations indicate that only 2 or 3 per cent of the American people regard themselves as atheists.

Much more numerous are the agnostics who say, "I do not know whether God exists", but who act practically on the premise that he doesn't. In his new book, "Varieties Of Unbelief", (Holt, Rinehart and Winston), Prof. Martin E. Marty of the University of Chicago Divinity School says that the average church member would be hard pressed to name a single outspoken atheist among this acquaintances but he is "surrounded" by agnostics.

The agnostic does not dogmatically assert the non-existence of God, as does the atheist. He simply says that he finds no proof that this world, with all its pains and troubles, is the handiwork of a purposeful creator who is benignly disposed toward man. Compelled to adopt some working hypothesis about the meaning of existence, most agnostics are "practical theists", which is to say, they base their day-to-day decision on the assumption that man is alone in the universe, and must work out his own destiny without help or interference—from an Ultimate Source of life and value.

Another large contingent of the unchurched is made up of men and women who profess to believe in God, but who see no need to express or nurture their faith through church membership. Some of them are strongly attracted by the ethical teachings of Jesus Christ, but feel that these teaching have been betrayed by institutional christianity. Others find in the shortcomings of church members a convenient rationalization for not undertaking the duties and disciplines incident to personal involvement in the community of faith. The latter are wont to say that they can worship God just as well on a mountain top as in a sanctuary. Should someone point out that they usually spend Sunday morning on a golf course rather than a mountaintop, they reply that the principle is the same.

Record Graduation Day in pictures

Graduation Day is an important occasion in anyone's life. An occasion that certainly should be remembered in pictures.

When attending a graduation you'll want to shoot not only the graduation ceremony itself, but teachers, relatives and friends that the graduate may not see again for some years. In fact, you can take a complete record of all the happy and nostalgic moments. Then, with a sequence of shots arranged in an album, your graduate will have a pictorial record that he will cherish for years.

Whether it's a high school or a university occasion, graduation is an important time in anyone's life. And it's often more than a 90-minute ceremony. It really involves a series of days.

With this thought in mind, you can plan a complete snapshot story, beginning with the student as he prepares for final exams and continuing with the arrival of exam results. These scenes can be photographed when they actually happen, or they can be re-enacted.

On Graduation Day itself, you'll want a photo of the graduate trying on a gown and mortarboard. Later, you'll have a chance to snap the parade to convocation, your graduate receiving his diploma and the parade from convocation.

After the ceremonies, you'll want some informal shots at the garden party as your graduate, diploma in hand, chats with relatives, friends and teachers. For natural pictures, try to catch your subjects when they are relaxed.

Remember that side lighting, with the lighting coming over your shoulder, is better than light shining full face on your subjects. Avoid direct overhead lighting; with mortarboards, especially, it could create harsh facial shadows.

For outdoor shots on campus, backgrounds should also be given special consideration. Backgrounds can suggest a school atmosphere without distracting. To identify the locale, watch for landmarks or names on school buildings. That way, your photos will have extra meaning in the years ahead.

Verna Smith

Verna Louise (Stier) Smith entered into rest after a brief illness at her late residence, RR No. 3 Woodville on Thursday February 11th in her 40th year.

Born in Toronto, Verna Smith was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stier, and the beloved wife of Owen Joseph Smith of Woodville.

Remaining to mourn her passing beside her sorrowing husband are two sons Owen Jr. and Vernon, and two daughters Kathleen and Frances, all at home. Also surviving are two brothers Ernest L. and Robert Stier, and three sisters Sylvia (Mrs. Temple), Hazel (Mrs. Metcalfe) and Doreen (Mrs. Barnes) all of Toronto. Mrs. Smith received her education in Toronto and was a member of the Baptist faith.

The funeral service was held from the Mackey Funeral Home on Saturday, February 13th at 2:00 p.m. Rev. David Lemon of St. Paul's Anglican Church conducted the service and interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Jim Hartle, Lloyd McCuaig, Jack McKee, Jack Hartle, Lorne Bell and Andrew Jones.

with FORD MOYNES

In the retirement of D. A. Sinclair as a member of the Board of Waterworks Commissioners, the board as well as citizens in general lose the services of a gentleman who was quite conscientious and loyal in fulfilling the duties of his office.

Dunc. Sinclair was a member of the Commission for twenty years and in that time he sanctioned and witnessed a period of advancement of the water works service and he added his wise counsel to the expansion of the system and the plant.

He was the successor to the later former Mayor of Lindsay, D. J. McLean who was chairman of the water works commission for several years. D. A. Sinclair also took his turn in serving as a chairman of the commission and his practical business experience was very helpful in the business administration of this particular board.

His friends will be pleased to hear that he is improving nicely from a recent illness.

One of the important municipal positions in Lindsay and in practically every municipality is that of Medical Officer of Health. Very few citizens actually realise the importance of the office despite the fact that the Board of Health and the M.O.H. have very wide authority which at times can become drastic and harsh, because of the duties involved in keeping the municipality enjoying a clean bill of health.

Dr. W. J. Crowe recently tendered his resignation as the Medical Officer of Health in Lindsay following twelve years of fine service. The duties of office are many and varied and highly important in connection with the welfare of the municipality and the remuneration is termed a pittance.

There are hundreds of people who can testify to the fine service rendered by Dr Crowe. He was a friend of many citizens.

District Drama Festivals will be held at Ottawa, Goderich, St. Catherines, Orillia, Pembroke, Burlington, Waterloo, Haliburton, Sudbury and Port Hope.

At the Kawartha District Drama Festival in Port Hope on April 30 and May 1, schools competing will be Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute, Cobourg Collegiate, Peterboro Collegiate, Kenner Collegiate (Peterboro), Adam Scott Collegiate (Peterboro), Milbrook High School, Courtice High School, Bancroft High School, Madoc High School, Nicholson Catholic College (Belleville) and Port Hope High School. The ajudicator will be Dennis Sweeting.

DOUBLE FEATURE

San Quentin, Calif. (UPI) — Inmates at San Quentin prison will be treated to a double feature movie this weekend.

Featured are "The Killers" and "A Shot In The Dark".

If attendance isn't what it should be, authorities might try the film at a nearby drive-in theatre where "The Great Escape" is showing.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

IS YOUR FACE RED? In spite of all warnings, did you get a sunburn over the weekend? If so, how painful is it?

Any degree of sunburn is considered an injury by doctors. Physicians call it "an insult to the skin." It surely insults a woman's looks!

With a severe case, you must have medical treatment. A slight burn can be relieved with first-aid cream or with a paste of baking soda and water. Further sunning must be avoided, of course, until the skin returns to normal.

Once normal, the skin requires special pampering to offset the crisping and coarsening effects of burning. These are the methods:

Nightly apply a moisturized facial cream or lotion to the face and shoulders. After baths massage the body with moisturized hand or body lotion. Once weekly, take an oil soak. Simply slather on skin or baby oil, and let it remain while you relax on a big towel for 15 minutes. Then tub and follow up with a brisk toweling and lotion massage.

As a substitute for oil soaks, water-admissable bath oils do a good job when they are used daily. Soaps and lotions with the pH factor also help to normalize the skin.

Naturally, where sunburn is concerned, an ounce of prevention—timed exposures and suntan preparations—is worth a pound of cure. That's obvious now. What may not yet be obvious is the fact you may not be able to tan for years after a bad burn. So beware, and from now on take extra care!

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Orchard

In local records of the last century for Seagrave district, the names Orchard, Moon, Reynolds and Rogers appear frequently as church leaders and public-spirited citizens. Many of the present-day families are descended from one or more of these lines.

In 1857 a union of these families took place when Mabel Reynolds, daughter of Richard Reynolds and his wife Hannah Rogers, became the wife of Albert Orchard, son of Albert Orchard and his wife Elizabeth Ann Moon. This marriage lasted nearly 67 years but during the last few months both of the partners have gone to their reward.

The couples first twenty-one years were spent on the old Orchard homestead acquired by the grandfather, Jacob Orchard in 1863, and situated at the mouth of the Nonquion Creek overlooking Lake Scugog.

During this period a daughter Dorothy (Mrs. Clayton Baker, Orillia) and a son Grant were born to them.

When the homestead was sold Mr. and Mrs. Orchard with their family moved to Port Perry, but they still wished to farm so after a year returned to live on what was known as the Jack Leask farm on the 14th concession of Reach. After 20 years there, the Orchards retired, going first to Stouffville and later to Orillia to be with their daughter.

Throughout their lives home and church constituted the chief interest of this family. Both were loyal members of the Methodist and later the United Church. As a member of the official board Mr. Orchard helped in the planning and financing of the Methodist Church (now Seagrave United) built in 1906.

Mrs. Orchard, a woman of great dedication, served faithfully in the Ladies Aid and made a worth-while contribution to church life as teacher of the adult Bible class.

Times have changed greatly since Mr. and Mrs. Orchard started farming. Without tractors or power mowers they tilled their fields and kept their lawns and gardens in beautiful condition. Mr. Orchard was a graduate of Guelph College in dairy farming and excelled as a buttermaker. In his day he shipped hundreds of 50-lb. boxes of butter to Eaton's via the old "Nip-and-Tuck". At local fairs he won so many prizes in butter that he was banned from competition so he had to exhibit at "Toronto Fair" where he also won prizes.

After retirement 24 years ago the Orchards enjoyed a well-earned rest, using their time in reading, gardening and in taking trips with their children and grand children.

They were not long parted in death. Mr. Orchard passed away on July 15, 1964 in his 92nd year and Mrs. Orchard on Jan. 20th, 1965 in her 89th year.

Both funerals were held in Port Perry with their grandson and nephews acting as pall bearers. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Prince Albert.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

FOR BETTER RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN DOCTOR, PATIENT

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I have been a reader of your column for the past two months. During that time, I have never once noted any disagreement on your part with colleagues in your profession. Does that mean you think there is nothing to criticize?—Mr. G.

Comment: I don't recall the exact date, but a fair guess is that the column has appeared in newspapers for the past 10 years. Any of you folks who have tasted, chewed and swallowed some of the ideas I've put forth, will readily remember times when I've disagreed. Not had any short-tempered disagreements, mind you. Just disagreed.

For example, I've said or hinted or accused:

That doctors who keep patients waiting, hours after appointment time should be challenged by patients. One emergency is excusable, but habitual (or none at all) are insufferable, especially when the one who waits is in pain or other discomfort.

That doctors who tells elderly patients, "What do you expect at your age? ought to stand in a corner wearing a dunce cap.

That doctors who say, "better stop smoking" as they smoke complacently and blow the smoke in your face ought to take a lesson in practical psychology.

That doctors who manifestly overcharge should be willing to stand before a committee of the local medical society to answer charges.

OWN SICKNESS MAKES DIFFERENCE

That doctors who are rough handler of patients during examination and treatment will never be in empathy with the sick and suffering until they come down with some severe illness themselves, and are on the receiving end for a change.

That time is what the patient craves. The best doctor is an inefficient doctor if he does not give his patient sufficient time to ventilate his troubles; who doesn't take the time to get a complete history.

That the borderline between quackery and good medicine is often a thin one. Doctors who make rash promises, who use "special" instruments (apparently unused by the regular profession), who frown on membership in local or state societies for silly reasons, who use "special" medicines in treatment (especially imported from Europe or Asia, and "unobtainable" by other physicians); such should be suspect.

That doctors should make consultation for the sick patient and worried family an easy process, instead of being hurt and pride wounded because of such request.

That doctors who do not make house calls or night calls should so inform the patient in the beginning. In emergencies, the family will accept the colleagues he has sent in his place.

That the doctor-patient relationship should be like a successful business arrangement. Patient and doctor should be partners. Each has a responsibility. Health bankruptcy results if either one falls down on his job.

Mr. G., such are only a few of my suggestions and gentle disagreements with my fellow physicians.

Fellowship and Service, theme of Kinsmenship, meeting told

The Kinsmen theme of fellowship was brought out in a joint meeting of the Lindsay and Peterboro clubs at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night to celebrate the 45th anniversary of the organization.

The guest speaker, Michael Clifford, National Registrar and Director of Kin Information, of Ajax, said fellowship was the key to all the work the club was doing. He said, "Fellowship is not just a big party, it is a sincere belief in and understanding of the Kinsmen Club". He said it includes concern for others.

Mr. Clifford said there was not a Kinsman in the room who couldn't feel great pride for the accomplishments of the club in the 45 years since its inception.

Governor James Gartshore of Port Hope and D was appropriate on Founder's Night that the two clubs should be joined for their meeting. Governor Gartshore agreed that fellowship mixed with the proper proportion of service was essential. Governor Gartshore, however, emphasized that the present club members should be out looking for new members for the club. He said new members are necessary to keep the club alive. "Without new members coming in we will stagnate; the ideas of the club will become old with us".

He told the members they must have the foresight the founders had and strive to get young members for the club.

The consolatoin prize was won by one of the youngest players, Roy Reeds.

Refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the crokinole playing bringing a happy time to a close.

The Baptist Hi Fellowship meet every Sunday night in the church vestry and the officers are: President - Bonnie McGahey, Vice-President - Christy Harper and Secretary Dorla McGahey.

High School Board unable to pay half cost of bleachers

A motion to concur with the LCVI Student Council's request that the Victoria County High School Board pay half the costs of installing bleachers in the LCVI gymnasium was lost because of the financial position of the board this year.

Secretary of the board, J. S. Dix introduced the request of the Student Council president, Richard Chataway, to have seats erected in the gymnasium. In its request, the Student Council offered to pay half the cost of the bleachers and asked the board to pay the balance of the $2,600 project.

The board refused to approve a motion by Rev. O. G. Locke and G. Oliver that the board concur with the Student Council in their request because the board cannot afford it this year.

The board decided to advise the Student Council that they were not in a position to accept but thank them for the offer, as well as thanking them for all their former contributions to the school, including a new flag.

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS

Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology

An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic programmer to provide the most accurate electricity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.

The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergiser which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete and remarkable action, restoring in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like" freshness to garments.

The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning power and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heaviest woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.

The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

Christina McMillan

Mrs. John E. McMillan, the former Christina Driscoll, of 111 Glenelg Street West, say, entered into rest at the Ross Memorial Hospital on Friday, February 12, 1965, in her 88th year.

Born at Glenarm Ontario, she was the beloved wife of John E. McMillan of Lindsay. The McMillans moved here after residing from 1918 to 1945 in Bounty, Saskatchewan. Mrs. McMillan was a member of Queen Street United Church in Lindsay.

The funeral was held from the Mackey Funeral Home on Monday, February 15th, 1965 at 2:00 p.m. Rev. R. A. Garrett conducted the service assisted by Rev. W. J. Scott. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Russell Driscoll, Gordon Jamieson, Mac Murchison, Ross aMc-Kay, Robert Neill and Grant Ferguson.

Architects to prepare drawings of addition to Fenelon Falls High 12 to 14-room addition to increase the enrolment capacity of the Fenelon Falls High School to 900 students is planned by the Victoria County High School Board. Pentland and Baker, an architectural firm from Toronto will be asked to prepare drawings for the new wing which would increase the capacity by 300.

Chairman of the composite committee, Arthur Long, told a meeting of the High School Board Wednesday the architects could not be hired until the Department of Education gave its approval. Preliminary negotiations are underway for the acquisition of the property and when this is completed an application will be filed with the department he said. (2503)

Before the application can be made to the department it will be necessary to study a serious sewage problem in Fenelon Falls, Mr. Long said. It was suggested that the installation of additional septic tanks or a sewage disposal plant might be the answer to the problem.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Political Notebook

by Norman MacLeod

Ottawa (UPI) — It still isn't quite certain whether the noise that went up from the Conservative caucus when Leon Balcer announced that he was staying at least temporarily with the party was a gasp of relief or a rude bronx cheer.

But the probabilities favor the latter assumption.

One thing is certain: the Conservative caucus, which overwhelming supports Diefenbaker as the Chief, is not accepting the reservations which Balcer announced as accompanying his return to the fold. In other words, no double standard of loyalty is going to be recognized within the caucus for the convenience of the rebel from Three Rivers and to save his political face.

Regardless of his protestations in public, Balcer is going to have to accept the same obligations towards the party as the other caucus members. And amongst those obligations acceptance and support of the party leadership is absent.

The weakness of Balcer's position in the eyes of veterans of the caucus, who are fairly hard-hearted political realists, is his failure to establish himself as the leader of any solid Quebec movement. All through his maneouvers it has has been apparent that, of the 10 Quebec MPs who sit as Tories, only three identify themselves with the highly devious course he has been plotting.

The other six, although they voted against the Diefenbaker flag policy, have remained loyal to Diefenbaker's leadership of the party.

Actually, it is no secret in Parliament Hill circles that a considerable segment of the Conservative caucus was disinclined to accept Balcer on the terms of his past week's speech to the Montreal Canadian Club. Counsels of moderation, however, finally prevailed. The desire to see the dust of discord settle was general.

But Balcer's status in the caucus definitely rests upon a good behaviour position. The fact is that so long as he remains in the caucus he has to accept the Diefenbaker leadership of the party, since he has no other alternative. The caucus members, furthermore, are bound in a common pledge of loyalty to the party leadership as a condition of their participation in the joint deliberations.

No exception from this form of loyalty are going to be made in Balcer's favor.

In brief, the pro-Diefenbaker caucus is not going to treat Balcer as though he represented Quebec Conservatism. For they are convinced in their own minds that he doesn't, and that the failure of the Quebec Conservative MPs to rally solidly to his support is proof of this fact.

Actually, the majority of the caucus associates the Three Rivers MP with the English speaking Cabal in the party which has been trying without success to oust Diefenbaker from the leadership.

Johnstown Jets in second place

Johnstown Jets made second place in the Northern Division of the Eastern Hockey League last week end with a three game sweep to move one point ahead of the Long Island Ducks.

The Jets winning streak is now at six consecutive games, and coach Dave Lucas has the boys playing their best hockey of the season. In their three game splurge, the Jets outscored their rivals 18 - 6 with penalty killing wingmen Billy Ives and Danny Patrick also leading offensively. In the last six wins, Ives has scored 11 goals and Patrick 5. Team captain Dick Roberge continues to lead the league with 48 goals and 63 assists for 111 points. Coach Dave picked up two more assists over the weekend and two penalty minutes.

After their game in Greensboro last Wednesday night, the Jets meet the New York Rovers at home Saturday and the Jersey Devils on Sunday night. A country music show will precede the Saturday night game and Sunday night is family night when dad pays full price, mother pays half and the children get in for 25c each.

More teachers needed for LCVI

Additional teachers will be reuired for Lindsay and Fenelon Falls high schools and W. S. W. Breese, principal of the LCVI, said his school will need more rooms. A new wing is being planned for the high school in Fenelon Falls.

Mr. Breese told a meeting of the Victoria County District High School Board he would reuire at least six more teachers for the LCVI and the board granted Mr. Breese and Fenelon Falls principal Ross Sturgess permission to go to the Park Plaza Hotel and interview teachers.

Mr. Breese stressed the need for more classrooms and suggested a wall be built in the agricultural room and two mezzanines be built in the existing shops.

Mr. Breese estimated next year's enrollment at 1,700. He said this year 35 students more than the estimated 1,525 enrolled at the LCVI.

EMO REPORT

The Emergency Broadcasting Plan

by EMO Co-ordinator for Victoria—Haliburton JAMES HALL

THE EMERGEI BROADCASTING i

Most people, when they hear that there's been a serious accident or disaster, listen to their local radio station for a news report. Broadcasting over the years has built up a reputation for being "Johnny-on-the-spot" when it comes to keeping the public informed of such events. When it's a disaster such as the Winnipeg flood or the Springhill mine explosion, broadcasting stations and networks provide means for keeping the public informed and for the issuing of instructions and advice.

It's logical, then, that in survival planning for a nuclear war, the authorities responsible for such planning should consider use of broadcasting facilities to warn and instruct the public, and that is precisely what has been done. In fact, the sounding of the Alert Warning on sirens means that the Government expects an imminent attack on the North American continent and that the public should listen to the radio for instructions.

In wartime, all national telecommunication systems, including radio and television broadcasting, will be controlled and administered by the Emergency National Telecommunication Organization (ENTO), a body responsible to the Minister of Transport. Under the authority of ENTO the CBC has been delegated the responsibility for developing, organizing and operating an Emergency Broadcasting Plan.

If the North American continent should ever be subject to a nuclear attack it is imperative that the public be warned as quickly as possible. Broadcasting facilities, operating in conjunction with the Army's National Survival attack Warning System, are an obvious medium for this purpose. CBC and privately owned "standard band" radio stations combined reach about 98% of the population of Canada and TV is not far behind. There are, however, certain prerequisites in using broadcasting facilities in order that government at various levels may warn, instruct and advise the public.

First — It is imperative that only official announcements — warning and instructing the public, be broadcast.

Second — it is essential that such official warning announcements and instructions be broadcast as quickly as possible after the army has sounded the National Alert.

Third — It must be possible to keep some, if not all, broadcasting stations in operation during the attack and post attack phases even though Hydro power has been disrupted and fallout radiation intensities have reached dangerous levels.

Let us now examine the prerequisites and the associated problems: The First — only official announcements are to be broadcast. We are all too familiar with "flash" news reports that we've heard or read which, later on when more factual information became available, have been shown to be quite errouous. We can't afford such a risk during the pre-attack and attack phases of a nuclear war. In order that all stations broadcast only official announcements, they must either be instructed individually as to what to broadcast or simultaneously be fed official announcements originating from a Central Federal or Provincial Control Studio. Feeding all stations simultaneously obviously provides the desired coordination and control, but it requires an organization which would be in a position to coordinate the technical facilities and assume the responsibility of originating the official announcements.

Of the approximately 236 CBC and privately-owned "standard band" radio stations, 111 are connected daily to one of the three CBC radio networks while such networks are in operation. In addition, there are approximately 90 low power radio transmitters permanently connected to one of the CBC radio networks which, in many cases, provide smaller communities with the only radio service available. Such stations combined reach about 97% of the population of Canada. The nucleus of an emergency radio broadcasting network then exists for the hours that such networks are in operation. Normally, this is about 16 hours per day local time but because of the time differences in Canada, the period during which radio networks are in operation in all provinces simultaneously is somewhat less than this.

To establish a 24-hour state-of-readiness, network services must be in operation at all times and stations not presently connected to one of the networks must be provided with such a connection in order that they may be fed official announcements from the Emergency Broadcasting Network.

The second requirement is that these official warning announcements and initial instructions be broadcast as quickly as possible after the Army has sounded the National Alert Warning. Normally, orders of the companies providing the radio network services for all of Canada, to meet daily national and regional programme requirements, are centralized through Traffic Offices in Toronto. It is completely impractical to consider ordering up the Emergency Broadcasting Network using the same procedure. To arrange networks in the configuration required for emergency broadcasting, decentralized ordering under emergency conditions is required.

So much for the Emergency Broadcasting Network — the facilities existing, and the additional facilities required to meet emergency broadcasting requirements.

Action by the Corporation to implement the Emergency Broadcasting Network is predicated on the Army having been authorized to sound the National Alert. Between the Federal Warning Centre and the CBC's Ottawa Radio Studios there exist full communication facilities. Also between Provincial Warning Centres and the nearest CBC studio, similar facilities the Army's Federal Warning Centre can immediately let the CBC know at the Central Federal Control Studio and through Provincial Warning Centres at Provincial Control Studios that they have been authorized to and are sounding the National Alert. On receipt of such information, the CBC can then implement pre-arranged procedures and order up the Emergency Broadcasting Networks pre-empting all previously arranged network schedules and programmes. Within five minutes or less under this Plan, the Federal Control Studio will be connected to all Provincial Control Studios and all broadcasting stations in each province connected in such a way that they will receive a feed from their Provincial Control Studio. Operating personnel of individual radio, TV and FM stations will be alerted by an alarm device connected across the network termination that the Emergency Broadcasting Network has been set-up and is ready to feed official announcements to be broadcast over all stations in operation at the time. All broadcasting stations in Canada have been instructed by the Department of Transport that under such conditions they are to discontinue normal broadcasting and to re-broadcast only what is being fed to them by means of the Emergency Broadcasting Network.

Thus, within a matter of minutes of the sounding of the National Alert by the Army every broadcasting station in Canada will be connected to the Emergency Broadcasting Network and, if in operation, will be broadcasting the Army's Alert Warning Message and other official survival announcements.

All of the foregoing presupposes that initial broadcasting of the Alert Warning and subsequent survival announcements will be done from peace-time studios, many of which are located in the center of possible targets. It is true that initial broadcasts may emanate from such studios, but the Emergency Broadcasting Plan will also provide emergency studios well removed from such targets which, when manned by broadcasting personnel, will take over the responsibilities of originating the announcements of warning, instructions and advice.

Earlier, it was stated that the third problem to be resolved is to make sure that some, if not all, radio stations remain in operation during an attack and post-attack phases, even though Hydro electric power fails and radiation intensities reach a dangerous level. This means that certain stations will have to be earmarked as "key stations" and equiped with emergency power plants and a protected area from which operating personnel may continue to operate the station safely during periods of heavy fallout intensities. Such stations, if not normally in operation on a 24-hour basis, will be staffed outside of normal operating hours and be ready to go on the air, should an emergency arise, within a matter of seconds.

To recapitulate the features of the Emergency Broadcasting Plan:

1. All radio and television broadcasting stations in Canada, with the exception of some northern stations, will have 24 hour per day connection to the Emergency Radio Network.
2. At Ottawa and in each province, a radio studio which has direct communication facilities with the federal and provincial warning centres will be staffed 24 hours per day.
3. Existing CBS radio networks will operate 24 hours per day.
4. Emergency orders will permit the setting up of the Emergency Broadcasting Network in a matter of minutes.
3. All primary target areas will receive official warning and instructions by radio over local radio stations, many of which normally remain on the air 24 hours per day, or over radio stations which are maintained in a state-of-readiness to go on the air in a matter of seconds.
6. Radio transmitters which are considered "Key Stations" will be provided with emergency power facilities and modified to protect operating personnel during periods of high intensity fallout radiation.
7. Emergency broadcasting studios will be established.

Erik Neilson, MP makes blistering attack on Liberals at Lindsay meet

The colour-party of the 2nd Lindsay Scout group line up for a church parade Sunday morning, to open Boy Scout Week in Canada. The members of the colour-guard (left to right) are: Gregory Smith, Marvin Howie, Paul Shea, Wayne Callahan and Alan Konyer. —"Post" Staff Photo.

The Liberal Party have "fumbled and bumbled their way through two years of office" declared Erik Neilson, MP for Yukon who addressed members of the Victoria, Haliburton and North Ontario Association annual meeting Saturday. He described the government as the most inept, inadequate and incompetent administration to have ever ruled Canada and said, "This is a government that does not deserve to stay in office one more day".

In a 45-minute speech Mr. Neilson said "At no time in our history has there been such a division, race has been set against race and Mr. Pearson is the architect of this unrest".

"No reshuffling of the deck will clear the ills that beset this government", he said, "they have been reckless when caution should have been used, hesitant instead of bold and they have failed to live up to their election promises, that their government would be one of bold talents".

Erik Neilson, who triggered the Dorion Inquiry through his questions in the House, accused Justice Minister Guy Favreau of deplorable attacks against Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker, done, he said to avert attention from the woes which beset his own party.

"With all the scandals, alleged and near scandals and cases of patronage and near patronage it is hard to keep track of these events", said Mr. Neilson. He said the Prime Minister is taking the attitude that all this will blow over. "It is said the country cannot afford another election", he said, "but in the light of the facts brought out by the Dorion Inquiry, can we afford not to have an election?" he asked.

"When the leadership of the country is in doubt, it is the responsibity and duty of the opposition to unseat the government".

Mr. Neilson said Britain's Profumo scandal was a weakness of the flesh. "This affair was petty compared with our cabinet", he said, adding they have "a price on their office".

"The book brought out already by the Inquiry put Hal Banks in the shade", the speaker charged. He said Mr. Banks was allowed to escape Canadian Justice at a cost of $25,000 bail, "a small price of $5,000 a year to escape justice".

Greatest Challenge

Canada is today facing its greatest challenge and it needs the Conservative Party more than at any other time in its history, Monty Robson of Fenelon Falls told the annual meeting of the P.C.s.

Mr. Robson, Victoria County registrar of Deeds called on party supporters to "unite and put aside all internal bickering".

"I have never", he said, "witnessed so much disunity in Canada as during the past two years. I do not think the Liberals can lead us out of our present mess — but the Conservative Party can lead us out of the wilderness".

Speaking on the new maple leaf flag, Mr. Robson said, "I accept the flag as a function of democracy. It was however,

Police called "glory seekers" by Cresswell woman, court told

Lindsay Police Constable William Bowes said a Cresswell woman accused the police of being "glory-seekers" and said they were "arresting a man out of their territory." Constable Bowes, giving evidence in Lindsay Police Court Monday against Bruce Leslie Acton, 34, of RR1 Cresswell, who was charged with drunk driving, said Mr. Acton's wife made the allegations after her husband was charged about 3:30 a.m. on February 14.

The charge was reduced to one of impaired driving and Mr. Acton was fined $75 and costs or 15 days and his driver's license was suspended for six months.

Constable Bowes said he stopped Mr. Acton's car on Angeline Street North at 3:10 a.m. on February 14 because it was travelling very slowly and answered the description of a car he was looking for.

The constable said the accused appeared to have been drinking and when he got out of the vehicle he staggered, fell and hit his head on the door panel. He and his wife, who Constable Bowes said did not appear to have had anything to drink, were taken to the police station.

Defense Council M. J. Cunningham said the reason the accused fell was he slipped on some ice. He said the accused was wearing leather-soled shoes with leather heels.

Mr. Cunningham said a drinking charge was very difficult to defend because although it is legitimate to have a drink the mere smell of alcohol on a man's breath casts considerable weight on the case. He said when a man has a couple of drinks, he is naturally more cautious and when he is cautious the police suspect there is something wrong.

Did not stop after accident, Kinmount youth fined $50

The court should assess the case purely on the facts." M. J. Cunningham advised Monday, "not considering that one is an older man and the other is a young man." Mr. Cunningham said there was a heavy onus on the Crown to prove that Lawrence W. Anderson, 17, of Kinmount, who was fined $50 and costs or 15 days for leaving the scene of an accident, was trying to escape civil liability when he did not stop his car after it collided with another driven by Charles Hodgson of Burnt River on Highway 121 on February 13.

Magistrate Ian Munro replied. "There is no prejudice on the part of this court." Magistrate Munro said he didn't believe the youth's story. He said the boy didn't notify the police after the accident he just went home, and he was satisfied Anderson could have stopped his vehicle but didn't intend to.

Mr. Hodgson said he was proceeding north on Highway 121 about 2:30 p.m. on February 13 and as he drove into Kinmount a car came off a side-road to his right, struck his car and continued on over the hill.

Fenelon Falls OPP Constable S. Brooks said he received information which led him to Anderson's home where he found the vehicle with a damaged headlight, parking light, and scratches of beige paint. Constable Brooks said the accused later admitted being the driver at the time of the accident.

The accused said he was going to Kinmount when his brakes failed. He said he swung around the corner and his car struck the Hodgson vehicle. He said he kept going over the hill because he didn't think he could hold the car on the hill. He said after he went over the hill he turned around and came back to the scene but the other car was not there.

Mr. Cunningham said from the evidence neither car stopped right at the scene of the accident and both men were only estimating the time.

John Diefenbaker a capable leader, Neilson tells PCs

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker clearly had the support of the members of Victoria, Haliburton and North Ontario, at the annual meeting Saturday.

Erik Neilson, MP for Yukon the speaker answering a question from the floor on Mr. Diefenbaker, described him as a man of ability, integrity and impeccable honesty and a capable leader of the party.

"He brought the PC's out of the doldrums, and obtained more seats from Quebec than any other man in our history.

He is by all accounts a capable leader of our party", he said, to applause from over 100 present at the meeting.

Sunday accidents

A car driven by Daniel Carl Montemiglio of 78 Glenelg Street sustained $300 damage when it went out of control and crashed on Highway 35 south of Fowles Corners at 5:50 p.m. Sunday.

At 5:15 p.m. Sunday, a car driven by Mary Elizabeth Johnson of Ogden Avenue, Port Credit sustained $150 damage when it crashed on Highway 7, one mile west of Oakwood.

Lindsay OPP Constable George Scott, who investigated both accidents said no injuries resulted. No other information was available.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Prediction?

Within a few years the Liberal Party will probably proclaim itself the Republican Party of Canada. This is our prediction. Charles Templeton, vice-president of the Ontario Liberal Party said Saturday he is in favour of retention of the monarchy in Canada. However, he also told delegates of the meeting at Orillia of the Central Ontario North Liberal Association that there should be room in the Liberal Party for the views of those who would abolish the monarchy to be heard.

Of course many Liberals wish to retain the Crown, but the trend to republicanism within the party is clearly discernible. The Young Liberals of today moving motions advocating the abolition of monarchy are the Liberal leaders of tomorrow.

The reason the flag issue was so important is that it was the first step in catering to the unjustifiable demands for the elimination of the symbols of this country's inheritance. What next after the removal of the official shield of Canada from the fly of our flag? As former Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa asks. "Do we discard that proud, significant armorial shield, and when Parliament and the people are otherwise engrossed do some facial surgery on Canada's Coat-of-Arms? That is very important, for that new grant of arms of Nov. 20, 1921, made at our own request, put the seal as it were on Canada's autonomy, whereby, through the blood and sacrifice of war, Sir Robert Borden asserted our right to sign the 1919 peace documents in our own name."

The old flag, proudly flown for 75 years was disposed of in an unseemly haste. What is the next of our institutions and traditions to be threatened? Make no mistake, the changing of the flag is a triumph for those who oppose the ideals of Crown and Commonwealth.

In Saturday's "Telegram" a theatre critic Ronald Evans writes a long column objecting to the playing of God Save the Queen at theatre performances. It is worthy of note he includes the same tired old phrase said by every person seeking to hide their true feelings: "Let me make it clear, I am not advocating the abolition of the monarchy or even of the national anthem." The sad truth of the matter is despite their pleas otherwise, this is what most of them are advocating.

We believe the monarchy is advantageous to Canada. We are opposed to the position taken by some people on the matter. It is up to the citizens of today to make it perfectly clear that they will not tolerate the erosion of their traditions piece by piece by the Liberal, or any other government.

Killed by train

MONTREAL—Miss N. L. Macmillan, formerly of Lindsay, superintendent of the residence at Macdonald College was killed instantly Saturday afternoon by a Grand Trunk train near St. Anne de Bellevue, while watching a CPR train pull out of the station with friends on board whom she had just seen off to Ottawa. The two railways run parallel where the accident happened, about a quarter of a mile west of the Grand Trunk station. Miss Macmillan was born at Mount Forest, Ontario. Rev. J. W. Macmillan, Halifax and Dr. Macmillan, president of the Wells College, Aurora, N.Y., are brothers.

Varsity here this evening

There is nothing talked of on the streets today but tonight's struggle between Varsity and the local OHA Juniors and the indications are that the rink will not hold all who are anxious to see the two teams in action.

Dr. Gilfillan of Uxbridge, will handle the tinkler. The doctor helped to handle the recent Victoria-St. Michael's game and pleased the fans immensely by his work. Although Varsity is conceded to be a pretty classy seven, strong in all departments, they will run up against a snag in the locals, who are out to win and win decisively.

Thunderball

LONDON (UPI)— Sean Connery will be surrounded by gorgeous girls, gangsters and gadgets in his next film about James (007) Bond, the secret agent with a "license to kill."

Connery, a ruggedly-handsome Scotsman, will have no less than four beauties playing opposite him in the latest James Bond film, "Thunderball," based on the novel by the late British author Ian Fleming.

One of the best kept secrets is who will be selected for the choice roles in this $5.5 million successor to "Goldfinger", another James Bond film that is well on its way to becoming one of the biggest money-winners of all time.

Terrence Young, who is directing 007's newest adventure, is guarding his girls as closely as Bond's boss "M", would guard new recruits to his spy ring.

Hopeful starlets have been smuggled into London at the rate of a blonde-a-minute and hidden in hotels ready for Young to look over.

For the past few months, EON productions has been deluged by thousands of photographs of starlets and models. Together with producer Kevin McClory and his executive producers, Albert Broccoli and Harry Saltzman, Young narrowed the first list down to 100 and finally 22.

In this list are blonde girls, buxom girls, sexy girls, girls with gorgeous figures, girls who pack a good punch. The producers want only the best. And nothing but the best is good enough for Bond, who likes them rough and tough, smooth and seductible. And he loves them when they have a secret to tell.

Ursula Andress set the standard in "Dr. No." Daniela Bianchi kept it up in "From Russia With Love." Honor Blackman became an international star through "Goldfinger," and Shirley Eaton will be remembered always as Bond's "Golden Girl."

The identities of the four lucky girls will not be divulged for another week or so, even though the film started shooting in Paris on Monday (Feb. 15). The film company will return to Pinewood studios before flying down to the Bahamas March 22 for eight weeks of shooting, mostly underwater scenes. The film is expected to be completed in 20 weeks.

None of the four girls will be established stars. Most of the finalists are either film starlets or television actresses.

The four roles are:

—Patricia, a blonde English girl who is a therapist. Marisa Menzies, a 22-year-old English model who lives in Milan, Italy is a hot favourite for this role.

—Fiona Kelly, a red-haired girl who is an international killer hired by the deadly organization "Spectre" to murder Bond after she makes love to him. Gloria Paul, a 25-year old English girl and former Blue-Bell dancer, is a good bet.

—Domino, mistress of Largo, the villain of the film. Two good prospects are Maria Grazia Boccela, a 22-year-old Italian actress from Rome, and Yvonne Monlaur, a 23-year-old Parisian girl.

Paula, a Bahamian girl who is a secret agent assisting Bond. Ena Hartman 21, of Los Angeles, Calif., has the inside track for this role.

The producers say their film will be devoted to the introduction of new girls and gadgets. One of the most important props is a hydrofoil which does 95 miles an hour. It is just under 80 feet long and was purchased from a company in Puerto Rico for $185,000.

Another gadget to be used in the film will be an "aluminaut," a unique submarine that moves like a diving bell, with tenacle-like mechanical arms.

Staking claims

Toronto (UPI)—The gold rush days are long over in Ontario and the uranium strike has ended also. Nowadays it's copper, zinc, and silver, and although the word rush isn't used any more, it's still in evidence.

Sparked by the huge Timmins discovery in Northern Ontario last year, prospectors staked 51,547 claims. Department of Mines officials reported it was a 300 per cent increase over the previous year.

The number of claims fell slightly short of 1955 when 57,367 claims were staked for an all-time new high. That was the year of a great uranium strike at Elliott Lake and a copper-lead-zinc find at Manitouwadge.

Mining men are hesitant today to predict another whopping year like 1964 but several say cautiously there is every indication it will be a strong prospecting year.

The reason is the Texas Gulf Sulphur strike in the Timmins area. The ore content is about equal in value in copper and zinc with a strong trace of silver.

The find set off such a flurry that the normal staff of two in the Timmins area was boosted to 13 by June and then gradually cut back.

The area north, east and west of Timmins has been staked almost solidly but this doesn't stop either the professional or Sunday prospectors. They have spilled over into the Lardar Lake area, once a great gold mining camp, and some of them moved into the Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury areas.

Some have staked right through the winter when the muskeg is packed firm and travel is easier than in the spring break-up and the fall freeze-up.

Although many mining men consider winter-staking has advantages, it can also bring death. Two men were frozen to death last week on a trip to stake claims.

"They just had bad luck," said one prospector. "If people think the winter is tough they should try to stake a claim when the muskeg is soft or the black flies are eating you up."

Nobody cares to speculate as to how many of last year's claims will revert to the Crown.

Under Department of Mines rules, a prospector must do 40 days of work a year for five years on each claim. In the first year, he is excused if he only does 20 days but he has to make up the other 20 days in the next four years.

The work can range from clearing the area of trees to trenching and diamond drilling. The size of each claim varies from 37-½ acres to 50 acres.

The no-work, no-claim rule came into effect to stop lazy speculators. Nobody minds speculation, an official explained, but they don't want the land tied up by someone who isn't going to try and develop it if it's worthwhile.

"The rule is aimed at people who stake a claim on the off chance someday that maybe in 10 or 20 years time a big company might buy them out," an official said.

Last year, 15,545 claims were cancelled in the province, 1,700 less than the previous year. However, the department noted that Ontario still has $1,160 claims in good standing.

Just to let his enemies know he is not fooling around, 007 will ride a motorcycle armed with rockets to knock out cars chasing him.

One of the highlights of the film will be when James Bond is plucked from the clear Bahamian waters where a flock of hungry sharks are about to have him for lunch.

The finale will be a "sensational" underwater battle involving 35 intrepid frogmen fighting for an atomic bomb.

The producers promised that the atom bomb will be a dud.

SUCCOTASH, ONTARIO STYLE

Succotash, a traditional southern dish, is a mixture of corn and beans. Often kernel corn and lima beans are combined in light cream, but the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, gives this recipe for succotash using Ontario canned cream-style corn.

SUCCOTASH

1 15-ounce can cream style corn, 1½ cups lima beans or green beans, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento.

Combine all ingredients, adding salt and pepper to taste. Cook until very hot. A little milk or light cream may be added if you wish to have a thinner mixture. Makes six servings.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Chamois

Chamois leather polishers should be washed after use in lukewarm suds made of mild pure soapflakes. Since this leather tears easily when wet, clean it by squeezing the suds through it repeatedly. Do not rub. Rinse in lukewarm water, squeeze out the excess water (do not wring or twist). Dry in the shade. Pull it gently this way and that several times while it is drying, to keep the leather soft.

Cleaning Refrigerator

Here's a paste that often has a way of perking up the appearance of old refrigerators: Mix two tablespoons of baking soda with one tablespoon of liquid bleach, and one teaspoon of liquid detergent.

Pie Crust

Try adding a bit of sugar to each cup of flour used in making pie crust. It will improve both the flavor and texture of your crust.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q How can I clean glass-fiber draperies?

A. Wash in hot soapsuds or detergent, by hand or in a washer — being sure, of course, to remove all hooks and other attachments that might snag. Rehang while they're still wet (but not dripping), and straighten the hems gently with your fingers. Glass-fiber materials should never be scrubbed during washing, squeezed in a mangle or twisted. They are never ironed either.

Q. How an I remove burned bacon drippings from my oven?

A. Turn off the pilot light, place a bowl of ammonia inside the oven, close the door, and the ammonia fumes will loosen those charred dripping and make the oven easy to clean.

Q How can I silence squeaky shoes?

A. Try piercing several small holes through the sole, just in back of the ball of the foot.

Superintendent leads reporters a "merry chase"

The new Maple Leaf flag was to replace one of the Red Ensigns flying at the Provincial buildings today, at a ceremony this afternoon.

Ken Fullbrook of the Lands and Forests had brought his own Maple Leaf flag and had declared his intention of raising it on the flag during the noon hour, despite the refusal of the building superintendent Fred Walton to change flags.

Mr. Walton had declared he would not change the flag until such time as Ontario passed a law making the new Ontario Red Ensign legal, when he said he would fly the Ontario flag.

Mr. Walton led newsmen a merry chase through the corridors and up and down stairs of the Provincial building this afternoon, when they tried to find out the time of the flag raising. Ignoring the questions he walked out of his office down stairs, through the cafeteria, out the back, upstairs again where reporters lost the trail. At no time during the chase would he say a single word about the flag.

Scouts, cubs, girl guides attend rally

About 600 scouts, cubs, brownies and girl guides attended a scout rally held at the century theatre Sunday afternoon. The rally was in commemoration of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the movement, whose birthday was on February 22. The rally opened Scout Week in Canada.

The main features of the rally were an address by B. Brown, the District Commissioner from Peterboro, who spoke on fitness in scouting and a film of the World Scout Jamboree held in Greece two years ago.

The girl-guide company from Fenelon Falls put on a skit humourously depicting some of the problems in discipline a leader faces.

Prior to the rally, at a father-and-son breakfast held, at St. Mary's auditorium, M. J. Cunningham, Q.C., presented Queen's Scout rings to Garry Curtin and Michael Begley of that group. The breakfast followed a parade to St. Mary's Church where Father R. Hart dedicated the group's two new Canadian flags.

rammed down our throats by pressure. It is said only the Liberals did something about the flag when others only spoke about it. Isn't there a saying, 'Fools rush in where angels fear to tread.'".

Danny Tackles Doggondest Job!

Danny Thomas suggests that unless pet owners want to make a comedy act out of washing their dog, they follow these helpful hints to soften the job. Don't use heavily scented soap, or too much water, unless you like to go swimming with your pet, says Danny. The comedian also points out not to use water that is too hot, or dunk the sensitive nose. The big assist, Danny mentions, is Culligan soft water in his home, which makes lots of lather that rinses away quickly. Do yourself and your dog a favor by making it a speedy job.

NEWS FROM F.F.D.H.S.

Queen approved flag, so should we, reader claims

Dear Editor:

I feel that I have to write again. not that I really want to, but I feel I am forced to.

In the Toronto Star, I read the following article "Lindsay, Ontario. The red ensign flies stubbornly over the goverment buildings here. Building superintendent Frederick Walton insists the Maple Leaf flag is not official, because it has not been approved by Canadians in a national plebiscite."

I believe strongly that this man who is employed by the Ontario Government is showing his disinterest in being loyal to our country, and most of all his disbelief in Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth. The Queen approved the red maple leaf flag with gladness.

And I belive as long as she is the Queen of Canada, all loyal citizens should go along with her decision, and her Royal approval of this new flag. If not, such a person should resign from his duty. And I mean, Mr. Walton who being employed by the Ontario Government has openly denied the existence of Her Majesty's authority.

I believe the Ontario Conservative government should do something about this matter, or else never claim again to be loyal to Queen and country.

T. van Halteren,
RR1, Lindsay.

NEWS FROM F.F.D.H.S.
by Ron Beall

Rehearsals for the Variety Night to be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights, February 24 and 25, are now in final stages. The show with Mr. Lindsay of the Science Department at the helm, promises to be the best show yet. One of the differences in the presentation this year is the number of vocal and instrumental groups putting on a performance. Most of the groups have been organized by students, and it is surprising to find all this musical talent in our midst.

Tickets for the Variety Night are available from any student upon request. The prices are 75c for adults and 50c for students with a Student Card.

Since Ron McInnis, the regular Boys' Sports reporter has been absent this week, I might add that both the Junior and Senior Basketball Teams severely trounced the Bancroft teams on Tuesday, February 16. Allan Junkin and Doug Lawrence were the big point-getters in the Senior game and Fenelon won by a score of 57-35. The Juniors won by a score of 41-19. Blair Johnston, Bruce McKague and Jim Webster were the high scorers for Fenelon.

GIRL'S SPORTS
by Kay Weaver

The Senior Girls' Basketball Tournament for the Kawartha District will be held on February 27 at Bancroft. The Junior and Senior winners will then travel to Belleville for the C.O.S.S.A. Championship Tournament.

STUDENT COUNCIL
by Ron Beall

There is not too much to report on Student Council activities this week except for the Basketball dance on Friday, February 19, which will have been held by the time this column is in print.

If the proceeds from the Variety Night are as good this year as they have been the last few years, it will probably not be necessary to hold a fund raising campaign as the pocket book of the Student Council is in favourable shape.

Our flag raising ceremony was a day late because the flag did not arrive in time, but nevertheless, Barbara Lane, President of the Student Council braved the wind to hoist up the new maple leaf flag. I think that the time for argument and controversy over the flag is past, and whether or not we like it, it is a true Canadian flag, not a borrowed one and we should be proud of it.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

SOMEWHERE IN THE U.S.A. PROBLEMS ARISE EVERY DAY

A wife will be saying to her husband: "Why have you been so lazy lately? All you do is lie around the house". (He hasn't told her that he has angina and his doctor has warned him to take it easy.)

A husband will be saying to his wife: "I can't understand why you're such an angel most of the time and turn so devilish for a few days each month, like clockwork". (He has never heard of premenstrual tension.)

A youngster will be broken out with acne. His mother will say: "Why do you stay home all the time? Why don't you go out to dances like other kids?—not realizing the torment of the blemishes.

A daughter will be miserable because she is flat-chested.

A young boy is distressed at the nickname "sail-ears".

A woman will be complaining to the doctor of severe indigestion. X-ray and other examinations are negative. She has withheld most vital information. Deep resentment and marital unhappiness.

A nervous wife will at last admit that her young husband is impotent.

A woman with a large lump in the breast, with cancerous glands in the armpit, will say, "I noticed it months ago but was afraid to come and hear possible bad news".

A doctor will be asking a patient with mysterious symptoms to tell everything, but the patient will withhold the truth.

A doctor will be called out of a bowl filled with 10,000 basketball fans for an emergency, just when the score is tied in the final minutes.

A patient with a few heart skips can't be convinced by his doctor that he has a normal heart.

A patient will swear to his doctor that he'll never touch another cigarette. Lights one up as soon as he leaves the office.

A youngster who master-bates is conscience-stricken; certain that his life is ruined. Nevertheless, ashamed to discuss his problem with his family doctor.

A grandmother who is fearful that her daughter is sure to spoil her young grandchild by her modern methods of child-raising.

A grandfather who says, "Leave the children alone. They'll grow up in spite of everything".

A doctor will blow smoke in a patient's face and say, "Quit smoking. Tobacco is bad for you".

An emphysema patient, coughing himself blue in the face, will reach for a nother cigarette in the midst of his coughing spell.

A chronic alcoholic will try "just one more".

A patient will get his bill and have a relapse.

A patient will cut out one of my columns, submit it to her doctor and say, "Dr. Steincrohn says—". Her doctor will be noncommittal and say, "Interesting". Or perhaps, something entirely different.

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — A Frenchwoman florist whose customers include President Charles De Gaulle took one look at floral arrangements as done by Americans and decided:

The long-stemmed beauty look for which American girls are famous should be applied to flowers as well.

"In France, we go much taller, larger arrangements" said Suzy Aignan. 'I don't know why you cut, cut, cut the stems. In France, we do not. Maybe it is because we do things with the grand gesture."

She figured, however, that one reason U.S. florists usually make smaller arrangements is the difference in homes. Most of those in her native Paris, for instance, are tall old structures with high ceilings and giant rooms which call for large arrangements Low ceiling, modern housing in the United States does not.

Mme. Aignan, 43, wife of a construction engineer and mother of two teen-aged boys, represents a fourth generation of her family as florists. Her great-grandfather founded the firm Debrie-Millon, in 1852.

Now, she, her father, mother and one sister run the shop located amid the great fashion houses of Paris.

Mme. Aignan said the shop holds numerous awards for floral arrangements — "every time we enter an exposition, we take first prize," she said without bragging, but as if this were a thing to be expected from 113 years of flowers.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs regularly orders from them for state occasions. But for the presidential residence, De Gaulle's own gardens provide the flowers.

Mme. Aignan, her family, and a supplemental staff, placed flowers in every room of the many roomed Palace of Versailles when the late President Kennedy and his wife were on an official visit to France. The palace was site for a De Gaulle reception. She said some 80 arrangements were placed about, each planned to blend with the tapestries and rugs of the rooms.

She admired also the classic Japanese way of arranging one group of flowers set perfectly vertical, another group at a 45-degree angle to the bowl.

"I like," she said, "but it doesn't sell."

Women's Institute 68th anniversary

This week-end is the 68th anniversary of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario. The organization, which was founded by Adelaide Hoodless in 1897 at Stoney Creek, soon spread throughout the Dominion of Canada across the ocean to the British Isles and other European countries and south to the United States.

On Sunday at 1:30 p.m. the editor Ethel Chapman, of the Women's Institute's magazine "Home and Country", and Mrs. Leonard Trivers will be interviewed on the CBC Television network programme Country Calendar.

A rink from Regina, Saskatchewan won the Dominion championship of the Schoolboys bonspiel with a fine record of nine wins and one loss.

Lindsay ladies were well represented at the bonspiel held at the Thornhill curling rink, Toronto. The Lindsay foursome won two and lost two games in a keenly competitive event. The rink: Mrs. Glad Laidley, Mrs. Gussie Walker, Mrs. Muriel Wetmore and Mrs. Glad Jordan.

In the Skitch button competition a rink skipped by Jim Jamieson went down to defeat a week ago, the victors being the four J's — John McCrae, Joe Brown, Jim Waddell and Jack Ward. However Jamieson skipping a mixed rink turned the tables on the four J's last Friday night and consequently they are again wearing the medals. Any four of a kind or a mixed rink can compete for these medal buttons.

Mrs. Glad Laidley has been attending the Diamond D event at Port Arthur. Mrs. Laidley represented the Ontario Ladies Curling Association as its president. A rink from the Toronto Dixie Club won the event, defeating a Sudbury rink in the final end of the final game.

Lindsay ladies were represented at an invitation bonspiel held at Orillia last week. The players report a very hospitable time in Orillia's beautiful new rink. No prizes, but a good time, reported skip Fern Reynolds. Lindsay players were Ethel Rodman, Doris Beaton and Jean Gillespie.

Recent scores: Walker 12 and McGahey 4; Kay 8 and Woollard 7; Mackey 2 and Wood 0.

A popular bonspiel at Bobcaygeon was attended by rinks from the district including Lindsay, Peterboro, Lakefield, Fenelon Falls. Rinks skipped by Peggy Woodrow and Kay Cook returned home with prizes in the first and second draw with one win and a high score. Lindsay rinks were: Peggy Woodrow ((skip), Muriel Wetmore and Fran Connolly. Kay Cook (skip), Elva Brown, Jean Gillespie and Dianne Davis. Louise Ashmore (skip), Doreen Broom, Marg. Walker and D. Beeton.

Three game winners at Bobcaygeon were L. M. Belfry, H. Martin and D. Thibadeau all of Bobcaygeon and Mrs. H. Hambly of Lakefield.

Skip Jerry Palmer of Fenelon Falls is having a good season. His rink won a recent bonspiel at Minden and also won the top award last week at the Fenelon Falls spiel. He has been a winner in other events.

Jim Curtis also of the Fenelon club, has also been a winner in different bonspiels. J. C. has been a keen competitor for several seasons and can always be counted on to provide a tough match. Recently, the Bancroft club with four sheets of ice held a men's bonspiel Thursday, Friday and Saturday with 48 rinks on hand. Richardson of the Toronto Mississauga club landed in first place with Curtis of the Cataract village the runner-up in a keen well curled ten ends.

The Lindsay Curling Club is about to lose two good curlers, George and Buff Aitkens. It is reported that George, for a number of years past, Chief Maintenance Engineer at the Visking plant, has received a promotion which will mean moving to Vancouver. George and Buff have shared in many prizes and they have participated in many bonspiels as well as in regular scheduled events. Quite recently Skip Aitkens piloted a rink to win top place in the Sengorge River Special. They will be missed by curlers in general.

Herb Woods whose funeral took place recently was quite a sport at the roarin' game as a member of the Lindsay Club for many years. He took to the game as a young man, played hard and well and passed through the ranks to become a skip. He was a keen competitor and his ability was quite consistent. He spent time, energy and money among curlers and took his place in various bonspiels. In the year 1928 he was a member of one of the Lindsay Ontario Tank ard rinks and as such his name appears on one of the large red and gold banners hanging on the walls of the Peel Street rink. The champions at that time were: Bruce Scott, S.A. Flavelle, F. Williams, F. Carew Jr., J. Griffiths, Herb Wood, W. E. Reesor and R. Butler Sr.

PROFESSIONAL TIPS FOR HOME TAILORING

S-T-R-E-T-C-H-I-E-S

By applying a few professional techniques any experienced home sewer can tackle a pair of woven stretch nylon leisure slacks with better than average results.

Here's how manufacturers of quality slim jims grapple with those two posers — proper cut and seam stretchability.

To insure a more accurate cut, they usually spread the fabric taut on a smooth surface and allow it, to relax sometimes for as long as 24 hours. They always cut with razor-sharp instruments to avoid pulled yarns and so that the pieces will always remain "true", are ever watchful not to stretch the fabric.

When unfamiliar with a fabric's degree of stretch, most conscientious manufacturers experiment first by running up sample seams and then whole garments.

To produce seams with the same degree of stretch as the fabric itself, many sew with the new "chain stitch", using specially engineered nylon threads rather than conventional ones which lack sufficient elasticity. Those using the "lock stitch" usually count on the elasticity of nylon threads to counteract this stitch's low stretchability.

Home sewers whose machines are not equipped with these stitch adjustments can use the "zigzag" stitch. Some home sewers report satisfactory results using very small stitches and nylon yarn.

Equally important to stretchy seams is an adequate number of stitches per inch. This is determined by the fabric's degree of stitch which can be measured on a ruler. A fabric with 30 to 35 per cent stretch requires a minimum of 14 to 15 stitches per inch, using three ply 70 denier nylon thread and no. 14 needle.

The manufacturer's first test is to stretch a sample seam to the maximum by hand. If it pops, he knows he must increase the number of stitches per inch. Sometimes a seam failure can be traced to thread tensions which should always be reduced to a minimum consistent with good seam appearance.

Good seam appearance is also maintained by feeding the fabric through the machine, allowing it to glide smoothly beneath the pressure foot without any undue pulling or pushing. Stretching of the fabric during sewing can cause variations in the number of stitches per inch as well as puckering.

Waistbands are usually cut in the opposite direction to the stretch of the fabric to provide sleeker fit. This also applies to button holes, which have been found to function more satisfactorily when placed in the opposite direction. For inserting zippers, no special techniques other than those suggested by the manufacturer, are needed.

Exposed fabric edges and hems should be turned-stitched or overcast and hand stitched to prevent fraying during laundering or dry cleaning. Use a long enough stitch so that the nylon thread will give during wear.

The name Bissette is one of the names closely associated with pioneer days in Lindsay, and Norman Bissette, widely known as one of Lindsay's most popular businessmen, has been associated with the retail shoe business in this district for many years.

Today Norman Bissette is receiving congratulations because as manager of the Agnew Surpass Store, he is now to be found in the newly modelled store, which was for one hundred years known as the Beall jewellery store. The new Agnew Surpass store is one of the finest stores of its kind in the area.

Norm Bissette, a native son of Lindsay started his career in the boot and shoe store business with the Robert Neill Store in Lindsay and was for some time manager of the Neill store in Cornwall. He returned to Lindsay a quarter of a century ago as manager of the Agnew Surpass store and evidence of his fine management is reflected today in the opening of the newly-appointed spacious new store. Apart from business, Norman Bissette has contributed a great deal to the musical entertainment in Lindsay as a well known pianist and vocalist, especially in connection with St. Mary' R. C. church and in service club work.

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS
Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology

An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic programmer to provide the most accurate selectivity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.

The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergizer which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete soil removing action, resulting in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like" freshness to garments.

The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning action and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heaviest woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.

The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

MRS. HILTON BROWN PASSES SUDDENLY

It came as a great shock to many citizens when they heard of the sudden passing of Mrs. H. Hilton Brown. Death came suddenly at the Peel street home shortly after Col. Brown returned from Whitby and Sunderland where he attended the funeral of a once fellow military officer, the late Major Arthur Welsh.

The late Mrs. Brown, however, had not been enjoying the best of health for some time past, although able to carry on much of her household duties. She bore her cross with Christianlike fortitude, was bright in the company of her friends and was at all times a joy to those who knew her best.

The late Mrs. Hilton Brown was born in Lindsay, graduated from the Lindsay schools and for several years was a member of the teaching staff at Victoria School on John street. It was always a distinct pleasure for former teacher and former pupil to meet through the years to renew acquaintances and talk over school days and many of those pupils rose to heights in their chosen professions and avocations.

Mrs. Brown was a devout member of St. Paul's Anglican Church and a cheerful worker in the institutions of the church. She was always generous, kind and greatly sympathetic in her assistance to others.

Left to mourn her passing, besides a devoted husband are two sons, Dr. Lawrence Brown of Ottawa and James Brown, partner in the firm of Brownies Men's Wear Store. Also left to mourn her loss, is a cousin Miss Mona Bott, who was the kind and constant companion of the deceased for many years past.

Powles Corners

The community was saddened when word was received of the passing of Mr. Albert Taggart at the Ross Memorial Hospital Lindsay on Thursday.

Bowmanville won Pee Wee Tourney Lindsay nosed out in Consolation

Lindsay's 16th Annual Pee Wee Tournament was run off without a hitch at the Kiwanis Arena Saturday except that the Lindsay Kinsmen Pee Wees won the Tournament Champions in the first game, and lost the consolation final in overtime.

The tournament got under way at 9:00 a.m. and wound up just before 9:00 p.m. after the completion of ten games plus an O.M.H.A. play-off game in between.

Scores in the Championship series were as follows: Bowmanville 5, Lindsay 0; Port Perry 4, Markham 1; Cobourg 2, Whitby 1; Port Hope 4, Newmarket 3 (overtime); Bowmanville 9, Port Perry 2; Port Hope 4, Cobourg 3; Bowmanville 5, Port Hope 2.

Scores in the consolation series were: Lindsay 8, Markham 3; Whitby 1, Newmarket 0; Whitby 4, Lindsay 3 (overtime).

As may be seen from the above scores, competition was very keen throughout the day. Each game consisted of three fifteen-minute periods straight time, with up to ten minutes sudden-death over-time in case of a tie. If a game was still tied after the ten minutes overtime, shots on goal in the overtime period decide the issue, but this was not required in either of the two overtime games.

In the consolation final for the Felix Forbert Trophy, the Kinsmen Pee Wees led 1-0 going into the third period and weed ahead three to one early in the third. Two quick goals by the Whitby Pee Wees however tied the score in the latter half of the third period, and the teams battled through nine minutes and thirty-five seconds of the ten minute overtime period before Whitby scored the winning goal.

Doug Kingsborough scored two of the Lindsay goals, and Don Rennie added the third. Goal scorers for Whitby were Moore with two, and singles to Ross and Heron. Moore scored the game winning goal.

In the Championship final, Port Hope started out strongly and had the Bowmanville lads on the ropes through most of the first period. Craig Douglas opened the scoring for Port Hope at 4:02 of the first period but Bowmanville managed to tie the count at 14:32 during a Port Hope penalty. Rogers scored for Bowmanville in the second period at 11:55 and Ormiston made it 3-1 early in the third period. Paul Muile received his Port Hope hopes at the 4:00 minute mark but the Greenshirts came back with two more goals by team captain Tom Simpson at 11:40 and 13:30 to clinch the game.

The Bowmanville boys were presented with the Tournament Championship trophy, the Sullivan Kennedy Trophy, which has been donated for the Annual event by the Lindsay Director Ed. Kennedy in 1949.

Charles Templeton, vice-president of the Ontario Liberal Party said at the meeting he was in favour of the retention of the monarchy in Canada. He told the delegates however, he thought there should be room in the Liberal Party for the views of those who would abolish the monarchy to be heard.

Merchants down Redmen 7-2 start group finals Tuesday

Lindsay Merchants rounded up the round robin series Friday night with a 7-2 win over Newmarket Redmen at the Kiwanis Arena.

The Merchants who were hurting from previous battle wounds, played without the services of team captain George Babcock and left winger Don Pilkworth, while the Redmen iced only ten men for their final game of the season.

Rick Purdy paced the Merchants Friday night, scoring three of their first four goals. Purdy twice and Frocking gave the Merchants a three goal lead in the first period, while Purdy's third goal was the only marker of the middle period.

The Redmen spoiled Doug Broad's bid for a second shutout early in the third period when Ivan St. John took Gary Yoporoski's rebound in the crease and gave Doug no chance. The Merchants came back with three goals before St. John scored from a rebound late in the period.

George Morasse, Richard Peel, and Gary Lywood scored the third period goals for the Merchants despite a solid effort by rookie Dave Ballard. Mike Jackson and Gary Heffernan each picked up three assists Friday night. Yearwood, Taylor and Frocking each getting a helper, while the Merchants drew nine of the sixteen penalties.

The Lindsay Merchants and the Aurora Tigers will now get down to serious business in a best of seven series for the group championship. The first game of the set is slated for Aurora Arena tomorrow evening, and succeeding Tuesdays as necessary with the Merchants playing home games Friday nights as necessary. The Merchants will get the extra game if the set is decided in an odd number of games, on the strength of the Merchant's better goals for and against average in the round robin series.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS AWARDED MAPLE LEAF STICKS

The icing on the cake, so to speak, was added Saturday at the Pee Wee hockey tournament, when the most valuable player on each team in the two final games were awarded hockey sticks autographed by the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Two members of the Lindsay Merchant hockey team, team captain George Babcock and centre man Ray McCabe picked the most valuable players.

In the consolation final between Lindsay and Whitby Wayne Newton of Whitby and Doug Kingsborough of the Kinsmen Pee Wees were awarded the coveted sticks. The most valuable awards in the final championship game went to Ron Smith of Port Hope and Tom Simpson of Bowmanville.

The autographed sticks were obtained by the Lindsay Minor Hockey organization from the Toronto Maple Leaf Hockey Club.

Rotary Bantams bow out Ajax won third game 5-4

Lindsay Rotary Bantams survived a 3 - 1 first period deficit to lead Ajax Bantams 4 - 3 at the end of the second period Saturday afternoon before losing out in the third period 5-4 and drop the second round O.M.H.A. set two games to one.

Gordon Grieder led the Rotary boys in scoring Saturday with a score tying pair of goals early in the second period. Alan Worsley pointed the Lindsay lads in the right direction at 1:33 of the first period with the opening goal, but three Ajax goals in five minutes late in the period set the stage for Grieder's rescue effort.

Greg Bodnar put Lindsay one goal up at 15:30 of the second period on a nifty passing pattern with Worsley and Willis but it proved insufficient. O'Brien snared a loose puck near the Lindsay cage at 5:42 of the third period to tie the score and McKinnon from Piotrowski and McCash tallied what proved to be the winner at 12:01. Two Ajax penalties in the last thirty seconds had little effect on the outcome as the last one called at 19:59 still hung in the whistle as the period ended. Each team scored twice while their opponents were short handed.

Speaker tells Reaboro WI of Nova Scotia Convention

Reaboro (PNS) — The members of the Women's Institute enjoyed coloured slides and a talk given by the past district president of West Victoria, Mrs. Laurent Hutton at their February meeting held at the home of Mrs. Jay Harper.

Mrs. Hutton acompanied by Mrs. Mrs. E. Giesel also past district president attended the 3rd annual Federated Women's Institute Convention held at Acadia University, Nova Scotia last June.

The speaker gave the highlights and main points of interest of the convention and with coloured slides showed many historic places which they had toured while on their trip. They made the journey by train and saw the scenic beauty and interesting cities and the Maritimes.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Elmer Mahood, convener of citizenship and education who also expressed her thanks to Mrs. Hutton for her informative talk.

Following president Mrs. Lloyd McGahey's welcoming remarks, Mrs. Kenneth Thorn was appointed as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Ward Holmes who had the misfortune to break her right wrist.

Mrs. Thorn gave the financial report following the reading of the minutes. Details of the dinner given in honour of the 4H Homemaking Club, "The Kapable Kids" were given.

The flower report was read by Mrs. Victor Sloan, remembering the sick in the community, and there was a balance on hand in this fund.

Several articles had been finished for the Red Cross Society by the members since the last meeting and Mrs. Kenneth Thorn reported on these.

A donation of $5.00 was voted to be sent to the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario for the International Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Dave Milling and Mrs. Victor Sloan agreed to act as leaders for the new Girls 4H Homemaking course, "The Milky Way" which would be starting soon. A donation of $10.00 was voted to sponsor the new Club. The leaders were appointed to attend the Training course in the Government building.

An invitation to attend Cambray's Women's Institute's 60th Anniversary to be held on March 3rd was accepted. As this is the same date as Reaboro's monthly meeting, it was decided to postpone the March meeting until March 10.

Included among the correspondence was a letter from the Lindsay Central Exhibition with details regarding the Women's Institute exhibit. The exhibit this year is "Grandma's hobbies" which consists of nine articles to be made including a bar of homemade soap, one pound dried apples, rolled oatmeal cookies, a quilt block, braided rug, sachet bag, a loaf of homemade bread, a pair of men's heavy mitts and a pair of men's hand knit socks. After some discussion on the Fair exhibit no action was taken.

Mrs. Jay Harper offered her home to hold a euchre party on Feb. 26 to add to the funds. A committee comprising Mrs. Victor Sloan, Mrs. Douglas McRobbie, Mrs. Elmer Mahood, Mrs. Lloyd McGahey and Mrs. Thorn were appointed to make arrangements for the card party. Mrs. Ranald Smith offered to donate the prizes. The charge will be 50 cents and a lucky prize will also be given.

Miss Christy Harper played a piano solo to conclude the meeting.

Following the "Queen" the hostess assisted by Christy and Mrs. Howard Norton and Mrs. Clayton Smith served lunch, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Police fear Malcolm X revenge plan

Police fear followers of slain negro leader Malcolm X may plan to avenge his death.

Police sources say six associates of the slain Black Supremacist had left New York in separate automobiles heading in different directions. At least two of the men were believed en route to Chicago . . . headquarters of Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black Muslims.

Malcolm, a Muslim defector and bitter foe of Muhammad, died in hail of shotgun and pistol shots yesterday as he addressed 500 followers in New York. Early today, detectives booked a 22-year-old negro on homicide charges prompted by the slaying.

The police source said the two men believed en route to Chicago included a man described as the godfather to one of Malcolm's four daughters. The New York leader of the Muslims denied his followers had any part in the 39-year-old Malcolm's death.

"While the concept of change is not new, the rate is, and those who lack courage, initiative, and ability to adjust are finding themselves increasingly unable to cope with the new demands" stated D. W. McGibbon, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Ontario at the 14th Annual Meeting of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, Monday night.

Mr. McGibbon, who is also treasurer of Imperial Oil Ltd., was the guest speaker at the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce dinner held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall. Well over one hundred members of the Lindsay chamber were in attendance.

Speaking on the challenge of change, Mr. McGibbon said "The economic and social developments of the 20th century have transformed our relatively placid and comfortable society into a complex and demanding one requiring basic adjustments in our business and personal lives. We are being challenged to arm ourselves with the manifold opportunities presented to us by modern society and move forward on the crest of the flood-tide of progress".

"Rapid advances in communication, mechanization, and the sciences", he continued, "generally have combined to produce unforseen complexities as well as opportunities. The result is a more interrelated social and business atmosphere in which it is no longer possible to view matters simply within the context of the community. Forces which interact at the local, national, and international level affect our planning and existence. Whatever occurs in any one segment of the world economy was affected all other sectors and so must be considered."

"These are compelling new times in which we live", said Mr. McGibbon, "and the enlargement of the influential spheres of activity has necessitated an increase in inter-dependance and involvement among us all. One major result of this development has been the tremendous growth of government at every level in terms not only of physical size but in areas of interest and service as well. The increase both in size and scope of activities of governments is not of itself to be criticized. It is, indeed, essential to orderly growth and progress in a civilized and orderly community. However, government today is being turned to increasingly for direction — to serve as a beacon in uncharted waters, and as the snug harbour at the slightest sign of rough weather".

"It is not a surprising situation", he said, "it is human nature to seek direction and let others accept responsibility. But if responsibility is not to be transferred into control I believe there must be a corresponding growth of organizations representing the private sector and designed to act as a counterbalance. Our governments are created by society to serve society — to act in accordance with the wish of the majority, and it is incumbent upon us to present the clearest possible expressions of our views to our legislators. Too often, I feel, we view government as a faceless and somewhat remote creation. But governments are composed of

Police investigate break-ins at Bonfire and Woodville school

Lindsay OPP are investigating a breakin and possible theft at the Bonfire Restaurant on Highway 35 which occurred sometime Tuesday morning and a break-in and theft at the Woodville Public School which was reported at noon Monday.

Lindsay OPP Constable James Dodd anad Donald McKay are conducting an investigation into the break-in at the Bonfire Restaurant.. It was not known Tuesday afternoon whether anything had been stolen.

Woodville Public School authorities reported that the school had been broken into on the weekend. Police said thieves apparently gained entry through a basement window Saturday after six other windows had been tried. Police said a screen was taken off but nothing of importance was reported taken.

Lindsay OPP Constable Donald McKay is investigating the incident.

EMO lecture for Minden councilmen

James Hall, EMO co-ordinator for the counties of Victoria and Haliburton, spoke to a meeting of the Minden town council, the Minden Fire Department and ambulance drivers on familiarization and orientation on EMO work in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. Along with the lecture, Mr. Hall showed a film "Plan to Survive," which is restricted to people associated with EMO.

Mr. Hall will return to Minden in two weeks to give the fire department a course on radiation detection and monitoring.

Chamber chief states objections to pension scheme

Speaking at the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce 14th Annual Dinner last night, the guest speaker, Mr. Donald W. McGibbon said the Ontario Chamber of Commerce is opposed to the proposed federal pension scheme and the reasons are threefold: First, he said, the federal plan does not extend the existing flat rate benefits of current federal pensions legislation. "That is, it does no provide for an increase of payments to those already retired, while payments to those retiring in the future will be related to their incomes. Thus, in the short run, the plan will provide the greatest benefit to those who need it least."

Secondly, he said, the federal plan will in the opinion of the Ontario Chamber, constitute a tax insefar as it will be a form of compulsory saving and thereby will decrease the individual's available funds. Moreover, he said, this tax will be imposed upon those least able to afford it, since only income groups up to $5000 per annum will be effected.

The third objection and perhaps the major objection, is that it will place an unprecedented amount of money, with none of the formal restrictions, a the disposal of the provincial governments. It is possible he said, that distribution of such sums could be influenced by political and regional pressures rather than by purely economic considerations.

The speaker emphasized that the Ontario Chamber is not opposed to extension of social services provided by the government if such measures are designed to serve a real need which is not and cannot be provided by private facilities.

Brotherhood Week

"Brotherhood Week" began on Sunday. This observance has been sponsored annually since 1934 by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Idealism, hollow slogans and worthy goals will no longer suffice say the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, we must practice what we preach.

Brotherhood Week is a time of meditation and inner struggle, a time of re-evaluation and renewed dedication to the full meaning of freedom and equality for all so that democracy can again confront the forces of communistic atheism with confidence in ultimate victory for all.

In any such struggle a guiding faith is necessary. That faith must be the reality of the brotherhood of man expressed in all great religions and the cornerstone of our democratic heritage.

But our faith must be real, that there is a good God managing all affairs and if we are ready to do His will there can be nothing but the highest type of success that will crown our efforts to be brothers in the truest sense.

When we accept this belief, brotherhood will become our national purpose and we can then put into practice in our daily lives the dreams we have always preached.

Representative of all

"I'm very much opposed to the conception of women Member of Parliament as being interested basically in women's affairs; I think it destroys our whole status as M.P.'s our whole political standing. I think it's important to represent all constituents, whether they are men or women."—Mrs. Lena Jeger, M.P.

New Laws for Old

Lord Gardiner, recently appointed Britain's Lord Chancellor, has long been associated with the campaign for legal reform and is joint editor of Law Reform New (1963).

He is now about to present a Parliamentary Bill under which a Law Commission would be set up to streamline the whole of the legal system in Britain.

There are ancient Statutes, dating back to 1235, over 4,000 of them. Three hundred thousand cases are recorded to guide—or confus—the courts, and nearly 100 volumes of other relevant legislation.

Much of this mass of material is couched in language meaningless to even the most brilliant lawyer today. Laws overlay laws to the point where as many as 60 different Acts of Parliament have to be studied to discover what the law on a specific point really is. There are, for example, about 40 different Acts of Parliament dealing with the law on getting married.

The new Law Commission's job — and it will be a tough one—will be to consolidate all the numerous Statutes on a particular subject into one and put it into simple twentieth century English.

The revision will probably take several years of work by a team of Britain's top lawyers working on a full-time basis. But it will benefit: Parliamentarians who will be able more easily to introduce amendments; lawyers, who will have a law instead of a library to study in preparing a case; and finally, the litigant, who will no longer have to pay for the long hours his lawyer spends trying to figure out which law applies in his particular case. Many loopholes in the law will be closed and no longer will a transgressor be able to avoid his just deserts by invoking a clause in a sixteenth century act which, somehow or other, got overlooker in later legislation.

Comic Masterpiece

"Ulysses is a difficult book but a wonderful book. It does so many new things with form and language that practically every living writer has been influenced by it, and no lover of books can call himself educated until he has tackled it seriously. Seriously, but not solemnly. Ulysses isn't a solemn book, it's a comic masterpiece, one of the few books that can make one laugh aloud, no matter how often one has read it. There's always some new discovery to make in it, some new cause for laughter but, with that laughter, there come surprising visions of the truth, the truth in all its radiance, heartbreak and dirt."—Novelist Anthony Burgess.

"The poor lonely vagabond, the poor lonely fellow on the road—there he goes — walking along bound for nowhere, coming from nowhere, friendless, homeless." It's the people in the cities who are lonely." — Jim Phelan, who has been a tramp all his life, speaking on the BBC.

Need wolf hunt

Wolves in Snowden Township are destroying deer at an alarming rate. One pack of about 13 are making their home between the second and fifth concessions. While discussing the situation with Russell McCluney and Fred Bacon, they said:

"If a wolf hunt could be arranged and men who could walk on snow-shoes and handle a rifle took part, there is not a shadow of doubt about their being able to bag several wolves."

Runs over wolf

John Hodgson ran down and killed a large timber wolf on Lake Simcoe about six o'clock last evening. Travelling in a motor sled from Point Mara to Beaverton, he noticed the wolf on the ice and chased it within a few rods of Thorah Island. The wolf then headed back across the ice to Point Mara and he ran over it several times, but the wolf would just roll under the sled and get up and shake himself.

Query Newman's salary

The reward of Government office given to former members of the Legislature was dubbed the "Ontario Senate" last night by Leopold Macaulay when he questioned the salary paid to William Newman, former member for Victoria. Mr. Newman, now a member of the staff of the Co-operation and Markets Branch, was paid $3,400 and travelling expenses according to the Minister, Hon. P. M. Dewan.

May quit as minister to command troops

The opinion is growing that Major-General Hughes will shortly announce his retirement from the office of Minister of Militia and proceed to England with the second Canadian contingent.

It is well known that General Hughes, when war broke out, would have preferred to buckle on his sword and go with the first contingent, but he found that impossible owing to the mass of detail and organization work which confronted his department.

It is also known that the objections of Sir Robert Borden to his leaving Canada at the present time have weighed strongly with General Hughes and it is just possible that he may still comply with the wishes of the prime minister and remain at the post of executive duty.

The minister of militia, however, has his department now working with the utmost smoothness, the mammoth tasks he had to undertake are largely done, and an arrangement may be entered into whereby the portfolio may be kept open for him.

Chimney fire damages home

A bad chimney fire occurred Friday night at the home of John Porter, on the 14th concession of Manvers. The chimney which runs from the cellar to the roof, caught fire and burned fiercely in spite of everything that could be done. The fire started about seven o'clock and it was after midnight before it was out. A good deal of damage was done to the inside of the house. The paper was burned off the walls around the chimney and sections of the ceiling were also badly scorched.

Press demands blockade

The entire British Press are again demanding that food supplies to Germany be completely cut off and a real blockade commenced at once.

RHUBARB STRAWBERRY DELIGHT

Ontario winter fresh rhubarb brings a hint of spring into winter meals. Enjoy fresh rhubarb from now on until the end of April suggest food specialists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph. Buy fresh, crisp, tender stalks of rhubarb and store them in a cool, dry place. Rhubarb has a much better flavour if used when very fresh.

Rhubarb sauce always a favourite; can be made into a colourful, refreshing dessert by adding Ontario strawberries.

RHUBARB STRAWBERRY DELIGHT

1½ pounds rhubarb (about 6 cups of 1-inch pieces); ½ cup water; dash of salt; ½ to ⅔ cup sugar; 1½ cups frozen strawberries thawed.

Wash rhubarb and cut off ends. Do not peel. Cut into 1 or 2-inch pieces. Combine all ingredients in saucepan; simmer, covered, about 10 minutes until tender. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Just before removing rhubarb sauce from the heat, add thawed strawberries. Serve warm or chilled. Four to five servings

For a thicker sauce, omit water and place rhubarb, sugar and salt in double boiler top. Cook, covered, about 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Continue as above.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Scorched Cottons

To remedy scorched spots on cottons (provided they aren't too deeply burned in), wet the stains with water, and cover with a thick paste of laundry starch. After this has dried, sponge it off with peroxide, iron the article, and put into the sun for a few hours.

Household Glue

Here's one way to make yourself a good household glue: to one cup of granulated laundry starch, add enough water to produce a liquid of whipping cream consistency. Then bring this to a boil, and allow it to cool.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. How can I remedy chair legs or rungs that have become loosened?

A. One usually pretty good job of locking these legs or rungs securely in their holes is by driving small brads in the sides of the holes. The brads will bend and act as wedges.

Q. How can I make easier the job of sealing a great number of envelopes for a large mailing, saving wear and tear on my tongue?

A. Try moistening the flaps of your envelops with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The ice keeps melting fast enough to keep the cloth damp while you're using it.

Q. How can I prevent the formation of "skin" over my laundry starch solution?

A. After you've prepared your starch, cover the bowl with a piece of cloth stretched tight.

World news today

New York — An explosion and three-alarm fire destroyed a Black Muslim mosque in the heart of Harlem early today in what appeared to be the first act of retaliation for the assassination of Black Nationalist leader Malcolm X.

Police said an "explosive device" was the possible cause.

Five firemen were reported injured, one seriously. One civilian also was hurt in the fire that authorities termed "suspicious".

A joint investigation by the police and fire departments centered on the burned out mosque and one solid clue — a brown paper bag discovered on a roof adjoining the mosque. Fire Commissioner Fire Martin Scott at the scene said the bag bore traces of "some oily substance". It was being studied in the police laboratory.

Toronto — A Toronto Globe and Mail columnist said yesterday that American newspapers which stopped publishing because of labour trouble shirked their responsibilities.

Richard Needham said papers in New York, Cleveland and Detroit should have attempted to publish rather than have closed down.

Needham defended the right of the three Toronto newspapers to publish despite a strike of the Toronto Typographical Union which has dragged on since last July 9.

He said no amount of union pressure will make the Toronto papers stop publishing.

"I think you will agree with me that the worst kind of censorship is not when a particular newspaper article, column or editorial is suppressed but when the newspaper itself is suppressed", Needham told 200 persons at a panel discussion on press censorship.

Hamilton, Ont. — A Hamilton lawyer said yesterday that magistrate's courts in Ontario should be replaced by courts of criminal jurisdiction.

John D. Bowbly made the suggestion to a Royal Commission inquiry into civil rights.

Bowbly said magistrates' courts are a "forgotten segment of our judicial system and in all respects have dwelt in the shadows".

He said he was shocked to discover that 17 of Ontario's full-time magistrates have no legal training.

"It is incredible that a person with no training in the rules of evidence, criminal procedure and in the broad concepts of our common law should be allowed to pass sentence on and deprive a person of his liberty", Bowbly said.

He suggested only barristers and solicitors with at least 10 years experience should be appointed as magistrates.

Saigon — Deposed strongman Nguyen Khanh resisted efforts by South Viet Nam's military chiefs to force him to leave the country. Khanh remained in Vung Tau, 40 miles from Saigon. He was reported balking at coming back to the capital until a face-saving measure for his departure and end of 18-month rule could be arranged.

Moscow — The Soviet Union once again warned the United States that its policy in South Viet Nam could lead to "a great war", this time the warning came from Russia's top-ranking military leader, Defence Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky. In unleashing one of his toughest anti-American speeches in recent years, Malinovsky said "The Pentagon is playing with fire" in Viet Nam.

Moscow — Russian space scientists blasted into orbit their fourth unmanned space satellite in two days. The satellite was the Soviet Union's 57th to be launched in its "Cosmos" series which began March 16, 1962. The series is a long-range Soviet space-study effort.

Vatican City — Pope Paul VI named 27 new cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church. He raised the number of the College of Cardinals to 103, an all-time high. The new cardinals include Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan of Baltimore, M.D. He becomes America's 6th living cardinal.

London — President Johnson reportedly will visit Europe in June. Diplomatic reports said the President is expected to go to England, France, West Germany and Italy. During the trip, the President is expected to meet with French President Charles De Gaulle.

London — The British Government reduced its much-criticized tariff surcharge from 15 to 10 per cent. The reduction will go into effect April 27, six months after it was first imposed in an attempt to cut Britain's $2.2 billion trade deficit. Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan promised the surcharge would be abolished entirely but did not say when.

High winds blow car off highway

Minor damage resulted when high winds sent a car out of control, skidding and crashing through a mailbox at 4:50 p.m. Monday. Lindsay OPP said the car, driven by Elizabeth Ann MacLachlin, of King street, Woodville, was proceeding west on Highway 7 near Chandler's Corners when high winds caused the car to go out of control. Police said the car skidded across the road, clipped off a mailbox and came to rest on the edge of the pavement facing the opposite direction.

No injuries resulted.

ROYAL BANK

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO BORROWERS & SAVERS

The Royal Commission on Banking and Finance recommended the removal of the 6% ceiling on the rate of interest a chartered bank may charge for loans. We hope that the Bank Act, due for revision by Parliament soon, will in fact remove this ceiling and also enable the chartered banks to take mortage security—now prohibited by law but recommended in the Royal Commission report.

To Our Borrowing Customers

To remove any uncertainty in the minds of our borrowing customers, the Royal Bank wishes to assure them that removal of the ceiling will not of itself affect our prevailing loan rates. The general level of these rates is determined by monetary policy as formulated by the Government and implemented through the Bank of Canada. However, the changes proposed by the Royal Commission will, if enacted in law, enable the chartered banks to enter lending fields hitherto closed to them. Thus the banks will be in a position to make, at reasonable rates, loans of a term and risk which, under present regulations are available only at higher rates outside the banking system.

We look forward to the removal of the ceiling as a means by which we can serve a wider public, not as a means by which we can charge higher interest rates on our present types of loans.

To Our Savings Customers

Removal of the ceiling, by permitting us to make new types of loans, will enable us to introduce a new type of savings account on which a higher rate of interest will be paid.

Thus, removal of the 6% ceiling—

1. Will benefit the owners of 12,000,000 savings accounts with the chartered banks.
2. Will not hurt existing borrowers.
3. Will help those now forced to borrow outside the chartered banking system, by providing them with loans at more reasonable rates.

Statements will haunt Liberals Speaker claims

Two speakers at the Progressive Conservative Association comented on recent calls by Young Liberals for the abolition of the Monarchy in Canada. "These statements by Young Liberals urging abolition of the monarchy will come to haunt the Liberal party", predicted Glen Hodgson, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton Riding.

William Scott of Kinmount, retiring president of the association said "It grieves me that we have young people in our country who feel like this. I am proud of our British traditions and British justice", he said.

Mr. Scott said much of the trouble seems to stem from University students and said, "Probably these young people of today are more educated than we, but when I hear such outrageous statements as those made by Toronto and District Liberals recently — I wonder".

ON THE MAIN STREET

with FORD MOYNES

The Scotch Line is one of the oldest settled communities in Victoria County, one of the best known "lines" in Verulam township, and one of the pioneer farmers on the line is a gentleman named J. J. Robertson. He is a tiller of the soil dating back to the days of his father, and the Robertson's have lived on the same farm for over a century.

"J. J." as he is known to many people is a good agriculturist, a churchman and at all times genial and friendly.

He vividly recalls the days when he was a member and a seller on the Victoria County cheese boards, the days when there were a number of cheese factories in the county and the days when factory representatives attended the meetings held in Lindsay to sell their cheese to the highest bidder.

The sale of cheese was one of the ways the farmers derived money with which to carry on the farm. Other buyers at the meeting included John Kennedy of Dunsford, Isaac Lewis of Bobcaygeon and others. There was also a farmer named Parking from Cambray who was a remarkable man according to Mr. Robertson. The buyers included Gillespie of Peterborough, Clemens a buyer from Flavelles and also a buyer from Beleville. There was plenty of dickering and bargaining with the farmers usually getting a fair price. The cheese factories have all disappeared from the landscape said Mr. Robertson.

Mr. Robertson recalled the days of the Bell Blacksmith shop at Dunsford and also stated that away back there was a sawmill at the end of the Scotch Line on the shore of Sturgeon Lake. "Farmers worked long hours and the work was really hard", said Mr. Robertson. "They went to church and they attended political meetings They cleared the fields of stones and stumps and even built roads by means of statute labour. They planted their crops pretty much by hand and they gathered in the harvest, sometimes by holding what is called a "bee".

Farmers got along well and by dint of hard work were able to eke out an existence that improved as conditions became better, said Mr. Robertson. "I am looking forward to an other reunion of the Robertson clan", he said, "and I am expecting Leslie Frost to be there. He has asked me for a copy of the history of the Robertson clan."

"Keep your eye on that new cashier, I don't like the look of him!"

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

ABUSED, BATTERED CHILD GENUINE CAUSE FOR ALARM

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Our next-door neighbors are actual brutes. To see them slap and beat their two small children, and not be able to help the innocent, is heart-rending. We are thinking of moving. How can parents be so cruel?—Mrs. E.

Comment: Just one tip. Before you move, make sure your new neighbors aren't worse. I wonder how many people know that newspaper stories of such cruelty aren't exaggerated.

For example, here is an item I woke up to this morning. I needed a strong cup of tea to keep my emotional equilibrium:

"A husky young man was arrested and charged with the brutal beating and burning of his six-month-old son, who is in a critical condition at the hospital . . . He is charged with aggravated assault and battery with intent to commit second-degree murder . . . The child was shown slight improvement but remained critical . . . He had two broken bones in one arm, burns on both feet and one hand, brain damage, blood clots in both eyes, and numerous body bruises". Where does the human being end and the beast begin?

Unbelieving that such bestial cruelty goes on in "civilized" society, I supposed you'd like some scientific confirmation. I received some firsthand at a recent Clinical Convention of the American Medical Association.

In a medical exhibit, I gazed upon X rays and actual photographs of a number of similarly battered children. Drs. Linn Emerson Gitford, Jr., Marion Mann, Richard L. Whelton and Jorge B. Morales presented the evidence of injuries inflicted on seven children by parents and guardians.

This small series revealed multiple bone fractures, brain hemorrhages, burns, multiple skin contusions and internal injuries.

"ABUSED CHILD" SYNDROME

This used to be called "battered child" syndrome. More recently it is alternately known as the "abused child" syndrome—and in "recognition that the child abuse may take the form of deliberate starvation of the child, neglect of his hygiene, exposure of the child to inclement weather, as well as wilfully inflicted beatings. It is not limited to any particular social or economic groups, race or religion, but occurs in all levels of society. Over 50 per cent of these children receive repeated injuries or die from their injuries."

Mrs. E., do you now realize what I mean when I say "you ain't seen nothing yet!" Such tragic cases are a hint on our social or economic groups, and feelings of superiority in relation to our "lower animals". (I wonder if a rat, a jackal, a wildcat, a porcupine or a skunk—father or mother-ever so mistreated its young.)

Rant! Rant! But what to do?

Under stimulus of the Children's Bureau and the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare the problem is being studied by doctors, lawyers, social workers, juvenile court judges, hospital administrators and interested civilians. Some state laws already exist to combat this evil. A first step. We have much farther to walk. For example it will be made mandatory for physicians to report every case of actual or suspected child cruelty.

To use a horrible pun: Too many parents are getting away with murder.

Tobin—Davey Wedding

Pots of white mums decorated the Port Perry Presbyterian Church for the wedding of Cheryl Diane Davey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlin James Davey of Port Perry to Francis Roy Tobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Toblin of Seagrave on Saturday, January 30, 1965 at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. Buntain was the officiating clergyman and the soloist was Ken Hallett of Sonya, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and was accompanied by Mrs. Stouffer of Port Perry.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown with a chapel train of scotchguard peau de sole, a bustle in the back, with a self bow, and trimmed with imported chantilly lace and seed pearls. Her headdress was a crystal coronet holding a tulle illusion finger tip veil. She carried a cascade of red roses, hyacinth florets and trailing ivy.

The bride was attended by Miss Susan Adderley of Port Perry as maid-of-honour. Miss Maureen Toblin, of Seagrave, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Bob Slack of Uxbridge as bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in floor length 'harris strawberry' peau de soie with an embroidered cumberbund, floor length embroidered drape at the back and elbow length tulle gloves. They carried cascades of white mums. Their headdresses were rayon velvet petals of 'harris strawberry' centred with a pearl star and shoulder length veils of tulle illusion.

The best man was Dennis Tobin, brother of the groom, of Oshawa, and the ushers were James Fishley of Seagrave and Bob Slack of Uxbridge.

The reception was held in the church parlours with the brides mother receiving in a two piece dress of lapis-pur blue, with a beaded bodice of mother of pearl, a matching blue hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother was in an antique gold wool suit with mink trim, a brown tulle hat and brown accessories with a yellow roses corsage.

For their honeymoon to Niagara Falls the bride wore a blue two piece wool suit with black accessories and a pink cymbidium corsage. They are residing on Ella Street in Port Perry.

Out-of-town guests were from Port Perry, Downsview, Cannington, Bolton, Seagrave, Toronto ,Oshawa, Greenbank, Port Credit and Uxbridge.

A "TIP"

Moscow (UPI) — The official Soviet News Agency Tass said right after the end of his "negotiations" with his "Belgian Masters," Congolese premier Moise Tshombe — "The Lackey" — received a tip from the Belgian Union Miniere Company. LOSES LICENSE FOR TWO YEARS, FINED $200 FOLLOWING CRASH

Douglas Swanton, 20, of 33 Howard Avenue in Lindsay, was fined $20 and costs and his driving privileges removed for two years by Magistrate Ian Munro in police court in Lindsay Monday.

Douglas Swanton was charged with dangerous and careless driving following a motor vehicle accident on Highway 35 south of Lindsay on Saturday, December 12th, 1964.

Willett Boyd of Toronto told the court that he and his wife were proceeding northbound on Highway 35 about 5:45 p.m. Dec. 12th., on the way to visit his mother in Bobcaygeon. He said his wife was driving, when suddenly they were struck from behind, he saw a car pass swiftly on the left before the small foreign car in which he and his wife were riding flipped over and rolled on its side across the highway.

Mr. Boyd told of climbing out of the window as the car lay on its left side, and calling for help when another car approached. He said Mrs. Boyd said her back was painin,, and when help arrived the car was lifted onto its wheels and Mrs. Boyd remained in the driver's seat until the ambulance arrived.

Mr. Boyd said the driver of the other car approached him and told him a blow-out caused the accident.

Mrs. Jean Boyd told the court of their car being struck from behind as he drove along Highway 35, and she said she saw sparks flying everywhere as the car slid on its side across the highway. She said she suffered two broken vertebrae, spent one week in hospital, and was still in a 'Taylor brace'. She said the pavement was dry, visibility was clear and the road was straight where the accident occurred.

Willett Boyd also told the court that he returned to the scene the next day and stepped off the distance from where his car came to rest and the location of the Swanton car where it came to rest in the west ditch after it clipped off a telephone pole. Mr. Boyd said the distance was 107 paces

Peter Hubers of Whitby, Ontario, said he was a passenger of a south bound car which arrived at the scene shortly after the accident. He told of seeing the Boyd car on the shoulder of the road, and later noticed the Swanton car farther north in the west ditch. He said as he and his companions approached the Swanton car, when 15 yards from the car, he heard a sudden gust of air coming out of a tire and he saw someone with a light coloured coat get up from near the left front fender.

Gordon Nieuwendskyk told the court he also was a passenger in a car belonging to his brother-in-law John Bankuboom, along with Mr. Hubers. He said he also heard the air suddenly escaping from a tire on the Swanton vehicle.

Provincial Constable D. MacDonnell told the court of being called to the scene and said he found scrape marks on the pavement from the Boyd car in south-easterly direction for a distance of 96½ feet. He said the Swanton car came to rest facing south, 41 feet west of the west edge of the pavement. He said there were dark blue paint markings along the right side, and the driver's door was caved in from striking the telephone pole. He said the Swanton car was 32 feet from the base of the telephone pole and marks leading from there to the west shoulder of the road measured 300 feet. He said there was water and long grass in the ditch and it was also muddy.

Douglas Swanton told the court he was travelling at 60 miles per hour when he caught up to the Boyd car. He said as he was about to pass, his car for some unknown reason pulled to the left and the left wheels dropped off the edge of the pavement. He said when he pulled to the right his car swung against the Boyd car.

David Brown, an employee of Fee Motors Ltd. and an experienced tire repair man told the court that Constable MacDonnell had brought a wheel with the tire still mounted to rims for examination. He said the bead was still tight to the rim on one side and only partly broken free on the other side. He said he estimated the car could not have travelled more than one or two carlengths after becoming deflated without breaking the bead free from the rim. He told the court of examining a cut in the side of the tire, a vertical cut, which was through the casing and could quickly let the air out of the tire. He said the hole had been pierced by some sharp object.

Constable MacDonnell said he estimated the damage to the Swanton vehicle at $800 and the Boyd car was damaged on both sides, the top, and the rear end and was considered a write-off.

Constable Munro in registering a conviction on the dangerous driving charge, said he did not believe the defendant's story about pulling to the left. He said he believed the Swanton car was travelling at a terrific rate of speed and "cut it too thin" when passing the Boyd vehicle. The magistrate said he was quite certain somebody in a light coat slashed the tire on the Swanton car to substitute the blowout story. He said the accused was certainly driving in a manner dangerous to the public.

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan told the court of five previous convictions for careless driving or speeding registered against the accused, and said witness fees would amount to $68.20. The charge of careless driving was withdrawn.

Lindsay citizens attend War Supply Agency meeting

A number of Lindsay people attended a War Supply Agency meeting at the Rock Haven Motel in Peterboro on Saturday and Sunday, 20 and 21 February. The W. S. A. is made up of groups of citizens from local communities across Canada that have been asked by the Federal Government to help plan controls for supplies and commodities that could take effect during a nuclear attack on the country, or in time of a national emergency.

It is felt, said James Hall, EMO Co-ordinator for Victoria-Haliburton that in the case of a National Emergency, rigid controls on all commodities would be essential for survival and the W.S.A. officers are selected with this in mind.

Members of the American Civil Defence were in attendance as well as directors of the Emergency Supply Planning Branch from Toronto and Oshawa.

Present from Lindsay were: Hon. Leslie M. Frost, EMO Coordinator James Hall, Jasper Forman, Jack Lightbody, George J. Baldwin, Leroy Brown Earl Kennedy, Everett G. Scott, Ian Scott and Ted Williams of Fenelon Falls.

MYSTERIOUS FORCE

England's most famous student has been banished to the back seat or the car again.

A magistrate in Oakmere, England, has suspended the driving privileges of school teacher Margaret Hunter for one year.

The court took the driver's license Miss Hunter finally won in the Irish Republic after failing repeated driving tests in England and in Northern Ireland.

Miss Hunter's latest trouble came after her car ran off the road and knocked over a sapling tree.

She told the court that a mysterious "propelling force" made her car veer from the road.

She said police should be trying to find out what caused the force instead of wasting their time prosecuting her.

MERCHANTS MEET TIGERS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Junior "C" championship of Central Ontario will be on the line tonight when Lindsay Merchants and Aurora Tigers clash in the first game of a best of seven series.

Tonight's game will take the Merchants to Aurora with the second game here Friday night. The Tigers have the idea they can trim the Merchants by bumping them, and their idea of bumping is rather crude according to Lindsay team officials.

The Merchants are expected to be healthy for tonight's game with both Don Pillsworth and George Babcock back in action. Gus Bodnar's Merchants say the Tigers will have to catch them to bump them, and Many strange sights have been noticed on the Peel street ice lanes, all kinds of garb, costumes, commercial & comic and otherwise. One visitor for two years past curled a very good game sitting in a wheel chair. A curler from Toronto "took the cake" in the Champagne bonspiel last week end. He took to the ice clothed in a heavy sweater and wearing a pair of lawn shorts. It was not long before he doffed the sweater and was then decked out in a thin sweater and a pair of shorts.

Bonspiel visitors to the Peel street ring for the Champagne Festival included Sam Sward, a member of the Scarboro rink which won a prize. He is a former Lindsay boy and his parents lived on Victoria Avenue north, Carl Hussey of Cornwall who visited with his father W. J. Hussey on Wellington street, Lou Consky of Toronto and Haliburton and Hugo Beall of Rosedale.

'One such issue which will serve to illustrate my point regarding excessive government involvement is our policy statement on "Pensions legislation".

LINDSAY CLEANERS INSTALL NEW SANITONE SYNERGISTO PROCESS

Hailed as a major advance in drycleaning technology

An advanced drycleaning technique by Sanitone, called the Synergisto Process, which employs an electronic programmer to provide the most accurate selectivity of cleaning power, is now in operation at Lindsay Cleaners.

The Synergisto Process, as explained by Lindsay Cleaners employs a special agent, or Synergizer which, when added to the regular cleaning agents, activates them to a complete soil removing action, resulting in brighter colors and imparting a "spring-like" freshness to garments.

The Synergisto Programmer, an electronic "magic brain" accurately and automatically adds the exact degree of cleaning action and the precise kind of care required for every garment — from heaviest woollens to light, fragile silks and knits.

The process was developed by the research division of national Sanitone Service. Lindsay Cleaners enthusiastically notes the Synergisto Process is performing excellently and that customers are gratified with the results.

POLITICAL COMMENTS

All was comparatively quiet on the Progressive Conservative front at the annual Association meeting for Victoria, Haliburton and Ontario north, held in Lindsay on Saturday.

The meeting was well planned. For the first time a Nomination committee headed by former Warden Max Kennedy, brought in a suggested and recommended slate of officers. Every executive officer was unanimously elected. In previous years a number of nominations took place from the floor of the convention and it was common to have ballots passed to elect members. Opportunity was given to nominate from the floor of the meeting.

William Scott of Kinmount, who was president for two years, handled the business matters well and was thanked for his work. He in turn paid tribute to the work of the executive, especially Secretary Gordon Pepper.

Roy Windover of Minden, a keen worker for the P.C. party especially among the Young Progressives, stepped up to the presidency and George Inrig, Lindsay lawyer, gave up the position of treasurer and became first vice-president. Mrs. Pearl Ford, president and Walter Hobden was re-elected as second-vice president and Walter Hobden was lined up as third vice-president. Joe Jenkins of Mariposa and Stonley Oliver of Verulam were next in order while the place of Art Patterson of Lindsay on the executive will be filled by Carl Hickson, well-known auctioneer, who was absent. Murray Agnew of Wilberforce entered the executive as treasurer and Gordon Pepper of Lindsay was again the unanimous choice as Secretary.

A bit of a flurry took place when John Argue of Ontario North inquired if residents in that place of the riding could ever hope to become presidents of the association. He was informed that residents from Ontario North have been serving as seventh and eight vice-presidents at the request of the association in Ontario North. Past President William Scott said the P.C.s in this part of the Riding should discuss the matter and any suggestions would be welcome. The northerners will name two delegates at a meeting to be held in March.

Charles Lamb

Past President William Scott reported receiving a letter from Charles Lamb, member for Victoria, Haliburton and Ontario North stating that he was now out of hospital and is reported to be getting along well. This, said Mr. Scott, was good news for Mr. Lamb's many friends. The letter from Mr. Lamb was read to the Association members.

Glen Hodgson, MPP from Haliburton had a comprehensive type written report relating to his work handled by the Provincial Legislation which was distributed to all persons present.

Mr. Hodgson said many constituents had not the slightest idea of the vast amount of work a member has to do, and the many problems encountered. He stated that he would be pleased to hear any criticism as well as suggestions for the good of the party.

Former Premier Leslie M. Frost was not present. It is reported he was in Peterboro on business, and in the afternoon was one of the mourners at the funeral of the late Honourable Arthur Welsh held at Whitby and Sunderland.

A veteran of many political campaigns was present, Ernie Harrison of Lindsay. He is in his 93rd year, and while living in Brock Township, Mariposa Township and Lindsay has never missed a vote.

Guest speaker Erik Neilson was an excellent speaker but sparks flew in all directions when Monty Robson got up to thank the speaker. Robson drew as much applause as that accorded to Neilson when he flayed the Pearson government and declared his firm belief in the leadership of John Diefenbaker.

Former Warden Charles Hodgson of Burnt River was in the audience but his brother Clayton of Haliburton, former member of over a dozen years was not present.

Past president and past treasurer, John Kelsey of Woodville, was an interested listener and referred to the passing of the late T. H. Stinson and the late Mrs. Carl Moynes.

Past president William Scott had words of praise for the executive of 1964 and claimed that there were many shining lights in the local Association, and he believed they should be given a chance to shine, which was one reason for his resignation as president.

Fred Stinson, member for Peterboro and R. Webb, member for Hastings, were in attendance but did not take the podium.

Yelverton

Miss Jennifer McGill entertained a number of young friends on the occasion of her 10th birthday. A pleasant time was had by all.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Pogue of Bethany who observed their 59th Wedding Anniversary on St. Valentine's Day.

Congratulations are also extended from the community to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Malcolm (nee Joan Endicott) and Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Haines (nee Brenda Malcolm) who were married in a double ceremony on February 13, 1965.

Sweep!

Forty-eight rinks from a distance of Belleville to the east and Toronto to the west, entered the second annual Champagne Festival at the Peel St. rink and 16 were successful in winning as many beautiful prizes.

Skip Rhodes of the Avon Lea club in Toronto escalated to the top position in event number one after winning five points in two games. This rink of champions will wear wristwatches presented by Walker's Jewellery store.

Much of the work in the event was carried out by Gordon Graham, chairman of the bonspiel and Generalissimo on the job for several weeks past and the hard working controller for two Saturdays and one Sunday. His committee served well.

That the event is the classic of the season was evidenced by the number of good rinks in competition and by spectator interest, as well as by the generous approving remarks heard from visiting curlers. The committee was pleased to see the prizes distributed equally between local and outside rinks.

The winners were declared as follows:—

First event: (Walker Jewellery); first prize Mr. Rhodes Avon Lea club; second, Dr. Woodrow, Lindsay; third, Tea Shea, Bobcaygeon; fourth, Herb Townley. Fenelon Falls Second event: (Lindsay Curling Club); first Jim Brown; second Mr. Geroneky, Peterboro; third, Jim Levine, Toronto; fourth,, Don Campbell, Avon Lea.

Third event: (Toronto Dominion Bank): first Earl Kennedy, Lindsay; second, D. Ferguson, Lindsay.

Fourth event: (Water Wheel Motel): first, Mr. Shields, Scarboro; second, B. Thurston, Dunsford.

Fifth event: (Canadian Tire Company): first, Mr. Collings, Bradford; second, C. Vincent, Lindsay.

Sixth event: Bagshaw Lumber Co.): first, Mr. Hughes, Scarboro; second, Mr. Alexander, Avon Lea.

Five youths found guilty of consuming

Five youths pleaded guilty to consuming liquor while under the age of 21 years, in Magistrate's Court in Lindsay Monday, and one was fined $20.00 and costs, and the remaining four were fined $15 and costs.

Provincial Police Constable Stewart Brooks of the Fenelon Falls detachment told the court of following the youths in a car in the village of Kinmount on Saturday afternoon, February 20th. He said he was accompanied by Constable Charles Shepherd, and they observed the youths throw seven bottles out of the car as they were being pursued. The Constable said two teenage girls were also with the youths when the car was stopped.

Magistrate Ian Munro levied a fine of $20 and costs against Lawrence Anderson of Kinmount as it was his second offence. The remaining four: Victor W. Swinson of Kinmount, Joseph Fielder of Coboconk, Hugh Fountain of Kinmount, and Gregory Watson of Oshawa were each fined $15 and costs.

Tanker - truck collide, catch fire: drivers escape safely from vehicles

Firemen inspect a truck lying on its side following a collision between the truck and an oil tanker around 8 a.m. this morning at the intersection of Highways 7 and 35. Picture left shows a fireman standing on the cab of the oil tanker to turn off lights, which were still burning on the vehicle.

Two fire-fighting units with nine firemen were rushed to the junction of Highways 7 and 35, just south of Lindsay, after a tank-truck carrying gasoline, driven by John Meneilley of Port Hope and a cattle-truck driven by Robert Robertson of Lindsay crashed about 8 a.m. this morning.

The Lindsay Fire Department said the fuel pipes on both trucks ruptured and a blaze broke out in the tank-truck. Firemen said oil from the tanker ignited causing a surface fire which Mr. Meneilley quickly extinguished with a dry chemical extinguisher located in the truck.

Both trucks were damaged but no estimates of damage were available.

Lindsay OPP said both vehicles were west-bound when the accident occurred. Both vehicles skidded across the median and onto the ramp leading from Highway 7 west to Highway 35 south, where they came to rest, the tank-truck "jack-knifed" and the empty cattle-truck resting on its side.

Firemen worked in the cold wind to cover the area with foam to prevent the mixture of diesel-fuel and gasoline from the damaged trucks from igniting. They stayed on the scene until the two trucks were removed. Fireman Norman Thomas said.

Weather Outlook

Peterboro and district cloudy with cold, occasional light snow today and Thursday. Winds east 10 to 20. High today and low tonight at Peterboro and Kingston 15 and 5. The weather office says possibility of snow warning for this area later in the day.

INQUEST RULES FENELON WOMAN'S DEATH SELF-INFLICTED, HUSBAND IS CENSURED

An all male jury enquiring into the death of the late Mrs. Carman Thurston at an inquest at Fenelon Falls Tuesday, ruled that Mrs. Thurston came to her death between midnight and 8:00 a.m. Sunday January 17th at her home in Fenelon Falls.

"Death was the result of a gun shot wound apparently self-inflicted, as a direct result of emotional strain brought on by harassment of her husband—not only over financial matters, but also by jealousy intentionally engendered by her husband," the jury ruled.

The jury recommended that "any legal steps that can be taken to restrain such activities on the part of Mr. Carman Thurston be taken, and the matter of perjury on the part of Mr. Thurston be dealt with according to law."

Some four hours of evidence was heard by the jury before retiring at 6:40 p.m. The jury, consisting of Charles McInnes, foreman, James Curtis, George Tanguly, Albert Godier, and William White, all residents of Fenelon Falls, returned within the hour to render their decision.

Coroner Dr. George Johnstone conducted the inquest, and crown attorney Lorne Jordan of Lindsay, examined the witnesses.

Mrs. Palmer, a nearby neighbour of Mrs. Thurston (formerly Mary Eleanor Warren), told the enquiry of receiving no answer when she phoned the deceased approximately 10:45 a.m. on Sunday January 17. She said she found the back door unlocked and the lights in the house turned on when she went over to the Thurston house, and when she received no answer to her calls, went upstairs to find the body of the deceased lying on the bed. She said she immediately called Dr. William Graham, thinking that Mrs. Thurston may have suffered another heart attack and was not yet dead. She said Mrs. Thurston had been in hospital in November for treatment of a heart condition.

Dr. William Graham told of receiving a call from Mrs. Palmer about 10:50 a.m. and he said he went immediately to the Thurston residence where he was met by Mrs. Palmer, who directed him to the bedroom. He said the body was lying across the bed with the feet on the floor, and he said it was apparent the deceased was dead. He said there was blood drops on the right shoulder and on the right side of her head. He also told the enquiry that the deceased was holding a small pistol in her right hand.

Provincial Identification officer, OPP constable Grant Powers of the Cobourg Detachment, said he received a call and arrived at the Thurston residence approximately 2:00 p.m. on January 17th. He identified pictures which he took at the scene accompanied by Det. Sgt. L. J. Chapitis of the Peterboro detachment of the O.P.P. and Fenelon Falls police chief William Weaver. He said he checked the pistol, held in the right hand of the deceased, a .22 calibre single shot Colt pistol, and found a finger print of the index finger on the gun. He said it matched in thirteen points of comparison with the print of the index finger of the deceased. He also described the action of the gun and identified an empty cartridge found in the gun.

Note Left

Constable Powers also described a note found by himself in the company with other officers, on a desk in the den downstairs. The note was written on notepaper headed Police report three break-ins on Lindsay St.

Lindsay Police are investigating three break-ins which occurred early Tuesday morning at three Lindsay Street Companies — Moynes Motors, Mowbray Motors and Hills Florist.

The break-ins occurred sometime after 2:45 a.m. when the area was checked by police.

Police said Eldon Moynes of Moynes Motors called about 8 a.m. reporting a break-in, in which $83 was taken from a filing cabinet. Police said entry was gained by breaking out a window in the front of the garage. The drawer of the filing cabinet containing the money had been forced open.

While Police Constables Elmer Lewis and Douglas Thompson were conducting an investigation into the theft, Ross Mowbray, owner of Mowbray Motors, reported that his garage, which is directly across the road from Moynes Motors was also broken into during the night. Police found the soft-drink vending machine was open and a small quantity of change taken. Police said the machine was opened by a key from the office.

About 9 a.m. Mrs. Percy Hill of Hill's Florists reported that premises had been entered through an unlocked side door and a small quantity of silver had been taken.

Meanwhile Lindsay OPP Constables James Dodd and Donald McKay were called out to investigate break-ins at the Bonfire Restaurant on Highway 35 and the Woodville Public School. Provincial Police said nothing of value was taken from either place.

Police said thieves were unsuccessful in their attempt to force open the safe at the Bonfire Tuesday morning. They said there were indications

Freelance Critics

On Monday we commented on the trend to criticise the monarchy in this country and mentioned that Telegram drama critic Ron Evans had deplored the playing of "God Save the Queen" at theatre shows. We are pleased to see the Telegram too, editorially reprimanded Mr. Evans last night for his near boorishness, as follows:

Mind Your Manners

There are several distinctive qualities possessed by successful theatre critics; knowledge of their subject, literary skill, and that very rare capacity for intelligent criticism.

One characteristic we do not look for in these specialists in a sophisticated field in boorishness.

However, our Mr. Ron Evans came close to a display of this quality in a recent column when he deplored the playing of The Queen at the start of a theatre performance and added that he, in future would refuse to stand up for The Queen.

Critic Evans probably can crouch in his theatre seat while others stand for the anthem without fear of arrest. While the Theatre Act of Ontario requires the playing of the anthem either at the beginning or the end of each performance, it does not appear to impose penalties for those who decline to treat it with respect.

It is quite probable that those who wrote the act did not contemplate having to enforce a gesture of loyalty to the Queen of Canada or the observance of simple good manners.

Mr. Evans is entitled to criticize the anthem on the grounds that it inconveniences playgoers who cannot afford to check their hats and coats and have to juggle them as he stands.

He probably wouldn't be mobbed if he squatted during the playing of the United States national anthem at a major league baseball game in New York. He wouldn't make many friends there, however.

Two much ill will has been generated lately by attacks on Canadian institutions. There are many who, in their hearts, resent the adoption of a new national flag; but because the flag was adopted by the Parliament of our country, it is accepted.

The same attitude should be taken by those who criticize the monarchy and our anthem.

There are enough free-lance critics giving their views on our institutions without theatre critics doubling in brass.

Want soldier for Prime Minister

An overflow crowd at the Academy Theatre on Friday evening heard Denton Massey, Conservative member of parliament in Toronto Greenwood riding attack the record of the King Government and voice an appeal for National Government in Canada during the war. The record of the King Government which, he said was one of lethargy and inefficiency, was roundly scored by the speaker who urged the election of C. D. H. MacAlpine as National Government representative from this riding.

"We want someone as Prime Minister of this country who was a soldier and who knows the hardships of the soldiers," he said.

Find missing Lindsay youths

Francis O'Connor, 13, and Arthur Sinclair, 16, of Lindsay, who wandered away from their homes nearly a week ago were located at Eagle Lake early this morning by County Constable Lawrence Pritchard.

The two young boys left their homes on Monday and, unknown to their parents, made their way northward. Becoming alarmed, the anxious parents informed police and a radio broadcast was made Saturday morning. As a result of the broadcast, Charles Fader of Maple Lake contacted constable Pritchard and the latter visited the Fader home where he found the two boys.

Provincial Police in Lindsay received the news of the boys' recovery and informed the anxious parents. The boys gave no reason for their escapade.

Dog attacks constable

On Monday night when Constables Woods and Bell visited the South Ward for the purpose of arresting a citizen on an assault charge, a vicious canine was encountered, which made things unpleasant for a time. The dog made after Constable Woods and bit him in the hand. The officer had the wound cauterized at once. The owner of the canine will be notified by Chief Short to despatch it at once.

Personality Spotlight

(UPI)—As he had lived, so Malcolm X died.

Strife, racial hatreds, bitterness and violence were the dominant factors in the 39-year life of tall, rust-haired Malcolm Little.

He saw his birthplace in Omaha, Neb., and another residence in Michigan set afire by Ku Klux Klansmen. Yesterday Malcolm's body—riddled by assassins' bullets—fell on a rostrum in Manhattan where he had gone to reiterate his black supremacist credo.

The hate darted into sharp focus when he described the assassination of President John F. Kennedy as "chickens coming home to roost."

And it could not be forgotten yesterday at the blood-spattered death scene of the man who had formed his own militant black nationalist movement less than a year ago and declared:

"There can be no revolution without bloodshed."

Twice the boy whose bitterness drove him to a prominent spot in the racial limelight as Malcolm X saw night-riding Ku Kluxers burn his family from their homes. The second home-burning occurred when the family lived in Lansing, Mich.

His father had been a Baptist Minister and an early Garveite a black nationalist, too. His father was found dead, his head caved in.

Speaking of his father, Malcolm X told a reporter last year:

"He was, like I say, a clergyman, a Christian, and it was Christians who burned the homes in both places, people who teach religious tolerance and brotherhood."

The little family later lived in New York and Boston. As a zoot-suited, hip-talking teenager in the Harlem Ghetto, Malcolm was a small-time racketeer with a reputation for shrewdness.

He admitted serving two prison terms for larceny. It was during one of these that he learned of the movement that was to catapault him to a past as the leading spokesman in the United States for black nationalists.

He joined the black muslim movement, "gave my slave name back to the white man" and became Malcolm X. "I have no last name," he said. "Just a name some white man gave one of my ancestors a long time ago. I'd rather be called nigger."

Malcolm claimed his conversion helped him kick a six-year history of narcotics addiction within 24 hours. It also gave him a job as Elijah Muhammad's emmissary.

As minister of Masque Seven in New York, Malcolm began to emerge as "a personality" that overshadowed the rest of the Muslim movement, a spokesman for the group said. As East Coast leader of the cult, he became one of America's most controversial and powerful Negroes.

In 1963 and 1964 there were rumors of a severe struggle between Malcolm and Chicago-based Elijah Muhammad.

Malcolm broke with the muslims last year after Elijah Muhammad forbade him to make any further public utterances, ostensibly a punishment for Malcolm's mocking of President Kennedy's assassination.

When he split with the muslims, Malcolm carried with him large numbers of followers into a new black nationalist party. At the time, he said the new organization's emphasis would be on "black nationalism as a political concept and from a social action against the oppressors."

Malcolm, who said he saw his role as "a Billy Graham", softened his anti-white attitude after a pilgrimage to Mecca last spring that included visits to Nigeria, Ghana, Senegal, and Algiers. Everywhere he was entertained by royalty, cabine ministers and intellectual leaders as a leading American Negro spokesman.

Malcolm said he realized for the first time the variety of people, ranging from white through brown and black, who make up Islam. He said the thing that impressed him most on this first trip abroad was "the brotherhood" of the muslim world.

"This brotherhood—the people of all races, colors, from all over the world, coming together as one—has proved to me the power of the one God," he said. "I had been blessed with a new insight."

Malcolm said he knew his outlook would cause "many blacks to cynically accuse me of 'selling out' the fight, to become an 'integrationist' and nearly all whites would scoff and jeer". But he said he knew a few would "understand and accept."

Two weeks ago he again went abroad, this time to Smethwick, a town near Birmingham, England, with a large colored population where racism had been an issue in a recent election. He wanted to visit France but was denied a visa on the grounds that he was an undesirable.

Writing in a national magazine last year, Malcolm said:

"I dream that one day history will look upon me as having been one of the voices that perhaps helped to save America from a grave, even possibly fatal catastrophe."

The flamboyant personality and dominant style that were his hallmarks commanded the admiration and respect of his followers. Capacity crowds greeted him at his every public appearance. He once admitted to studying evangelist Billy Graham's public speaking techniques.

But the personality that could hold legions could arouse seething hatreds. Malcolm believed the muslims were plotting on his life and publicly said so last week when he and his wife and their four children were bombed out of their home in the New York City borough of Queens.

Poet's Corner

LORD WILT THOU BE MY SHADOW

Elaine Graham

Lord, wilt Thou be my shadow,
Oh, wilt Thou walk with me,
Wilt Thou be my master —
My very destiny?

Father, stand beside me —
I'm begging this of Thee —
And wilt Thou let me hear and see,
Each sign that comes of Thee?

Please, Master, help me to defeat
The power of this sin!
Oh, Father, if it please Thee
Let me this battle win.

And, Lord, please dwell with other folk—
Don't let them stand alone,
Shield them, I pray, with Thine own cloak,
Prepare for them a home.

A LUNCH BOX GOODIE

If ideas for variety of lunch box goodies are getting you down, the Ontario Food Council suggests that you think of Apple Crisp.

Made with the all-time favourite crunchy topping of oatmeal, brown sugar and butter, it carries well, provides a fair share of food value, and earns a hearty share of thanks from every member of the family.

Then for a "delicious spicy confection" there are Apple Bars.

These two recipes and others are found in the leaflet "Ontario Apples" available from the Information Branch, Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 2, Ontario.

BREAKFAST-IN-A-GLASS

Here's a hint from the Ontario Food Council!

A well beaten egg in a glass of orange juice is quick to prepare, pleasant to take, and helps start the non-breakfast eater off to a much better day.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK
By Roberta Lee
Grease Spatter

To prevent grease from spattering excessively, sprinkle a little salt or flour in the pan before the grease is added. If it's too late for this preventive measure, turn a colander upside down over the frying pan. This will stop the flying grease but will allow the air to come into contact with what's cooking.

Furniture Scratches

Scratches on dark-coloured furniture can often be "obliterated" merely by applying a little iodine to them with a swab of cotton. When this has dried, go over the area with some furniture polish.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean the blackened endirons in my fireplace?

A. Remove these black deposits with white gasoline (used outdoors, of course). Follow with a kitchen cleanser, and complete the cleaning chore with metal polish. Clean any pitted areas with a vinegar salt solution, then rinse quickly.

Q. How can I keep paint brushes soft.

A. After using paint or varnish, and cleaning the brushes thoroughly, rub the bristles thoroughly with petroleum jelly and put away free from dust. This will keep your brushes soft pliable and usable.

Q. How can I improve a padding under my rugs if I don't have the real thing?

A. Make a padding with several layers of newspapers. A good feature of this kind of padding is that moths detest the smell of printer's ink!

NOT AMUSED

Dartmouth, England, (UPI) — Students from Durham University "kidnapped" a bust of Adm. Lord Nelson from the Royal Naval College here and yesterday demanded a "ransom" of the purchase of 1,000 copies of the university's magazine for its return.

The navy, not amused, called in police to investigate the larceny of the bust.

Eye operation likely for Duke of Windsor

London (UPI) — The Duke of Windsor underwent a series of eye tests today to determine if his condition is suitable for welding his detached retina back in place in a "burning glass" operation.

"The Duke of Windsor has had a very comfortable night", said a morning bulletin from the London Clinic where the 70-year-old Duke is a patient. "His condition is satisfactory".

The Duke's spokesman said the tests were to see whether his condition is suitable for what is known as the "Buring Glass" operation–welding the detached retina to the back of the eye with a beam of light.

"We should have some news tomorrow on when the operation is going to be held", the spokesman said. "Present indications are that he will have this type of operation."

No ride to town, case remanded

A Fowler's Corners man John Koole, who was scheduled to appear in Lindsay Police Court this morning couldn't get a ride into Lindsay, so the court granted him a one week remand on a charge of selling liquor.

Police said Mr. Koole called the Lindsay OPP office just prior to court and told them he had been trying to hitch-hike into Lindsay to make his appearance but couldn't get a ride. Lindsay OPP Constable Donald Reeds said the man claimed he had no means of transportation.

Sir Stewart Duke-Elder, surgeon oculist to Queen Elizabeth, the Duke's niece, will lead the team during the operation, the spokesman said.

The Duke entered the clinic Monday after flying in from Paris.

Unique private bill for Hamilton

Toronto (UPI) — The Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature Tuesday passed a unique private bill allowing the city of Hamilton to compensate people injured while helping police.

The bill stipulates the Hamilton Police Commission can provide payment for property damage or injury sustained by a citizen aiding police.

New Democratic Party leader Donald MacDonald urged consideration be given for compensation for those lossed suffered as a result of a crime as well.

MacDonald said the Hamilton bill, the first of its kind, can be used as an experiment, prior to general legislation.

"It may help the problem of public citizens standing by and refusing to help an officer in trouble", he said.

SPRING THAW IS SOLD OUT

The Spring Thaw show, being brought to Lindsay for two nights, Thursday and Friday by the Lindsay Kiwanis Club, is completely sold out, William Whyte, Chairman of ticket sales said today. Mr. Whyte said the tickets for reserved seats for the Friday night performance have all been issued and said he urged the holders of the white general admission tickets to exchange them as soon as possible for reserved-seat tickets. "The house was completely sold out," he remarked.

Mr. Whyte said there are still about 130 seats to be picked up for the Thursday night performance but all the seats have been sold. It is just a matter of the people holding general tickets exchanging them for the reserved-seat tickets he said. This will let the club know if there are going to be any vacant seats Thursday and would permit the last-minute selling of tickets for unclaimed seats.

Lochlin

Mr. and Mrs. Bev. McElwain of Brooklin visited with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burk. We are sorry to report Everett is a patient in the Minden Red Cross Hospital and hope he is soon enjoying better health.

Mr. Nelson Vangeason who has spent the past couple of months with relatives, has returned to his home here.

Burk and Grants from Minden visited in Lindsay on Sunday.

COLD CHURCH

Papworth, St. Agnes, England (UPI) — The 13th century village church here has closed until Easter because it is too cold inside and hardly anyone has been attending services. The Vicar, the Rev. W. D. Gladsworthy, said he was advised not to light the boiler which has not been used in 87 years, because it might blow up.

Yvon Dupuis served with three charges

(UPI) — Former minister without portfolio Yvon Dupuis has been served with three criminal charges for influence-peddling for a "reward" of 10-thousand dollars four years ago.

The 38-year-old member of parliament from the Quebec riding of St. Jean-Iberville-Napierville is to appear in court in St. Jean, Quebec, March 1st for a preliminary hearing.

One of the three counts charges Dupuis conspired to commit an illegal offence with St. Jean Chiropractor Roch DesLauriers and "other unknown persons." DesLauriers has not been charged.

Quebec Attorney-General Claude Wagner said in Quebec City last night the decision on whatever other charges might be laid against the so-called other unknown persons depends on Dupuis' testimony at the preliminary hearing.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson fired the Liberal firebrand from his cabinet January 22nd. The dismissal was brought to be in connection with attempts to get a race-track established in Dupuis riding.

Leaders receive training for 4-H

Reaboro (PNS) — Mrs. Dave Milling and Mrs. Victor Sloan, leaders of the Reaboro 4H Homemaking Club attended the 4H Homemaking Club Training School for Victoria County which was held at the Government Building. The project was "The Milky Way". There were leaders from 14 Clubs present. This new course will be the study of milk as a food for each member of the family — the many uses of milk and the importance of a pure milk supply. The leaders and girls will also be able to have some idea of the economy of milk and other dairy products. It is expected that 14 girls will be participating in the new course.

Alice May Nie

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Miss Alice May Nie passed away suddenly at her home on Francis St. W., Fenelon Falls on February 9th, 1965. She had been ailing for some time and had complained of not feeling well to a neighbour just a few hours before her death. She was the last of four sisters who had been life-long residents of the family home where she died.

Of the three who predeceased her, Emily, the oldest had been a book keeper in her fathers mill, Annie and Bessie were school teachers, who retired to their family home after their teaching years had been completed. Alice Nie had been a nurse.

Miss Nie's death brings to a close one of the oldest families in the village, whose history dates back to the 1870's. They were a family who kept in touch with everyone, and everything around them, and felt only disposition of the less workers in St. James Anglican church and valuable members of the Historical and Horticultural Societies.

The late Miss Nie was a kindly soul who endeared herself to all around, and the deep regret in the voices of friends and neighbours bears witness of the high esteem in which she was held and the depth of loss felt in her passing.

The funeral service was held from the Platten Funeral Home on Friday, February 12th at 2 p.m. conducted by the Rev. J. B. Harrison.

Interment was in the Fenelon Falls Cemetery vault, and the pallbearers were Messers Wm. Heard, Ken McArthur, George Palmer, Garnet Graham, J. J. Stewart and Wm. Cunningham.

Throwing people around, no way to collect money, youth told

Magistrate Ian Munro told a 21-year-old Janetville man, William Joseph Carkner, that throwing people around is no way to collect money. Carkner, who told the court he had just come back from a three-month sentence at the Ontario Reformatory for driving while his license was under suspension, was fined $50 and costs in Lindsay Police Court today or 30 days for assaulting a Lindsay youth, William Passmore, 18 of Kent St., last night.

The Passmore youth said he was walking up Kent Street with a friend about 9:30 p.m. and as they were crossing the intersection at William Street a car pulled up and parked diagonally at the curb. "Someone in the car yelled, 'Passmore come here' and asked me if I had $12 on me", Passmore told the court. He explained to the court he had promised one of the occupants of the car $12 for damage to a door of the man's car when he left it open and another vehicle struck it, some time ago.

Passmore told the court, he said, he didn't have any money but one of the youths said he had reason to believe he had. He said Carkner got out of the car and went around behind Passmore and pushed him, face-foremost, a g a i n s t the car and another youth searched him. Passmore said he squeezed out and as he did "Carkner punched me in the right month". Passmore said he started walking up the street and told Carkner he was going to notify the police. Then, he said, Carkner followed him a short distance up the street and began hitting and kicking him, about the stomach and groin. He said he didn't feel any pain at the time but "it hurt this morning".

The Passmore youth said when he had been at the car Carkner had asked for a knife but the occupants said they had better not give him one.

When Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan asker Carkner why he didn't mind his own business Carkner replied, "He (Passmore) started mouthing off I kind of lost my temper and took a couple of pokes at him".

Magistrate Munro called the act "a completely unprovoked assault", and told Carkner, "It didn't matter to you if he owed money to the other man and even if it did, that is no way to collect it."

Magistrate Munro also bound Carkner over to keep the peace for one year, especially toward Passmore. "I say this", the Magistrate remarked, "in case you get any fancy ideas when you get out. If you do you've had it!"

Lindsay women mark national W.M.C. day

The Annual Women's Missionary Council service was conducted Sunday morning, Feb. 21st., 1965, in Calvary Pentecostal Church with Mrs. Iva Little, President, in charge.

Each lady wore a flower attached to a dolly tag with their motto "Workers together with God".

After a devotional period, a resume of the work accomplished by the group during the past year was presented and an attractive exhibit, including quilts, layettes, sheets, pillow cases, mitts towels, children's clothing, etc., was arranged at the front of the Church. These items are to be distributed to: Eastern Pentecostal Bible College, Peterborough; Northland Missions, Beres Bible Inst., Montreal, Quebec; Bethel Home for girls and Shepherd Lodge, Toronto; as well as home workers.

One of the objectives of this group is to raise money, by sacrificial giving, to provide money for the erection of a chapel in Quebec. A Model Church was set up in front of the Pulpit representing this project.

The Pastor of the Church, Rev. Mr. Ellis, spoke briefly on the Text found in First Corinthians Chapter 3, verse 9, "for we are labourers together with God" and commended the members of The Women's Missionary Council for their activities during the past year and wished them God's Blessing on their work during the coming year.

The congregation was invited to view the display at the front of the Church.

Maria Lovett

On Sunday morning, January 17, 1965, Maria Wells, entered into rest at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, in her eighty-second year. She was the beloved wife of the late George Kinghorn and the late Samuel Lovett.

Mrs. Lovett was born in Mariposa Township and was the daughter of the late Robert Wells and Ann Adams. She was loved and respected by all who knew her for her cheerful disposition. Mrs. Lovett was an active member of Cambray United Church until her illness five years ago. Since that time she has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Sher in Lindsay. Mrs. Lovett is survived by three sons and two daughters, Chester of Woodville, Alice (Mrs. Fred Sher) of Lindsay; Edith (Mrs. Kellar) of Miami, Florida; Maurice of Oshawa and Charles of Newmarket. She is also survived by nine grandchildren, John, Roger and Anne Kinghorn; Laurie (Mrs. Neil V. McPhail); Marie and Wendy Shier; Carolyn (Mrs. Thomas Lowery), John and Larry Kinghorn and two great-grandchildren Elaine Kinghorn and Jennifer Lowery. One sister Dorothy (Mrs. Docherty) of Barrie survives. Mrs. Lovett was predeceased by brothers William of Lindsay, James of Cambray, Chester of Washington, U.S.A., John of Abernethy, Saskatchewan, Hillary and Joseph of Mariposa and sisters Hannah (Mrs. W. Arksey) of Edmonton, Alberta and Mary (Mrs. J. Owens) of Woodville.

The funeral service was from the Stoddart Funeral Home in Lindsay on Thursday, January 19 by Rev. R. K. McLean of Cambridge Street United Church.

Pallbearers were Elmer Wells, Fred Owens, Robert Pearson, Edgar Lovett, Thomas Kinghorn and Adrian Smith. Interment was at Eden Cemetery.

Monarchy is "Cherished" - Pearson

Ottawa (UPI) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the Commons Tuesday his government still considers the Queen a "cherished, strong and important part" of Canada's constitution.

Replying to Commons questioning, Pearson said there should be no cause for speculation or doubt about the monarchy's status "because the policy of the government is perfectly clear.

"It is to maintain the monarchy as a cherished, strong and important part of our constitution which has earned and will receive our loyalty and our respect.

The Canadian University Liberal Federation two weeks ago adopted a resolution the Queen be abolished as the official head of Canadian government.

West Coast Liberal D. W. Groos (Victoria) asked for the Prime Minister's clarification "to meet growing speculation in the press which has been encouraged by members of the official opposition".

World news today

Saigon — As one political crisis ended in South Viet Nam another loomed on the horizon. Deposed strongman Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh was given a face-saving job as roving ambassador to ease his exile. One of South Viet Nam's top Buddhist leaders said, meanwhile, that the anti-communist war was "fratricidal" and added it could not be won through fighting.

London — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson disclosed that Britain has been conducting behind the scenes consultations in search for a peaceful solution to the Vietnamese conflict. He told the House of Commons the confidential "diplomatic consultations" are still going on. He said that to comment on their progress now would only prejudice the results.

Moscow — The Soviet Union charged that U.S. planes have been buzzing Russian Merchant ships carrying supplies to Communist North Viet Nam. Merchant Marine Deputy Minister Dmitri Zotov said the solution "is tense" and warned of a possible "catastrophe at sea." Zotov said the ships carried only merchant cargo. However it has been reported that the Soviet Union was preparing to send ground-to-air missiles to the Hanoi government.

Damascus — A Syrian-born naturalized American and his cousin, an army major, were executed for their part in an alleged U.S. spy ring. The Syrian government had claimed the espionage plot was headed by the second secretary of the U.S. Embassy, Walter S. Snowdon, who since then has been ousted. The two men were convicted and sentenced to death last weekend on charges they attempted to get military information for the U.S. diplomat.

Paris — President Charles De Gaulle and President Johnson may hold summit talks this summer in Paris, according to French government sources. In Washington, the White House said the President hoped to visit Europe this year but said speculation on dates was premature. The French sources said De Gaulle hopes to meet with Johnson for talks covering the Gamut of French-American relations.

London — The Labour Government announced a record $5.9 billion defense budget for 1965-66. The government in a "white paper" said it hopes to trim defense costs in the belief that the danger of nuclear war "can be almost entirely excluded." The new budget was 8.7 per cent over the previous fiscal budget.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — The only performer in town to win three best acting awards (in a leading role) is Lassie, the indefatigable collie who dominates the PATSY competition.

For the eighth straight year Lassie has been nominated as best animal actor in television.

Since the inception of the awards back in 1958 Lassie has placed either first or second in the balloting, which is unprecedented among female impersonators in the animal kingdom. Lassie won the statuette in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

He owners, keepers and advisors will tell you that the canine star placed first every year, but that resentment was building among other four-footed performers — something like the old cry, "break up the Yankees."

Thus, two dogs and a horse nosed out Lassie four straight years from 1960 through 1963.

Asta, the dog in "The Thin Man" series, was the winner in 1960. Tramp of "My Three Sons" carried the day in 1961, and in 1962 and 1963 it was Mr. Ed, the talking horse.

This year's nominations were made public by the American Humane Association which sponsors the PATSY's. Sure enough, Lassie and Mr. Ed are in the running again. This time, however, they face formidable competition from Flipper, the porpoise.

Also in the running is a silly goose named Hannibal from the "Daniel Boone" series, Higgins, the dog in "Petticoat Junction" and, of course, old reliable Tramp.

PATSY stands for Performing Animal Television Star of the Year. It also is the abbreviation for Picture Animal Top Star of the Year.

Originally, awards were restricted to movie animals, but video pets became so popular they have become the tail that wags the dog. The reason is simple. They are much better known than their movie counterparts, kindling more interest among voters who come from the press corps.

For the record, here are the feature film nominees:

Storb, the dog in "Goodbye Charlie"; Junior, the dog in "Island of the Blue Dolphins"; Marquis, the dog in "Wild and Wonderful"; Barney, the monkey in "Robinson Crusoe on Mars"; Candy, the monkey in "What a Way to Go"; and Patrina, the tiger, in "A Tiger Walks".

On March 27 the animals, their trainers, press agents and other subordinates will meet for the award presentations.

How they hope to get Flipper there is an exceeding moot point. What if Patrina the tiger suffers hunger pangs at the sight of delectable Hannibal, the goose?

The dogs and Mr. Ed can be expected to behave themselves, but what of the monkey business provided by Barney and Candy?

No matter, it's all in fun and provides the Humane Society with an opportunity to focus national attention on our animal friends, who bless 'em, never give "thank you" speeches.

"Fred W. Warren Variety Store, Fenelon Falls" and the handwriting was later identified by Mrs. Leah Woolridge, for five years a helper in the Thurston household, and by Dr. Donald Warren of Oshawa, brother of the deceased. The Constable read the note as follows: "Dear Carman. I love you and that's all. There won't be any need for you to come and see me now. I can't sign any papers. Love—Mary."

Had Permit

Fenelon Falls police Chief William Weaver told of being called to the scene by the coroner, Dr. George Johnstone. He said he called O.P.P. Corporal Fitzpatrick of the Lindsay detachment, requesting the assistance of the Identification branch at Cobourg. He said he had known the deceased for 10 years, and upon her request, had visited the house at regular intervals to see that she was not disturbed. He said Mrs. Thurston had asked for instruction in the operation of the pistol a month prior to the accident adding that he did not show her how to load the pistol. He said she had applied for and received a permit for the gun in 1961, as she frequently carried sums of money home from the store.

"I overheard them arguing about money" said Mrs. Leah Woolridge, for five years a helper in the Thurston home as she described a visit by Carman Thurston on the Friday previous to the incident. She said Mr. Thurston kept saying she did have it, (referring to money). Mrs. Woolridge said Mrs. Thurston never discussed money matters with her.

Bank of Montreal manager at the Fenelon Falls branch, Clare Irwin, told the enquiry of financial transactions that took place on Friday January 15th, between Mr. and Mrs. Thurston, according to bank records involving some $3500.

John Carman Thurston, husband of the deceased, said he married Mary Eleanor Warren on October 8th, 1963. He said he received a letter from Mrs. Thurston's solicitor on Nov. 21st 1964, advising him to leave the Thurston household. Carman Thurston described recent visits to Mrs. Thurston, stating that she asked him to call to see her on Saturday, January 16th. He also described his whereabouts later that Saturday stating he was in Toronto at a car dealers at 5:55 p.m. Later evidence introduced by the crown attorney indicated that Carman Thurston was in the vicinity of Port Perry between 6:00 p.m. and 6:15 p.m. Saturday January 16th, purchasing apples. This was later admitted by Mr. Thurston. Mr. Thurston said Mrs. Thurston told him on that Saturday that she would not be there on Monday.

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan questioned Mr. Thurston regarding a letter found in Mrs. Thurston's possession which he had written to a woman in Lewisport, Newfoundland. Mr. Jordan produced a photostatic copy of the letter which Mr. Thurston admitted leaving among Mrs. Thurston's papers, but which he claimed was never mailed. Mr. Jordan read as follows: "Dearest Elsie — I will even get a Mexican divorce if I have to, but I don't think I will have to. Developments have taken a change. I love you — nothing will keep us apart, Carman."

Coroner Dr. George Johnstone read the pathologists report indicating the path of the projectile and the damage incurred. He said it was quite consistant for the gun to be still held in the hand, and powder marks found were consistant with the gun being held close to the wound. He said there was a possibility of ivi- hours after the wound rather than likely it would minutes. He said he estimated death occurred between midnight and 8:00 a.m.

Increase in number of telephones in Lindsay area, Manager reports

"Comenting on the Bell Telephone Annual Report issued today, C. B. Symonds, the Company's Manager here said that 6084 telephones were in service in Lindsay as of December 31st, an increase of 251 during the year. At the end of last year, Bell employed 53 men and women here, and the 1964 payroll totalled $196,000.00. Sapital expenditures during the year to extend and improve services in Lindsay were $202,000.00. Municipal taxes for the Exchange area amounted to $30,617.00 of which amount the Town of Lindsay received $22,940.00 To provide for replacement, expansion, and modernization of telephone facilities, the Bell Telephone Company of Canada is investing almost a quarter of a billion dollars a year in new construction, according to the company's 85th annual report issued today.

In 1964, the Bell spent $233.5 million on a new construction just under the 1963 record of $234 million. During the year, 222,475 telephones were added to those in service, a total exceeded only in two other years (1955-56) of the company's history.

Net income of Bell for the year ended December 31, 1964, was $77.7 million, equivalent to a return of 6.3 per cent on total capital, or $2.71 per share. This compares with a rate of return of 6.1 per cent and earnings per share of $2.58 in 1963.

The report says: "Net income was 13.8 per cent higher than in 1963. The main factors in this achievement were that revenues rose by 7.9 per cent while the increase in expenses was held to 5.4 per cent."

After payment of $2.20 per share in dividends to the company's 207,000 shareholders, the balance of 51 cents per share was added to earnings retained and invested in the business. Of Bell's shareholders, 97.4 per cent live in Canada and own 93.6 per cent of the stock

Contracts negotiated late in 1963 with three unions representing 28,700 employees increased payroll expense by about three per cnt on an annual basis. As of December 31, Bell employed 35,890 men and women. The company's payroll in 1963 totalled $187,081,000.

Construction of facilities to extend and improve services during the year saw the completion of 52 new buildings and extensions built on 23 others. Thirty-one new exchanges were put into service, many of them in remote, northern communities which had been without telephone service. Thirty-nine other exchanges were converted from manual to dial operation. At year end, 99.1 percent of the telephones served by Bell in Ontario, Quebec, Labrador and the Northwest Territories were dial operated.

With regard to the announcement by the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada on September 22, 1964, that it would hold public hearings in 1965 on which such level of earnings should be established, the report says: "The Board stated that in these hearings it does not intend to inquire into existing rates. As indicated in our submission to the Board in November, the company firmly believes it should be permitted to continue to improve earnings through prudent management and efficient operation under the present rate structure."

Styled for the young lady who takes her bowling seriously is this outfit from British designer Teddy Tinling. The Culotte skirt is in "Terylene"/cotton and the shirt in "Terylene"/Vincel, both in diagonally blocked contrasting colours.

Canada's Fallout Shelter potential to be studied in three-year survey

Ottawa (UPI) — Canada's fallout shelter potential in the event of a nuclear attack will be studied in a three-year country-wide survey, Industry Minister C. M.. Drury announced Tuesday.

The $1 Million survey will be conducted by the Federal Public Works Department and the Emergency Measures Organization (EMO) in co-operation with the provincial governments.

It will be started in Southern Ontario, Sopthern Quebec and New Brunswick this year. All other areas of Canada also will be covered before the survey is completed in 1968.

The study will identify and locate buildings containing potential shelter spaces, estimate how many person they would hold, and determine existing protection against radioactive fallout.

It also will show what buildings need improvements.

Canada's fallout today Et Structures studied will include provincial and municipal buildings, apartments, offices, schools, churches and all other suitable private-owned structures. Private residences will not be included.

Shelter factors—such as public capacity, radiation protection above and below ground level, ventilation, water electricity, location and sanitary facilities—will be listed and programmed for computer and manual analysis.

The survey will be an extension of a 1961 federal study and a pilot project last year in Alberta.

The 1961 investigation of about 4,000 federal government buildings throughout Canada revealed suitable shelter for about 500,000 Canadians if an attack came.

The Alberta survey showed enough shelter spaces—12 sq. ft. with at least 80 cu. ft of free air space—for 1,650,000 persons.

But only one-quarter of them—442,500-provided what EMO considers adequate protection against all but extreme fallout—a protection factor of 100 or more.

(The factor of 100 reduces inside exposure to 1/100th of the rattiation rate outside. A factor of 10 reduces exposure to 1/10th the roentgen rate outside.)

The Alberta study showed 185,000 buildings with a factor of 50-99 an dover one million with a factor of 10-19.

It also revealed that spaces for another 740,000 persons could be provided if improvements were made.

J. F. Wallace, Deputy Director of EMO, said the Alberta study was significant because it showed there was more than enough shelter space available—a t l t h o u g h much of it was not as good as the organization desired.

"We know we have a lot of potential in existing public buildings", he said.

He said it was hoped the country- wide survey would turn up enough space for all Canadians in locations that would require a minimum amount of population movement.

Wallace said the study was undertaken as an alternative to EMO's home fallout shelter programme which was "not as successful as we would have liked".

He stressed it did not indicate any increase in international tensions but was a "logical extension" of the Alberta pilot study.

Good family snapshots 'aren't hard to take', nor are they a matter of pure luck. With today's easy to operate cameras, picture-takers are able to spend more time thinking about how to make that picture a better one.

Simple little things such as moving in close, shooting at the same level as the subject and avoiding "cluttered" backgrounds will make the big improvements in your snapshots.

'What is Art' -- a question with many answers guild told

'What is Art?" is a question with many answers", Paul Bennett, Director of the Art Institute of Ontario told about 60 members of the Lindsay Art Guild at a recent meeting in the art room of the Lindsay Collegiate. "Sometimes it is said visual art is a reflection of nature. But art is man-made and nature has infinite detail. We go to nature for balance and proportion, and for the harmony of things in agreement, and for the regular beat of its rhythms," he said.

Mr. Bennett was speaking to the guild members on the travelling exhibition of Canadian paintings that are on loan from noted collections. The paintings have a total value of about $10,000. Since September, the Art Institute of Ontario have received about 300 requests from high schools and art associations to see the exhibition.

Mr. Bennett described each picture to the guild members. The two biggest names in modern Canadian painting are Riopelle and Borduas, he said. The latter, who has received international recognition, was born in Quebec in 1905 and died in Paris in 1960. Many of his paintings were experimental, said Mr. Bennett. "Abstract in Blue, a baffling study of a V-shaped form against a slashing black mass, is all in the upper part of the picture. Yet it lacks weightlessness. When the picture is turned upside down, the pull is downward and the mass is heavy." This picture is a $4,000 item.

An Arthur Lismer contained all nature's elements. The jagged fallen branches on rough angular rocks, beside a tormented lake is painted with speed and emotional excitement. Mr. Bennett called it a meeting of nature's pattern and Lismer's pattern and one of the artist's best.

There were other famous names represented: Charles Jeffreys, Canadian historian; A. J. Casson; Harold Town; York Wilson (The Seven Lively Arts mural at the O'Keefe Centre); Jack Macdonald.

Referring to a J. E. H. MacDonald (Group of 7) painting done in 1915, Mr. Bennett reminded his audience of the critics' reaction at the time. They dubbed it the 'Hot Mush School' and heaped scorn on it and all of the group. "It seems realistic now, given a little time", the speaker prophesied, "and the public will accept the creative work of today, proud of the achievement in Canadian art history. The critics have acclaimed them already", he said.

Following the lecture the members of the Art Guild displayed their own efforts, and Mr. Bennett gave his criticism of them.

Stan Laurel dies after heart attack

Santa Monica, Calif., (UPI) — Stan Laurel, the rubber-faced and skinny member of the famed Laurel and Hardy comedy team, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was 74 years old.

The famed comic suffered a heart attack at his home on a Palisade overlooking the Pacific Ocean and died a few moments later with his wife Ida by his side.

Retired since 1955 when he suffered a stroke, Laurel was a victim of diabetes in his later years. He refused to appear in public after the death in 1957 of his long-time partner, Oliver Hardy.

But the world knew Stan Laurel not as a slender old man living out his years overlooking the Pacific Ocean. He made virtually millions of persons laugh for three generations as the antic, bungling and somehow loveable scamp who unfailingly brought catastrophe to his fat and dull-witted partner.

Tigers take first game 4-3, Merchants out to win Friday

A brief defensive lapse early in the second period cost the Lindsay Merchants the first game of the best of seven group finals at Aurora last night. Aurora went on to win the game 4 - 3 with the wining goal being scored with two minutes left on the clock.

Lindsay Merchants and Aurora Tigers clashed in a fast wide open game last night that saw the score twice tied, and many scoring chances turned aside by both goalers. Lindsay Merchants opened the scoring at 13:10 of the first period when Ray McCabe and Ron Pilisworth both banged at Bill Horton's rebound before beating Goodmakers, Jack Foran tied the score for the Tigers at 19:41 assisted by Hill and Bruce Graham.

Aurora Tigers took advantage of Lindsay penalties early in the second period with goals by Foran and Graham at 3:52 and 5:22 to take a 3 - 1 lead. Bob Taylor got one back for the Merchants at 18:30 of the second period.

The third period saw the Merchants outshoot the Tigers by a large margin but they were unable to score until 17:30 of the period. Ron Pillsworth banged in the tying goal from McCabe and Babcock although four or five sure goals by the Merchants had been missed earlier in the period.

Tiger opportunist Bruce Graham however retaliated just twenty-one seconds later from Foran and Hill to gain the win.

Last night's game, handled by two referees, saw the best officiating experienced in Aurora this season, but the Merchants' attackers time and again skated through the Tiger Defence only to be thwarted at the goal-mouth.

The second game of the group final series will be played at the Lindsay Kiwanis Arena Friday night at nine. Some tickets are available for this game, on a first come first served basis.

OTTAWA - Capital of Canada

Choosen as Capital by Queen Victoria in 1857

Above the Mackenzie King Bridge (upper) on the right of the Rideau Canal and facing Chateau Laurier, can be seen the old Union Station. It was erected in 1912 at the same time as the Chateau Laurier, by the Grand Trunk Railway Company. The station is to be demolished and the remaining rail lines removed from the centre of Ottawa to make way for the development of Confederation square. The new station is to be built in the Hurdman Bridge area in the south-eastern part of Ottawa—Photo by Cliff Beckman for National Capital Commission.

Built on a bluff overlooking the Ottawa River, the construction of the House of Commons was begun in 1860. The building was completely gutted by fire in 1916 except for the library. The new House of Commons was officially opened in 1920 and the Peace Tower was completed in 1927. The Post — Second Section

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24TH, 1965

Master plan to make Canada's Capital a symbol of urban civilization . . .

The arrival in 1826 of Lieutenant Colonel John By, of the Royal Engineers, and the construction of the Rideau Canal which was completed in 1832, marked the real beginning of the City of Ottawa. In 1855, Bytown — as it was then known — was incorporated as a city and adopted the name of Ottawa. Towards the close of 1857, Queen Victoria chose Ottawa as the Capital city of the United Province of Canada and in 1867, Ottawa became the Capital city of the new Canadian Confederation. Today, the population of Ottawa has reached 280,000 and the area has expanded to 30,482 acres.

Since the Second World War, a population explosion has taken place in the Capital, as well as an accelerated expansion of residential construction in the suburbs. The City of Ottawa, whose population in 1946 was 171,941, today has reached 280,000. The metropolitan area, made up of 13 municipalities on both the Ontario and Quebec sides, has a population of about 475,000. Demographic experts foresee that by 1980, Ottawa will have reached 437,000 with the National Capital Region totalling more than 800,000.

In view of such statistics, the need for planning cannot be denied. Fortunately in the case of Canada's capital the foresight of the authors produced the Master plan for development of the National Capital. The National Capital Commission was formed under the terms of the 1959 National Capital Act, and replaced the former Federal District Commission. At that time the National Capital region was extended to include an area of 1,800 square miles about equally distributed between the Quebec and the Ontario sides of the Ottawa river. The region now encompasses 71 administrative bodies (counties, townships, cities, towns, villages and police villages), each retaing all its rights and autonomy under the legislation of Quebec north of the river and the legislation of Ontario on the south side of the river.

Objects

The National Capital Commission's "objects and purposes are to prepare plans for and assist in the development, conservation and improvement of the National Capital Region so that the nature and character of the seat of the Government of Canada may be in accordance with its national significance."

The Greber master plan (named after Jacques Greber of Paris, a famed town planner.) contains five principal recomendations, all of which are on the way to completion. The National Capital Commission has based its planning projects on the proposals contained in the master plan, a plan conceived with wise flexibility. Here in brief are the five basic Greber proposals:

- Relocation and reduction of railroad tracks which crisscross the capital and constitute, many barriers to good city growth and easy circulation.
- Development of open, green spaces with a view to putting nature to work for urban embellishment.
- Planned location of Federal Government buildings to help relieve the traffic congestion in the central area of Ottawa and ensure better sites for larger buildings with ample parking.
- Establishment of a greenbelt around Ottawa and Hull.
- Development of Gatineau Park in the Laurentians north and west of the city of Hull.

The capital of a nation reflects the soul of its people. At the seat of central government and of national institutions, it is a community with undefined limits, since all the citizens of the country form part of it. Traditionally, capitals have reflected the culture, the wealth, the power and the political spirit of nations.

A city without history is a city without a soul. The urban population explosion, the trend toward functional building and the pressing need for new and wider streets in our larger cities all tend toward the elimination of building of historic interest.

Too often progress is accompanied by their destruction. The Commission, therefore, carries out a programme of classification and preservation of sites of historic interest within the region.

Public Speaking school finals

MacArthur's School held its public speaking finals on Wednesday, February 17th, 1965.

The winners were as follows: Gail Waterman - first, speaking on "Abraham Lincoln"; Judy Watson - second with her speech on "Rabbits"; and Brian Roblin placed third with his talk on "The Ups and Downs of Outer Space".

Other contestants taking part were Shirley Hore, Deborah Fraser, John Fitsell and Neil Smith.

The teacher, Mr. Arnott Mathews, thanked Mr. K. Purdon and Mrs. F. Robinson, both of Lindsay, who were on hand to judge the contest.

Gail will go on to represent the school at a finals to be held in Lindsay.

This photo shows a portion of the National Capital Commission's proposal, the Parkin Plan, for the redevelopment of Confederation Square in the centre of Ottawa. The canal has been enlarged near the site of the old Union Station to form a reflecting pool and the station has been replaced by a Convention Centre. Traffic around the War Memorial has been completely re-directed. The buildings on the right of the picture are to be a mixed group of Government and private enterprises office buildings and a hotel. — NCC photo by Newton.

STOP!... killing yourself

DO'S AND DON'T FOR ARTHRITIS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can you give me some basic facts and some do's and don't's for patients with arthritis? Just plain old information, even if it's repititious?—Mrs. N.

Comment: All right.

1. Three more common types: osteoarthritis (degenerative), rheumatoid, arthritis and gout.

2. Osteoarthritis is most common after middle age. Usually affects the larger joints (spine, hip, knee); although it may involve the end joints in the fingers causing the characteristic knobby look (Haberden's nodes). Usually, this form of arthritis is not crippling. The cause is unknown although it is one of the oldes known diseases. Treatment is mainly heat in some form for comfort, exercises, supports and drugs such as aspirin to control pain.

3. Rheumatoid arthritis can occur at any age. It is a systemic infection, causing fever, occasional heart complications, loss of weight, and disability due to joint destruction. Its cause is unknown. Treatment is rest, building up the patient's resistance, treatment with aspirin, cortisone, ACTH, and support of joints. It is a chronic condition, often lasting many years.

GOUTY ARTHRITIS

4. Gouty arthritis is a metabolic disease in which there's trouble taking care of the uric acid in the body. It may settle in most any joint, although one of the most common is the large toe. There is redness, swelling and excruiating pain a few days during an attack of gout. Colchiche is a drug which controls the immediate attack. It is also prescribed in smaller doses with such drugs as Benemid (and others) to promote comfort between attacks and postpone further bouts of gout.

One man sent a card yesterday on which he wrote, "Please give us a diet we can use in gout. Have suffered for weeks. Thank you—(Signed) (Ouch!)" Although many patients seem to do better on low fat diets, I know of no specific diet which has proved helpful in this disease.

5. The above are the most common, but there are scores of other types of arthritis associated with general infection in the body, and due to trouble in the secretions of the glands which call for other types of specific treatment.

6. The most important thing to remember is not to treat arthritis yourself. Diagnosis is most important. All the aspirin in the world will not make inroads against gout, for instance. And the physician must be sure it is arthritis, and not something which stimulates it: like bursitis, neuritis, myositis, tendonitis, etc.

7. Some important don'ts: Don't treat yourself. (This deserves to be repeated). Don't fall for the blandishments of a quack, who will make all kinds of wonderful promises, sell you expensive paraphernalia, and take your money without a twinge of conscience; although he knows that what the regular physician cannot help, that he alone is not the keeper of secrets for a miraculous cure.

The ethical physician does everything he can, but makes no promises for complete cure. The quack will promise you pie in the sky. No wonder the helpless, uncomfortable, pain-wracked patients throw away millions of dollars yearly on these human vultures.

TELSTARS BEAT TABS

Friday, February 12, the Telstars received a victory over the tabs; the score being 30 to 20. Both teams played surprising well but the Telstars continued to keep a small margin ahead of the Tabs. Although the Telstars kept ahead throughout the game, their greatest force was in the last quarter where their lead moved ten points ahead of the Tabs.

The outstanding player was Margaret Morrow, a member of the Telstars.

LAY-UPS UPSET ECHOES

On Tuesday, February 16, the Echoes and Lay-ups battled in a basketball game, but it proved to be a victory for the Lay-ups with a score of 21 to 16.

The game started with Elizabeth McQuarrie of the Lay-ups scoring two baskets in the first 30 seconds of play. The game was quite lively, but the ball seemed to appear in the Echoes' basket much of the time. There was a foul play against the Lay-ups and here the Echoes obtained a single point on a free-throw. At the end of the first quarter the score was 12 to 1 for the Lay-ups.

The second quarter began and the Echoes were picking up. The score at the end of this time was 17 to 8.

The third quarter kept everyone hopping and at the end, the score was 19 to 10. The outstanding player for this exciting game was Elizabeth McQuarrie, captain of the Lay-ups.

SPEAKING CONTEST
By Lea Woodward

The Ontario Hydro speeches were held on Friday morning in the auditorium at Central Senior School. This, one of many speaking contests being held this month was for the benefit of selecting Central's candidate in the Ontario Hydro Speaking Contest. Many students participated in this with well-prepared speeches but unfortunately only three people could be chosen.

WENDY BAUMAN WINS

The number one speaker was Wendy Bauman, who will represent Central Senior School. Her interesting and educational speech, "O Canada" held the attention of the majority of students. Laurie MacLean was chosen as second winner and she too spoke of our wonderful country Canada. In third place was Susan Holtom who chose the topic "The Wonderful World of Music." Susan's speech was well presented. Her reference to the "shaggy haired Beatles" was very amusing.

"These were the most enjoyed and well-prepared speeches that have been heard in Central for a number of years," one teacher commented, "and it was very difficult for the judges to decide upon the winner. Some of the teachers at Central acted as judges.

The programme was very worthwhile and Central School wishes Wendy Bauman the best of luck.

STUDENTS IN HISTORY
By Lea Woodward

"Hip-hip-hurray!" — this was the joyful sound the students echoed through the auditorium of the Central Senior School after the new flag was hoisted. It was mentioned several times during the ceremony that it was not a regular assembly but a day of history that will be a page in a history text in years to come. This important occasion will never be forgotten.

The passage from the Bible was read by a teacher, Mr. Grant MacArthur. The guest-speakers were Rev. O. Locke and the school inspector, Mr. Bates.

The flag was hoisted by a Boy Scout from the 3rd Lindsay troop, Howie Robinson, who was assisted by a Girl-Guide from the fourth Lindsay company, Lea Woodward. After the flag was raised, the scout and girl-guide stepped back two paces and saluted it. This was then followed by singing "O Canada."

The students then gave three cheers for the new flag.

Although many people regret that the Red Ensign was hauled down and the new flag hoisted on the flag pole, we must remember that it is now Canada's symbol and should be respected.

ASSEMBLY
By Robbie McLean

Recently Central Senior School's pupils met in the auditorium. After the opening exercises, Jim Bradley read a short tribute to Sir Winston Churchill.

Mr. Christie of the Department of Lands and Forests was introduced by Gordon Eason. His talk dealt with the various branches of his department, namely, timber fish and wildlife, soil and water.

The Timber Branch is concerned with conservation of trees. One good example of tree conservation is the reforestation movement which has greatly accelerated in the last few years.

The Fish and Wildlife Branch deals with conserving animals, game and fish in our forests and lakes. It is especially concerned with fish because of the drop in the water level in the Great Lakes with the result that many fish have died unnecessarily.

Mr. Christie went on to say that water pollution is a serious problem that confronts the Water Branch. Many fish, animals and other living things have suffered death because of the dumping of raw sewage, detergents and chemical wastes from town factories. This could have been avoided if necessary treatment had been given.

If you have been driving around Pontypool lately, you may have noticed ploughed or tree covered hills. This is the work of the Soil Branch seeking to conserve our soil from wind and water erosion. The roots mat the soil, holding it.

Mr. Christie's speech has changed my opinion a great deal. I hope all pupils of Central Senior have been changed also.

A film "Harmful Effects of Tobacco" followed. It showed the problems of people falling prey to its harmful effects after addiction.

LACK-A-DAY
By Barbara Johnston

"February brings the rain, thaws the frozen lake again".

Mother Goose's definition of February in poetic form is contrary to present belief, for the glittering sheets of ice stretching from fence-post to sugar-bush, sidewalk to front step, are the product of no thaw. But this is a unique month, and any exception is plausible.

Groundhog day on the second of February is an inevitably sunny day, hearalded with groans and moans for the buck-toothed burrower will surely see his shadow and retire to his snug winter haven, leaving six more weeks of winter for us to enjoy.

Charles Dickens, creator of scores of familiar English characters and whose pen gives these extraordinary figures realistic personalities, celebrated 58 birthdays on the seventh of the month from 1812 to 1870.

Electric light-bulbs, phonographs and telephone improvements are only a few of the credits to Thomas Edison's name, the great inventor born on February 11, 1847 and who lived to see 1931.

No one needs to be reminded what occasion falls on the 14th, namely, St. Valentine's Day. The patron saint of this celebrated day, St. Valentine originated the age-old custom of sending hearts, flowers, Valentine cards and candy to signify friendship of true love. Cupid's appetite for mischief or love is satisfied today.

Usually classed as "the day after Valentine's," February 15 has a personality of its own this year, being the day the new Canadian flag was officially raised. Ceremonies at Central School, Parliament, and countless other places recognized the labour of months, the product of strife and controversy as to our national emblem.

Any members of the Woman's Institute will remember Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless as the founder of the first such group, February 19, 1897, at Stoney Creek.

"The doctor who banished years of pain," Sir Frederick Banting, Canadian winner of the Nobel Prize of Medicine, was the discoverer of the miracle "wonder" drug insulin. Killed in an aeroplane crash on February 21, 1941, anticipation of other great discoveries was tragically destroyed on that fatal day.

Music lovers of every nation will probably honour the famous Frederick Chopin, master musician in 1810 to 1849. In his short but brilliant life he celebrated birthdays on the 22nd of this month.

"Buffalo Bill rides again!" This statement, uttered on Television westerns and "how the west was won" type movies express the hope of every young "cowboy". But this character, usually classed as a fictional hero, actually lived in the form of William Frederick Cody, born February 26, 1846. In spite of his dangerous life, he lived 71 years until 1917.

The American poet of great fame, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807 to 1862, was born on the 27th of February. Hiawatha is his most familiar and possibly most original work, possessing rhythmic poetic passages with its roots thrust deep in its native soil.

Summing up, I would like to add the important date which brings February to a close. On this eventful day the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey was sworn in as the first Canadian-born Governor General.

But is it the last of the month? No, for every fourth year, leap year, an extra day is added and what unheard of famous birthdays of occasions fall on the 29th? No one knows, and this is part of the reason the title "Lack-a-day" was chosen for the almanac of the month bearing the primrose as the flower and the Amethyst as the gem.

Don McGibbon, president of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of Imperial Oil Company Limited, who was the guest speaker at the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce Monday evening is pictured here with his wife before they went to look over the Academy Theatre in town. Both are interested in drama, Mrs. McGibbon being the past president of the Dominion Drama Festival and Mr. McGibbon the treasurer.—"Post" staff photo.

Very poor job being done on Lindsay roads — reader

Dear Editor:

In reference to your editorial of February 9th regarding snow removal, I heartily agree with you; there is a very poor job being done especially on the sidewalks. While as you stated when Lloyd Found was chairman of the works board a marvellous job was done, with snow being moved in every section of the town simultaneously. We had not had such a good works programme since the time of Les Baunton and probably will not again for ten or fifteen years. Men of Mr. Found's calibre are hard to find.

When Lloyd Found was in charge, Lindsay Street South was paved for a mile and only took four or five weeks. Look at Cambridge Street South, a bout four blocks! It has been torn up now since early in the Fall and will stay that way for a long time yet.

This is what we asked for by voting out Mr. Found, this is what we are getting. Let us wade through the snow; drive over half finished road-work, and not complain.

Thank you, I remain
"Another Citizen".

Women's Club members attend Oshawa ceremony

Instead of the regular monthly meeting for February of the Lindsay Business & Professional Women's Club, on Sunday, February 21st, several members attended the Fourth Joint International Federation Luncheon and Candlelight Ceremonial held at the Oshawa Golf Club, Oshawa, for clubs in District No. 5.

Chairman for the occasion was the President of the Oshawa Club, Mrs. J. W. Richardson. After luncheon, the Candlelight Ceremonial was conducted by Mrs. Margaret Jones, Regional Adviser. President of the Lindsay Club, Mrs. Audrous Houzer, responded to the Toast to International.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Lilah Lymburner, Chairman, Women's Advisory Committee, Department of Economics and Development for Ontario. A dynamic speaker, talented executive and world traveller, Mrs. Lymburner gave a most interesting address on trade conditions in Canada and other countries.

REPORT FROM OTTAWA

by Russell C. Honey, M.P. – Durham

This session of Parliament, which reconvened on Tuesday is now, by several weeks, the longest session in Canadian history. Tuesday was the 215th day of this second session of Canada's 26th Parliament.

There was no pomp and ceremony on Tuesday. The bells rang to call the members. The speaker led in prayer, and we were in business again.

On Tuesday Finance Minister Walter Gordon announced the government's plans to firmly assert its exclusive jurisdiction over banking and monetary matters when he anounced the government's intention to introduce legislation which will prevent any government, provincial, municipal or foreign from acquiring shares in Canada's chartered banks.

Under the Canadian constitution banking and monetary matters are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government, and Mr. Gordon made it plain that he did not intend to permit any provincial government to come in the back door and acquire an indirect control over banking and monetary policy by acquiring shares in a Canadian chartered bank.

Mr. Gordon's move was obviously aimed at the plans of British Columbia Premier W. A. C. Bennett who wants to charter a bank in which the province of British Columbia will own a block of stock. As the Finance Minister said, "even a limited ownership of shares in a bank by another government could place such a government in a special position of power or influence in relation to that bank."

To insure that the federal government has the authority to protect the economic life of Canada it must have complete control over fiscal and monetary policy. Obviously Mr. Gordon intends to permit no erosion of these powers.

When the House met on Wednesday, Prime Minister Pearson made the important announcement that the old age pension of $75 a month will be payable to Canadians at age 65 instead of 70 as at present. This change will be made progressively over a five year period. Starting in 1966 the pension will be available to persons 69 years of age, in 1967 to persons 68 years of age and so on until 1970 when all Canadians 65 years of age will be entitled, as of right, to the full pension of $75. There will be no means test.

The reduction of the age for the receipt of the pension will be made in stages to avoid an meet believes that the increased amount payable in pensions can be paid out of rising revenues and no increase in taxes will be required.

The legislation before the House this week for detailed study is the National Labour Code which is a bill respecting hours of work, minimum wages etc. in federal industries.

The House, generally speaking has been in a better mood. Moments of merriment and good natured repartee have not been lacking. Reporting on the egg production and marketing situation, Agriculture Minister Harry Hayes made the statement that, "The Canadian people eat about three-quarters of an egg per capita per day", upon which Conservative M.P. Tom Bell of New Brunswick made the wry observation, "That would be scrambled would it!"

At another stage in his report Mr. Hayes made the stage comment that, "there are different classes of eggs — there are small eggs, large eggs —" at which point an honourable member from the opposition interjected "and bad eggs!" The inference of the interjection was not lost on a House made super sensitive by recent charges of wrongdoing.

At another point Mr. Diefenbaker questioned the Prime Minister on a recent suggestion of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that Mr. Pearson might be asked to assist the United Nations in its present crisis. Mr. Pearson replied that he "would not reject any responsibility of this kind if I felt it my duty to undertake it; but, like the right honourable gentleman (Mr. Diefenbaker) I am not looking for another job" Mr. Diefenbaker, looking directly at the Prime Minister immediately shot back the remark, "Mr. Speaker, I am (looking for another job) and I may say that I am looking in that direction now!"

In summary, the first week of Parliament has shown some steady legislative progress and this has been accomplished in an atmosphere which shows marked improvement from last December.

Third sister in family receives Guide Gold Cord

An impressive ceremony took place on Monday, the anniversary of the birth of the Founder of Scouting and Guiding, when a Gold Cord was presented to Miss Mary Lou Quibell.

Many years of preparation went into the earning of this coveted award. Many days and nights of camping and travelling to and from a tester's home so that all the badges could be completed before her 17th birthday.

Mary Lou Quibell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Quibell of Fair Avenue in Lindsay. Miss Quibell also has two sisters with Gold Cords and were both honoured to be able to be with her on this occasion.

The progamme began with the singing of O'Canada and a Salute to a Gold Cord Ranger was given. Miss Quibell's older sister Barbara held the Gold Cord on a white satin pillow and this was removed by sister Nancy to be placed on Mary Lou's arm. A Gold Cord pin will also be given to Miss Quibell from the Ranger Company of which she was a member and the Local Association will present a gold Guide pin. A small token of congratulations was also presented from the Salvation Army Guide Company. The programme closed with the singing of the Ranger song, a prayer by Rev. K. G. WOMAN TO WOMAN

New York (UPI) — Man's biggest inhumanity to dogs:

Letting the dog con the master into believing the dog is more a person than a canine.

When this happens–to the extreme–the dog in your house prefers people food to canine victuals; lolls in your bed instead of on the floor, expects to have his birthday gifts wrapped in birthday paper, and otherwise rules the homestead.

Bob Bartos, who claims to know dogs at least as well as he knows people, made these points in an interview.

The morsels of wisdom are based on 40 years in dogdom. They're something every dog owner ought to chew on.

"Most dogs", Bartos said, "don't really know they're dogs. They think they are people and they expect to be treated like people.

"True. A dog shows a lot of human traits. But take it from me, dogs ought to be treated like dogs".

Bartos, in connection with his job as manager of the Friskies Pet Foods Research Center, has 150 dogs on a leash at one time–all kinds.

When he returns home from the kennels, he has six of his very own pets–two Scottish terriers, a kerry blue, a labrador retiever ,a pekinese and a beagle.

To treat your dog like a person, according to Bartos, is dishonest and taking the easy way out.

"A dog is the bigest con artist nature ever invented", he said. "Give him an inch and he'll take a mile. And then you have a pet you're hegtied to".

To the extreme, Bartos maintains, dogs actually imitate their owners. A woman who is a compulsive eater, for example, probably has a dog who is a compulsive eater. Both, understandably, are overweight.

Every time the plump woman raids the refrigerator, her dog's right behind her. She feels sorry for him. She feeds him.

A shy person, most likely, will have a shy dog. The master is afraid of too much social life and doesn't have much. The dog gets accustomed to living like a recluse. He reacts accordingly when faced with a lot of people.

Dogs of telephone addicts, meanwhile, take up the habit of hanging on the phone when the master isn't.

Bartos said some dogs, while the master is away, try to establish a link with the outside world by knocking the phone off the hook, listening to the buzz of the dial tone and getting hooked on it.

Juts treat your dog like a dog for best results. Bartos said this means feeding him regularly (most dogs like to eat at daybreak), giving him some affection, and most of all, being consistent with him.

Don't beat him one minute for something and then reward him for the same behaviour later because you think it is cute.

Fat dogs, like fat people, need to have their calories cut, according to Bartos. The plump dog, he says, is more and more of a problem these days.

Cut down the calories by shortening the quantity of food each day", se said. "Also try to see that the dog gets more exercise".

The prescription for a dog's long life, according to Bartos, goes like this:

— Regular, at least once a year, checkups at the vets. Dogs get heart disease and cancer and other human ailments. Caught early, they're usually easier to control or contain.

— Adequate exercise. See that the pets get out at least once a day.

— See that he is fed properly, at least once a day, and guard against overfeeding him.

— Protect him from hazards — traffic and poison. Walk him on a leash. When you put weed killer on the lawn, don't let the dog lick it off.

— Don't let him chew toys with lead-based paints on them. Dogs, like children, can suffer death from lead poisoning.

— Don't use your cough medicines and other remedies on the dog. See a vet and get dog medicine when the pet is ill.

"JEST A SECOND"

"Oh — oh! There goes poor old 'fat fingers' again."

STAMP NEWS

The Honourable René Tremblay, Postmaster General, announced that a special stamp honouring I.C.Y. —International Co-operation Year—will be issued by the Post Office Department on March 3, 1965.

Mr. Tremblay said that the stamp forms one part of Canada's contribution to the United Nations' sponsorship of 1965 as a year of international co-operation. Its aim is to foster greater interest in United Nations efforts in the field of international good will, in order to achieve a deeper and wider understanding of the aims, purposes and achievements of the United Nations family of organizations. Canada, as a member of the United Nations Committee for I.C.Y., heartily endorses this aim, and the Year's theme: "Peace and Progress Through Co-operation."

Three diagonally interlocked links, with Canada's maple leaf in the centre are featured and symbolize Canada's role as a link in the world-wide chain of nations. The upper right corner shows the I.C.Y. symbol: the United Nations wreath encircling two firmly clasped hands. The words "International Co-operation Year 1965" and "L'Année de la Coopération Internationale 1965" appear at the top and bottom borders.

The stamp will be printed by the Intaglio process, a method designed to delineate detail and value with utmost precision. Of large size, the stamp will be dark-green. The Canadian Bank Note Company executed and printed the stamp.

ON THE MAIN STREET

with FORD MOYNES

Following a story in this column a few days ago regarding the early history of the Bell Telephone Company in Lindsay information was lacking regarding the early location of the business in Lindsay. It has since been learned that in the year 1888, the exchange was housed on a floor above the Dominion Bank building at the corner of Kent and William streets.

This building was demolished a few years ago following a disastrous fire. The same building was the first home of the Lindsay Public Library and Reading Room. Apparently the second location was on the second floor of the present building occupied by the J. C. Edwards Hardware store on Kent street, thence to a building on William Street south, now occupied by the Tom Jones Insurance Agency. From there it went to a building on the east side of William Street north of the present Gregory building, thence to the west side of William street, now unoccupied and on to the present office building at the corner of William and Bond streets. Every step in the life of the company in Lindsay has been eventful and successful.

House of Refuge

Back in the year 1908 Victoria County Council built the House of Refuge, the new brick structure being erected on a first class farm of 140 acres. As time elapsed additions were made, the entire unit modernized and many improvements carried out and the name changed to the County Home. Today the Home is in many respects one of the finest in the province of Ontario. Much of the success of the institution, in the well running of the home, as well as in good farm management has been due to such Superintendents as Fred Brass, Reg Cross, and at the present time Locke Keeler.

Today a suggestion has been made that the farm should be rented and not be under direct control of the county. The Board of Management, it is understood, will acquaint the County Council with facts, figures and recommendations in the near future.

The Home is strictly a county institution, substantially subsidized by the province. The farm has for many years been self sustaining, in fact has paid its way. The land has been cultivated and the crop yield has been good. First class cattle, pigs and poultry have been productive. Milk has been sufficient and has been sold to the dairy and returned in pasteurized form. Egg production has been used extensively in the home, a few cattle and a few pigs raised for different purposes, fattened and disposed off at prevailing prices. Apparently a successful, paying proposition.

It has been the custom in past years to have male inmates at the Home help in farm and garden work, but in recent years the trend has been to admit inmates of advanced years, but wherever possible several men have been used around the farm. No inmate has ever been compelled to work. Generally speaking, a recognized hired man has been employed yearly.

The institutions have been very fortunate in the selection of Managers and Matrons and first class reports concerning the operation of the Home proper have always been a source of satisfaction and pride to the Board of Management. Reports submitted to the County Council and to the province through the years have been highly satisfactory, and for several decades the institution has been on a paying basis. It is for these reasons that some interested people are a bit skeptical concerning the proposal to rent the farm. The entire matter will come up for discussion at a future meeting of county council.

BIG WINNERS

Pittsburgh, (UPI) — George Washington and Ben Franklin were the big winners in the annual George Washington sale at a downtown discount firm yesterday.

Washington, 42, bought a bedroom set for $1.04. Franklin, 24, shelled out the same amount for a clothes dryer.

HOPE DEPUTY - REEVE DEFENDS IDEA OF NEW REGIONAL JAIL

"The United Counties might be missing the boat of they pass up participation in the proposed regional jail", Hope Township deputy-reeve George Finnie said on the weekend. The deputy-reeve said he wasn't taking a stand on the new jail but feel that some of the public and members of council have been hearing a one-sided story.

Mr. Finnie said if people have their minds set against something before the time comes to make a decision they will not give proper consideration to the issue.

He said if the United Counties participate in the proposed jail it has been planned to construct it in the same area as the Millbrook Reformatory so some of the facilities and special personnel can be shared where possible by the two institutions.

Mr. Finnie said that if the United Counties does not enter the scheme, the counties to the north will construct a jail of their own, and he said they have suggested a site near Fowler's Corners, northwest of Peterborough.

If this happens he pointed out, in a few years Durham and Northumberland will be surrounded with areas served by three new jails, leaving no opportunity to participate in the regional scheme.

UNDER THE PEACE TOWER

by Jack Van Dusen

OTTAWA (UPI)— As the clock high in Parliament's Peace Tower edged toward 11 a.m., Commons Guard Maurice Glandon pulls on a pair of white gloves.

When the 53 bells in the tower strike the hour, the blue - uniformed constable steps smartly up to an ornate altar and salutes.

Then he unlocks the gold-framed glass top, reaches in carefully with a gloved hand turns a page in the huge book inside the casket-shaped altar.

The pages are never touched with the bare hand.

Maurice does this at three other smaller and similar altars and with a final salute marches stiffly out of the room, takes off his gloves and returns to the chore of directing the thousands of tours who visit the tower.

The daily ritual is seldom seen by anyone. Eleven in the morning isn't the tourist hour, but it is the time 47 years ago when the Armistice ending the First World War was signed.

Maurice, heavy set, square shouldered and wearing the ribbons of a later war, goes through the little ceremony every day in memory of those who fell in Flanders, in the Boer War, the Second World War and on the barren slopes of Korea.

Maurice, who lived through this war, is guardian of those who didn't in Parliament's Memorial Chamber, a tiny room with seemingly more carvings than wall space a couple of stories up the 300-foot high Peace Tower.

It's a quiet room off the balcony circling the main entrance lobby of the Commons. The sun filters through purple-toned stained glass cathedral windows.

Hanging on the wall near the iron gates of the entrance is the framed inscription: "To the Glory of God and to the memory of one million dead of the British Empire who fell in the Great War, 1914-1918.

This was the war to end all wars and the room was dedicated to the 66,651 Canadians who gave their lives in it. There was no thought then there would be another war and that the generation of the 1960's—so far away from those days—would live in constant fear of still another war.

The cornerstone of the tower was laid in 1919 by the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII. Sixty-one years before his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, had designated Ottawa as the Capital.

In the huge book in the center altar, sitting beneath the high rise carved ceiling, are hand-written the names of each man who died in the First Great War.

Maurice changes a page every day so that each name is in public view for at least one day a year.

Behind it against the walls are the books keeping alive forever in ink the names of Canadians who gave their lives in the 3ioer War, the Second World War and Korea. Later they will be moved to a national war memorial planned for a bluff overlooking the Ottawa River a short distance from parliament.

Then this room will return again to the men who died in the trenches and flimsy planes of the First War.

The story of this war are told in carvings on the walls showing the trenches, ambulances mired in mud and soldiers marching to immortality in this room.

It is told in words too, carved in stone taken from the battlefields of that war.

The stone for the walls and the marble columns were donated by the people of France.

The floor is paved with stone dug out of the battle fields, like Ypre, Mount Sorrell, Somme and Vimy Ridge.

High above stands the statue of a mother with children, symbolizing the women who gave their sons to these battlefields.

Beneath her sists the Recording Angel, quill poised to write yet another name and face saddened at the manner of coming.

Tractor-trailer and truck crash at Haliburton, drivers injured

Two men were hospitalized after a tractor-trailer and a pick-up truck crashed on the Elephant Lake Road in Harcourt Township at 11 a.m. Wednesday. J. Stapley of Wilberforce and Russell Schickler of Harcourt were rushed to Bancroft Hospital by ambulance, Haliburton OPP said.

Mr. Schickler was transferred to Peterboro Civic Hospital with head and facial lacerations sustained when his head went through the windshield. Police said they expected Mr. Stapley, who sustained minor bumps and bruises, to be released from hospital sometime Thursday. The driver of the tractor-trailer owned by the G.M. Martin Lumber Company of Harcourt, Mervin Prentice of Harcourt, was uninjured and the truck he was driving was not damaged, police said.

Haliburton OPP said the accident happened on the Townshiproad immediately south of the Algonquin Park boundary. The road was described as being icy, snow-covered and narrow. Police said the two trucks met on a curve on the road and while trying to take to the snow-bank to avoid the collision, the tractor-trailer jack-knifed and the trucks collided.

Haliburton OPP Constable David Exley investigated.

Reflecting on Variety Night

Fenelon Falls High School was crowded on Wednesday evening for the 1965 annual Variety Concert. The varied programme included a Fashion Parade, country and popular music singing, the boys' gymnastic team as well as singing groups entitled "The Hitchhikers", "The Premieres" and "The Fenelonaires". Reflected above is Kathy Stewart, who took part in the fashion parade, putting on her eye makeup. LINDSAY POLICE TO GO TO KAMLOOPS TO PICK UP $2,600 ROBBERY SUSPECT

Lindsay Police will go to Kamloops, British Columbia, to pick up a 17-year-old Lindsay youth, Douglas Hughes of 20 George Street in connection with a $2,600 robbery at Greg-ory's Drug Store on February 8.

Lindsay Police Chief Jonn Hunter said as soon as arrangements can be made Sergeant Gordon Eberts will be delegated to pick up the youth who is being held by Kamloops authorities.

The day of the theft, Lindsay Police reported finding a-bout $1,500 in a laneway at the rear of the drug store which they believed was dropped by the thief. Police said W. N. Gregory, proprietor of the drug store later reported that about $1,100 was still missing.

AURORA ARENA BURNS LINDSAY GAME POSTPONED

The Junior "C" play-off hockey game advertised in "The Post" today between Lindsay Merchants and Aurora Tigers, scheduled for the Kiwanis Arena Friday night, has been postponed.

Lindsay Merchants manager Lloyd Gillam told "The Post" today that Aurora would be unable to play as all their equipment was lost in the fire.

The fire levelled the Aurora Community Arena early Thursday morning. Damage has been estimated at over $100,000, as everything was lost. This included the Aurora Tigers' equipment as well as all the minor hockey equipment and that of other teams that used the Arena.

Lindsay Arena manager Harry Johnson told "The Post" that Lindsay ice would be offered the stricken team, with the thought that Newmarket ice might only be available Thursday nights which would mean back-to-back games.

Fined $10 for late reporting of accident

A fine of $10 and costs was levied against George Francis Smith of Barbara street, Bowmanville, who pleaded guilty to failing to notify police of a motor vehicle accident, within a reasonable time under the circumstances.

Provincial Police Constable Lyle Welton said he was called to the scene on Saturday, February 6th, arriving about 9:00 p.m. He said he found a car had been pulled from the ditch on the 6th concession of Ops near the Manvers line. He said marks indicated the car had travelled 100 feet on the shoulder of the road, hit a stump, and proceeded a further 30 feet striking a tree. He estimated damage to the car at over $500. He said the accident was understood to have happened about 4:30 p.m.

LINDSAY AREA HARD-HIT BY SNOW STORM

Lindsay was hard hit by the snow and freezing rain, driven by up to gale force winds overnight which continued to plague the greater part of Southern Ontario today.

The storm dumped four to eight inches of snow across the province making driving conditions in the Lindsay area hazardous. Many people were late for work.

Busses left the LCVI at noon today to take out-of-town students to their homes while the roads were still open. LCVI officials said the town students would remain in school for the whole day.

Police OPP reported the driving conditions were poor and the Ontario Department of Highways said they had all their equipment on the roads in an effort to keep them clear.

Latest weather reports indicated a drop in temperature late in the afternoon, partially clearing with some snowflurries Thursday night and Friday.

PLATES EXPIRED, DRIVER FINED $10

Leslie Booth of 350 Dublin Street, Peterboro, was fined $10 and costs in magistrate's court in Lindsay Thursday in absentia. Leslie Booth was charged with operating a motor truck with license plates attached which had expired.

Provincial Police Constable James Dodd of the Lindsay detachment told court that he had stopped the accused who was driving a tractor and trailer belonging to Floyd Dunford Ltd., of Peterboro, on February 1st., 1965 The constable said the license plates on the tractor unit had expired Dec. 31st., 1964.

Magistrate Ian Munro levied the minimum fine of $10 and costs.

Public Relations

The Board of Governors of the Ross Memorial Hospital are to be commended on the way in which they attempt to maintain good relations with the press. At a special meeting of the hospital's Public Relations Committee and representatives of newspapers and radio in the area on Wednesday problems from both the hospital and press side of the table were discussed.

As RMH Administrator Eric Freeborn pointed out, both parties, press and hospital work under considerable stress—the hospital is under the stress of caring the sick and saving life — the press works under the pressure of daily deadlines and competition.

We have always found the RMH authorities and staff courteous and willing to co-operate with us in every way possible, and not only, as the Administrator said, "during fund raising time."

Would that all other boards and officials co-operate as well!

Mistake to change government in crisis

Clifford Benson, the youngest Warden Victoria County has ever had, said yesterday he was pleased to have the opportunity to offer his support to Bruce McNevin, MP, who in his mind had represented this constituency admirably for the past five years. Canada also has one of the finest leaders in Hon. McKenzie King as well as a cabinet of experienced men and it would be a grave mistake to pass the government to less experienced leadership in such a crisis as the country is now facing.

Continuing Mr. Benson said, "In using our franchise we should consider it from the standpoint of our state in life and it is only fitting that a man who knows the trials and troubles of the farmer should be in the best position to better his lot and we find this man in the person of Mr. McNevin."

Advocates reduction of highway debt.

A systematic reduction of Ontario's highway debt, "which is mounting at an alarming rate," was advocated by F. L. Weldon in his presidential address to nearly 1,000 delegates from all parts of the province attending the 38th annual convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto.

Mr. Weldon, clerk and treasurer of Victoria County, urged revised government financing for both road construction and maintenance and declared that highway funds are being diverted freely to other services and replaced by debenture issues for highway improvement. He said that elimination of this practice is becoming imperative.

Brother of Lindsay pastor dies

John B. McColl, widely known throughout Central Ontario in legal and political circles, died in Peterboro last night. He was a brother of Rt. Rev. W. J. McColl, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, and was for many years a member of the House of Commons.

Farm assesment may drop

A measure that is bound to provoke warm argument in the Legislature, if it goes so far, was introduced in the House yesterday by W. C. Chambers, member for West Wellington. The bill, in effect, plans to relieve "farm lands" in small towns and villages from the payment of heavy taxes, both upon general assessment and improvements.

It provides that in all municipalities having a population of 3,000 or under, in which lands are held and used as farm lands only and in blocks of not less than five acres by any one person, these lands shall be assessed as farm lands whether subdivided or not.

Signs of spring?

A garter snake was decapitated by a Grand Trunk train in charge of a Lindsay crew near Hoard's station yesterday. According to the train-crew the snake was very much alive even after the train had passed over it. Seldom is a snake of any kind found abroad at this season of the year, except perhaps "whiskey snakes" which are common at all seasons of the year. Sometimes the farmer unearths a snake in a stone-pile or some other form of refuge, in which they are invariably found in a comatose condition. The finding of a snake at this season of the year might be taken as an indication of an early spring.

More recruits

Last evening some 27 recruits arrived in town and reported at the armouries. Lieut-Col Fee informed the Post today that 20 more would arrive today, which would bring the total strength at the armouries close to the 400 mark.

According to a despatch from Peterboro the company of the 39th Regiment enlisted in that city will be mobilized at Belleville next week. Lindsay will have the soldiers within its borders for some time yet.

Foreign News Commentary

by Phil Newsom

(UPI)—Off and on for 14 years under United States' urging the governments of Japan and South Korea have sought to patch over their bitterness left by 35 years of Japanese occupation of the Korean Peninsula.

But old animosities die hard and more than once when agreement seemed near, violent opposition derailed the negotiations.

Student demonstrations in Seoul forced abandonment of the talks last spring and led to three months of martial law when success seemed near.

In December the talks were resumed in Tokyo and this month seemed definitely on the track again.

In Seoul, high officials of the Korean and Japanese Foreign Ministries signed a draft treaty on basic relations that was described as the most significant step yet taken toward establishment of formal diplomatic relations.

Violent opposition remained. In Seoul, riot policemen cracked heads of demonstrators led by former Korean President Posun Yun.

In Japan, leftist demonstrators scuffled with police in an attempt to prevent Japanese Foreign Minister Etsu Saburo Shina's departure for Korea. Protest demonstrations also greeted him in Seoul.

In Korea, the opposition frequently has seemed more emotional than a thing of real substance.

Posun Yun and his student demonstrators have accused the government of showing a weak attitude toward Japan and have opposed any agreement that smacked of Korean "concessions."

They also have demanded that Japan apologize for abuses suffered by Koreans under Japanese rule. This has been too much for the Japanese to stomach.

But Foreign Minister Shiina came close to it in the communique announcing the draft treaty when he expressed his "deep regret" over relations between the two nations in the past.

In Japan, lefists oppose the government plan to recognize Seoul as the only legal government in Korea. Japan does not recognize Communist North Korea and says it has no intention of doing so.

The new draft treaty calls for establishment of diplomatic and consular ties without delay and for negotiations on trade and other matters as early as possible.

Previous negotiations already had obtained Japanese agreement to extend to Korea $300 million in grants over a 10-year period in settlement of damage claims, and another $200 million in long term loans.

Still to be settled is disagreement over the so-called Syngman Rhee lines (which bans Japanese fishermen from waters within 200 miles of Korea's coast) and the status of about half a million Koreans living in Japan.

Agreement between its two pro-Western allies is important to the United States because it believes that without it, Korea never can achieve a stable economy. U.S. aid to Korea since the war has amounted to more than $5 billion and and the U.S. is trying to reduce it.

Parliaments of both countries must approve the new treaty and it is assured of stormy going. However, both governments have placed it on their "must" lists and both have solid majorities.

TIMELY TIPS from Macdonald Institute, Guelph

Leftover hard-cooked eggs make a tasty salad ingredient. Simply remove the shell and dice eggs coarsely. Eggs are plentiful and economical in Ontario this season; so for good eating and sound nutrition add an egg or two to winter salads.

* * *

Ontario-produced winter fresh rhubarb will be plentiful until the end of April. Enjoy this spring treat soon in fresh rhubarb sauce, rhubarb custard pie, or your favorite rhubarb dessert. Fresh rhubarb is a specialized Ontario winter crop.

* * *

To enjoy the full flavor of vegetables picked at their peak of perfection, just open a can of Ontario-produced peas, corn or tomatoes. These top quality vegetables will add variety and taste appeal to your winter meals. Mix cubes of cooked turnips with canned peas and cook until hot. Dot with butter and serve at once.

* * *

Let canned Ontario freestone peaches bring the aroma of warm summer days into your meals. For a quick yet appetizing dessert, spread the hollow side of drained peach halves generously with dairy sour cream. Sprinkle with brown sugar and nutmeg to taste. Broil for about five minutes until topping is golden brown and bubbly. Your family is sure to enjoy Ontario peaches 'n cream.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove crayon marks from fabrics?

A. On unwashables, sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Use hot soap and water for cottons and linens, warm for silks and rayons. If traces of color still remain when the article has dried, sponge with denatured alcohol (dilute the alcohol with two parts water for use on rayon or colored fabrics). Javelle water can be used as a last resort on cottons, linens, and rayons.

Q. How can I remedy slightly scorched woolens?

A. Wet the blemish, then rub dry cornstarch over it. Brush off the cornstarch when the article is dry.

Q. How can I keep doeskin or chamois gloves soft when washing them?

A. By adding a few drops of olive oil to your wash water.

Limp Rugs

If your rug has gone limp, it's probably in need of resizing. You can resize a small rug yourself without too much difficulty by dissolving four ounces of flake glue completely in two quarts of boiling water. Then lay the thoroughly cleaned rug face down on the floor, tacking at intervals to hold it straight. Brush the glue solution lightly and sparingly over the back of the rug being careful not to allow it to soak through the pile. Then let the rug dry in this position, at least 24 hours before re-laying it.

Porcelain Stains

To remove stains from porcelain, rub with a damp cloth dipped in baking soda. The soda will not scratch the finish. This treatment is also excellent for removing coffee stains from dishes.

Window Clothes Dryer

Two pencil erasers on a dowel just long enough to be forcibly placed inside a window frame will serve nicely as a light-duty clothes-drying rack.

Topsy turvey plane stamp worth $12,300

New York (UPI) — Riddle: What's useless, not necessarily esthetically rewarding, a mistake in the first place but worth $12,500 on the open market?

Answer: A U.S. air mail stamp which pictures a plane apparently flying upside down.

The stamp in question with its centre printed upside down in error, along with a variety of others brought $248,900 at a stamp auction last night. It was a record amount, according to the Robert A. Siegel Auction Galleries here.

Another coveted trophy was a St Louis Postmaster's Provisional cover which brought $7,250. The covers were issued by postmasters on a local level before stamps were issued by the federal government.

$10,700 estimated damage in tanker — truck crash

Total damage in a collision between a stock-truck and an oil tanker at the junction of Highways 7 and 35 about 8 a.m. Wednesday was estimated at $10,700.

Lindsay OPP said the two vehicles were proceeding west on Highway 7 and it was believed the cattle truck began slowing down to make a left turn onto Highway 35. The tanker, unable to slow down quickly enough came into collision with the stock-truck and the two trucks skidded across the median, coming to rest on the ramp leading from the east bound lane of Highway 7 to the southbound lane of Highway 35.

Both the driver of the tanker which sustained an estimated 10,000 damage, John Meisiley of Port Hope and the driver of the stock-truck which sustained about $700, Robert Robertson, escaped injury in the crash.

Church women amalgamate

Bethany (PNS) — Following much discussion and planning the two organizations of St. Paul's Anglican Church, the Women's Auxiliary and the Ladies Guild have amalgamated and in future will be known as "The Bethany Anglican Church Women".

Rev. Reginald Rose chaired the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Mervin Smith on Thursday evening when the following officers were elected: Mrs. Noel Wood, President; Mrs. Dougie Smelt, first vice-president and in charge of catering; Mrs. Hector Morton, second vice president and in charge of mission work; Mrs. Levi McGill, secretary and press correspondent; Mrs. Norman Boothey, treasurer.

Members expressed the wish for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Emery Smith, who has been a patient in hospital for several weeks and now recuperating at her home. A buffet supper concluded the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Palmer invited the members to meet at her home in March.

Churches to have Centennial scheme

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — The Fenelon Falls Association of Churches is considering a suitable centennial project for the churches of the village and has given considerable discussion to the possibility of sponsoring and establishing a residence for senior citizens. Discussions up to the present time favour the setting up of a home for older people, who feel that they can no longer maintain their own homes, or feel it is undesirable to continue living alone.

The Association is anxious before proceeding further to gauge the need and demand for such a home in the community. They would welcome letters and expressions of opinions and interest, both from those who might take advantage of the facilities of such a home and from those who would be willing to give assistance in setting up such a project.

Please send replies to Mr. Carl Hepburn, secretary of the Association of Churches.

World news today

Saigon, Viet Nam — A U.S. military spokesman disclosed that twin-jet B57 light bombers piloted by Americans have been assigned missions within South Viet Nam to assist the Vietnamese in their war against the Communists. Previously, U.S. jets had been limited to reconnaissance missions inside South Viet Nam.

Paris — The French government announced that it has agreed with the Soviet Union to press for a southeast Asia peace conference to end the war in South Viet Nam. The agreement was reached in a talk between President Charles De Gaulle and Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov. De Gaulle has been seeking for 18 months a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam conflict and an agreement to neutralize all of Southeast Asia.

United Nations, N.Y — Secretary General Thant urged east-west talks to enable the United States to "withdraw gracefully" from the war in South Viet Nam. Thant told a news conference he has contacted the United States and other parties involved in Viet Nam on a negotiated settlement of the war but "up to this moment the results have not been conclusive."

Cairo, Egypt — East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht received a 21-gun salute on his arrival here on a state visit. West Germany immediately suspended all aid to Egypt. The Bonn government refuses to recognize the East German government as the representative of the German people.

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia — Two attempts by Indonesian guerrilla units to infiltrate neighbouring Malaisia lessened the prospects of early peace talks on the threatened Malaysian Indonesian war. One band of raiders was captured by an Australian mine sweeper while the other was attacked by a British patrol near the Borneo border.

Vatican City — Lawrence Cardinal Sheehan of Baltimore said the Roman Catholic Church must actively advance the cause of civil rights in the United States. In his first news conference since being elevated to the college of cardinals, the prelate said the church has become more conscious of its obligations in social justice in the past 10 years.

—New York — Police in New York City indicate they have photographs of the five-man assassin team that murdered Malcolm X Sunday. They are showing mug shots of five men to some of the 400 persons who saw Malcolm killed at a rally Sunday. It is not known whether these are the men Malcolm was going to name at the rally as the persons trying to kill him.

London — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson calls his country's economic situation "a national crisis." Wilson told a nationwide television audience that Britons would have to end the crisis by — as he put it — "calling up those inner reserves of effort." He attacked industry, the export trade, and the feather-bedding unions as apathetic, toward overcoming the economic crisis.

"WE WILL BE JUDGED ON HOW WELL WE TRIED", SCOUTS TOLD

"The real occasion for your dinner tonight is two-fold — a tribute to Scout Week in Canada and to pay tribute and honour to two new Queen's Scouts", M. J. Cunningham, QC, told the 150 people at the father-and-son banquet at St. Paul's Anglican Church for 3rd Lindsay scout group Wednesday, as he presented the coveted Queen's Scout awards to Derek Humphreys and Barry Rowbotham.

were also discussed and the leader explained that the members would be required to make a Recipe File for this course which deals with the value of milk in the diet and the girls will be making many tasty puddings and desserts from the use of milk.

Nutrients in milk were studied and hints given in the buying of milk comparing costs of store and home delivery. The girls were told to buy the large size when possible and price different types of milk — fluid, dry and skim and to use less expensive forms in cooking.

The leaders gave a demonstration in the proper way to make junket after which the girls had the opportunity of eating it and comment on the method of using milk in this dessert.

Meeting closed with "The Queen".

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Victor Sloan.

Judges pick best at Winter Carnival

Coboconk (PNS) — The Tenth Annual Lion's Winter Carnival was held in the Arena on Friday evening with a good crowd in attendance.

The evening began with the judging of costumes and winners were as follows:

Girls 14 and under — 1st prize—Cindy Baldwin dressed as a gypsy; 2nd—Pauline Brohm—a wooden soldier.

Girls Under 10—1st—Penny Brohm as a brown owl; 2nd—Vickie Taylor— Mexican carnival costume.

Boys 14 and under—1st—Howard Hall—Hobo in long underwear and straw hat; 2nd —Billy Baldwin—farmer.

Boys under 10—1st. Bradley Baldwin and teddy bear; 2nd—Billy Weber— dressed as an Indian.

Best couple skating— 1st. Pat Rumney as groom and Pam Brohm as bride; 2nd — Dawn Rutter and Heather Lake as girls from outer space.

Best Comic Skating—Martin Ledig.

Youngest Skater was Debbie Weaver (not quite two years old.)

A skit that proved most humorous on outdoor plumbing was next.

Figure skating by Lindsay Skating Club was most enjoyable. A boxing match was another highlight.

A couple pushing their baby who was Mr. Rodger Smith, who kept falling out of his carriage was very comical. "Parents" were Mr. Bob Callan and Mr. Fred Auston. A wrestling match was very funny with the wrestlers striped down to trunks out on the cold ice. A hockey game between Coboconk and Kinmount proved Kinmount had the better team. The draw for fifty dollars was won by Alex Graham, Norland. The ten dollars was won by Don Garratt of Lindsay and the five dollars was won by Mrs. Carl Baldwin of Bexley.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

HAVE YOUR EYESIGHT CHECKED NOW FOR YOUR OWN AND OTHERS' SAFETY

I consider myself a careful driver; yet through procrastination and carelessness, I nearly got into an accident while driving home after a hockey game the other night. My windshield was dirty and I made a left turn against a "no left turn" signal I didn't see. Two motorcycle policemen stopped me and waved me back into the mainstream of traffic.

I barely missed a heading collision with a car speeding my way without its lights on. At the very next gas station I stopped to take on gas and have my windshield cleaned up.

In considering this near-mishap, I thought of the thousands of people who have more vision-obstruction than simple windshield dirt. Something much more serious, yet they don't stop at the very next "eye specialist station" to get things cleaned up. Not having had their eyes inspected for many years, they drive (and walk and run and work) with eyes whose vision is much below par. Their windshields may be clean but their own vision isn't clear.

They may be suffering from unsuspected glaucoma (increased tension within the eye which may be the forerunner of blindness); or, from cataract (which is a clouding of the lens of the eye). These are the most common afflictions which disturb the clarity in the human windshield.

Therefore, I suggest that for your own safety and that of others, you make the resolution to have an eye check-up as soon as you can, especially if you are over 40. Consider me as a traffic officer in this instance, putting you on the right road.

Dear Mrs. Y.: I know of no medicine which will dissolve cataracts. Operation these days is always successful, but with few exceptions. Vision is restored, after the removal of the lens, with the aid of glasses of one kind or other.

VACCINE FOR MEASLES

Dear Mr. U.: Yes, it is true that measles is usually a self-limited disease without complications. But sometimes, and we can't foresee, when, there may be serious disorders which follow in the brain, lungs, eyes and other part of the body.

At last, after many years of being helpless about it, we have a vaccine which is effective. Your doctor will decide whether to use a live virus vaccine for protection; an inactivated or "killed", virus vaccine; or a combination of both. Sometimes gamma globulin is given at the time of the live virus vaccine to counteract any severe reactions. Many physicians think that the combination type is best.

Don't underestimate the measles virus. It is true that most cases of measles cause no serious trouble. But why take chances with your child? Call your doctor for early immunization.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: How about the new operation for asthma?—Mrs. T.

Comment: It (glomectomy) caused quite a stir and excitement when first publicized a little while ago. But the enthusiasm for it has practically cooled as far as I can determine. That doesn't mean there may be not an indication for it in some cases. What I am saying is that I hope that thousands aren't relying on operation to ameliorate or cure every case of asthma.

Dalrymple

Mr. Moore preached a fine sermon on Faith at Dalrmpyle United Church on February 21st.

The community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Geo. Harris, who has spent the summer months in Dalrymple for a great number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Harris took a full part in all church and community activities, and an interest in all the people with whom they came in contact. Mr. Harris will be remembered as a friendly Christian gentleman, and it is hoped that Mrs. Harris will continue to spend summers at the lake. Sincere sympathy is expressed to Mrs. Harris in her sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Day, Mrs. A. Gilbert and Mrs. E. Thompson spent a day in Toronto in order to attend Mr. Harris' funeral and express the community sympathy. Mr. E. Leveck and Mr. C. Townes also drove to Toronto to express sympathy to Mrs. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCaughey were hosts to a group on Wednesday when a Pot Luck Supper was held at their home. The ladies quilted in the afternoon. Proceeds of the affair were gratifying and are to be used for the Swin Programme.

A wedding dance was held at Dalrymple Hall on Feb. 13th for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Black.

A number of Dalrymple friends and relatives attended a lovely bridal shower for Miss Betty MacNeal on Feb. 18th at Sebright.

Miss Rene Eysten and Mr. Dryborough of Orillia, visited Mr. and Mrs. D. Deverell on Sunday.

Miss Sandra Deverell has been in Montreal for a holiday.

Maybe you're not fussy about flavor in a ginger ale. But Wilson's are. That's why Wilson's Ginger Ale tastes so good. Skilful blending gives Wilson's the right balance of the Jamaica ginger flavor and sparkling carbonation. Don't let anyone tell you all ginger ales taste the same. King Albert on night on March 8th

The February meeting was held at the school recently.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Gordon Henry with O'Canada and the Lord's Prayer with Mrs. Lloyd at the piano. The Home and School Creed was read by the President, Mrs. Henry. The Treasurer's report and roll call were read by the Treasurer, Mrs. Norris; the secretary Mrs. Rowell read the minutes of the last meeting and correspondence was read by Mrs. Bushey.

It was stated that Education Week is to be held the week of March 7th to 14th and that open house would be held on Monday, March 8th.

Mrs. MacKay and Miss Woodcock accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd sang two songs entitled "Dancing on the Green" and "The Keys of Heaven" which was enjoyed by everyone.

The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Brown who acted as Moderator for a panel discussion. In the discussion were Mr. McEachern and Mrs. Thornton, teachers, and Mr. Huskinson and Mrs. Saville the parents. The topic under discussion proved to be a very interesting and informative to both teachers and parents.

NEWS FROM THE LCVI

by "The Post" Collegiate reporter Richard Bruce

DRAMA NIGHT

Over 800 people attended Drama Night on Thursday and Friday of last week. The Drama Club was very pleased with the attendance.

This was perhaps the most successful Drama Night in LCVI's history. The Drama Club deserves a lot of credit for the wonderful display of amateur acting that they presented to the audience. One could tell by watching the players that a lot of work had been put into each play. The results were well worth it. Those who did not attend, missed a very enjoyable evening.

There was adjudication only on Friday evening. Here are the results: best actess, Valmay Taylor; best actor, Bob Arrill; best supporting actress, Shirley Bonish, best supporting actor, Bill Beaton; best play, "The Boor". Congratulations are extended to these students and all who participated in any way with the production of the plays. Thanks must also go to those teachers who gave up their valuable time to assist the Drama Club.

The play to be presented at the district competition in Port Hope, will be "The Marriage Proposal" The actors are Elizabeth Kirley, Bob Arrill and Bill Beaton, all of whom were in the best play this year, "The Boor". The play is directed by John Humphries, who also directed "The Boor" this year. Best of luck!

The Drama Club will also be sponsoring a dance on the 26th of March. There will be more information about that at a future date.

STUDENT COUNCIL

On Tuesday, February 23, a very important meeting was held for the Student Council. Discussed at the meeting were the chocolate bar campaign, School Spirit Week, the formal, the bleachers and other ways to use our money.

The chocolate bar campaign was accepted several weeks ago but the final details and plans had to be worked out. The Student Council hopes to make enough money from this project to buy bleachers and support a foster child. If possible a fund will be set aside for the child but plans as yet have not be finalized. This is merely in the discussion stage but there is no apparent reason why it should not be passed.

Every student will be given chocolate bars next Monday and he or she is urged to go and sell them. Remember, you the student are the one that will profit.

Next week is the big week—"School Spirit Week". This is in co-ordination with the chocolate bar campaign. Several promoters of school spirit are on tap. Monday will be "Feller Repeller" day. An assembly will be held on Tuesday with Mr. Findley from the Pet Milk Company as guest speaker. Friday there may be something special besides the dance that is planned. Plans for this surprise are not yet complete but it will be something to look forward to. Those people who sell a dozen chocolate bars will be admitted free of charge to the dance. Sounds like fun doesn't it?

It's just about time to start thinking about the formal. It will probably be held on April 2 or some date close to that. Most of the discussion dealt with the date of the dance and where it would be held. Some wanted it in the gymnasium while others wanted it in the cafetorium. No theme has as yet been accepted or for that matter thought about, but it will and must be thought about very soon.

This year there will be no school pennants or beanies given away for selling chocolate bars. The Student Council decided that it was impractical to spend money on useless prizes. They decided instead to give away five good prizes. Prizes will include a good record player and other prizes are a hair-dryer, a man's electric shaver and two transistors radios. I believe this is a good move by the Student Council.

TATLER ACTIVITIES

Members of the Tatler Executive are working diligently in order to complete the yearbook. All members are advised to hand their material in very soon or it will not be printed. Reports indicate sales are going very well but there is still room for improvement. Don't forget to buy your Tatler. Buy it now.

The Tatler is sponsoring a dance this Friday evening. Once again it is Mervin Murtsplatz's birthday party. It is to be held at 8:30 p.m. The disc jockey is to be Tex Bagshaw. There is a real surprise in store for all. Hubert Reed will make his premier performance at LCVI. Who is he? Come out and see. It has been announced that school dress may be worn but the boys must wear shirt and tie. Prices are 75 cents a couple and 50 cents stag.

BASKETBALL

On Friday, February 19 the four Lindsay basketball teams travelled to Crestwood Collegiate in Peterboro. The teams did very well as they won three of the four games. The seniors, bantam A's and bantam B's were the victorious Lindsay teams while the Crestwood juniors proved too powerful for the Lindsay team.

The senior game was a close affair from start to finish. At the end of the first quarter, the Crestwood team led by a score of 14 to 12 but the Lindsay boys came right back to outscore Crestwood in the second quarter 16 to 6. Lindsay led 28 to 20 at the half. In the third quarter Lindsay outscored Crestwood 17 to 14 and led in the game 45 to 34, but Crestwood roared back to close the gap to six points with a few minutes remaining. The Lindsay team then froze the ball and kept Crestwood from scoring any more points. The final score was 52 to 46 for Lindsay. High scorers for Lindsay were Kick Koolhaas with 19 points, Bob Wylie with 13 points and Dave Currotie with 12 points. Dick Koolhaas played a fine game defensively and offensively as usual. High scorers for Crestwood were Elliot and Booth, both with 12 points. This completes the regular season for the seniors and they finished it on a winning note. Congratulations boys.

The junior game appeared as if it would be a close one until the second quarter. Crestwood outscored Lindsay in the first quarter 10 to 18 and in the second quarter they outscored Lindsay 19 to 0 and led 29 to 8 at half time. Crestwood outscored Lindsay 5 to 4 and 15 to 8 in the third and fourth quarter respectively. High scorers for Crestwood were Spence with 11 points and Gordanier with 9 points.

The Bantam A game was all Lindsay. The Lindsay team outscored Crestwood 8 to 6, 12 to 6, 13 to 8 and 12 to 8 in the first, second third and fourth quarters respectively. High scorers for Lindsay were Morasse with 19 points, 11 of them in the third quarter, and Georgas with 13 points. High scorers for Crestwood were Scott with 11 points and McGrath with 7 points. Congratulations boys.

The bantam B game was also all Lindsay. Lindsay outscored Crestwood 14 to 2, 10 to 6, 14 to 1 and 10 to 7 in the first, second, third and fourth quarters respectively. The final score was 48 to 16 in favour of Lindsay. High scorers for Lindsay were Sundberg with 20 points and Huot with 12 points. High scorers for Crestwood were Hickey with 8 points and Dolan with 5 points. Congratulations boys.

Midtown Tigers tossed out of Roddy Wright hockey tourney

The Roddy Wright hockey tournament struck a snag in the second game of the competition last night at Cambray.

Midtown Tigers eliminated Kinmount In the first game of the tournament 9 - 2 last night The second game between Midtown and Fenelon Falls was about five minutes old, with the score tied at 1 - 1 when it came to a halt. A spokesman for the Tigers, Murray Weightman, told "The Post" that the Lindsay team was disqualified if they continued to use a certain player. He said the tournament sponsor issued the ruling.

According to Weightman, a Fenelon Falls player was skirting Midtown defenceman 'Monty' Montgomery when the defenceman poke checked the puck away from the Fenelon player. Weightman said the Fenelon player then knocked Montgomery's stick out of his hands, at which point Montgomery is said to have advised him not to do it again. The Fenelon player, according to Weightman, came at Montgomery as he was stooping to pick up his stick, ran into Montgomery's fist, and fell striking his face on the ice. According to the report the referee gave two minor penalties to the Fenelon Falls player for slashing and roughing, and five minutes to Montgomery for fighting, which appeared a legitimate call. The Fenelon Falls team then refused to continue with Montgomery playing for Lindsay, according to the report, and the tournament sponsor is said to have upheld the protest.

Last night's winners, Fenelon Falls, will now continue in the competition at Coboconk Saturday night, meeting Cambray. Wilberforce will play Burnt River and the winners will play for the coveted Roddy Wright Trophy.

Thursday the Midtown Tigers issued a challenge to the trophy winners, whoever they may be, to a game on any ice at any time, the winners to get the team share of the gate receipts. The Tigers apparently refused to continue last night under the sponsor's ruling.

BREAK-IN AT PLASTICS CO.

Lindsay Police are investigating the theft of a cheque-writing machine, a postal meter, an adding machine and five dollars in cash taken in a break-in at the Rosedale Plastics Company on King Street Wednesday night. Lindsay Police said entry was gained by breaking a window in the east door and turning the Yale lock.

Lindsay Police Constable Ralph Fountain, who is investigating, said the break-in was reported at 7 a.m. Thursday.

Lindsay Chamber of Commerce notes from the annual meeting

Art exhibit in Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — The Victoria Art Group in conjunction with the Art Institute of Ontario sponsored a programme of art appreciation on Thursday evening, February 18th in the Fenelon Falls High School.

Mr. Paul Bennett, B.A. B.S.C.W. M.Ed., Director of the Art Institute was the special speaker for the evening. Mr. Bennett had brought with him a collection of ten original Canadian works of art, which were displayed. The paintings ranged from landscapes painted by Arthur Lismerand J. E. H. MacDonald, members of the Group of Seven to an abstract painting by Harold Town. Mr. Bennett commented and on each picture one of which was valued at $4,000.

Mr. Bennett, an excellent speaker lectured on the collection and illustrated his points by means of slides of other works of art, by the same artists. At his request local artists had brought some of their own paintings to the meeting and Mr. Bennett gave constructive helpful criticism in each painting, which will stimulate interest and encourage members of the local art group.

The Art Institute of Ontario has a programme of travelling exhibitions. The tour is a result of grants obtained from the Province of Ontario for the Arts, and the Canada Council.

The collection on display, valued at $10,000, offered an opportunity for the interested public to see good original paintings and to examine them in detail. It represented various styles from the most realistic to the abstract or non-representational. Mr. Bennett pointed out that controversy and discussion prove that art is alive and vital, and has meaning for people.

Mr. Bennett was introduced by Mrs. J. Hebel, and following the meeting, Mr. Bennett and members of the local art group enjoyed a social time at the Cameo Tea Room.

COINCIDENCE

Encino, Calif. (UPI) — Mrs. Bonnie Caul, 22, and her infant daughter Kristine Anne won't have any trouble remembering each other's girthday.

Kristine Anne was borne at 11:21 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21 at West Valley Hospital—the same day of the month, hour and minute as her mother.

The father is Marine Cpl. James Caul, 22.

Dave Thomson, past president of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce was honoured for faithful service to the Chamber Monday evening at the 14th Annual Dinner.

A former Past President Fred Pugh presented Mr. Thomson with a beautiful oil painting depicting a Haliburton area scene. In making the presentation, Mr. Pugh reminded those present that Mr. Thomson was the first president of the Chamber when it re-organized 15 years ago, and was the unanimous choice for president in 1964 when the building programme was undertaken. Mrs. Pugh also presented Mrs. Thomson with flowers.

PLAQUE AND WALLET

As a culmination of the building of the new Chamber of Commerce building and the official opening Monday, building committee chairman Sydney Money Monday evening presented Lindsay Chamber manager Harry MacDonald with a plaque in recognition of the faithful service and personal effort in the construction of the new Chamber of Commerce office officially opened February 22nd., 1965. Mr. Money also presented the manager with a wallet of money contributed by members of the Chamber in the amount of $380.

In accepting the presentation Mr. MacDonald said "Last year I was given a presentation and that upset me. Pretty soon I will be in tears", and passed on credit to many more who took an active part in the building programme naming several business firms and personalities who had contributed so much. Later he was heard to remark that he needed a new wallet.

PRESIDENT'S GAVEL

Incoming president James Nolan was presented with the Chamber of Commerce gavel Monday evening by past president Dave Thomson. In accepting the responsibility, Mr. Nolan said he wondered if the new building will cause members to expect more of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Nolan went on to outline some of the extensive plans he had in mind for 1965. He said he hoped in the immediate future to form a Merchant's Committee, that they might give direction to the Lindsay town council on a proposed bylaw to restrict or prohibit sidewalk displays in front of stores. He said he also planned to form a Tourist Promotion committee to prepare a directory of Lindsay and area and distribute them among the hotels, motels, and tourists establishments in the area.

He said he hoped to find many uses for the Academy Theatre, and also planned to form a Heritage Committee to research, promote and develop points of interest.

A ten week course in September 1965, on business management is also on the agenda, Mr. Nolan said. He advised Chamber members to be selfish about their organization, adding that many succesful business establishments could trace the beginning of their success to contact with the Chamber.

Mr. Nolan said the goal of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce will be to upgrade the image of the Town of Lindsay. "Don't look on the Chamber as it or they, but as we or us", he concluded.

Sweep

Dr. Don Wood skipped a rink of Colts to victory a few days ago in the district event held at Bobcaygeon. Colts implies that the curlers have been playing the game for seven years or under. The Lindsay rink defeated two Peterboro rinks and one from Cobourg. However, the medicine the young doctor used at Bobcaygeon proved of little avail at the Peel street rink Wednesday when the local quartette was defeated by a rink of colts from Unionville.

The quartette of young colts from the Unionville club won their first game against the Wood combination by doubling the score. The locals were in the game at even terms half way to the goal but faded in the second half.

In the second game the rink skipped by D. McGee walked away from the Wood foursome in no uncertain style The Unionville rink defeated Whitby and a rink from Oshawa and a rink from the Annabel club in the first District the game played at Pickering. The Lindsay rink comprised Dr. Wood (skip), Ian Pepper, Bill Puffer and Ray Davis.

Over half a hundred brethern of the three links of Oddfellowship exemplified the degree of curling at the annual I.O.O.F. bonspiel at Little Britain all day Wednesday. Rinks were present from Oakwood, Port Perry, Valentia, Lindsay and Sunderland. Three sheets of artificial ice were in use and winners of the trophy and prizes were declared as follows. Art Hill, Little Britain, Graham Little, Little Britain, Jack Brown, Little Britain, and Merve Crowder of Valentia. George Baldwin skipped a rink from Lindsay.

LINDSAY REELS UNDER HEAVY SNOW STORM AND HIGH WINDS

Many trucks and giant loaders went into operation Friday to remove the mountains of snow that piled up after about 10 inches of snow, driven by up to gale force winds fell on Lindsay in the past two days. Pictured, a loading machine takes big bites out of the huge pile of snow in the centre of William Street. —"Post" staff photo.

The residents of LIndsay and surrounding area dug themselves out this morning following a heavy snowfall over the past two days that buried the town in a blanket of white. The snow, estimated at about 10 inches in this area was driven into high drifts in places by high winds.

The Ontario Department of Highways had all their equipment out all night removing the snow from the highways, and a spokesman at Lindsay said he expected it to be out all day Friday because a strong north wind was blowing the snow back onto the roads. They said the roads were in reasonably good condition.

The Lindsay Fire Department doubled their shift last night as a safety precaution. Lindsay Fire Chief Arnold Watson said there would have been a problem if a fire had broken out. He said it would have been difficult to get volunteers to the scene because of the adverse weather conditions.

The Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute was operating with about 40 percent of its students, mostly from the urban population. Vice-Principal Jack Staples said the buses transporting the rural students were not in operation today.

The Fenelon Falls high school was closed today because of the poor road conditions.

The Provincial Police detachments at Haliburton, Minden, Coboconk and Fenelon Falls reported everything was snowed-in and efforts to dig out were hampered by the snow blowing and drifting. They reported no accidents or occurrences yesterday or last night. A constable at the Haliburton detachment said "nothing happened because nothing could move."

The buses carrying the cast of "Spring Thaw '65" to Lindsay ran into difficulties with the heavy snow between Parry Sound and Barrie and were late in arriving at Lindsay. At one time it was feared they would not arrive in time to present the Thursday evening show. The artists arrived in town around 6 p.m. and the show went on although nearly one hour late in starting.

The accumulated snow depths for the week ending Monday February 22, reported by the Lindsay Branch of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests were 14.4 inches in Aspley, 14.1 inches in Goodfish, 15.8 inches in Minden and 14.0 inches in Haliburton.

DUKE OF WINDSOR HAS OPERATION

London (UPI) — The Duke of Windsor underwent an operation on his left eye at the London clinic today. A bulletin tonight said his condition was "satisfactory."

The 70-year old Duke, who was King Edward VIII until his abdiction in 1936, entered the hospital Monday to await the operation to replace a detached retina in his left eye.

Earlier this year he underwent a stomach operation in Houston, Tex.

The hospital said it would issue another bulletin tomorrow.

Audience Loves Every Minute of "Spring Thaw" at Academy

Neither snow, nor hail, nor sleet stopped patrons of the Academy Theatre from filling the house to capacity for the eighteenth annual "Spring Thaw" review. The all new programme, produced by Mavor Moore and directed by Alan Lund delighted the Lindsay audience, and the packed house rocked with laughter as hilarious skit after hilarious skit lampooned everything from TV commercials to Canada's flag.

Keen comments hit the target time and time again — "Quebec doesn't care about the maple leaf — they're after the sugar!" The show takes a healthy swipe at all our sacred cows from political parties to religion without fear or favour.

The final sketch The Canadian Community Folk Festival of Earnest Ethnic Nation-Builders tickled the fancy of most of the audience and the wild and frenzied dancing was reminiscent of the Bolshoi Ballet with which the cast concluded last year's show.

A few numbers are dated and might well be eliminated such as "We Hate Spring", and "The Governor-General Retires", others such as "Julius", a barbed take-off on singer Juliette, "Discotheque" and "Hot Seat" are very funny.

Liberals in the audience probably flinched at a few of the lines such as "Be kind, take a Liberal to lunch" and references to Pearson's Pets with mention of furniture fingangling although John and Leon were prodded too.

Nathan Cohen said "Spring Thaw" is a phenomenon. It is — a delightfully funny phenomenon filled with laughter.

CANADA IS "CRITICALLY ILL" REPORTS B AND B COMMISSION

Ottawa (UPI) — The very "heart" of Canada is at stake in the current crisis over bilingualism and biculturalism, according to the Royal Commission set up to investigate the situation by the government.

"Canada is ill—critically ill—and is threatened with self-destruction, unless immediate steps are taken to resolve the crisis" was the gist of the first report of the Royal Commission on bilingualism and biculturalism.

The report, made public yesterday, was considered a gloomy forecast by most observers, particularly with reference to the observations that the crisis is immediate and grave.

"There is grave danger for the future of Canada and all Canadians. What is at stake is the very fact of Canada".

On the positive side, the Commissioners were confident a solution could be found before the actual breakup of the nation.

Social Credit party meeting

Ted Cory, president of the local Social Credit Association is planning to hold a supper meeting with the party leader and an informal meeting with party members as well as a press conference.

Todays weather, light snow flurries late tonight and Saturday. Cold today and a little milder Saturday. The high today and low tonight 15 and 5. —UPI

FOUR ACCIDENTS, DAMAGE MINOR

Lindsay Police attributed four minor accidents between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. Friday to poor driving conditions caused by the heavy snowfall in Lindsay.

A truck owned by Silverwood's Dairies was in collision with one owned by Overwyk Landscaping, at the intersection of Albert Street South and Ardmore Avenue. Cars driven by C. Richard Vaughan of 8 Fairview Court and Hugh G. Butler of 12 Regent Street collided at the intersection of Adelaide Street and Fairview Court. A truck owned by Russell Minaker Plumbing and Heating and driven by Malcolm Bradt of RR1 Lindsay, backed into a parked vehicle on William Street North. Cars operated by Mrs. Jean Thurston of Queen St. and Leslie Porter of 76 Bond Street collided on St. George Street at Queen Street.

Lindsay Police Constable William Mosley, who investigated said damage in all cases was very minor.

Parking Meters

Thursday the snow fell and fell and fell, and the roads got blocked, and the sidewalks. Then the town snow plows came along and moved the snow to the side of the roads in neat little piles about three to four feet high, and carefully sealed off the entrance ways to all parking spaces in town (except those equipped with parking meters).

Then (presumably) as soon as the job of sealing off the driveways was done to the satisfaction of the works department, the meter men went out in full force tagging all the cars left on the streets, for violating the town parking bylaws. Only those drivers able to hurry out from their places of work every hour on the hour to feed the double-headed monsters escaped the levy.

Our town fathers in their comfortable council chamber speak of the funds raised by the meters, note with glee the increase in revenues which enables them to buy even more parking meters, and make more money, and then raise the fine for over-parking from 50c to 75c. Not to make more money, you understand, but to keep the cars moving.

Sometimes we feel that it might be better (much better) if we didn't have parking meters at all. First we could save the wages of three bylaw enforcement officers. We would not have to use our tax monies to buy them uniforms, big boots and shiny cap badges. The town would not have to buy or lease hundreds of parking meters or pay to maintain them. Parking spots belonging to the town could be left free for anyone to use. Of course many people would choose a spot and park there all day, (even perhaps leaving their car there to hug the town councilmen, even when they really wanted to use it, just to clutter up the town).

We think a visitor to the downtown area might be less annoyed at trying to find a parking spot if all were free, than they undoubtedly are by feeding the meters and paying the fines. The parking committee should study the experiences of some towns (quite a number in the United States) that had meters and disposed of them. Perhaps we should do the same. That is if they are there to regulate traffic and not as a money making business of the town.

Ex-Warden speaks to Liberals

Grant Benson acted as chairman and welcomed Bruce McNevin, MP, to Victoria Road and then introduced Joseph Guiry, ex-warden of Victoria County.

Mr. J. Guiry gave his history in politics since his first vote in 1911 till the present time. He also compared the work of both parties during the same period of time. Mr. Guiry praised Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King in the manner he is handling Canada's affairs in this present situation. Mr. Guiry stated that this county being an agricultural district, the only logical man to have in Ottawa looking after the interests of the people here should be a farmer, a man who understands circumstances. He closed his address by speaking of Mr. McNevin's good work during the last four-and-a-half years and giving his 100 percent support to Mr. McNevin and also to the Mackenzie King Government.

Many on slopes

The fact that Lindsay is becoming more and more ski-conscious was demonstrated yesterday when at least fifty local young people gathered at the hill south of Omemee for an afternoon of sport under ideal conditions. The Lindsay Ski Club was to have entertained the Bobcaygeon club, but, unfortunately, the latter club was unable to attend.

Never attended meeting—gets nominated

Roland M. Glover, who never attended a political meeting, was nominated Liberal candidate for Peterboro West yesterday when he attended his second party convention.

Lindsay boys in trenches

Lindsay's military contribution to the first Canadian contingent are in France, playing their part in the great titanic struggle on the side of the Allies against the German forces. The 45th Victoria Regiment, of whom every Lindsayite is more than proud, making up a part of the 2nd Battalion of the 21st Brigade received its "baptism of fire" on Sunday, when the 1st and 3rd Brigades of Canadian Infantry went into action, taking their places in the trenches for the first time. The 2nd Battalion is commanded by Lt.-Col. D. Watson of Quebec. One casualty in this battalion is reported. Pte. J. Davis of Renfrew having been received at the Canadian Hospital at Shornclifte, was suffering from shrapnel wounds. No other casualties are reported.

Varsity defeats Lindsay

Lindsay's speedy junior OHA team (of which every citizen is proud) was put out of the running at Toronto Arena on Thursday night by the Varsity seven who won out 12 to 7, or four goals on the round.

Although Varsity won out, they had to fight every inch to victory, and their supporters at no stage of the battle were sure of the outcome.

415 soldiers at armouries

According to information given at the armouries this morning, some 415 men have enlisted to date, and more are expected every day.

Shelling land ports

Despatches from Athens report that with mine sweepers clearing the way, the Allied fleet has moved past the destroyd forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles and have begun shelling the land fortifications on both sides of the straits.

Six vertical-shaft water pumps with a total output of nearly six million gallons per minute are being constructed in Britain for the United States Bureau of Reclamation. Here the giant impeller of one of the 35,000 horse-power pumps is pictured enroute from the British factory at Bootle, to the docks at Liverpool, England. The British equipment will be installed in the American Mile 18 Pumping Plant, 150 miles south-east of San Francisco. The 35-ton load stood over twenty feet high and telephone wires and cables along the route had to be lifted to allow free passage.

Opportunity knocks, girls

Washington (UPI) — The airlines' annual hunt for new stewardesses is underway. It probably will involve the most intensive recruiting campaign in aviation history.

Some carriers are a little concerned over what could wind up as an actual stewardess shortage. The turnover problem, always a personnel headache, is worse than ever.

Eastern Air Lines alone lost a whopping 92 per cent of its stewardess corps last year—as usual, mostly to marriage. They're still leaving airliner cabins for kitchens at the rate of 40 a month. Eastern figures it needs five separate flight crews for every plane it operates. With the attrition rate, this adds up to 1,200 new girls needed during 1965, double Eastern's stewardess hiring last year.

Eastern already has cut the training time from six to three weeks. But during holiday periods it had to put supervisors and instructors on flights to meet schedules.

United Air Lines the biggest carrier in the U.S. also has launched the biggest recruiting campaign ever. It will interview a record 50,000 young women this year to obtain the 1,500 new stewardesses it will need.

The extent of United's drive is summed up in one statistic: During all of 1964, the airline interviewed 4,434 girls in The Great Lakes region. In January of this year alone, interviews in that region numbered 1,200. The need is so great that for the first time UAL is actively recruiting in Britain and Canada.

American, which hires about one out of every 16 interviewed, needs about 1,000 new stewardesses this year. Its five full-time interviewers (two of them former stewardesses and the other three men) will talk to at least 16,000 applicants before the year is out.

It has been estimated that less than 3.5 per cent of the female population is stewardess potential, even though some of the barriers have been lowered or modified; for example, a stewardess no longer has to be a registered nurse. Air Canada was the last to drop this requirement in 1952, although United still hires R.N.'s for its Hawaii route.

Many airlines now will hire a childless widow or divorcee. Most will accept trainees who wear contact lenses. A few even allow glasses. TWA and Pan American will, under most circumstances, allow cabin attendants to continue flying after marriage. The general age limit of 20 to 27 probably will stand, along with the height and weight requirements—5' 2" to 5' 8" and not more than 140 pounds.

Several major airlines are recruiting vigorously in what used to be a relatively untapped field—the colleges. American recently graduated a stewardess class of 47 in which 15 girls held Bachelor Degrees. Another seven held associate degrees—with four girls listed as former school teachers.

Of the first 700 student hostesses who began TWA's training course last year, nearly 79 per cent had attended school beyond high school and more than 26 per cent had degrees of some kind.

An Eastern recruiter was told by one major college dean that 67 per cent of her female students were already married or planned to be shortly after graduation. And the increasing trend to early marriage applies to high schools as well as colleges. This limits the supply.

The nub of the problem, of course, is that stewardesses apparently make happy homes. They have the lowest divorce rate of any profession, according to an American Airlines survey. The airlines can do nothing about the marriage turnover, nor do they wish to lower their basic standards.

Stepped-up recruiting for girls with pleasing appearance and personality is the only answer. And the industry-wide drive couldn't come at a more opportune time. The month of May marks the 35th anniversary of the hiring of the first stewardess—at the time an experiment greeted with loud misgivings.

Minute Minders

You'll enjoy your entertaining more and have more time to spend with your guests if you serve a buffet at your next party. Appetizes served in the living room allow a hostess to make last minute preparations in the kitchen. Party foods served in oven-to-table ware cut down on dishwashing and save you time and energy.

* * *

When freezing unbaked pies, don't cut slits in the top crust. Wrap the pies together and freeze as quickly as possible. Slit the crust in an attractive design just before placing the frozen pie in the oven.

* * *

Fat stained skillets may cause food to stick. Detergents can remove every drop of fat from skillets. Re-season the skillet bye heating it with a small amount of fat or oil as you would with a new skillet.

* * *

Bake double, and freeze half! For example, bake two cake layers at the same time, and serve one fresh from the oven. Pop the other one in the freezer for future use. When using the oven, make several dishes.

* * *

Both sections of a double boiler may be used at the same time. For example — cook your broccoli in the bottom, while you make your quick cheese sauce in the top.

* * *

Never buy useless gadgets! Make sure they're efficient and that you use them to their greatest efficiency. Use multi-purpose tools when possible.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I, when painting from the top of a ladder, prevent my paint can from sliding off the top of the ladder?

A. Try attaching a tin pie pan to the top of your step-ladder with flathead screws. This will prevent your paint can from sliding off, and it also provides a good container for nails on future high-reaching jobs.

Q. How can I remove ink spots from wallpaper?

A. Touch lightly with water and apply a blotter, then treat with oxalic acid. If the color of the wallpaper is affected by the acid, touch up these spots with water colors or a crayon.

Q. How can I protect the backs of my mirrors from scratches?

A. By covering the backs with a coat of clear shellac.

Cloisonne

In the "cloisonne" type of enameling, each tiny part of the design is first outlined by wire bands. Enamel paste (powdered glass and water) is then filled in and fused under high temperature. You can wash cloisonne as you would a china dish, with mild pure soap and warm water. Rinse and wipe dry with a soft cloth. Use no abrasives or harsh cleansers.

Candle Wax Stains

For candle wax stains on fabrics, first scrape off as much of the wax as possible with a dull knife — and for white wax, place clean white blotters over and under the stain and press with a warm iron. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Cut Flowers

To keep cut flowers longer, remove from the plant all the leaves that are under water. These leaves usually decay and poison the water and in addition they have a very unpleasant odor.

"Care of the Feet" topic of WI meet

Minden (PNS) — The members of Minden W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Fred Wright on the evening of February 17 with Mrs. McArthur presiding. After the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect the reports were read. Seventeen members and a guest responded to the roll call of 'How I make my head save my feet." The president reported that the quilt was all ready to be set up and thanked all who helped in this project.

The correspondence was read and Mrs McArthur and Mrs. Harry Welch are to visit the local hospital before the next meeting.

Mrs. Moor, convenor of Health, at this time introduced Mrs. Locke, a chiropodist, who gave a talk on "Care of the Feet". This covered facts and some ideas which were new to some members. There followed a question and answer session. Mrs. McArthur thanked Mrs. Locke for giving such an interesting talk.

The collection was taken and the next meeting will be a short one at the Orange Hall followed by a card party.

Little Britain

The new dwelling which is being erected for Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chidley at the east end of the village on the farm property of Mr. Fred Palmer is now rapidly nearing completion and soon will be ready for occupancy.

Word was received here with much regret of the recent passing of Mrs. Fred Gilson (nee Ella Teel) at the Tamlin Rest Home in Lindsay after being in ill health and confined there for some time and the deepest sympathy is extended to her sons, Fletcher and Gordon Gilson and their families of Little Britain at this time.

Several friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Moys Avery gathered at their home in the village on Sunday, February 14th, on the occasion of their 45th wedding anniversary when a very enjoyable time was spent by all and it is to be hoped that they may be spared to enjoy many more years of continued health and happiness.

The deepest sympyathy of the community is extended to the friends and relatives of the late Harry Eyres who was in his 76th year and who passed away at the Reever Nursing Home in the village last week after being a patient there for several weeks. Sympathy is also extended to Mr. and Mrs. Clare Wright of the Oakwood community in the passing of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Wright last week which occurred at the same nursing home in the village after being confined and a patient there for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dancey of Peterboro were guests at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Garry Sunday.

Quite a number of friends, neighbours and relatives gathered and met in the basement of the Little Britain United Church on Monday evening of last week where a miscellaneous shower was held in honor of Marilyn Watson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Watson, whose marriage took place on Saturday last to Paul Daniel Pigott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Piggott of Downeyville at St. Luke's Catholic Church at Downeyville. The bride to be was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents and although completely and very happily surprised made a very suitable and appropriate reply thanking one and all for their kind remembrances.

DRURY'S FOOD MARKET

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

AFRAIRI AFRAIDI

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I can really sympathize with the woman who wrote to say that she's afraid of high bridges, riding in a boat, afraid of water. I wonder if she's going through the menopause, for it seems my fears have increased since I've started going through it.

My husband and I went on a vacation this past summer, across mountains. It's a wonder I didn't have a stroke. I became so scared and nervous. His relatives, when we visited, laughed and said they couldn't understand why I was so frightened. Their attitude made me feel childish, crazy, stupid. People who don't have fears can't seem to understand the horrible feelings.

I pray, I pray, I pray to be different. I have taken thousands of tranquilizers. I'm afraid to ride in automobiles, airplanes, boats. Scared to death of thunder and lightning. Afraid I'll faint if I walk down the streets. Afraid of a heart attack, afraid of cancer, afraid of animals, afraid I'll become helpless from arthritis (which I have in mild form now), afraid I'll lose my mind, afraid that people won't like me, afraid that my husband is going to die soon, afraid of the future.

In other words, I'm a hopeless case, a miserable person. People like me would be better off dead. What can I do?—Mrs. C.

Comment: I can only sympathize but not help directly. Only those who suffer like you can imagine what it is like to be in hell on earth. I've heard similar complaints from patients before. My suggestion is usually that psychiatric treatment holds out the best hope for improvement. Better try it rather than twist about like a rudderless ship in a storm.

Helen Roper

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Miss Helen Clarissa Roper, passed away at her home in Toronto on Wednesday December 23, 1964. Hers was a lifetime dedicated to the work of College St. Baptist Church, Toronto. This interest took root at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roper, almost a century ago. Through the many years her cheery and wise manner, her kindness to the sick and shut-in friends and her unselfish services are vividly remembered by her many friends. Especially in this memory linked to her interest is College St. Baptist Church where she was president of the Ladies Aid for twenty five consecutive years.

For many years Miss Roper has been a summer resident of Fenelon Falls, and during the summer months she was a regular attendant and faithful supporter of Fenelon Fellowship Baptist Church.

To conduct the farewell service for this daughter of College St. Church Dr. G. A. Leitch, pastor emeritus came from his home in Florida. His gracious presence and comforting words were a solace and inspiration to the Roper family and many friends in attendance Saturday, December 26th, 1964 —UPI

Although there are many citizens who do not agree with the action of the town council in allowing the Chamber of Commerce to mar the appearance of Victoria Park by the erection of a building, yet the same people will join with citizens in general in wishing the Chamber success.

It is generally recognized that the C of C. is a necessary organization in Lindsay and district and that the local Chamber has been doing excellent work. Monday's official opening of the new building on the park bears testimony to the worthiness of the Chamber.

Town folk who attended the scene were pleased to see Past President Dave Thomson in action as M.C. following his recent illness. He is the president who is given credit for the re-birth of the C of C in Lindsay 15 years ago.

An interesting incident in the life of the former board of trade in Lindsay was recalled by one citizen. Quite some time ago the Lindsay board of trade was revamped and a determined successful drive for new members was staged. The organization was revitalized and an industrial commissioner was hired. He was from the USA, he was energetic, he was eloquent, he was convincing.

The new industrial commissioner managed to secure one industry for Lindsay, which was to become the Thomas Shoe Company, but funds were needed to build a factory and for other purposes. It is reported that a large sum was raised and a brick building was erected at the corner of Sussex and Glenelg streets. It is there today, however, the story goes that the company never did get into production, and the industrial commissioner vanished, leaving many business men 'holding the bag'.

With the apparent differences of opinion concerning the leadership of the progressive conservative party in the Dominion of Canada, and the possibility of a change in the current year, the name of Hon. Leslie M. Frost Q.C. has been on the lips of many people.

There are many people who look back on his leadership of the party in Ontario with satisfaction and pride. His salesmanship his popularity with all classes and creeds throughout his active political career, still abide in the hearts and minds of the electors, clean across Canada. Leslie Frost however is a very busy man in other fields of endeavour apart from politics.

At a meeting in Lindsay on Friday night last, the former premier was questioned in casual conversation regarding the possibility of again accepting the political reins and he said "That is beyond the realm of the remotest possibility".

A very impressive service was held in St. Mary's Anglican Church when the wardens and sidesmen were inducted. The Church officers pledging their services were Glen Beddows, minister's warden and Harold Doble peoples warden and sidesmen Richard Bartley, Reg Oldfield, Dennis Pilling, John Brandon, Gordon Lockie and leader George Bagshaw.

Congratulations to our nonagarians celebrating birthdays. Dr. Oliver, Mrs. James Martin and Mr. Shields.

Stan Vestby and Bruce Power represented Brock Branch at the council meeting of the Royal Canadian Legion held at Whitby.

Congratulations to Donna Christie and Larry Johnson on winning the public speakfng contest held recently at Brock District High School.

SPECIAL CARE

Denver (UPI) — A Denver area couple yesterday appealed for help in finding their lost dog, a 7-year-old beagle.

The woman explained the dog was used to special care. "Kim loves warmed walnuts marinated in butter", she said. "Also she likes her milk heated".

week with the usual number of members in attendance. The President Mrs. Stewart Chidferland was fortunate in being one of the winners of fowl at Art Sutcliffe's Meat Shop.

The deepest sympathy of the community is extended at this time to (Luella) Mrs. Arthur Woodworth in the passing of her father Mr. Henry Orville Crowder who was in his 87th year and which occurred at the Starr Haven Nursing Home in the village on Wednesday of last week after being confined there for some two or three weeks. Several from here attended the funeral service of the deceased which was held at the Mackey Funeral Chapel in Lindsay on Saturday afternoon.

Friends of Mrs. Scott Taylor regret to hear that she is at present quite ill and confined to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay, but hope that there soon will be a change in her condition for the better.

The teachers and pupils of the Little Britain public school are being asked to make a donation towards the purchase of a new piano for the school.
Preparations are now being made for the annual World Day of Prayer Service which will be held and observed at the Little Britain United Church on Friday afternoon
March 5th and Valentia, Zion, and Pleasant Point will join with the Little Britain ladies in this prayer service.

Mr. and Mrs. Moys Avery motored to Toronto where they spent the weekend with some of their friends and relatives.

Mr and Mrs. Nelson Palmer and family were the recent guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Worsley and other friends at Zion (Fenelon).

Victoria Road

Recent company at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton were the following:
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baldwin of Bexley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snelling and children of Cresswell; Mr. and Mrs. Orr-ville McClean of Whitby, and
Mr. Larry Baldwin of Bexley.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Har-grave and son Allan of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. George Haight and daughters Judy and Janice of Oshawa were recent visitors with their relatives Mr. and Mrs. Abe Barker at their home here.

Friends were sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. John Cravey which has necessitated a visit to the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. It is understood that he is somewhat improved. Mrs. Cravey is staying with her daughter Mrs. Cecil Everson at Grasshill.

Also glad to note that Mr.
Wm. Brotherson is home once more and feeling better after spending a short time at the Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Brentnell have arrived home after spending a couple of weeks vacation visiting several places in Florida. While there they also spent time with relatives. They travelled both ways there and back by air. At the recent Royal Conservatory of Music piano examinations held in Lindsay, Pammy and Patsy
Brentnell passed the Grade
VI examinations with honours.
Credit is due to the aforementioned girls and also to their Music Teacher, Mrs. V. Peffer of Kirkfield.

In the Township hall on Sat.
evening, Feb. 20, there was held a Presentation Party for
Mr. and Mrs. Chris MacArthur.
It could also have been a Farewell Party, inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. MacArthur and John are leaving the village shortly to take up residence in Lindsay.

A presentation speech was made by the Reeve of Bexley,
Mr. Everett Cameron.

Also a leave-taking speech was offered by Mr. Weldon
Neal. Both men spoke nicely of the MacArthurs who have been residents of the village here for almost thirty-years. Mr.
Jim Thornton then presented them with gifts of a nice tri-light floor lamp and two bedroom lamps. Immediately after Mrs. Cameron played
"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" on the piano, Mr. MacArthur thanked the people for their gifts and their presence in the hall and invited their friends to come and visit them at their home in Lindsay which is at 36 Howard Ave. The balance of the evening was spent in playing Euchre, and at the conclusion of this, the Ladies served refreshments. The funds for the purchase of the gifts was obtained by collection. A small balance left over, was also presented to Mr. and Mrs.
MacArthur.

St. Thomas W.A. recently also had a Card Party in the hall with a fair number in attendance. The prizes were awarded as follows: Women's 1st prize: Nancy Farrow; Women's 2nd, Janice Thompson;
1st mens: Bill Baldwin; Men's 2nd, John Taylor.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE SOLUTION

DOTOGRAPH TEST FOR JUNIORS

NOW you see him; now you don't! Young Bill, at right above, doesn't really see Snoozer, his pup, because something is blocking his view. What can it be? To find out, simply draw a line from dot 1 to dot 2 to dot 3 and so on—until you have used all of the numbered dots.

Weight-Age Giveaway Stunt

YOU CAN determine a person's age and how much he weighs from the following manipulation: Ask the person to take his weight, double it and add five. Have him multiply this sum by 50.

Next, ask him to add to this a sum of 1715. From the total have him subtract the year of his birth.

The resulting amount reveals first his weight, and next his age. Just for fun, try it on yourself.

Ex Post Facto

HOW quickly can you insert a three-letter word in the blank spaces of the diagram above so that seven longer words will be formed reading across?

Try "ore," for instance, and get bore, tore, pore, store—but, alas, there is no such word as more. Now that you have the idea, try another three-letter word similarly.

A second problem is presented below. How quickly can you solve this one?

Testing Your Wits

HOW quickly can you make a complete sentence using only seven letters—s, a, l, o, u, w, y.

Listen, World!

PHRASES now in common speech testify how widely persons have listened to, and perhaps been influenced by certain men and women. Can you supply what's omitted here in a quotation from the poet?

"—— is the most rascally, contemptible, beggarly thing on the face of the earth," said Irish dramatist Arthur Murphy, in "The Apprentice."

Correct insertion has three letters.

Collect your wits about you and the answer needed for the phrase should be obvious.

TWO spins meet. One carries the windowed card at top while the other carries the coded strip below. Placing the top card over the bottom one, they discover a secret message. Can you make it out?

TEN feet apart on a level piece of land stand two parallel posts. One post is six feet high and the other is four feet high. From the top of each post to the base of the other is a taut wire.

How high above the level ground is the point of intersection of the two wires? Can you answer? How much higher or lower would this point be if the distance between posts were increased by five feet?

Who's it?

HE was born 1155. He became ruler of the Mongol Empire in 1189 and established Peking as his capital in 1264. By 1279, he had conquered all of China. Under his reign, art and science flourished and China opened cultural relations with countries throughout the world. Marco Polo has left vivid descriptions of the magnificence of his court. He died in 1294.

—— Khan.

Wits Tester

AYE, B and C are triplets. Aye has a niece and a nephew. C has a niece and two nephews. B has —— sons.

USE YOUR WITS and eye to find a single error of factual omission in both drawings above, and then look for six differences in detail between Exhibit A and Exhibit B. Solution at right.

COLOR-BY-NUMBER FUN POSER

HERE'S more coloring fun. Using 8 crayons or colored pencils, shade indicated areas above according to number indicators: 1—Yellow. 2—Red. 3—Blue. 4—Orange. 5—Green. 6—Violet. 7—Black. 8—Brown. Apply all colors neatly; keep within bounds.

In case you're wondering what this poser is all about, here is a clue: A certain creature on two feet is greeting a pal standing on four. The latter lives in a house without a door. Ah, ha, say you, glancing at the diagram, one's a turtle. But don't be too sure.

After you've added colors, paste diagram to a sheet of construction paper and use it for a wall decoration. Or, cut it up for a jigsaw test.

GOT HIM INTO IT!

Eureka, Calif. (UPI) — Municipal Court Judge Robert Conners was all set to try Delton Pardue on charges of assault and disturbing the peace filed by his wife.

Pardue cried foul.

"You married me", he told the judge. "You got me into this, and I want somebody else to get me out".

The judge withdrew from the case.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International

Hollywood (UPI) — Television star Andy Williams, who made his movie debut last year in a frothy comedy, is searching for a script which will firmly establish him as a movie star.

Andy's first important acting role was with Maurice Chevalier, Sandra Dee and Robert Goulet in the 1964 film "I'd Rather Be Rich".

The film was released, it probably will make money and Williams went back to being a successful NBC-TV star. His movie appearance was not panned, nor was it extolled in words reserved for Academy Award winner.

But what Andy's debut lacked in dramatic acclaim, it made up in dollars and cents, often the most important ingredient in a star's career.

Universal Studios, which hired Williams for the picture, has asked him to came back for another.

Andy's debut role that of a rich singer, something he had no trouble acting out. He is both rich and a singer, so that dramatic foundation was there to begin with.

If possible, Williams would like to extend himeslf and work in a picture which demands more of the acting talent he believes he possesses.

"I'd like to do an art film", he said referring to those exclusive movies which are often known more for their dramatic values than their financial return.

Many television stars look to their video success as a springboard to a movie career. They want to emulate the Jim Garners, Cliff Robertsons and Steve McQueens who went from television to starring parts in pictures.

William doesn't look at his career that way. He believes television is here to stay and he'll stay with it.

"I think there has been a feeling on the part of some television stars that they might be short-lived actors, stereotyped because of a series in which they might play a cowboy or other regular character", Andy said.

"So they use their series for a springboard into movies. I want to do some good movies. But I don't want to do a picture just to be making a picture".

Whatever an actor wants from a movie role–creative satisfaction or money–Andy can get from his successful television series.

Andy is married to French actress Claudine Longet. The couple has one child and expects another in April.

Andy appreciates art. When NBC tore down the walls of a series of Rabbit-Warren dressing rooms and made an office suite for the singer, he personally took over the job of decorating the rooms. For years he has been collecting art works, painting and sculpture, many of which he moved from his Hollywood home to the new office suite.

Andy's attitude towards his life and career is upbeat, similiar to the tempo of many of songs.

"Everything is happening", says Andy. That's his way of summing up a successful career.

Two halves of a housing unit, part of a large convoy, begin their long journey from Calgary, Alberta, where complete portable housing facilities for hundreds of men and their families are made to special order.

World Leader in Transportable Industrial Housing

Exporting To Earth's Remotest Regions

Riding high on the crest of the road which leads to the far corners of the space-age world of modern industry and exploration is a unique Canadian enterprise that supplies the men on the job with their basic requirement —a place to live. To the bitter, relentless cold of Antarctica, to the searing sands of the Sahara, to the Yukon, to Turkey, Hawaii, Australia and Nigeria, to just about any place where teams of technologists, researchers, constructors and explorers are engaged on today's varied projects, go the complex, pre-built industrial housing products of Calgary's ATCO Industries. Sprung from a trailer-making business and given initial fast growth by Canada's soaring oil industry, that venture into the world of the future has become a massive and rapid producer of transportable townsite and settlement facilities—including laboratories, schools, banks and churches—which house the crews of scientific research stations, dam sites, oil fields and construction projects of the nations of the world.

The Lighter Side

by Dick West

(UPI) — More in anger than in sorrow, I recently related how Bureaucracy once scuttled an important government-financed research project by treating it as a joke.

The purpose of the sudy was to find out why guests at a cocktail party tend to talk louder and louder as the party progresses.

"Progresses" may not be exactly what a cocktail party does, but you know what I mean.

Since this project impressed me as being a commendable undertaking, I expressed hope that it would someday be revived.

It occurred to me that one thing I could do for my country would be to pick up the loose ends of the project and see if I could tie them together.

Fortunately, there was a cocktail party in my neighbourhood that very evening. This gave me an opportunity to spend a couple of hours making scientific observations.

The first time I was able to detect an increase in the voice level at the party was when the hostess brought in a tray of Hors D'Oeuvres.

I turned to a man near me and said, "You seem to be talking louder than you were a few minutes ago. Would you mind telling me why?"

"Not at all," he replied. "It's because the lady next to me is eating stuffed celery."

The next big jump in the decibel count came when Sam Butterfinger spilled part of his Manhattan on Mildred Wringer's dress. Mildred gave a little scream that gave Mrs. Butterfinger the wrong impression of what had happened.

Once the voice level rose to that plateau, it remained there until Herman Octave went to the piano and began picking out his celebrated one-finger arrangement of "The Whiffenpoof Song." Then it escalated alarmingly.

The volume was further augmented by Eddie Milliner's decision to demonstrate how much a lampshade resembled his wife's new hat.

Peak output came right after the first female guest departed. It developed that everyone had been dying to discuss whether the material used in a certain part of her blouse was really transparent.

These findings may not be conclusive but they do prove one point: it takes more than Bureaucracy to halt the march of science.

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — Life is one long laugh at the home of Victor Borge, the unmelancholy Dane.

Said his brunette wife, Sanna: "Pappa loves to laugh. He loves to make other people laugh. We have a houseful of clowns. Even the servants are in the act. This business of being funny grows".

Mrs. Borge, sitting backstage at the Golden Theatre, talked of life with the pianist-humourist while her husband held forth out front with Leonid Hambro, a couple of pianos, and an audience laughing it up to his "Comedy in Music".

"People on the street speak to him and to the rest of us always with a smile', said Mrs. Borge. "They seem to have this idea about the whole family".

The rest of us consists of the wife who once was her husbands manager, and their five children: Sanna, Jr., 20; Ronald, 19; Janet, 18; Victor, 10; and Frederikke, 9.

Sanna's a junior at Wellesley, currently majoring, her mother said, "In as many weekends as she can manage". In the summer, she works for fashion designer Pauline Trigere.

Janet's taking a business course, and the other children are in public schools in Greenwich, Conn., where the Borges have a house The other house, which they use when time permits, is at St. Croix, The Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Borge, who was born in Otwell, Ind., and grew up in Owensboro, Ky., met her husband while she was in Chicago with a job few women then held—as artists' representative.

She no longer is his manager, she said, because the family keeps her busy. "Even when I was, he always had the last word", she said.

Mrs. Borge is a vivacious woman with strong opinions on bringing up children.

"Of course, there's nothing wrong with ours", she smiled. "But I do think that parents just don't take enough time with children. If the children ask my husband 'why?', he takes three hours to explain."

"We believe children should behave. On manners, for instance. We won't tolerate their eating like some of the children in television commercials. Ours hold their silver properly.

"We have told each that he or she will get a car after high school graduation—if they haven't started smoking or taken a drink by then".

"Oh, my no, not a jaguar. Just a four cylinder number", she added.

Then, for each year after graduation if the no-smoking, no-drinking prevails, each child is to get a birthday present of $1,000.

"Spoiling them? I think not" said Mrs. Borge. "Besides, they need the money to operate the car".

Allowances even in that affluent family are kept in line. Mrs. Borge said, "we try to figure the average for their friends and then give ours a little less. Sanna at Wellesley gets $50 a month. But when she works during the summer, there's no allowance".

Borge, she said, is what most women dream husbands should be like—he does most of her shopping for clothes. It helps him kill the hours when he's on concert tours.

Mrs. Borge said she's not much of a menu planner. "I'll see that the kitchen is clean, and papa will see that the food is correct".

His interest in household affairs includes decorating.

The Borges are doing over a 1920 brick house on four waterfront acres at Greenwich. "He can't start with a new house", his wife said. Edward Durell Stone is the architect—the same man who has designed among other buildings the U.S. Embassy in New Delhi and the Huntington Hartford Gallery of Modern Art in New York.

"The house", said Mrs. Borge "Is more Borge than stone".

The great jazz pianist-composer Duke Ellington is featured in a CBC-TV Festival programme, The Duke, to be telecast on Wednesday, March 3. Pictured here conducting his band from the piano, he talks about his music and his early days in jazz and performs a programme consisting of some of his most recent compositions. Appearing with him and his jazz men are singer Joya Sherrill and dancer Bunny Briggs.

Main Street Comments

A week ago a prospective customer walked into a local store and surprised the clerk by asking "Have you any slate pencils?" The answer: "Slate pencils? I haven't sold any of those pencils for years, not since I quit school, and that wasn't yesterday".

Slate pencils, the kind that sometimes scratched, and squeaked and oftentimes broke are an educational article of the distant past. At times they may be noticed in stores selling toys, such as Don Scott's of Lindsay, but even then they are not the long thin slate pencils of those "good old golden rule days". The Christmas package is usually sold as a toy and it consists of small slate and one small pencil.

They still can be a lot of fun, especially if one has enough saliva and a big sleeve to moisten the slate and erase the scrawls and drawings.

There were times in the old days when the girl with pigtails slipped a slate with the right answers back to the boy with the short stove-pipe pants three seats away. In those times some school children had more money than others and the guys with the money brought to school a slate neatly bound with red cloth, a real classy article, and one which did not make a loud clatter when it fell to the floor.

Getting back to the customer who wanted the old fashioned slate pencils, just by chance she happened to visit the Sam Welch store in Minden, and at first was informed by the clerk that slates went out of fashion years ago and have disappeared. The highly respective owner, however, overheard the enquiry and delved into a remote section of a remote shelf and came up with a box of the old fashioned slate pencils. Another satisfied customer at the Welch emporium.

The Sam Welch store is a remarkable place of business, just about as old as the hills, filled with merchandise of this modern age, and every now and then customers find articles they have been unable to find in other stores.

A few years ago a movie picture outfit searched high and low in Toronto and in other parts of the country for a pair of ladies high buttoned shoes. The search was almost given up and the producer was exasperated when these articles could not be found for a movie of the olden days. Lo and behold three pairs were located in the Welch Store at Minden. They were handed over with same cheerful smile the proprietor has greeted his customers with for many decades past.

Showers given to new bride

Mrs. Bertram Sage (nee Beverley Christian) was honored at several showers prior to her marriage.

One was from the office staff in Toronto who gave her a floor polisher. Her girl friends in the city also gave her a miscellaneous shower.

Calvary Pentecostal Church was the scene of still another shower when a buffet lunch was given previous by her many friends.

Mrs. Arthur Parcell, an aunt of the groom tendered her a shower with 27 guests present when many lovely gifts were received.

Mrs. Sages neighbours also gave her a shower prior to her marriage.

K. C. Doshi addresses Kiwanians on the ideals of Brotherhood

K. S. Doshie, a young and talented native son of India, now associated with Union Carbide in Lindsay, addressed members of the Kiwanis Club this week. He said he hopes to became a naturalized Canadian.

He told members of the Kiwanis Club that the true ideals of Brotherhood are to a degree lacking in Lindsay and among Canadians as a whole. In India, people know three languages, while in Canada people are bickering and quarreling over the free use of two languages.

The speaker emphasized the need of a greater exemplification of Brotherhood in Lindsay and among Canadians in general. He intimated that there are many people from other nationalities in Lindsay and it apparently takes years of living in a community before these people are accepted. The same condition, he added, is apparent in Canada.

"We have three languages in India and are proud of this fact, but in Canada many people apparently do not want to accept two languages. For the cultural development of both people there should be two languages and there should be no quarreling", he said.

Mr. Doshie gave Great Britain and the English speaking people much credit for the strides being made towards a democratic India. India has not had a major war in one thousand years and is quite happy to be aligned to degree with England. The speaker believed that more effort should be made to bring students from other countries to Canada for university training.

India is confronted with two major problems, the speaker stated, the crisis of a vast population and the crisis of lack of food. He said it is startling to realize that six million bushels of various food products are stored away in Canada and there is tremendous need with people in India literally starved for lack of food.

In India, he said, considerable strides are being made to introduce modern methods of agriculture and increase food production, however the people are greatly superstitious and still follow old methods.

Mr. Doshie believed that more students from other countries should be studying in Canada anad intimated that some might in time attend universities close to Lindsay.

The meeting was in charge of Murray Smith, Chairman of the Boys Committee. The vote of thanks was tendered by Kiwanian Bill Capell. Kiwanian Rev. O. G. Locke suggested that the Club study the possibility of the Kiwanis Club bringing students to Lindsay from some of the Ontario Universities, and that these students be guests in the homes of Kiwanians for a weekend with the thought of prompting brotherhood, as well as getting to know more about different countries.

$250 DAMAGE

A car driven by Diderica De Bryin, 20, of 1035 Western Avenue, Peterboro, sustained $250 damage when the car went out of control on Hwy 7, one half mile west of Fowler's Corners, and struck two guard-rails at 8:45 a.m. Thursday morning. Miss Bryin is employed at the Dominion Store in Lindsay.

Lindsay OPP said the vehicle was proceeding west on Highway 7 when it went out of control on the slippery road, causing the left rear of the vehicle to slide and strike the guard-rails.

Lindsay OPP Constable John Mitchell investigated.

Glenarm

Mrs. May Wilmot of Toronto is spending a holiday at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Nesbitt (Sr.) and brother and wife of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Nesbitt also dinner guest with relatives at Powles Corner and Lindsay before returning to the city.

Deepest sympathy is extended from the Islay and Glenarm communities to Mr. Owen Smith and family of Islay on the very sudden untimely death of his wife folowing a heart seizure. Many attended the funeral services held from the Mackey Funeral Home in Lindsay to extend their sympathy to the family in their sudden bereavement.

Mr. Jack Kelly is attending a ten week course in a trade school in Toronto to further his knowledge for garage mechanic and is employed with his father in the local garage at Glenarm

Mrs. Wm. Brown and daughter Miss Lorna entertained members of the Explorer Group and their leaders to a Valentine Party at their home during the week end and at the same time Mrs. Sherman Nicholson and son Allan entertained children of her Sabbath school class to a similar party at her home which needless to say a wonderful time was spent by all in attendance at both parties.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Orland Brown on winning one hundred dollars in the Dominion Store contest in Lindsay also to Miss Dale Harrison who held the lucky ticket on a draw for a lovely quilt in Lindsay.

Mrs. Wm. Moyle and daughter Miss Anne Hoyle entertained a number of ladies for a miscellaneous shower. The guest of honour being Mrs. Kenneth Gorrill (ner Marlene Kay) who received a number of useful gifts for her new home near Hartley also the same evening a similar shower was held for Miss Beverley Christian at Islay School (a bride of the very near future) who also received an assortment of lovely gifts for her home in Lindsay for which they both expressed their greatful thanks for the gesture.

It was learned with regret of the passing of the Rev. W. Hunnisett in a Toronto hospital where he has been a patient for several months. Dr. Hunnisett was well known in the community as on various occasions he had delivered addresses of his work in the missions in Toronto at various centres, and he with his family were personal friends for years with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Copp and family.

A number attended the funeral services of the late Mrs. Jack MacMillan of Lindsay held from the Mackey Funeral Home, the early part of the week to offer sympathy to the bereaved relatives. Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan (the former Christina Driscoll) both lived in the Glenarm area and for a time in Saskatchewan before taking up residence in Lindsay. Mrs. Mac Murchison and Mrs. Gordon Jamieson are nieces of Mrs. MacMillan.

Mr. Howard McLean spent Sunday with cousins Mrs. Fred Ferguson and family at Manilla.

It was learned with regret that John Thomas son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas of Palestine and one of the players on the Cambray Bantam Hockey team had the misfortune to have a bone broken in his ankle while practising for the game at Cambray but hope he won't be laid up for too long a period.

Former members of Toronto Scottish and 75th Btn. invited to ceremony

Dear Sir:

The Toronto Scottish Regiment will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of its founding from June 24th to 27th, 1965. New Colours will be presented to the Regiment at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, on Friday evening, June 25th. This ceremony will be telecast on the CBC. On Saturday evening, June 26th, there will be a reunion for all ranks in the Fort York Armoury and on Sunday afternoon, June 27th, the Old Colours will be laid up in Knox Church.

I am hopeful that as many former members of the Regiment and of the 75th Battalion as possible will be able to attend the celebrations. Would you be so kind as to include this letter in the 'Letters to the Editor Column' of your newspaper so that all former members of our Regiment may be notified and invited to attend. They should send their names and addresses to the Orderly Room, Toronto Scottish Regiment, Fort York Armoury, 606 Fleet Street, Toronto 2B, Ont.

Yours sincerely,
D. R. McKillican, Major,
Toronto Scottish Regiment,
Fort York Armoury,
Toronto.

Editors Note: —

A. J. Hovie of Lindsay, a former member of the London Scottish Regiment informs us that the two regiments are affiliated. He said both regiments wear the same uniform with only the hat badge being different. The London Scottish was formed in 1862 and the Queen Mother is the Honorary Colonel. The Toronto Scottish was formed in 1915 and the honorary colonel is Baron Thompson of Fleet. Mr. Hovie said he met a number of serving members and old comrades of the London Scottish in England during his trip there last year, who said they hoped to attend the 50th Anniversary celebrations of the Toronto Scottish Regiment.

World news today

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned earth satellite, the fifth it has blasted into orbit this week, the official Tass agency announced.

Tass said the satellite, "Cosmos 58," was "functioning normally".

The Russians launched three satellites from a single rocket Sunday. They followed this up Monday with a single launch. All four earlier sputniks were part of the unmanned Cosmos space research series.

Ottawa — The first preliminary report of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism has warned the country is in the midst of a grave cricis.

The report, made public yesterday has drawn support from Quebec Premier Jean Lesage but New Brunswick Premier Louis J. Robichaud termed it pessimistic.

The commissioners, stressed in the report that they were confident of the future of Canada as a nation and of its people, but warned against under estimating the severity of the crisic.

The report said most English speaking Canadians do not understand the thinking of contemporary Quebec.

Montreal — Publisher and author Jacques Hebert is spending time in the same jail where Wilbert Coffin, whom he wrote about in his famed book, "I accuse the assasins of Wilbert Coffin" waited to be hanged.

Hebert's lawyers will try today to get the author out on bail while they appeal the sentence of 30 days and a three thousand dollar fine, he received earlier this week.

Meanwhile there are rumors the Quebec Attorney General's department is making plans to lay charges against two of the three lawyers defending the publisher. The charges would come 'cause the lawyers were said to have advised Hebert not to obey a court summons.

Toronto — Ontario's pavilion for the 1967 World's Fair in Montreal may be the architectural starler of Expo 67. It's a $5 million building that doesn't even have walls.

At ground level, the geometic structure looks like a lot of triangular tents irregularly clustered. From above, its wall-roof rather resembles the bumpy back of a mythical Chinese dragon.

The Ontario project, which will be located near the Quebec pavilion on Ile Notre Dame in the St. Lawrence River, was previewed yesterday by Premier John Robarts who unveiled a 13-foot model.

The "Quiet Street" can be dangerous: stay alert warns Police Chief Hunter

This picture of a black bear was taken in July, 1963 in Algonquin Park by T. Jenkins. —Official photograph Department of Lands and Forests.

The quiet residential street is actually more dangerous to drive on than the busy expressway, said Police Chief John Hunter.

"High speed and heavy traffic contribute to the high rate of accidents, but carelessness and complacency are also important factors" he pointed out. "Some drivers fail to stay alert on side streets, because they aren't expecting trouble".

Many side street accidents occur at intersections or at entrances to main streets. Other dangerous points are streets that lack control devices where motorists must fight for right of way.

Blind corners, densely parked cars, children darting from between parked cars and narrow streets make driving more dangerous on side streets than on main ones. On high speed expressways many road hazards have been engineered out, and main streets have reduced them.

Side streets paralleling busy ones are especially dangerous the Chief warned. Motorists use them to escape the congested main arteries and a high accident rate may result.

Sometimes" said the Chief, "it appears that parents have a false sense of security as far as side streets are concerned, and also with 30 mph limits, and fail to adequately warn their children of the dangers. Sometimes", he said, "some motorists do not abide by the 30 mph limit and a vehicle-pedestrian accident can result, due to a combination of lackness on the part of the pedestrian and excessive speed or some other violation on the part of the motorist".

Allstate Insurance offers these tips for driving on side streets:

Slow down near parked cars and drive near the centre of the street for more maneuvering room.

BLACK BEAR MORE NUMEROUS IN DISTRICT DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS REPORT

Black bears were apparently numerous in the Lindsay district during the period of the deer hunt last fall reports the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

A total of 158 were bagged in two weeks by deer hunters, which is several times the number usually reported killed in this district in an entire year, the report states.

The greatest number were bagged in Bruton Township (21), followed by Cardiff (13), Cavendish (12), Anson (11), and Guilford and Harburn with 10 each.

The black bear is considered a game animal and a license is required to hunt it. From September 1st, 1964 to January 31, 1965, the combination bear-deer license ($5.00) or bear-moose license ($10.00) served this purpose.

The Lands and Forests department states if a resident wishes to continue hunting bear after the expiration of his bear-deer or bear-moose license he may purpose a "residents license to hunt bear" for $5.25. This license permits the hunting of a bear from January 1, 1965 to June 30, 1965. There is no limit on the number of bear that may be taken.

REFLECTIONS ON THE UNION JACK, ENSIGN, STARS AND STRIPES AND THE LONELY LEAF

Kingston's recent tribute to the memory of Sir John A Macdonald in observing the sesquincentennial of his birth, revived the Patriot's imperious words. "We are content, and our children are content to live under the broad folds of the Union Jack". Had the Confederation Fathers adopted at the outset, a unique flag, bearing reference to the Indian, Anglo-Saxon, and French races involved, that Flag might have become so beloved as to defy replacement while Freedom prevailed. Many world nations still fly the flag design chosen by their founders — an enviable distinction of stedfastness which Canada is denied.

As the Dominion nears her Centennial, the U.S. approaches her Bi-centennial (1977). The Boston Tea Party was one of many incidents which precipitated the American Revolution. With promptness the Thirteen Colonies retained the red, white and blue for their first flag of thirteen stars and thirteen stripes made in 1777 by a Mrs. Elizabeth Ross of Philadelphia.

Time has not altered that flag, except to increase the stars as additional states joined the Union. The thirteen stripes remain as a visible memorial to the Colonies who waged the War of Independence.

In 1910, history conscious descendants still cherished the actual flag which inspired Francis Key to pen "The Star Spangled Banner" whose opening notes bring Americans smartly to attention to sing their National Anthem with fervor.

These Americans are noted for their hearty celebrations of July 4th, and other historic dates. Flags appear in profusion on buildings, in parades and pageants, and in the hands of responsive children. In contrast, Canadians observe May 24th. or July 1st., by enjoying themselves, with seldom a flag in evidence. If outward expression of patriotism is out of style in Canada, its early revival is urgent. Let the flag be popularized in the home, the classroom and in public. Utilize the flag design on choice jewellery, novelties and fabrics, also on coveted Governor General crests for notable accomplishment. Above all, present the flag with appeal in historic skits and drama. Music hath charms, so let there be stirring new music to O Canada, and moving new verse for The Maple Leaf.

Of necessity the Ensigns were designed to identify Canada at home and abroad. When made official in 1944, her growing desire for an all Canadian flag burst forth. Designs were invited, but no action ensued until last autumn when the Liberals submitted their contemporary Red Leaf pattern to the House of Commons. Immediately the Conservatives rallied to defend the Ensign. For weeks the flag debate raged from lofty sentiment to bitter attack but there were redeeming feaures: First, Canadians were stunned in no open discussion which indicated that not all Liberals endorsed the Red Leaf, nor did all Conservatives reject its break with history and the navy blue. Second, the historic Ensign was prevented from falling unwept, unhonoured and unsung.

Only the cold logic of time can answer Mr. Diefenbaker's statesmanlike suggestions: retain the Ensign with the fleur de lis replacing the shield on the flag, or — exercise a plebiscite on five approved designs for a flag chosen by the Nation, not by politicians.

Had the news media been pre-plebiscite, Mr. Pearson would have surely have yielded to the democratic process, then by July 1st, the chosen flag might have flown midst general satisfaction, instead of giving pride dulled by possible dismay in the minds of many patriots.

The red flag draws mixed comments from Canadian; kindergarten simple; unimpressive when near the Stars and Stripes; gaudy; most suitable. These pithy verdicts may reflect the users appreciation of history and art which are currently better taught. Indeed, Young Canada's future acceptance of so simple a flag may be open discussion which indicated that not all Liberals endorsed the Red Leaf, nor did all Conservatives reject its break with history and the navy blue. Second, the historic Ensign was prevented from falling unwept, unhonoured and unsung.

Only the cold logic of time can answer Mr. Diefenbaker's statesmanlike suggestions: retain the Ensign with the fleur de lis replacing the shield on the flag, or — exercise a plebiscite on five approved designs for a flag chosen by the Nation, not by politicians.

In moments of reflection, Canadians may fondly recall the handsome Ensign, bearing the Union Jack of famous origin. The earlier Crusades created the necessity for heraldic flags to distinguish the bands of Christian warriors fighting to re-capture the Holy Land from the Turks. So, the former floral badges of Royalty and Knights yielded: the fleur de lis to the Tri-Colour of France, the rose of En-

Renewal of Hope

Renewed hope is being given a vast army of men and women at war against a disease which yearly deprives Canada of thousands of citizens, 380 of them in 1963 under ten years of age.

The phenomenal growth of the Ontario Division, Canadian Cancer Society, runs parallel to that of renewed impetus and recent developments in cancer research, according to Dr. Gordon F. Whitmore, internationally renowned cancer research scientist working at the Ontario Cancer Institute, Toronto.

This hope in final victory by the scientists is being felt by the army of 50,000 men and women who work to support them in Ontario. Through headquarters in 13 Districts, 95 Units, 239 Branches and 300 Sections, these volunteers are active in the vital areas of public education, service to cancer patients, extension and maintenance of large geographical areas and in the yearly campaign for funds.

In each of these "behind the front lines" areas the banner of hope is held high. In the Society's public and industrial education programme there is hope, and definite proof of saving lives. In its extension and maintenance of geographical areas, more men, women and children are reached. In its programme of direct pratical service to cancer patients more patients are given the hope and assistance often desperately required when this disease strikes. In its campaign for funds it directly supports the men and women fighting in the "front lines"—the 200 scientists working on 100 separate and distinct cancer research projects in 23 universities and research centres in this country.

Without the concentrated and continuous work of 50,000 men and women "behind the lines" in Ontario Division, this fight could not even be waged, let alone waged with the hope that is now being felt by all.

Fishing laws cause hardship

The Department of Game and Fisheries cutting down on the spearing licence on Lake Simcoe has put some of the men living in Beaverton in a very difficult condition. Bert Bertram, a lifelong resident here and a veteran of the last Great War, made application to the Department for a license, sending in his money to cover same. He says the Department will not issue him a license and has not returned his money.

Interest in election

Many Lindsay citizens appear to be taking a keen interest in the election so far as their own personal vote is concerned. This observation is based on the large numbers who are examining the local printed voters' lists at the Post Office to see if their name is included in the list for their subdivision.

1917 paper found

A copy of the Daily Mirror published on March 1, 1917, was brought into the Post today. Twenty-three years ago John Cuthbert, then a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, sent the copy to his family in Lindsay. Mr. Cuthbert since became a mailman in Lindsay.

Will vote on Boving proposition

At a special meeting of the ratepayers held in the council chamber last night, the Boving bylaw, which will be voted on next Tuesday, was endorsed by practically an unanimous vote. Never in the history of the town, perhaps, has a proposition aroused so much interest as has the Boving bylaw.

The Boving Company, which wishes to open a branch in Lindsay, is a manufacturer of hydraulic machinery.

Horn-Bros. may rebuild in Lindsay

In an interview with the Messrs. Horn Brothers, they said they would go into business in Lindsay again, "providing we can raise the necessary capital with which to construct a modern fire-proof building and equip it with the latest improved machinery. At the present crisis in our business, the record of the past stands in our favour. Our customers are all urging us to rebuild as quickly as possible."

Canadian Club largely attended

The meeting of the Canadian Club last night at the Benson House was largely attended by representative citizens. In fact that it was the largest meeting of the season was the general opinion.

Judge McMillan, president of the Canadian Club, occupied the chair and introduced the speakers in his usual manner.

Prof. Padon Reich of Toronto University, who is a Belgian and whose father was in Belgium until driven out by the Germans was the speaker.

He said he was now proud to be a subject in the British Empire. His sympathies were entirely with the British. He said we have heard and read of the atrocities for months and no doubt yet would be a relief to hear something of his people.

Prof. Reich's father has one of the largest private libraries in Belgium and although his son tried to persuade him to leave he would not until the Germans drove him out.

Propaganda Targets

(UPI)—Despite the fact that the United States remains Red China's No. 1 propaganda target, the Chinese are not neglecting Africa.

There the Chinese press both their policies against the United States and their struggle with the Soviet Union for influence in Afro-Asian affairs.

Recent events illustrate the varying degrees of their success.

In January the Chinese suffered a major setback when the African Kingdom of Burundi suspended diplomatic relations and ordered Chinese diplomats out of the country.

Burundi's capital of Bujumbura on the shores of Lake Tanganyika had been regarded as a major headquarters for Chinese subversion and propaganda against the West.

From Bujumbura, Chinese agents advised and financed Congolese rebels and supplied them with arms transhipped across Tanzania, the former independent countries of Tanganyika and Zanzibar.

The Red Chinese Embassy staff was the largest in the capital and Chinese funds were flowing into the pockets of Burundi politicians.

On Jan. 15 came the Assassination of Premier Pierre Ngendandumwe, who had been appointed to check Chinese influence. Most of those arrested in the plot were identified with the pro-Chinese group.

The break with China came two weeks later.

In the latter half of February, the Chinese bounced back with a treaty of friendship with Tanzania.

Red Chinese influence had been particularly strong in Zanzibar where the Chinese promoted themselves not only as revolutionaries but the nation with recent expriences and problms most similar to Zanzibar, particularly in agriculture.

Although President Julius K. Ynyerere of the newly-combined state had been regarded as an African moderate and had been warmly received in Washington in 1963, his relations with the United States have sharply declined—especially since his nation became a way point for shipment of Chinese arms into black Africa.

Ambassadors from both nations have been summoned home.

In announcing the new treaty, the Chinese praised Ynyerere's courage in defying the U. S. "Paper Tiger".

In Algeria, the Chinese moved strongly to offset large-scale Soviet military aid.

On Feb. 13, the 13,000-ton cargo ship Shuguang (The Light of Dawn) docked in Algiers harbour. It was a Red Chinese Gift to Algeria. Previously it had been announced that the two governments had signed an agreement for the supply of "some materials" for Algeria's popular militia. The Chinese also have been active in Algeria on the cultural level.

There was speculation that the Chinese were seeking Algerian support for the campaign to ban the Russians from the forthcoming Afro-Asian Conference scheduled to be held in Algiers on June 29.

The Weak Way

The old cry, "I was misquoted", is scorned by newspaper veterans as the last refuge of a cornered politician. Reporters err sometimes, of course, as do the people whose speeches they cover. But actual instances of misquotation are comparatively few.

They are much rarer than are the claims of public men that their deathless oratory has been misinterpreted. In most cases they are quite accurately reported, their grammatical errors corrected, their cliches deleted, their humbling repetitions condensed, all in the interest of clarity. On seeing their words in print, however, some politicians realize the folly of their utterances. They take the weak way out. They blame the reporters.

Youth Myth

"We live in a time of youth obsession and youth worship. We have turned youth into a tin god, turned young people into a special, highly important body of opinion. We study youth with devoted, myopic attention, completely forgetting that nearly all young people want passionately to grow up. Few people really like being young, except in retrospect."

British novelist Pamela Frankau.

HONEY-RICH COOKIES AND CHOCOLATE MILK FOR SNACKTIME

Honey cookies are so good that we decided to give you enough recipes to fill up your cookie jar several times. Because honey keeps them moist, you can make all the cookies at once when you are in a baking mood. They will disappear quickly so, if you want them to last, tuck some away from eager hands. To go with the cookies, especially at snack-time, chocolate milk is sure to please.

TWO-IN-ONE COOKIES

In this recipe you make one main batter and divide it in two parts, one for Fudge Fingers and other for Date-nut Balls.

Main Batter

½ cup butter or margarine; ½ cup honey; ½ cup brown sugar; 2 eggs; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 cup sifted flour; ½ teaspoon baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add honey and beat until fluffy, then add brown sugar. Beat eggs in one at a time. Stir in vanilla, then flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Divide batter in two equal parts.

Fudge Fingers

1 square unsweetened chocolate melted; ½ cup nut pieces (walnuts or peanuts).

Date-Nut Balls

½ cup chopped dates; ½ cup chopped almonds (or other nuts).

Add melted chocolate and nut pieces to one half of butter, and dates and nuts to the other. Pour each batter into a buttered small cake pan; or pour both into a larger pan, separating them with a folded piece of foil. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in 350 degree oven.

While still warm, cut into fingers or squares. Remove date-nut pieces from pan and roll into balls and then in fine sugar, if desired. Chocolate half may be cooled and covered with a thin layer of chocolate icing and sprinkled with nuts before cutting.

PEANUT CHEWS

2 egg whites; ½ cup honey; 4 level tablespoons flour; 1 cup coarsely chopped salted peanuts.

Beat egg whites and honey together to make a stiff glossy meringue. Gradually stir in flour and then fold in peanuts. Drop from spoon on buttered cookie sheet, leaving room for cookies to spread. Bake in 400 degree oven until golden brown (about 10 minutes). Remove from pan while hot.

FRUIT AND NUT DROP

2 cups sifted flour; 1 teaspoon baking powder; ¼ teaspoon soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 cups mixed fruit and nuts (raisins, dates, cherries, walnuts or peanuts, etc); ½ cup vegetable cooking oil; ½ cup honey; 2 eggs; ½ teaspoon vanilla; ½ teaspoon lemon extract.

Sift dry ingredients together. Add fruit and nuts and mix to coat pieces with flour. Combine oil, honey, eggs and flavorings and stir into dry mixture; mix well. Drop from spoon on buttered cookie sheet. Bake in 400 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Furniture Rags

Rags that have been used for applying furniture polish or wax can be stored in a clean, empty shortening can with a close-fitting lid. This will prevent danger of spontaneous combustion, and also keeps the oily rags from spoiling your shelves.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove grease spots from clothes?

A. One good remedy is to cover the stains with flour and after a clean white blotter has been placed over the flour, iron over it. The grease will be absorbed, and the flour can then be shaken out.

In Memoriam

WOODCOCK — In memory of a loving husband and father Charles Wesley who passed away February 27, 1964.

In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away;
Our hearts were almost broken
You fought so hard to stay.
We watched you suffer day by day
And could not help in any way;
But just stood by and watched you pass.
Into the Saviour's arms at last,
And when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain;
We would not wish you back;
To suffer that again.

Lovingly remembered by wife Margaret and family. (2759)

Reflections

gland and the thistle of Scotland to banners bearing the Cross of St. George and of St. Andrew; the Shamrock of Ireland to the Cross of St. Patrick. The final Union of the three Crosses produced the Union Jack, heraldry at its best.

The magic of Red, White, and Blue touched Newfoundland in 1497, as the adventurous Cabot laid claim to England's first colony. In 1534 the daring Cartier entered the unchartered Gulf of St. Lawrence to proudly plant the Fleur-Colour in New France. In 1584, the gallant Raleigh erected the flag of Queen Elizabeth I on the shores of Virginia. The plucky Pilgrims' settlement at Plymouth, 1620, became the nucleus of six New England states, the northern arm of the American Colonies.

As the centuries passed the U.S. and Canada steadily grew to mature nationhood, with always the Red White and Blue to offer challenge. That mutual link now severs as the red and white flag now soars.

May that lone, lonely leaf unite Canadians as the historic Ensigns were not privileged to do. Many students of history and design respect their emblem—flag and leaf—for its poverty of reference to Canada's fine traditions.

WORLD OF RELIGION

by Louis Cassels

(UPI)—The teachings of Jesus Christ have been preserved for 2,000 years primarily in the four gospels of the New Testament.

But contary to popular belief the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John are not the only documents in which Jesus' sayings are recorded.

Statements attributed to Jesus but not found in the gospels are known among Biblical scholars as "Agrapha". Hundreds of them have been unearthed from a wide variety of sources. Some obviously are spurious. Others have the ring of authenticity.

The most reliable Agrapha —accepted by all scholars as genuine utterances of Jesus —are found in the New Testament itself. Several of St. Paul's letters, for example, contain words of Jesus which are not duplicated in the gospels. And it is from the Book of Acts that we get the familiar quotation:

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Another rich source of Agrapha are so-called "Glosses" in New Testament manuscripts. Before the invention of printing, manuscripts were copied by hand. Occasionally a scribe would add material from some other source to the Biblical text he was copying. Such additions are called glosses. They are detected by comparing the oldest manuscripts with those of later date.

It was manuscript glosses that produced the story of Jesus' gentle dealing with the woman taken in adultery, as well as the great cry from the cross: "Father, forgive them for they known not what they do."

From what source ancient manuscript copiers took these sayings, no one can now determine. But both so clearly reflect the spirit of Jesus that their authenticity is considered beyond challenge.

The four gospels which the early church decided to include in the canon of Holy Scripture were not the only gospels in circulation. Writings of the church fathers contain allusions to seven other gospels which were not considered as reliable as those which became part of the New Testament. These are know as "Apocryphal Gospels."

One of them, long known to scholars is called "The Gospel According to the Hebrews." Along with some material of dubious historicity, it includes several sayings which sound so whole-hearted and so really came from the lips of Jesus. For example:

"Never rejoice except when you have looked upon your brother in love."

Two long-lost apocryphal gospels have come to light in the past century through Papyrus scrolls discovered in Egypt. They are the so-called "Gospel of Thomas" and "Gospel of Peter."

The former contains 114 alleged sayings of Jesus. Many of them plainly reflect the peculiar doctrinal views of the Gnostics a heretical sect which flourished in Egypt during the second and third centuries A.D. But some sound like rewritten of authentic sayings of Jesus which are found in the four Canonical gospels. Thus:

"It is impossible for a man to mount two horses or to stretch two bows and it is impossible for a servant to serve two masters."

Matthew's gospel put it more succintly:

"No man can serve two masters."

Only small fragments of the "Gospel of Peter" have been found, but they are enough to convince scholars that it was written, not by the great apostle, but by a sect called Docetists, who were so intent upon emphasizing the divinity of Jesus that they fell into the heresy of denying his humanity.

One of the leading authorities on Agrapha, Dr. Corwin C. Roach, says that Christians should "welcome all additions" to the store of Jesus' sayings.

"We need not fear that the spade will turn up any documents which will alter in any way our Christian heritage," he says. "The four gospels of the New Testament contain the heart and soul of Jesus' teachings and the men who wrote them were careful to include all the sayings of Jesus which are vital and important parts of the Christian message."

"Heaven Is Round The Corner"—Will Fyffe, Leni Lynne

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — The exterior of this split-level house by architect Frank Franner of Toronto is plain yet dignified.

The relation between the bedroom and living room area allows for a carport in front and space for a roofed patio off the living room. The carport provides a large roofed-in area over the front entrance. The location of the staircase provides maximum privacy and movement to all parts of the house is confined within the staircase area. Space for a playroom, utility-storage and heating is provided in the basement under the bedroom wing. The house should face north for best sitting on the lot.

The floor area is 1,229 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 34 feet four inches by 49 feet ten inches which include the carport and terrace area. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 773, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Along with Elvis, the cast of this funfilled musical includes Barbara Stanwyck, who plays a carnival owner; beautiful Joan Freeman, Elvis' love interest; Leif Erickson, as an embittered carnival manager; and Sue Ane Langdon, a senuous fortune teller. "Roustabout," in Technicolor and Technicope, was directed by John Rich.

Last call for 1965 car licence plates

The deadline for obtaining your 1965 car licence plates is almost here. The 1965 plates must be on all passenger and dual purpose automobiles by midnight on Sunday, February 28, when 1964 plates will expire.

Transport Minister Irwin Haskett has said "As announced previously and widely publicized, there will be absolutely no extension of the deadline."

Mrs. M. Collins who issues plates in the Lindsay area, yesterday told "The Post", sales of the plates had been a little ahead of usual up until Thursday when the storm slowed up the request. "Despite the weather 250 people obtained their plates on Thursday", said Mrs. Collins.

Valentia

On Tuesday evening the Valentia U.C.W. held a successful meat pie supper in the even ing. The public school students presented a musical program consisting of songs and musical numbers with their teacher Mr. Melville Moase in charge.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD., F.A.C.P.

OFF-THE-CUFF INFORMATION

Mrs. J.: In the last analysis a consultation is primarily for the benefit of the patient and his family. The doctor's feelings in the matter take second place to the welfare of his patient. Therefore, I don't understand your hesitation in asking your doctor for a consultation to come in and see your husband.

You say you are afraid you'll hurt his feelings? Then by all means make the test. Any physician who refuses consultation (because he thinks he knows it all, or because he feels insulted in your lack of confidence) is suspect. It's all the more reason why you need a consultation.

I think most physicians, who deserve the name, are willing to make it easy for the patient and his family to have another medical opinion. They know that with few exceptions, it isn't because of lack of confidence, but because the anxious family members want to be sure they've done everything possible.

Pick up the phone, tell your doctor you'd like a consultation (not as a command but as a request) and it's dollars to doukhnuts he'll sweetly concur.

Mr. L.: It's true that there are ulcer-givers as well as ulcer- getters. Nevertheless, it's easy for the ulcer patient to go blaming someone else for his ulcer. Your boss may be the devil you say he is, but how about yourself? Are you making any contributions to eating up the lining of your stomach?

The important thing is to develop some kind of practical philosophy which enables us to cope with disagreeable people—whether at work or in our social life.

Otherwise you'll find, if it isn't your boss who's giving you the pains, it will be someone else. Ulcer patients will be better off if they stop blaming the ulcer-givers and take an impartial estimate of themselves. I know I'm being blunt, but as the father said when he took his boy out to the woodshed, "I'm whipping you for your own good."

THYROID COMPLICATIONS

Mrs. T.: In all for the consideration of "dermabrasion" (planing of the skin) for deep scars by acne if you engage an expert dermatologist or plastic surgeon. Making the decision to do the job is as important as the ability to do it.

Mr. O.: Yes, I think most husbands are unappreciative of their wives' attempts to keep them healthy and alive. All that many wives get for their interest is the name "nagger".

Mrs. H.: A person can live without a spleen. This organ is often the seat of trouble with the blood cells. Splenectomy (its removal by operation) is often a life-saving measure.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — The wardrobe designed for Doris Day's new picture is so super colossal that the clothes are starring in a movie of their own.

Honest

Twentieth Century-Fox was so pleased with the gladrags whipped together by designer Ray Aghayan that a short subject is being filmed as a promotion for the picture, "Do Not Disturb."

Miss Day's duds, all 58 changes, cost a tidy $100,000 which is more than most women pay for clothes in a lifetime.

And best of all from Doris' point of view, she gets to keep them.

Aghayan devoted two months to turning out the wardrobe, one of the most extensive ever prepared for a single star in a two-hour picture. Some of the outfits will be seen for 20 seconds or less, just long enough to let the audience know there has been a change of time and scene.

"The average number of changes for a feminine star in a picture is nine," Aghayan said. "But Doris looks exceptionally well in her clothes and audiences expect to see her well dressed."

Aghayan is a darkly intense man, small in stature, and a native of Teheran, Iran. He gained fame as a clothes designer at the age of 15 by making outfits for Queen Fawzia. Since coming to Hollywood he has designed costumes for Judy Garland, Shirley MacLaine, Dinah Shore, Leslie Caron, Janis Paige and scores of others.

Miss Day, however, remains one of his favorites: "She is the essence of what the well-dressed American woman looks like.

"When I design her wardrobe I work very closely with her ideas. Nobody knows better than she does what is best of her. Most women have an idealized image of what they look like, and more often than not they are wrong."

Aghayan dislikes wide-screen projection because it inflates the size of every stitch in the wardrobe.

"A small wrinkle in a coat for instance, comes off like the Grand Canyon in Cinemascope," he frowned. "That's why it's necessary to spend a fortune on costumes to make them fit absolutely perfect."

The designer scoffs at Paris fashion houses and their yearly unveilings of so-called new styles.

"They are only an extreme version of what the normal fashions will ultimately become," he said. "By the time the styles have passed through six different hands into cheaper models there is hardly any resemblance to the originals.

"Actually, more women attempt to follow the fashions set by movie stars in contemporary pictures than they do the extremes of Haute couture.

Most women would rather look like Doris Day in their clothes than the freakishly slender models who wear fashion designs."

CGIT Golden Anniversary Meet Planned

A celebration of the Golden Anniversary of the Canadian Girls in Training is being planned to be held this evening at Cambridge Street United Church. A special programme has been planned for this special event, when a large gathering of girls, leaders, past leaders, graduates and special guests are expected.

C.G.I.T. as it is familiarly known is composed of a group for girls 12 to 17 years old. The purpose, which is memorized by each girl is: "As a Canadian girl in training under the leadership of Jesus, it is my purpose to cherish health, seek truth, know God, and serve others, and thus, with His help, become the girl, God would have me to be." There are now over 50,000 members in 5,000 groups across Canada.

During the fiftieth year, CGIT members and former members are contributing to a special project — the establishment of a camp and conference centre in Indonesia.

EMO REPORT

OTHER FUNCTIONS OF E.M.O.

by EMO Co-ordinator for Victoria—Haliburton JAMES HALL

When mention is made of the Emergency Measures Organization, peoples' minds immediately turn to thoughts of Nuclear War. May we emphatically state that this is just one of the many phases of emergency planning. First, what is an emergency. — "An emergency has been defined as a sudden or unexpected happening demanding prompt attention; pressing necessity" pertaining to or used in a crisis, requiring rapid and efficient action". Such peacetime emergencies as floods, fires, hurricanes, earthquakes, landslides, explosions, and crashed aircraft, have all been taken into consideration from the point of emergency measures planning, and even now are being brought to the fore front by Provincial Government.

Though little known by the public at large, it is a fact that over the past five years Emergency Measures or Civil Defence personnel in Canada have actively taken part in over 150 civil disasters in Canada. — Ranging from forest fires, explosions, crashed aircraft up to and including the latest tragic and disasterous landslides in British Columbia.

The province of Newfoundland E.M.O. have, organized, and in operation a forest fire support group, to assist whenever called upon.

Numerous municipalities in the Province of Ontario have flood control groups under E.M.O.

The Alaska earthquake, which also effected British Columbia is another glaring example of the efficiency which can be gained by pre-planning and public education. The same plans which are envisaged for war can be, and will be implemented for a peacetime disaster. In some cases, slight modification or variations are needed in the plan for peacetime use. These are noted and are written into all emergency plans, thus serving a two-fold purpose.

In the very near future, more literature on civil disaster will become available to the public.

So, I believe it can be said that your Emergency Measures Organization does not only have a wartime role but a very vital peacetime role.

Though we, of Victoria and Haliburton Counties have not experienced a major disaster, we have no assurance that we never will. I feel it is a little comforting to know if we ever did, we have an organization which can help, and in a very large disaster we would have the assistance of trained neighbouring E.M.O. groups as well as Federal and Provincial Government groups ready to assist just by making a phone call.

Tus making E.M.Q. not only a wartime group, but a group which also can and will act during disaster.

WINTER CAMP

A pre-camp briefing session will be held Sunday for the scouts who plan to camp-out at Emily Park on the week-end of March 6. The session, to be held at St. Paul's Anglican Church at 2 p.m. is to acquaint the scouts with some of the problems encountered in winter camping and what equipment is necessary to make camping in the snow as easy as possible.

SWIMMING

Members of the 2nd Lindsay Cub Pack will be swimming at the Tops Motor Hotel in Peterboro Saturday afternoon, if the driving conditions are reasonably good. The pack plan to work on swimming badge requirements and for the most part just splash around.

SCOUT WEEK

Scout week ends Sunday with church parades for most of the groups in Lindsay. The week opened up with a church parade to St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, in which Catholics from various groups participated and a scout rally at the Century Theatre last Sunday. At the Rally a film on the World Scout Jamboree in Greece two years ago was shown and the guest speaker was District Commissioner B. Brown of Peterboro.

A number of the groups have had window displays in Kent Street stores during the week. Members of the groups wore their uniforms to school during Scout Week.

RULES OF FLAG ETIQUETTE NOT FOLLOWED IN LINDSAY

Dear Mr. Editor:

RE article in the Post FEBRUARY 22, 1965. MAPLE LEAF FLAG AT TOWN HALL REPORTED STOLEN.

It is noted with great interest that (quote): "W. Bates, town clerk, said he instructed the caretaker to put another flag on the mast after it was found someone had taken the flag down during the night".

You may recall that the installation of the flagpole was a project fought for and undertaken by me when I was on town Council. (Incidentally, the Council limited the spending for same to $200.00, although they had obtained an estimate of $500.00.) The Town paid exactly $198.00 toward the project and the balance of the cost was met out of my own pocket. I mention this now because at that time I also supplied those in charge with a set of traditional rules for honoring the flag. I quote here rule 1:

The flag should not be hoisted before sunrise nor allowed to remain up after sunset.

This etiquette was never observed: had I known this was to be the case then and now, I might not have been so ready to meet the other half of the expenses myself, and Lindsay would not have had a flagpole at that time nor, perhaps even now.

The point I wish to make is that, if traditional, honoring rules had been observed "someone" could not have taken the flag down during the night.

"Haul down the flag — the evening shadows fall —
And reverently we'll hoist it in the morning".

Yours sincerely,
Doris Acheson,
Toronto 7, Ontario.

"Works Dept. do fine job"

Dear Sir,

May I use your columns to pass on praise where I feel its merited, namely the Board of Works Department for the splendid job being done to cope with snow removal, often with impediments to hamper them, such as cars left parked overnight on the main streets.

Your truly,
M. J. Tangney.

The ceremony in the Postmaster General's office was attended by Senator Maurine B. Neuberger, long an advocate of the stamp, and Lane Adams executive director of the American Cancer Society.

April will be Crusade Against Cancer month in the U.S. The stamp will be issued on April 1st., with first day ceremonies in Washington, D.C.

"Purpose of the stamp is to remind Americans that an early medical checkup often can bring this disease under control", Mr. Gronouski said in announcing the stamp. "The stamp will also salute the men and women engaged in cancer research and the millions of Americans who help finance the war against cancer".

Stevan Dohanos, one of the nation's best known artists, designed the 5-cent stamp. This is his fifth stamp design in six years. Dohanos has designed the 5-cent stamp. This is the fifth stamp design in 6 years. The printing order is 115 million.

Fluoridation deputation to meet council

The Citizen's Rights Association of Toronto and members from Lindsay confirmed yesterday that they would be approaching Lindsay town council on Monday, March 8th to protest against the bylaw introducing fluorine to the town water supply.

Mrs. Anne Burton, president of the Association said she would lead the deputation and ask for repeal of the bylaw. Mrs. Burton said to pass a bylaw in this manner without giving the citizens a right to vote on the matter was an infringement of the rights of the individual.

F. A. Reeds of Sussex Street, who is leading the fight against fluoridation told "The Post" on Friday that signatures are being added to the petition he intends to present to council everyday, although he said the weather had hampered the collection of names.

Children's Aid director to attend conference

Garrett of the Queen Street United Church will be among over 1,000 delegates from the Northern United States and Canada to attend the Central some Saturday Evening Post covers to his credit and is a founding faculty member of the Famous Artists School in Westport, Connecticut. He attended the unveiling ceremony.

The central design of the vertical stamp is a stethoscope in purple against microscope in Orange. Above appears an inscription, in black, "Crusades Against Cancer", beneath, in purple, is "Early Diagnosis Saves Lives". The denomination "5c" is lower right, in black, and right vertical is "United Sates", also in black.

The Crusade Against Cancer stamp will be printed in black, orange and purple on the Giori press. Due to the arrangements of colours, it will be necessary to run the sheets through the press twice, resulting in two plate numbers. Orange will be printed on the first pass, black and purple on the second. The printing order is 115 million.

Regional Conference of the Child Welfare League of America to be held in Canada for the first time March 18-20.

The three-day conference will be held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

The main theme of the 1965 Conference is the co-ordination of community services for children. The changing needs in placement services and meeting the varied needs of children in care will also be prime areas of concern.

The Child Welfare League was founded in 1920 and gives responsibility for providing effective leadership to improve the conditions of child life and to promote understanding of the needs of all children and of the opportunities and services which must be provided for them.

Even if you are driving on a one way street, watch out for oncoming cars.

Slow down when you come to a blind intersection.

Always use a major street in preference to a side street. Although more crowded, they are designed for greater safety.

The Lighter Side

by Dick West

Washington (UPI) — For the past eight years, like a little mechanical mouse in a swiss clock, I have been driving to and from work over the same route every day.

It wouldn't be accurate to describe a four-lane highway as a "rut", but by this time that road is getting to be pretty familiar.

Naturally, I appreciate anything that breaks the monotony of commuting, and I am therefore grateful to the highway department official who has charge of this particular thoroughfare.

Recently he installed over one section some of those huge ghastly billous green signs that stretch clear across the highway.

As a result, while driving home the other evening, I made for the first time in eight years, a wrong turn.

This provided a momentary change in the old routine, which brightened my life considerably.

The experience illustrates, however, an alarming trend in highway signboards. Verbosity is rampant. I get the impression that all of the sign painters are frustrated novelists.

Clearly, something must be done to check the proliferation of highway signs, which already have passed the point of diminishing returns. But what?

One possible solution was suggested by a recent magazine cartoon. It depicted a high speed highway with a separate lane for slow readers.

I am inclined to think, however, that a better solution can be found in a recent report by the National Geographic Society on an inter-national road sign system now in use in 35 countries.

This system employs symbols rather than words to keep the motorist informed as to what is in store for him. For example, a horizontal white bar on a red circle means "don't enter."

We already have a limited set of symbols in this country. It could easily be expanded to fit other circumstances and thus reduce driver eyestrain brought on by excessive reading.

Take the familiar freeway signs that say "next exit 10 miles." All that would be needed there would be the figure "10" imprinted over a bowl of spaghetti, symbolizing a traffic interchange.

The rather garrulous "no parking on shoulders except in emergency" could be replaced by a simple drawing of a flat tire. A replica of coin would suffice for "Toll station ahead." and so on.

I'll concede it would take some time for motorists to learn all the symbols, but not as much time as it takes to figure out some of the abbreviations now used by sign painters.

Or we could adopt one single all-purpose symbol — the outline of a gasoline pump. Which means: "Stop at the next service station and ask directions."

BORROWED WIG

London (UPI) — Deputy chairman T. R. Fitzwalter Butler of the Middlesex Sessions Court wore a borrowed wig on the bench yesterday after his own $84 headpiece was stolen from his robing room.

Public speaking prizes awarded

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mr. G. B. Dailey, principal of the Fenelon Falls Public School welcomed parents aand interested friends to the annual public speaking competition. He mentioned that cash prizes would be presented to contestants placing First, Second and Third, through the generosity of Mr. Morley Elliott.

Judges were: Mr. David Simser of the Leslie Frost Public School in Lindsay, Mr. George Fitzgerald of the Fenelon Falls District High School.

Junior contestants placed as follows: First - Kim Bulmer speaking on "The Bull Whale", Second - Kenny Jackett who spoke on "Our Pet Kittens", and Third - Kathryn Culbert, who told about "My Trip to Florida".

While the judges were reaching their decision the junior pupils of the school provided a pleasing musical interlude consisting of piano solos by Susanne Clerk, Eleanor Graham, Nancy Phillips and a vocal quartette by Lawrence Morey, Paul Fountain, Ruth Anne Bailey and Beverley Pevin accompanied by Margot Robson.

In the Intermediate contest, Peter Munnings, placed First speaking on "The Kon Tiki Expedition", Jean La Barge placed second when she asked "Do You Like to Live in a Small Town" and in third place was Denise Willson who gave a talk on "Figure Skating".

In a second musical interlude piano duets were played by Mary Bain and Julie Ann Robinson and solos by Heather Newman, Margot Robson and Julie Allen. A piano duet by Anne Bain and Julie Barrett concluded the interlude with a duet.

Margot Mitchell placed first in the Senior Contest, She spoke on "The Total Eclipse of the Sun". Patricia Walker speaking on "Sir John A Macdonald" was in second place and David Munnings speaking on "The Capture of Quebec" was in third place.

The Salvation Army Band under the direction of Mr. Harry Diamond closed the programme with three numbers. Several pupils of the public school were members of the band.

With Mrs. H. Townley at the piano "The Queen" was sung to close the programme.

New flag discussed at WI meeting

Omemee (PNS) — Mrs. Marjory Brooks opened her home for the February meeting of the Women's Institute. Mrs. Daniel Hicks gave an interesting paper on the history of flags and a general discussion on the new flag resulted.

Mrs. Hicks was appointed to attend the convention at Guelph in May.

Thanks were received for the 18 Christmas boxes distributed.

Mrs. Arthur Cummings and Mrs. J. H. Streeter, two visitors were welcomed.

"JEST A SECOND"

"Yer wearin' yer fringe too low, Harry."

SOLO "IN LIEU"!

San Francisco (UPI) — San Francisco police analyzed a powder sold by a self-styled minister, to an undercover agent for $250 and found that it contained no narcotics. Undaunted, the police booked the "Rev" Carl Abbe on a charge of selling a substance in lieu of narcotics.

Are you unhappy because you didn't receive your income tax form? Are you unhappy because you lost it?

Cheer up. You can get one at the Post Office.

If you've changed your address, or did not file a return last year, you likely won't receive an income tax form in the mail. It isn't that we forgot you. It's just that we don't know where you are—yet. So we've made sure that there are lots of extra forms at all local Post Offices (or if it's handier, your District Taxation Office). They aren't the new Personalized income tax forms. But you'll have that to look forward to next year.

Maybe you did receive an Income Tax Form in the mail and now you can't find it. Seems a pity to lose it. That was your Personalized form and it had your own identification code number on it. Why don't you have one last look before you go to get another plain old everyday tax form from the Post Office.

MAILED TO YOU.
COMPLETED BY YOU.
RETURNED BY YOU.
